ARCTIC LANDS CAUSE TROUBLE AND CLASH WITH UNCLE SAM

United States Claims Sovereignty Where Her Explorers Planted the Nation's Flag.

U. S. GOVERNMENT WILL PRESS ITS CLAIMS

Our Neighbors Intend to Force Fishing Concessions if Nothing More by Asserting Right.

Washington, March 8. — American Arctic explorers by giving such names as Washington, Lincoln, Grant, Roosevelt and Peary to lands lying north and east of Hudson Bay have laid the foundation for a controvery with Canada which soon will assume important proportions.

American whalers visit the waters adjacent to the territory discovered by American explorers and American capital for some time has been exploiting iron and other mines there. The Canadian Government is asserting jurisdiction, and through the North-West Mounted Police have been collecting customs duties from the Americans. They have erected at various points along the coast of the disputed territory wooden houses from which fly the British flag bearing the word "Canada." Thus far no formal protests have been made by this Government, but a strong case is being prepared at the State Department.

To strengthen her control over Hudson Bay and Hudson Strait, Canada is seeking to acquire possession of all the Labrador coast. In this way the Dominion is working to provide an outlet for the traffic of the new Province of Ungava and to establish a wheat route from Hudson Bay through Hudson Strait to Liverpool. Newfoundland necessarily will be dragged into the controversy because an assertion of the fishery rights of Americans on the Labrador coast is involved.

TREATY TERMS VAGUE.

By the treaty of 1761 with France England acquired territory which extended her domain from Hudson Bay to the Gulf of Mexico. The whole coast of Labrador from St. John's River to the entrance of Hudson Strait was placed under the jurisdiction of Newfoundland. Ultimately, however, Newfoundland's jurisdiction was confined to a strip of territory from the Straits of Belle Isle north to the fifty-second degree of latitude and east to the ocean. Canada and Newfoundland are now endeavoring to ascertain how far inland this strip of coast extends.

The vast wilderness between the eastern boundary of the Province of Quebec and the vaguely defined boundary of the portion of Labrador ruled by Newfoundland in 1897 was created by the Dominion Government as an unorganized Canadian territory known as Ungava. The Government of Newfoundland is, however, collecting customs duties and selling timber within Ungava, thus clashing with the Canadian claim.

The United States is interested in the controversy by virtue of article 1 of the convention of 1818 with England, which allows Americans to fish and cure fish of any kind on the coast, bays, harbors and creeks from Mount Joy on the south coast of Labrador through the Straits of Belle Isle and thence northwardly indefinitely along the coast of Labrador. Canada is seeking to acquire possession of all the Labrador coast.

WILL INSIST ON RIGHTS.

Should she succeed in acquiring it from Newfoundland the United States will press the Labrador rights of American fishermen to the full. Curiously enough it is on the strength of other provisions of article 1 of the convention of 1818 that Canada refuses to permit American fishermen to land on her North Atlantic coast for any purpose except the four named—that is, for wood, water, shelter or repairs. American fishermen are not permitted to enter the ports to ship local crews or to purchase supplies to tranship their catch in hand to Canadian railways or steamers bound for the United States.

Secretary of State Root recently cruised along the Labrador coast and is now prepared to use the treaty rights of Americans on the coast as a lever compelling Canada to treat American fishermen in a more neighborly fashion on the coasts of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island. With an assertion of American sovereignty over the lands north and east of Hudson Bay, discovered by American explorers, the United States Government will be able to force important concessions from Canada.

POLICE COURT NEWS

At yesterday's police court, the "Weary Willie" and "Soapless Sam" clubs had a large representative present, hungry to hear the case of a local hotel keeper's son, charged by Mrs. LeBar with having assaulted her.

Mrs. LeBar in giving her evidence, said "On Saturday night last, my boy, Mr. LeBar came home drunk." We live at 258 Wolfe street. He came home at 5.30 p.m., and said he had been at a local hotel, throwing money for the drinks. Her husband said to her, "I'm going back to the hotel." "No you're not says I." She then went herself to the hotel, and asked a man in the sitting room, to request the proprietor to see her. She then asked the hotelkeeper, "Why do you let my husband gamble his money away here?" She was answered. "This is a public house." The defendant stepped up and said to the proprietor, "I tell you what, we will do with this ——— old nuisance, we will throw her out."

Defendant again said "She's a nuisance round here." She replied, "If this is a public house for my husband, it is a public house for me." Defendant then took her by the shoulders and shoved her out of the door. He next gave her a slap in the face. She then called him a dirty name. "For which I excuse myself." He then said, "You are a dirty trollop, you ought to be at home."

Defendant then asked complainant several questions as to the language she had used.

Defendant went into the box and said that on Saturday night complainant came and asked "Is my husband here?" He then heard an outburst of profanity exceeding anything he ever heard used by a sober person, "a drunken maid might say it." The proprietor of the place then came down stairs. He told complainant to go out and not make a disturbance. She said she would go out when she ——— pleased. She started for the door and went out without any help. Then she called him a white-faced ———.

His Worship said to complainant, "This is a public house, and if you need to sell liquor. Your husband had a right to go there. You should have had sense enough not to have gone to the place. The defendant had a perfect right to order you out. If you used the language, defendant swears to, he had a right to put you out. You used very filthy language. If there was any proof to show he struck you, I would punish him as I would any one who strikes a woman. While I sympathize with you, you had no right to go to the place. I have to dismiss the case."

MONDAY'S BANQUET

Grand Banquet to be Tendered to the Hockey Club.

The Peterboro will not be behind other cities and towns in expressing its appreciation of success won by her sportsmen of any class, is proven by the grand banquet arranged for next Monday night, in honor of the locals winning the intermediate championship of the Ontario Hockey Association.

Yesterday several gentlemen took the matter in hand, called a meeting of representative men of the city and, before four o'clock, had completed final arrangements for a banquet to be held in the Oriental Hotel on Monday night next.

It is expected that covers will be laid for from one hundred and twenty-five to one hundred and fifty guests.

Mine. Host Graham, proprietor of the Oriental Hotel, who by the way was yesterday a proud man, both because of the home team winning, and on account of the active part his son ("Chris" has taken in attaining the victory, will see that a dinner fit for a king is served.

The banquet is in the hands of most efficient men to handle such matters.

THE COMMITTEE.

The Home Committee is composed of Messrs. Hon. J. S. Stratton, chairman; T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., R. R. Hall, M.P., Jas. Kendry, ex-M.P., Mayor East, Rev. Father O'Brien and R. A. Morrow.

The General Committee in charge of the banquet, etc., is composed of, Messrs. W. S. Davidson, chairman; R. Deane, A. A. Hollingshead, A. P. Macdonald M. J. Hutchison, T. H. Hooper, Dickson Davidson, Dr. Wightman, Alex. Elliott and John Orpen.

Mr. A. A. Hollingshead is treasurer, and Mr. W. Mallroy, secretary of the banquet.

The banquet tickets have been placed at $2 per head and it is expected that this demand will greatly exceed the supply. The banquet is to begin at 9 p.m.

GUY KIMBLE SUICIDED.

Vancouver, B.C., March 7.—A man who has since been identified as Guy Kimble, from Bobcaygeon, Ont., committed suicide last night in a downtown hotel. He had been drinking heavily for a fortnight past.

THE HOUSE OF REFUGE

County Councillor D. Moloney Opposed to Preston Site.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I find since giving my vote in favor of the Preston site for the House of Refuge, that I was misinformed as to the nature and depth of the soil and other matters. It was impossible for myself or any of my fellow councillors to arrive at a correct conclusion in this respect at this time of the year, the ground being frozen and partly covered with snow; and when I gave my vote in favor of this site, I was misguided by statements made, but on enquiring from reliable authority I find that these statements were not correct.

Representing a large section of the ratepayers of the County, I wish to put myself right in this matter before it is too late, and must ask the Warden to bring the question of the site up for reconsideration of the Council.

Mr. Editor, I don't wish for a moment that you, or the public, should think I accuse any one of intentionally misinforming me, but the fact remains that I was incorrectly informed, and in the interests of the County, at large, I am compelled to take this course.

I remain, yours truly,

D. MOLONEY.

THE CIGARETTE CURSE

Lindsay Councillors Consider By-law to Forbid Sale of Coffin-Nails.

In view of Ald. Ball's proposed by-law to impose a heavy license on dealers selling cigarettes, it is of interest to learn that the City Fathers of Lindsay have under consideration the submitting of a bylaw which strikes a more radical blow at this evil, which, as is well known, demoralizes our growing boys.

Ald Eyres, during the last session of the Lindsay Council, said, the cigarette curse was, in his opinion, a matter that was not to be dealt with lightly. It was appalling when one considered the vast amount of cigarettes consumed in the Dominion of Canada. The alderman gave a few figures to emphasize his remarks. The cigarette evil was making rapid strides and if allowed to go on it would be very hard to tell where it might end. He did not think they were, as a body, doing justice in not abolishing it. He believed that if the question of prohibiting the importation, sale and use of cigarettes in Lindsay was voted on by the ratepayers, it would be carried by 90 per cent. Those who used cigarettes haven't got a franchise, and those who do not have. As far as the Council's ability went, they were in duty bound to deal with this subject, and Ald. Eyres begged leave to submit a bylaw—to be voted on at the next election—to prohibit the importation and sale of cigarettes, if such was in the Council's power. The habit was a very serious one to the rising generation, and should be nipped in the bud.

The matter was referred to the Finance committee to ascertain whether such an act would be "ultra vires."

RUSSIA IS WITH FRANCE

M. Bacherach Tells Conference France and Spain are Alone Qualified to Control Moroccan Police.

Algeciras, March 7.—The police question was yesterday brought before the Moroccan conference in the form of a precise declaration by M. Bacherach, the second Russian delegate, who has lived eight years in Morocco. He expressed the opinion that France and Spain, owing to their long experience and connections with the North African Mussulmans, were alone qualified to construct and control the police force.

M. Revoil, of the French delegation, supported M. Bacherach. He declared that France was ready to accept the task. He said he was of the opinion the police should consist of 2,000 Moroccan soldiers, distributed at the eight chief ports, under about 16 European officers.

The Spanish, British and Portuguese representatives supported M. Revoil, the British delegate saying that Revoil's proposal seemed to be the only practicable scheme. Italy reserved full approval.

The conference adjourned until tomorrow, when a full statement from Germany is expected.

SHE SWIPED THE COIN

An American Woman Creates a Scene at Monte Carlo.

Monte Carlo, March 7.—An amusing incident happened in the Casino this week owing to a claim made by an American lady playing, a claim which was disputed by an official in charge of the table. The lady repeated her demand several times, and, failing to convince the official, she rose from her seat, caught up one of the croupier's rakes, and swept everything within reach off the table. The lady's novel and energetic method of enforcing her claim merely caused a good deal of amused discussion among the croupiers and players. The ruffled American lady left the rooms immediately, and has not been seen at the table since, but it speaks a great deal for the good faith prevailing at Monte Carlo when it is known that there was not the least dispute as to the ownership of the fallen pieces which were picked up and restored.

AN AGREEMENT IN SIGHT

Berlin Foreign Office Now Regards Issue of Conference as Assured.

Berlin, March 8.—Private conversations between the German and French envoys at Algeciras have brought them almost to an agreement on the Moroccan police controversy, so much indeed that the Foreign Office here regards a satisfactory issue of the conference as assured. Germany, it is understood, accepts France and Spain as having the officers best fitted for policing Morocco and France accepts international control in principle, undertaking to supply adequate guarantees that the police shall not be national in character. It is the specific form of these guarantees that remains unsettled and continues to be the subject for discussion. It is likely that an international inspectorship will be created, consisting of a single officer of repute from a power or other than France, Spain or Germany. One detail which continues to be discussed is the propriety of the inspector being located in a neutralized harbor. The Ministers of the powers will also exercise general observation over the police.

STUDIED IN A MADHOUSE

Famous New York Murder Trial Recalled by Efforts to Regain Freedom.

New York, March 8.—The World says; Martin E. J. Tighe, a young insurance broker of this city, was charged four years ago with having killed his wife, because she was jealous of the baby that had been born to them, and a commission lodged him insane. His case was considered as incurable, and he was sent to the asylum of the criminal insane at Matteawan. After Tighe had been at Matteawan a short time, he told the doctors that he wanted to study shorthand. He sent for books of instruction and studied day and night. Then he took up drawing and made good progress. At first the doctors thought Tighe was insane on the subject of shorthand writing. He kept in practising by writing the stories told to him by other insane prisoners.

Tighe's lawyer a few days ago swore out a writ of habeas corpus, and yesterday the murderer was brought to Judge Kelly's court in Brooklyn, where, after Tighe had demonstrated his ability as a shorthand writer, and an artist, the judge declared him sane. He was brought to New York and locked up in the Tombs.

Tighe will now have to stand trial on the charge of wife murder. The defense will be, of course, that at the time Tighe killed his wife, he was insane, and that he cannot be punished for the crime.

FORGED PAY CHEQUES

Chicago Gang Secured $18,000 by Old Game.

Chicago, March 7.—The principal in the recent $18,000 forgery of Illinois Steel Company pay cheques in South Chicago has been discovered. According to his own confession, Louis Longpre is the man. He was arrested yesterday in the office of the Western Bank Note Company, where he has been employed as an engraver.

Longpre confessed that he made the plate from which the cheques were printed, and that he assisted in cashing them among the South Chicago merchants.

Mayer Longpre, his wife, was arrested on Monday and was identified by several merchants as having passed some of the pay cheques. There are several others under arrest, but the police refuse to tell their identity.

Longpre in previous years has been arrested on suspicion of being concerned in other big forgeries, one in Joliet, which is said to have netted $10,000, and others in cities in the east. He always escaped conviction, however.

Police officials from various cities have been notified, and will send representatives here to try to identify some of the gang.

Gun Shoots Twenty Miles.

Vienna, March 7.—The Austrian government has been making some experiments for the purpose of determining whether torpedo cannon capable of firing torpedoes distances longer than any yet recorded can be constructed. It is known that one torpedo cannon which fires torpedoes a distance of 8 miles constructed at the Whitehead torpedo works in Fiume has just been delivered to the Austrian arsenal in Pola.

New Railway For Quebec.

Ottawa, March 7.—Notice was given in the Canadian Gazette of Saturday that application will be made to Parliament for an act to incorporate the Quebec South Eastern Railway Company to build a line of railway from Levis, Que., to the mouth of the St. Croix River, N. B.

CURIOUS CHANGE

Caused by Food.

"A few months ago," writes a N. Y. state woman, "I was the victim of a stomach so disordered that I could eat scarcely any sort of food without suffering great distress. In time an eruption appeared, of a most painful nature, which covered my whole body, and which the doctors said was erysipelas, and prescribed for it accordingly.

"Their medicines gave me no relief, however, my condition growing worse day by day. At last it occurred to me that possibly the derangement of my stomach was the cause of the trouble. The doctors said that that organ was like a piece of raw beef.

"I made a complete change in my diet, and put myself on a straight regimen of Grape-Nuts food. In a day or two I began to improve, my digestion gradually came back, all the nervousness and headache disappeared, and within 10 days the so-called erysipelas passed away and has never returned. Meantime my weight has increased and I can digest food that formerly I could not.

"I can honestly say that Grape-Nuts food constitutes the best diet I ever used." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Yesterday Peterboro was "en fete," flags, streamers and bunting everywhere testified to the patriotic spirit in which this city appreciates the doughty deeds wrought by her sons.

Shortly before the noon hour, first one place of business, and then another flung out the good old Union Jack to the breeze and genial sunshine. By five o'clock nearly every store or other place of business, on George and Hunter streets, displayed bunting of some kind. George street was a vista of red, white and blue flags, and many places had streamers made of white and blue, the local Hockey Club colors. Among those decorating their premises were; H. LeBrun, A. Rountree, Ormond & Walsh, J. Long & A. W. Crossman, Knitting Works, R. Fair, Two Cent Store, Oke Bros. F. Clarke, Turnbull, T. Harris, J. J. Turner & Sons, China Hall, Times Ptg. Co., Review Ptg. Co, Clancy House, Palace Hotel, Oriental Hotel, Crowe Inn, Munro House, Commercial House, I. D. Tully, Bank of Ottawa Adam Hall, Lash Bros., Examiner office, H. Long, Rish Hall & Son, and others.

Across George and Hunter streets, appropriate steamers bearing such legends as "Peterboro welcomes her hockey players," "This is the day we celebrate," etc.

THE RECEPTION.

Never before in the memory of our oldest citizens did Peterboro turn out anything like the crowd that last night lined the streets along which the procession was to pass. A conservative estimate of the crowds, and good live, cheering, enthusiastic crowds they were, placed those who witnessed our hockey players triumphant return, at from 7,000 to 8,000 people. Shortly after seven o'clock there was a steady mass of humanity pouring south to the G.P.R. depot.

The train carrying our hockey players pulled in on time, the Peterboro contingent being in the last car, which along its whole length, had canvas streamers attached, notifying those who saw it that it contained the Intermediate Champions of the O.H.A.

The G.P.R. platforms and all available standing room for many yards beyond, was simply a solid packed mass of cheering men, women and children. As the train pulled in and the local players disembarked, the cheering of the thousands of their admirers fairly rent the air.

The team was quickly escorted to their particular carriage, and then the fun fast and furious, began.

Headed by both the 57th Regimental and Garrison bands, who gave their services gratis, in uniform, the long procession of autos filled with yelling, cheering, cowbell, rocket-firing, Roman candle shooting, horn blowing residents man, started north along George street.

Most prominent of course, in attraction, for the thousands of cheering spectators, was the carriage containing the hockey champions; among other conveyances that attracted attention was a large bus filled with employes of the C.G.E., who sang and welcomed by every means in their power the boys in white and blue. With this proverbial modesty of the press, we will say that the men comprising the Peterboro Press Club, made up for what they lacked in good looks by their horn blowing. (Key X). Roman candle firing, and general noise the Press Club had a fine bus kindly supplied them by the well-known livery stables of Dr. D. McKerlie, Hunter street, and, as liberally decorated by Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons.

One feature of the parade were eight or ten mounted men, each bearing a large Union Jack.

The procession, midst a constant fusilade of rockets, candles, and other fire works, passed up George street, both sides of which, were literally packed by thousands of citizens, whose appreciation of the scene was thoroughly in evidence.

When the Band reached Hunter St., instead of keeping the route originally laid out, viz., up George street to McDonnel street, McDonnel to Water, Water to Charlotte, Charlotte to Hunter, and the Oriental Hotel, they turned at Hunter street to the Oriental as the team were turned out and their departments of the interior lustily called for dinner.

Nothing daunted, however, the rest of the procession, headed by both bands, after a short delay, to allow the players to get out of their carriage, continued their course to Aylmer street, then they turned their way to Brock street and down George street, up George street, and so on ad infinitum.

After the procession was disbanded, Hunter street from George to Aylmer street, fronting the Oriental was a solid packed mass of humanity. At last, some bright man got the idea of bonfires into his head. The disease became an epidemic, and within fifteen minutes large bonfires were raging in several streets. In the fewest words, Peterboro went crazy last night; by this, nothing offensive is meant, but the people owned the town, and did as they like. Still nothing that would demand the services of a green policeman, anxious to distinguish himself, was seen.

Our hockey boys should, and do in all probability, appreciate the fact that, last night's reception is the record for this city.

NOTES.

Credit is due to Bandmaster Glidden, and members of the 57th band that this splendid organization turned out last night without taking a cent for their time or music.

It is understood that Hon. J. R. Stratton has been or will be invited to preside at the banquet Monday night, and his Worship the Mayor, has been approached with a view to getting him to read the congratulatory address.

All credit is due to Sergeant Drummer Beach and Corporal Thornton, that the Bugle Band of the 57th Regt. turned out last night.

His Worship Mayor Henry last night expressed his highest appreciation of the prestige the hockey club has acquired for Peterboro in winning the championship of Canada's national winter game.

Parker's Dye Works, now under the proprietorship of Mr. Robert Beach, were decorated in an unusually attractive manner last night; but unfortunately the line of parade was so deviated as to exclude Charlotte street.

DISINTERRED AFTER MANY YEARS

Interesting Story in Connection With Death of Franklin House in Toronto.

Toronto, March 8.—Lying on a truck on one of the platforms at the Union Station yesterday afternoon was a rough box, on which was fastened a card bearing the following inscription; "This box contains the remains of Sophia House, born September, 17th, 1788; died February 10th, 1864." The box was addressed to Bennington, Vermont, and was being sent from a Cobourg undertaking establishment.

Upon inquiry it was found that the remains were those of the mother of the late Franklin House, Cobourg. Mr. House died on Monday last at the house of a cousin on College street, and the two bodies were being taken to Bennington, Vermont, the former home of Mrs. House, and the birthplace of Mr. Franklin House, to be interred together.

Mr. House was born on August 24th, 1825, and was in his 81st year. He was for sixty years in the banking and brokerage business in Cobourg, being well known not only in that vicinity but in Toronto as well. He retired from business about seven years ago, but continued to live in Cobourg until quite recently.

Nearly 80 years ago his mother, Sophia House, had come from her native town of Bennington, Vermont, to live with her son in Cobourg. After residing in Cobourg for about 15 years, she died at the age of 76 years, and her body was interred at Cobourg. It had, however, always been the intention of Mr. House to have his mother's remains removed to her native town in Vermont, and he had decided that this should be done this spring.

DIED IN TORONTO.

At Christmas he came to Toronto for a visit to his cousin, intending to go from here to Vermont as soon as the severe weather came. While here, however, he contracted an illness, from which he at length became aware he could never recover. He accordingly gave strict orders that the body of his mother should be at once exhumed, and that at his death, his own and his mother's bodies should be taken to Bennington, Vermont, and interred together in a plot which he purchased there two years ago. Yesterday the long-deferred mission was fulfilled. The body of the mother, who departed this life over 40 years ago, was accompanied by that of her son to their final resting place in the little Vermont town.

An interesting feature in the fact that the body of Mrs. House when exhumed was almost as perfectly preserved as though it had been interred only the week previous. Even the clothing, it is said, was in perfect condition.

Dash For Liberty.

Toronto, March 8.—A half-mile dash for freedom was the experience yesterday morning of William Fletcher, alias Jones, alias Johnston, a prisoner in the city jail. Fletcher was at work with 70 or 80 others levelling the ground north of the jail at the time and fled east across Broadview avenue. Wilfrid Friday, after a hot chase, captured him. There were seven guards in charge and none of the other prisoners attempted to escape.

Fletcher was sentenced in December last in this city to spend six months in the Central Prison for theft, but owing to the crowded condition of that institution was kept along with 80 others at the jail. He will come up today for trial.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle of Moncton N B., Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a sure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Memeton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and thus my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, given me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No mere stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the loss of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

TIME FOR MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS.

It will be noted that the municipal elections in Quebec were held in the middle of February, not, as in Ontario, in the Christmas week. In the neighboring states elections, both general and municipal, are held at a period specified by statute, and not at the year end or beginning of the year. August is the month in some of the states, October and November in others.

The London Free Press wants to know if there are any special reasons why the municipal elections in Ontario should be held in the Christmas holiday season? Is that the most convenient time for the commotion of civic public life? Reasons might be advanced very much to the contrary. It is the time of all times in the year when the general mind is diverted from public to private affairs. While the holiday trade is in progress, while every merchant is busy from morning to night, and every household occupied with the duties or the gaieties of the season, the elections come on. Few give them anything but a vague and cursory thought. There is no disposition to analyze the acts of the year, even if the accounts were available, which they are not. And as for the men to be chosen, they are picked out as from a "grab-bag."

If the object were to choose a time when people were looking on with more indifference than at any other, it is accomplished by holding the municipal contests at Christmas. But that is not the object. The time was chosen at a period when the country was sparsely settled, and "the neighbors" had more leisure than at any other. Matters have been entirely reversed by the progress of the province. As a winter diversion the municipal elections no longer draw on their merits. They are at Christmas time a relic of ancient times and an illustration of conservative habits.

It is time for a change.

COPPER MINING IN IDAHO

Some Wonderful Records for New Properties—Good Prospects for the Investor to Study.

Within the last two years copper mining in the Coeur d'Alenes has begun on a commercial scale, and the interest manifested locally in the great copper veins, striking through the Bitter Root mountains, which separate Idaho from Montana, is increasing rapidly with the splendid record being made by the Snowstorm mine near Mullan, Ida. Last year the gross production of this mine was over $1,000,000, and its net profits amounted to over $350,000, giving it a rank next to the Hecla mine, whose stock now sells on the market at from $2.60 to $2.70 per share, though its par value is only 25 cents per share. This is only the second years' operation of the Snowstorm mine as a producer, too. Its vein on the upper or first level is 50 feet in width, 30 feet of which is shipping product. The mine will in a year or two more have a market value of at least $7,000,000.

To the south of the Snowstorm mine about six or seven miles another bonanza copper mine is being put into condition to make regular shipments of high grade product. This is the Monitor mine, recently bonded to outside capitalists for $200,000. Last fall about $30,000 worth of copper-gold ore of a high degree of natural concentration was shipped inside of about 60 days while development work was being carried on. The drifts and the shaft are now being put into repair by enlarging and retimbering them, preparatory to extraction of the fine values already opened up in the mine levels.

Large bodies of practically solid chalcopyrite have been recently discovered in the property that will yield immense sums to the lucky persons who hold the bond.

These two mines with producing records have a great history ahead of them, but they are only two of a large number of promising your properties lying in their immediate vicinity and only awaiting sufficient development work to make them also large producers of the red metal.

Among these numerous promising prospective properties may be mentioned the Iron Spar, which lies nearly mid-way between the Snowstorm mine and the Monitor. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west, and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, being from 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 5,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, as does all Coeur d'Alene fissure veins, it is only reasonable to suppose that it, like them, has also great vertical depth.

The owners of the property are experienced in mining operations, having discovered and opened in Colorado other mines of merit before coming to the State of Idaho, to to defray in part the expenses of opening this new and promising property, they have decided to incorporate it into a stock company and place in the treasury for development work the sum of 400,000 shares to be sold for that purpose. The incorporation is for 1,000,000 shares, which is the ordinary number issued by mining companies these days; the par value is $1.00 per share.

Before incorporating the company and turning the property over to it, the owners thoroughly prospected the surface by running tunnels and short adits into the vein, all of which show extreme mineralization for the depth gained. After the company was formed a tunnel was started down the mountain far enough to gain a great depth, something like a thousand feet, on the vein. When this tunnel reaches the vein, as it is expected to do within the next ten or fifteen feet at the most, a good grade of payable ore is confidently expected. People in the Coeur d'Alenes, who are acquainted with the property, look upon it as one of the most promising young prospects in the copper belt. The vein at points discloses a width of 25 feet, and no where as observable is it less than 10 feet in width. Siderite for the most part forms the mineral associate quartz being the gangue. Openings on the vein show in places an impregnation of the quartzite horses frequently intruded into the vein, with copper in the native state. With depth this feature is apt to be more strongly marked, and to such an extent as to greatly affect the value of the property.

The property consists of four full mineral claims, all of them being located so as to cover over a mile of the vein, thus making a most valuable group of claims. The Northern Pacific Railroad runs within about a mile and a half of the property, while a good wagon road is built to within a half mile of it at present. The company intends putting in machine drills as soon as spring opens and the road gets in fit condition for hauling heavy loads over it. That will greatly expedite the work as well as economize the cost of development work, two important considerations in opening up a new property, especially in the Coeur d'Alenes. With all the natural advantages possessed by the Iron Spar it is one of the easiest properties in the district to open up and can be done with comparatively little cost. The property admits of being operated to immense depth by tunnels alone, thus avoiding the expensive method of shafting, which means the employment of steam hoist and power pumps, always a great consumer of profits of mining.

The Iron Spar being of the same type of vein and in the same formation as the Monitor mine to the south, it will be of interest to quote here what the State Mine Inspector for Idaho, Robert N. Bell, says about the latter property. Says he: "The Monitor mine, another copper property of the true fissure type, south-east of the Snowstorm, made a good production of rich copper-sulphide ore for its initial year. Its shipment amounted to 800 tons of 18 per cent. mineral, which also contained several dollars per ton of gold values in addition to the copper and some silver. The shipments from this property are likely to be largely increased during 1900, as it is being quite extensively developed with a good force of men this winter.

"There are a number of other copper properties on the copper belt, with great gleaming copper-iron croppings, that indicate extensive resources of copper mineral at depth, and the future output of this metal is likely to be rapidly increased and in time to assume a very important position in the Coeur d'Alene list."

Why Refer to Doctors

Because we make medicines for them. They know all about Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, so they prescribe it for coughs, colds, bronchitis, weak lungs, consumption. They trust it. Then you can afford to trust it. Sold for over sixty years.

We have no secrets! We publish the formulas of all our medicines. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Iron Spar directly meets the description here made by the mine inspector, Mr. Bell, and in time will prove another producer in this great mining region which last year produced over $17,000,000 dollars in gross values and paid about $6,000,000 in dividends to investors.

To anyone looking for a good property to get interested in there are few to compare with the Iron Spar, and it will not take long to verify the truth of this statement. The present summer's work will undoubtedly suffice to make the investment earn a handsome profit, as the stock will immediately advance with the cutting of the ore at depth.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, e. g. viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

CHAPTER I.

It was on the 15th of September. I am particular as to the date, for it marked the cruelest tragedy that ever darkened a young girl's life. The night was stormy and intensely dark, save for the vivid flashes of lightning that lit up the wild mountain scene with a white, awful glare for an instant, at intervals, then died out, leaving the rugged slopes to the darkness and the terrible storm.

The little rivulets leaping from crag to crag down the mountain gorges, were swollen into mighty cataracts, carrying death and destruction in their path as they dashed on to the valley below—on this night which was to be made so memorable. In a weather-beaten abode situated about midway between the summit and the base of the mountain, and around the comfortably fire that blazed fitfully, and splutteringly in the open fireplace, sat three persons: Abel Moore, the old mail-carrier, who drove the mail-stage between Dover and Allendale; Dorothy, his wife, and Theresa, their daughter.

As they sat there, listening to the fierce storm, and the wind that howled like a demon through the mountain gorge, the old clock on the three-cornered shelf in the angle of the wall slowly struck nine.

Abel Moore sprung quickly to his feet.

"It's time I was starting off, Dorothy," he said, turning briskly to his wife. "Where's my heavy coat?"

"Don't go to-night, Abel," pleaded his wife. "Abide at home just this once," and she came a step nearer him, laying a detaining hand on his arm. "I have a strange premonition that something will happen if you go. You know it was just such a night as this, years ago, that you had that desperate encounter in the mountain pass; you carried a large package of money then, just as you will to-night."

"Didn't I come out victorious in that affair?" demanded Abel triumphantly. "When they stopped my horses, didn't I cut down the whole crowd of them with the stout old hickory cudgel I carried? Wasn't there blood all about the place when morning came, showing I had put in some pretty good work?"

"They vowed vengeance against you, Abel," answered his wife solemnly, "and sooner or later it will come."

"That was years ago, and nothing ever came of it—or ever will," retorted Abel. "That's only a woman's whim."

"I wish you wouldn't go, Abel," she persisted, standing with clasped hands before him. "It wouldn't hurt any of the village folk on the other side of the mountain to wait a few hours longer for their letters."

"Now there's no use in talking," he retorted, drawing on his heavy boots and stamping them down, then proceeding to button up his great coat. "I shan't neglect my duty for a woman's whim, so there's the end on it. I've carried the mail for twenty odd years and never once neglected my duty, and I ain't going to commence now. A public office is a public trust. It's a man's duty, Dorothy, to be faithful." And with these words he passed out of the house and into the teeth of the terrible storm; a little later they heard the sound of his horses' hoofs and the rumbling of the heavy wheels as they turned slowly into the mountain road.

"Somehow I don't feel just right about your father going to-night, Theresa," said Mrs. Moore, throwing more logs on the fire. "I hope to the Lord he will come back to us safe."

"Father knows how to take care of himself, I reckon," replied the girl. "It's all nonsense to worry so, mother; he's neither sugar nor salt,—he won't melt. It's a bad night for the great reception they're having up at Waldron Towers," she went on, in the hope of diverting her mother's mind; "but I suppose everyone hereabouts who was lucky enough to be invited will go, even though it ruins pitchforks, to get a sight of the bride; they say she's young and very fair, and a stranger in these parts."

"You can depend upon it, the young girl is a stranger or she would never have married the heir of Waldron Towers. I wonder that he dared bring a young wife there of all places in the world—where so much has happened. Of course some one of the neighbors will tell her all sooner or later, then there will be a fine time of it."

"Only say that the poor little thing is very fond of him," said Theresa, "and that she clung to him all the way going up the steep mountain pass, like a frightened child-girl."

"Heaven pity her if she loves him," replied Dorothy.

"That would not be hard to do," said Theresa. "He is young, handsome, and rich, and has that to knock about him of winning women's hearts."

"I would rather see you dead than know you had given your heart to such a man," said Dorothy Moore with asperity, turning suddenly upon her daughter.

"Never fear, mother," replied the girl; "I would as soon think of caring for Satan himself. I'd go a mile out of my way any day rather than meet the young master of Waldron Towers. I say with you, mother, heaven pity the fair young bride he has brought home."

"Carriage after carriage, heavily laden, have passed here since early morning. It almost seems as if all of Virginia were to be at Waldron Towers to-night."

"It's for no love of the master of the Towers they come, but out of curiosity to see the young wife. Ah well, as the old saying goes, Theresa—"

"'He that is false to one will never prove true to another.'

"The old housekeeper came down here, when she heard that the master was coming back with a bride, and was to have a grand reception, and begged me to go up with her and help decorate the place; but I said no. I'd as soon think of stepping into a charnel house as to step over that threshold.

"It would be a blessing if the race of Waldrons would die out with the present heir of the Towers. But oh, child, I cannot think of him; my thoughts go back to your father. I wish he was safe at home; I cannot shake off the impression, somehow, of impending evil."

"You are only a little nervous to-night," said Theresa, soothingly.

"It's enough to make anyone nervous," replied Mrs. Moore; "see how the house rocks. I've always said that some day one of these fierce winds would shake it from its foundation, and we would go crashing down the mountain side. I shall not rest easy until your father returns; somehow I never felt like this before. He's only about half way down the mountain, now. Oh, Theresa, do listen to the mad storm!"

Meanwhile, through the storm and the darkness, the Allendale mail-stage was slowly making its way toward the cross-roads, seven miles distant, to meet the night express train. The steep serpentine road was well-nigh washed out; but the horses had traversed that route for twenty years, and picked their way with almost human intelligence. But at a sharp turn in the road they stumbled, and, as the descent was almost perpendicular here, Abel concluded that the best plan would be to lead the beasts, and, getting out of the stage and grasping their bridles, with a few words of encouragement, he proceeded forward with great caution.

Suddenly his foot slipped upon a huge stone that had become dislodged and rolled down into the path, and the next instant, he lay groaning with pain from a severely sprained ankle under the horses' feet. They stopped short, seeming instinctively to realize that there was something amiss, and, there quite motionless they stood in the midst of the terrible storm an half hour or more. Soon after a mountaineer toiling homeward on foot, found Abel, and insisted upon taking him home.

"There is only one way you can serve me, friend," returned Abel; "help me reach the light down yonder. It's the home of a neighbor. I shall do well enough there, and take my place on the stage, to meet the express train; you can just about make it."

This was how it happened that the mountaineer—a stranger almost in these parts, knowing few of the people thereabouts—chanced to take old Abel's place.

The stage-driver drew rein at his destination with a sigh of relief, and at that instant the shriek of the oncoming train sounded shrill and clear above the wild roaring of the storm in the distance. Another instant and it had rounded the curve of the mountain and stood still.

The mail-bag was handed out, and he saw a slight, girlish figure alight from a rear coach; and as he gazed, the train thundered on again.

She advanced with a quick, firm step toward him, inquiring if that was the stage to Dover.

The old driver looked at the slender creature, who was so heavily veiled, and all alone, in dismay.

"To Dover!" he ejaculated, in astonishment. "Why, no. This is the mail-stage which goes to Allendale, just the opposite direction. No stage will be along this way going to Dover until to-morrow afternoon."

Was it his imagination, or did he really hear a low cry issuing from the folds of the thick veil the young stranger wore, and hear the words:

"Oh, Heaven, have pity! have mercy!"

"Can I get a conveyance anywhere around here to take me there? I must get there, if I have to walk every step of the way."

"There's no town but this within five good miles of here," he returned; "you couldn't get there."

"I must! Oh, I must!" cried the sweet young voice, distractedly.

Suddenly she tore off one of the dark gloves from her little white hands, and drew from her finger a massive ring, set with a flashing diamond, and held it out to the man.

"Take this, and drive me as far as Dover; it is worth twenty times my fare. Oh, sir, for the love of Heaven, do not refuse me!" she cried, wildly. "I must get to Waldron Towers before day breaks. I cannot tell you why; but if you only knew, you would not refuse me."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district to which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1320 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases for dredging for 20 of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tharsis mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 600,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

CHAPTER I.

It was on the 15th of September. I am particular as to the date, for it marked the cruelest tragedy that ever darkened a young girl's life. The night was stormy and intensely dark, save for the vivid flashes of lightning that lit up the wild mountain scene with a white, awful glare for an instant, at intervals, then died out, leaving the rugged slopes to the darkness and the terrible storm.

The little rivulets leaping from crag to crag down the mountain gorges, were swollen into mighty cataracts, carrying death and destruction in their path as they dashed on to the valley below—on this night which was to be made so memorable. In a weather-beaten abode situated about midway between the summit and the base of the mountain, and around the comfortably fire that blazed fitfully, and sputtered in the open fireplace, sat three persons: Abel Moore, the old mail-carrier, who drove the mail-stage between Dover and Allendale; Dorothy, his wife; and Theresa, their daughter.

As they sat there, listening to the fierce storm, and the wind that howled like a demon through the mountain gorge, the old clock on the three-cornered shelf in the angle of the wall slowly struck nine.

Abel Moore sprung quickly to his feet.

"It's time I was starting off, Dorothy," he said, turning briskly to his wife. "Where's my heavy coat?"

"Don't go to-night, Abel," pleaded his wife. "Abide at home just this once," and she came a step nearer him, laying a detaining hand on his arm. "I have a strange premonition that something will happen if you go. You knew it was just such a night as this, years ago, that you had that desperate encounter in the mountain pass, you carried a large package of money then, just as you will to-night."

"Didn't I come out victorious in that affair?" demanded Abel triumphantly. "When they stopped my horses, didn't I cut down the whole crowd of them with the stout old hickory cudgel I carried? Wasn't there blood all about the place when morning came, showing I had put in some pretty good work?"

"They vowed vengeance against you, Abel," answered his wife solemnly, "and sooner or later it will come."

"That was years ago, and nothing ever came of it—or ever will," retorted Abel. "That's only a woman's whim."

"I wish you wouldn't go, Abel," she persisted, standing with clasped hands before him. "It wouldn't hurt any of the village folk on the other side of the mountain to wait a few hours longer for their letters."

"How there's no use in talking," he retorted, drawing on his heavy boots and stamping them down, then proceeding to button up his great coat. "I shan't neglect my duty for a woman's whim, so there's the end on it. I've carried the mail for twenty odd years and never once neglected my duty, and I ain't going to commence now. A public office is a public trust. It's a man's duty, Dorothy, to be faithful." And with these words he passed out of the house and left the teeth of the terrible storm; a little later they heard the sound of his horses' hoofs and the rumbling of the heavy wheels as they turned slowly into the mountain road.

"Somehow I don't feel just right about your father going to-night, Theresa," said Mrs. Moore, throwing more logs on the fire. "I hope to the Lord he will come back to us safe."

"Father knows how to take care of himself, I reckon," replied the girl. "It's all nonsense to worry so, mother; he's neither sugar nor salt,—he won't melt. It's a bad night for the great reception they're having up at Waldron Towers," she went on, in the hope of diverting her mother's mind, "but I suppose everyone horseboots who was lucky enough to be invited will go, even though it rains pitchforks, to get a sight of the bride; they say she's young and very fair, and a stranger in these parts."

"You can depend upon it, the young girl is a stranger or the would never have married the heir of Waldron Towers. I wonder that he dared bring a young wife there of all places in the world—where so much has happened. Of course some one of the neighbors will tell her all sooner or later, then there will be a fine time of it."

"Why do you say that the poor little thing is very fond of him," said Theresa, "and that she clung to him all the way going up the [illegible] pass, like a frightened child-girl."

"Heaven pity her if she loves him," replied Dorothy.

"That would not be hard to do," said Theresa. "He is young, handsome, and rich, and has just the knack about him of winning women's hearts."

"I would rather see you dead than know you had given your heart to such a man," said Dorothy Moore with asperity, turning suddenly upon her daughter.

"Never fear, mother," replied the girl; "I would as soon think of carving for Satan himself. I'd go a mile out of my way any day rather than meet the young master of Waldron Towers. I say with you, mother, heaven pity the fair young bride he has brought home."

"Carriage after carriage, heavily laden, have passed here since early morning. It almost seems as if all of Virginia were to be at Waldron Towers [illegible]."

"It's for no love of the master of the Towers they come, but out of curiosity to see the young wife. Ah well, as the old saying goes, Theresa—"

"He that is false to one will never prove true to another."

"The old housekeeper came down here, when she heard that the master was coming back with a bride, and was to have a grand reception, and begged me to go up with her and help decorate the place; but I said no. I'd as soon think of stepping into a charnel house as to step over that threshold."

"It would be a blessing if the race of Waldrons would die out with the present heir of the Towers. But oh, child, I cannot think of him; my thoughts go back to your father. I wish he was safe at home; I cannot shake off the impression, somehow, of impending evil."

"You are only a little nervous to-night," said Theresa, soothingly.

"It's enough to make anyone nervous," replied Mrs. Moore; "see how the house rocks. I've always said that some day one of these fierce winds would shake it from its foundation, and we would go crashing down the mountain side. I shall not rest easy until your father returns; somehow I never felt like this before. He's only about half way down the mountain, now. Oh, Theresa, do listen to the mad storm!"

Meanwhile, through the storm and the darkness, the Allendale mail-stage was slowly making its way toward the cross-roads, seven miles distant, to meet the night express train. The steep serpentine road was well-nigh washed out, but the horses had traversed that route for twenty years, and picked their way with almost human intelligence. But at a sharp turn in the road they stumbled, and, as the descent was almost perpendicular here, Abel concluded that the best plan would be to lead the beasts, and, getting out of the stage and grasping their bridles, with a few words of encouragement, he proceeded forward with great caution.

AN AMERICAN DISEASE

Indigestion is Responsible for More Sickness in America Than Any Other Disease.

Some doctors go so far as to say that indigestion is the national disease of America. Repeated attacks inflame the lining of the stomach and cause the glands to secrete mucous instead of the juice of natural digestion. Consequently the blood is poisoned, nerve force is reduced, the vitality of the entire system is weakened.

There is but one national remedy for indigestion and that remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are being used by thousands with marvellous success.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills accelerate the action of the gastric glands and give tone to the digestive organs. They strengthen the kidneys and liver, cleanse and purify the blood, and thus add general tone to every organ of the body. Flesh and strength are fast restored and the patient can eat and digest any food he pleases.

Under the vitalizing effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills your system will soon rally; once more you'll enjoy the blessings of health. Test Dr. Hamilton's Pills yourself. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1; at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Quietly Celebrated Wedding.

Yesterday afternoon Rev. Dr. Torrance at his own residence united in the holy bonds of matrimony, Mr. Wm. C Dickson, of this city, and Miss Jennie Martin. The happy couple will live in Otonabee.

Another Doctor Arrives.

Dr. W. J. Barber, who was yesterday registered at the Snowden House, will begin the practice of his profession here. He has opened an office at the residence of Mr. Alex. Fitzgerald, Hunter street, east ward. Dr. Barber is a graduate of Trinity Medical school, Toronto, and has the following degrees:—L.R., C.P., Edinburgh, and L.F.P., and S., Glasgow.

Lindsay Lady Has Ribs Broken.

—A Lindsay despatch says: —To-night, while Mrs. Pollard, president of the Ladies' Aid Society, was proceeding to the Queen street Methodist church, to attend a concert, she was struck on the Caroline street crossing by the C.P.R. train from Toronto, due at 7.20. She was thrown about 15 feet and had two ribs broken.

Wheels Within Wheels.

Trenton Courier: Early this week, George Simpson, jr., brought to the Courier office, a hen's egg, which measured eight and three-eighth inches in circumference, lengthwise, and six and three-quarter inches [illegible]. Mrs. Simpson made a small opening in the end of the egg to extract the contents, intending to save the shell. This process revealed an ordinary sized hen's egg, with shell embedded in the larger egg.

"The Forbidden."

The opening chapters of our grand new serial story, by the talented and popular authoress Laura Jean Libby, appears in this issue of The Times. Miss Libby is too well known to readers of exciting fiction to require personal eulogy. Her works, long, Parted at the Altar, and others are eagerly read in all quarters of the globe. As a suggestion, we might note that a young lady, who daily reads our serial stories, cuts them out each day, pastes them on sheets of card board, binds the sheets with a piece of ribbon, at one corner, and then counts the complete novel, thus neatly gotten up, and handy for those in bed to read, to patients in the hospital.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Lindsay has fired her town solicitor, Mr. Hopkins!

—The 57th Non-Coms. met yesterday evening in their rooms, Simcoe street.

—By a strange paradox every one was sick last night had the "Blues," but still epitaphs cheerily cheered the returning visitor and felt good.

—Rev. C. J. James, M.A., rector of the Church of the Redeemer, Toronto, gave the special Lenten address at St. Luke's church yesterday evening.

—Rev. Canon Arthur Baldwin, rector of All Saints' church, Toronto, who is a brother of the late Bishop of Huron, gave the special Lenten address at St. John's church yesterday evening at eight o'clock.

—It was [illegible] last night, that the city council might have done something, even if it were only to put up a keg of lemonade for an organization that has advertised Peterboro all over the Province.

—Lindsay Post: A clergyman who recently resigned his pastorate to take up the practice of law, assigned as one reason for his change that "the average man will pay more to keep out of jail for one day than he will out of hell for an eternity."

—The Times is in receipt of a very neatly gotten up booklet issued by the Ontario Dept. of Agriculture, entitled "Some of the factors that control the water-content of butter. It is admirably put together and contains matters of vast import to dairymen.

—On Monday night next the Board of Education and the city fathers are due to meet and discuss the ways and means of purchasing a site for the south end school. The mayor is on the Hon. Committee of the hockey banquet. We venture to wager a one cent postage stamp he will go to the dinner. If so, he is right.

—Among those who did not fly any bunting yesterday in honor of the hockey champions, was our city hall. This however, did not necessarily mean any reflection on the councillors' appreciation of the good work done, but the city flag of Peterboro is just now a conundrum, whether to go into the rag bag or the hospital.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to all the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Important License Act Changes.

Among the bills brought before this session of the Ontario Legislature, and which had its first reading on 28th February, the following important change in the Liquor License Act is included.

Section 101 of the said Act is amended by adding thereto the following subsection:

In the event of a second conviction being made against any holder of a license under this Act, the license held by such person shall ipso facto be cancelled, and no license shall be granted by the license commissioners in lieu thereof, but the number of licenses in the municipality shall be reduced by the number so cancelled.

REGIMENT ACCEPTS

57th Will Spend 1st July in Brantford.

The 57th Regiment's officers, with Col. Miller in the chair, met Tuesday night in the drill hall to consider the invitation from the colonel of the Dufferin Rifles, Brantford, to visit that city on July 1st. The invitation to Brantford was discussed, and the officers were unanimous in their decision to visit that bustling burg. While the arrangements for the trip will not be completed for some time, it is expected that the regiment will leave Peterboro on Saturday, June 30, and remain in Brantford until Monday night, July 2nd.

Arrangements are being made for a military tournament in Brantford on July 2nd, in which the local regiment will take part.

MR. ARMSTRONG'S DEATH

Old Resident of this City Passes Away Result of Accident.

On Tuesday night one of the oldest and generally respected citizens of Peterboro, in the person of Mr. Geo. W. Armstrong, passed away.

The late Mr. Armstrong's death is supposed to be a direct result of a bad fall he had last December, whilst crossing the ice from the blacksmith shop on Hunter street to the American Cereal Co.'s mills as he received injuries from which he never fully recovered.

The late Mr. Armstrong was sixty years of age, and was born in Monaghan, Ireland. In 1866, the deceased moved to Peterboro, and has lived here ever since. In 1869 he married Miss Sarah Boyd of Thorold.

The deceased has lately been an employee of the American Cereal Co. was a member of St. Luke's Episcopal church, and was a gentleman very highly thought of by all who knew him.

DR. TORRANCE HONORED

Local Pastor Appointed Moderator of Presbyterian General Assembly

His many friends and parishioners will congratulate Rev. Dr. Torrance on his appointment at the meeting of the Presbytery of Peterboro, held in St. Andrew's church, Cobourg, to the responsible position of Moderator of the General Assembly for next year.

Rev. Dr. Torrance, Rev. J. G. Potter, Mr. Robert Harrison and Mr. William Fowler, attended the meetings on Monday and Tuesday have returned home.

The gathering was a most important one, and much business was transacted.

Rev. Dr. Torrance took part in a discussion on the address given by Rev. Mr. Milligan, pastor of old St. Andrew's church, Toronto, entitled "Preparation for the Sabbath in Pulpit and Pew."

At the moderate Tuesday morning Rev. J. M. Whitelaw, of Omemee, reported favorably on Home Missions, and Rev. J. G. Potter gave the report for the Cordova Home Mission, which was very favorable.

Mr. Robert Harrison, treasurer, of the Presbytery, read his financial statement.

Mr. Harrison, who is also superintendent to the Presbytery of the Augmentation Fund, reported that the regulations had been complied with and all the grants heartily approved.

Rev. A. C. Campbell of the Presbyterian church, at Lakefield, forwarded his resignation as pastor of the church, over which he has faithfully ministered for about eight years. Mr. Campbell intends going to the Northwest and his desires to be relieved of his duties as soon as possible.

A special meeting of the Presbytery will be held in Peterboro on Tuesday, the 13th inst., to deal with his resignation, which it is understood will be accepted.

The next regular meeting of the Presbytery of Peterboro will be held in Port Hope on July 10.

Is Disease a Crime?

Not very long ago, a popular magazine published an editorial article in which the writer asserted, in substance, that all disease should be regarded as criminal. Certain it is, that much of the sickness and suffering of mankind is due to the violation of certain of Nature's laws. But to say that all sickness should be regarded as criminal, must appeal to every reasonable individual as radically wrong.

It would be harsh, unsympathetic, cruel, yea criminal, to condemn the poor, weak, over-worked housewife who sinks under the heavy load of household cares and burdens, and suffers from weaknesses, various displacements of pelvic organs and other derangements peculiar to her sex.

Frequent bearing of children, with its exacting demands upon the system, coupled with the care, worry and labor of rearing a large family, is often the cause of weaknesses, derangements and debility which are aggravated by the many household cares, and the hard, and never-ending work which the mother is called upon to perform. Dr. Pierce, the maker of that world-famed remedy for woman's peculiar weaknesses and ills—Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—says that one of the greatest obstacles to the cure of this class of maladies is the fact that the [illegible] household cares and duties [illegible] relief that [illegible] by making her to secure from the use of his "Favorite Prescription" the full benefits. It is a matter of frequent experience, he says, in his extensive practice in these cases, to meet with those in which the treatment fails by reason of the patient's inability to abstain from hard work long enough to be cured. With those suffering from prolapsus, anteversion, and retroversion of the uterus or other displacement of the womanly organs, it is very necessary that, in addition to taking Dr. Pierce's "Favorite Prescription," they abstain from hard work for short periods, on their part. All heavy lifting or straining of any kind should also be avoided. As much out-door air as possible, with moderate, light exercise is also very important. Let the patient observe these rules and the "Favorite Prescription" will do the rest.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound.

If sick consult the Doctor, free of charge by letter. All such communications are held sacredly confidential.

Ministry Defeated Resignation Accepted

Question of Enforcing Law Against Church the Occasion of Defeat, But Vote Was Expressive of Personal Antagonism to Cabinet.

Paris, March 8.—Like a bolt from a clear sky, the Rouvier Ministry was defeated in the Chamber of Deputies last night and immediately resigned. The Cabinet crisis comes at a most dramatic moment, when the Franco-German contest has reached a decisive stage, and may exert an important adverse influence on the Algeciras conference and European affairs. The defeat of the Government came on a comparatively minor debate over the Church disorders. The Government succeeded in holding only 234 votes, while the various elements in opposition—Clericals, Socialists, and Nationalists—united and polled 267 votes, thus placing the Ministry in a minority of 33.

Premier Rouvier, with all his colleagues immediately proceeded to the Foreign Office, where a joint letter of resignation was prepared. Later M. Rouvier presented this letter to President Fallieres, who accepted the resignations. The President announced his intention of consulting the Presidents of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies tomorrow relative to the formation of a new Cabinet.

A RELIGIOUS WARFARE.

The debate in the Chamber of Deputies was upon the bloody riot yesterday during the investory of a shrine in the village of Boeshepe, resulting in the death of a manifestant. Various orators severely criticised the Government's course, asserting that it threatened to precipitate a religious warfare. Premier Rouvier responded;

"The Government has the duty to apply the law. It will apply it without weakness, but also with prudence and wisdom, consistent with public tranquility. I ask the adoption of a resolution approving these declarations of the Government."

The resolution was thereupon put to a vote and defeated. The result was due to a combination of opposition influences. The vote was more expressive of personal antagonism to the Ministry than of opposition to church interference.

BOUND TO BE DEFEATED.

M. Rouvier employed not the slightest emotion. To one of his followers he remarked;

"I regarded it as a point of honor to fulfill the task I had undertaken. The Chamber's vote has relieved me of a burden, the weight of which had begun to make itself felt. I do not regret it." He added; "I should have received 300 votes had I declared for more vigorous action; but the sentiment of the Chamber was against the Cabinet's remaining in office until the election, and the struggle would have begun again tomorrow. It was better to finish immediately."

MR. D. BAXTER'S DEATH

Former Resident of South Monaghan Passes Away.

Yesterday at noon, a former resident of South Monaghan, who was born and raised on his farm at Baxter's Creek, a short distance outside of Millbrook, in the person of Mr. David Baxter passed away.

The deceased for the past three years has been ill, suffering from a complication of diseases brought on by hard work.

Mr. Baxter was sixty years of age, and was also survived by one brother Thos. Baxter.

The deceased has of late years been farming out west, but two years ago he gave up farming entirely and moved with his wife and family to his late residence, 296 Rogers street, Ashburnham.

The late David B. was a man of sterling qualities, honorable and highly respected by everyone. He was a member of St. Luke's church, and previous to being confined to his bed, was a regular attendant at the services. In 1884 he was married to Miss Mary Winthrop, who survives him, with three daughter, Libby, Susan and Lucy, and one son, Thomas.

The funeral will be held on Sunday at one o'clock from his late residence on Rogers street and will proceed to the Fraserville cemetery.

BERLIN CHALLENGED

Capt. Whitcroft Throws Down Gauntlet to Senior Champions.

The Toronto Star of last night contains a long biography of the Peterboro Hockey team, members, and, among other matters of interest, has the following;

"On behalf of the Peterboro team, Captain Fred Whitcroft sent to the Star a challenge to the Berlin team, senior O.H.A. champions, to play home-and-home games or a sudden-death game in Toronto early next week. It is hardly likely that the challenge will be entertained by Berlin. Even if they desired to play, several of their best men, notably Gross and Cochrane, are under the weather."

A STRONG COMPANY

Federal Life Assurance Co. Wrote $3,329,537 of New Insurance Last Year.

Now that some of the largest insurance companies of the United States are in the focus light of a severe and not altogether favorable scrutiny by public opinion, it is cheering news to Canadian policyholders to note that the insurance companies of this country are, by conservative management and strict governmental supervision, able to more than compare favorably with similar companies in any part of the world.

Among the leading and strongly entrenched insurance companies of Canada, the Federal Life Assurance Co. holds a strong position. At the 24th annual meeting of this company, held at their headquarters in Hamilton, Ont., with Mr. David Dexter, president, in the chair, the directors submitted their report, which was of a most encouraging nature, both to policy and stock holders.

During the year ending December 31st, 1905, the Federal Life Co. wrote up $3,329,537 of new business, divided among two thousand three hundred and twenty-eight policyholders.

It might be noted that the assets of this company increased during the past year by $575,141, have now reached the enormous sum of $2,423,914, exclusive of guarantee capital. The policyholders are, however, secured, when the guarantee capital is audited, by $1,291,911, a good guarantee that their policies are as safe as British consols.

During the year, including cash dividends and dividends used on the reduction of premiums with annuities, $254,745 was paid out to policyholders.

Special attention of policyholders is drawn to the high class of the investments of the Federal Life Co., the being in high class bonds, mortgages and loans on the company's policy secured by reserve.

Mr. David Dexter, the president, one of Canada's most prominent financiers, deserves, and undoubtedly gets, the hearty thanks of all interested in this great insurance company.

The local agent of the Federal Life Assurance Co. is Mr. Geo. O. Pope, 406 George street. Mr. Pope is too well and favorably known in local insurance circles to need any endorsement on our part.

S. S. BOARD MEETS

Separate School Will Ask $6,000 From City Treasurer.

The regular meeting of the Separate School Board was held Wednesday evening, there being present, Messrs. Goodfellow, chairman; Henry, Primeau, Burns, Carwell, Hourigan, Lynch, Murphy, Lane and Hickey.

Reports of attendance for month of February;—Lake street school, roll 170 average 136, Central school, roll 246 average 227.—Received.

T. Mahoney applied for the position of caretaker of the new school.—Received.

On motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Carwell, Miss Coleman was appointed associate examiner on the board of entrance examiners for the current year.

A statement of the estimates for 1906 was presented and on motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Hickey the secretary was instructed to make a demand for $6000 from the city treasurer.

The Board then adjourned.

DEATH OF MRS. GEO SHAW

Widow of Former Peterboro Banker Will be Buried To-day.

Last night a telegram was received by Mr. L. M. Hayes to the effect that Mrs. George Shaw, a lady well and favorably known by the older citizens of Peter, had passed away at Oakville on Wednesday.

The late Mrs. Shaw was the widow of Mr. George Shaw, formerly manager of the Ontario Bank here, previous to when Mr. Charles McGill was appointed.

She leaves to mourn her loss, several children, including Mr. Charles Shaw, of the Northern Trust Company Bank, Chicago; Mrs. Shelldrake (nee Miss Minnie Shaw), formerly librarian of the public library, and Mrs. (Pete) Tate, C.E., on the G.T.R. staff, Toronto.

Miss Charlotte Shaw, Mr. Charles Shaw, Chicago, and the Anglican clergyman of Oakville, will arrive with the remains this morning at 11.30, per C.P.R. The funeral will proceed direct to the Little Lake cemetery, where a service will be held in the mortuary chapel. It is understood, as we go to press, that Rev. Mr. Major, rector of All Saints' church will assist at the burial ceremony.

Expenses of Small Pox Epidemic.

As noted in a former issue of The Times the townships of Chandos, Belmont and Methuen, are asking the Ontario Government to help defray expenses involved by the recent outbreak of smallpox in those remote settlements. Councillors Monague and Andrews, and Reeve Campbell of Chandos, appeared before the Private Bills committee on Wednesday, and asked what the Ontario Government give a grant towards defraying their expenses. Dr. Hodgetts, provincial health officer, recommended that the municipalities be given aid.

MRS. HISCOTT'S DEATH

Lady Passes Away After Three Years Illness.

Mrs. Mary Ann Hiscott passed away early yesterday morning at the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. C. F. McIntyre, 171 Perry street. The deceased had been ill for about three years. She was 62 years of age and was born in Prince Edward county. Mrs. Hiscott was twice married, her second husband, being Mr. S. Hiscott, who died eight years ago. She resided for some time in Lakefield, but had been a resident of Peterboro for about 16 years. By her first husband who had two children, who survive. They are Samuel Dobson, of Havelock and Mrs. Harry Fitzgerald, of Medicine Hat.

Mrs. C. F. McIntyre, of this city, was the only child by deceased's second marriage.

The late Mrs. Hiscott was much respected and was a faithful member of George street church.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock from 171 Perry street to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. Dr. Brothers will conduct the services.

400 DELEGATES HERE

Canadian Order of Home Circles Will Hold Annual Meeting March 13th.

That Peterboro is rapidly coming to the front, not only as a manufacturing center, but as a good place for conventions is shown by the coming annual meeting of the Supreme Circle of the Canadian Order of Home Circles will be held in the court house here, on Tuesday and Wednesday next, March 13th and 14th. It is expected that about 400 delegates will be in attendance.

The local hotels will be fully able to accommodate the crowd expected, who will come from all parts of the Dominion. The members of local Circle are making big preparations to properly receive and entertain the delegates. An address of welcome will be read to the visitors, and every arrangement made for their comfort and entertainment.

A meeting of the reception committee was held Wednesday evening, at which Dr. Morgan, Wm. Kemp, Walter Olee, Ed. Munday, Dr. McKall, F. S. Schneider, W. H. Muldrum, W. E. Conway Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. W. Olee, Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Barraclough, Mrs. W. E. Conway and others were present. It was decided to tender a reception to the delegates, and to have several hundred souvenir badges printed, bearing a picture of the lift-lock. The mayor and council will be asked to extend the visitors the freedom of the city. The Home Circlers will also be driven around the city to the lift-lock and other points of interest.

Looking For His Wife.

Last night Mr. Fred Wren arrived in Peterboro, from Kingston. Wren who was found guilty of horse stealing, was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. After serving four years and five months, Wren was released. He is in the city for the purpose of finding his wife, whom he has not heard of for some time. He is staying at a local hotel.

No More Rice Lake Netting.

Fishing with nets in Rice Lake and the Trent river will be allowed no more, as the Ontario Government is about to stop the issuance of licenses. The licenses for net fishing gave permission for the catching of cat fish, for the New York market, but stipulated that game fish should not be taken.

Many of those who had taken out net licenses exceeded their privilege and used their nets for catching bass and muskinonge. This the Government is determined to put an end to.

New License Act.

Toronto, March 8.—Hon. Mr. Hanna stated yesterday that he hopes to bring the new liquor license act down tomorrow.

There has been nothing done in the matter of the resignation of Mr. Thos. Martin from the West Kent License Board. Mr. Hanna says there has been no appointment made yet and no inquiry.

HANGED HIMSELF.

Fort Erie, Ont., March 8.—Between two and four o'clock yesterday afternoon, Mr. Jessie B. Graham committed suicide by hanging himself in a barn on his premises. It is thought that he was mentally deranged. A widow and two children survive.

SLEEP DESTROYER

The Old Fashioned Coffee.

She suffered from nervousness by day and sleeplessness by night.

"Up to three years ago," writes a young woman, "I was in the habit of drinking coffee freely and did not realize that it was injuring my health till I was suddenly made the victim of nervous headache so violent that I was compelled to give up household activities and stay in bed much of the time. Then insomnia came upon me and the wretchedness of sleepless nights was added to the agony of painful days.

"This lasted till a year ago, when I was persuaded by a friend to give up coffee entirely and use Postum Food Coffee. The result was, in less than a week I began to feel the change for the better, my nerves grew stronger and I began to sleep a little. Day by day the improvement continued and in a short time I was restored to health. My headaches left me, the nervousness passed away entirely, and I enjoy good, sound sleep every night.

"This is what I owe to Postum, and I feel it but right to tell you of it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A FAY STORY

Mrs. Brooks Hears For First Time in Eight Years From Her Brother.

With all due apologies for opening up a subject that has about wearied our readers, "that of the "Fays," we have one more well authenticated story, dated yesterday that is well worth repeating.

When the Fays were here two weeks ago, Mrs. J. M. Brooks, George street, took in the show one evening. Previous to going to the opera house, Mrs. Brooks wrote on a piece of paper, "Where is my brother and when will I see him again". This paper Mrs. Brooks placed in her purse without showing it or telling even her husband what the inscription was or about.

It might be noted that this lady had neither seen nor heard from her brother for over eight years.

During that part of the performance when Mrs. Fay showered questions, this marvelously good operator said "I think I see a lady in the audience named Brooks. She wants to know when she will see her brother. He will be in Peterboro next summer."

Yesterday Mrs. Brooks received the first letter she had heard from her brother in eight years, saying he was in New York city, and would run over to Peterboro, and spend a few days with her during the coming summer.

Now Mrs. Brooks not only did not, as noted, show the paper with her question to her friends in the city, nor did she hand it to anyone in the opera house. It simply lay in her purse. Here is a proposition for some of those wise acres, who know all about that telephoning business from the box office, to solve.

HOCKEY.

Smiths Falls last night lost all chances of winning the Stanley Cup from the Ottawa bunch, when they were defeated by the Cup Holders by a score of 8—2. The game was rough and the combination slow on account of soft ice. The half-time score was 4—1.

The locals say that Carr-Harris, the cover-point of the Goderich team is one of the best and most gentlemanly players they ever met. He expressed himself as entirely disgusted with the way the boys were treated.

Among the former Peterboro boys who witnessed the game in Goderich, was Dr. Scott, now of London. The doctor was one of the best half-backs in the business, when he used to play Rugby with Peterboro. Dr. McNaughton, also of London, and "Ernie" Bartlett, of Stratford, late of The Times staff, were also present.

Tickets for the hockey boys' banquet at the Oriental Hotel on Monday night are on sale at the Bank of Ottawa, Ormond & Walsh's, and C.P.R. ticket office.

HAMAR GREENWOOD HONORED.

London, March 9.—Mr. Winston Churchill, Under Secretary for the Colonies had appointed Mr. Hamar Greenwood, M.P., the Canadian member for York, to be his Parliamentary private secretary.

Parliament is Now Open For Business

But There Will Be No Tariff Revision---Session Will Be Short, With Another in November.

Ottawa, March 9.—The Canadian Parliament opened here yesterday with all due ceremony. There was a large attendance of members, and every available seat in the House was taken by the public. Society was very much in evidence.

DELAY TARIFF REVISION.

The significant omission from the speech from the throne of any allusion to the subject of tariff revision is taken as undoubtedly meaning that after reviewing all the circumstances the Government is of the opinion that the interests of the country will not suffer by postponing for a few months the intended revision of the duty schedules. The current impression is that the Ministers are desirous of shortening the present session as much as possible, with the object of meeting again in the fall, and it goes without saying that the members generally will be better pleased with an arrangement that obviates the necessity of their remaining in attendance throughout the dog days.

TO RESTRICT DEBATES.

Experience has shown that under the existing rules of procedure, it is impossible to keep debate within reasonable limits, and for this reason it is commonly understood that the Premier will propose the formation of a special committee of the House of Commons to suggest such changes as circumstances show to be desirable.

One of the clauses in the speech from the throne yesterday announces the Government's intention of proposing a change in the country's fiscal year so that succeeding sessions of Parliament may open in November. With this change in view, the estimates for the last before the House of Commons in a few days, provide only for nine months' expenditure, that is, up till the end of March, 1907.

The policy in regard to the preservation of Niagara Falls may be inferred from the reference in the speech from the throne to the desirability of maintaining the scenic effect of the falls, whilst not unduly restricting its waters so important for power purposes.

The speech also indicates that the Government bills will include measures for the better observance of the Lord's Day law, to cope with the evil of usury, and amendments to the Fruit Marks Act, the Railway Act, and the Dominion Elections Act.

TEXT OF THE ADDRESS.

The speech from the throne was as follows,

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate and House of Commons;

In again summoning you to meet for the despatch of business I am glad to be able to congratulate you on the prosperity prevailing throughout the Dominion.

The loss which Queen Alexandra has sustained through the death of her father, the King of Denmark, has occasioned much sorrow throughout the land, and I am satisfied that the warm sympathy of the people of Canada will be cheerfully extended to her Majesty.

LARGEST TRADE ON RECORD.

The bountiful harvest with which we have been blessed in the past season, together with the continued development of our industries and transportation facilities, have so stimulated business in all parts of Canada, and have given such an impetus to our exports and imports, that the trade both with the United Kingdom and foreign countries for the current fiscal year, gives promise of being the largest on record.

The flow of immigrants seeking homes in the three prairie Provinces still continues, and from the present outlook the number will be in excess of any previous year, and it is satisfactory to note the increasing proportions from the British Isles.

A treaty on behalf of Canada has now been concluded between the United Kingdom and Japan, which it is confidently hoped will largely increase our trade with the people of that progressive empire. When the formal documents have been received they will be laid before you.

WISDOM AND MODERATION.

Honorable Gentlemen of the Senate, and Gentlemen of the House of Commons;

I invite your earnest attention to the several subjects I have mentioned and to the general business that will come before you, and I trust your deliberations will be guided by wisdom and moderation.

Illegally Detained.

Halifax, N.S. March 7.—A despatch says that Hope Young, of Boston, father of the child found dead in Digby, for causing the death of which Hope Young was tried and subsequently sent to the insane asylum here, has succeeded in instituting the United States Government in his charge that he was illegally arrested and held in Nova Scotia as a witness in the Hope Young case. The United States Government is to investigate.

LIVE ON 25 CENTS A WEEK

Residents of Zion City Called Upon to Save the Community from the Money Lenders.

Chicago, March 9.—Picturing a gloomy financial situation, and recognizing a crisis, Overseer Voliva called upon the residents of Zion City last night for over $250,000 to save the community from the money lenders, and thus to relieve the present pressure and put the industries on a paying basis. As security he promised the people first mortgages on the lace factory and the printing house.

He called upon ministers to give up their salaries, he asked clerks and laborers to work for $3.50 a week, and upbraided the followers of Dr. Dowie for wearing jewelry and gaudy clothes.

"Accept in pay just enough to provide for living expenses," was his urgent request, he himself declaring he was willing to live on 25 cents a week, if possible thus to keep soul and body together.

CAR STRUCK HEARSE

Toronto, March 9.—An unfortunate collision of a street car and a hearse occurred yesterday morning at the corner of Beverley and Queen streets. The funeral had come down Beverley street on the way to the Union Station, and was crossing the Queen street cars tracks when a west-bound Dundas car struck the hearse. The motorman apparently tried to stop the car, but the rails were slippery. The two men on the hearse were thrown off, one being injured on the shoulder, the other on the knee, but not seriously. The hearse was not upset, nor was the glass broken, but other damages made it necessary to get another hearse before the funeral could proceed. The car was also somewhat damaged by the accident.

CHASED OUT OF CANADA

Authorities Were Prepared to Call Out Militia to Prevent a Prize Fight in Essex County.

Windsor, March 9.—The old adage that "He laughs best who laughs last" was verified last night in the case of the Sparkin and Stone fight. The promoters thought they had the Canadian authorities thrown off the scent, but Detective Mahoney learned that a Michigan Central train was chartered to leave Windsor about nine o'clock with the party for some place in Essex county, probably Leamington. Mahoney communicated with Crown Attorney Rodd; the latter notified the Michigan Central officials that he would have them indicted if the train left the car ferry on the Canadian side. The train was at once cancelled as far as Canada was concerned. As an additional precaution, however, Messrs. Rodd and Mahoney with fourteen officers went to the Michigan Central station prepared to arrest the train crew and the fight party if they attempted to land. Besides this, Mr. Rood had an order to call out the Leamington Company of the 21st Regiment if necessary to use them, if the party got past the border and went into South Essex.

A CABINET RESIGNS.

Belgrade, March 9.—The Cabinet of Premier Ljubomir Stoyanovitch, which came into office in August of last year, has resigned.

INSIDE INFORMATION

The Times Readers Chance for Profit---Everyone Ought to Grasp this Opportunity.

To have even a simple case of indigestion is to have "inside information" of suffering that warns of serious trouble in the future, unless the digestive system is strengthened.

If you cannot eat and digest three good, square and satisfying meals each day without discomfort, your stomach needs Mi-o-na tablets. They are not a mere temporary relief, but are composed of valuable medicinal agents which strengthen the digestive organs, and cure and prevent stomach troubles.

When there are pains or distress after eating, bad odors, twinkling of specks, a sour taste in the mouth, dizziness, heart burn, specks before the eyes, furred tongue, sleeplessness, nervousness, or back ache, the stomach needs the help of Mi-o-na.

Every reader of the Times should grasp the opportunity offered to try Mi-o-na. Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of this remedy before each meal for a few days, and you will soon have a strong stomach and perfect health.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more fluids and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Fremont, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became nervous and suffered from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well.

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

SORROWS OF AN M. P.

The task of a member of Parliament is not always an easy or pleasant one. A western M. P. was in Ottawa a few days ago upon business. In a small village in his constituency the post-master desired to move the post-office from one building to another about forty feet away. Certain of the "faithful" objected, because the rent of the new building would probably find its way into Tory pockets.

The salary attached to the office is $250, and the rent of the building amounts to $2.50 per month. The matter had been pressed upon the attention of the member for some ten months. While in Ottawa he received a number of telegrams jointly signed by several leading party friends, to which no answer was sent. Finally a telegram was sent, signed by the chairman of the division in which the post-office was situated:

"John Jones, M. P., Ottawa:

"Hunter says Smith moving post-office today. Stop at all costs. Signed Hurryup Quick, chairman Division One."

To this the M. P. replied: "Will have special meeting of Cabinet called to consider the matter. Signed John Jones."

The meeting proceeded. Next morning at five o'clock the M. P. received the following message:

"Terrible agitation over removal of post-office. If not stopped there will be trouble. Reply. Signed, Hurryup Quick."

To this the M. P. replied:

"Hurryup Quick, —— Hornstown:

"Who are agitating, Grits or Tories? Wire names. Cabinet in special session. Militia held in readiness to attack at sunrise tomorrow."

Hurryup Quick sent back a collect message with a string of names so long that the M. P. had to pay five dollars for the telegram.

CHANDOS.

—R. Knox, of Lakefield, was around among his friends and neighbors last week.

—Miss Hattie Williams, from the city, has been up in this vicinity visiting her friends.

—In a week or two the people will be making maple syrup and preparing for the spring work.

—Mr. S. Scott starts for Alberta on the third of March to join his son, J. M. Scott, now at Red Deer.

—We are sorry to hear Mr. John [illegible] and family are leaving this district. Norwood is to be their place of residence for a time.

—The snow is going fast and the roads will soon be here. The Coe Hill stage is making the trip on wheels, and the lumber camps are beginning to break up.

MAGISTRATE STABBED

French Missionaries Responsible for Recent Outbreak of Chinese.

Shanghai, March 8.—All is quiet at Nanching, the scene of the recent massacres of Catholic missionaries, and the missionaries who fled are returning. It is stated that the Chinese Governor has admitted his guilt in failing to preserve the peace, and has asked for personal punishment. He will probably be degraded.

An investigation of the trouble shows that the French missionaries invited the magistrate to a feast, and urged him to sign papers promising an indemnity for property wrecked last year, and to release six Catholic missionaries charged with murder. The magistrate declined to do so, and he was fatally stabbed. It is reported hat England will demand for the murder of the Kingman family the punishment of the murderers, an indemnity, and the privilege of stationing gunboats on Poyang lake.

The French demands have not yet been documented.

BATTLESHIP WITH SAILS

Japan Reverts to Former Type in Vessel Now Being Built.

London, March 8.—Capt. Pakenham, Naval Attaché of the British Embassy at Tokio, has communicated to the Admiralty general particulars of the newest battleship Japan is building at Kura, regarding which remarkable secrecy has been observed. Capt Pakenham says the most striking innovation is the carrying of yards and sails. There will be two tall masts, fitted with light steel fire control platforms, and carrying lower courses, topsails and topgallant sails.

The vessel will be of 19,000 tons burden and will have a speed of twenty one knots. Her armament will consist principally of heavy guns and her armor will be massive. She will have an overhanging submerged bow, with no ram. It is expected that this will keep her comparatively dry forward in heavy seas.

A VERITABLE BONANZA

Flourishing Reports Regarding Sunset National Mining Company's Property.

Now that so many mining propositions are being presented to the investing public, it is advisable to thoroughly investigate every individual proposition before purchasing stock.

In cases where a personal examination of the particular mine in which stock is offered for sale is impossible, the next best index as to its reliability and real worth, is to see what responsible papers have to say concerning the mine.

In reference to the Sunset National Mining Company, whose stock is, for a limited time only, offered for sale by Messrs. Patterson & Co., the local fiscal agents, that well known financial journal, "The National Banker," says, in part:

"The National Banker is gratified to state that reports coming in weekly from the Sunset National Mining Company property are growing better with each statement made by Mr. R. L. Stephens, one of the best known mining men in the west, confirmed by assays of the ore bodies taken at random from their eight-foot vein, which is surprisingly rich in values. There is no question whatsoever that the Sunset National will turn out to be one of the most valuable mining properties in Montana. Messrs. Lewis and Walker, the well known assayers of Butte, Mont., in their latest assay of this great mine, exhibit 118 ounces of silver and 11-3 ounces of gold to the ton, with a combined value of $161.

"Two general assays made at the camp show in the No. 1 assay $63.05, and in the No. 3 assay $153.50 net per ton, thus attesting the extraordinary richness of this valuable mining property. This is exclusive of considerable copper values."

The article in the National Banker says, further, that the city of Butte, perhaps the best posted place in the world on mining matters, "concentrates its attention upon the Sunset National. Messrs. Patterson & Co. will doubtless have many calls for this stock.

A GOOD CANADIAN REPRESENTATIVE WANTED

Calumet-Tellurid Golde Mining Co.
OF CALUMET, MICHIGAN,

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 540 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 30 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzes and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. These groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Free Gold Milling ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a forty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.50 per ton. These separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.00 to $14.20 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine will however mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as : The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Globes and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tintic mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

In vain the old driver remonstrated, declaring he was sorry, but it couldn't be thought of. He must take the mail on to Allendale."

When he looked back to that night in after years—trembling as he thought of that scene, and the tragedy that followed on the heels of it— he remembered that he very unwillingly allowed himself, against his better judgment, to become persuaded to take the young girl to the gates of Waldron Towers.

And an hour from the time she had first made her appearance, they were making their way through the terrible storm toward Dover.

Once he thought he heard a cry issuing from the interior of the coach. The reins almost fell from his nerveless grasp, and his heart almost ceased to beat. He listened intently. The sound was not repeated.

"It must have been my fancy," he muttered. "No doubt it was the wind, shrieking and howling, with demon-like fury, down the mountain gorge, dying away like a deep sob of one in bitter pain."

Again he assured himself "it was only the wind," as he urged the poor horses up the steep, slippery pass by applying the whip.

At last the turrets of Waldron Towers, ablaze with lights, loomed up in the distance. A few moments more, and the entrance gate was reached. The terrible journey was ended.

As the driver assisted her to alight from the vehicle the wind for an instant raised the heavy folds of the veil she wore, from her face. A sharp exclamation of dismay rose to her lips as she quickly drew it down to its place.

In that one brief instant, the flickering light of the gate lamps revealed to the man the most beautiful face he had ever beheld, but over the lovely face lay a death-white pallor. He caught a glimpse of two dark-blue eyes and a halo of golden hair. In that face lay the elements of a tragedy.

He watched the slender, muffled figure curiously as she disappeared up the broad, gravelled path; then he turned to his stage again with a thoughtful face.

"I would know that young woman anywhere again," he muttered. "Ah, what a face! what beautiful eyes!"

Meanwhile, the young girl had crept up the marble porch, close to the long French window, peering in through the lace-draped window, with wide, distended, horror-stricken eyes.

The interior of the apartment into which she gazed was ablaze with light, and thronged with guests.

In their midst stood a young man, with a debonair, handsome face. A fair young girl in spotless white, with pale blossoms on her breast and in her clustering curls, clung to his arm.

With bated breath, the burning eyes of the figure crouching outside in the terrible storm and darkness rested upon them. She had pushed back the heavy veil, and the assertive breeze tossed the pale-gold hair wantonly about her lovely childish face. The wild winds around her sung a requiem—the dash of the down-pouring rain a dirge.

So young and gloriously fair, yet life had gone all wrong with her. Her strange secret, and her pitiful story, would startle the world on the morrow, as it had never been startled before, stooped, as it is, in misery, suffering, crime and sin.

There was a quick shuddering cry as she gazed on the young man's handsome face.

"It is quite true," she muttered. "The paragraph in the paper spoke truly. It is he!"

"Heaven forgive me," she gasped, faintly, as she drew something from the folds of her cloak with her trembling right hand. "Heaven forgive me! I am driven to it."

The next moment there was a clear, ringing report of a revolver. The plate-glass window was shivered into a thousand fragments. The fatal bullet had sped on its course.

Who the young girl was, who had attempted the terrible deed, from whence she came, whether deserving our deepest sympathy or our heartiest reprobation—that she had upon the pending and handsome man we have mentioned, the other pages of our story will tell!

Do not hastily in your judgment of her. Remember, love makes or mars a woman's life. It brings with it a blessing—or a curse.

Yet, young hearts will still sigh for love, even though they weep tears of pity over our beautiful heroine's fate.

CHAPTER II.

Some months previous to the date mentioned in the opening of our story, in an old-fashioned garden scarcely a stone's throw from Waldron Towers, two persons were standing in the June sunshine, which touched with a glint of gold the features of the woman, plain and comely, and that of her companion a tall, commanding gentleman, with a fine, benevolent face and the military bearing of a soldier.

He had been a soldier, a general in the army, and Virginia had never known a braver one. His name was enrolled among those of the heroes of Harpers Ferry, during that time so famous in our nation's history.

Where flowers now bloomed, in the garden of Fairlawn Villa, and fountains tossed their white spray to the sunshine, not many years since those same grounds had blossomed with waving cotton, which greeted the eye as far as it could reach, like a field of snow. It had been one of the most prosperous plantations in all Virginia.

On this particular June morning the general was pacing the grounds to and fro, hurriedly, an unmistakable frown on his fine old face. Stopping abruptly, he turned to his companion, saying thoughtfully, "So the rumors that Waldron Towers is to be tenanted by the young heir is true is it?—I had hoped it was mere hearsay."

Mrs. Dent, the housekeeper of Fairlawn courtesied. "It is quite true, sir," she responded; "at the village they tell me that Mr. Waldemar Waldron has been domiciled at the Towers a fortnight or more, and that he has come to stay."

The frown of annoyance grew darker on the old general's face. "Mr. Waldemar Waldron, the heir of the Towers, must never be referred to in any way in the presence of my daughter Reine," he said. "She has never heard the story of the Waldrons, and I hope she never will. She is impulsive—girls of sixteen usually are—and would imagine it highly romantic, especially when a young and handsome man is the hero of it. There never was a man more hospitable than myself—or inclined to be neighborly—but I would sooner see the devil himself enter my door than this Waldemar Waldron understand, I am never at home to him if he should take it upon himself to call."

General Hastings had spoken rapidly and energetically, bringing his cane down heavily on the gravelled walk by way of emphasis to his remark.

"I understand you, sir," she said. "I shall see that your wishes are strictly carried out. I shall see that a Waldron of Waldron Towers never crosses this threshold if I can prevent it. I am inclined to think, though, that he will not be likely to trouble us, for he has the reputation hereabouts of being a sort of recluse."

"I never knew a Waldron but what was a villain to the heart's core," declared the general hotly; "depend upon it, this one is no exception. Evil parents cannot bring forth righteous offspring, the race of Waldrons for generations back has demonstrated this. I repeat again, never let the name be mentioned in my daughter Reine's presence," and the old general's voice sunk to a whisper as he espied at that moment Reine herself advancing down the serpentine path, the skirt of her blue velvet riding-habit thrown over her arm, leading her prancing, black pony by the bridle.

The grand old soldier's eyes grew moist as he looked at her. If there was one being on earth whom he idolized, it was his dainty, beautiful, willful young daughter. She gave promise of magnificent womanhood; her slender girlish figure was admirably graceful; every unstudied pose was statuesque. Her face bright with a beauty all its own, was crowned in fair golden rings over her forehead, falling in a tumbled mass of golden curls to her waist; her eyes were a beautiful blue that deepened with every phase of feeling, that flashed with scorn or gleamed with tenderness, or shone with pride. She was not without fault, even as the fairest rose has the cruelest thorns. There was some little degree of temper in the bright, proud eyes, just as there was something of independence and hauteur in the curved lips. She was imperious, quick tempered, proud, but was quick to forget and forgive a wrong committed. It was not wonderful that everyone loved the fair young heiress of Fairlawn; she was well worth loving. She was the very light of the old general's eyes, his pride, his delight.

Her fair young mother had died in her infancy, leaving the care of their child to the old soldier. He was much puzzled to know what to do with her; then came the happy thought of sending Reine to school when she was old enough.

This plan had met with disaster; she refused to go. And the old soldier, who had faced the enemy on an hundred battle fields and led his followers on to victory, looked helplessly at the mutinous little rebel.

"If she had been born a boy," he said, in consulting with the housekeeper, "I should have known what to do with her; but I do not understand small girls."

Mrs. Dent suggested a governess, and the general hailed the idea eagerly, declaring it was certainly the pill of him that he had not thought of when before.

A long line of suffering governesses had tried their best to crain knowledge into the little curly head of pretty Reine, but each in turn retired vanquished from the field, leaving the spoiled pride of Fairlawn the victor. She had outwitted them, mimicked them, caricatured them, called them all everything in short but obey them.

At length by dint of persuasion, where he should have had but to command, the general had consented to go to boarding-school.

RHEUMATISM

Lives in the Blood

Consequently it requires an internal treatment, one that will restore the blood, and thereby relieve the cause of the pain.

After years of experiment Dr. Hamilton succeeded in producing a remedy that quickly cures rheumatism, gout and all uric acid disorders. This marvellous cure has been given to the public as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills; in every case they cure quickly.

By toning the kidneys and liver, Dr. Hamilton's Pills ensure a clean healthy body. The blood is restored to a normal healthy condition, renewed vigor is imparted to overworked organs, and thus the general health is built up, and no room is left for rheumatism to creep in.

A Cripple's Story of Cure

"This is a glad day for me, writes James E. Brown, Ellis from Midland, Ont., "because I can speak of my permanent cure of rheumatism. I have been all through the aching days and sleepless nights, have spent my money on worthless remedies, and consequently in recommending Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I feel sure of their merit. No remedy gave such relief or did me as much good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. My rheumatism they cured, and ever since my health has been perfect."

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are to be had in any drug store, it's foolish to live on in misery and ill-health. You ought to get this medicine today and cure yourself. ## TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS.

Boy Wanted.

Girls Wanted.

—A couple of good steady girls wanted at the Snowden House. Highest wages paid.

Boarders Wanted.

The undersigned has room for four gentlemen boarders, at his residence, 184 Park street (close to Electric works). All modern conveniences.

WM. BELL.

Hurt During the Celebration.

A young man named O'Toole, of 275 Dublin street, employed at the Otis Leak Works, whilst taking part in the celebration Wednesday night, fell from a rig on his face and fractured the bridge of his nose. A doctor was hastily called to attend to his injury.

Mr. Max Hamilton in Town.

Mr. Max G. Hamilton, of the Hudson Bay Company, eldest son of the late Hon. Robt. Hamilton is in the city, and will remain until Monday, when he goes to Fenelon Falls for a few days. He will return to Peterboro with the intention of staying. Mr. Hamilton is an old Peterboro boy, who left this city about 18 years ago, and has not been back since.

ANOTHER BURGLARY

S. A. Otis's Store Entered and Money Stolen.

On Wednesday night another burglarly was added to the now too frequent occurrences of this kind in Peterboro.

The fruit and fish store of Mr. S. A. Otis, George street, was entered, some time after 10 p.m., evidently by a boy or boys. A pane of glass 12x16 inches was removed from the back window, facing on the alley opening on Simcoe street.

A small sum of money which Mr. Otis left in his office drawer in a tin box, was taken, and probably some candy. Nothing in the store was broken or destroyed. The affair has been reported to the police, who are at present working on the case.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Nothing doing in the police court yesterday.

—Mr. Joseph Johnston will build a fine brick house on Park street, south of Chamberlain.

—There was no meeting of the Golf Club Wednesday night, there being no quorum present.

—Mr. Geo. Yorke, of Toronto, representing the Smith Premier Typewriter Co., is a guest at the Oriental.

—Mr. George Graham, proprietor of the Oriental, is deserving of great credit for his magnanimity and kindness towards the Hockey Club.

—The city's private bill, re fixed assessment and purchase of Sugar Company's property, was held over and will be heard next Tuesday.

—Practice for the Temple of Fame will be held this evening at 7.30, at Mrs. (Rev.) Jolliffe's residence. Every one having a part is asked to attend this practice.

—We regret to say that Miss Stevenson, Simcoe street, is confined to bed through illness, and under a doctor's care. We trust that she will soon be about again.

—There will be a meeting of the Board of Health, and the committee of the whole council tonight, for the purpose of considering the isolation hospital question.

—Mr. Jas. Fowler of Peterboro, was in town on Monday making arrangements for opening a jewellery store in Andrews' block, about April 1st.—Havelock Standard.

—A meeting of the Sandstone Brick Co. directors was held Wednesday on the company's property, when final arrangements were completed for starting the erection of the building.

—Last night returns, by games, of the Smiths Falls'—Ottawa game, for the Stanley Cup, were received at the Oriental. There was a large crowd present to hear the reports.

—A good example of Peterboro's morality, sobriety and efficient policing is that after Wednesday night's crowds had practically owned the streets, not a single arrest was made.

—The Rev. Geo. W. Mingie, of Montreal, lately returned from pursuit of his studies abroad, will preach in St. Paul's church on Sunday next at 11 o'clock A.M., and in Knox church at 7 o'clock P.M.

—Buy your tickets for the Hockey Club banquet, and show the local champions you appreciate the great advertising our city has had through the press of Canada by the doughty deeds done by the boys in blue and white.

—Col. Miller of the 57th Regiment, has applied to the Militia Department for a number of the Mauser rifles used in the S.A. war, that the Dominion Government received from the Imperial war office for distribution.

As Wm. Whitfield, a North Monaghan farmer, was driving home Thursday evening, his team shied and Whitfield was thrown to the ground. He was severely cut about the face and hands, and was taken to Nicholls hospital. He was able to leave there today for home.

—Alice Richards, infant daughter of Mr. Richards, an Englishman, died yesterday in Nicholls hospital. The child, only 21 months old, was taken sick on the train on the way to Ridgetown, in the mother's care. The remains were taken to Ridgetown yesterday afternoon.

—Every patriotic man, who takes interest in good clean sport, should attend the grand banquet to be tendered Monday night to the local champions. The banquet will be held in the Oriental Hotel, and Mine Host Graham has arranged to have it the feast on record.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Little, and their seven children, of Campbellford, a few days ago had a narrow escape for poisoning. It seems that some poisonous powder was used in mistake for baking powder in some buns Mrs. Little had made. A doctor was called in and with some difficulty saved their lives.

STONES WERE THROWN

Disgruntled Goderich Hoodlums Express Their Displeasure.

A Times' representative yesterday interviewed several of the returned heroes of the hockey championship regarding the alleged rought treatment our boys received in Goderich. It might be said, judging by the reports given by the local hockey players, that they were used most shamefully. The boys do not thinmute for a moment that their treatment was authorized or started by the Goderich hockeyists, but nevertheless the hoodlums of that town expressed their dissatisfaction at Goderich losing the championship, in a very marked and reprehensible manner.

After the game was over our boys, all the way from the rink to their hotel were followed by a yelling crowd of roughs, who threw snowballs and stones at them.

In reply to a question put by The Times' man, Mr. Chris Graham said that the locals do not intend to lay a formal complaint about the way they were treated; hence the O.H.A. will not take any official notice of the matter, and thus Goderich will not be raised out of the association next season.

HOUSE OF REFUGE

Locality May be Changed on Account of Mistake About the Soil.

The question of the locality chosen at Lakefield, for the house of refuge will be re-opened, as County Councillor Moloney has asked the warden to do so. It seems that a misconception was entertained as to quality of the soil of the Preston farm. Mr. Moloney states that as the examination of this property being made in the winter, whilst the ground was frozen and covered with snow, he was misinformed as to the kind of soil on the spot chosen for the poor house. Mr. Moloney does not intimate that any intentional wrong was done, but wants an investigation made before the work is proceeded with.

A Valuable Agent.

The glycerine employed in Dr. Pierce's medicines greatly enhances the medicinal properties which it extracts and holds in solution much better than alcohol would. It also possesses medicinal properties of its own, being a valuable demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and antiferment. It adds greatly to the efficacy of the Black Cherrybark, Golden Seal root, Stone root and Queen's root, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery" in subduing chronic, or lingering coughs, bronchial, throat and lung affections, for all of which these agents are recommended by standard medical authorities.

In all cases where there is a wasting away of flesh, loss of appetite, with weak stomach, as in the early stages of consumption, there can be no doubt that glycerine acts as a valuable nutritive and adds the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Queen's root and Black Cherrybark in promoting digestion and building up the flesh and strength, controlling the cough and bringing about a healthy condition of the whole system. Of course, it must not be expected to work miracles. It will not cure consumption except in its earlier stages. It will cure very severe, obstinate, chronic coughs, bronchial and laryngeal troubles, and chronic sore throat with hoarseness. In acute coughs it is not so effective. It is in the lingering coughs, or those of long standing, even when accompanied by bleeding from lungs, that it has performed its most marvelous cures. Send for and read the little book of extracts, treating of the properties and uses of the several medicinal roots that enter into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and learn why this medicine has such a wide range of application in the cure of diseases. It is sent free. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. The "Discovery" contains no alcohol or harmful, habit-forming drug. Ingredients all printed on each bottle wrapper in plain English.

Sick people, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of customs and mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to all the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Bowling Alley Nearly Ready.

Yesterday the beds of Mr. J. T. Smyth's bowling alley, Water street, were placed in position, below his fine new billiard room. Mr. Reid of Reid Bros., Toronto, who are putting in Mr. Smyths' splendid bowling alley will arrive in the city today to complete the job. Mr. Smyth expects to have the two beds ready for use on Monday. This will be a good place for people to spend their evenings in enjoyable sport, at the same time, getting exercise and health. This will be one of the best bowling alleys in Ontario, when completed.

Where Was Moses Etc.?

Was the question asked last night in several places throughout the city. One of those unavoidable and seemingly unpreventable accidents that occasionally happen to all kinds and classes of machinery, chose as its victim yesterday evening, the Otonabee Light and Power Co. For several hours many users of the lights, so ably supplied by this company, had to call into requisition, all kinds of artificial lights from a tallow candle. It seems that a break had occurred in their machinery; however by eight o'clock the lights on their system were lighted as lightly and merrily as ever.

Federal Life Assurance Company of Canada

The twenty-fourth annual meeting of the shareholders was held at the head office of the company yesterday, Mr. David Dexter, president, in the chair, Mr. W. H. Davis, acting secretary, when the following report was submitted

DIRECTORS' REPORT.

Your directors have the honor to present the report and financial statement of the company for the year which closed on Dec. 31, 1905, duly vouched for by the auditors.

The new business of the year consisted of two thousand four hundred and fifteen applications for insurance aggregating $3,632,579, of which two thousand three hundred and twenty-eight applications for $3,529,537.66 were accepted.

As in previous years, the income of the company shows a gratifying increase, and the assets of the company have been increased by $575,140.56, and have now reached $2,423,913.93, exclusive of guarantee capital.

The security for policyholders, including guarantee capital, amounted at the close of the year to $3,293,913.93, and the liabilities for reserves and all outstanding claims, $2,123,698.78, showing a surplus of $1,000,215.15. Exclusive of uncalled guarantee capital, the surplus to policyholders was $210,-215.28.

Policies on seventy-eight lives became claims through death, to the amount of $156,836.00, of which $8,911 was reinsured in other companies.

Including cash dividends and dividends applied to the reduction of premiums, with annuities, the total payment to policyholders amounted to $25,-245.15.

Careful attention has been given to the investments of the company's funds in first-class bonds, mortgage securities, and loans on the company's policies amply secured by reserves. Our investments have yielded a very satisfactory rate of interest.

Expenses have been confined to a reasonable limit, consistent with due efforts for new business.

The results of the year indicate a most gratifying progress. Compared with the preceding year, the figures submitted by the Directors for your approval show an advance of nearly thirteen per cent. in assets.

The assurances carried by the company now amount to $17,394,196.11, upon which the company holds reserves to the full amount required by law, and in addition thereto, a considerable surplus.

The field officers and agents of the company are intelligent and loyal, and are entitled to much credit for their able representation of the company's interests. The members of the office staff have also proved faithful to the company's service.

Your directors are pleased to be able to state that the business of the company for the past two months of the current year have been better than in the corresponding months of last year, and that the outlook for the future is most encouraging.

DAVID DEXTER, President and Managing Director.

| Total insurance in force | $17,394,196 11 | |

Mr. David Dexter, President and Managing Director, in moving the adoption of the report, said: "I beg leave to submit for your consideration and adoption the Report of the Company for the year ending 31st December, 1905. In doing so I am pleased to say that it is the most satisfactory your Directors have had the privilege of placing before you. As compared with the preceding year, it shows a gain of seven per cent. in premium income, thirteen per cent. in interest earned, twelve per cent. in total income, ten per cent. ($519,033) in amount of new assurances placed, seven per cent. in amount of assurances in force, twelve per cent. in assets, fourteen per cent. in reserves held to provide for the payment of policy contracts now in force, and forty-three per cent. in the surplus over all liabilities.

The profits paid to policyholders also show an increase of sixteen per cent. and the payments made to policyholders eighteen per cent. in excess of the previous year.

The reserves now held to meet assurance obligations as they mature are in excess of the present requirements of the Insurance Act, additions being made from year to year to meet the higher standard of reserves on assurances written prior to the year 1900, which the Act requires that we shall hold at the expiration of a term of years. All policies of assurance written since the year 1899 and many previous thereto are secured by reserves on a 3½-2 per cent. and 3 per cent. basis.

The profits to policyholders have been maintained in so far as it is possible to do in the face of the inroads thereon from various sources which may be summarized as follows: "The increased cost of new business owing to methods adopted by competitors, particularly some of the American companies; the fees and taxes charged and levied by provincial governments; the greater privileges and advantages granted to the policyholder under the modern policy contract.

I would here remark in explanation of the last item that these additional privileges and benefits are increased privileges of travel, residence, occupation and continuance of policy, the same becoming nonforfeitable after three years until the reserve thereon is exhausted in payment of premiums. It will be readily understood that some of the causes which I have mentioned have tended to increase the cost of assurance and others to impair the sources from which profits formerly accrued.

The shareholders who provided the paid-up and additional guarantee capital for security to policyholders when such a provision was necessary have in no way encroached upon the profits to policyholders, but have had much less in return for their cash investments than the average rate of interest earned by the company on investments.

Your directors have always endeavored to the best of their ability to select safe as well as profitable investments for the funds entrusted to their care and the securities held will bear the most rigid inspection.

Your directors decided to erect a first-class office building on the very desirable site owned by the company and situated on the northwest corner of James and Main streets, to meet the company's requirements. Competitive plans were obtained for a steel frame fire proof building of eight stories. Tenders were received and a contract let for the construction of such a building to be completed in August next. We are confident that the building will prove to be a satisfactory investment, affording a reasonable return in office rentals as well as desirable offices for the headquarters of the company.

Lieut.-Col. Kerns seconded the motion, which was unanimously carried. The retiring directors were re-elected, and at a subsequent meeting of the directors, Mr. David Dexter was re-elected president and managing-director; Lieut.-Col. Kerns and Rev. Dr. Potts were re-elected vice-presidents.

Window of Porter's Market Broken

One accident resulting from Wednesday night's great demonstration, was the breaking of a window in Mr. M. W. Porter's meat market on George street. It seems that some enthusiastic reveller, carried away by his excitement over the return of our conquering hockey team, threw a stone, or other missile and broke a large plate glass window. The cracked window will shortly be replaced by a new one. Whilst it is most to all should have a good time it is hard on the meat man's pocket.

BLASPHEMY AND FRAUD THEIR STOCK-IN-TRADE

Woman Poses as the Virgin Mary and Her Companion as St. Paul.

(Special Cable.)

St. Petersburg, March 10.—A case of blasphemy and fraud has occurred here, and the curtain will be raised on it in the police courts during the next few days. The culprits are a good-looking girl named Smirnova and a man named Shemantoff, both of the peasant class. They will be charged with imposition, fraud, blasphemy and on other counts. Smirnova for posing as the Virgin Mary and her accomplice for passing himself off as the Apostle Paul.

Smirnova and her accomplice took up their quarters in an apartment, which they fitted out with ikons and religious emblems. Extraordinary tales of the supernatural powers of the pair were sedulously circulated by assistants among the superstitious peasantry. Before long the imposters were drawing considerable numbers of religious devotees to their shrine.

With success assured the man and the girl set to work to turn their "mission" to commercial accounts. They published imposing proclamations enjoining the necessity of disposing of all earthly possessions as a sine qua non for eternal salvation.

Such devotees as displayed more religious fervor than abnegation of their belongings were finally brought to succumb to one or other of Smirnova's seductive blandishments. The hardest cases were coerced by favored admittance into Smirnova's "inner temple ring," to whose seances only a limited number of devotees were allowed access.

GERMAN FORECASTS WAR.

Says Hostilities Against England Would Involve Attack on France.

(Special Cable.)

Berlin, March 10.—Major von Brushausen, a well known military writer, has published a book dealing with the "coming war" between Germany and Great Britain.

He argues that England is perfectly justified in wishing to make war on Germany. But the first shot against Germany will mean German mobilization against France.

The major also foresees that Germany would occupy Denmark, Amsterdam, Rotterdam and Brest, and, with Russia and Turkey, invade and conquer India and Egypt.

ABSOLUTION ORDER OF DAY IN HUNGARY

New Regime Resented by People Who Will Refuse to Pay All Taxes.

(Special Cable.)

Budapest, March 10.—Government by absolutism is the order of the day in Hungary.

The Emperor Francis Joseph having definitely rejected the proposals of the majority, the Government, under Baron Fejervary, representing Austrian ideas, will act independently of Parliament.

At present the resistance will take a more or less passive form. Hungarians will refuse to pay taxes, and the county authorities will decline to call up recruits for the army.

That will probably force the Government to take drastic measures to insure the administration of the law. Already Baron Fejervary has issued a notice calling upon the people to maintain an attitude of loyal calm, and threatening to proceed against the originators of any disturbance with the utmost severity. Serious trouble is anticipated if the Government carries out its threat.

The political governors of the counties appointed by the Government are finding themselves in a very unpleasant situation.

They and their officers are subject to an absolute boycott and in the smaller towns and even lodging and board are given to them. Their offices are guarded day and night by the gendarmes.

They are escorted along the streets by police, but this does not protect them from insult. Arrests are frequently made, but the offenders are invariably acquitted by the Hungarian tribunals. Events are at present drifting rapidly toward revolution.

DOG AS DETECTIVE.

May Lead to Solution of Mystery of Child's Murder.

(Special Cable.)

Brussels, March 10.—Sheep dogs have been brought in to aid the police in the search for the murderer of a little girl whose mutilated body was recently discovered here.

One of the animals to-day was shown the child's blood-stained dress, and went at full speed to the place where the body was found. From there the dog followed scent to a house close by, where it stopped. Told to go on the animal set off in an opposite direction, and stopped before two houses in the Rue du Pelican.

The police will search all these houses to-morrow.

Is Provided With Swivel Gun Which Can Fire 600 Shots Per Minute.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 10.—Successful experiments were made in the streets of Paris to-day with one of the seven new bullet proof and shell-proof motor cars which are being built for the Russian Government.

M. Etienne, the War Minister, rode in the car, which attained a speed of twenty-eight miles an hour on level ground, and ascended gradients as steep as one in four.

The car weighs three tons, and is of 30 horse-power. It is provided with a small quick-firing swivel gun, which can fire 600 shots a minute in any direction.

France also is providing herself with a complete corps of these armored motor cars.

The car carries a folding steel bridge, which can be quickly placed across ditches. With the help of this the car showed that it could go across country.

LEPROSY IN LONDON.

London, March 10.—The second death from acute leprosy in London within three weeks occurred last night. The victim was William O'Toole, a well-known cameo cutter and heraldic artist. He was attacked two years ago by a malady which afterward developed into leprosy.

MEGAPHONE USED IN KING'S FUNERAL RITES

Strange Ceremonies Observed at the Cremation of Cambodia's Ducky Sayerelan.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 10.

A picturesque accocunt of the funeral ceremonial over the late King Norodom of Cambodia, at Pnom Pen, the capital of Cambodia, has been received by mail.

The body, inclosed in a large wooden urn, was paraded through the capital, surrounded by an escort of 5,000 Cambodian warriors, and military bodies were accorded by the French troops.

Meantime the new King, Sisowate, and all his priests remained flat on their faces three hours before the immense funeral pyre which had been prepared.

After the procession the urn was placed on the pyre, and Sisowate set fire to several pans of perfumed alcohol placed round the urn. Fagots of sandalwood had been supplied to all the European and native notables who were present, and with these they fed the flames.

When the urn caught fire King Sisowate began to pray in a loud voice, and the prayer was echoed vigorously by the priests, the women of the palace and the mandarins. The official mourners gave voice to a long drawn wail, which was uttered through large megaphones.

The pyre burned for twenty-four hours.

ROBBED OF HIS BRIDE ON WEDDING MORNING

Sister of Woman About to Get Married Abducts Her From Church.

(Special Cable).

Sydney, March 9.—An extraordinary scene occurred yesterday at St. Mary's Church, North Melbourne, in connection with a wedding for which all arrangements had been made.

The bride was a young woman of twenty-two and the bridegroom a state school teacher. Strong objections to the marriage were made by the relatives of the bride, but eventually it was decided that the wedding should take place between six and seven o'clock in the morning. The bridegrooms, anticipating trouble, arranged for the attendance of a policeman. When the wedding party arrived they found to their dismay that the clergyman was engaged in earnest conversation with a sister of the bride.

She met the bride at the church door, and, clinging to her, besought her to reconsider the step that she contemplated. "For heaven's sake, stop!" she cried. The rector called upon the constable to restore order, but matters were made worse by the bridegroom trying to drag his intended wife from the grasp of her sister.

He was unsuccessful, and at length the sister, catching the others unawares, pushed the bride out of the door and bustled her into a waiting cab, which immediately drove away.

The bridegroom was dumbfounded. Raising his hands in an attitude of despair, he cried, "I am ruined!" and fell unconscious on the church steps.

TOWN TERRORIZED BY ARMY OF STRIKERS

Tradesmen Forced to Close Shops and the Military Obliged to Use Arms.

(Special Cable.)

Vienna, March 10. — The shipping strike at Fiume has now become general. A body of workmen 5,000 strong, marched through the town yesterday terrorizing shopkeepers and compelling them to close their establishments.

Several collisions occurred between the military and the strikers. The entire garrison had been called out, and was forced to use bayonets and fire several volleys. The strikers used stones and sticks. A large number of people were arrested.

The manager of the Whitehead torpedo factory has threatened to close the establishment for three months should the employes decide to join in the strike.

Along the Dalmatian coast the effects of the strike are very serious. Provisions are running short in many of the islands, and no mails have been delivered for some days. A number of torpedo craft and two larger vessels have been detached for special service and will carry provisions and letters to as many places as possible.

THIS PEDDLER HONEST.

Finds $6,000 in Old Clock and Returns Notes to Owner.

(Special Cable.)

Vienna, March 10.—A remarkable instance of a finder's honesty is reported from Altenmarkt, in Upper Austria.

Herr Gattinger, a carpenter there, recently inherited a legacy of nearly $5,000 from his brother, and without informing his wife, hid banknotes for the amount in an old eight-day clock that no longer worked. A few days ago, on coming home, he found to his horror that his wife had sold the clock to a peddler.

Yesterday he received the banknotes in a registered but anonymous letter, in which the peddler stated he had found the notes when trying to repair the clock.

LATEST IN TORPEDOS.

Vienna, March 10.—According to the Deutsches Volksblatt, a torpedo-cannon capable of firing torpedoes a distance of 20 miles has been constructed at the Whitehead Torpedo Works in Fiume, and delivered to the Austrian arsenal in Pola.

NORWEGIANS MOB "PEARL OF SAVOY"

Stones Thrown at Dowager Queen of Italy While on Motor Tour.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 9.—Queen Margharita of Italy, in her trip in a motor car in Norway, has been mobbed by rustics, says the Paris Auto.

A slight accident occurred to the car near a village. Villagers soon surrounded it, and insulting comments were passed upon the tourists, one of whom was ill-advised enough to say a Queen was in the car.

"A Queen! She must be Queen of Death, since she rides in a diabolical carriage!" cried a peasant. The car commenced to move, which was the signal for the flinging of stones.

Luckily the forty-horse-power machine was soon set at its best speed, and Queen Margharita was borne out of danger.

BECOMES A BRIDE THEN YIELDS TO KNIFE

Young Couple Wed Before the Woman is Submitted to Surgical Operation.

(Special Cable).

Paris, March 9.—A young couple have just been married here under curious circumstances.

The bride, who belongs to a well known family, was suffering from an internal disease, from which recovery was almost hopeless. As a last resort, a serious operation was decided on, and it was then decided that the young couple should be married before the operation. A special dispensation was obtained from the Pope, and the ceremony was performed in the sick chamber.

An hour afterward the surgeons arrived and proceeded with the operation, which proved a complete success.

POPE WRITES TO KING.

His Holiness Interesting Himself in Conversion of Princess Ena.

(Special Cable.)

Rome, March 10.—The Pope, who is personally interesting himself in the forthcoming wedding of the King of Spain, has given detailed instructions in order to facilitate the arrangements for the conversion of Princess Ena.

His Holiness has drafted a letter to King Edward expressing his satisfaction at the union of the British and Spanish royal houses.

Incidentally he recalls the cordiality which marked the relations between the Court of St. James and the Vatican during the time of Queen Victoria and Leo XIII.

PREHISTORIC RELIC FOUND

London, March 10—The vertebra joint of ancetinct animal has been unearthed at Great Wakering, Essex. The bone is more than a foot across, and weighs 27 pounds 6 ounces.

5,000 MILES FREE TRAVEL.

London, March 10.—Thomas [illegible], private in the Third Manchester Regiment, was remanded at Crewe yesterday, charged with travelling from London to Crewe without paying his fare, and with deserting his regiment in South Africa. He said he had travelled from Middleburg in South Africa (5,000 miles) without paying a copper.

CONFERENCE OF POWERS IS EAGERLY WATCHED

Hostility of Germany to Anglo-French Agreement Respecting Morocco Responsible for Present State of Affairs

The meeting of international representatives at Algeciras, in Spain, which is known commonly as the Morocco conference, is being watched by diplomatists with the closest interest.

This, coupled with the fact that a fiasco may mean war between Germany and France, justifies a resume of the circumstances which led up to the conference.

But for the sudden incursion of Germany on the horizon of Moroccan politics, the conference would not be sitting. In 1880 there came about a Madrid convention, to which Germany was a signatory, which defined certain rights of foreign powers in Morocco.

GERMANY HOLDS ALOOF.

During the two decades which followed the completion of this convention it became apparent that the Powers directly and specially concerned in the establishment of good order in the Sultan's kingdom were Great Britain and France—Great Britain for two reasons: first, having regard to the importance of her trade with the country, which forms one-third of the aggregate; secondly, with a view to her strategical position in the Mediterranean; and France, having regard to the importance of her North African colonies. The Anglo-French agreement of 1904 settled the Moroccan question between the two powers, France being conceded the right of sole action in Morocco.

The country still remaining in a disturbed condition, the French Minister submitted to the Sultan certain measures of reform, in the execution of which the French government tendered its assistance. Prominent among these reforms were the reorganization of the Sultan's army and police, and the establishment of the State's finances on a sounder footing. The negotiations as to these proposals were proceeding, when the German Emperor made it known to the Sultan that Germany had not been consulted as to the Anglo-French agreement, and was disposed to support him in his resistance to the French reforms.

THE KAISER RAISES ROW.

On March 31st, 1905, the Kaiser visited Tangier and made the memorable speech in which he said that the independence of Morocco should not be threatened, and, virtually, that Germany should have a voice in any reforms made in the country.

At the instigation of the Kaiser, the Sultan of Morocco rejected the scheme of reforms submitted by France and asked for a conference of the Powers. In this he was backed by Germany, and to avoid war, France agreed to it on the following conditions:

"The Sultan's Sovereignity and independence.

"The integrity of his empire.

"Economic freedom without any inequalities.

"The utility of police and financial reforms, the introduction of which should be regulated for a short period by international agreement.

"The recognition of France's position in regard to Morocco, created by the contiguity, over a great extent of territory, of Algeria, of the Shereerfian Empire, as well as by the exceptional relations thereby existing between the adjoining countries and by France's consequent interest in the preservation of order in Morocco.

FRANCE'S CLAIMS.

France's attitude, is that, by "International agreement" at the conference, the responsibility of policing all Morocco, as well as the frontier, should be placed upon her, and she will support this demand by the special character of her claims.

Two of these claims are that she is the only country which has relations with Morocco formally ceased by treaties, and that she is the only Power which has a striking force at hand whenever the necessity for coercion should arise.

France asks that the question should be settled once for all. "Bind us down to restrictions which safeguard the interests of other Powers," she says in effect. "but let us supply the remedies for which we are specially equipped and for which we have special rights."

Germany objects to this view, and, broadly, holds that the reforms in the police of Morocco should be the joint work of the Powers.

PUPILS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS.

Defective Stove in School Well-Nigh Caused Many Deaths.

(Special Cable.)

Geneva, March 10.—A terrible catastrophy was narrowly averted in the village school of Satigny, near Geneva, yesterday.

The schoolmaster and between forty and fifty pupils were discovered in an unconscious condition, and the classroom was speedily transformed into a hospital.

Investigation showed that they had been poisoned by the fumes from a defective stove. A doctor states that in ten minutes they would have been dead.

Many of the children are still in a serious condition.

DOCTORS ON STRIKE RISES DEATH RATE

Chemists' and Druggists' Assistants Refuse to Fill Prescriptions Until Better Paid.

(Special Cable.)

Vienna, March 10.—The strike of the parish doctors in lower Austria has been followed by an alarming outbreak of scarlet fever and measles.

Inasmuch as the doctors refuse to do more than report the new cases to the government, the death rate has been very high and is rapidly growing.

The parish doctors declare that the fee of twopence allowed by the government for each case of infectious disease is insufficient. A detailed diagnosis has to be made to the authorities in each case, and the doctors declare that they are frequently out of pocket in consequence.

They firmly refuse to treat any cases until better pay is promised. The government threatens them with dismissal, but private doctors have promised to decline to take their places if called upon by the authorities.

Inspired by the doctors' strike, the chemists' and druggists' assistants at Abbazia are refusing to fill prescriptions unless given better pay.

WOMAN SWEEPS STAKES OFF THE GAMBLING TABLE

Frequenters of the Casino at Monte Carlo Treated to Amusing Scene.

(Special Cable.)

Monte Carlo, March 9.—An amusing incident happened in the Casino yesterday, owing to a claim made by a woman player which was disputed by the official in charge of the table.

The woman repeated her demand several times, and, failing to convince the official, she rose from her seat, caught up one of the croupier's rakes and swept everything within reach off the table. Notes, louis, pinques, five-franc pieces, all were scattered over the floor.

It says a great deal for the good faith prevailing at Monte Carlo that there was not the least dispute as to the ownership of the fallen pieces, which were picked up and restored.

The woman's novel and energetic method of enforcing her claim merely caused a great deal of amusing discussion among the attending and players. The croupier left the rooms immediately and has not been seen at the tables since.

BALLROOM BATTLE SEE MANY WOUNDED

(Special Cable.)

Vienna, March 10. — A serious fight with swords occurred during a ball at Lemberg last night, when many students were wounded.

The carnival was being celebrated in Austrian Poland under difficulties, owing to the Polish patriotic societies having passed resolutions against the holding of the usual balls, as a sign of mourning for the massacres in Warsaw and elsewhere. Several dances which have been held in Lemberg in spite of this have been forcibly broken up by students.

Last night, while a ball of the state servants was being given, a large number of students forced their way into the hall and summoned the dancers to disperse.

Unfortunately, among the latter were many prison warders and other officials, who wear swords with their uniforms.

Finally the intruders were driven off the premises. The girls bound up the wounded with their handkerchiefs until the ambulance and the police arrived.

A large number of arrests were made, and, of course, there was no more dancing.

ALFONSO TO VISIT CANARIES.

First Monarch to Land Since Conquest 400 Years Ago.

(Special Cable.)

Madrid, March 10.—A member of the Spanish royal household has arrived here to make arrangements for the approaching tour of King Alfonso, who will be the first monarch to visit the Canaries since their conquest over 400 years ago.

It has not yet been decided whether His Majesty will stay with the Captain General in the Plaza Weyler or if one of the large hotels will be taken over for the period of the visit.

In the latter case either the Hotel Pino de Oro, the Britannique or the Quisisana will accommodate the royal suite. While in Grand Canary the Santa Brigada, a veritable art treasure house in the hills at Monte, is to be visited.

COUNTESS ROBBED BY BOGUS BARONESS

Rents and Occupies Her Flat and Appropriates Rich Jewels and Furs.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 10.

A countess, living in the Boulevard St. Germain here, arranged with a house agency some time ago to sublet her sumptuous flat during the winter. A few days later a woman, described as the Baroness de Meseray, called and agreed to take the flat. As a result the Baroness moved into the flat and the Countess left for the Riviera.

Yesterday she returned to Paris, and was surprised to find that jewels and furs to the value of $2,000 had disappeared. On hearing of the discovery the Baroness evinced keen surprise, and the two women went and informed the police.

A few discreet inquiries led to the discovery that the real name of the pretended Baroness was Louise Boujon, a woman whose past was not quite blameless. Her boxes were opened in her absence, with the result that several pawnticketa were found. Louise Boujon was thereupon arrested, and has now confessed that she herself was the thief.

SIX MONTHS FOR LION TAMER.

Foolish Act of a Peasant Led to Slaying of Girl.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 10.—Montargs, the lion tamer, in whose menagerie at L'Orient a little girl was killed ten days ago, has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for manslaughter.

The tragedy was really caused by the foolish act of a peasant, who poked the lion with an umbrella at the moment the child entered the cage to begin her dance.

FIRE BRIGADE'S IDLE YEAR.

London, March 10.—Responding to a toast at a Sussex fire brigade dinner, Captain Wood reported that his brigade had not had much practice at fires during the year. He did not wish any one harm, but he thought a fire or two would relieve the [illegible] a bit.

CHILD VIOLINIST CHEERED.

London, March 10. — Little Vivien Chartres, the English girl violinist of 11, appeared at the smoking concert last night given by the Royal Amateur Orchestral Society in the Queen's Hall. She was cheered heartily.

THE SESSION.

Parliament was opened on Thursday, and is what, in the ordinary course of events, may be called a non-contentious session. It is mid-way between the two general elections, one of which began and the other of which will end it. In the days of Sir John Macdonald, the vigorous Opposition which confronted him, generally took a rest in these middle sessions. Any great fight put up in them was apt to be lost to the public memory before polling came round.

This, however, can only be accomplished in case the Government does not attempt to rush contentious measures at this time. It is the duty of an Opposition to fight bad measures, no matter when they are proposed. It is only what may be termed the "formalities" of the party struggle which may be allowed to lapse in these half-way sessions.

Still there are some questions of importance to the country which are bound to come up this year. The "indemnity grab" cannot escape review; and every member will have to put himself definitely on record with regard to it, now that it is common knowledge that the tax-payers are against it with practical unanimity. The debate which will be raised on this issue will be one of the most closely listened to of the session; and many a man will make or mar his future during its course.

Then there is to be an anti-usury law. This, again, is a measure in which the people rather than the partisans will be interested. It is to be hoped that Parliament will join unanimously in passing an act against usury which will be as strong as is likely to be effective. Any legitimate interests or transactions which fear that a formal definition of usury might include them, can surely obtain ample protection without fighting in defence of the professional usurer who feeds on the necessities and the ignorance of the poor. We should see no alliance between respectable financial institutions and the usurers; and we should see the existing alliance between the law and the usurer dissolved forever.

Any revision of the rules of the House which may be undertaken should be very carefully considered so as not to work against the effectiveness of the independent member. We want no cases from rule of the majority as obtains at Washington. Our House should move rather toward the real debating of Westminster than toward the wooden exchange of party harangues at the American capital. The Speaker is a splendid institution as a presiding officer; but it is doubtful whether we should like him as well as a tyrant. There is in such a House as ours no real necessity for the closure. If the members will cease to waste time as they do in utilizing the staff of thousand reporters for the preparation of campaign literature, they will get through within reasonable limits.

The fact that this is to be practically a "summer session" may induce the members to try the experiment of addressing Parliament in their debates. The air will not be very good in the Chamber and it will be very tempting outside; so they may "cut out" their tedious succession of formal readings from blue books and even bluer scrap books which they mistakenly call "full dress debates." A "full dress debate" at Westminster is an affair of an evening and not of a month.

Attempted Horse Deal Fraud.

Yesterday morning, a young man with more enterprise than honesty or good judgment attempted to swindle local citizens in a horse deal. The man, after hiring a horse from Mr. Bruce Lee's, Charlotte St. barns, drove to the Little Windsor hotel, and tried to sell the outfit, but the unwise victim identified the horse and, at once telephoned the barns, where the horse belonged. The owner went up himself, and as soon as the culprit saw him coming, left the horse and rig, and hied himself for the tall timbers. Mr. Lee does not know his name, but could spot him on sight.

A Rate of 17 1-2 Mills on the Dollar

Is What Finance Minister Ald. Mason Has Provided For--Let Coming Generations Pay Their Share of Permanent Improvements.

The city fathers met jointly with the Board of Health last night to consider the question of an isolation hospital, the local hospitals having by advice of the Inspector of Hospitals refused to accept cases of infectious and contagious diseases, in order to save their Government grants.

There were present; For the Board of Health, Chairman Wm. Eyres, Geo. Schneider, A. Parker, and Dr. Bingham. Dr. McNulty was also present. For the City Council, Mayor Best, Aldermen Johnston, Ball, McIntyre, Hicks, Elliott and Mason.

Dr. Bingham pointed out that it is absolutely necessary to have some sort of isolation hospital where patients suffering from contagious and infectious diseases may be taken care of, now that the hospitals are refusing such cases. Take for instance, the other week, when a man was brought to the city shortly after midnight, suffering from diphtheria, and had to stay in a shed till daybreak before he could be removed to his home 10 miles in the country. Such an experience endangered the patient's life.

Ald. Johnston suggested that the large building on the old Hilliard property, now belonging to the corporation, might be utilized for isolation purposes until such time as permanent arrangements could be entered into by the corporation.

Ald. Elliott thought the County of Peterboro should be charged up for outside patients brought into the city.

This view was endorsed by all present.

A communication from Hon. Mr. Hanna, Provincial Secretary, read that Dr. Bingham's notification of the conditions existing in Peterboro by reason of the hospitals refusing patients suffering from contagious and infectious diseases, was somewhat of a surprise to him, and he would look into the matter.

Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott, that the deputation going to Toronto, in the interest of the city's bill, interview the Provincial Secretary concerning this live matter, which materially affects the public health of the city.—Carried.

Dr. McNulty advised the meeting that in England, it had been almost unanimously agreed that isolation hospitals had failed in the object for which they were established. During the last 25 years, in districts where isolation hospitals had been established, cases of infectious diseases are very prevalent each year, and the mortality rates are greater than before. That is the result of what is called "return cases," a large percentage of patients sent home, carrying germs of the disease with them from the hospital. But on the contrary in 75 per cent. of cases treated at home only one in the household was infected, showing it is easy to take care of such cases, without danger to the family. The germs of scarlet fever, he said, has never been discovered, but those of diphtheria can be controlled and counteracted by antitoxine.

$40 TO PEDDLE FISH.

Mr. Richardson thought $40 too high a license fee for the privilege of peddling fish, and asked that a rebate be allowed him.

On motion of Ald. Hicks, seconded by Ald. Elliott, this question was referred to the Finance Committee to report on Monday night. It was generally conceded that $40 was rather a high license fee to charge a resident of the city for the right to peddle fish, and most likely, Mr. Richardson will be granted easier terms.

THE RIGHT OF WAY.

The Board of Trade notified the Council that they had appointed President D. Hughes-Chapies, the lawyer and R. B. Hall, M.P., a committee to arrange for framing a memorial to the Minister of Railways re Canals re "Early completition of the Trent Valley Canal," and the selection of speakers.

Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald. Ball,—That the question of a deputation to Ottawa re "Completion of the Trent Valley Canal," had been in the hands of the chairman of the city's Finance Committee, whose arrangements the Council could not see their way clear to interfere with.—Carried unanimously.

THE RATE 17 1-2 MILLS.

Finance Minister Ald. Mason, submitted his estimates for 1902, which provided for a rate of 17 1-2 mills on the dollar, one half mill less than last year. These estimates had been carefully arrived at, and in a business-like manner, and Ald. Mason guaranteed that they would be found sufficient for all contingencies.

His Worship and Ald. Hicks objected to the rate being lowered.

The Mayor contended that now times are good, it would be economic to keep up the assessment in the interest of the laboring classes, and strike a lower rate when labor conditions degenerate from the present high standing. Any surplus that might accrue would be applied to local improvements.

Ald. Mason argued that the increased assessment and rate of last year effected mainly the middle and working classes. Large industries enjoying a fixed assessment, do not feel an increased rate, one-third as much as small property owners. He had provided for a reduction in the rate, in the interest of the working man, and was going to urge its adoption, for all he is worth. He did not approve of making the present generation pay the whole cost of permanent improvements to be enjoyed by generations to come. As to the city's debenture indebtedness, Ald. Mason submitted the following statement for comparison:

The above means that Ald. Mason has fixed the rate at 17 1-2 mills on the dollar, one-half mill less than last year, and the Council will be asked to endorse his action on Monday night.

STREET WATERING RATE.

Ald. Hicks, chairman Board of Works submitted the following estimate for street wattering, which is assessed by a frontage tax. He estimated the assessable property at $4,043,433, the contract price for street watering in 1905, was $2,021.71, on which basis half a mill would need to be taxed on assessable property for this work. He moved that a bylaw to provide for this be prepared for Monday night's meeting.

The committee then adjourned.

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP-- RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

"The World of Medicine Recognizes Grip as Epidemic Catarrh"—Medical Talk.

A Southern Judge Cured.

Judge Horatio J. Goss, Hartwell, Ga., writes:

"Some five or six years ago I had a very severe spell of grip which left me with systemic catarrh.

"A friend advised me to try your Peruna, which I did, and was immediately benefited and cured. The third bottle completed the cure."—H. J. Goss.

Cured in a Few Weeks.

"During the past winter of 1901, I suffered for several weeks from a severe attack of grip, which left a serious catarrhal condition of the throat and head.

"Some one suggested Peruna. As a last resort, after wasting much time and money on physicians, I tried the remedy faithfully, and in a few weeks was as well as ever."—Jean Cowgill.

Grip Resulted in Catarrh.

Miss Alice Bielke, Treasurer Young Women's Society of the Lutheran Church, Menasha, Wis., writes:

"I gratefully acknowledge the good that Peruna did me after I had been sick with la grippe which left me in a very weak and emaciated condition, with catarrhal trouble of the head and ears.

"My mother suggested that I take it to build up my strength and rid myself of the troublesome catarrh, and it acted with wonderful speed.

"I was able to resume my work inside of two months and I am in splendid health now."—Alice Bielke.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results,—it cures.

LaGrippe Is Epidemic Catarrh.

It spares no class or nationality. The cultured and the ignorant, the aristocrat and the pauper, the masses and the classes are alike subject to la grippe. None are exempt—all are liable.

Grip is well named. The original French term, la grippe, has been shortened by the busy American to read 'grip."

Without intending to do so, a new word has been coined that exactly describes the case. As if some hideous giant with awful grip had clutched us in its fatal clasp.

Have you the grip? Or, rather, has the grip got you? If so, read the following letters.

These testimonials speak for themselves as to the efficacy of Peruna in cases of la grippe or its after-effects:

Saved by Pe-ru-na.

Hon. James R. Guill is one of the oldest and most esteemed men of Omaha, Neb. He has done much to make it what it is, serving on public boards a number of times. He endorses Peruna in the following words:

"I am 68 years old, am hale and hearty and Peruna has helped me attain it. Two years ago I had la grippe—my life was despaired of. Peruna saved me."—J. R. Guill.

A Relative of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Silas S. Lincoln, who resides at 913 I street, N. W., Washington, D. C., has the honor of being third cousin to Abraham Lincoln. He writes:

"I had la grippe five times before using your medicine. Four years ago I began the use of Peruna, since which time I have not been troubled with that disease.

"I can now do as much work at my desk as I ever could in my life. I have gained more than ten pounds in weight."—S. S. Lincoln.

Pe-ru-na Not Only Cured La Grippe but Benefited the Whole System.

Miss Alice M. Dressler, 1813 N. Bryant Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"Last spring I suffered from la grippe and was partially cured, but the bad after-effects remained through the summer and somehow I did not get strong as I was before.

"One of my college friends who was visiting me asked me try Peruna and I did so and found it all and more than I had expected.

"It not only cured me of the catarrh but restored me to perfect health, and built up the entire system."—Alice M. Dressler.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as for instance: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tintic mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

It so happened that the principal understood just such natures as Reine's, and the result was Reine stayed at boarding school, coming back to Fairlawn only during the vacations of each year.

And the long yellow days of the present vacation were but just commenced on this bright June morning on which the second part of our story opens.

Reine was not alone as she came down the path leading her pony, a young man was walking beside her, or rather endeavoring to keep pace with the girl's flying footsteps as best he could.

The pretty young face, half hid by the dancing snowy plumes of her hat and the tossing golden curls, was turned from him in vexation and the keenest disappointment; the saucy red lips were quivering grievously.

Suddenly she stopped short in the path and faced her companion, tearing the flowering lilac blooms ruthlessly aside that dared to kiss the glowing roses in her flushed, dimpled cheeks.

Two very blue and angry eyes met the young man's grave, dark ones.

"You simply refuse to go because you have found out that I have set my heart upon going," she declared. "Now what possible reason can you have for objecting to the lawn fete to be held in the grove back of the old ruined Towers? Every one will be there."

Bernard Cheslelgh's dark, grave face flushed a little as he met the angry, defiant glance of the imperious little beauty's flashing blue eyes.

"Your last remark, Miss Reine, is the best answer I can give you as to my objection in going—Every one will be there," he answered, calmly.

"Many, perhaps, whom it would be best for you not to meet or know."

Reine Hastings turned away from him impatiently.

"That is a mere subterfuge," she retorted. "Let me tell you why you do not care to go to the lawn fete. It is because you are too old to enjoy such things. Just that, and nothing else. Yet you should not wish to restrain me from the pleasure of it," she went on, with reckless bitterness. "I could not endure the dull life that suits you so well. I want something different—something brighter."

Bernard Cheslelgh stood quite still in the path. Not a muscle of his calm face betrayed how deeply the girl's words had hurt him. They were a revelation to him—these words spoken in the spur of the momentary anger which laid bare her secret thoughts. Old! Did nine-and-twenty seem so old to this bright, laughing girl of sweet sixteen? The words chilled him to the heart.

"You are unkind and unjust, Miss Reine," returned Bernard haughtily. "I would rather add to your pleasures than diminish them. You ought to know that."

"Then let me persuade you to think better of it and consent to take me," coaxed Reine, giving him an irresistible smile and a pleading glance. "You know I cannot go alone. I am sure the gathering will be very select."

He shook his head resolutely.

"I know of one who will be there, whom I would not care to have a sister of mine, if I had one, to be brought in contact socially with; for that reason I declined taking you."

"Who is the person?" demanded Reine, curiously.

"He is a stranger here. I met him once, some time since," replied Bernard Cheslelgh, a sudden fire at some old recollection aroused creeping into his dark eyes.

"Thank you for the very lucid explanation," said Reine, ironically. "I know a great deal more about him now than I did before."

"The less you know of him the better," said Bernard, gravely.

Again the blue eyes flashed resentfully.

"What a cross uncivil bear he is," thought the girl angrily; and, disdaining his proffered assistance, she placed her tiny foot on the block unaided, and was seated in the saddle and off like the wind, in a single instant.

Bernard Cheslelgh gazed after her in alarm. Was the girl mad to give the animal free rein to dash headlong down the road like that?

With a sigh he turned and walked slowly back to the house.

When Reine was quite out of sight of Fairlawn Villa, and the tall figure that she knew was watching gravely after her, she slackened her mad pace.

"To think that I must stay away from the lawn fete for such a silly reason as that—some stranger will be there whom Bernard Cheslelgh don't like! It's perfectly absurd!" then, girl-like, her thoughts turned directly into the channel Bernard might have foreseen that they would drift into, had he been wise.

"I wonder who the stranger is," she thought, curiously; "and why I ought not to know him. I should think any one whom Gertie Traverse invites to her fete must be very nice indeed. I do not believe he is such an ogre as Bernard Cheslelgh would have him appear.—I will go to the——"

Her thoughts were brought to a sudden terminus; the sky and earth seemed to clash together with one mighty swirl. Reine felt herself dashing headlong through space—then chaotic darkness reigned.

When Reine opened her eyes she found herself lying upon the green sward; some one was pouring cold water upon her face, laving her face with cooling water. She opened her blue eyes in bewildered surprise, meeting the glance of a young man, a stranger; quite the handsomest young man Reine had ever beheld, standing bareheaded before her.

"You fell from your horse," he said, in answer to her look of bewildered surprise. "I must confess that I was the cause of the accident. I stepped out from among the trees just as your horse turned a bend in the road. You did not see me—you were looking in just the opposite direction. Your horse took umbrage at the sudden apparition, reared, and threw you. I was fortunate enough to catch you in my arms and save you from an ugly fall, but not fortunate enough to prevent you from fainting. But you are not hurt?" he said inquiringly.

"No," answered Reine, blushing; "thanks to you. But oh!" she exclaimed, with a little sharp breath, "you have ruined your hat bringing water from the brook in it for me."

The young man laughed. "What was the loss of a hat to rendering you the slightest of services!" he answered.

Reine blushed more furiously than ever when he told her so. She sprang to her feet.

"I thank you for the service you have rendered me. I suppose my pony has left me to make my way home on foot the best I can," she said.

"I am pleased to inform you that you are agreeably mistaken," laughed her companion. "After throwing you so mercilessly, the beast galloped a little way, then stopped stock still in the road, looking back to see how much mischief he had accomplished. After attending to you, it was an easy matter to capture him. I could scarcely refrain from administering to him a sound thrashing. There he stands among the grass yonder, tethered to a tree looking this way, the very picture of injured innocence."

"Had you not better remain a few moments longer," he added, "until you are fully recovered from the shock?"

"Perhaps it would be best," said Reine, re-seating herself and leaning against the trunk of a chestnut tree, for, in truth, her head did feel slightly dizzy yet; and again her eyes fell upon the ruined white straw hat, with its ruined, dripping band of blue ribbon, and wandered ruefully back to the fair curling head of its debonair owner. A rosy blush suffused her face as she met his glance.

How handsome he looked in his light summer suit! how brown were his eyes! and how white the aristocratic hands that toyed so negligently with the charm on his watch chain.

"I trust you will permit me to introduce myself; I haven't a card about me; one never does have when they're needed. I never thought of meeting any one in the wilds of Southern Virginia. I am Waldemar Waldron, and I have taken up my abode for the present at Waldron Towers—a rakish old pile of ruins to the right of us. If you live in this vicinity you're probably better acquainted with them than I am."

"I do live near here, that is, when I am home from school, which is only about two months out of the year; but I do not know much of Waldron Towers, although I have always had the desire to explore it."

"Come and sketch, by all means. I, the master of the pile of ruins, give you carte blanche to explore every portion of it, that is, if you are not a timid young lady."

"What is there to fear about the place?" asked Reine, smiling.

His eyes shifted uneasily beneath her glance, and he laughed immediately as he answered:

"The owls and all the uncanny occupants of a ruined manor overgrown abode."

"I am not very easily frightened," said Reine.

"Then I presume I may expect you, portfolio in hand, any bright morning?" he asked questioningly and curiously.

"I am not so sure about that," she answered, thanking him all the same for the kind permission. "There was a stern papa at home, who would be likely to decide what she might or might not accept.

"Am I not to know whom I have had the great pleasure of meeting—so romantically—this cruel shortly?" he asked, with a bow that was certainly charming and wholly irresistible.

"I am Reine Hastings," she answered. "I live at Fairlawn Villa, that white stone house with the porches and pillars around it, on the brow of yonder hill."

"Surely you couldn't be the daughter of General Hastings!—the old millionaire," he was about to add; but he checked the last three words on his lips just in time, substituting the words—"of Fairlawn."

A laugh broke from the girl's red lips, the words sounded so ludicrous to her, as he had expressed them.

"Why couldn't I be his daughter?" said Reine, with a saucy twinkle in her eye, adding in the next breath "That's just who I am—General Hastings' daughter."

Again Waldemar Waldron suppressed the low, incredulous whistle of astonishment that sprang to the lips under the fair mountain.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (except 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry (under the provisions of this Act) resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father (or mother).

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said farm.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before local agent, Sub-Agent or Commissioner.

Before making application for patent the settler must give the necessary notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 per acre for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted on payment of $5 per year. Rights to mine are granted for one year, and may be renewed. Placer mining claims are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 and $5 per annum thereafter. Not more than one claim can be held by the same person. Quartz claims are 1,500 feet long by 1,500 feet wide. Entry fee $10. Not more than one claim can be held by the same person. Every claim must be worked to the value of $100 each year or equivalent must be paid to the Mining Recorder in lieu thereof. Before receiving a grant to mill site, the applicant must have machinery on the claim sufficient to crush ten tons of rock in thirty days. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after the value of 10 per cent has been extracted.

Do You Know That Copper Mining Pays $40,000,000 IN DIVIDENDS ANNUALLY?

Do you realize that mining is one of the world's most profitable industries? Did it ever occur to you that all money and all advantages of civilization are founded almost absolutely upon the products of the mines of the world?

TUSAS PEAK GOLD & COPPER MINING CO.

A corporation engaged in legitimate mining under the direction of reputable business men who give its management able and careful consideration.

260 Acres of Rich Mineral Lands

owned by this company and every part demonstrated by actual mining work

Immense Deposits of Copper Ores

average values higher than those found in any other great copper camps

Values Proven By Developed Mines

with thousands of feet of workings extending to a depth of over 400 feet

Equipped With Substantial Machinery

Complete Modern Ore Reduction Mill is now being built where the ore will be converted direct into, bullion

Annual Profits of $90,000.00 Assured by expert mining engineers based on ores actually blocked out in mines. $60,000.00 has been expended in mine workings which prove these facts.

LIVE ON 25 CENTS A WEEK

Residents of Zion City Called Upon to Save the Community from the Money Lenders.

Chicago, March 9.—Picturing a gloomy financial situation, and recognizing a crisis, Overseer Voliva called upon the residents of Zion City last night for over $250,000 to save the community from the money lenders, and thus to relieve the present pressure and put the industries on a paying basis. As security he promised the people first mortgages on the lace factory and the printing house.

He called upon ministers to give up their salaries, he asked clerks and laborers to work for $8.30 a week, and upbraided the followers of Dr. Dowie for wearing jewelry and gaudy clothes.

"Accept in pay just enough to provide for living expenses," was his urgent request, he himself declaring he was willing to live on 25 cents a week, if possible thus to keep soul and body together.

CAR STRUCK HEARSE

Interruption in a Funeral at the Corner of Beverly and Queen Sts.

Toronto, March 9.—An unfortunate collision of a street car and a hearse occurred yesterday morning at the corner of Beverley and Queen streets. The funeral had come down Beverley street on the way to the Union Station, and was crossing the Queen street cars tracks when a west-bound Dundas car struck the hearse. The motorman apparently tried to stop the car, but the rails were slippery. The two men on the hearse were thrown off, one being injured on the shoulder, the other on the knee, but not seriously. The hearse was not upset, nor was the glass broken, but other damages made it necessary to get another hearse before the funeral could proceed. The car was also somewhat damaged by the accident.

It was wonderful to see, after that announcement, how his indifference gave place to the most intense interest.

"Was it fate that threw the lovely young daughter of the old millionaire in his path?" he asked himself. "I am surprised," he repeated at length, "living so near Waldron Towers, you should know so little of it."

"It is not so strange when you remember that, although Fairlawn is my home, I spend very little time here. I am doomed to remain at Vassar College ten months out of the year; and it scarcely seems a week from the time papa sends Bernard Cheleigh to fetch me home until I am obliged to go back again."

"Bernard Cheleigh!" repeated the young man, a strange gleam firing up his brown eyes. "He is a friend of your family, then?"

"He is my father's law-partner, although papa is almost twice as old as he is," answered Reine. "He generally spends the summer months with us at Fairlawn."

"I see," returned Waldemar Waldron, turning his brilliant eyes keenly upon the girl's fair young face, "there is an especial attraction for him at your home, I can well understand why it should be so."

Reine did not in the least comprehend the drift of what he meant.

"There is a great attraction for him at Fairlawn," assented Reine, serenely. "We have one of the finest law libraries in Virginia there, and Mr. Cheleigh is a veritable book worm. Do you know him?" she asked, suddenly. "Almost everybody does."

"I met him once," returned Waldemar Waldron, carelessly; but there was a bitterness in his voice that did not quite escape Reine's wondering ears. "We are hardly acquaintances, however."

Reine had risen to her feet, picking up her gloves and riding-whip again.

"There is one request I should like to ask of you, Mr.—Mr. Waldron," she said timidly, and with another blush.

"Consider it granted beforehand," he replied gallantly.

"And that is," pursued Reine, "that you will not mention how very wickedly my pony has behaved to me to-day, lest it should get to papa's ears, and he should forbid me to go out unattended."

"Consider your wish my law. I shall not mention it," he replied. And the look which accompanied the words made Reine's girlish heart flutter strangely.

How gracefully he assisted her to alight—placing the gold-mounted whip in her little gauntleted hand—expressing the hope very earnestly the while that they would meet again.

They were destined to meet sooner than either of them knew.

Long after the blue waving riding-habit and dancing plume were out of sight, Waldemar Waldron stood m' tionless where she had left him, leaning against a gnarled chestnut tree.

He knew better than to ever venture to call at Fairlawn—for within those walls dwelt his merciless foe. He turned white to the lips as the grave, stern face of Bernard Cheleigh rose before his mental vision. In the rustling of the leaves about him he could almost fancy that he heard again the scathing rebuke Bernard Cheleigh hurled at him as he pointed with commanding dignity to the door.

He recalled, as he stood there, the answer he had made the young lawyer:

"It is your turn now to triumph over my downfall and disgrace, Cheleigh—but for you I should never have been found out; but the time may come when I can avenge myself. If it ever does—beware!"

"Had that time come now?" Waldemar Waldron asked himself. "Could it be possible that the haughty young lawyer had fallen in love with General Hastings' pretty daughter?" It was not only possible, but very probable. What else could be the attraction at this dull place? Yet it was equally evident that pretty Reine was certainly heart-whole and fancy-free, for all that. He would see for himself how matters stood before he laid any plans for the future. The girl was certainly pretty as a picture—and heiress to a cool million. What a temptation!

Waldron turned on his heel walking slowly down the daisy bordered high road, with a strange smile on his lips—yet the thoughts in his brain were far from pleasant ones.

CHAPTER III.

Reine Hastings was not one to break a refusal, if she had made up her mind on any subject; and she certainly had set her heart upon going to the lawn fete which was to be held in Waldron grove.

At first the general had sternly refused her, but he was not proof against her pretty, coaxing blandishments, and it ended the way she knew it would.

"Cease teasing me," cried the general. "Yes, you can go; but mind, I put in the proviso, if you can get Cheleigh to take you," he added, unwinding the two soft, white arms that had twined themselves around his neck.

"You are a darling papa," cried Reine, giving him a kiss, and in another moment the triumphant young beauty had sought Bernard Cheleigh in the library; she knew she would find him there, buried deep in the mysterious pages of some law book.

A low, silvery, triumphant laugh, that fell upon the summer air like the chiming of a bell, startled him. Reine was standing before him; her face was flushed with excitement.

"I am to go after all, Mr. Cheleigh," she said, "and if you do not accompany me, I suppose I shall have to set out alone. If you really do not wish to go, I can accompany Gertie Traverse and her escort," she added, tossing back her golden curls impatiently.

Bernard Cheleigh laid down his book.

"What if I should tell you that I have changed my mind—that I so wish to go! I did object slightly at first, but now I yield, and shall be most happy to offer my escort," he said, smilingly and wistfully.

"Your honor," answered the prisoner, drawing a grimy coat sleeve across his nose, "if you'll make it embezzlement I'll plead guilty. I may be a thief, but I've got feelings."

"I thought when you once made up your mind you never changed it, Mr. Cheleigh; I must confess I am just a little disappointed," she said, mischievously.

"Circumstances alter cases," he said, flushing slightly. "I want to show you, Miss Reine, that I do enjoy lawn fetes still."

The girl looked at him wonderingly, scarcely crediting her own senses. What! Grave Mr. Cheleigh like dancing, mirth and frivolity? Oh, impossible! It was quite droll to even imagine such a thing, and again an amused laugh fell from her lips.

Reine flew hurriedly out of the library and up to her own room, to don her hat and mantle.

"She shall go," he ruminated. "It would be cruel to deprive her of gayety and pleasure. But no harm shall reach her, for I shall be there to take care of her."

Like the general, against his better judgment, he had given way to Reine's pleadings, and in all his after-life he bitterly reproached himself for it.

By the time Bernard had replaced the book upon the shelf Reine had reappeared. He understood nothing of the details of dress. The effect he saw was something marvellous. To him she was like a delicate, dainty, fairy vision. He saw only her lovely face flushed with excitement, and what seemed to him clouds of lace, snowy white, draped in graceful folds about the slender figure. A pink silk sash was girdled about the small waist, and pink blush roses nestled on her breast and were twined among the fluffy golden curls.

Reine was in gay spirits as they started off. They found a large party assembled. The grove was fairly ringing with merry young voices and peals of laughter, while the scene presented was an animated one. Colored lanterns swung from the branches of the trees; gorgeous tinted bunting, rivalling the hues of the rainbow, fluttered in the breeze. The grove seemed literally packed with lovely young girls and gallant cavaliers.

Reine was warmly welcomed, for she was a general favorite, as was also Bernard Cheleigh.

Twice he had spoken to Reine, but she had not even heard him. She was wondering curiously whether Waldemar Waldron would be present. Surely Gertie Traverse had had the grace to invite him, especially as the lawn fete was to be held in the grove.

Ah!—Reine Hastings' heart gave a quick throb. She had walked to the end of a shady path, and there she saw him, the centre of an admiring

A Weasel Asleep.

"To catch a weasel asleep" is indicative of the extreme vigilance of these animals, who are disturbed and made wide awake by any sound, however slight.

Can't Drink Pure Water.

Arabs in the desert have contracted a strange prejudice against running water, and they will only drink what they find in some stagnant pool. So much has this become matter of habit with them that, while the most poisonous looking water agrees with them admirably, pure running water will make them violently sick.

A Brown Study.

"To be in a brown study" is a corruption of brow study, a study requiring much thought and contraction of the brows.

Clear Air.

The air is clear at Arequipa, Peru. From the observatory at that place, 8,050 feet above the sea, a black spot one inch in diameter placed on a white disk has been seen on Mount Charchani, a distance of eleven miles, through a thirteen inch telescope.

Paper Napkins.

Paper napkins or handkerchiefs, which were introduced into this country from the east, have been in use both in China and Japan for over 700 years.

Still Had a Little Pride.

"What is this man charged with?" asked the police justice.

"Stealing a dog, your honor," said the officer.

"Well, sir, what have you got to say for yourself?"

"Your honor," answered the prisoner, drawing a grimy coat sleeve across his nose, "if you'll make it embezzlement I'll plead guilty. I may be a thief, but I've got feelings."

An Ashantee Belle.

On the Ashanti Gold Coast the costume of a reigning belle is less a matter of well fitting clothes than of well spiked hair. The hair is first divided into a half dozen braids; then these braids are stiffened with wax and tar until they are as hard as kindling wood and stick out straight from the head in a semicircle like the spokes of a wheel. Thus coiffured the belle is ready to conquer all hearts.

The Right of Way.

In the early days of western railway building, days not so long gone by as to be out of memory, there were many exciting races between rival roads for the possession of important mountain passes. Such a race, says the World's Work, was that between the Santa Fe and the Rio Grande roads for the right of way through Raton pass to New Mexico and the southwest.

Engineers and construction gangs worked in mad haste to get to it ahead of their rivals. The victory fell to the chief of the Santa Fe. When the Rio Grande cohorts arrived they found him alone in one of the big gorges, shovel in hand, slicing earth from an 8,000 foot hill.

"What are you doing here?" they asked.

"Constructing a railroad," he replied. He turned another shovelful of dirt, dropped the tool and hitched up his heavy cartridge belt.

"Any one who interferes with the Santa Fe does it at his own risk," he said quietly.

First the Rio Grande men laughed, and then they raged, and then they turned and went away. Their road was cut off from the south forever.

CHASED OUT OF CANADA

Authorities Were Prepared to Call Out Militia to Prevent a Prize Fight in Essex County.

Windsor, March 9.—The old adage that "He laughs best who laughs last" was verified last night in the case of the Smeaton and Stone fight. The promoters thought they had the Canadian authorities thrown off the scent, but Detective Mahoney learned that a Michigan Central train was chartered to leave Windsor about nine o'clock with the party for some place in Essex county, probably Leamington. Mahoney communicated with Crown Attorney Rodd; the latter notified the Michigan Central officials that he would have them indicted if the train left the car ferry on the Canadian side. The train was at once cancelled as far as Canada was concerned. As an additional precaution, however, Messrs. Rodd and Mahoney with fourteen officers went to the Michigan Central station prepared to arrest the train crew and the fight party if they attempted to land. Besides this, Mr. Rood had an order to call out the Leamington Company of the 21st Regiment if necessary to use them, if the party got past the border and went into South Essex.

The United States Government is to investigate.

Those Peterboro Private Bills.

In view of the Private Bills of this city which are to be considered next Tuesday, it is interesting to note that the Private Bills Committee may soften their hearts and change the unconstitutional custom of enquiring, by law, that at least a two-thirds vote of the ratepayers, be cast in order to validate any municipal bylaw referring to bonuses to factories, etc. Should the two-thirds vote so insisted on, this will inevitably quash the purchase of the Sugar Company's property, as not enough voters ever turn out to get a two-thirds majority passed.

INSPECTION BEGUN

Inspector Cochrane Has Begun His Inquisition of Peterboro's Hotels.

License Inspector Cochrane yesterday began his rounds of inspection of the various hotels of this city. As noted in a former issue of The Times, the Ontario License Department, has sent each license inspector a long list of questions, covering a complete synopsis of the make, capacity, management, internal fittings, etc., of all licensed houses.

These questions must be answered, under oath, by all those purposing asking a renewal of their licenses. Yesterday Mr. Cochrane visited the Snowdon House, Queen's Hotel, Montreal House and several others. All the hotels, will in turn, be visited and compelled to answer the questions.

In addition to the list of questions published a few days ago, in these columns, the inspector has to report in the case of each hotel, how many convictions have been made against it, and how many complaints were filed in the past year.

This is a good move and will have a marked tendency towards compelling observance of the license laws.

$3,000 Paid For a Horse.

The Hastings Review says: Luther Cornell was in town on Thursday, going home with the Hackney stallion, Winchester. This horse has been purchased by Mr. Cornell, and a syndicate of Marmora horsemen. He was imported from England last Fall, and has met the best in the show ring in the Old Land and Canada as well, and has the first prize to his credit. The price paid was $3,000. This should be a strong acquisition to the horse interests of North Hastings.

Ontario People Going West.

And still the unsettled population of this part of the county, continues to follow the advice of Horace Greely, "Go West, young man." There will be another exodus of settlers from Ontario next Tuesday to the north-west, says a Toronto despatch. The first of the colonist trains, which leave Toronto every Tuesday during this month and next, left this week carrying 570 persons. Seven tourist cars, seven colonist cars and two regular C.P.R. coaches were called into requisition. Sixty-five box cars were needed to carry their personal and household effects.

This shows an increase of between forty and fifty per cent. over last year's first trip.

Spark From Engine Causes Danger.

The Campbellford Herald says: On Friday night last a passing locomotive threw a spark on dried grass of the railway track, just east of the Stirling road crossing. In a moment it burst into flames and it spread with such rapidity that the frame houses near the crossing were in imminent danger. Only the heroic efforts of a few of the neighbors averted a serious fire just in the nick of time.

Peterboro Branch "Home Circle."

Adverting to our report in yesterday's issue of the great convention to be held here March 13th and 14th of the Supreme Circle of the Canadian Order of Home Circles, we might add that the Peterboro branch has about 115 members. Its officers are:

Past Leader—Mrs. T. Anderson.
Leader—Mr. Volney Reid.
Vice-Leader—Dr. J. A. Morgan.
Rec.-Sec.—Miss Minnie Kitney.
Treas.—Mr. E. A. Brittain.
Fin.-Sec.—Miss H. Reid.

THOSE BONFIRES

"Boy" Writes Concerning the General Complaints in Local Newspapers.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—Much exception has been taken by correspondents in the local press over the manner in which empty dry goods boxes, barrels, etc., were taken to make bonfires the evening our local hockey team returned. Now these "kicks" seem to me to come from people who should stay at home when any excitement is on in the town and read "Fox's Book of Martyrs" or some such light literature. Their disliking would tend to throw a damper on the whole proceedings which certainly afforded a night's fun to many thousand people.

As far as the drygoods boxes and other articles burnt is concerned, it does not seem to occur to these virtuous correspondents that the merchants would better take their empty packages in out of the rain and thus insure the absence of fire by day and night, as well as blocking up alley ways that are public property. Those who burnt these boxes were, without exception, small, irresponsible small boys, who animated by the general excitement, and prohibited by lack of funds for buying fire-works, cleaned the alleyways of a standing obstruction and danger.

Yours truly,

BOY.

THE NEW J. P'S.

Peterboro's New Justices of the Peace Officially Appointed.

Mr. R. S. Wood, Crown attorney, yesterday received from the Attorney General's Department, Toronto, the official declaration of the appointment of the justices of the peace, for Peterboro county. This confirms the nominations, which were published in The Times some time ago. There are now hundred J.P.'s for this county;

POLICE COURT NEWS

Yesterday afternoon a young man well known in this city, was arrested on the serious charge of seduction. The young man was arrested by P. C. McGinty, on his return from a drive into North Monaghan. The case will be tried next Monday. A relative of the prisoner, during the afternoon, arranged for, and put up bail in the sum of $200.

Last night about eight o'clock, P. C. Miller picked up a Scotchman on George street, concerning whom, it is a hard conundrum to solve, which was the broadest, the jag he was labouring under or the Highland accent he imported with him from the hills and vales of his heather clad mountains. Up to time of going to press the prisoner was not sufficiently freed from the effects of Canadian brain-knotter to give his name or address.

Mr. Geo. Armstrong's Funeral.

The funeral of the late Mr. George Armstrong will take place this morning. A private service for the members of the family only, will be held at the residence, 263 Charlotte street after which the funeral procession will proceed to St. Luke's church at 10 o'clock. On account of the limited space and the situation as near the railway tracks the friends and acquaintances are requested to attend the services at St. Luke's church.

17th of March Badges.

"Danny" Simms, the successful actor, never forgets the old town. Within the past few days, Danny has sent a large number of 17th March badges to local citizens. These emblems of St. Patrick's Day he says, are very pretty, a square brass medallion bearing the ever popular words, "St. Patrick's Day, March 17th, is suspended from a green silk ribbon bearing a buckle in the center. Hibernians from the old sod, and Canadian born descendants of Irishmen will wear these on the "17th of old Ireland."

Driving Parties Last Night.

Mr. Parker, the Hunter street livery-stable repair man, last night engaged a team from Messrs. McCollum Bros., the Water street livery men, to take a pleasure party out in the country, to Mr. Ed. Grieve's farm in Otonabee. The party took musicians with them. A most enjoyable evening was spent, the large party thoroughly enjoying the drive in the beautiful moonlight. They returned at an early hour this morning.

Still another load of happy pleasure seekers, mostly farmers from near the city, engaged a team from the same livery and drove out about three miles into Dowro. On their return the party all said they had had a royal time.

Mr. Preston Defends His Farm.

Mr. Wm. Preston, who owns the property chosen by the county council for the location of a House of Refuge, is indignant over the reflections cast upon the alleged barren soil of his farm. He says he has spent some $1000 on buildings and has made money out of this property. He ever offers, as a guarantee of the excellence of his property to lend any one having the property security, money, no limit in the amount asked. What a pity that "proper security" rider was added! Without that many a poor fellow would call on Mr. Preston within just the time it takes a horse or buggy to reach Lakefield.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Maple sugar making will soon be in full swing once again.

—The Post says $200,000 will be spent in Cobourg this summer in new buildings.

Today we will sell Jolls, oys and ranges at greatly reduced prices. Times Bookstore.

—A Bell telephone was yesterday placed in the residence of Mrs. Durand and Mr. T. P. Ardell, Water St., in front of Victoria Park.

—For obstructing the sanitary inspector in the discharge of his duties, a resident of Campbellford was fined $3 and costs, in nearly all $10.

—No complaint has been found this winter with business men who are usually too lazy to shovel the snow off the walk in front of their stores.

—Today we will sell choice of any 25-cent bound book for 20 cents. A choice lot to choose from. A good chance to get cheap reading for Sunday. Times Bookstore.

—Havelock Standard: Mr. Jas. Fowler of Peterboro, was in town on Monday making arrangements for opening a jewellery store in Andrew's Block, about April 1st.

—Mr. S. W. Hill, who recently resigned as principal of the Lakefield Public school, left last week for Toronto, where he has secured a more lucrative position.

—The Rev. Geo. W. Mingie, of Montreal, recently returned from abroad, will preach in St. Paul's church at 11 o'clock, a.m., and in Knox church at 7 o'clock, p.m.

—The Canadian Graphic in its last issue contains a very flattering reference to the published poems of Isabell Valancy Crawford, the late lamented poetess of Peterboro.

—Cobourg offers a free site and a bonus in order to induce the Government to locate a Normal school in that town. Looks as if the citizens did not count much on natural qualifications.

—This week the Wm. Hamilton Co. shipped to Hull, Que., fifteen large water pipes, thirty feet long and thirty inches in diameter. They will be used for waterworks purposes in that city.

—We see that whilst the scalps of the Goderich players dangle at the belts of the locals, one of our players left his moustache in Goderich. Did the wind blow through his whiskers too fiercely?

—A horse owned by P. Chamberlain and a new buggy owned by E. King, both of Otter Creek, were stolen recently. The outfit, after a long chase, was captured near Denbigh, but the thief made his escape.

—Yesterday huge cedar poles were called into requisition to support the brickwork between the Albany Club windows and Mr. H. P. Kennedy's meat market. This was necessary owing to extensive improvements being made in Mr. Kennedy's shop.

—The people—farmers especially—are buoyed up with the belief that the cheese industry will be as active the ensuing year as the past, judging by the price paid for cows the past winter. These animals have ranged in price from $35 to $50 each according to breed and condition.

—Mr. Frank Spinks, of Havelock, while out hunting one day last week about two miles north of the village encountered a black fox. It is reported that other specimens of this rare species of the fox family have been seen about three miles east of Havelock. As black fox skins are worth $100 or more we are expecting to hear of a few being bagged by the sports of that village.

BOARD OF HEALTH

Mr. Thompson Addresses the Board Relating to Smoke Test Machine.

Last night the local Board of Health met in the city clerk's office, with Mr. Eyres in the chair. Those present were, Dr. Burnham, Messrs Schneider, Dr. Bingham and Parker.

Mr. Thompson, plumbing inspector addressed the Board relative to a smoke testing machine. He had had offers for a machine, costing, according to tenders offered, from $15 by Mr. MacPherson, for a second-hand machine, railroad with copper, $25, to $35 for a new one submitted by Mr. Adam Hall.

Mr. Thompson advocated buying the second-hand machine of Mr. MacPherson. Mr. Thompson said he had engaged two men to go with him making smoke tests; they had charged $2 a day including the rigs. He also brought up the subject of old waste, to be used in making sulphur tests. He had tried the Cordage, Edison, and other manufacturing works, but could get no old waste. He advocated getting new waste. He added that he had made 521 different smoke tests.

This was considered to be a matter for the Council Board to deal with.

Watch the Skin for Bad Blood

t Comes to the Surface in the Form of Pimples, Boils, Rashes and Humors

Where the blood is weak and depraved the system lacks staying power and force. Frightful ulcers and unsightly blotches break out, the skin becomes yellow and muddy, the eyes lack lustre.

Reader, does YOUR blood need attention? If so get Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once; they filter out all poisons, eliminate disease-making germs, nourish and re-vitalise every drop of blood in the body.

No medicine excels such a marvellous influence for good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they clear the complexion, make it exquisitely beautiful; they cure pimples, rashes and skin troubles of every kind. Read the following carefully;

No Appetite—Bad Color—Genera Debility

"I was run down," writes Mr. Albert E Dickson of Fairbanks P. O. My color was dull and complexion sallow, appetite was poor, and so steadily suffered from rheumatism.

I found it hard to sleep, and felt worn out and tired all the time Dr Hamilton's Pills made an instant change. I grew stronger, my blood was restored, rheumatism vanished. To-day I am vigorous, chee y and healthy in every respect.

You will never realise what good health means until you feel the quick saving vitalising effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Every tired, overstrained, nervous man and woman should use this grand tonic regularly. Life will then be full of happiness and buoyant health. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1, by mail if price is forwarded to N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

A Successful Operation.

Port Hope Times: Miss Bertha Lock, daughter of Mr. Geo. Locke, was taken ill very suddenly on Friday last and on Saturday removed to Peterboro hospital, where she was operated on for appendicitis. We are glad to know that she is doing well.

The Bakers' Pull.

Lindsay Post: Peterboro people are paying daily 5c. to the bakers for a 4-lb. loaf, for which Lindsay citizens are being taxed 15c., and when we were paying 12c. they were paying only 10c. That's a special rivalry in which it costs our citizens a lot of money to beat Peterboro. And the baker gets it all.

Are Breaking the Law.

In answer to a legal question in a recent number of the Mail and Empire, the editor of that department states that it is illegal and contrary to the spirit of the municipality to take the funds of the town, village or township to subscribe for the Municipal World for the benefit of the members of the council. This question has never before been brought up, the duty of providing such paper for the benefit of the members of the council never before having been questioned. It is a small matter to fight over. The Municipal World is worth reading, especially to those interested in municipal affairs, and every councillor should be a subscriber. Surely a councillor, like those in a village who receive no pay, is entitled to a paper to advise him how best to conduct our business.

THE HOCKEY BANQUET

"Sportsman" Objects to the Proposed Style of Recognition of Local Champions.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—As there is very general dissatisfaction about the city over the form of public recognition of our hockey players' success in winning the Intermediate championship, I would ask a few lines of your space to express what is not only my objections to the banquet, but what is pretty generally so thought by others.

There is no doubt but what some tangible recognition of the Peterboro hockey team's good work should be given however, this plan of having a banquet confined to the few who can put up $2 for a banquet they don't really want, confines the expression of admiration to too few people.

The night the boys came home many thousands of our citizens turned out to welcome them home, and the cheering of those thousands showed clearly the very general admiration Peterboro has for the winning team.

Now to spend $2 on a ticket for this dinner, even though a margin might be appropriated for the aggregate sum paid in to make a presentation of some kind to the boys, does not give the ordinary citizen a chance to show by his presence or contribution, that he appreciates what the team has done for Peterboro.

None of the hockey team are millionaires, and all have worked hard, worked well, won honors for themselves and the city, and have been under considerable personal expense doing it.

Would it not be a more graceful compliment to the team to let a more public function take the place of a banquet at $2 per head "limited to 100 guests."

There are very few, even though the limited 100 should all be present, who care to pay $2 for a dinner they don't want. There are, however, many times 100 people in Peterboro who would put up from 50 cents to $1 or $2 if the demonstration of approval took another form. Why freeze out the thousands that would like to give tangible evidence of their admiration for the champions, by confining such to the select 100.

I am sure, Sir, judging by Mr. George Graham's generosity in the past, and, should the banquet take place, by what it will be seen Mr. Graham is about to do for the Club, he, Mr. Graham, is too true a sport as to think my suggestions are aimed in any way at the demonstration taking the form of a banquet at his hotel.

Should the demonstration of approval take another form, whereby many hundreds could contribute and be present, Mr. Graham would be the first man to do his share.

My idea, and I know I voice the opinion of hundreds of others, is that the demonstration should take the form of a "smoker," reception or concert, whereby the hundreds of dollars that ardent admirers of the team would pour in, could be given either in cash to the team, or be used to purchase substantial tokens of regard for the boys.

Should a smoker be held, any hall in Peterboro could be crowded at $1 a head; should the demonstration take the form of a reception hundreds of ladies would be present and a very large sum collected for the boys, or should a concert be held, the Opera House would not have a seat vacant.

In getting up this banquet the committee meant well, but possibly the matter was arranged hurriedly before the whole subject had time to be considered. There is still time to make a change and give the public a chance to show their appreciation of the local players' good work.

Should the demonstration take the form of a concert, there is no doubt but what Mr. Bradburn, with his well known generosity, would give the opera house free or at a very low figure for that evening. Thanking you for your space, I am, Sir,

SPORTSMAN.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Yesterday morning, long before ten o'clock, a large crowd gathered at the back entrance to the Police Court, the "Sons of Rest" and "Sleepy Slim Club" sending large delegations which, augmented by the "Lotus League," filled the court room to its utmost capacity. These veterans in the art of dodging a job were, however, disappointed, as the case they had come to hear was postponed.

The first case called was that of two men named, respectively, Robt. Eastwood and S. Newhall, charged with having been drunk and disorderly in a public place. They both admitted the soft impeachment and were fined, in the order of the names above, $2 with $3.40 costs, and $2 with $3.60 costs, in each case, to be paid in ten days.

Dennis McGrath, a farmer, was charged with stealing the sum of $20 from the person of Patrick Murphy. When asked whether he would be tried summarily by the Magistrate or at the spring assizes, McGrath said: "I took the money but gave it back to him." "That is not what I am asking you," said the Magistrate. McGrath then elected to be tried by his Worship. "Are you guilty or not guilty?" was asked by the Magistrate. "Well," replied McGrath, "I had no intention of stealing the money; the man was drunk and I thought it an act of charity to take the money from him. I have given it back." The Magistrate, in a rather sarcastic voice, remarked: "Well, there is a good deal of this taking money off a drunken man and then handing it back when you are caught." The case was enlarged until next Tuesday at 10 o'clock. In the meantime McGrath will enjoy the hospitalities of Castle Nesbitt.

INS AND OUTS

By exercising a little gentlemanly restraint, the members of the Goderich Hockey Club just manage to stop a little short of murder.

Perhaps in addition to the gate receipts, the Goderich hockey team is getting a percentage on the victims it sends to the hospitals.

All sorts of aches, a nose to blow, and feeling punky — that's the grip!

Commerce lost some butchers when those Goderich athletes decided to go into the hockey industry.

* * * * *

It is said that the O. H. A. propose to mould a new code of rules for next season, in order to cut out slugging. This g. f. j would suggest that it might not be amiss to have the hockey teams repeat the ten commandments before each game.

It is estimated that consumers pay about $700,000,000 a year for coal. Is it not about time for the consumers, after the example of the operators and miners, to begin to organize?

It is said that there will only be a soft coal strike. Even this will go hard with the local coal barons.

Complaints are being made that some of the gaols are overcrowded. The difficulty might be overcome by leaving the doors open a few minutes.

Hold Annual Meeting — Election of Officers and Other Business.

There was a large attendance at the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Circle, of the Murray street Baptist church, on Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Dr. Hunter occupied the chair.

An excellent bible reading on "Small Things" was given by Miss Fisher. Reports were read and adopted.

Mrs. Riley, director for Lindsay Association, addressed the meeting on "Woman's work for Woman." The importance of the work was emphasized, and objections that are raised were answered. She dwelt on the triple aspect of the work: 1st, the need; 2nd, the work itself; 3rd, the results.

A solo by Mrs. Miller was much appreciated.

Greetings from the following sister societies were received: St. Paul's and Knox churches, being represented by Mrs. McPherson; Charlotte street, by Mrs. Kilgor; St. Andrew's, by Mrs. G. Laing, and Park street, by Mrs. Mowry.

The following is the financial statement. Amount raised by the Circle for Foreign Missions, $146.11; Home Missions, $40.50; N. W. Indians, $12.00; monthly collections, $5.70; total for Woman's Circle, $232.11.

Treating Wrong Disease.

Many times women call on their family physicians, suffering, as they imagine, one from dyspepsia, another from heart disease, another from liver or kidney disease, another from nervous exhaustion or prostration, another with pain here and there, and in this way they all present alike to themselves and their easy-going and indifferent, or over-busy doctor, separate and distinct diseases, for which he, assuming them to be such, prescribes his pills and potions. In reality, they are all only symptoms caused by some uterine disease. The physician, ignorant of the cause of suffering, encourages this practice until large bills are made. The suffering patient gets no better, but probably worse, by reason of the delay, wrong treatment and consequent complications. A proper medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, directed to the cause would have entirely removed the disease, thereby dispelling all those distressing symptoms, and instituting comfort instead of prolonged misery. It has been well said, that "a disease known is half cured."

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a scientific medicine, carefully devised by an experienced and skillful physician, and adapted to woman's delicate system. It is made of native medicinal roots and is perfectly harmless in its effects in any condition of the system.

As a powerful invigorating tonic "Favorite Prescription" imparts strength to the whole system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. For overworked, "worn-out," "run-down," debilitated teachers, milliners, dressmakers, seamstresses, "shop girls," house-keepers, nursing mothers, and feeble women generally, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the greatest earthly boon, being unequaled as an appetizing cordial and restorative tonic.

As a soothing and strengthening nervine "Favorite Prescription" is unequaled and is invaluable in allaying and subduing nervous excitability, irritability, nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuralgia, hysteria, spasms, chorea, St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing, nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease of the uterus. It induces refreshing sleep and relieves mental anxiety and despondency.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. One to three a dose. Easy to take as candy.

1,000 Lives May be Lost in Explosion

Terrible Catastrophe in Mine Near Bethune in the Courieres District of the Pas-de-Calais.

Paris March 11.—A terrible catastrophe has occurred at a coal mine in the Courrieres district of the Pas-de-Calais, 17 miles from Bethune. An explosion of gas has killed many miners, and three chambers of the mine are on fire. The number of victims is not known, but 1800 miners descended into the pit in the morning.

Later it was announced that the explosion occurred in pits 11 and 4, and that the flames spread to all the communicating pits, embracing Marecourt, Coron and Lens. The number of victims is undoubtedly considerable, but it is not possible at present to ascertain how many of the miners succeeded in reaching the galleries, which are still closed.

MAY BE 1,000 KILLED.

A despatch from Lens says that a rumor is circulating there that over 1,000 may have been killed, which has caused consternation. But, it is added, there is nothing to indicate that this number is correct. Not a single miner has yet been taken from pits Nos. 2, 3 or 4. The spectacle surrounding the mine is fearful. Great crowds of weeping women and children gathered to ascertain the fate of the male members of their family.

STATE BALL CANCELLED.

President Fallieres has sent the secretary to the scene of the explosion, and has cancelled the attendance at a ball, which was to have been held at the Elysee Palace tonight.

The disaster causes widespread public depression.

All that can be ascertained is that the rescue work is proceeding feverishly.

The explosion occurred at seven o'clock in the morning.

EXPLOSION VIOLENT.

The first reports which reached the ministry of public works announced that it was impossible to calculate even approximately the number of victims, but it was hoped that most of the miners had sought refuge in the lateral galleries. In the three chambers in which the explosion took place the violence of the fire was such that flames issued from the mouth of the pit.

The minister of public works, M. Gauthier, immediately ordered M. Delafond, inspector-general of mines to proceed to the scene of the disaster, and the minister of the interior, M. Dubief, will follow later, to adopt measures for the relief of the families of the victims.

SMITH'S FALLS HERE

The Swift Players of League to Play Here Wednesday.

Mr. Chris Graham, the well-known local athlete and hockey expert, has received definite intelligence that the Smith's Falls team of the Federal League, who took part in the recent great struggle for the Stanley Cup at Ottawa, will play here, in Brock street rink with the locals on Wednesday night.

As is known generally among local hockey enthusiasts the visiting team includes a Peterboro boy, Harold Armstrong.

This coming exhibition game promises to be one of the best and most exciting games of the season, as the locals with their brand new championship title to keep bright, will put up the game of their lives sooner than have Smith's Falls down them.

Now is the time for the general public to show their admiration of the locals by crowding the rink like sardines.

THE EAST WON

The Eastern "All Stars" Win Out by a Score of 8-2.

The long-looked for and intensely exciting hockey match between the "All Stars of the East," against the "All Stars of the West," being each composed of picked players of the Ontario Hockey Association, was played off Saturday, before an immense audience in Mutual street rink, Toronto. The easterners won in a closely contested game by a score of 6—2. Referee Burns filled his position acceptably.

It is of special local interest to note that a local player Whitecroft, who takes the place of rover with the intermediate champions, attracted much favorable attention on Saturday night when he played with the winning easterners.

THE GREAT CONVENTION

Three Hundred Delegates of O. C. M. C. to Arrive To-morrow.

Some 300 delegates will arrive here this evening and to-morrow morning to attend the annual meeting of the Supreme Circle of the Order of Canadian Home Circles will be held in the court house this week, begining tomorrow.

As there are about 275 lodges, extending from Halifax to Vancouver and each lodge is entitled to a delegate. It is expected the attendance will be very large.

The order has just closed its 21st year, and this is the first time the Supreme Circle meeting has been held east of Toronto.

HANDED IT OVER

Stranger Collects $10 Towards Charity and is Arrested.

On Saturday morning an elderly man was arrested and brought to the station. It seems he had been collecting money towards the fund mentioned in previous issues of The Times, to help out a poor English woman, who recently had a leg amputated and who has a child to support.

The man arrested is a stranger in the city and had collected $10, which the police took possession of fearing the man was getting the money under false pretences.

However when the Magistrate arrived at the station, the stranger explained that he had only recently got out of the hospital here. While in that institution, he happened to become acquainted with a local citizen, with whom the matter of the poor woman was discussed. The local gentleman explained how charitably disposed persons here, had purchased a sewing machine for the distressed lady. On leaving the hospital the stranger, told Mr. Dumble so and taken the matter in hand, and intended giving her the money he had collected. The magistrate was satisfied with the stranger's explanations, and had the money sent to the poor woman.

While this stranger may have told a straight story and collected the money out of purely philanthropic motives, it is dangerous policy to hand money over to total strangers collecting for any object, no matter how good their story sounds, without the collectors have some tangible proof of their honesty and good faith.

Every stranger who might collect funds for charity is not likely to be arrested and the money recovered, in which event, some such collectors would be troubled with a lapse of memory and decamp with their ill-gotten gains.

SEVENTH INFANTRY BRIGADE

Col. E. B. Edwards of This City Promoted in Command.

To command second cavalry brigade, Eastern Ontario, Lieut.-Col. T. Cooke, to command seventh infantry brigade, Lieut.-Col. Elihu Burrit Edwards, to be senior paymaster, Western Ontario, with honorary rank, Major Walter R. Ward.

A PROSPEROUS YEAR

Financial Institution, With Peterboro Man at its Head, Meets With Success.

It is of especial local interest, as a Peterboro gentleman, the Hon. J. R. Stratton, is its President, to learn that the Dominion Permanent Loan Co. has closed a most successful year's business, and that this great financial institution is now one of the strongest of its kind in Canada.

The Dominion Permanent Loan Co. held its fifteenth annual meeting on March 7th, at which the Directors presented their yearly balance sheet, which was of a most encouraging nature.

One strong point that the Directors' report showed was the high character of the company's securities.

During the past year the demands of the company's business has been sufficiently brisk to call into use all the available funds at their disposal.

The shareholders in this strong company have every reason for congratulation, as dividends amounting to $69,427.40 were paid. These dividends, as compared with the capital paid in, show that the management has been characterized by strenuous and intelligent use of the company's funds.

As a sample of the conservative system adopted by the Dominion Permanent Co., it might be noted that, during the year, $40,000 has been placed to the credit of the reserve fund. After paying off sundry items, including the annual dividends, appropriations towards reserve, writing off a large sum on account of office formation and premises, the year's profits still leave about $20,000 for future distribution.

The assets of the company are what is technically termed "gilt edged," consisting of $9,115,842 in first class mortgages and similar sound securities.

Our readers will take pleasure in noting that the President of the company, Hon. J. R. Stratton, is a resident of this city, who has not only reached a high place in Parliamentary matters, but is one of the "powers that be" in many of Canada's foremost financial institutions. We congratulate the company on its wise choice of their president.

St. John's Honored.

At St. John's church, yesterday morning, Rev. Canon Dixon congratulated the congregation on the choice of their rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, to conduct a series of Lenten midday services at the Garrick theater, St. Louis. The selection of Rev. Canon Davidson, for so important a service in the Episcopal work of the United States, reflected considerable honor not only on St. John's parish, but also on the city of Peterboro. No man, added the reverend visitor, is more respected in Toronto diocese than Rev. Canon Davidson.

POLICE COURT NEWS

Yesterday the sons of Rest turned out in their scores to hear the Murphy—McManus Bros. fight trial, the court room being crammed to its utmost capacity.

Thos. Campbell was charged with having been drunk on the 9th, in a public place. Campbell admitted having been drunk, as he did not remember anything about the matter. "Where do you come from?" asked his Worship. "I come from Scotland," replied Campbell. "I did not think there was enough whiskey in Canada to make a Scotchman drunk, well, I'll let you go this time. If you go on drinking whiskey the quicker we'll bury you."

Patrick Murphy was charged with being drunk in a public place. Mr. McWilliams acting for the prisoner, asked that the evidence be heard. James and John McManus were also charged with the same offence. All pleaded not guilty.

Adam Davidson, bartender at the Rossi Hotel, said that about one p. m., on the 5th inst., all three prisoners were present in the bar.

The row was started by Murphy striking McManus first; told them he wanted no row there, if they wanted to fight go get outside. He sent word to the proprietor that there was a row on, the police were then sent for. It was a general free fight. Murphy got the worst of it. Then the police came.

To Mr. McWilliams, the men were all pretty full. The fight was Murphy against the two McManuses. He was sure Murphy hit first, when he hit John McManus. He could not see over the five-foot bar which came to his neck. He did not see any kicking done. Mr. Murphy was pretty drunk. The police came.

To Mr. Kerr, who appeared for the McMannus Bros. The McManus Bros. had just come in before the trouble started.

There was a clinch, when they fell. "Then they got up to the height of the bar again," Mr. Kerr asked "Yes."

Davidson answered, "they must have got so or they would be there yet." "James was trying to help John McManus. Murphy's partners tried to head him, but Murphy broke away. The McManuses left the hotel before the police could arrive. "In your experience how many drinks does it take to get an Irishman in fighting humor?" asked his Worship. "I don't know.

Murphy was then told to go into the box. During the scrap the McManus Bros. hit and kicked him on the head. He was compelled to go to Dr. Carmichael. The doctor told him he had been pretty badly injured. Both the McManus Bros. cused their fists on him. David, not sure, the scrap started as he was the worse of liquor. When the McManuses came into the bar, Jim said to John, "There he is now, this is our chance." Jim told his brother, "Give it to him now." Did not know what grudge the McManuses had against him.

To Mr Kerr, he does not pretend to be a scrapper. Does not remember using insulting language to McManus and striking at him. The first recollection of the fight was "when I got it." James did not touch him until when he fell. When he was on the floor he saw the boys coming.

Does not remember where he went after the fight, but was told he was driven to Hogan's hotel.

Adam Davidson recalled, did not hear Murphy use the bad language.

John McManus then went into the box and said the row started by Murphy saying "You ——— ———, you licked my brother." Neither he nor his brother used the words sworn to by Murphy regarding their alleged intention of doing him up. He simply put Murphy on the floor, but did not want to hurt him. He did not strike Murphy at all. His brother got into the scrap by pulling him off Murphy so the latter could get up. He wanted to hold Murphy until the constables came.

To Mr. McWilliams. It must have been my brother who gave Murphy the bruises.

Jas. McManus, said the row started by Murphy saying you ——— ———, you licked my brother, and Murphy then struck at him.

He never kicked Murphy. Heard his brother say, "Stand for the constable." Mr. Flynn, the proprietor of the hotel, stopped the row. Had no ill-will towards Murphy. Hit Murphy a few blows.

Mr. Kerr claimed that all the evidence clearly showed that neither of the McManus' was drunk, having only had what every Canadian is entitled to, viz., to have two or three drinks in him. Murphy he claimed caused all the trouble.

His Worship said that men going into taverns should not be quarrelsome at drunken men using such names as Murphy is alleged to have used. He found that they were all guilty of a breach of the peace. He fined James McManus $5 as he got into the row when there was no need for it, and he considered a drunken man was merciful. The other Two men he fined $2 each with $2.60 costs each.

A special session of the police court was held by Magistrate Dumble Saturday evening, so that a prisoner could get trial without having to spend Sunday in the Hotel des Cops. The prisoner, William McKnight, who was arrested by P. C. McGinty on Smith street, during the afternoon, was charged with being drunk and disorderly. It seems that this man McKnight, was having a scrap with a young girl named Pomrey, from Orillia. McKnight was cursing and quarrelling with the girl, whom users it is said he has been paying for some time past.

His magistrate imposed a fine of $5 with an additional 50 cents to pay for Reid's express cart which had to be called into requisition to bring him to the station. During the evening later on McKnight came into the station and asked the officers present, "What are you going to do with that girl of mine?" The officers somewhat dampened the prospects of further love quarrels, by telling him the girl was going to be sent back to her friends in Orillia.

Whilst the man McKnight was in the cells awaiting trial, an acquaintance of his, Joseph Rickerby, came into the station to see him. Unfortunately for himself, Rickerby was not aware that a warrant for his arrest, was lying on the chief's desk, so he not only called but stayed.

It seems that Rickerby is charged by the Metropolitan Manufacturing Co., of Toronto, with theft of sundry articles of furniture. It is alleged that Rickerby purchased a couple of iron beds and other articles on the instalment plan. Mr. Hickinson, local agent of the above named company, laid a complaint that Rickerby had disposed of the articles purchased before they were fully paid for. Rickerby's brother offered afterwards to assume the debt, but the arrest having been made, the case will have to come up for trial this morning.

A boy on Saturday laid a complaint against a George street merchant for overpayment of wages. He alleged that he had worked for one week, less a day, Saturday, for the merchant, and that the latter returned to pay up, unless the boy finished the full week. The case will be tried this morning.

A young man named Bert Byers, of South Monaghan, was charged by Mr. Smith on Reid street, with using abusive language towards Mrs. Smith. According to the story told by Mr. Smith, Byers sold her a bag of potatoes, being paid for the Murphies at the time the sale was made in the market square. Byers, it is alleged, took the potatoes to Mr. Smith's house, and when delivering them demanded payment for the same, saying they were not paid for. Mrs. Smith insisted her husband had paid for the potatoes, whereupon Byers called her a "——— ——— liar." Byers took the potatoes away but afterwards brought them back to the Smiths residence.

Bloodless Surgery Patients go to Hamburg

Dr. Wagner Has Methods by Which Modern Miracles are Achieved in Curing the Maimed.

Berlin, March 11.—Hamburg has a bow to conduct the digging of the [illegible] Dr. Wagner, whose wonderful [illegible] have created a sensation in Germany, is also laid down the rules for the regulation of labor on the new canals which are to be dug this spring and the total length of which is to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, although they do not present any engineering difficulties.

Many Italians will now will be employed on the work, most of them Austrians and Italians, and for these the government has built barracks which, in comfort, far surpass the average workingman's home.

Each man will have his own bedroom and only 50 men will live together in each house. To pay for the maintenance of the libraries, gymnasiums and reading-rooms, which each house contains, a nominal charge of two cents a month will be charged.

Only temperance canteen will be established in the camps and no alcohol will be permitted to be sold within a mile of the works.

TOO HOT FOR HIM.

Count Rudolph Festetics, against whom Princess Louise of Coburg made the charge that he had taken advantage of her distress to charge an interest of 400 per cent. on a loan he had made her, has been ostracized by Hungarian society and till probably be forced to leave Vienna and retire to his estates. He will not attempt again to collect the note which Princess Louise gave him, and which calls for a payment of $20,000, though the princess only received $11,000. The court was in this city the other day evidently with the intention of taking up his residence here, but gave it up as everybody in the clubs and the military circles gave him the cold shoulder.

COMING MARRIAGE

Doesn't Altogether Tickle the Fancy of the Spanish Colony in Paris—What Their Objections Are.

Paris, March 11.—Loud are the lamentations which are heard in the Spanish colony here. All the Spaniards in this gay capital, and they are legion, cry out in protest against their young monarch's forthcoming marriage.

They cannot get over the shock caused by the fact that he, a Bourbon in other words a prince of the noblest house in Europe, should have chosen for his wife the descendant of a dancer.

They accuse him of raising to the throne of Charles V. and Philip II., a young woman of Protestant origin, and worse than even that, they cannot forgive Alfonso XIII. for imposing upon them a queen who is not at all pretty. In the salons of the Spanish aristocracy much indignation is heard concerning the humiliation which the nobility consider it has received at the hands of its sovereign.

It is said the queen mother kept the king so closely tied to her apron strings throughout his minority that once he was his own master he fell in love with the first girl he saw, not because of her beauty, but just because she was of the opposite sex.

It is also said that the ex-Empress Eugenie meddled too much in the affair, through a sheer love of intrigue and also prompted by a sentimental notion of paying a sort of love debt to the child of the woman who had been loved by the prince imperial. Discontent grows apace among the Spaniards here, and this is only an echo of what is going on in Spain.

Will the little princess be able to withstand the current of disapproval which seeks to sweep her away? It seems doubtful.

No race in all the world is opposed as the Castilian, and no country is so sensitive to the charms of woman's beauty as that which boasts such cities as Seville and Granada. For a couple of coutes, a bull or two, and a pretty girl, there is not a Spaniard who would not forsake riches, castles and comfort.

WARSAW MAN HURT

F. J. Forsythe Has Narrow Escape From Death.

The Warsaw villagers, attending Saturday's market in the city reported an accident that happened on Friday in their burg that, whilst injuries, Mr. F. J. Forsythe, came very near to ending his existence.

It seems that while Mr. Forsythe, was engaged in taking down an old building one of the heavy timbers fell, striking him on the head, and glancing off, knocked him over. It was feared at first that he was fatally injured, and the services of Dr. Douglas were at once procured. No bones were broken, however, but he had sustained internal injuries, and his lungs were affected. He was taken to his home in the township of Douro, and it is hoped he will soon recover from the effects of his accident.

STOLE AND SKIPPED

Wm. Eaton Robs Lindsay Lumber Co. of $50 and Makes for Peterboro.

On Saturday afternoon, Acting Chief of Police Adams, received a telegram from Chief Nevison of Lindsay, asking the Peterboro officers to be on watch for William Eaton, a 16-year-old recently imported son of Albion.

It seems that Eaton, who has been employed by the Lindsay Lumber Co., was sent to the Ontario Bank by them to cash a cheque for $50 on Saturday morning.

The boy received the money from the bank teller, and after receiving it left for Peterboro on the 11 o'clock train from Lindsay, buying his ticket at the railway station.

When the cheque was cashed the boy was given seven $10 bills, all of the Ontario Bank, and ten $1 bills, and $5 in silver. He is short and clearly, wears a dark grey suit, dark grey cap and short trousers. He has large eyes and rosy cheeks. Any merchant or other person who sees a boy in the city answering to the description given above, will please communicate with the police.

A Havelock Marriage Case.

Last week Havelock had a real live sensation, wherein the dramatis personae were a young couple from Cordown who arrived suddenly one day, secured the services of a Methodist pastor, and were made one, and the irate father of the 16-year-old bride, who, following on their tracks hotfoot, arrived just after the wedding ceremony was over. The father tried to induce his daughter to return, but she clung to her brand new husband, and decided to abide by her recent matrimonial venture. The father and happy groom, it is happily to be noted, "made up," and adjourned to the place where liquid refreshments are sold to pledge future amity.

HEADLIGHT SAVES TRAIN

Attempt to Wreck Chicago Express, Averted By Engineer's Watchfulness.

Utica, N.Y., March 11.—An attempt was made to wreck the Chicago express northbound on the main line of the Ontario and Western railroad, at 12:20 this morning, as the train was running into the yard limit at Sidney.

The engineer, by means of the powerful electric headlight with which the engine was equipped, detected something suspicious on the rails ahead of him, and preferring to take no chances, pulled up his train.

A moment later he saw that the obstruction consisted of a number of railroad ties which had been placed across the rails.

SENATOR DOMVILLE INJURED

Suffers Compound Fracture of Leg on Atlantic Liner.

New York, March 11.—Hon. James Domville, member of the Canadian senate, who arrived here yesterday on the steamer Ivernia, from Liverpool, fell while walking on deck last Wednesday and suffered compound fracture of the leg.

900 KILLED OR WOUNDED.

STILL GROWING

Demand for Mi-o-na Stomach Tablets Continues to Increase.

Although Mi-o-na was introduced in Peterboro but a short time ago, it is today outselling all other medicines for the cure of indigestion and stomach troubles.

It gives such health and strength to the weakest stomach that all the food is readily converted into nutrition, so that it gives nourishment and tone to the whole system. In this way nervousness and sleeplessness are cured; headaches, backaches, and rheumatic pains are prevented, and there will be no more poor appetite, distress after eating, heartburn, or debility.

Mi-o-na costs but 50c. a box.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The K. D. Booth Company, Nixon, N. Y.

WHY SO WEARY ?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous

You have to work hard. This uses up lots of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. Somehow you cannot get more vitality. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from over-powering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight backing cough also added to my burden.

"My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous sensations disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 54, I consider Ferrozone is a 'marvel.' (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

UNION LABEL

PETERBORO, MARCH 13 1906

TRADE SCHOOLS NECESSARY

Trade schools have become an absolute necessity, particularly in the United States, because of conditions which have been brought about through the methods of trades-unionism. In limiting the number of apprentices who are permitted, under their rules, to learn a trade. As President Alexander, of the California Federation of Citizens' Alliances says, we do not need "schools with shop attachments, but schools with school attachments, where our boys who have had a common school education, but are unable to take a college course, may learn a trade and come forth prepared to battle with the world."

Citizens' Alliances in all parts of the United States are discussing this question, and in many places they are taking steps to establish trade schools in conformity to the recognized need for them. At Palo Alto, in California, a trade school (or, rather, "a shop with school attachments,") is to be built, at a cost of something like $1,000,000 for the purpose of teaching trades to American boys who are denied by the rules of unionism the opportunity to learn them. The movement is destined to grow, and its growth will be rapid because these schools will supply a need which is pressing.

If the rules of the various unions, limiting the number of apprentices, could be enforced in all the trades (and they could be enforced if the closed shop plan was generally in force) the number of skilled workers would steadily decrease, until those remaining would be able to command a scale of wages limited only by their greed. They would be able also to exercise arbitrary control over the output of the various industries, to limit the hours of labor, and in many ways to decrease the opportunities of other men, to their own benefit and aggrandizement. Of course, these chimerical schemes of monopoly cannot be realized. One reason why they are impossible of realization is because the establishment of trade-schools will open the door of opportunity to the American boy to learn an honest trade, and will thus help to break down the monopoly which the trades unions are seeking to establish.

The establishment of trade-schools will serve to decrease crime. Boys who are denied the opportunity to learn trades drift naturally into the ranks of loafers and criminals. They cannot all enter the professions, because the field there is already overcrowded. So, also, is nearly every field of common and special labor. It is a significant fact that over 75 per cent. of crimes lately committed are committed by boys from 16 to 20 years of age. Trades-unionism is directly responsible for a large proportion of these crimes. Hundreds and thousands of American boys, whose parents are unable to send them to college, even if they were inclined to go, would learn useful trades if afforded an opportunity to do so, and would thus keep out of the ranks of vagrancy and crime.

Trade-schools will afford to these boys the desired opportunity to become decent, self-helpful, self-supporting and self-respecting citizens. Without these schools the opportunity will not come to them. Therefore, trade-schools, in the present crisis, are necessary, not only in the United States but also in Canada.

RUSSIA STILL AGGRESSIVE

Russia is stealthy and tireless. Even while its armies were being defeated in Manchuria and its throne was shaken by revolt, it was secretly fastening a firmer grip on parts of the Chinese Empire. The news of its operations to this end has just leaked out and complicated and made more dangerous the situation in the East.

It develops that long ago two of the easterly provinces of Mongolia were given over to exploitation by the Russo-Chinese Bank. This is a fact known to but few. Russian troops have been advanced an average of 900 miles from the Siberian frontier into Chinese territory, on a line about 2,300 miles long, extending from Eastern Mongolia to Tibet. A special ambassador of the Russian court has been secretly negotiating with the Chinese authorities in Peking for several weeks, and is so engaged now. It is given out that his only mission is to make sure the Russian sphere of influence in Mongolia. What he will be able to accomplish only time can show.

The fact that Russia has a line of military posts across the northern part of the Chinese Empire has been kept secret from the world. It was revealed by an indiscreet publication in a Russian provincial newspaper. Russia's purpose, beyond the satisfying of its old lust for dominion, can not be determined. Whatever it it, the powers interested in maintaining China's territorial integrity are directly affected. They may be compelled to kick the Russian bear across the border into his own Siberia as well as spank Russia into a properly forbearing mood toward foreigners.

SPORTING NOTES

THE TURF.

It is rumored that Mr. R. J. Munro of the Munro House has been made a handsome offer for his well-known pacer, "Little Jap." The offer was received from a local gentleman who intends shipping the horse to the west. It is said an exchange of property will be effected and the swift horse will leave Peterboro.

HOCKEY.

As noted in a previous issue, the Fenelon Falls team, who now hold the Stratton Cup, issued a challenge, that the Charlotte street team through Mr. Ira Moore, their secretary, has taken up. The Charlotte street bunch would have to dig up the expenses, as Fenelon Falls refuses to put up a cent of the gate receipts, while if the villagers will put up a reasonable portion of their receipts towards defraying expenses, the local boys will give them a sudden death dash for the silver ware and probably win out.

* * * * *

* * * *

The locals will play home and home games, or they will play them a sudden death game in Toronto. They are also willing to play the Argonauts of Toronto, and either the All Star East or West team. They will give any of them teams home and home games.

Gold-Silver Company

CAPITAL STOCK, $15,000,000

W. C. GREENE, President. B. J. GATES, Treasurer.

I am authorized by the Company to offer, subject to prior sale, 100,000 shares of the treasury stock of this Company at par.

TEN DOLLARS PER SHARE

Eighteen months ago a limited issue of the stock of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company was placed upon the market at $15 per share. It is now selling at $34.00 per share and in the meantime has paid 30 per cent. in dividends.

Col. W. C. Greene, who is President of both Companies, expects the stock of the Greene-Gold-Silver Company to exceed even this flattering record made by the Greene Consolidated Copper Company.

Full information, maps, prospectus, reports, etc., will be furnished upon application. Make all checks for subscriptions payable to the order of offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 270 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 30 acres surface area.

Calumet-Tellurid Golde Mining Co.
OF CALUMET, MICHIGAN,

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzs and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.20 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Capitalization $60,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 900,000 shares. Show us something better.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,600 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world. The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

group, looking handsomer, if possible, than he had appeared the day before.

He was talking to Gertie Traverse, Reine's dearest friend and boon companion. How different he looked from any young man Reine had ever seen—more lively, more animated, with gayer smiles.

She stood quite still, expecting that he would come up to her; but instead, he turned carelessly, nonchalantly away, giving her no opportunity to bow to him.

How was she to know that he would not have dared presume upon her acquaintance while Bernard Cheseigh walked beside her? The girl's heart sank with wounded pride and pique. In that one instantaneous glance, Waldron had discovered the secret that Bernard Cheseigh had believed no one in the world knew, and which was locked securely in his own breast—that he loved the general's daughter. He had only surmised that it might be so, before, but in that hasty glance he had taken at Bernard Cheseigh's face the surmise was reduced to a certainty.

A strange smile crept up to the lips beneath the fair moustache. He saw a way to pay Bernard Cheseigh back for that which had happened in the past with double interest.

Bernard was standing by Reine's side, doing his best to interest her; wondering why, amongst the gay throng, she had suddenly seemed to lose all heart. She was impatient, and answered him petulantly. She longed for him to go away, so that the handsome Waldemar Waldron might come up and talk to her.

It was quite a wonder among many of the young ladies to see Bernard Cheseigh present, he was such a recluse, and there were those who seized the opportunity of becoming better acquainted with him; for he was handsome, talented, and had more wealth at his command than half a dozen of the wealthiest men of Harpers Ferry put together. He was considered a great parti.

Reine answered his questions so abruptly that perhaps he quite understood her desire to be rid of him; for when Gertie Traverse came up, laughingly, and led him away, he did not demur.

An hour passed. Cheseigh kept his eyes carefully upon Reine, from whatever part of the grove he happened to be in. He smiled gravely to himself. Any forebodings that Reine and Waldemar Waldron might take a fancy to each other were groundless, he thought; they were not even attracted toward each other; and a great sigh of relief trembled over his lips, and, thrown off his guard, he grew less watchful, and wandered off by himself to enjoy the quiet luxury of a cigar.

Reine was surrounded by admirers, but, for all that, the gay lawn fete seemed anything but enjoyable to her. Something was wanting. At last she saw Waldron coming toward her. Poor, petted, spoiled beauty! she felt nothing but wonder that he had not sought her sooner. Miss Traverse was with him; she introduced him to Reine, then flitted away.

He held out his white hand with the charming grace he had such perfect mastery of, and the dazzling brown eyes that looked down into her own told her more eloquently than any words could have done how pleased he was to see her again.

"How little I dreamed, when I reluctantly promised myself to come here to-day, what a pleasure was in store for me. I have met you again," he said, softly. "I have tried to bear in mind your command of yesterday—that no one was to know of your adventure—consequently no one must know of our meeting. I longed to come to you when I first saw you entering the grounds; prudence forbade. Everyone must believe we are strangers; that was yesterday's command. I asked Miss Traverse to introduce me."

Reine breathed easier. Ah, that was why he had avoided her.

"You were kind to be so considerate," she faltered, blushing redly under the fire of his magnetic eyes.

How the moments flitted by as he stood there talking to her. Reine never remembered time to have passed so quickly before—or—so pleasantly. Mr. Waldron was certainly a delightful companion.

"Did you come with a chaperone?" he inquired at length.

"Mr. Cheseigh escorted me here," she answered.

She could not define the expression that flittered over his face, but it seemed very like annoyance. He murmured some reply which she did not quite catch—she would have been shocked had she but known that it was a fierce imprecation he crushed back from his moustached lips.

"I did not know but what your father brought you here," he said quietly. "I should like to meet General Hastings; I have heard so much of him."

"Have you?" said Reine, her face brightening pleasedly.

"My father was in the same regiment with him," returned Waldron, "and I have often heard him recount incidents of the general's bravery. He used to say that the country needed such men, that he was made a general after a brilliant action in which he had shown great personal valor and had saved the troops from a crushing disaster. There was not a man on the field who would not have risked his life for the brave commander who led them into the thickest of the battle, himself in the foreground do the last.

"I shall remain papa that the son of an old comrade is living so near us," said Reine, "and I am sure he will be glad to welcome you to Fairhaven for your father's sake and—and for your own," she added, coloring a little.

"Do not mention it, I beg of you," returned Waldron, hastily; adding, with a note of sorrow in his voice, "Our fathers were not the best of friends, Miss Hastings. They differed over a trifling matter, and never met again to become reconciled, my father going abroad. In the first heat of memory which might be bitter, the general might forbid our acquaintance. Ah, Miss Hastings, do not do anything that might disturb that."

Reine looked greatly embarrassed, she hardly knew what answer to make to that direct appeal.

"I should like the general to meet me casually," he went on; "then I should have no fear of his disliking me; I should endeavor in every possible way to win his esteem."

"He will be sure to like you," said Reine, so earnestly, that this man of the world worldly could scarcely refrain from laughing outright.

"Thank you for thinking so," he said gallantly, raising his straw hat with a very low bow, which did not fail to make due impression upon his companion.

"Shall we walk down toward the river?" he asked; "it might be pleasanter than standing here." He thought he had observed Cheseigh from a distance coming in that direction.

Reine readily consented.

"Do you know, Miss Hastings, I had quite made up my mind to return to New York two days ago, and was on the point of concluding my arrangements on the day I saw you?"

Before she could reply he went on: "Now I have determined to tarry a little longer at the Towers."

"I am glad you are not going so very soon," she replied.

It is not very difficult for a young and handsome man, of the world worldly, to make himself extremely fascinating to a young and inexperienced girl of sixteen. Waldemar Waldron, although but four-and-twenty, was well skilled in the ways of winning feminine hearts. Young girls were always interested in him for the sake of his fair, handsome face. The moments sped like a golden dream to Reine.

He had a fund of poetic lore at his tongue's end; he knew how to imbue the lines with a tender cadence, that made the girl's heart thrill with ecstatic pleasure. Under the guise of poetry, he could put into eloquent language words that he could hardly have repeated to her otherwise.

She had been talking to Waldemar Waldron quite half an hour before Bernard Cheseigh missed her and discovered her whereabouts. He came swiftly toward her, alarm on his face. To him, seeing Reine standing there was like seeing a beautiful bird in the most deadly peril.

It was like a cold, chill shock to Reine when she saw Bernard Cheseigh advancing through the trees. Why couldn't he stay away? Why must he interrupt so charming a tete-a-tete? She was enjoying herself so well. She could scarcely conceal her pique and annoyance.

At the sound of the swift, approaching footsteps, Waldemar Waldron turned nonchalantly around; but when he saw who the intruder was his face paled. Yet a flash of defiance leaped into his eyes as the gaze of the two young men met, and held each other for one brief instant.

"Mr. Cheseigh," said Reine, flushing and smiling, "allow me to present you to—"

Bernard Cheseigh held up his white hand with a quick gesture.

"I will spare you that trouble by saying that we have met before," he said, sternly. "Will you take my arm, Miss Reine?" he said, ignoring Reine's companion completely. "The refreshments are being served."

Waldemar Waldron raised his straw hat, and with a smile and a bow, for which Bernard Cheseigh could have annihilated him, he walked away, and there was nothing else to do but walk back beside Bernard to the merry throng gathered around the white cloth which was being laid; but she was too bitterly angry to take the arm proffered her.

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (except 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $100 to $500 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the holder may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

—Council meets tonight.

—Things were humming in police circles Saturday afternoon and evening.

—Great Caesar, but won't there be something doing in Brock street rink Wednesday night!

—Smith's Falls team of the Federal League will play the goals here on Wednesday night.

—The American Cereal Co. on Saturday reduced the price of oats from 35c. to 34c. per bushel.

—M. A. W. Jacks, the horse buyer, shipped a carload of horses to Montreal Saturday afternoon.

—The monthly meeting of St. Luke's Men's Guild will be held this evening at the Guild rooms.

—The German Conversation Club met Saturday night at the home of Miss Morrow, 341 Weller street.

—The hockey boys' banquet will be held in the Oriental Hotel tonight, and promises to be a big success.

—Capt. Barrick accompanied Brigadier Turner on his visit here, and assisted in the services at the S.A. Barracks.

—Remember the free lecture to men only on the construction of the human body, etc., in the Sons of England Hall, March 16, at 8 p.m.

—Today the special committee appointed to look after The House of Refuge will meet Inspector Dr. Bruce-Smith in Lakefield, and look over the site.

—It is rumored that a man named McMullen has located a considerable deposit of silver bearing ore in the township of Belmont, near Havelock. His discovery was made whilst on a hunting trip.

—Peterboro's water rates are the lowest, of those charged in all cities or towns in Ontario excepting three, viz., Sarnia, Barry Sound and Walkerville. The reason for the last named town giving low water rates is obvious. Here is where "Club" and "Imperial" are manufactured.

—The Times had the pleasure of a call on Saturday from Mr. Hugh Cameron, of Toronto, who was in town on business. Mr. Cameron is head of the well-known firm of Messrs. Hugh Cameron & Co., manufacturers of steam fire engines, etc., and has the faculty of making scores of friends wherever he goes.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. Norman Jolliffe of This City Sang in Toronto.

Toronto Saturday Night says: At the Strolling Players' Matinee Musicale this afternoon, Madame Albertanti will graciously sing several selections, Mrs. Franklin Dawson will give some recitations and a promising baritone, Mr. Jolliffe, will sing. The soprano and contralto are professions, whose work is delightful, and I've heard very nice things about Mr. Jolliffe. Mr. R. Norman Jolliffe, baritone, a pupil of Herr Wilhelmj, sang during the past month at Whitby, Cobourg, Carleton and Peterboro, besides filling a number of local engagements. The press of these towns rose to highest terms of praise in his work.

Direful Threats to Reporters.

On Saturday night when the young man McKnight was arrested on evidently deemed that his case should be kept out of the local papers, but adopted the mistaken plan of issuing threats to accomplish his purpose. To quote this elegant, but somewhat sanctimonious language, he threatened to "kick the 'tripe' out of any reporter," who noted the facts of his arrest. Now Englishmen fond of that delicacy, peculiar to Albion, will easily understand that, whilst the young man's intentions towards reporters might seem sufficiently impressive from his point of view, reporters, although possessing many, though perhaps undiscovered good points are no natural producers of 'tripe.' As the wicked reporters, although sometimes amenable to civil requests, are not to be deterred from giving the news, by threats, and as they have incurred this gentleman's displeasure by inserting particulars of his case, severe funerals, accompanied by the temporary closing of the local offices during the obsequies, will probably be the order of the day this week.

Sample of Local Economy

A few days ago one of those local men who have taken out "Hawkers and peddlers' license," was heard, in his high pitched voice to say to another Peterborian, "Say ——, I have some beans that have lately been sick, kind o' running at the bills. My wife says they are 'scrupy.' I don't like to use them myself, and I guess they are bound to die anyhow, so I think I will just kill and sell them round town!" The same man a few weeks ago, went into a local grocery store and said to the proprietor, "—— Mrs —— is not very well I was to get a few dozen eggs for her. I want you would send me some for her and I will return them next week." The eggs were handed over and a few days later on, Mr. Peddler brought to the grocer a similar number of eggs, but upon the case of a sick husband's, could open as he evidently found the would not sell to any body within the city.

A Heavy Load to Carry.

Along with dyspepsia come nervousness and general ill-health. Why? Because a disordered stomach does not permit the food to be properly digested, and its products assimilated by the system. The blood is charged with poisons which come from this disordered digestion, and in turn the nerves are not fed on good, red blood, and we see symptoms of nervousness, dizziness and general breakdown. It is not hard work, nor over physical exertion that does it, but poor stomach work. With poor, thin blood the body is not protected against the attack of germs of grip, bronchitis and consumption. Fortify the body at once with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—a rare combination of native medicinal roots without a particle of alcohol or dangerous habit-forming drugs.

A little book of extracts, from prominent medical authorities extolling every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will be mailed free to any address on request by postal card or letter. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents and he went to great expense, both in time and in money, to search out these peculiar properties for rendering them both efficient and safe for tonic, alterative and rebuilding agents.

The enormous popularity of "Golden Medical Discovery" is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medicinal value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurances of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of so-called secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret one either. This fact puts it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowles and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and invigorate, stomach, liver and bowels. Much imitated but never equaled. Sugar-coated and easy to take as candy. One to three a dose.

Death of Mrs. Guy.

Mrs. Wm. Guy, of 283 Mark street, died at her home on Friday afternoon. A sad feature in connection with her death is that her husband was absent at Parry Harbor. He was at once telegraphed for, and arrived home yesterday. Deceased's maiden name was Minnie Wright, and she was about thirty-eight years of age, and is survived by her husband and two daughters, the eldest being eleven years of age.

COBWEB BRAINS

How to Clean Out Your Attic.

From a military post out West comes the story of a lady who frankly admits that she was once a coffee drunkard:

"For 30 years I drank coffee, although I knew that it was harmful to me. I suffered from periodical nervous headaches which the physician said were caused by the use of coffee. I was indeed a confirmed 'coffee drunkard.'

"I suffered so intensely from headaches as to require the service of a nurse. I could find no tablets or powders that would give me any permanent relief and I was compelled to just let the headaches take their course. Each attack used to last for a day or two.

"After I married and had the care of a family I found I was becoming a nervous wreck, and the strain became unendurable. Something had to be done, and I concluded to try Postum Food Coffee, giving up the old kind altogether.

"I made it rich and strong, according to directions, and drank it with plenty of good cream. It proved to be delicious. It took several days for the coffee poison to work out of my system, but I persisted and won out, and great was my reward! Renewed energy and vigor came to me and I improved so that my neighbors observed and remarked upon it.

"During all the year that I have used Postum I have not had a single headache, proof conclusive that my old agonies came from coffee alone. I can do all the work I want with perfect ease and freedom from exhausting fatigue, and am a strong, healthy woman, for which blessed change Postum and right living get the credit." # DOMINION PERMANENT LOAN COMPANY

Fifteenth Annual Report

The fifteenth regular Annual meeting of The Dominion Permanent Loan Company was held at the office of the Company, on Wednesday, March 7th, 1906. A large number of shareholders were present. The President, the Hon. J. R. Stratton, occupied the chair, Mr. F. M. Holland, Manager, acting as Secretary. The President presented the following report of the Directors for the year ending December 31st, 1905:—

Your Directors herewith submit the Fifteenth Annual Report of The Dominion Permanent Loan Company, together with a statement of the accounts for the twelve months ending December 31st, 1905, duly certified to by the Auditors, both as to the correctness of the accounts and the satisfactory result of their inspection of the securities of the Company.

Your Directors were pleased to make note that active employment has been found for the funds of the Company during the past year, the demand for satisfactory loans being amply sufficient to call into requisition the available funds of the Company.

During the past year the Company has declared and paid dividends amounting to $69,427.40, and has transferred $40,000.00 to the credit of the Reserve Fund of the Company, besides paying such dividends and transferring the above mentioned amount to Reserve Fund, and writing off of office furniture and premises, $1,058.85, there remains to the credit of Profit and Loss for future distribution, $19,089.89.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

J. R. STRATTON,
President.

(Signed) HARRY VIGEON, F.C.A.
(Signed) T. N. STEVENS.

Toronto, February 14th, 1906.

Hon. Mr. Stratton, President, in moving the adoption of the report, said:

In moving the adoption of the Fifteenth Annual Report of The Dominion Permanent Loan Company, I have pleasure in submitting the statement of the Directors, from the report of the General Manager of the Company, with the certificate of the Auditors appointed by the shareholders.

This statement shows that the surplus of assets over liabilities, amounting to $1,454,429.42, is a substantial advance over that of the previous year, when the figures stood at $1,441,676.30, an increase of $11,753.12. The net income resulting from the operations of the year under consideration amounted to $245,068.08, and with a balance of $13,546.25 brought forward from last year, makes a total of $258,614.33. After deducting from this amount the interest on deposits and debentures, writing $1,058.85 off office furniture, and payment of dividends, it will be seen that there remained a balance of $59,-089.89, permitting of the transfer of $40,000 to Reserve Fund, making the total of this fund $200,000, and leaving $19,089.89 for further distribution.

With satisfactory demands for the funds of the Company at profitable rates, with a gratifying strengthening of the Reserve Fund, and with the other encouraging features the statement suggests, there is no reason for doubting that the Company will continue to share in the advantage incident to and arising from the great prosperity which promises to be a feature of a future of many years. Even in the short space of time from one annual meeting to another, we can all note the advanced position of prominence Canada assumes in the worlds of finance, industrial activities, commerce and general enterprise. Not only is our population being rapidly added to by a good and thrifty quantity of new subjects, and not only is foreign capital coming to us increased, and increasing, recognition of this country as a profitable field of investment, but the energy and enterprise of our own people are putting on foot important enterprises which the resources of the country justify. The expenditure of such large amounts as will be required, and the resulting development of the natural resources of the country, the stimulus that will be given to the farming, and every other form of industry, will create conditions throughout the whole country favorable to the profitable operations of such an organization as the Dominion Permanent Loan Company, which can hardly avoid reaping its full share of the business benefits that will largely abound.

While in London, England, the late Vice-President of the Company, Mr. T. P. Coffee, died. He was more closely associated with the General Manager in the management of the Company than any other member of the Board, which makes his death the more to be regretted. The vacancy has not yet been filled, and that is a matter that will require attention today.

I have pleasure in moving the adoption of the report.

Mr. D. W. Karn, in seconding the motion for the adoption of the report, said:

It gives me much pleasure to second the motion for the adoption of the report of the Manager of the Company. There are grounds for gratification in the plentiful employment to be found for the Company's funds, in the dividends paid, in the substantial addition and satisfactory magnitude of the Reserve Fund, and in the very favorable conditions that prevail and promise to improve for future and prosperous operations.

I have great pleasure in seconding the motion for the adoption of the report.

The report, after some complimentary remarks by several shareholders, was unanimously adopted.

The following Directors were then elected:—Hon. J. R. Stratton, President Trusts and Guarantee Company, Limited; D. W. Karn, President of the D. W. Karn Company, Woodstock; C. Kloepfer, Director, Traders' Bank of Canada; William Findlay, Director, Winnipeg Fire Insurance Company; George H. Cowan, K.C., Vancouver, B.C.

After the election of the Auditors, Messrs. H. Vigeon and T. N. Stevens, the meeting adjourned.

At a subsequent meeting of the Directors, Hon. J. R. Stratton was elected President, and Mr. D. W. Karn, Vice-President.

City Will Have a New Public School

Council Agrees to School Board's Proposition--Will Commence Building in April--The Rate Is 17 1-2 Mills--Last Year's Surplus $4,000.

The city fathers met in three consecutive sessions last night.

There were present Mayor Henry Best and Aldermen R. F. McWilliams, Johnston, Adams, Elliott, Graham, Duncan, Ball, Hicks and Mason.

BRANTFORD ENGINE PURCHASED

The Fire, Water & Light Committee met first, and decided to purchase a new fire engine from the Waterous Co of Brantford.

NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The Committee of the Whole next met in session with the School Board, who sought the corporation's sanction to the erection of a $35,000 public school in the south end of the city.

In this matter the Council had one of two courses to pursue, viz.; either to pass a by-law to borrow the requisite sum for present public school requirements or to ask a vote of the ratepayers on the question. The latter course would cause unnecessary delay and mayor very much of a farce, as should the ratepayers vote down such a by-law the Board are empowered under legislative authority to demand from the city sufficient monies to meet necessary public school accommodation.

The following members of the School Board were present:; Messrs. W. G. Ferguson, chairman; Trustees D. Dumble, John Crane, Dr. Morrison, W. H. Hall, Wm. Argyle, R. F. Ackerman, R. Fair, and W. G. Morrow, secretary.

Mr. W. G. Ferguson explained that the Board of Education are a unit in asserting six acres E. land, owned by the Ontario Bank, on the west side of the extension of George St., to Park street, which lot can be purchased for $4,000. This will furnish more land than required for school purposes, but will not cost any more than a lot on La Plante's, one-half the size a few blocks higher up. The lot in question would furnish ample play grounds, and a very desirable park for south end citizens. It is proposed to erect a 12-room school, finish off eight rooms for present purposes and the remaining four rooms at the top of the building when needed. This could be done for $35,000, whereas, an eight-roomed school completed now would cost $30,000 and the extension for four additional rooms later on would mean another $8,000. These figures show that the Board's present plan means an eventual saving of $3,000.

Mr. Wm. Pringle, chairman of the Board's Property Committee, estimated the land for this school at $1,000, a 12-roomed building with eight rooms completed now at $31,000; architect's fees and furnishing rooms $2,000; additional four rooms when needed, $6,000. He went on to say that our schools were never more largely attended than at present; the North (Ward school is full, George street school is also full; the Central school comfortably filled, the East Ward building not so largely attended perhaps as the rest. In the West Ward school, four rooms have 194 pupils, give 49 or 50 scholars to each teacher. There are nine rooms in the South Central, some rooms being taxed to the extent of over 50 pupils. By an overcrowding of rooms the city is losing money as it is impossible for teachers to teach; they merely "Keep school." It is proposed to take 150 scholars from the South Central school, and fill four rooms in the new structure, and at Easter there will be a large influx of pupils into the primary grades, and they have to be accommodated. It is safe to estimate that by September the new building can be ready for occupancy, and five or six rooms at once filled, without taking into consideration the probable closing of the Mission school. Mr. Pringle argued that should the south end grow as indications point, 12 school rooms there will be taxed within three years. Continuing, he pointed out that unless the city extends George street south as contemplated, the Ontario Bank property for school purposes would of course not be utilized. The Board intends to take the III. Book classes out of the West Ward school, and use that building for lower grades only. In conclusion he contended that the interest on the necessary debentures would amount to $1400 a year, from this $600 rental for the George street school, the lease of which expires this year, might be subtracted, thus saving but $800 a year for the ratepayers to pay for the new commodious buildings.

Mr. W. H. Hall concurred in Mr. Pringle's remarks and added that better work can be accomplished in one graded schools, than when children are sent to different schools. Then the aim in both Canada and the States today is concentration, by which a saving is secured in heat, principals and janitors. If the Council support the Board in this matter, work can be begun on the new building by April and finished in September. The Separate school cost $30,000 in land and building, with only six rooms, and an assembly room on the top flat, and surely Mr. Hill urged, it cannot be said we are estimating too high in asking $35,000 for a 12-room structure.

Mr. Dumble offered that the best results have been secured by the Winnipeg Board, and those of other enlightened places, in the erection of 12-roomed schools. Then it is conceded important that ample play grounds for children should be provided, and New York city is spending millions to this end. He felt convinced that should the city approve of the Board's plans the ratepayers would acquiesce in their action.

COUNCIL AGREES.

At the special meeting of the Council which followed,

Ald. Adams moved, seconded by Ald. Elliott,—That the request of the School Board for $35,000 for a new public school in the south ward be approved of, and a by-law be prepared to borrow by issuing debentures, $35,000 for that purpose — Carried.

The Council met in special session at nine o'clock.

HIGH LICENSE.

W. H. Armstrong objected to a license fee of $50 for peddling apples. This was referred to the Finance Committee.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL.

In discussing the question of securing an isolation hospital, Ald. Adams pointed out that two years ago, when the Council were planning the erection of such an institution, they had been asked by St. Joseph's hospital, to take no further action in the matter as that institution would take contagious and infectious cases at a fixed charge. The Nicholls hospital also acquiesced in this, and the town thought such a course would be the cheapest in the end. This matter is still in abeyance, pending action of the Provincial authorities.

LICENSE FOR SALE OF CIGARETTES.

A by-law to license and regulate the sale of cigarettes was introduced by Ald. Ball. A fee of $50 was provided for.

It was offered that the Council cannot license the sale of cigarettes in hotels, and Ald. Mason said he would like to see the sale of these goods prohibited altogether.

Ald. Ball remarked that it is not from the big tobacco dealers boys get their cigarettes, but at stores in the outlying districts. Tobacconists tell him they don't want to handle these goods at all. His idea was to stop the sale of cigarettes altogether; if a $50 license fee doesn't have the desired result this year, the corporation might raise the license next year, and so on until the trade is stamped out.

It was generally argued that this license would have no effect whatever on the hotels, which are safeguarded under their present license fee, and Ald. Adams opined that a $50 license would simply mean driving the sale of cigarettes into the hotels, a result not at all desireable.

This by-law was shelved pending legal advice as to whether the Council can charge the hotels a license to sell cigarettes or not.

STREET WATERING.

A by-law to provide for watering certain streets, and to impose a special rate for the same, passed its several readings. This by-law is practically the same as last year.

HEALTH OFFICER'S SALARY.

A by-law fixing the salary of Dr. Jas. Bingham, Medical Health Officer, at $400 a year, passed its three readings. This means an increase of $25.

THE RATE, 17 1-2 MILLS.

A. L. Mason submitted the rate for Council's approval, and argued that while it may be policy to keep up the rate when times are good, and apply any surpluses to permanent improvements, it is not just to ask the present generation to pay all the cost of benefits to be derived by those to follow. This year's rate should be especially reduced in the face of the increased assessment, last year under the new act.

The Mayor—"The increased debenture debt has been out of all proportion the last few years to the increase in population and assessment. He did not think it good policy to load up future generations with a heavy debt unduly."

Ald. McWilliams thought even 17 1-2 mills were a liberal estimate for this year's calls upon the corporation's revenue. And we are proposing to spend $4,000 more than last year, and last year we exceeded our appropriations by $12,000. It seems to me this should be a question of whether 17 1-2 mills is not too high a rate for our requirements.

Ald. Hicks argued that if the rate is reduced to relieve the increase for assessment, such action would be commendable. But a half mill on the town rate means $3,800, and reducing the rate a half-mill means taking the $4,000 surplus of last year and giving it back in a half-mill reduction this year; all of which is considered to be poor business policy. Any surplus from an 18-mill rate might be better applied in stopping the issuing of debentures to that amount.

Ald. Mason in reply to Ald. Hicks's argument said that it might reasonably be argued that the rate last year should have been but 17 1-2 mills in order not to create any surplus at all. But it would not be good financing to run too close.

Ald. Hicks did not object to a surplus having accrued last year, but reiterated his argument that the $4,000 surplus of last year, could be better used to economize in issuing debentures. He would support even a 19-mill rate if assured that it would meet all requirements. While he doubted this, still he agreed that a 17 1-2 mill rate would be a safe one, with last year's $4,000 surplus to fall back on if necessary.

His Worship moved, seconded by Ald. Graham,—That the rate be 18 mills.

Ald. Mason moved in amendment, seconded by Ald. Johnston,—That the rate be fixed at 17 1-2 mills.

The vote resulted in a tie, and Ald. McWilliams, who was in the chair, voted for the rate being fixed at 17 1-2 mills, which accordingly clinched the argument.

A by-law was then passed, fixing the rate for 1906 at 17 1-2 mills.

POLICE COMMISSIONERS.

Ald. Hicks moved, seconded by Ald Mason,—That Judge Weller be paid $100 a year to act as police commissioner—Carried.

Ald. Mason moved, seconded by Ald. Hicks,—That the Mayor's allowance be increased $100.—Carried.

The Council then adjourned.

THE OTTAWA DEPUTATION

President of Board of Trade Makes Explanation.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I want to say a few words in reference to the action of the City Council on Friday night last regarding the resolution from the Board of Trade re memorial to be presented to the Minister of Railways and Canals by the deputation from this city and district. I think the Council are supersensitive about their dignity as the Board of Trade had no intention whatever of depriving from the promotion of this deputation in fact there is no member of the Board of Trade but would like the City Council to get everything due to it.

It is recognized by almost everyone that the memorial which was presented to the Ontario Minister of Education was admirable in every way, being short, clear, and explicit and that memorial was prepared by the committee appointed by the City Council, Board of Education and the Board of Trade. The question of the Trent Valley Waterways is a much larger one than the establishment of the Normal school here, and of very much more importance to this city and district, hence the memorial to be presented at Ottawa should be as perfect in all respects as it is possible to be made, quoting facts and figures, etc., and a joint committee of the City Council and Board of Trade, acting with Mr. Hall, our member, who has devoted a good deal of time to the study of this questions and is well up on it, was felt that the Board of Trade suggested by its resolution.

Yours truly,
D. HUGHES-CHARLES,
President Board of Trade.

GIRL SENT HOME

McKnight's Girl, Pemley Sent to Orillia by Police.

Yesterday morning P. C. Adams, acting chief of police, sent back to Orillia, her home, the young girl named Pemley, whom the young man McKnight was alleged to have brought here and subsequently, when drunk, to have abused.

The girl, who is not bad looking, and fairly well dressed, has had her board paid for the past two weeks by McKnight, with whom she seems to be infatuated.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Before opening the business of yesterday's court, the Magistrate remarked to the large crowd present that he could not and would not do police court business in private. He would not stand for any private disposal of cases for or by any one. People must not expect to come to his private residence and try to get his ear in private. This would lead to misconceptions by people who did not understand the full circumstances of the cases.

His Worship next called up a boy named McIntee, who had laid a complaint against a local merchant for non-payment of wages. The boy was called to the desk and handed $1.75, which was sent by the merchant to the Magistrate. The boy claimed that he was still owed 25 cents, but His Worship let it go and handed the boy his money.

Gordon Cox was accused of having, on the 6th of March, committed an assault against an old man names Jas. Farley. Mr. Farley said as he was going home on March 6th, the boy Cox put his hands against his breast and knocked him down, hurting his knee. Cox asked for a delay, as he had engaged Mr. Kerr to represent him. The Magistrate, however, would not stand for a delay. Cox said he and his friend Moncrief were passing Mr. Farley, when his shoulder bumped against Farley. He did not knock the old man off the walk. Farley got off the pavement and picked up stones to throw at him. Farley offered Cox the next day to drop all prosecution if Cox would give him $2; this he refused to pay, when Farley came down to 25 cents in his demands, which he (Cox) refused to pay. A boy named Moncrief next went into the box and corroborated the previous witness' evidence. To Mr. Kerr, who, in the meantime, had arrived, Moncrief said Cox never had his hands out of his pockets, and that Cox did not push the old man off the sidewalk.

His Worship said people should give way on the sidewalk, when passing. It is nothing but absolute rowdyism for two young men to knock an old man over 80 years of age off the pavement. He fined Cox $2, with $2 00 costs, to be paid in 10 days.

Joseph Rickerby was charged with having appropriated, during the month of March, two iron bedsteads and sundry other articles of household ware, the property of the Metropolitan Manufacturing Co. Mr. Wood, for the Crown, was not ready to proceed, and Mr. Kerr, acting for the prisoner, also wanted an enlargement. The prisoner was then remanded until this morning.

A young man of this city was charged with abduction of a young girl named Lottie Sullivan from the home of her parents without consent of said parents. Mr. O'Connell appeared as private prosecutor for complainante. Mr. Wood asked an enlargement as he had to attend another court at 11 o'clock. Mr. Kerr, acting for the prisoner, objected to this, as the case had already been enlarged. His Worship notified all witnesses present that, without further notice, they should be present at 3 p.m. the same day.

Mr. Wood, in consenting to enlargement of the case, brought up the subject of bail. Defendant had been allowed out on $300 bail. Mr. Kerr asked, as the signers of the young man's bail were not present, to allow him to go on his own recognizance, as he "was not going to skip the town." The Magistrate consented to this. Mr. Wood remarked that the punishment of this crime, if proven, was five years in prison.

LATER.

Mrs. Sullivan, the first witness, said she was mother of Lottie Sullivan, the girl in question. They live at 413 Stewart street. Mr. Sullivan is out of town. Her daughter Lottie has been living at home. She was 16 on the 6th of last November. Lottie was with her sister on Thursday night and at the family residence Friday morning. Her daughter Lottie has been working at the pea factory sorting peas. She came in about 7.30 Friday morning, alone, and remained about 20 minutes. Then she went out of the front door and drove away with defendant. When she went out her (Lottie's) sister went to the front door and saw him go away. Defendant was sitting in front in a buggy, and when witness went to the door defendant then drove away. She (witness) told Lottie not to go out. She said she was "going down town." She recognized defendant when she saw him, having seen him at the door before. Had never had any conversation with defendant before, but had been told he used to come to the gate with her. Witness was told by her daughter Mary that Lottie had gone with defendant. She then went to McCollum's livery barn on Water street to enquire, and found defendant had hired the rig there. McCollum advised her to go and lay a complaint with the police. Did not see her daughter again until defendant left her at the gate that afternoon. She saw defendant in front of the house when he brought the girl home and ordered him from about the place. Lottie is away in Toronto now with her sister who is working there. She knew of her daughter going away to Toronto, as she (Lottie) telephoned Mrs. Bates from the station on Saturday. Mr Sullivan, Lottie's father, is away in the lumber camps working. Lottie got a subpoena to appear in court, but it was made out in the name of Margaret. Lottie has been a good little girl, as far as she knows.

To Mr. McWilliams, defendant has not been going with Lottie for over a month with her knowledge. Only saw defendant the one time at the gate. She did not ask Lottie anything about defendant. When Lottie went out of the house that morning she went out with Gladys Forsyth, a girl who was then boarding with the witness. All she wants is to be sure that nothing wrong took place. If it can be shown that defendant never insulted the girl it was all she wants.

The Magistrate here broke in by saying that when a young girl goes from home, with her clothes, with a young man who is drunk, it is time for a mother to interfere.

Mary Sullivan, the next witness, a sister of Lottie, older than the latter, said that on Tuesday morning about 7.30 Lottie came home, after being all night with her sister. She asked Lottie where she was going and got no reply. Gladys Forsyth, who boards at their house, told her Lottie had taken her clothes with her. She then told this to her mother. Saw defendant drive up when he first came. Lottie told her she was going down street. She (witness) had met defendant a couple of times before.

Gladys Forsyth then gave evidence. She had boarded for some time at Mrs. Sullivan's. She had been working with Lottie at the pea works, and met her that morning early. Early that morning Lottie told her defendant was going to take her for a drive. Saw defendant drive up, as Lottie was dressing. Whilst he was waiting for Lottie to dress, witness took a drive with him. Lottie then got in the rig. Defendant took the two of them for a drive. Defendant, at that time, had been drinking, but not exactly drunk. Defendant drove them about several streets of the city and then took them to the Allen House on Simcoe street. He went into the hotel, and they took a drive about town. After a while defendant got in the rig, about 10 o'clock, good and drunk. She (witness) got out after a time and went to work. Lottie had lied to her about there being no work at the pea factory that morning. She next saw Lottie about 1.40 driving past Bates. Before leaving home Lottie packed up a waist and a night-gown, saying she was going to leave home with defendant. She said she was going to Great Falls, Montana. Defendant had, Lottie said, asked her the night before if she would go with him.

To Mr. McWilliams, she had known defendant for some time, as he had walked home with both of them frequently. It was common talk that defendant and Lottie were keeping company.

Mr. Wood, acting for the Crown, said he had just learned of two important witnesses, whom he wanted subpenaed. The case was adjourned till Friday at 10 o'clock. Mr. Wood asked to have the bail increased from the original $300. Mr. McWilliams contended that were the prisoner committed for trial it would be all right, but in case of an adjournment he contended that the same bail should stand. The Magistrate placed the bail at $300 by the prisoner and $100 each by two bondsmen.

HORSES FRIGHTENED

Mr. Geo. A. Reid of Smith Dragged By Frightened Horses.

Yesterday shortly after the welcome stroke of 12 noon, liberated the thousands of our local toilers, an accident, originating on Simcoe street, near the G.T.R. tracks, came near to ending in serious consequences for Mr. Geo A. Reid of Smith.

It seems that a team of spirited horses driven by him, took fright at an engine standing on the tracks near Simcoe street, and made a dash for liberty. They reared up and fell back onto the buggy, badly demolishing it. The thoroughly alarmed animals, by a supreme effort, broke away from the vehicle but Mr. Reid being onto the lines and was dragged some distance, receiving painful injuries. The team meanwhile, to part the lines from Mr. Reid's hands, and fled, however, they were stopped at the corner of Aylmer and Simcoe streets. Mr. Reid had an almost miraculous escape from serious injury.

TO PROTECT GAME

Peterboro is to Have a Branch of the O. F. & G. P. Association.

It is well known this city is in the heart of a splendid game county so it will interest our readers to learn that a branch of the Ontario Fish and Game Protection Association will be organized in Peterboro shortly.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., has had some correspondence with the officers of the central body at Toronto, with the result that Mr. Kelly Evans, the secretary on the association, and President Adams will be here in a few days to organize a branch. It was expected that they would be in Peterboro on Friday night, but arrangements are not yet completed and they may not be able to be here that night, but if not, they will be here some night next week.

Messrs Adams and Evans will make a tour of the principal towns in the vicinity and will visit Port Hope, Lindsay, Lakefield and several other places.

THE EDITOR

Explains How to Keep up Mental and Physical Vigor.

A New Jersey editor writes:

"A long indulgence in improper food brought on a condition of nervous dyspepsia, nearly three years ago, so severe that I had to quit work entirely. I put myself on a strict regimen of Grape-Nuts food, with plenty of outdoor exercise and in a few months found my stomach so far restored that the process of digestion gave me pleasure instead of distress.

"It also built up my strength so that I was able to resume my business, which is onerous, as I not only edit my own paper but also do a great deal of outside writing.

"I find that the Grape-Nuts diet enables me to write with greater vigor than ever before, and without the feeling of brain-fag with which I used to be troubled. As to bodily vigor—I can and do walk miles every day without fatigue—a few squares used to weary me before I began to live on Grape-Nuts!" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

The Hockey Banquet A Grand Success

More Than One Hundred of Peterboro's Representative Citizens do Honor to the Intermediate Champions O. H. A. Amid Uproarious Cheering and Applause.

Last night the local hockey team a graceful compliment to Whitecroft. He had good reason to be proud of the recognition the citizens of Peterboro paid them. The large dining room of the Oriental Hotel, was a blaze of colors, illuminated by a universal display of national flags. Mine Host George Graham had added one more laurel to the honor he deserves for a persistent and continued assistance to local sports of all kinds. Mr. Graham had spared neither expense or trouble to make last night's banquet a success. The dining room was simply as far as the walls and windows were concerned a mass of the national emblem. Across the lofty ceilings were festoons of flags of all nations.

The chair was very ably filled by Hon. J. R. Stratton, with Mr. T. E. Bradburn, M.P.P., to his right, and Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., to the left. The menu card gotten out especially for the occasion, was most appropriate and beautifully executed. The initial page was printed in gold and white, and testified to the "raison d'etre" of the occasion. It was entitled, "Citizens' Complimentary Banquet to the Peterboro Hockey Team, Intermediate O.H.A. Champions, 1906. Monday Evening March Twelfth." It might also be noted that the supporting pillars of the dining room were entwined with the colors of the local hockey team.

Shortly after the fish had been served, Mr. W. McIlroy, the popular local uptown ticket agent of the C. P.R., was called upon and responded with his much appreciated son, "Heroes and Gentlemen."

The evening's program or menu, was twelve pages long, and contained life-like photo engravures of Peterboro's champions, viz., Messrs.

Goal—Wasson.
Point—Glover.
Cover-point—Crowley.
Rover—Whitecroft.
Center—Morgan.
Spare—Moore.

At the rear of the dining room a piano was specially placed, and contributed essentially to the success of the evening, both as accompanying music to the songs, and as instrumental music in the meantime. Three tables were placed, two at right angles to that presided over by the chairman.

To note those present would simply be to mention those of our citizens well known as advocates and patrons of sport in Peterboro. One point above all others that should not be overlooked, at this largely attended, but still strictly informal gathering, was the admirable playing and accompaniments of Miss Graham, who in most effective manner presided at the piano.

THE PROGRAM.

As regards the proceedings of the evening, apart from the banquet, the program runs:

Song—W. McIlroy.
Recitation—W. Bruce.
Song—A. P. McDonald.
Song—J. Crane.
Chant—W. S. Davidson.
Song—W. H. Denham.
Song—H. W. Morphet.
Recitation—George Lynch.
Song—Alex. Elliott.
"God Save the King."

The first link in the evening's intellectual entertainment was a good Scotch story told by Mr. Farrell of the O.H.A. Executive, which was well received.

Mr. R. M. Roy next took a flashlight picture of the meeting, which will doubtless prove a great success.

Mr. John Crane, in good voice, gave a vocal selection that was much appreciated, entitled "My Aim Folk."

The chairman, Hon. J. R. Stratton, proposed the health of the King, which, it is unnecessary to say, was drank with enthusiasm and cheers.

The chairman conveyed the regret expressed by the Mayor over his unavoidable absence, owing to an important meeting of the City Council. Mr. Stratton, in well chosen words testified to the good work done by the hockey team. Although the hockey club have brought home marks of their prowess in other places, any club that has visited this city has been used well. Keen competition develops true manhood. Our young men should be able to give and take hard knocks. (We all congratulate our club on their winning the intermediate championship. He was glad to have the president of the O.H.A. present. Peterboro is known from the Atlantic to the Pacific. Such an organization as the hockey club will help to advertise our city abroad as well as at home.

Our players have had their ups and downs and now they are up.

The chairman then went on to give a detailed history of our hockey club to the present year when they have won the championship. Mr. Stratton then introduced the president of the O.H.A., who would present a medal to each of the players. And Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P., he continued, would present another token of esteem to the players. Mr. Stratton further said he had received a parcel from Mr. H. Adams for the team. The chairman wound up by proposing the health of the Peterboro Hockey Club. This toast was received with uproarious applause.

Mr. Darrell, President of the O.H.A., amid cheers, known as "He's a jolly good fellow," and "He's a Daisy," then got to his feet, and introducing his speech by a well-told Scotch story, commencing a bear fight. The present season has been a good hockey fight. The speaker then paid a high tribute to the champions, comparing them with the winners of the Olympian games.

As we had to go to press before the complete proceedings of the evening could be given in detail, we will simply say that last night's banquet was one of the most generally representative and enthusiastic that Peterboro has ever seen. Mr. Graham who returned a large percentage of the money paid for the banquet tickets towards the gold rings given the team, proved a good host; the chairman and others connected with the banquet, had good reason for congratulation and all present had a good time.

DELEGATES ARRIVING

Leading Officers of Order of Canadian Home Circles Have Arrived.

Mr. J. M. Foster, of Toronto; Mr. P. M. Pattison, Grand Organizer, and other Supreme officers of the Order of Canadian Home Circles, the annual meeting to which body opens in the court house, this afternoon at two o'clock, have arrived in the city. A large number of the 300 delegates expected, are already on hand, and many more will arrive by the morning's train. There is every evidence that the convention will be one of the largest this city has seen and one of the most successful the order has had.

GOING WEST

The historic advice of Horace Greeley, will be remembered by many of our readers, when they learn that about twenty-five local residents will take the second settlers excursion to the Canadian Northwest, leaving the C.P.R. station this morning and connecting with the settlers' special at Toronto, which leaves at nine o'clock tonight. Among those leaving this city will be:—Mr. and Mrs. J. McMillan, for Wolsley, Assa.; A. F. Sherring and H. Burnham, Strathcona. Mr. and Mrs. John Messer, Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. M. Edgerton, Souris, Man.; E. T. Stewart, Oxbow, Assa.; Caton Duggan, Calgary, Alta.; W. Gray Calgary, Alta.; Dan Roscoro and family, R. Orr and Fred Weir, Manitoba.

MORE STABBING

It is about time, in view of the many cases tried in the local police court and the reiterated warnings of the magistrate, that our Italian colony should get it firmly hammered in the cogs of their thinking machines, that the use of the knife has got to be severely put out on settling disputes in the land of the Maple. That some of them do not seem to comprehend that either fists or law courts must settle their disputes is proven by the fact that yesterday afternoon, Acting Chief Adams arrested Rafale Sandraphano, an Italian, on the charge of trying to use a knife on another native of the land of polysyllabic nomenclature, Michele Lucadio, 69 Hunter, on Bethune street, yesterday afternoon. Sandraphano was brought up yesterday afternoon at three o'clock, and was remanded until Thursday.

HORSE THIEF WANTED

Yesterday Acting Chief Adams received a letter from Mr. Silas H. Carpenter, chief of the Montreal Detective Force, which, in part, reads as follows:

To the Chief of Police, Peterboro:

I hold a warrant for the arrest of A. R Cline on a charge of horse stealing. Cline is an American, 5 ft. 9 in. in height, 160 lbs. in weight; full, round face, sallow complexion. He deserted from the American army after being with it in the Philippine Islands and elsewhere. Has been a cowboman in Montreal until two weeks ago Sunday, when he left taking a horse belonging to his employer. Wore a dark overcoat with belt and black stiff hat when seen last. Claims to be a veterinary surgeon.

S. H. CARPENTER,
Chief of Detectives.

Pale and Anxious

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when bounding strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 161 King St. East, Toronto, who says:

"After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would awaken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At last in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

PRIVATE CARS

Ten years ago no one dreamed of the enormous expansion of this strange system of private ownership of railroad rossling stock. Examine almost any freight train today on any railroad in the country, and it will be found that one or more of the cars found that one or more of the cars, often every car in the train, bears not the name of the transportation company, whose lawful obligation it is to provide the necessaries of commerce, but the name and flaring advertisements of private persons who are not common carriers at all. Today over 300 private freight-car lines are in flourishing existence, operating 130,000 cars. And the number includes not only stock and refrigerator cars, but all sorts of curious by-developments, private cars for breakfast-foods, beer, furniture, farm machinery, eggs, stone, lumber, lard, carriages, and many other commodities. Trains there are today which resemble nothing so much as a flying bill-board, advertising everything from "delicious sausage" to "perfect pickles."

The largest single owner of private cars on the continent is Armour, of Chicago, who controls a dozen or more car lines, and not only fruit and meat cars, but many tank, cattle, and even ordinary box cars—involving altogether a business of a magnitude difficult to conceive. Of refrigerator cars alone he has over 14,000, representing an investment of some $14,000,000. Nearly every great trust is an owner of private cars; that is the reason, as I shall show, why the trust is a trust and why it continues a trust. The Standard Oil Company owns thousands of private tank cars, and the Steel Trust thousands of ore and coal cars. Not included among the private freight-car owners we have also the Sleeping-Car Trust owning thousands of Pullman cars which are in reality private cars, and the Express Trust with thousands of express cars.

Armour and his associates in the Beef Trust, as the largest owner of private cars, and perhaps the worst offenders—though we haven't yet had the Pullman-Car Trust, the express companies, the brewers, and others in the full light of publicity—will furnish the best illustration of the peculiar operation and effect of the private-car system. What is true of Armour is true in greater or less degree of less degree of every private-car owner.

An Opportunity to Invest in the Stock of a Well-Managed and Rich Mining Property

(Staff Correspondence.)

I am often asked the question—does mining pay? Or, taken as a whole, does it pay to invest in mining stocks? Colorado's richest banker, David H. Moffatt, worth $50,000,000, says: "Gold mining is the surest way to fortune." Mr. Moffatt should and probably does know what he is talking about.

Opportunity lies equally within the reach of all. The power to see it is the difference in men. Tremendous fortunes have been made out of mines, both in this and other countries. The great multi-millionaires of Europe accumulated their fortunes through their foresight and enterprise in making mining investments, while on this continent the following examples can be given as an illustration of the results to be attained by investment in good mining properties:

|---|---|
| W. R. Hearst estate | $40,000,000 |
| C. P. Huntington | 25,000,000 |
| Leland Stanford | 25,000,000 |
| James G. Fair | 25,000,000 |
| W. S. Stratton | 15,000,000 |
| Charles Crocker estate | 22,000,000 |
| Peter Donahue | 20,000,000 |
| J. B. Haggin | 20,000,000 |
| Claus Spreckels | 20,000,000 |
| Sharon estate | 20,000,000 |
| Mark Hopkins | 21,000,000 |
| Thomas F. Walsh | 20,000,000 |
| John W. Mackay | 10,000,000 |
| James G. Flood | 10,000,000 |

In 1892 the Independence Mine at Cripple Creek, Colorado, was offered for sale at $100,000. It was sold in 1898 for $10,000,000.

In 1897 Morris Yensel, of Moscow, Idaho, a merchant tailor, received in payment for a suit of clothes 5,000 shares of Le Roi Gold Mining Company's stock. In 1897 he received for same $5 a share and accrued dividends, amounting to $40,000.

Calumet and Hecla Company's stock sold originally for ten cents a share. It was sold a year ago for $560 a share.

Granite Mountain Mining Company's stock sold originally for ten cents a share. It went to $65 a share.

The Molly Gibson Mining Company's stock sold originally for ten cents a share. It went to $13 a share.

The St. John Del Rey mine has paid in dividends $15,750,000.

The Calumet and Hecla Mining Company has paid in dividends $87,850,000.

The Boston and Montana has paid $25,475,000.

The Ontario mine has paid in dividends $12,570,000.

The Quincy mine has paid in dividends $13,570,000.

The Anaconda mine has paid in dividends $19,950,000.

The Granite Mountain mine has paid in dividends $13,120,000.

That there are equally as favorable opportunities today for making money in mining as the above, is amply proven by the reports from all the great camps of the West of the many rich strikes that are being made.

It is not necessary at the present time to invest large sums of money in mining stocks to make money. Many of our wealthiest men were made so through the original investment of a small capital. We have plenty of these opportunities today. If one will only use good common sense in selecting it.

I recently had my attention called to to the Palmer Mountain Tunnel & Power Company's stock, which is being offered for subscription by the Peterborough Brokerage Company, of this city.

This property is located at Palmer Mountain, State of Washington, which is rapidly coming to the front as a great mining camp, and it would seem that there was nothing to prevent this onward progress.

The stock of this company is today what the great Homestake was thirty years ago.

There is at the present time twenty-eight veins of rich gold-bearing ore, whose depth and richness have been proven by a tunnel driven four thousand feet into the mountains and cross-cutting every one of these veins.

A large amount of development work has been done on this property in the shape of drifts from the tunnel, uprises, winzes, etc., all of which furnish ample ore supply for the mill.

The company also owns and control a magnificent water power, capable of producing 5,000 horse-power. This is a very valuable asset for the company, as there is a large demand for this power in that section at $100 per year per H. P.

It is only necessary to say that liberal subscriptions have been received to this stock from all over the United States from conservative investors. I have made careful inquiries in regard to the business standing of the management, and I find it worthy the entire confidence of any man who has money to invest, and I consider the proposition an investment of exceptional merit and one that will pay large and quick returns to the investor.

"Springfield, Mass., Sept. 5, 1905.

"Mr. E. E. P——,

"Holyoke, Mass.

"Dear Sir,—Answering your inquiry regarding my visit to Palmer Mountain Tunnel & Power Company, at Lcomis, Wash., recently, I would say that the visit was simply an incident in a western trip made for the purpose of familiarizing myself with a number of mining properties, that the estate were interested in.

"To sum up my observation I can say, the property is not only all that has been represented, but of such magnitude that a personal inspection has to be made by any one to fully realize the immense properties and possibilities of the company.

"I found the property as well as the management highly spoken of by my bankers and others throughout the State; and all the work in and about the mines has an air of stability about it. The tunnel I inspected for its entire length.

"The work on the electric power plant was progressing finely. Outsiders who were acquainted with the situation say the company have one of the best water power propositions in the State.

"The roadway from the tunnnel to site of proposed mill is cut and graded ready for the rails; and the next step is to be the erection of a mill to treat the ores, and that seems to be the last step previous to dividends.

"After looking up the dozen or more properties in similar lines in other States, I am free to say that the Palmer Mountain is far and away the most satisfactory of them all.

"You may be led to think from my exuberance that I have some stock to sell, but this is not so, as I have none of the stock for sale at any price. I am simply giving you facts as I saw them for your benefit as a stockholder.

"Very truly yours,

"(Signed) T. H. G——."

The writer of the above letter controls a large amount of the Palmer Mountain stock both personally and as executor. His testimony is therefore significant.

Work on the power plant is now so nearly completed that it is expected that the big power plant will begin to deliver its energy within a few days and when the mill starts there will be an initial earning capacity of 12 per cent. on the present selling price of the stock.

GREENE
Gold-Silver Company
CAPITAL STOCK, $15,000,000
W. C. GREENE, President. E. J. GATES, Treasurer.
I am authorized by the Company to offer, subject to prior sale, 100,000 shares of the treasury stock of this Company at par.
TEN DOLLARS PER SHARE
Eighteen months ago a limited issue of the stock of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company was placed upon the market at $10 per share. It is now selling at $34.00 per share and in the meantime has paid 20 per cent. in dividends.
Col. W. C. Greene, who is President of both Companies, expects the stock of the Greene-Gold-Silver Company to exceed even this flattering record made by the Greene Consolidated Copper Company.
Full information, maps, prospectus, reports, etc., will be furnished upon application. Make all checks for subscriptions payable to the order of Calumet-Tellurid Golde Mining Co.

OF CALUMET, MICHIGAN,
offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 570 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.
Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, wings and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.80 per ton of rock, principally in gold.
In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.
ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM
Capitalization 500,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 385,000 shares. Show us something better.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally contiguous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and contiguous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as for instance: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

"Why were you so uncivil to the young gentleman who just left us, Mr. Chesleigh?" she cried, reproachfully. "Indeed, you treated him most shamefully."

"I deny that young man's right to the honorable title of gentleman," replied Bernard, warmly. "Oh, Reine," he cried, "I warn you against him. Do not trust him. If I saw you engulfed in a cloud of consuming flame, or about to fall in a horrible pit, I should spring forward to save you. If I saw you stretching out your white hands toward a sharp sword that could wound you, I should warn you. Yet none of these things are as dangerous as the danger that lurks in the smile of the men from whom you have just parted."

"I do not believe it," cried Reine hotly. "Mr Waldron is one of the most perfect gentlemen whom I have ever met."

"It is not to be supposed that you could discriminate between a gentleman and a rascal," replied Chesleigh gravely, quietly. "You have never been brought in contact with wickedness, or the people steeped in it. I thank Heaven it is a sealed book to you, Reine. Take my word for it, that man is not a person for you to know."

CHAPTER IV.

Reine Hastings flashed her companion a glance of withering scorn. How cruel of him to traduce the handsome stranger behind his back. It was unmanly. Girl-like, the more Bernard said against him, the more of a hero cruelly slander Waldemar Waldron became in her eyes.

"If I answer you we shall quarrel, Mr. Chesleigh," she said, and he was bewildered by what he saw in her face. A terrible fear came to him that chilled his heart. Had his warning to beautiful, impulsive Reine been given too late?

The fete wound up with a merry half hour of dancing under the light of the gleaming swinging lamps, and the silvery light of the golden stars.

As soon as the band struck up the strains of a waltz, to Bernard Chesleigh's dismay, Waldemar Waldron crossed over to where Reine was sitting, and the next moment they were whirling away together amid the gay throngs.

"I wish this waltz would never end, Miss Hastings," he whispered. "This is the happiest hour of my life. Would that the future could be like this;" and he was quite satisfied with the impression he had made when he saw the girl's cheeks flush, the blue eyes droop beneath his ardent, eloquent glance, and felt the little hand tremble in his clasp.

At that moment both glanced up and caught sight of Bernard Chesleigh's white, set face.

"Mr. Chesleigh, your escort, does not appear to like me," he said. "He appears angry because you have been so kind as to dance with me. Has he any right to direct your actions?" he asked, with eager intentness.

"Any right!" echoed Reine. "No. Why should he?"

The answer so unhesitatingly given relieved Waldemar Waldron's mind wonderfully. He saw that Bernard Chesleigh loved Reine; but she was utterly unconscious of it. She gave him only formal friendship in return.

He had no chance of saying good night to Reine—Bernard Chesleigh was too watchful for that—but he promised himself that he should see Reine soon again. Although he haunted the shaded road where she would be likely to ride, and the green, flower-strewn glades where she might walk, a week passed and he had not caught so much as a glimpse of General Hastings's daughter.

Had he made love of an impression upon her than he had imagined? He had been so certain of meeting her; or was she kept in close surveillance under the watchful eyes of a stern papa?

Waldemar Waldron was determined to find out.

He dared not call openly at Fairlawn and ask for Miss Reine, but he laid his plans to lay siege to the girl's heart in a most adroit manner. He wrote the most charming of notes, and by bribing one of the maids, succeeded in having it conveyed to Reine in an orderous bouquet.

How deliciously romantic! How Reine's heart throbbed as she read the ardent missive that told how he had watched and waited for her in vain. Would she permit him to call upon her at Fairlawn? He would be so pleased to meet her again. If she would write him just a single line to let him know that she was well, he would be so grateful. She could place it in the hollow of the old oak tree that stood at the right angle of the park that skirted Fairlawn.

The very romance connected with the novel idea captivated Reine's girlish fancy.

The next day Waldemar Waldron received his answer, but she did not tell him that the general had forbidden her to drive or walk beyond the grounds of Fairlawn without the escort of the stolid old footman, and that in her anger she had declared she would not go at all if she was to be followed by a lackey. The general had given as a reason that the country about was infested by tramps. She never dreamed that the true reason was Bernard Chesleigh had told the general that, as they had feared, the heir of Waldron Towers had been at the fete, and how infatuated he had appeared to be with Reine.

General Hastings listened in silence.

"She may have espoused the young man's cause when you warned her against him, Chesleigh," he said. "Young girls have a penchant for taking on the contrary side. Time to one she'll never think of him again. [illegible]

But love laughs at the stern decree of wise parents as well as lovesmiths, as we have seen; and the pink-tinted note that found its way to Reine, hidden among the flowers, was followed by many more such missives, which found their way back and forth through the agency of the hollow oak tree.

Wooing by letter has a charm about it peculiarly its own, so much more can be said by the pen than the lips can utter; and then young girls have the habit of reading and rereading them till they know every tenderly expressed thought by heart.

They were Reine's first love-letters, for they grew to be that; and the enforced separation which she was obliged to submit to only increased the flame in her rebellious little heart. And when Waldemar pleaded that he must see her soon and gain her consent to asking her father a very important question, her own heart seconded eagerly.

"Let me see you, Reine, if but for a few brief moments, at the old oak tree, to-night," he wrote. "I will be there at seven sharp."

It could not be so very wrong to grant him a few short moments, Reine told herself. A meeting at the old trysting-place, seen through the warm haze of a young girl's fancy, was delightfully romantic. Reine went. She could stay but a few moments, however, for her father had sent her a message after tea that he wanted to see her in the library that evening, at eight.

How handsome Waldemar Waldron looked as he advanced eagerly in the moonlight to meet her. He had quite made up his mind to win her. Reine's fresh, young beauty charmed him. He loved her quite as much as he was capable of loving. He had vowed to wrest her from Bernard Chesleigh, his mortal foe. And last, but by no means the least, she was heiress to a million. What man would wish a fairer prize?

He knew there would be a battle to fight before he gained Reine Hastings for his bride. He had sown more wild oats than were usually allotted to young men, and he had reaped the whirlwind for a harvest. He knew that he would never have been received as a guest at Fairlawn by the old general. Bernard Chesleigh knew enough about him to interfere with that. So no other way of winning fair Reine was left him save through the adorable letters he knew so well.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quarts.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $20 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Mr. W. A. Lewis, ex-foreman of the Review Bindery, and formerly treasurer of the local Typographical Union, was on Saturday night the recipient of a handsome gold chain and locket. Mr. Lewis, who has a host of friends in this city, is about to leave Peterboro to accept a responsible position in London. The locket on one side has been engraved with his initials in embossed letters, and on the other side was inscribed, "From Review Employees and Typographical Union No. 240, 1906." An appropriate address was read by Mr. Geo. Kearns, and the presentation was made by Mr. R. B. Pearson.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Board of Managers of St. Paul's church met last night.

—Rev. Canon Starr of Kingston, will address St. John's church Wednesday night.

—There will be an important meeting of the Charlotte street Y. M. C. U. tonight.

—Don't forget to remember that Smith's Falls plays the locals on Wednesday night. Get out and root.

—Rev. Canon Dixon, last night lectured on "Waifs of London," in St. John's church. There was a large attendance.

—Remember the Crucifixion (Oratorio) practised by St. John's church choir tonight at 7.30. A full attendance is requested.

—The W. M. S. of [illegible] church met this afternoon at 3.30 to elect a delegate to the Port Hope convention in next May.

—A large and well-pleased audience last night heard Rev. Canon Dixon's limelight illustrative lecture on the "Waifs of London, in St. John's church Sunday school.

—Dainty souvenirs in china, with hand-painted views of the lift lock, public buildings and parks, at Times Bookstore. Prices from 25 cents up. Visitors in the city should see our assortment.

Evangelist and Mrs. Stevens conducted the first of the series of revival meetings in Bethany Tabernacle last night at 7.45 o'clock. Meetings will be held daily throughout the week.

—Visitors in the city who prefer lodgings with private family will find accommodation with all modern street, a few doors north of the improvements by calling at 380 Water Ontario Bank.

—The pupils of Miss Alice Roger gave a highly enjoyable piano recital at the Conservatory of Music on Saturday afternoon. There was a large number present, who thoroughly enjoyed every number.

—A special meeting of the County Property Committee was held yesterday morning at the county court house in re lighting of the county buildings. Nothing, however, was given out for publication.

The Obnoxious Treaty System.

Brer Smyff in the Bobcaygeon Independent, says:—"Temperance sentiment can be developed only by education and example. The example must be set by those who drink, and if those of influence, if a few of sufficient character will but resolutely decline to accept or give the return treat, a decisive break will be made on a custom that is as senseless as it is pernicious.

The man that wrote this knows the keystone of Canada's portion of the world's drunkards. Cut out the treating system, let a man get what he wants and go about his business, there would be no clamor for prohibition.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury.

as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they do is ten fold to all the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free.

Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

A Popular Young Vocalist.

The London Free Press of Friday, has this to say of Miss Helen Davies; Mr. Jordan will give his 27th organ recital next Saturday afternoon in the First Methodist church. Miss Helen Davies of Peterboro, will assist. Miss Davies is the young lady who made the success last January with the National Chorus and the New York Symphony Orchestra in Toronto. The critics and the general public paid Miss Davies tributes which serve to turn the head of even a distinguished artist. Miss Davies has a clear soprano voice, and a splendid presence.

Kingston After Normal School.

The Kingston Whig says; 'The prevalent opinion in Toronto political circles, is that Belleville and Peterboro are in the front of the race for the new eastern Normal School. But the aforesaid politicians had not heard the effective presentation of Kingston's superior claims". The Limestone City said better not get humptious. Progressive Peterboro needs more recognition than the venerable "Sit-still" city of Kingston. Peterboro should get the school on her geographical merits, as well as her marked progressiveness.

Challenge to the Review?

The Times hereby challenges the Review to play hockey (not shinney) at the earliest possible date, for an oyster supper. Any member of the Review staff who has played in "Star" games to be barred, the Examiner-Review exhibition not to count. Although The Times team have not yet entered to public recognition, they still think they are capable of chasing the rubber with their Tory contemporaries. The acceptance of this challenge must be filed with Chas. H. J. M., manager Times Hockey specialists, without the delay.

Nott not Present a Court.

When Alex. Nott the Indian, charged with unlawfully cutting and carrying away timber from the Chemong Indian Reserve, was called on at yesterday's session of the county police court, he was conspicuous by his absence. Nott was not present, so this legal knot was not unravelled. Mr. Daniel O'Connell was present in the interests of the defendant. Guerd, charged along with Nott, and Crow Attorney Wood for the Crown. No evidence was taken, however. And the case was adjourned.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. C. E. Osborne, of Detroit, is a guest at the National.

—Rev Father McGuire of Downeyville, was in the city yesterday.

—Mr. W. L. Allen, of Moncton, N. B., is registered at the Snowden House.

—Miss Hollis Fair, of Millbrook, is the guest of her brother, Mr. Robt. Fair, 105 Dixon street.

—Miss Jenkins of the Central school staff of teachers, is unable to attend to her duties owing to illness.

—Mr. John Main of the Wm. Hamilton Co., left yesterday for Vancouver, B.C., where he will spend two months.

—Miss Sherin of Lakefield, who for the past five weeks, has been the guest of Mrs. H. P. Kennedy, has gone home.

—Mrs. H. S. Macdonald has gone to Mt. Clemens, Mich., to visit her husband, who has been spending some weeks at the resort.

—Miss Margaret Jackson, of Kingston and Mrs. Wm. Jackson, sisters of Rev. J. G. Potter, have been visiting at the manse for a few days.

—Mr. A. W. McPherson, of Toronto, treasurer of the Ontario Hockey Association, took in the banquet rendered the hockey boys yesterday evening.

—Mr. Dickson Hall, of Richard Hall & Son, has arrived home from New York. He reports having secured a large assortment of novelties for the spring trade.

—Mr. A. O. Tate, of Toronto, an old Peterboro boy, was in the city last night en route to Montreal, where he will introduce several valuable electric patents he is interested in.

This evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Byers, 356 Sherbrook street, there will be a large gathering of their friends to honor the fifteenth anniversary of their wedding.

—Mr. Frank O'Brien, who has been connected with the Northern Life Assurance Company, left yesterday for St. Louis, Mo., where he has secured a good position. He was accompanied by Mr. William Torpey. The many friends of the young men will wish them every success in their new place of residence.

Hockey Challenge.

With the winning of the championship by Peterboro's intermediate hockey team enthusiasm for Canada's national winter game, naturally runs high, and the sporting fraternity of the city are not quite satisfied that the Charlotte street team represents the acme of Peterboro's and O.H.A. League talent. Consequently a bunch known as the "Married Men's seven" of Peterboro, hereby challenges the City League champions to play hockey on the Brock street rink at the earliest possible date. O.H.A. rules to govern. This aggregation of married men, are acknowledged experts with the rubber, and should the Charlotte bunch accept this challenge they will meet no unworthy opponents. Mr. C. Waller is manager of the "Married Men's" team," and stipulates that the losers of the above invited match shall pay for the oyster supper.

Early Birds For Summer Nests

Lindsay Post says: Mrs. S. H. Reading and son, of Toronto, were guests at the Simpson House yesterday. They were on their way north to open up Mrs. Reading's summer home on Big Bay, Gull Lake, some miles below Minden. Mrs. Reading and family of five children spent last season there, and liked the free life so well that they remained there until the first week in December.

Five Little Good Samaritans.

Great credit is due to five little girls residing in Ashburnham, Mabel Russell, Alice Neill, Ada Adams and Ila Sawyer, who got up a bazaar last week and rented the play house of one of their number to sell certain articles dear to the heart of juveniles. The proceeds amounted to $1.75 and were handed over to the English widow, whose affliction has been noted several times in these columns.

Of Local Interest.

Now that this city is striving strenuously to get manufacturers to locate here, the city fathers might note that the following adv. appears in the Toronto Globe of yesterday;

Location Wanted—We are seeking a location for a steel stamping industry that will give employment to about seventy-five hands; owing to large demand for articles of this kind in Canada, we are desirous of locating there; what inducements can a progressive city offer? Address reply to the Crescent Machinery Co., 1536 Williamson Building, Cleveland, Ohio.

A GRACEFUL RECOGNITION

Miss Stephens, Late St. John's Church Choir Leader is Remembered.

On Sunday night, on conclusion of the regular service in St. Johns church, the members of the choir enjoyed a very pretty little ceremony in which those present presented a beautiful pearl pin to Miss Stephens, the former organist, who is succeeded by Mr. Devey. Miss Stephens made a very feeling reply, in which she expressed her hearty appreciation of the choir's kindness. She also stated that, while she is, for the next few weeks, practising at the organ in George street church. It is her intention of remaining with the choir in St. John's church.

The Celebrated English Cocoa.

EPPS'S

COCOA

The Most Nutritious and Economical.

MADE FROM NATIVE ROOTS.

SAFE AND RELIABLE.

That the roots of many native plants, growing wild in our American forests, possess remarkable properties for the cure of human maladies is well proven. Even the untutored Indian had learned the curative value of some of these and taught the early settlers their uses. The Indian never liked work so he wanted his squaw to get well as soon as possible that she might do the work and let him hunt. Therefore, he dug "papoose root" for her, for that was their great remedy for female weaknesses. Dr. Pierce uses the same root—called Blue Cohosh—in his "Favorite Prescription," skillfully combined with other agents that make it more effective than any other medicine in curing all the various weaknesses and painful derangements peculiar to women.

Many afflicted women have been saved from the operating table and the surgeon's knife by the timely use of Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Tenderness over the lower pelvic region, with backache, spells of dizziness, faintness, bearing down pains or distress should not go unheeded. A course of "Favorite Prescription" will work marvelous benefit in all such cases, and generally effect a permanent cure if persisted in for a reasonable length of time. The "Favorite Prescription" is a harmless agent, being wholly composed from native medicinal roots, without a drop of alcohol in its make up, whereas all other medicines, put up for sale through druggists for woman's peculiar ailments, contain large quantities of spirituous liquors, which are very harmful, especially to delicate women. "Favorite Prescription" contains neither alcohol nor harmful habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients are printed on each bottle wrapper. It is a powerful invigorating tonic, imparting health and strength in particular to the organs distinctly feminine.

For "run down," debilitated, nervous and sickly women, who are "worn-out," or debilitated, especially for women who work in store, office, or school-room, who sit at the typewriter or sewing machine, or bear heavy household burdens, and for nursing mothers, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will prove a priceless benefit because of its health-restoring and strength-giving power.

LABOR REVOLT NOW THE CRY

Socialistic Orators at Two Meetings Call for Bloody War on Capital.

TALK FOR ACCUSED MINERS

Funds Are Collected to Aid Defense of Former Governor's Alleged Murderers.

Chicago, March 13.—Calls for an "armed revolution" by the working population of the country were voiced by two speakers at two crowded meetings held to raise funds for the defense of Moyer, Haywood and Pettibone, the socialist labor leaders in prison in Idaho, charged with the murder of former Governor Steunenberg. The talk of the less fiery orators was in favor of an "economic revolution that will install the socialistic commonwealth." But the temper of both meetings was overwhelmingly for the "armed revolution," every reference to force being cheered to the echo, while advantage of the "bloodless revolution" of the economic kind was received in silence.

CONFIDENCE IN MINERS.

Ulrich's Hall, North Clark and Kinzie streets, was the scene of one of the meetings. The other was at Apollo Hall, Blue Island avenue and Twelfth street. Each gathering adopted resolutions expressing confidence in the accused men and denounced the prosecutors as "conspirators against labor and the workingman."

At both meetings reference was made frequently by the speakers to "socialism's recent distinguished convert, Joseph Medill Patterson." Cheers and applause greeted every mention of the young convert's name.

J. Mahlon Barnes, national secretary of the Socialist party, presided at the North Side meeting. "The measure of tyranny has always been, 'How much will the working people stand?' But under the socialist regime the measure will be, 'How much do the working classes want?'" he said. G. A. Frankel, a young machinist, said he was ready for war.

READY FOR REVOLT.

Charles L. Breckon, organizer of the Socialist party in Cook County, delivered a thunderous speech, in which he said the time has come to raise his voice "in favor of some kind of revolution." He recited to the audience of 900 persons the following adaptation of the poem "Pretenses":

If they die,
Here's our cry:
There are twenty million workingmen who will know the reason why.

This was greeted by the crowd with repeated cheers, with shouts of "Let's have the revolution; the sooner the better."

"I want to utter a word of warning against the kind of physical force talk we have been listening to," said Seymour Stedman. "There could be no greater mistake at this time. The organized state, with its soldiers and police, is the force with which we should make our fight on the capitalistic system. We must capture the state. How? By the power of the ballot.

"Our way should be the way of the victorious socialistic agitators of Germany. Let us keep on hammering the iniquities of capitalism with weapons from the armory of logic and argument. To deny the socialists and working people the right to vote is on the program as the next daring move of the trustified government of our state and nation. If they should have the nerve to try it, then there is no power that could prevent the bloodiest revolution the world has ever known."

MEET FOR BIG PROTEST.

At Apollo Hall 2,000 Socialists and avowed "Working class revolutionists," led by the Industrial Workers of the World, the Socialist Labor party, the Jewish Bund and the Arbeiter Zeitung, gathering in response to dodgers announcing a "Working Class Protest," Chairman A. S. Edwards, editor of the Industrial Worker, explained that the Socialists had agreed to meet with them, but had decided to hold a separate meeting at Ulrich's Hall.

Ten uniformed policemen drew fiery words from Mrs. Lillian M. Forberg, an organizer for the Industrial Workers of the World. "The government, from the president down to those policemen, the minions of Mayor Dunne, are all direct employes of the capitalist class," she cried.

William E. Trautmann, secretary of the Industrial Workers of the World, and A. M. Simons also spoke. At this meeting $301 was raised for the defense fund.

YESTERDAY'S FIRE

Mr. Peter Hamilton's Barn and Contents Burnt, but Fully Insured.

Yesterday morning about the time that those fortunate enough to not have to turn out to work until nine o'clock the fire bell rang out an alarm, calling the fire laddies from their work.

The large barn belonging to Mr. Peter Hamilton was afire, and with all the goods contained in it burnt.

The fire started in the harness room from a little stove, used for heating purposes. The fire had a good start before it was discovered, and once it got into the hay snow there was nothing could stop it. The firemen arrived on the scene in their usual prompt manner, and worked like beavers to subdue the fire fiend until the noon hour had sounded, to assure no further outbreak.

The actual fire, in evidence, was under control in less than half an hour, but there was about three tons of hay in the loft, and the men were unable to get at the fire on account of the dense smoke. The loss, which will amount to about $1,000 is fully covered with insurance, the policy being in the Phoenix Company, of London, England. Besides the hay there was about seventy-five bushels of oats. The barn was practically new and was up-to-date in every respect. There was accommodation for seven horses, besides large oat bins and a very large loft. The stable floors were all of concrete and the sheeting was all hardwood. It will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000 to replace the whole building. As it is the walls and the concrete floor are still available for future use, but the interior will have to be rebuilt.

MONEY FOR CANAL

To Expend Large Sums for the Trent Valley Canal.

It seems that, this year, the Dominion Government intends to expend a large sum of money on the Trent Canal system.

The estimates include; Trent Canal construction, $175,000. This is likely to meet the cost of the work on the Kirkfield lift-lock. Trent Canal improvements, $15,000; Peterboro public buildings, $4,500; dredging Trent river at Trenton, $5,000. This is probably for the work started there last fall; Peterboro armory, $20,000.

CAPITAL, $300,000

PAR VALUE OF SHARES $1.00 EACH.

The Directors of this Company have decided to offer a limited number of shares for sale at par, to subscribers who make application before March 20th. This Company capitalised at only $300,000. The property which it is intended to operate and on which a considerable amount of development work is done, is situated on Cross Lake, and is known as the McChesney property. It adjoins the Watt property, on which is a paying mine, and is in close proximity to other paying properties. It is the opinion of experts that this is one of the best properties in the district. Assays of ore from the property went over $700 to the ton. The Directors reserve the right to allot a smaller amount of shares than the amount applied for. Applications for stock and all cheques should be made to the Secretary-Treasurer, Medical Council Building, Toronto.

WHAT PETERBORO LOSES.

It is interesting to note the effect which the granting of a second telephone franchise in Peterboro has had upon the business of the Bell Telephone Company in this city.

The Peterboro Council granted the Canadian Machine Telephone Company a franchise in May, 1904. At that time there were 520 Bell subscribers in Peterboro. Although the rates of the latter company have not been lowered, it has in less than two years, increased the number of its subscribers nearly 25 per cent., or to over 700. During the same period the long distance revenue of the Bell Company at Peterboro, has increased nearly 25 per cent.

In addition to the development within the city limits, the [illegible] extended its range materially. Many outlying points have been thus connected with the Peterboro exchange, and the large farming community tributary to the city given the advantage of both exchange and long distance connection. Nearby points which have been connected in this way with Peterboro are Indian River, Connor's Corners, Best Station, Springville, Ida and Fraserville.

Of course there has been no real competition at Peterboro, the Machine Company having largely failed in its undertakings, but there has resulted in spite of prospective competition are interesting. Then, too, by thus refusing the Bell Company an exclusive franchise, Peterboro is losing annually the $100 and five free telephones offered by the Bell Company.

WILL NOT BUILD ANY MORE SMALL CRUISERS

BRITISH ADMIRALTY DECIDED TO DO AWAY WITH THEM

Only Battleships and Armoured Cruisers, it is Predicted, Will be Used

London, March 13. — Great Britain's committee on Naval Designs has recommended that no more small protected cruisers be built. The war fleet of the future is to consist of battleships and armored cruisers, the torpedo flotillas and submarines forming separate self-contained forces.

It is at present doubtful whether any more "scouts" will be constructed. The eight boats of the Sentinel class, of 5,000 tons and twenty-five knots are now all in commission.

While they are serviceable boats of their type, it is held that the great increase of speed in the latest armored cruisers renders the latter vessels adequately qualified to act as the "eyes of a fleet."

Their superior sea-keeping qualities and much wider radius of action consequent on a larger coal endurance is held by naval tacticians more than to compensate for their average deficiency of about two knots speed compared with the existing batch of "scouts."

This reduction in the number of warship types is perfectly consistent with the doctrine of homogeneity of units—ad advance on the principle of homogeneity of distinctive classes—which the Admiralty are slowly but steadily materialising.

WEEDING OUT PROCESS.

As a result of this definition of future building policy, a report has gained currency that all the second and third class cruisers now in the active list, will be shortly weeded out and relegated to the fate of the great "forlorn fleet."

Asked by a newspaper representative now far this report was to be credited, a well known flag officer on full pay and in close touch with Admiralty policy stated that it was based on misconception.

"The Admiralty are watching expenditure on small cruisers very closely just now," he said. "They deem it a question whether the maintenance of these craft in active commission yields adequate value for the outlay.

"But although these vessels may have no combative value worth speaking of, there are many functions they can usefully discharge, both in peace and war. Togo would have given his ears for our present 'Lama' fleet.

"Nothing drastic will be done in the way of elimination. There is a point in every warship's life when either a large sum of money must be expended on bringing her up to date, or she lapses into fighting inefficiency.

"Many of our protected cruisers are now bordering on this epoch. As they reach it they will be allowed to drop out, the most promising of them probably joining the 'Lama' class, and the remainder going to the scrapheap.

"Meanwhile, there is plenty of useful work for these units to do while they survive. Trooping to foreign stations with relief crews, gunnery and engineering instruction, acting as garrison ships to submarine flotillas and as seagoing training vessels for naval cadets, are among the principal duties of our protected cruisers at the present time.

"Frankly, before I, for one would approve of the total abolition of the fast light cruiser. I should like the Naval Intelligence Department to demonstrate, by means of a long series of carefully worked-out possible campaigns, that they no longer fill a distinct place in the scheme of sea warfare. I am not at all satisfied in my mind as to the result. There is a very big and important zone beyond the actual fighting line.

ALD. BALL'S BY-LAW

"A Father of Boys" Writes re the Cigarette Evil.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—I see by your paper of yesterday, that the City Council is now considering the question of licensing those who sell cigarettes, as a first step towards stopping this evil, this stepping stone for boys towards tuberculosis, drink, and in to many cases, death or insanity. Now, Sir, noting the customary attitude of your paper's policy towards what tends to improve public good and morality I venture to suggest to you, that your valuable paper, might and would win, the appreciation of the thinking public, should it endorse the action of Alderman Ball in his fight for saving our boys.

This cigarette evil is too well known to require comment, but the danger lies, not so much in the amount of public attention drawn to this impending [illegible] as in the lack of public attention withheld from it.

I do not think I should rightly be called a crank for bringing up this matter of the deadly cigarettes. Any thinking men walking the streets of Peterboro and keeping his eyes open, cannot but be horrified by the number of boys and callow youths, sucking those air-poisoning little apologies for a good smoke.

I am not a foe to tobacco properly used: I smoke myself. However, everyone knows that these infernal cigarettes are the means of educating the lower steps of the ladder leading to bar-rooms and the asylums in many cases.

I see by your paper of yesterday morning that the Council is now held up from taking action on Alderman Ball's motion because the local tobacconists would, unable them to sell cigarettes without paying the license proposed by the City fathers.

Now it is up to the tobacconists, who, I am satisfied do not care one dollar a year whether they sell cigarettes or not, to combine in assuring the Council, their assurance, if necessary backed up by a bond, that they will sell no cigarettes. In any case, Mr. Editor, do what you can to save our boys from the fascinating, health destroying and evil-habit breeding cigarettes.

Yours truly,
A FATHER OF BOYS.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Once more the "Sunshine Seekers" and "Labor Loathing" clubs, had a least of reason and a flow of soul at yesterday's police court, turning out in numbers that amply demonstrated that Peterboro possesses many gentlemen of leisure. The first case called was that of George Ahearn charged with keeping a dog that runs out and barks at passing conveyances. As Hamilton Godfrey, the complaintant, was not present, the defendant was dismissed, and advised to get rid of the dog.

Dennis McGrath was charged with having on the 5th of March stolen the sum of $20 from the person of Patrick Murphy. Mr. Kerr, who appeared for the prisoner, asked, as his witnesses were not present, that the prisoner be allowed to change his plea so to being guilty, McGrath having pleaded guilty at his first trial. Mr. Kerr asked that the case be enlarged as he expected to prove that complaintant had the money on his person at the time he claimed to have been robbed. His Worship, however, said he would hear the evidence first.

Patrick Murphy, in the witness box, said the first time he ever saw the prisoner was on March 4th, at the corner of Brock and George streets.

He did not go round the hotels with prisoner. Did not see him again until next day when he recognised him, in Cassidy's hotel. Murphy said he himself was drunk that day at Flynn's hotel. He was only told by several parties that McGrath had taken his money. When he went into Flynn's hotel he had four $5 bills, one $2 bill and some silver, loose in his pant's pocket. That was the day he had the "mix-up" with the McManus brothers. He only remembered recognising a man named Geo. Shearer. Did not remember seeing Flynn's. When he got to his senses he was at Hogan's hotel. When he looked for his money it was gone as Mr. Wood remarked, "Pretty mean of them not to leave you enough to even get a brace." He never got his money back and does not remember how much he spent.

To Mr. Kerr, he was sober on Sunday, by began the week well by getting full on Monday morning.

Had counted this money on Monday morning before he got drunk. Does not know how long after the "friendly mix-up" with the McManus boys, elapsed until he found himself at Hogan's. It was the next morning before he discovered his money was gone. Towards early next morning he went to his boarding house, but could not tell whether the sun or The Keer was shining. Had had some Tuesday morning, paid for out of money from his boarding house, amounting to $2, "All he had." He then collected some money owing to him by friends. Had on his Sunday clothes for the drunk. Does not remember whom he spent the evening with at Hogan's, nor who took him home.

J. N Waterman, who carries on a second-hand, furniture store on Hunter street, recognized the prisoner, saw him the day of the fight between Murphy and the McManus boys. Saw him in Flynn's hotel. All he knows is that the prisoner was asking George Shearer to take the money from Murphy's pocket, to take care of it.

Murphy was lying under the verandah. Shearer said, "I would not take the money from any man's pocket." There were about twelve people there. Witness saw Shearer, afterwards, pass his shop door. Prisoner, when witness, later on, went into the yard, said "I have Murphy's money, $22, and I am going to give it back to him." Prisoner got a top buggy to drive Murphy home. Prisoner had some money in his hand, as he helped Murphy into the rig.

To Mr. Kerr, it took four or five men to put Murphy into the rig.

Daniel Sullivan, the next witness, saw Murphy lying on the verandah of the hotel. Saw McGrath with money in the livery stable, and McGrath told him the money belonged to Murphy. He told McGrath to give the money to Flynn or Steve Holland to take care of, but McGrath said he would give it to its owner.

Bruce Lee, the next witness, drove Murphy to Hogan's that day. McGrath paid him $1 for the rig, after asking Murphy "Is that all right?" Saw McGrath hand some money to Murphy but does not know how much. He afterwards drove Murphy to his boarding house, but they would not take him in there, so he brought him back to Hogan's.

Joseph Brooks saw prisoner change a bill on Tuesday night, thinks it was a $2 bill.

To Mr Kerr, said he is a friend of the prisoner, having bought him several drinks. Prisoner asked a few days previous to the fight, to stake him to a meal, prisoner not having any money.

Chas. Forsyth, next witness, knows McGrath took the money. Saw him count it after taking it from Murphy. $22.60. McGrath kept it in his hand, saying he was going to get a rig to take Murphy home.

When the evidence was all in, his Worship remarked, "I can only decide that the case was not proven." The prisoner should have given the money over to some responsible person to take care of for Murphy. There is a grave suspicion resting on the prisoner, although the evidence is not sufficient to make a conviction. The law compels him to give the prisoner the benefit of the doubt, against his own suspicions. The matter rests between the prisoner and the driver. I can only say it is "not proven."

The preliminary hearing in the case of Joseph Rickerby, charged with stealing some household goods, the property of the Metropolitan Manufacturing Co., was then heard. Their local agent, Mr. Ketchenson, the first witness, produced five contracts made with Rickerby, to whom he had sold two iron bed steads and sundry other articles. The whole amount was $56.50, on which nothing had been paid. The contracts called for $1 to be paid monthly on each contract. The contracts dated back to die 1905. There was a verbal agreement as to payment. The goods were delivered to No. 5 Wolsely street. The contracts stipulate that the goods must not be removed without written consent of an agent of the company. Witness is the only man authorized to give Rickerby permission to remove the goods, resident here.

After hearing that Rickerby had moved from the above address, witness went to the house, but found it apparently vacant. Had met prisoner several times on the street, and prisoner had promised several times to call at witness residence and pay him something on account. Rickerby promised to meet him in the C.P.R. Hotel. He met Rickerby, with another man there, and witness treated in the bar Whilst witness was taking his drink, prisoner said, "I have got to show a man a team of presents." Prisoner then said, "Whatever hour you see I'll meet you bear." Witness replied, "Rickerby you have fooled me too many times, and I am tired of hunting for you." However an hour was set for the meeting, but Rickerby did not show up, although he waited three-quarters of an hour for him. Rickerby told him, that day, that he had moved to King street. Witness went and inquired, but could not find where he lived. Rickerby had said he did not know the number on King street. Two days later, found there was a family named Rickerby living on Park St. Has not found the goods yet, nothing has been paid on them.

At the time he and Rickerby had the talk about the horses, and a man ran in to get prisoner out, seemingly about the horses, it turned out that it was prisoner's brother who came in, to get him out. Prisoner, when in the C.P.R. Hotel, told him he could hand over all the goods except two beds and would give him all the goods that afternoon. Met prisoner two days later, and asked him to go with him and get the goods. Prisoner said he could not go there as goods were in a boarding house, and he would be thrown out if he went after them just then. Does not remember prisoner saying anything about Tobin taking away the bedsteads during his, prisoner's absence.

Prisoner was then remanded for trial by the county judge.

Billiard Marker in Local Hotel Is Now Looking for a Job.

Yesterday afternoon a billiard-marker, employed in a local hotel, lost his job. It seems that the marker, who is addicted to the occasional immoderate use of stimulants, yesterday took that one glass too many. A local man was playing pool, and on completion of the game went to settle up. The marker, whether by accident or intentionally, made a mistake in the player's change, "short-changing" him. The player, who was perfectly sober, objected to the petty swindle, and said to the marker, "If you want a dime or so, say so, but don't try that kind of way to get it." Then the marker made the mistake of accusing the player of being drunk. (This was simply a case of mistaken identity, the player being alright and the marker full.) The player whose account of the heinous crime of being drunk said, "Oh give me my proper change and go way. You are too small to hit or I would slap your face."

Thereupon the marker got abusive and pulling a knife out of his pocket, made for the former player. An old resident of the city, who has been away for some time, seeing the knife in the marker's hands, before the latter could even open the blade, caught him by the wrists and throwing him to one side, notified the office of the occurrence. Hence a local hotel is one billiard marker the less.

Epidemic at Fort William Has Attained Serious Proportions and Citizens are Thoroughly Alarmed--Water Supply Responsible.

Winnipeg, March 14.—Dr. Bell, of anything and spend any amount of Toronto, Provincial Health Inspector money to stamp out the disease. of Ontario, was in Winnipeg yesterday, returning east from Fort Frances. Prof. Hopkins, of Montreal, has been engaged to take charge of the fight. Last week he was in Fort William and was being paid $50 per day for investigating the typhoid epidemic, his services.

which has attained alarming proportions. He was somewhat unwilling to discuss at any length the situation at Fort William, fearing to further antagonize the mayor and citizens of that town who are trying to suppress all reports as to the extent of the epidemic, fearing they might hurt the town. Dr. Bell, however, said he could not very well refuse to give the facts. The situation, he said, was very serious, and the epidemic seemed just now to be at its worst, there being probably four hundred cases of fever, although he found it impossible to get a report of the number of cases He believed the people of Fort William were now thoroughly alarmed and were willing to do almost

WATER SUPPLY THE CAUSE.

"The water supply which the town has been using," said Dr. Bell, "is undoubtedly the cause of the typhoid.

"The state of affairs in Fort William is deplorable and town and officials are alone to blame for not taking precautions some time ago. A good supply of pure water can be secured from Loch Lomond or from Lake Superior, but the infected water of Kaministiquia River, into which is poured all sewage of the town, was used, and such an outbreak of typhoid could only be expected. The epidemic will be stamped out all right if proper measures are taken, but it will take some time and will cost the town a lot of money.

OVER 300 VISITORS ARE NOW IN THE CITY

CANADIAN ORDER HOME CIRCLES IN CONVENTION.

Well-dressed and Handsome Men and Ladies Everywhere Seen Decorated With Badges of Their Order--The Convention a Great Success.

As foretold in these columns, over three hundred delegates are present in the city, attending the great convention of the Supreme Circle of the Order of Canadian Home Circles, which opened yesterday morning in the court house.

The Supreme Leader, Mr. J. L. Buck, presided at the opening session at which the different committees were appointed and other preliminary business transacted.

A large number of the delegates arrived in the city yesterday morning and many had already come in Monday night.

Mayor Best delivered an address of welcome to the delegates yesterday afternoon, giving them the freedom of the city.

GREETINGS.

On behalf of Peterboro Council, No. 193, O.O.H.C., the following address was read by Mrs. Anderson, past leader;

To the members of the Supreme Circle of the Canadian Order of Home Circles, greetings;

In extending a hearty welcome to you, in this, the occasion of your annual meeting, we, the members of Peterboro Circle, No. 193, would have you feel assured that we appreciate the great honor you have conferred upon us, in having selected this city as the place of convention. We know that your coming fears with it a message of encouragement and an incentive to still better work on behalf of the Order. That reports will tell of what has been accomplished by subordinate circles of good records made, and of long strides toward an enviable goal. The meetings about to be held are therefore of exceptional importance to the representatives attending, and we feel that the business to be transacted will be marked by careful and wise deliberation.

On such an occasion as this, indeed, one may be well constrained to say that the star of our Order's destiny will be made clearer to us, by virtue of the higher and more direct view which all must obtain.

Peterboro Circle feels that it can justly contribute to the general note of inspiration. Circle 193 may be said to have been recently resuscitated and to have pressed forward with a success which, in a measure, may atone for a period of inactivity. First organized with a small membership, it struggled onward for a period of some months, and then became undemonstrative. In 1903, however, with a visit of Mr. Walker, organizer, new officers were installed and a new membership started, which grew to such proportions that twice in succession the Circle has secured the prize for the greatest growth in membership.

The Circle to-day looks upon a sound basis and the general good and welfare of the Order is the watchword of its members and officers. The general progress of the Order, as it has been made known to us, from time to time, strikingly suggests the spirit of loyalty existing everywhere within its borders. As a subordinate circle, we too, have endeavored to exemplify in our meetings, be sentiment suggested by the name of Home Circle and to impress the significance of the sacred truths for which it stands.

These, we feel, must not be lost sight of, but must be regarded as contributing inestimably to the grand objects which the Order seeks to fulfil.

Our earnest hope is that you as visitors to Peterboro, as guests of Peterboro Circle, may feel that there are here available all the pleasures and hospitalities of home, that the convention will be enjoyable as we know it will be beneficial, and that you may feel the members of the Peterboro Circle can desire no greater compliment than to find themselves employed exercising toward their guests that fraternity which is so characteristic of the Order.

Signed on behalf of The Peterboro Circle, No. 193.

M. A. ANDERSON, P.L.
HARRIET REID, P.S.

SUPREME OFFICERS.

The Supreme officers present are;

John S. Bench—Past Supreme Leader.

John L. Buck—Supreme Leader.

William Stark—Supreme Vice Leader.

J. B. Foster, B.A.—Supreme Secretary.

W. H. Wanson—Supreme Treasurer.

Rev. R. M. Phelan—Supreme Chaplain.

W. A. Trueman—Supreme Warden.

E. C Phelan—Supreme Guard.

John Willison—Supreme Sentinel.

W. A Dowler, B.A., K.C.—Supreme Solicitor.

P. M Pattison—Supreme Organizer.

A. T Hobbs, M.D.—Supreme Medical Examiner.

A. M. Tobin, A. R. Thompson—Supreme Auditors.

Elias Clouse, M.D., T. R. Young, W. B Graham—Supreme Trustees.

C. H Denton, Dent Dalton, J. S. Scarff—Supreme Finance Committee.

T. Paradine, H. Y. Keating, S. Devlin—Supreme Committee on Laws.

Mrs A. E. Cameron, R. W. Hawkins, R. R. Mowbray—Supreme Committee on Appeals.

T. Boles, L. Becker — Life members.

It might be mentioned that the delegates compare favorably with any such that this city has ever welcomed. Everywhere in the city yesterday might be seen delegates, well-dressed, prosperous appearing, and evidently belonging to the class that is making Canada a nation among nations.

IMPORTANT TIMBER DEAL

An important timber deal was consummated within the last few days, whereby Mr. Matthew Doodey, of Cobourg, and who is well known in this city, has purchased from Mr. Hugh Waddell, of Peterboro, the rock elm on 600 acres situated to the east on Millbrook. It will perhaps be remembered that last September, Mr. Doodey, made a compact with Mr. McCall, of Simcoe, Ont., whereby the former gentleman agreed not to deal in timber in this district between Toronto, north and south, and Peterboro; the recent purchase, however, is outside the zone comprised in his understanding with Mr. McCall.

Mr. Doodey is well known in this vicinity, having purchased the timber on the Wallis estate from Messrs. Hall & Hayes.

This sale might suggest a good opportunity to people having timber as above described for sale, as they can communicate with Mr. Doodey, and probably secure a ready sale for the same.

Mr. Doodey left last night for Millbrook.

The Big Game To-night.

Tonight the people of Peterboro will have an opportunity of seeing how the locals compare with the fast Smiths Falls hockey team, winners of Federal League and Stanley Cup championships. The team will be in great condition for the big struggle. The ice is solid, and it looks as though the crowd will break all records. The fast trio, the only Harold Armstrong will be on the line-up of the Easterners will be sufficient to fill the rink.

How Consumption Starts

Tired When You Waken--Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out —Snap All Gone

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start to-day. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops, and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Dowd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this;

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In 50c. boxes only, six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Morning Times

This paper is the only Morning Daily published between Toronto and Ottawa, and is largely read throughout Eastern Ontario.

Strangers visiting Peterboro are cordially invited to make their headquarters at the office of the Morning and Weekly Times, where they will be furnished with writing material, if needed.

The Times is a member of the Associated Press, and receives telegraphic news each morning up to four o'clock.

The Times will be sent to subscribers in the district at 25 cents per month, and to outside points at $3 per year, strictly in advance.

THE SPOILS SYSTEM.

We are glad to see that the Premier of Ontario is making a determined resistance to the endeavors of some of his supporters—and even of a colleague in his Cabinet—to introduce the "spoils" system into the Provincial civil service. It will be impossible to get efficient administration if such a system is introduced and although a refusal to adopt it may make Mr. Whitney unpopular with a few too zealous partisans, he will find approval among that large class which deserves efficiency above all things.

CANADA AND AUSTRALIA.

The large immigration into Canada during the last two or three years, and which shows no signs of diminution, has aroused the Government and Parliament of the Australian Commonwealth to take energetic action to direct population to their shores. While Canada has a very considerable advantage over Australia, by the shorter distance between her and the populous countries of Europe, Australia has not a few inducements to offer to immigrants. Hitherto, however, there has been a tendency to discourage newcomers. But it is now beginning to be realized that the country cannot advance in wealth and prosperity unless its great natural resources can be developed and that the mere fringe of population along part of the coast is quite unequal to the task of subduing a continent. Hence this change in popular sentiment and the somewhat envious glances with which the stream of immigrants into Canada is regarded.

LESSENING SPAN OF LIFE.

The story from New York concerning the shortening of the span of life as shown by the records of the big insurance companies is full of interest. It is contradictory of more optimistic views from several distinguished medical men, but as the insurance figures are approximately accurate and cover a vast range of individual cases and territory, it is more than likely the deductions from them are correct.

According to one of the actuaries, the modern system of luxurious living is responsible for the increasing mortality among the middle-aged. The optimistic physicians insisted that our great advance in municipal sanitation, discoveries in medical science and improved surgery necessarily prolong life. This is denied by the actuaries, who say that these advancements are more than offset by the strenuosity of living, business activities and extravagances in pleasure during our relaxations.

There is little question that the modern element of "hustle" in business life is greatly injurious to the physical constitution. We find that [illegible] men nowadays generally die suddenly and are easy prey to the attacks of various forms of quick disease. Nerve maladies are more common now than in the time of our fathers, who lived more out of doors, did more walking and were not cooped up in overheated offices for such long stretches of time. A remarkable confirmation of this theory is the sudden breaking down of such men as Devlin, McCall and other active business men after sudden reverses. It is not often now that men retire from business, in comparison with former days. Generally death finds our great financiers and business men in the harness. This is because they defy death and are imbued with a passion for securing wealth that spurs them on to greater efforts with each year.

Modern sanitation, better scientific methods, etc., are credited with decreasing mortality among children in the cities, but a larger class of children survive infancy only to succumb to death before they reach old age. The lesson in this information to Americans is obvious. We must lead simpler lives and exercise more in the open. We must learn that the mere getting of money is a false idea of life. If we can strike the happy medium wherein we may take judicious advantage of modern comforts while at the same time cultivating the wealth of our bodies we may yet hope to change the now unfavorable complexion of grim actuary reports.

COLONIZATION ROADS

County of Peterboro Gets $3,900 For Colonization Roads.

The estimates of the Province of Ontario for the year ending 31st December, 1907, have just been issued. From these estimates we find that this County gets the sum of $3,900 for expenditure on Colonization roads, divided as follows:

|---|---|
| Belmont Township roads..... | $ 500 |
| Burleigh and Anstey roads... | 600 |
| Buckhorn road, North..... | 400 |
| Cavendish Township roads... | 400 |

HOCKEY NOTES.

If Whitecroft and Carr-Harris are intermediate players, some Toronto teams should have been playing junior this year.—Toronto World.

Whitecroft, the Peterboro man, was a star in centre ice, but when he changed places in the second half with Clark he did not show up so well.—Toronto Globe.

Mr. C. G. Graham yesterday received the following congratulatory telegram from Havre, Montana, sent by Mr. Willis Garrow and Mr. Leslie Scott, two old Peterboro boys; "Congratulations to the club on winning the intermediate championship, for 1906."

The Goderich Signal gives a very fair account of the recent great game in which the Peterboro boys got away with the scalps of the Sailors. That paper gives a very fine illustration of their home team and says; We should have liked to print a picture of the boys with the championship trophy in front of them; but we'll have to do without the silverware this year. The Sailors have had a remarkably successful season, despite their failure in the finals, and they deserve the praise and congratulations of the whole town for their good work. A good hockey team is a great advertisement for the town, and the Sailors have spread the name and fame of Goderich far and wide this year. It is worthy of remark that every member of the team is a bona fide resident of the town, and with only one exception they are all natives of Goderich, or have lived here nearly all their lives. Not many teams can equal this.

A Weasel Asleep.

"To catch a weasel asleep" is indicative of the extreme vigilance of these animals, who are disturbed and made wide awake by any sound, however slight.

Can't Drink Pure Water.

Arabs in the desert have contracted a strange prejudice against running water, and they will only drink what they find in some stagnant pool. So much has this become matter of habit with them that, while the most poisonous looking water agrees with them admirably, pure running water will make them violently sick.

A Brown Study.

"To be in a brown study" is a corruption of brow study, a study requiring much thought and contraction of the brow.

Clear Air.

The air is clear at Arequipa, Peru. From the observatory at that place, 8,000 feet above the sea, a black spot one inch in diameter placed on a white disk has been seen on Mount Churchard, a distance of eleven miles, through a thirteen inch telescope.

GREENE
Gold-Silver Company
CAPITAL STOCK, $15,000,000
W. C. GREENE, President. E. J. GATES, Treasurer.

I am authorised by the Company to offer, subject to prior sale, 100,000 shares of the treasury stock of this Company at par.

TEN DOLLARS PER SHARE

Eighteen months ago a limited issue of the stock of the Greene Consolidated Copper Company was placed upon the market at $10 per share. It is now selling at $30.00 per share and in the meantime has paid 20 per cent. in dividends.

Col. W. C. Greene, who is President of both Companies, expects the stock of the Greene-Gold-Silver Company to exceed even this flattering record made by the Greene Consolidated Copper Company.

Full information, maps, prospectus, reports, etc., will be furnished upon application. Make all checks for subscriptions payable to the order of offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claims area of 27 full lode claims, or about 570 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a total of about 20 acres surface area.

Calumet-Tellurid Colde Mining Co.
Of CALUMET, MICHIGAN,

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzes and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling are blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.50 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $4.60 to $14.20 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

Capitalization 500,000, par value $1.00, and non-assessable. Two years development, properties paid—as above stated, and we have in our treasury remaining 350,000 shares. Show us something better.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,600 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

how to write. "All was fair in love and war."

"You can give me only a few brief moments, Reine?" he said, reproachfully. "How shall I tell you all I have to say in so short a time? The words I would utter would fill volumes."

He clasped the little white hand, bending his handsome head over it, and the beautiful story, so old and sweet, that young girls love to listen to so well—the story that had been so charmingly told in a score or more of letters, in an hundred different ways—was breathed again in eloquent, passionate words.

She looked up at him with startled eyes, crimson flushes coming and going on her dimpled face. But she loved him. The artless, girlish replies to his letters had told him that long ago.

Her golden head drooped. She tried to speak, but her lovely lips trembled with all a young girl's coy bashfulness.

"You do care for me, Reine," he whispered. "Look up and tell me so. Tell me that, and nothing shall ever part us. You will be mine in life, mine in death, mine through eternity. Say that you love me, Reine, and will be my bride, and to-morrow I will come and ask your father for this dear little hand. He may censure our wooing, yet it could not have been tenderer, sweeter. He may hold out against us at first, but when he finds out how well we love each other, he will yield in the end."

She did not shrink from his caresses, for Reine Hastings, the general's lovely daughter, had learned to love Waldemar Waldron with all her heart. She sat with him under the trees, listening to his words of love, so unutterably happy, and the answer she made him must have pleased him, for his eyes blazed with triumph.

Yes, she had promised to be his bride.

"They may try to part us, Reine," he said, "they may calumniate me, and try to vilify me in your eyes; but you will be true to me through good or evil report—true to me if we lose the whole world beside," he went on, anxiously and eagerly.

"Why should any one wish to part us?" asked Reine.

"I will tell you, my darling," he answered, with an assumption of intense sorrow. "You are General Hastings' heiress, rich in this world's goods, while I am comparatively poor. They will say I am no match for you—that you are expected to marry brilliantly."

Reine laughed, thinking how little weight money would have with her father in considering her happiness. Why, he had never denied his motherless daughter anything that she had really set her mind on in all her bright young life. He would not do so now.

"We shall have trouble, Reine," he said. "I am sure we will have trouble in gaining your father's consent. But with you on my side—if you stand by me firmly—he will not hold out against us long. I will come to Fairlawn to-morrow morning, Reine, and see him."

The great hall in an adjacent belfry rang out the hour of eight in measured strokes, and the lovers parted hastily.

He to go slowly back to Waldron Towers, triumphant over his prospects of the future, she to hurry back to the house to keep her appointment with her father in the library, her throbbing heart in a whirl, the glamor of love's beautiful dream enfolding her.

General Hastings was pacing up and down the room when she entered. She went up to him swiftly, clasping her arms about him, hiding the tell-tale, blushing face in his breast.

Should she tell him of her love for Waldemar Waldron ere she left him, and plead with him to receive her handsome young lover kindly on the morrow? She would wait and see first why he had sent for her.

"You wanted me, papa, dear," she said, "yet you seem in no hurry to tell me what you want of me."

The general smiled. How impetuous his beautiful darling was. He seated himself in his favorite arm-chair, and drew her down to a low seat at his knee, where he could have a full view of her face. How blue her eyes were, and how crimson the laughing lips.

"I have sent for you to talk over your future with you, my Reine," he said, stroking her curling, golden hair. "That has happened to-day which may change my plans for you entirely. I have discovered that some one loves my darling very much."

Reine sprang to her feet, breathless with excitement, the deep blushes glowing and burning her dimpled cheeks, her breast heaving.

Had Waldemar been to him father already, and wished to surprise him? She looked anxiously into his face.

He was smiling down into her face, and there was a merry twinkle in his fond eyes, as though he were well pleased.

"I have discovered that some one loves my Reine very much," repeated the general, "and wishes to wed my daughter if she will look with favor upon his suit. Although it has been kept very slyly from me, as the young man supposed; yet old eyes are keen. I discovered his love for my Reine some little time since."

"Oh, papa, how in the world did you find it out so cleverly?" faltered Reine, half sobbing, half laughing in delightful girlish confusion. "We thought—I thought—you might be angry if you knew, and I was almost afraid to tell you, but I really never meant to keep it a secret from you, papa."

"I discovered his love for you, my [illegible] spy," said the general, "and although I watched you closely, I could never feel quite certain that you cared for him. He is a noble young man, my child—the one I should have chosen for you above all others. I can die content, knowing that you will have such a protector. To tell you the truth, my dear, this is the very thing I have wished for all along. I was too well versed in the contrary ways of girls' hearts, though, to even suggest such a thing to you. Then you do love him, my dear?" questioned the general, earnestly. "I must hear it from your own lips before I give him his answer."

"Yes, I love him, papa," sobbed Reine. "I love him with all my heart. Life would be nothing to me without his love. Oh, I care for him so much, papa—more than all the world—except you."

The old general looked at his daughter in wonder. He had always thought of her as a dreaming child, knowing as little of life, or love, as the brilliant butterflies that flitted among the roses. He was amazed to discover the mighty, passionate love that beat in her breast.

"The one prayer of my life is granted, Reine. You love the man whom it has been my secret wish to see your husband, and he loves you. You both have my hearty consent and my blessing.

"He is in the next room, my darling, waiting with all a young lover's impatience to learn from me what your answer is. I will bid him come in," said the general, rising hastily.

Reine's heart gave a great, fluttering throb; her lover beneath the very same roof with her, in the very next room, and so soon to be with her—ah, joy, joy! She sank down in her father's great arm-chair, covering her flushed, happy face with her hands, trembling with excitement. Ah, how cruel of Waldemar to jest with her so.

She caught her breath, with a little suppressed cry of joy, when she heard the library door open. Her lovely head drooped lower; she could not raise her eyes to her lover's face, while her father stood watching them.

"My dear boy," cried the general, heartily, "my child has confessed to me that she returns your love. In giving her to you, the one wish of my heart is brought about—take her and be happy. You both have my blessing."

The general led him over to where his daughter sat. He knelt at her feet, then Reine shyly raised her blushing face from her trembling hands.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even-numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces except 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased) of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

By The Times Man on the Street

—Dar Spence Council, R. T. of T. met last night.

—Mr. A. Graham, late of Mason & Co., has accepted a position with Jas. R. Bell, grocer, Hunter St.

—Canon Starr, M.A., of Kingston, will conduct the regular week-night service this evening at St. John's.

—The local hotels are somewhat crowded, owing to the hundreds of delegates attending the great convention.

—Yesterday more than 300 hogs, from surrounding townships were in the market. They were for Messrs. Matthews Co.

—A special meeting of the Choral Society was held in the Central school kindergarten room last night. There was a large attendance.

—Visitors in the city who prefer lodgings with private family will find accommodation with all modern improvements by calling at 380 Water street, a few doors north of the Ontario Bank.

—Last night in All Saints' church, the rector, Rev. Wm. Major, gave his illustrated lecture, "The Reformation in England." This lecture covers a range of history up to the time of the Spanish Armada.

—Things are busy in the police court nowadays. Yesterday's session lasted from 10 a.m., until empty interior departments of those present reminded their owners that the midday meal was cooking.

—The Browning Class met Monday night at the Y.M.C.A. Much interest was again shown in the study of the poems. At the next meeting of the class "A Grammarian's Funeral" and "Abt. Vogler" will be considered.

—Yesterday sixteen delegates to the Order of Canadian Home Circles were guests at the Palace Hotel. The National took in one hundred and nine, the Oriental about forty, and the Snowdon House nearly fifty.

—Mr. A. Kingsmote, in the absence from the city of Mr. G. F. Warde, president of the Young Men's Guild of St. Luke's church, presided at the Guild's monthly meeting on Monday night, at their rooms on Hunter street. Only regular business was transacted.

THOSE PRESENT

List of Gentlemen Present at the Hockey Banquet.

Even though at the risk of giving news that has appeared before in other papers, we, as promised in yesterday's issue, supplement our report of the great hockey banquet by giving a few particulars necessarily omitted in our former account owing to the late hour the news reached our printers.

During progress of the banquet a list was circulated among the one hundred and odd guests, by the press representatives present, to get a fair report of those who showed their tangible appreciation of the Juniors brought to Peterboro by the Intermediate O.H.A. champions. The list omitted in yesterday's paper through exigencies of the occasion, included; Hon. J. R. Stratton, chairman and toastmaster; D. L. Darroch, President O.H.A.; W. A. Hewitt, secretary; A. W. Macpherson, treasurer; H. H. Ball, M.C.; T. B. Dunsmore, M.P.P.; F. J. Wilkinson, captain hockey team, and members W. E. Wasson, H. M. Grover, W. Growney, M. Moore, H. Murdock, W. Cavanagh and C. C. Cameron, members of the Peterboro Hockey team; E. W. Hardy, Orono; John C. Short, Orillia; H. O. Bonnycastle, Port Hope; W. A. Mackenzie, Port Hope; John J. Boyd, E. A. Cayley, Walter Webster, Max Hamilton, R. H. Bonnycastle, E. Macdonald, E. D. Bell, W. H. Hall, W. G. Sparrow, Wm. Trangle, V. W. Armstrong, J. N. Parker, D. C. Cameron, Jos. Graham, R. N. Wansbrough, A. M. Keyes, D. H. Moore, J. Graham, Alex. Sandell, W. S. Dewman, W. Milford, Hoyt Hetherington, W. H. Mendrum, A. A. Bonnycastle, W. G. Chapman, E. M. Rose, E. M. Hoy, Dr. F. S. ### A Concert By Machinery.

Yesterday afternoon, by special invitation, a Times representative was present at a demonstration given in the Snowdon House parlors of the Columbia graphophone. Quite a number of local citizens were present, who thoroughly enjoyed the concert. Mr. J. T. Barrie, of Toronto, who is in charge of the Ontario branches of this great company, was yesterday in personal charge of the demonstration given, and we might say that Mr. Barrie is, to use a feeble expression, firmly convinced that the Columbia graphone is "the goods." Mr. Chas. Marsden of this city, has been appointed local agent for the company.

WANTED A WARRANT

Mark Spensely Wanted a Man Arrested for Theft.

Just as yesterday's court adjourned, Mark Spensely brought a warrant for arrest to his Worship for signature. After signing the warrant Mr. Dumble, before handing it to Spensely took the precaution of looking through the document. "Why," he remarked to Spensely, "This is only a ten-cent affair, I will not involve the town in a possible expense of perhaps $15 or $20 over a ten-cent affair like this."

It seems that Spensely charged a man with stealing two empty fruit glass jars. Spensely said, "Well, your Worship, even if they are only worth ten cents I want to get satisfaction. I would like to stick the man for $50 worth of costs if possible." Mr. Dumble advised him to go to the man he accused and ask him for ten cents, saying that, "This man would probably give you a dime sooner than be arrested." He did not get the warrant.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED

Rev. C. A. Campbell, of Lakefield is Leaving for the Northwest.

At the meeting of the Peterboro Presbytery in St. Paul's church yesterday morning, the resignation of Rev. C. A. Campbell, of Lakefield, was considered and accepted. A deputation from Lakefield was also in attendance and testified to Mr. Campbell's efficiency as pastor of the Lakefield Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Mr. Campbell will leave about the first of May for the Northwest.

BADLY BURNED

Mrs. G. Brokenshire Burned Whilst Saving Her Boy.

The Lindsay Post says;

About 10.30 this morning Mrs. G. Brokenshire, living west on Russell street, was seriously burned about the left arm, shoulder and chest. A little son secured a match and set fire to a lace curtain, at the same time igniting his clothing. His mother in extinguishing it ignited her own clothing, and ran to a neighbors with her clothing all on fire, and asked Mrs. Teevins to turn the tap on her. When the fire was extinguished after the results above stated Drs. Gillespie and Shiler were called and had her removed to the hospital in the ambulance where they attended to her injuries. At two p.m., she was resting more comfortably but suffering considerably from shock.

OFFICERS ELECTED

St. Luke's Girls Auxiliary Holds Annual Meeting.

A well attended annual meeting was held of the St. Luke's Girls' Auxiliary held Monday night. The treasurer, Miss Stewart, reported a small balance of $24.50. It was with regret that the resignation of Mrs. W. Boswell was accepted.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

First Vice President—Miss Mamie Rogers.

Second Vice President—Miss Emma Gamble.

Cor.-Sec.—Miss Alice Dawson.

Rec.-Sec.—Miss Isabel Hall.

Dorcas Sec.—Miss Mary McWha.

Asst. Dorcas Sec. — Miss Mabel Scott.

Treas.—Miss Lizzie Stewart.

P.M.C. Convener—Mrs. W. H. Andrews.

Delegates to Assembly—Miss L. Stewart, Miss Isabel Hay.

Representatives on the Board of Management, appointed by the rector, Mrs. W. Boswell, Miss Dee Cookson.

NO MAN IS STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

Let the greatest athlete have dyspepsia and his muscles would soon fail. Physical strength is derived from food. If a man has insufficient food he loses strength. If he has no food he dies. Food is converted into nutrition through the stomach and bowels. It depends on the strength of the stomach to what extent food eaten is digested and assimilated. People can die of starvation who have abundant food to eat, when the stomach and its associate organs of digestion and nutrition do not perform their duty. Then the stomach is really the vital organ of the body. If the stomach is "weak" the body will be weak also, because it is upon the stomach the body relies for its strength. And as the body, considered as a whole, is made up of its several members and organs, so the weakness of the body as a consequence of "weak" stomach will be distributed among the organs which compose the body. If the body is weak because it is ill-nourished that physical weakness will be found in all the organs—heart, liver, kidneys, etc. The liver will be torpid and inactive, giving rise to biliousness, loss of appetite, weak nerves, feeble or irregular action of heart, palpitation, dizziness, headache, backache and kindred disturbances and weaknesses.

Mr. Louis Fare, of Quebec, writes: "For years after my health began to fail, my head grew dizzy, eyes pained me, and my stomach was sore all the time, while everything I would eat would seem to lie heavy like lead on my stomach. The doctors claimed that it was sympathetic trouble due to dyspepsia, and prescribed for me, and although I took their powders regularly yet I felt no better. My wife advised me to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—and stop taking the doctors medicine. She bought me a bottle and we soon found that I began to improve, so I kept up the treatment. I took on flesh, my stomach became normal, the digestive organs worked perfectly and I soon began to look like a different person. I can never cease to be grateful for what your medicine has done for me and I certainly give it highest praise."

To gain knowledge of your own body—in sickness and health—send for the People's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A book of 1008 pages. Send 21 one-cent stamps for paper-covered, or 50 stamps for cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

O.C.H.C. Convention Concludes Business

238 Delegates in the City, Representing 241 Circles Held Successful Meeting and Elected Officers for the Ensuing Year.

The Supreme Circle of the Order of Canadian Home Circles, resumed its session yesterday morning, with J. L. Buck, Supreme Leader, of Port Rowan, presiding.

The forenoon was chiefly given to consideration of amendments to the constitution. Among the more important amendments was one to add a seal, and a set of officers' badges to the outfit to be supplied to newly organized subordinate circles.

A proposition to make alterations in the status of associate members, thus carrying no insurance, was not acted upon.

Another to increase the list of outlawed occupations, was also voted down, after a protest from Peterboro that many members of the local circle would be debarred by its operation, as all electrical workers were proscribed. It was shown, also that all over the jurisdiction, the class is constantly increasing, and it was held that it has not proven to be especially dangerous.

A much needed amendment was that proposed by the Managing Committee to establish the exact moment at which a member was to be considered as accepted, some difficulty is certain cases, being experienced for want of such a provision. It was decided that the date of acceptance should be the time of the local medical examination. This was confirmed by an amendment.

At ten o'clock the election of officers was taken up, and resulted as follows,

Supreme Leader—Wm. Stark, Toronto.

Supreme Vice Leader—T. R. Young, Walkerton.

Supreme Secretary—J. M. Foster, Toronto.

Supreme Treasurer—W. H. Weston, Toronto.

Supreme Chaplain—Rev. R. M. Phelps, Blackstock.

Supreme Marshal—W. G. Maybee, Winnipeg.

Supreme Warden—W. A. Trueman, Albert, N.B.

Supreme Guard—E. C. Phelan, Amherst, N.S.

Supreme Sentinel—John Wilson.

Supreme Organizer—P. M. Pattison.

Supreme Solicitor—W. A. Damber, K.C., Tillsonburgh.

Supreme Medical Examiner—A. T. Hobbs, M.D., Guelph.

Supreme Trustees—Dr. E. Clouse, Toronto, W. B. Graham, Ridgetown; R. R. Mowbray, Elmvale.

Committee on Finance—D. Dalton, Delhi; C. G. Denton, Williamsburg; J. B. Scarff, Woodstock.

Committee on Laws—T. Paradine, Hamilton; Mrs M. A. Anderson, Peterboro, R. W. Hawkins, Brownsville.

Committee on Appeals—A. R. Ewing, Waterford; S. J. Gould, Toronto; H. J. Gilbert, Hamilton.

Auditors—A. R. Thompson, Merritton; A. M. Tobin, Waterford.

The report of the trustees referred among other matters, to the instructions given them a year ago, to invest $100,000 of the "Life Expectancy Fund" in the Toronto General Trusts Corporation, or other similar corporations. This had been done, the amount being divided between the one named and the Canada Permanent Mortgage Corporation, and the National Trust Company. This had resulted in an increase of interest income of $1,000 per year, and it was found an safe and satisfactory that the committee recommended further investments of the same kind, the report being adopted.

The report of the Supreme Solicitor, W. A. Damber, K.C., of Tillsonburgh, was very interesting. In four cases the fund paid beneficiary monies into court, though no claim had been actually litigated, two of the cases being for infants and two pending settlements of va e.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session, the election of officers proceeded, with other business interspersed.

A resolution was brought up by Mr. Titus of Gore Bay, expressing the satisfaction of the Order at the work of the founder of the Order, P. M. Pattison, the supreme organizer, and speaking in very warm terms of his skill as a guide and counsellor, and the determination to maintain the foundation principles on which the Order is established. The motion expressed also the hope that the subject of the motion might long be spared to continue this work.

The motion was supported by several members, and was unanimously adopted.

Dr. Webster, of Ridgeway, moved a resolution calling on the legislature to enact legislation to prevent the spread of consumption, and supported it in a strong speech, in which he claimed that this disease, once deemed hereditary and uncurable, has been proved to be not hereditary, but purely contagious. He held that the medical fraternity, if given a free hand, could stamp out the disease in five years.

The motion was seconded by Dr. Hobbs, the Supreme Medical Examiner, who said in five years this order had paid $300,000 on account of this disease. He drew attention to the action of the health authorities in preventing the spread of the disease in various practical ways.

Dr. Clouse said the disease could be made as scarce as smallpox. The treatment at the sanitariums was educating the people to be careful in their homes.

The subject was deemed of great importance, and was carried unanimously by a standing vote.

Invitations were received to hold the next meeting at Goderich, Toronto, Brantford and St. Catharines. The invitation from Goderich was backed up by strong letters from the town council and board of trade. The decision was in favor of Toronto, on the ground of economy.

The banner circle of the Order, St. Catharines, No. 63, with 447 members, then received the trophy banner, presented by Mr. G. Maybee, of Winnipeg, an old member of St. Catharines. The banner was held last year by Port Hope.

The salaries of the supreme officers were fixed the same as last year, and $50 was granted to the Hospital for Sick Children of this city of Toronto.

A diversion took place at this point. A young man, who had been accepted for membership by Stratford circle, but is now in Peterboro, and is about to start for the West, with no opportunity to be initiated, was initiated in the ante-room by five supreme officers, by special dispensation. He was then introduced to the supreme circle as "The baby member" of the order, and was received with applause and congratulations.

A resolution of thanks to the Peterboro circle for their reception, and to the Mayor and Council for their welcome, and for the use of the building, was adopted unanimously.

The new officers were then installed, and the Supreme Circle for 1906 adjourned.

NOTES.

Many of the representatives took advantage of their visit to Peterboro to inspect the lift lock.

Most of them carried away souvenir photographs.

One of the most wide-awake representatives was Mr. W. G. Maybee, of Winnipeg, who came like a breeze from the West, and strongly urged that more missionary work be done in that great and content's expanding field.

There were in all 238 representatives present, representing 241 circles. Besides 22 officers and committeemen.

A large percentage of the representatives were ladies, and they proved very apt in business procedure.

The ladies of the members were reversed until noon yesterday out of respect to the memory of their late past supreme leader, Rev. James Mooney, who died a few weeks ago at Clifford, Ont.

General regret was expressed by the members over the absence of D. R. Foster of Waterford, the veteran supreme treasurer. A few weeks ago he had tendered his resignation to the managing committee, who had reluctantly accepted it, and appointed W. H. Weston of Toronto, to temporarily fill the vacancy. P. M. Pattison, the supreme organizer, and the founder of the Order, said a feeling tribute to the worth of the ex-treasurer, who, he stated, was the very first man to give him his name when he set out, over 21 years ago, to establish a new insurance society. It was ordered that a suitable memorial address be sent to Mr. Foster.

Tuesday night several strangers to the city had an embarrassing time to find lodgings, as the hotel accommodation of the city were severely taxed. It seems the local reception committee had assured that the principal hotels were equal to the requirements; but the "I.O.U." Company arriving in the city, overflowed local hotel capacities.

CANADA'S GREATEST

The Canada Life Assurance Company Holds Their Annual Meeting.

The public is now much agitated over the recent exposure of alleged ill-treatment of their patrons, by some of the great American life insurance companies.

Some of our Canadian newspapers are now trying to influence Canadian policyholders to use their influence towards having a thorough and systematic investigation of the modus operandi of the insurance companies of this country. A Royal Commission has been appointed to make this investigation, and it is of great local interest to know that one of the strongest advocates of this investigation is a former resident of this city, Hon. Geo. A. Cox, President of the Canada Life Assurance Co.

The Canada Life Assurance Co. today stands in the front ranks, not only of Canadian insurance companies, but is one of the strongest and most successful institutions of its kind in the world.

At the 56th annual meeting of the Canada Life Co., held recently, the directors' report was of a most encouraging character. The company has shown a steadily and rapidly increasing business since its inception, nearly sixty years ago. The assets of the Canada Life now, not only reach the enormous sum of $38,329,256, but consist of the highest and most conservative class of investments, including $17,720,821 in government, municipal and other equally safe bonds and debentures, $8,186,619 in mortgages on real estate and other similarly safe securities.

During the year 1905 applications for policies amounted to the vast sum of $14,886,915, an increase over 1904 of $514,573; the actual policies issued amounted to $10,336,579, a net increase over the preceding year of $283,676. The total business of the company now in force amounts to $107,611,343, a veritable proof of the intense confidence placed by the insuring public in this greatest of Canadian companies.

So much has recently been said about the amount of total receipts by insurance companies returned in profits to the policyholders, it is interesting to learn that, since their inception, the Canada Life Co. has paid to their policyholders $114.56 in return for every $100 received from them. Last year the company paid out in profits to policyholders or applied to purchase bonus additions to policyholders nearly $1,200,000.00. Such a record as this effectually demonstrates that the Canada Life Co. is not included among insurance companies managed solely for the purpose of wringing a golden harvest from the policyholders to enrich the shareholders.

One point in connection with the great and increasing business of the Canada Life, of special local interest, is the fact that its President, Hon. Senator Cox, one of Canada's leading financiers, is a former Peterboro man, who still retains large interests in this city, and a gentleman greatly interested in Peterboro's progress.

The Canada Life Co. in this city, has a tremendous volume of business, as our citizens have unlimited faith in the prosperity and good faith of the company.

A VETERAN GONE

Mr. Mason, Port Hope's Fire Brigade Chief Dead.

Mr. L. Mason, Chief of the Port Hope Fire Department for over thirty years, died suddenly Monday evening of Bright's disease. The deceased who was born in New York state seventy-two years ago, came to Port Hope when a mere lad, and had been employed as a carriage-maker at Chalk's for fifty years. For the past week he had been in ill-health, but was improving, and had just eaten a hearty meal, when death came unexpectedly. He was a member of the Methodist church, a Conservative in politics, and a respected citizen. A widow and married daughter, Mrs R. J. Hunt, Chicago, survive.

PETERBORO BOYS WIN FROM SMITH'S FALLS

IN ONE OF THE FASTEST GAMES EVER SEEN HERE.

The Locals Defeat Federal League Champions and Stanley Cup Challengers by a Score of 9 to 4.

Last night Brock street rink was crowded to its utmost capacity by ardent admirers of the local champions, anxious to see them do form with the Smiths' Falls bunch. As is well known to those following the hockey matches of this district, the local team has won the intermediate championship of the O.H.A., and the Smiths Falls' boys are champions of the Federal League; and also made an enviable record at Ottawa for the Stanley Cup.

Last night's game was, not to use an expression that might be misinterpreted as offensive, "For blood." Both teams jumped in to win from the start, and the large audience was treated to one of the fastest games ever seen here.

For the visitors LeSuer, the goal tender, was splendid at his business. Another prominent player on their line-up was Harold Armstrong, a former Peterboro boy. Since Harold was moved away from here two years ago, he has developed into one of the greatest players on the country. He is the star of the Federal League and has no superior in the game. Brown, a former Belleville man, was also with the Falls team. Smiths' Falls won the Federal League championship in a walk, defeating all the other teams in easy fashion.

Last night their playing was quite on a par with past endeavors. To quote the good deeds done by the locals last night would perhaps be fulsome, as each and every one of the locals did his utmost to sustain the honors they have won.

Loud cheering greeted the players as they came on the ice sharp on time, and Harold Armstrong, Peterboro's old player, got a "big hand."

From the start off, Morgan shot the puck to Whitecroft, he to Morgan, but was checked, then the boys in red and white made a pretty rush, but were checked, and after two minutes play Cavanagh made a pretty shot the puck going between Brown's legs into the nets before the goal keeper saw it, shortly after scoring another. Then Whitecroft made a pretty rush and scored, making the score 2—0.

The Falls then scored their first goal on a rush by Armstrong and Servias, Armstrong doing the trick. Peterboro scored as a result of Morgan being too fast for the goal tender, and just before half-time, Smith's Falls got another in the lace curtained, making the half-time score 4—2 in favor of the locals.

In the second half the locals got off to a bunch of speed, that was simply marvellous, scoring wide before the Federal Leaguers woke up. Their turn however, came next, they scoring two in succession, one being a hit caused by a mix-up and falling in the nets before Wasson saw it, making the score 6—4. But before full time the locals had added three more to their number, making the score 9—4 in favor of the Peterboro team.

The teams lined up as follows.

| Peterboro | | Smith's Falls |
|---|---|---|
| Wasson | Goal. | LeSuer |
| Glover | Point | Brown |
| Crowley | Cover-point. | Armstrong |
| Whitecroft | Rover. | Ross |
| Morgan | Centre | Fraser |
| Cavanagh | Left Wing. | Servias |
| Graham | Right Wing. | May |

Canadian's View of the Famine.

Ottawa, March 14.—In his report to the Trade and Commerce Department, Mr. Alexander MacLean, Canada's commercial agent in Japan, writes that the famine conditions, as described in official statements, are as appalling as stated. Private munificence is doing its best to relieve the distress. It is said that there are a million or more Japanese of all classes affected by the famine. Imperial and Provincial authorities are carrying on public works to give employment to relieve the distress.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. Quartermaine Gets Letter Relative to Australian Trade.

The following letter from Mr. J. S. Larke, the silver-tongued orator, we I known here, has been received by Mr. T. Q. Quartermaine, secretary of the Peterboro Board of Trade:

Commercial Agency of the Government of Canada, Sydney, N.S.W., 1st Feb. 1906.

Dear Sir,—When I met your Board of Trade in Canada last fall some of the members were concerned over the restoration of the duty on inland freight by the Australian Government. This bore heavily upon goods shipped overland to Vancouver from Eastern Canada, and tended to mend the trade of the eastern provinces by way of New York.

I then expressed the hope that as the Australian Government had changed this regulation three years before, when I had been able to show that it was detrimental to Canada, that this new regulation would be also altered if it were shown to be injurious to the Canadian route. Upon my return to Australia I took up the matter with Sir William Lyne, the Minister of Customs, and I am glad now to be able to inform you that he has decided to accede to the request I made that all goods shipped from Eastern Canada via Vancouver shall have to pay no higher duty than if they had been shipped by way of New York. This removes the disability against the port of Vancouver for eastern shipments. I think it will also support the statement that I made to you that there was not the slightest unfriendliness toward Canada on the part of either the Australian Government or the Australian people. I also venture to hope that this concession, which is a special one to Canada, will be followed by further advantages as the result of negotiations between the two Governments.

Yours very truly,

J. S. LARKE.

It will be remembered by our readers that The Times gave, a few weeks ago, a very comprehensive report of the lecture Mr. Larke gave before the local Board of Trade in the council chamber.

Archduchess Poor Speculator

Vienna, March 14.—An examination has been ordered into the affairs of the Archduchess Clothilde, mother of the Archduke Joseph, who is said to have lost in speculations on the bourse $2,000,000.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

The Sons of Rest did not turn out yesterday in as large numbers as usual, the Police Court bill of fare not being sufficiently spicy for their jaded tastes.

John Clark was charged with having no means of support and no fixed place of abode. Acting Chief Adams said Clark had spent several nights in the Police Station cells. The Magistrate asked, "Do you want to go to the Central?" "No sir," replied Clark. "Well, I'll let you go this time, but if you appear before me again I'll send you to the Central. You may go." He went and tarried not on the order of his going.

A young South Monaghan farmer was charged with using grossly insulting language towards Mrs. W. Smith. Mr. Kerr appeared for the prisoner, and Mr. Wood for the prosecution. Mr. Wood noted that Mrs. Smith had a small child and could get no one to look after it. He asked to have the case enlarged until this afternoon. Mr. Kerr explained that his client had used the words, "It's a —— lie," not "You are a —— liar." The Magistrate said it was simply a case of whether defendant forgot he was paid or whether he was trying to collect money twice for the same goods. Mr. Kerr went into a metaphysical argument on the difference between saying "It's a —— lie" and "You are a —— liar." The case was enlarged until 3 p.m.

This case, it will perhaps be remembered by our readers, arose out of Mr. Smith purchasing a bag of potatoes last Saturday from the defendant, paying him at the time of ordering the same. The farmer, when delivering the goods asked for his money. Mrs. Smith insisted that her husband had paid for the bag. The farmer, it is alleged, then called her "a ——liar."

At the afternoon session Mrs. Smith was present and gave evidence showing that the defendant had used the language as alleged in the indictment. Mr. Kerr made a strong appeal for his client, but the Magistrate intimated that no man should use such language toward a lady, and fined him $2 with $4.10 costs, to be paid in ten days. The defendant satisfied the demands of justice and everything was lovely.

SUGAR AND STARCH

Please the Palate, but Sometimes Play Hob With Digestion.

Sugar and starch, as found in ordinary food are intended to supply energy and strength, keep up steam to drive the human machine, and this they do if properly digested.

But when the digestive apparatus has had too much work crowded upon it, or when it becomes weakened from any cause, the food decays (there is no other word so expressive) in the stomach and intestines, and not only produces gas to distend the stomach and crowd and weaken the heart, but promotes other disease conditions which develop into serious liver, stomach and sometimes heart trouble.

It is important that the food present the sugar and starch to the stomach in such form that they may be readily digested and pass to the nerves and blood to energize the machine without overtaxing the organs.

Grape-Nuts food does this perfectly. It is prepared by mechanical (not chemical) processes, similar to those through which the food passes in the healthy human digestive machinery, and is, when taken into the system, pre-digested, soluble and easily assimilated. It is made of wheat and barley, and as it comes from the package, is adapted and grateful to even the weakest stomach of adult or babe.

A lady writes from Woonsocket, R. I.:

"Grape-Nuts," she says, "is truly a wonderful food. I have been practically living on it for the past 7 months, and I am stronger today, both physically and mentally, than I have been before for years.

"For some 12 or 15 years I had lived on sweet and starchy foods until my digestive organs were almost worn out, and I had been troubled for a long time with nervous dyspepsia or indigestion in its worst form. Everything I ate fermented and I belched gas from my stomach most of the time.

"My doctor advised me to try Grape-Nuts and so I began using it 3 times a day, and it has done wonders for me. It has strengthened my muscles, toned up my nerves and rested my brain. The headaches that used to punish me have disappeared.

"I have gained strength to work and power to think. Grape-Nuts is worth more to me than all the medicine in the world.

"When my baby was cutting his teeth this summer I cured him of his bowel trouble by feeding him Grape-Nuts soaked in milk." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Bloody Plot Found Among High Officers

Massacre of Revolutionists and Jews Planned by High Officials in Order to Prevent the Czar's Promised Reforms.

St. Petersburg, March 15. — At yesterday's session of the Council, Premier Witte, who was warmly supported by Prince Alex Obolonsky, Procurator-General of the Holy Synod, and Count John Tolstoi, Minister of Education, insisted on the suppression of the organization known as the League of the Russian People, through which the agitation of the reactionary "Black Hundred" is propagated. It is reported that he was forced to arrive at this decision, but this is not absolutely confirmed.

The Police Prefect, M. Vonder Launitz, was summoned to the meeting and asked to explain how it happened that the publication of the proclamation calling for the extermination of the Jews, was printed in the official printing office attached to this department. The Prefect denied having any personal knowledge of the printing. However, it was established that there is constantly accumulating evidence that the plot to produce a counter revolution in the hope of sweeping away the reforms outlined in the manifesto of October 30, had its origin in a court cabal.

TREPOFF IN IT.

The conspiracy includes General Trepoff, commandant of the Palace; General Count Ignatieff, M. Stolypinsky former Chief Adjutant of the Interior Department; Count Sheremetieff, a noted reactionary, and General Prince Putiatin, who are said to be utterly reckless of the consequences. The plan is to provoke riots and massacres of Jews and Revolutionists over as wide an area as possible in order to justify still more terrible repression, and thereby prove to the Majesty that the people are not ripe for any form of self-government. It is a desperate game, but is backed by many of the provincial authorities, and the support of the Governors-General has been enlisted, the former using the police and the latter the troops, among whom proclamations against the Jews and Revolutionists are being circulated.

CABINET MINISTER INVOLVED.

The complicity of Interior Minister Durnovo in the conspiracy is not proven, although suspected. Premier Witte and the Liberal section of the Cabinet will be compelled to fight the conspiracy, and consequently a break in the Ministry is not regarded as improbable.

It is understood that 30,000 members of the "Black Hundreds" in St. Petersburg are armed, but it is not believed in view of the warnings they have received that the conspirators will attempt to provoke a massacre at the capital.

DANGER IS VERY REAL.

The authorities here, however, are in sympathy with the conspirators, and the danger of an outbreak about Easter is regarded as very real. In the meantime, on the other side the proletariat organizations, which were ruthlessly crushed by the Government's repressive measures, are trying to organize another general strike. Negotiations are proceeding with the telegraph and railroad employes, whose co-operation is regarded as vital to this end. The socialists of Finland have promised their support. Some rioting has already occurred at Moscow and in the vicinity.

The Stamm, Country, says that M. Durnovo has telegraphed to the Governors of ten provinces in Poland not to proclaim the elections until further orders.

HOCKEY.

The members of the Peterboro Hockey Club, intermediate champions of Ontario, have been invited by St. Peter's T.A.S. to attend the production of "Colleen Bawn" in the Grand Opera House tomorrow night. They will occupy the boxes on the right of the stage.

Last night at Montreal, in the first game of the finals for the E.A.H.A. championship, the Wanderers of Montreal, defeated the Ottawa-Stanley Cup holders by a score of 9—1. This gives the Montreal team a lead of eight goals goals counting on the round.

• • • •

The winner of the Ottawa-Wanderer series will be asked to defend the Stanley Cup, as Kenora, the champions of the West, have challenged for it. Last week it was practically decided by the champion Thistles to let the cup match go this season, but at a special meeting of the club, it was decided to once more go after the coveted trophy. A challenge was sent yesterday morning to Trustee P. D. Ross by President Laidlaw, of the Thistle Club.

Waterloo, March 14.—One of the largest crowds that has attended a hockey match here in some time turned out last night to see the struggle between the two family sevens, the Mick's seven, of Waterloo, playing a tie with the seven Kings of Guelph. Each team scored nine goals. The Guelph players had a big advantage in weight, but were not as speedy.

• • • • •

The following challenge appeared in the Toronto Star yesterday. Dear Sir,—I notice in your paper that the Micks and King brothers are to play hockey at Guelph. On behalf of the Hak brothers of Toronto, I hereby challenge the winners of the above hockey match to a game of hockey to be played at any time and place to be agreed upon.

THE RING.

A large crowd of supporters accompanied McGovern of New York, to Philadelphia, to see the great fight in the latter place, which was pulled off last night before a jammed house. Both boys were in excellent condition, and the fight was one of the best ever seen here. Although Battling Nelson had the best of it all the way through, McGovern showed up good until about the fourth round when he began to tire. Although both fighters tried hard, neither could score a knock-out before the 20th round was ended, and as was agreed upon, no decision was given.

CURLING.

Mr. R. Stull received word yesterday morning from Mr. J. D. Flavelle of Lindsay, accepting the Peterboro curlers invitation to play a friendly game here on Friday afternoon. Mr. Flavelle will bring the two rinks which played and won glory in Winnipeg, and the game will start sharply at nine o'clock.

ANOTHER INDUSTRY

Peterboro May Add Still Another Factory to Her Extensive Industries.

Mayor Best has received a communication from Messrs. Stevens, Hepner & Co., of Port Elgin, who are looking for a new location for their brush, broom and whisk factory, and who are desirous of ascertaining what inducements Peterboro would offer if they locate here.

The firm as a prosperous and progressive one, and was established about 12 years ago. Some 60 hands are employed and it has become necessary to enlarge the factory in order to double the output. If Stevens, Hepner & Co., hear from this city in time, we have it on good authority that Peterboro stands an excellent chance of securing the industry.

Mr. Stevens, the senior member of the firm is a son-in-law of Mr. Jas. Burnett, of the Auburn Woollen Mills.

FREE DISTRIBUTION

A Local Milk Wagon Spreads Milk Gratis on Murray Street.

The pedestrians on Murray street near George street yesterday morning about 11 o'clock, were somewhat amused to see the indiscriminate free distribution of milk that took place.

It seems that the horse attached to a milk wagon took fright at the street car passing at that time, and got beyond control of the driver. The rig upset and milk and cans scattered over the roadway. Little damage, further than a lamentable waste of lacteal fluid was done, save a few broken straps and a broken shaft.

Mr. Pratt Will Follow up Charges.

Toronto, March 13.—A. C. Pratt, of South Norfolk, speaking about his charges in the House against the Cramp Steel Company and the Northern Iron & Steel Company, said he intended to move for a commission to investigate and report upon some of the wild-cat schemes in which the people of the country had been robbed.

WALLACE LOTT CAUGHT

World Reporter who is Charged With Stealing Proofs of University Commission.

Toronto, March 15.—Wallace Lott, who is charged, in connection with C. McIntosh Fisher, a World reporter, with stealing certain University Commission proofs from Warwick Bros. & Rutter, printers, was arrested in London this morning. Detective Newton will go to London tomorrow morning, and will return with Lott in the evening.

It was thought here that Lott had gone farther west. In fact, it was not supposed that he would go to London, as his home was known to be there, and he had been engaged on newspapers of that city.

The police say that Lott and Fisher, after failing to get the proofs from the printers, entered an office boy into the room where Fisher boarded and there took possession of one copy of the proofs.

CHINESE BEHEADED.

Canton, March 15.—The leader of the rebels of Kiang Si Province and three others who were implicated in the attack on the house of the Rev. Dr. Andrew Beattie, the American missionary at Yuti in February, were beheaded here on March 13.

King Cobalt Mining Company

No Personal Liability.
CAPITAL, $300,000
PAR VALUE OF SHARES $1.00 EACH.

The Directors of this Company have decided to offer a limited number of shares for sale at par, to subscribers who make application before March 20th. This Company capitalized at only $300,000. The property which it is intended to operate and on which a considerable amount of development work is done, is situated on Cross Lake, and is known as the McChesney property. It adjoins the Watt property, on which is a paying mine, and is in close proximity to other paying properties. It is the opinion of experts that this is one of the best properties in the district. Assays of ore from the property went over $700 to the ton. The Directors reserve the right to allot a smaller amount of shares than the amount applied for. Applications for stock and all cheques should be made to the Secretary-Treasurer, Medical Council Building, Toronto.

The Scourge of Consumption

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired Languid or Run Down Get Protection Before Too Late

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develops.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrosone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manotick, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferrosone: "For two years I was not well. I was thin and generally run down. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tiredness hung over me like a load of lead. Housework of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrosone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrosone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to feet—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrosone? Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polsom & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

SLANDERED HIS COUNTRYMEN

A Canadian journalist visiting England slanders his country in an article written for the Pall Mall Gazette in which he says that the whole public life and no inconsiderable portion of the business life of Canada is permeated with corruption. He winds up by saying: "There has never yet been a Federal Premier who has not been free from suspicion of personal enrichment." We imagine that no Canadian ever entertained the faintest suspicion that Hon. Alex. Mackenzie enriched himself by one cent at the expense of the country he served. Sir John Macdonald was not believed to have used the public money for his private use, and he died poor. Sir John Thompson, Sir J. J. C. Abbott, Hon. Mackenzie Bowell never were thought to have taken a cent of the public money wrongfully, and there is not a man in Canada who believes in anything but the spotless personal honor of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In short, the man who made such a vile accusations against his country's premiere had no little reason for his assertion that a seat in the public pillory for three months as a notorious scandal-monger would be but his due. Corruption has undoubtedly tainted a few of Canada's public men, and their punishment was meted out to them, but her premiers have been unassailed.

A Montreal fur buyer was caught away up north with 175 beaver skins in his possession, and an Abitibi magistrate fined him $30 a skin or $10,500 for having the prohibited furs. But as he could not pay this, and the magistrate did no. want to enforce the alternative of three months in jail for each offence, thinking the total of 191 years a rather prolonged period of seclusion, he contented himself with confiscating all the fur man's goods and chattels to satisfy the debt to the crown. But a judge on appeal decided that there was only one offence instead of 175, and $30 was the proper total fine, which would seem to be an encouragement to a man who has broke the law at all to do it on a big scale.

NAVAL MANOEUVRES

Large Number of Merchant Ships will Co-operate With the British Fleet

London, March 14.—In the forthcoming naval manoeuvres in May, a large number of merchant ships will co-operate with the navy. The fleet will be divided into attacking and defending forces and vessels to act as convoys for merchantmen. So far as the latter is concerned, the manoeuvres will be kept within ten days.

Inquiries are now proceeding in regard to the number of vessels that may be within the sphere of operations during the experiment. The list is not likely to be complete by May, but 250 or 300 vessels are expected to be in the area affected. It is estimated that the manoeuvres will cost $2,500,000, exclusive of the ordinary maintenance expenses of a fleet of ships.

A VINDICATION FOR DR. PIERCE

Decision by the Supreme Court of State, Against the Ladies' Home Journal.

A verdict has been rendered in favor of the plaintiff in the libel suit brought against the Ladies' Home Journal (published by the Curtis Publishing Co.) by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of which Dr. R. V. Pierce is President. The suit was brought by Doctor Pierce against the Curtis Publishing Co., for making false statements about one of his standard family medicines known as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In the May number of the Ladies' Home Journal (1904), Mr. Edward Bok, the editor, stated that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription contained alcohol and some other harmful ingredients, and Dr. Pierce had in the action alleged that the defendant maliciously published this article containing such false and defamatory matter. Dr. Pierce further claimed that no alcohol is or ever was contained in his "Favorite Prescription," that said medicine was a vegetable preparation and contained no deleterious ingredients whatever; that Mr. Bok's statement, pretending to give some of the ingredients of said medicine, was wholly and absolutely false. During the trial, the Vice-President of the World's Dispensary Medical Association stated, that the ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription were extracted from the following native roots: Golden Seal, Blue Cohosh, Lady's Slipper, Black Cohosh and Unicorn, by means of pure glycerine. He was asked how he knew, as a physician and experienced medical man, that the "Favorite Prescription" was a cure for the diseases peculiar to women, such as amenorrhea, dysmenorrhea, ante-version, retroversion, and he stated that he knew such was the fact because of his professional experience and the many thousands of women whose ills had been cured by this "Prescription." The Vice-President, being asked to give his authorities, read from the standard works, such as the the United States Dispensatory, The American Dispensatory and many other standard medical books.

The retraction printed by the Curtis Publishing Company two months after the libelous statement appeared and nearly two months after the suit had been begun stated definitely that analyses had been made at their request and that the "Favorite Prescription" did not contain either alcohol, opium or digitalis.

Still Had a Little Pride.

"What is this man charged with?" asked the police justice.

"Stealing a dog, your honor," said the officer.

"Well, sir, what have you got to say for yourself?"

"Your honor," answered the prisoner, drawing a grimy coat sleeve across his nose, "if you'll make it embezzlement I'll plead guilty. I may be a thief, but I've got feelings."

An Ashantee Belle.

On the Ashanti Gold Coast the costume of a reigning belle is less a matter of well fitting clothes than of well spiked hair. The hair is first divided into a half dozen braids; then these braids are stiffened with wax and tar until they are as hard as kindling wood and stick out straight from the head in a semicircle like the spokes of a wheel. Thus coiffured the belle is ready to conquer all hearts.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally contiguous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,600 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The com. of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

The next instant a piercing scream rang through the room—a cry that chilled and froze the hearts of those who heard it. Reine staggered back—a look of horror on her white face—a gasp of agony, pitiful to hear in the young voice.

"Oh, papa! papa! there has been some horrible mistake," she gasped. "I—oh, it is not Mr Cheseleigh whom I love. I—oh, it is some one else!"

The shock was so great that it would have killed a weaker man than Bernard Cheseleigh—he loved her so. She sprang to her father's side like a wounded bird, and knelt at his feet.

"Forgive me, papa," she said: "I cannot be Mr Cheseleigh's bride. Tomorrow you will know why."

CHAPTER V.

General Hastings and Bernard Cheseleigh had listened in amazement to Reine's incoherent words without comprehending their import in the least, neither of them sought to detain her as she fled desperately from the room.

"I am literally astounded!" gasped the general. "The little witch confessed to me that she loved you, Cheseleigh, scarcely five minutes since. I confess the ways of women are a mystery to me; I do not understand the sex—my own daughter included. I suppose they all have the trick of refusing a man in order to be coaxed and pleaded with, depend upon that."

"Do you really take that view of the case, General?" asked the young man, brightening up.

"Of course," declared the general, heartily. "You know its all stuff and nonsense about her caring for anyone else. She has never had a lover in her life—excepting yourself. The sly puss as much as told you to see her to-morrow about the matter; and if you are a courageous, dauntless wooer, my word for it, you will win in the end."

"I hope so, sir," responded Cheseleigh, fervently.

The entrance of one of the servants interrupted further conversation, and Bernard slowly quitted the library.

Reine did not appear at the breakfast table the next morning; she sent word by the housekeeper, Mrs. Dent, that she had a severe headache and could not come down.

Bernard Cheseleigh's face paled. Was it because she would not meet him, after what had passed the previous evening in the library? The general's broad smile and cheerful words reassured him, however, and helped to re-establish his composure.

"She is only trying your patience, my dear boy," he said, confidently. "Remember, 'a faint heart never won a fair lady.'"

Bernard sent up a beautiful bouquet of fragrant roses that he had gathered in the garden himself for Reine, with sincere regrets that she was indisposed, and begging if she were better that she would grant him but a few short moments before the luncheon hour.

"Tell him I can't see him, Mrs. Dent," said Reine, pitiously; and the housekeeper was startled at the white face the young girl turned toward her. She noticed, too, how carelessly the fragrant rosebuds were tossed upon the marble table, to wither away quite unheeded.

"Hadn't you better lie down and rest awhile, Miss Reine?" said the housekeeper, persuasively. "Your two cheeks are like fire, and your eyes unnaturally bright."

Reine did not even appear to hear her; she was standing at the window, watching the main road so intently, her little hands clasped tightly over her heart.

At last her weary vigil was rewarded: she saw her lover hastily approaching. He saw the lovely face pressed, fraught with anxiety, against the window pane, and raising his hat with a reassuring smile, he passed out of her sight. The next moment the resounding peal of the front door bell rang through the house.

A moment more and the library door opened and closed again, and she knew that her lover was ushered into her father's presence.

Oh, how her heart beat! She would have given the world to have known what was passing between them. How slowly the moments dragged themselves by.

"Would her father call her down?" she wondered.

With trembling hands she sprang the white lace at her dainty throat, and the wood violets that nestled on her bosom, for the twentieth time; but no summons came for her.

She could hear the indistinct hum of voices in the library, and she knew by that that Waldemar was still with her father.

You and I will go back a little, reader, and witness the meeting between General Hastings and his daughter's suitor.

Waldemar Waldron had crushed coldly up the marble steps, and rang the bell with a firm touch.

"Take this to General Hastings," he said to the servant who answered the summons, producing his card. "Tell him I wish to see him on a very particular errand, and I trust he will courteously grant me a few moments' time."

The general read the name engraved upon the bit of pasteboard in astonishment.

"What can Waldemar Waldron want of me?" he wondered, impatiently.

He received the young man coldly, indicating a seat, and after a few brief words of formal greeting, the general inquired what Mr. Waldron's business was with him.

It all came out then, and words are weak to describe the general's intense anger and dismay.

"I have told you everything now, sir," said Waldemar Waldron, calmly, "and I come to you to sue for the dear hand of your daughter, Reine."

He had made his plea, and waited for the answer. He had expected anger, but he was wholly unprepared for the terrible burst of passion to which the old lawyer gave way. His fury could be very fierce. The storm burst, and he began in a voice of such withering scorn and bitter contempt that the young man looked in wonder and alarm at the general, who shook with such furious rage, and whose face was fairly livid. There was little to be hoped from Reine's father, and there was nothing for it but to sit there quietly while the tempest he had evoked raged on.

"You ask for my daughter—you!" he cried—"a New York rose and villain of the deepest dye! I know all about you. Why, man, you are mad to think I would give you my lovely young daughter!"

"It is a very common madness, sir," responded Waldemar Waldron, striving to keep back his anger at the bitter epithets the exasperated old millionaire hurled at him. "I love your daughter, and I ask you to give her to me."

"And I refuse!" roared the general. "I would rather see her dead and buried than wedded to you—yes, dead! with her blue eyes closed, and her little white hands crossed over her pure breast. You were a dastard to creep into her innocent heart through letters smuggled to her without my knowledge and consent. I understand you. You dared not boldly present yourself here as my daughter's wooer, and your motive, too, in laying siege to her heart is clear to me. Love! Bah! such a man as you are has forgotten the meaning of pure, innocent love years ago. You had an eye to my poor child's prospective wealth."

"I am poor, compared to what your daughter is worth, I admit; but it is not her money I want, sir, it is herself. I can work for my wife," replied Waldemar Waldron, haughtily.

"You work!—You!" cried the general, scornfully. "Not while money can be made by any other means. Now listen to me, young man, and heed well my words," cried the old millionaire, his anger increasing with every word: "If my daughter were to marry you, I would cut her off without a shilling. She should never have one cent of my money, not even if she were starving! Do you hear—starving! I tell you, you would wed a penniless girl—for penniless she would be, for all of me, until the day she died; this I swear to you, and men of my race never break an oath. Let us end this, Mr. Waldemar Waldron. I refuse you my daughter. Never dare to see her or write to her again. Let this be the winding up of this so-called love affair."

"Have you thought what parting as might mean for your daughter as well as myself? Remember she loves me—to whom she has plighted her troth—loves me with all her tender heart."

"Do not dare to stand there and quit me that!" cried the general, shielding at his cravat as if to tear it to give himself more room to breathe. "Do not dare to say it—you maddon me!"

"But she does—indeed she does, sir," persisted the young man. "Send for her here and now, and she will tell you that she loves me!"

"I will not believe it," exclaimed the old man, bluntly. "Your face may have fascinated her, but she could not love you; after you have been separated from her six months she will have forgotten all about you. You have broken the heart of many a trusting young girl, but you shall never break my Reine's. Go, now, Mr. Waldron; please consider this very unpleasant interview at an end."

"I will go, sir," said Waldemar Waldron. "but the time may come when you will perhaps recall me. Fathers have done more than that

LIFE WORTH LIVING.

Appreciation of Duty By Tom Watson, Candidate For U. S. Presidency.

"The life which is truly worth living," says Tom Watson in his magazine for August, "has not always led to ease, worldly success, happiness and earthly honors.

"Too often the man who consecrates himself to the nobler purpose has been what the world called a failure, has been led away into captivity by pitiless foes, has died at the stake amid torturers.

"But, like the Indian brave, such a warrior has never feared the stake nor the tortures.

"Like the Indian brave, such a warrior despises those who torment him, and amid the flames in which he dies his death song rises to thrill the world:

"'I have fought a good fight. Never once did I lower my flag. To the Right, as God gave me to see it. It was always true. Not once did I bend the knee to the Wrong, consciously.

"'All my life I fought for the betterment of humanity. Here are the scars to show it. Defeat has rolled over me, but not dishonor.

"'To no man or woman have I knowingly done hurt; if I have not done some good it is not because I failed to try.

"'On millions of my fellow-men I found the chains of a bondage more galling than slavery; I did my utmost to show them how to be free.

"'Millions I found hungry, naked, homeless; I did my best to point the way out of Poverty into plenty.

"'I found the old foes of the human race winning ground day by day; the rich man grinding the face of the poor! the tyrant using Law and Government to rob the people; the priest again spreading the cloud of ignorant Faith over the sunny fields of God-given Reason; the Church and the State once more uniting to plunder the human race and to divide the spoil.

"'Against these ancient devourers of men, against these relentless foes of the freedom and development of humanity, I raised the cry of defiance, fought them with all the power that was within me, doing what man might do to arouse my fellow-man to a sense of the peril which was coming upon him.

"'Yea! I have fought a good fight. Here are the wounds. No white flag flew over my citadel. It held out to the last.

"'Loneliness pained but did not subdue me; prosecution maddened but did not conquer me; friends deserted me and foes multiplied, but I was not utterly cast down. The sacred torch of human progress I held aloft, even as better men had done in the ages of the past.

"'Its light will not fail. Others will seize upon it and bear it on. Some day the night will pass, and the human race will no longer grope in gloom.

"'In that my faith is strong. For that I have never ceased to watch and pray and work.

"'And now my part is done. The shadows gather about me—but I am not afraid. The voices from the darkness call for me—and without regret I go.

"'Duty grants me her honorable discharge; Conscience acquits me of her service; the hosts of Power Within applaud me with the cheers of infinite calm—and so I pass down into the morning of the darkened road, with no pang or remorse in my heart and no chill of doubt or fear on my soul.'

* * * * *

"Then one will have lived the life worth living, whether he dwells in log hut or stately mansion.

"While it is yet day and he can work, he works, unhasting and unresting. At the hour of time he falls peacefully, weaving into his life-garment threads of gold.

"The creed of such a man is an inspiration; his life a call to duty. His tomb becomes an altar; his death a song of triumph. Neither rust nor time can dim the splendor of his deeds; and the influence of his thought and his example shall not be lost upon the world [illegible] Duty done, a conscience void of offense toward God and man, a life filled with Truth a holy burden."

The Real "Little Breeches."

The hero of John Hay's celebrated poem, "Little Breeches," is a man of Northern Virginia. His story, of New Virginia, is told in his own words. Living [illegible] a healthy farmer. Lives in Tucker [illegible] county, recalls the incident upon which the poem was based, and tells about it as follows:

"My cousin was about 4 years old when he broke into print. Tom Hoey was driving a spirited team near New Virginia one day, and when he got out of the wagon for a minute the team dashed away with the boy in the wagon. The horses went over fearful ground and broke pikes. Finally the wagon was overturned, and the little fellow was thrown head first into a drove of sheep. The father and friends, running frantically to an elevation to take the runaways, saw the accident to the boy. The father rushed to the spot, hoping to find the little fellow dead, but on the opposite side of the sheep the boy sat up and said: 'Papa, give me a chew of tarbacker.' This was the incident which prompted John Hay to write his famous verses."

ONTARIO POLICYHOLDERS

Local Opinion Favors Premier Whitney's Action—What Company Directors Have to Say of Insurance Situation.

Local opinion seems strongly to favor Premier Whitney's action in appointing counsel to look after the interest of Ontario policy-holders at the sessions of the Insurance Commission. The plan is one that might well be adopted by other Provinces, as it would doubtless tend towards bringing Dominion and Provincial insurance laws into closer accord.

In the matter of the forthcoming investigation this much can be said for the various companies' directors—that apparently they have offered no opposition to the appointing of a commission, but seem rather to favor it. A specimen utterance was that of Mr. W. J. Flavelle, a Canada Life director, at that company's recent annual meeting.

COMPANIES WANT IN-VESTIGATION

He expressed himself as personally greatly pleased that the Government had issued a commission, and as hoping the examination would be thorough, fearless and searching. He admitted frankly that it was hardly possible that its findings would endorse the judgment of the directors of any or all life insurance companies, Canadian, British and American, in all their methods of doing business or securing investments. He hoped, however, that it would establish the good faith and honor of the men who sat on the respective boards. For himself and his fellow-directors he felt he could say without reservation that any possible errors were due to limitations of their human judgment and were of the same inadvertent character as the errors all men make at some time or other in their own business affairs. Of one thing he was sure, and as policy-holders' director wished to emphasize, that at no time had any director or body of directors attempted to secure advantage for Canada Life shareholders as against policyholders.

He spoke partly as follows:—

It has been suggested, rather than directly charged, that Directors use the moneys of the company in the purchase of securities, and secure personal profits because of such relations. It has been suggested that it has been possible, by the use of the company's funds, for directors to buy bonds, carrying with them bonus of common stock, reselling the bonds to the company, and holding the common stock as a personal asset. It has been alleged that there have been transactions in which the company and directors have been partners, and in which the company has supplied the money, while the profits have been divided between the directors and the company. I do not know what other form the suggestions have taken, but the whole of them imply some relations between the directors and the company other than that of a trust relation, and that personal profits have come to the directors of an improper and wrong kind.

I wish to say on behalf of myself that every such statement or suggestion is untrue in every particular. I have borrowed no money, have had no common stock, have had no joint transaction, have participated in no underwriting, and have had no personal profit. I wish to say on behalf of my associate Directors that as far as I know they are in the same position. I believe that the whole field of conjecture and unkind inference is and has been unwarranted.

It has been suggested that this company and its moneys were used for large underwriting transactions to help Directors or others to make money, and that some effort will be made at this time to bolster up its position with the public by the discovery of silent assets. It has also been suggested that in connection with such underwriting blocks of common stock have passed to Directors or their friends, and which blocks of common stock ought to be the property of the company. Subject to correction, I desire to say that this company has not been an underwriter, except on very rare occasions. Its moneys have not been used in underwriting on behalf of its Directors, or their friends. It took $100,000.00 of the original underwriting of the Electrical Development Company's bonds, and received with its underwriting, which was practically a purchase, $100,000.00 of common stock. This stock will be found in the published statement of securities now before you, and has been carried in the assets of the company from the first. The company had an underwriting transaction in Grand Trunk Pacific bonds, which also was a purchase. No common stock however, was issued with these bonds. I am not aware that it has had any other underwriting transactions. I am not aware that it has had any common stock as a bonus, except in two instances, where it purchased securities. In one of these the securities were the Mexican Light & Power Company bonds, and were purchased from the Dominion Securities Company. These bonds and common stock were subsequently sold at a profit, hence do not appear on the list of published securities. In the other instance the securities are still held and appear on the published list on the table. There have not been any silent assets. No Director, to my knowledge, has had common stock attached to any bonds the company has bought. No Director to my knowledge has had any personal profits arising out of his connection with the company. No director to my knowledge has had any loan on stocks or securities from the company, or has had any transaction in which the company and the Directors were sharers in the profits or losses.

It has been implied that the marked differences in the volume of call loans against securities at present, as compared to a few years ago, indicated some improper relations at the time that call loans were larger, and that if a truthful explanation were forthcoming, it would show how improper these call loans had been.

The answer is both a simple and natural one. The reduction comes from two causes: First, for a number of years three separate and distinct large call loans were carried against Canada Atlantic bonds; against Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company bonds; against Bay of Quinte Railway bonds. These loans aggregated two and one-half millions of dollars. The borrowers were gentlemen having no connection, directly or indirectly, with the Directors, and the loans were made prior to the present administration of the company. Either a sale of the railways or a re-organization of their securities led to the paying off of these loans. These three items alone, therefore, represent more than three-quarters of the mysterious reduction. The remaining one-quarter is to be accounted for by the fact that the high rates prevailing for money, it was possible to buy long-date, high-grade securities on favorable terms, and your directors believed it would be sound policy to further reduce their loans and use the money thus called in to increase their holdings of high-grade securities. I can think of no question which might be asked in relation to the investments of the company, which could not be answered in the same simple and natural way.

[illegible] my connection with the Canada Life I had had little experience in investment companies. I have little or no knowledge of how investments are made in other life insurance corporations. The impression that has been left upon me as a result of association with the Canada Life is that its investments were made with conservative care and with excellent judgment. During the entire period of my identity with the company, Mr. H. B. Walker, now the associate manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in New York, or Mr. Watt, the present treasurer, have been the Treasurers of the company, and each transaction which came to the Board came on the recommendation of the treasurer or investment committee.

It has been alleged that Directors have been careful of shareholders' interests and careless of policyholders' interests; that if the policyholders' directors had been true to their trust they would have protected policyholders from the improper acts which were said to be performed by Directors of the shareholders.

In reply to this I beg to say that during the time I have been on the Board I have known of no effort made by any Director or body of Directors to secure advantage for shareholders against policyholders. I have not been aware of any division of interests on the Board. I have only met with a sincere desire on the part of all to contribute his share toward the development of the company, and it has been taken for granted that the interests of the shareholders and policyholders were common.

I presume as long as judgment is human that there are some acts which men perform that if they had to do them over again they would do differently. As directors of the Canada Life we are now exempt from this human contingency, but I desire to say, on behalf of myself— and I believe I speak correctly on behalf of every other Director—that the errors which have been made from time to time are of the same character as the errors which we have made in our own business and private affairs. I have a sense of pride and satisfaction in the security to the policyholders in the character of the investments held by this Company. I cannot but think that many things adverse to the Directors which have been [illegible] the street or suggested by newspapers on this matter should have been left unsaid and unsuggested. It is hardly fair fighting to call men practically thieves and vagabonds without producing evidence in support of it, and then say; "If you are not thieves and vagabonds, why don't you prove it?"

Personally, I am greatly pleased that the Government has issued a commission. I hope the examination will be thorough, fearless and searching. It is hardly possible that in its findings it will endorse the judgment of the Directors of any or all life insurance companies, Canadian, British and American, in all their methods of doing business or securing investments. I do hope, however, that it will establish the good faith and honor of the men who sit on the respective boards.

The speech of the Canada Life's President, Hon. G. A. Cox, at the same meeting likewise characterized by a frank discussion of present insurance conditions. He detailed as follows the company's various efforts to have its affairs investigated officially:—

On the 25th of May last we invited the Commissioner of the State of Ohio to join with the Commissioner for Michigan in making the usual periodical examination of the Company. We also intimated to the officers of the Canadian Insurance Department at Ottawa that we should be glad to have them join in this investigation, but the Canadian Superintendent, having only a few months before made his usual examination, did not then think it necessary to make a further one. The Commissioner for Ohio also had such confidence in the ability and integrity of the Commissioner for Michigan that he considered it unnecessary to join in the examination, which was duly made by the officials of the latter department.

Again, in the month of September of last year, when the public mind was a good deal agitated over the investigation in New York, we renewed the request to the Canadian Superintendent of Insurance that we should be glad if he would make such further examination of all our affairs as he might deem necessary. We were, however, officially informed that the accounts for the year 1904 had all been verified and the securities examined, and that any further examination would be made at the Superintendent's regular approaching examination. This latter as referred to in the Directors' report.

In the month of November last, during the session of the Armstrong Commission in New York, we offered to send our officers with official documents to New York to give evidence before that Committee appointed by the State of New York, where we also transact business. Not only did we offer to give evidence in New York, but we invited the Armstrong Commission to send their experts to our Head Office and make an examination of our affairs here.

You will thus see that we have made two requests to the Canadian Superintendent of Insurance for a special examination, one request to the Commissioner for Ohio, one to the Commissioner for Michigan, and two offers to the Armstrong Committee of the New York Legislature. The directors and officers of this Company submit that the foregoing statement of facts will satisfy any fair-minded person that the Company has shown a disposition to submit its affairs for examination to any recognized existing authority.

In referring to the character and capital of the Canada Life, he said;

The company was, as you know, organized in August, 1847, and was incorporated by an act of the Legislature of the late Province of Canada, in April, 1850, with an authorized capital of £50,000. By section xxiii, of the Charter, authority was given the shareholders to increase the capital to a sum not exceeding £250,000. This authority was exercised in 1855. 6 and payments were made on account of subscribed capital in various years following until, in 1864, the amount paid up was $125,000.00, at which it remained until 1900, when it was decided, after careful consideration by the shareholders, to require payment in full for the shares. Every dollar of this amount, $875,000.00, was paid in cash to the company by the shareholders, and this, as you know, was completed in 1904, the company now having a paid up capital of $1,000,000.00, of which 94 per cent. was paid in actual cash, and the balance of 6 per cent. by bonus out of profits during the early years of the company's history, when little or no cash dividends were paid to shareholders. From this you will see that the oft-repeated story of only $4,000 having been paid by the shareholders on account of the $125,000 of capital, is entirely without foundation.

In the early history of the Company the Act of Incorporation provided that profits arising from the business should be divided in the proportion of 25 per cent. to the shareholders and 75 per cent. to the policyholders. It remained in that way until the year 1879, when the shareholders made application for legislation providing that only 10 per cent. of the profits should be allotted to the shareholders, and not less than 90 per cent. to the policyholders. In order to get this change made, each individual shareholder had to give his consent before Parliament would interfere with his vested rights. The shareholders thus, of their own accord, voluntarily surrendered to the policyholders three-fifths of the profits to which they were entitled. The 10 per cent. to which they are still entitled is not increased, decreased, or in any way affected, by the amount of paid-up capital, whether it be $125,000.00 as it was, or $1,000,000.00, as it now is; in either case, under agreement ratified by Act of Parliament in 1879, the shareholders are entitled to one-tenth of the profits. When the amount paid-up was $125,000.00 the shareholders received for many years a dividend and bonus at the rate of 20 per cent per annum. They were liable to be called upon at any time for $875,000.00, or 87 1-2 per cent. of the amount of their subscribed capital.

I will ask you to bear in mind that the $1,000,000.00 paid in by the shareholders earns at the average rate of the company's invested funds $49,200.00, leaving only $30,800.00 per year from the profits of the company to make up the 6 per cent. which they receive as dividends; it took practically the same amount to pay 20 per cent. on the $125,000.00 prior to 1900. That this stock dividend is no hardship upon the policyholders is evidenced from the fact that when spread over the $107,000,000.00 of business in force, this dividend, (over and above the interest earned,) costs the policyholders only about 30 cents per $1,000 of insurance per year, and for this they have not only the guarantee of $1,000,000.00 additional security, but a continuity of management and an assurance that it is in the shareholders' interest to make as large profits for policyholders as possible.

INVESTMENTS

A printed list is laid upon the table showing in detail every dollar of our Assets, aggregating over $30,000,000. Mr. Alex. Bruce, K. C., Chairman of the Investment Committee, and Mr. H. L. Watt, the Treasurer of the company, will give to any policyholder at the close of this meeting—the fullest information as to where, when, at what price, and from whom these various securities were purchased. Every effort has been made to secure the best possible investments, with as little delay as possible to comply with the law, rather than take the full time that had been allowed by the Government at the request of some companies who thought that they would find it impossible to make the change at an earlier date. We believed then, and we as firmly believe now, that the course decided upon was the correct one in the interests of the policyholders as a whole. The sum of over $2,500,000.00, which had been added to our Reserves somewhat sooner than required by law, has not been lost or diverted from the policyholders any more than has the $10,000,000.00 of Reserve Fund held by the Bank of Montreal been diverted from its shareholders; indeed, there is added security to the policyholders, in that the portion of this sum represented by his policy is credited direct to his policy account. The amount has been carefully invested, providing additional security for policyholders and earning additional interest which will increase their future profits.

As many persons do not understand the nature and function of a Reserve in life insurance, I may say that it is entirely different from the term Reserve in a Bank or ordinary business company. The Reserve grows out of the idea of a level premium, for while the level premium is greater than is required to cover the mortality risk in the earlier years of the policy, it is less than would be required for the later years. This overpayment, with interest thereon constitutes the Reserve, and is a distinct liability, and absolutely necessary to enable the company to carry out its contracts. Without this accumulated Reserve, a level premium company would soon become insolvent. From another point of view the reserve is the sum which the company would have to hand over to another company to assume its contracts. Hence it is often called the Re-insurance Fund.

We have the most conclusive evidence that a very large majority of our policyholders are entirely in accord with the strong and safe policy that has been carried out, even though it did temporarily reduce the amount of surplus available for distribution as profits. The steady increase in our new business, a good percentage of which is additional insurance upon our present policyholders and new insurance upon the members of their families, testifies to the fact that we have a contented and satisfied body of policyholders, and we think may be satisfied. I have no hesitation in making the statement that no other company doing business in this country, Canadian, British or American, stock or mutual has given better security or better results to its policyholders — spread over a long term of years — than has the Canada Life, and in these years I include our last two quinquennial distributions that have fallen somewhat below the previous distributions because of the strengthening of our Reserves.

MINIMUM POLICY HOLDERS

These low-premium contracts, which it is stated were withdrawn in 1896, have come in for a good deal of discussion by holders who do not bear in mind the terms under which they were issued. Senator Cox explained that they are the equivalent of other contracts issued by the Canada Life at the time, their distinguishing feature being a very low premium owing to the immediate application towards premium reduction of future profits. The policies specified that if the actual rate of profit earned was less than that assumed in advance the difference would be charged up against the policy. This, it was explained, was merely a measure of justice between minimum and full-profit policies.

How low the minimum premiums were is shown by the comparison with other plans made by Senator Cox:

WHOLE LIFE RATES.

| Age | Full Profit | Non-Profit | Minimum Profit | Present Rates |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 21 | $16 90 | $15 60 | $17 80 | $19 40 |
| 25 | 19 00 | 17 30 | 14 70 | 1 90 |
| 30 | 22 30 | 20 10 | 17 50 | 24 25 |
| 40 | 30 30 | 27 40 | 24 70 | 32 60 |
| 50 | 42 60 | 39 00 | 35 70 | 47 05 |

To further illustrate the working of this Minimum System let me give you the following example: On a $10,000.00 policy, issued in 1876, at age 35, where the premium was $204.00:

|---|---|
| At the division of profits in 1880 the amount added to the policy was | $625 00 |
| At the division in 1885 the amount added to the policy was | 6-7 50 |
| At the division in 1890 the amount added to the policy was | 625 00 |
| At the division in 1895 the amount added to the policy was | 375 00 |
| At the division in 1900 the amount deducted from the policy was | 250 00 |
| At the division in 1905 the amount deducted from the policy was | 125 00 |

Showing that the policy now stands at $11,657.50

ANNUAL DISTRIBUTIONS

We have, in common with all other companies, been affected because of our moderate Expense Ratio, but the very keen competition has made it more expensive to obtain business, and, even with the largely increased commission which all companies are obliged to pay, the total sums are not in many cases sufficiently well paid, because of the prevailing abuse that has in recent years crept into the business, whereby many agents are forced, through stress of competition and the opportunities of assurers, to vie with each other to see who can give the largest rebate. The result is that the assurers receive by way of rebate a very large proportion of the commissions on new premiums supposed to have been paid to the agents in Canada in 1905, and on account of which the companies are blamed for increased Expense Ratios. It is to be hoped, in the interest of the agent, the companies and the assured, that through some better understanding between the companies, through legislation or in some other way, this evil may be effectually eradicated from the business.

In respect to our own Expense Ratio, it is to a large extent the outcome of a well-considered policy that the directors deliberately entered upon when it was decided to extend our business to the United Kingdom and to further extend it in the United States.

It will be seen by reference to the records that our new paid-for business for the year 1900 was $6,887,913.00, whereas for 1905 it was $13,014,146.43. The total amount of business in force as at the 31st December, 1905, was $107,881,883.00; of this amount $42,404,931.00 has been placed on the books since January 1st, 1900, or say 40 per cent. of the total amount for the last six years, as against 60 per cent. for the previous fifty-three years of the company's history. This has been accomplished by the extension of our business to the United Kingdom, by opening additional branches in the United States and by improved organization at home.

The opening up of new territory, the planting of new agencies and the rapid increase of new business are invariably and unavoidably accompanied by an increased Expense Ratio. While cordially and unanimously supported by my co-directors in the adoption of this policy, I, personally, take the full responsibility of having advised it, and I have no doubt whatever in my own mind that it will ultimately be of very great benefit to the Company and to the country. If it had been done fifteen years earlier we should by this time have had $100,000,000 of money invested in Canada to assist in the development of the country, instead of only $30,000,000, as we have at present; in other words, we are trying to bring back to Canada a portion of the many millions that foreign insurance companies have been taking out of this country for the past fifty years.

Perhaps the supreme test of a life company is not its Expense Ratio, which may properly vary with changing conditions, but what the company has done for its policyholders. In this regard the Canada Life can challenge a comparison with the best companies of the world. Here is its record as read by Senator Cox:

WHAT POLICYHOLDERS GET

Shortly after the close of the year 1904 we proceeded to calculate and allot the profits due as at that date and other amounts due in April, 1905. From the Directors' Report you will see that we have, during the past year, paid out in profits to policyholders or applied to purchase bonus additions to policyholders nearly $1,200,000.00. When I say that after completing, during the last quinquennial period, the transfer to the new reserve basis, we were able besides to allot to policyholders during the last year $1,200,000.00, I do not think that this Company or its Directors as agents have any reason to be ashamed of the records, especially when that record was accomplished at a time when we were rapidly extending our agencies to new territories at a considerable initial outlay.

I would like to place before you briefly a statement of the profit account between the Company and its policyholders since its commencement up to the end of 1905. It is often difficult for one not intimately acquainted with our total record to realize just how well the Directors of this company in the past 59 years have managed the great trust committed to their care.

From its organization to the end of 1905 the Company has received in premiums from policyholders..... $52,630,923

Paid Policyholders and Beneficiaries..... $30,911,267

Credited to Policyholders 29,329,361

Total paid or credited...$60,240,576

Ratio of amounts paid or credited to policyholders to premiums received from policyholders..... 114.5

In other words, during the past 59 years the Company has paid or credited to policyholders on the average, the sum of $114.50 on every $100.00 received in premiums from policyholders.

Further, of the amount received from premiums, while the larger part is for "with profit" policies, yet a considerable portion is also in connection with non-participating and annuity policies, and it may interest you to know that we have paid or allotted in profits to policyholders over $11,000,000.00, or over 20 per cent. of all premiums (both with and without profits) received from policyholders, and that, too, exclusive of the large amounts transferred at different periods from the surplus to strengthen the policyholders' Reserve, owing to the fall in the rate of interests from time to time. If we exclude the non-participating premiums and considerations received for annuities, the ratio of profit allotted to premiums received is approximately 25 per cent.

If a dividend bonus of $25.00 per annum or $250.00 per thousand had been allotted to the policyholders for every year since the Company came into existence, that would have been an exceptionally good record, and we should have been able to strengthen our Reserves [illegible] a 3 1-2 per cent. basis without making any reduction whatever in the profits, but for many years the bonus additions to the policies were $25.00 and $26.25 per thousand per annum. The rate of bonus, which was quite too liberal for the years between 1865 and 1890, could not be maintained when the average rate of interest earned by the company on its investments fell at least ½ per cent. per annum. It was easier to obtain 5 1-2 per cent. per annum during that time than it is now, on equally good security, to earn 4 1-2 per cent. If you compute the difference of 2 per cent. per annum on our present assets of $30,000,000.00, you will see the loss in interest amounts to $600,000.00 per annum, or $3,000,000.00 for each quinquennial period of distribution. To overcome that difference in our interest earnings, to comply with the Government requirements in the strengthening of our Reserves, and to pursue, as we have done, a progressive policy in the extension of our business to the United Kingdom, will satisfy any fair-minded man that the attacks which have been made upon the Company and used by our competitors in distant fields, are unpatriotic, disloyal and false.

A POLICY HOLDER'S DIRECTOR

Hon. Mr. Gibson, who is a policyholders' director, in the course of his address said;

Every gentleman upon this board, whether he be policyholders' director, or shareholders' director, does what he can to uphold the best interests of the company. I want to say here in the presence of these gentlemen who have done so much for the policyholders of this company, that the question of the shareholders is never considered at this table — only the best interests of the Canada Life and its policyholders. Never for the ten years that I have had a seat on this Board have the claims of the shareholders been discussed against the interests of the policyholders. I do not know that I could make it stronger, but I join word for word, if I could make it more emphatic, with the statement made by Mr. Flavelle that neither one man nor another during the whole ten years that I have been on this board has had one dollar placed to his advantage directly or indirectly by any recommendation made by this board. All the investments of the company are most carefully and honestly considered, and if found wanting are cast aside, and if one man on the Board says that any particular investment should not go through, that particular investment won't go through, and that settles it.

IMPORTANT TIMBER DEAL

An important timber deal was consummated within the last few days, whereby Mr. Matthew Doodey, of Cobourg, and who is well known in this city, has purchased from Mr. Hugh Waddell, Peterboro, the rock elm on 600 acres situated to the east of Millbrook. It will perhaps be remembered that last September, Mr. Doodey, made a compact with Mr. McCall, of Simcoe, Ont., whereby the former gentleman agreed not to [illegible] timber in the district between Toronto, north and south, and Peterboro; the recent purchase, however, is outside the zone comprised in his understanding with Mr. McCall.

Mr. Doodey is well known in this vicinity, having purchased the timber on the Waide estate from Messrs. Hall & Hayes.

This sale might suggest a good opportunity to people having timber as above described for sale, as Mr. Doodey communicates with Mr. Doodey, and probably secure a ready sale for the same.

Mr. Doodey left last night for Millbrook.

COLONIZATION ROADS

County of Peterboro Gets $3,900 For Colonization Roads.

The estimates of the Province of Ontario for the year ending 31st December, 1906, have just been issued. From these estimates we find that this County gets the sum of $3,900 for expenditure on Colonization roads, divided as follows:

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1500 by 1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

Another Cobalt Discovery Made

Mining Man Finds a Rich Agate Which is Very Valuable---Diamonds Are Now Suggested.

Cobalt, Ont., March 14.—A discovery of more than usual interest has lately been made in the Cobalt region by P. M. Murdock, a mining man of experience in South Africa's diamond fields, and is now opening in this district. It was that of an agate that is found only in diamondiferous soil, occurring plentifully in the soil to southwest of Kimberley bordering the Province of Griqualand West, and the Kalahari desert. The stone, says Mr. Murdock, appears to be different altogether from the many stones of the agate family which he has seen and that were picked up on the shores of Lake Superior, while it is almost identical with the agates found in the vicinity of the Kalahari Desert. It is there found in gravel where, in all prob bility, it has been washed down by the agency of water from its original home in the "blue ground" in which the diamonds of South Africa are found. Mr. Murdock emphatically declares that he considers the finding of this agate an indication of diamonds.

Agents of Thomas A. Edison are paying 35 cents per pound for cobalt, and will take all that can be had at that price. The fall of last year saw the mineral cobalt at low ebb in the world's markets, so much so that a find of cobalt was looked upon as important only from its probable association with silver. Mr. Edison, according to his agents, wants the cobalt for a new style of storage battery, and not, as has been reported, to supplant platinum in the manufacture of incandescent lamps.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MRS. WILLIAM BUTLER.

The Venerable Founder of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

Mrs. William Butler of Newton Center, Mass., "our mother of missions," as she is called, the venerable founder of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, is a remarkable woman and in spite of her great age and life of privation and hardship is still vigorous and active in the sphere of life to which she has devoted her energy and her intellect.

In 1859, with her husband and two children, Mrs. Butler sailed for India. Her missionary labors were disturbed by the Indian mutiny three years later.

"We barely escaped with our lives," she said to a reporter, "and for months were supposed by our friends to be dead. A month after we took to the mountains another child was born to me. We were trying to get around to Delhi at the time, and I had a spirit to provide milk for the baby. One night a tiger came and carried off the goat."

MRS. WILLIAM BUTLER, MOTHER OF MISSIONS.

There was not one native Christian in all that part of India then. Mrs. Butler, now in her eighty-fifth year, is planning to attend the forthcoming jubilee of Methodism in India—its fiftieth anniversary—when 150,000 native Christians will give her a great ovation. The sum of $6,000 is to be raised by the Methodist women as a special thank offering for her splendid services in the cause of Methodism.—New York Tribune.

How She Keeps Her Servants.

Here are a few rules given by a woman who enjoys a reputation for never having trouble with her numerous servants and retaining them in her service for years:

She pays good wages—that is, she pays as liberally as she can afford and is always punctual in payment.

She allows her servants a reasonable share of all the dainties served the family and is liberal in the matter of their food, maintaining that good work cannot be done on an empty stomach.

She rarely criticises, but when reproof is needed gives it with firmness and without fear, but kindly.

Praise is always given when due; she thinks it well to acknowledge good service to encourage.

She allows each reasonable time for outings and to attend church, and she does not require service when a girl is taking her afternoon off.

She allows her maids time to keep their clothes in order, and requires them to be neat, cleanly and orderly about their sleeping apartments.

She is never familiar; only evinces a kindly interest in the general welfare without becoming in any way involved in the family affairs of any one of her servants.

If a matter goes wrong, she takes time to investigate before reproving and never scolds or rebukes when angry.

If necessary to dismiss a servant, she never does so when in a temper, but waits until she can control herself, so as to command respect.

She will not allow her maids to gossip about her neighbors' affairs nor to make remarks about one member of the family to another.

She will not allow her children to be rude or insolent to the servants, nor will she allow too great familiarity.

And her servants remain with her decades and are devoted to her.

Two Wives and a Maid.

A Young Maiden sought the counsel of Two Wives.

"Tell me," said she, "when I am wed is it wise to be Jealous of my Husband?"

Said One Wife:

"Often am I Jealous of my Husband, but carefully do I hide my Jealousy. Thus he doth never suspect it, and so do I keep his Love and his Respect."

Spoke the Other Wife:

"I care not what my Husband may do, and never am I Jealous of him. Yet often do I pretend that I am Greatly Jealous and exhibit brave fits of Jealousy before him. Thus do I keep his Love and his Respect."

"Ah," quoth the Young Maiden, "I learn, then, that the Wise Woman concealeth Jealousy when it is present and feigneth it when it is absent. Remembering this, I, too, shall be enabled to keep my Husband's Love and his Respect."—Life.

Venus Among the Incas.

The only planet which the Incas had discovered was Venus, which they called the hairy on account of the brightness of its rays. They said that, being the most brilliant of the stars, the sun would not permit it to be separated from him and obliged it to attend his rising as well as his going down, just as at the courts of kings only the most distinguished lords and the handsomest ladies were admitted to the ceremonious royal risings and retirings. It appears nearly certain that the Incas spoke of Venus under two different names, according as it preceded or followed the sun. To this day the native Peruvians name it in fanciful language the eight hour torch and the twilight lamp. As this star served to show the Indians when it was time to prepare the maize for cooking, they also gave it a name indicative of that act. A chapel in the Temple of the Sun was consecrated to this planet.

Auctioneers in England.

The auctioneers of the United Kingdom cannot claim to belong to a very ancient profession so far as that country is concerned. Though auctions were familiar institutions in ancient Rome, the first in the British islands is said to have been held about 1700, when Elisha Yale, governor of Fort George (Madras), put up for sale his trophies of the east, and, although "auction" was defined in 1678 as "a making a publick sale and selling of goods by outcry," it does not appear to have been recognized then as a British institution. The word "auctioneer" does not occur before the eighteenth century.

Lorenzo Dow and Burr.

When the timid colonial clergymen were afraid to criticise Aaron Burr's treason they asked Lorenzo Dow what he thought of Burr's meanness. He raised both hands like a great V and shouted: "Aaron Burr mean! Why, I could take the little end of nothing whittled down to a point, punch out the pith of a hair and put in 40,000 such traitor souls as his, shake 'em up, and they'd rattle."

An Ardent Lover.

"And you went straight to her father and demanded his daughter's hand?"

"I went straight enough, but I—well, I'll admit that I didn't carry out my original purpose."

"Scared?"

"Scared! No, sir! But we got to talking stocks, and I forgot all about it."

He Goes Out.

"That's a pretty swell smoking jacket you've got on," said the caller.

"Smoking jacket?" replied Henpeck. "Why, this is my house coat."

"Well, that's the same thing"—

"Well, I guess it isn't the same thing; not in this house. When I want to smoke I have to put on my overcoat."

A Rising Man.

Warden (to newly arrived convict)—In this institution we try to put a man to work at his own trade or profession, so that he can work his way up. What is your occupation? Convict—I'm an aeronaut.

The Limit.

Tom—May Pechis is certainly what you might call a "kissable" girl. Dick—Kissable? Why, man alive, she's positively edible.

His Dictator.

Milly—And how does your brother take married life? Tilly—He takes it according to directions. His mother-in-law lives with him.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

THE STRAP CLIMBERS.

One Way in Which Two Boys May Mount a Tree or Pole.

Strap climbing or rope climbing is an interesting feat, but it is twice as novel and just as easy when two boys do it at the same time. It is not well to go too far from the ground in this, or, for that matter, in any other climbing feat. Go just far enough to show that you can do it, although it is perfectly safe as long as the directions are followed.

Get a strap or a piece of rope about eight feet long. Pass it around the object, pole or tree you wish to climb, and tie or buckle the ends securely together. Now two boys get inside the rope, it pressing against their backs at the waist and bracing their feet against the tree or pole, and, leaning back against the rope, walk right up the pole, as the illustration shows. The secret of the whole thing is to keep step, or, rather, keep step with alternate feet. While one boy raises his right foot, the other boy advances his left foot, both keeping time. It is really very simple, perfectly safe, and it looks like a difficult circus feat. Remember two things—do not climb too high, and be very sure that the rope is strong and well knotted.

PETER HENLEIN.

The Clever Locksmith's Apprentice Who Made the First Watch.

In the year 1505 there was a young apprentice to a locksmith in Nuremberg. His name was Peter Henlein. He had neither money, friends nor influence and seemed doomed to remain a simple, poor locksmith's helper all his life.

There were more than a hundred locksmiths' apprentices in Nuremberg at that time, and most of them said hopelessly that the field was overcrowded. We hear something like that every now and then in these days, too, don't we?

Nobody remembers the names of any of these apprentices today except that of Henlein. He didn't waste any time grumbling and worrying about the "overcrowded field," but sat down in his spare time tinkering at a curious machine.

When it was finished it was shaped like a drum and was just small enough to go into the big pockets of the coats of that date. What was it?

It was the first watch.

There is a general belief that these first watches were of the shape of an egg. This is not so. They were shaped like a drum and were really pretty clumsy, far more suitable for the capacious costume of a rider than for the more tightly fitting dress of a courtier or a dandy. But they kept good time and ran forty hours without needing winding.

The watchmakers of Nuremberg have erected a fine statue in honor of Peter, the apprentice of the middle ages, who found something new to do in an overcrowded profession.

The Key of the Kingdom.

This is a nice, quiet, "sit down" game and comes as a change after a romp. All the players sit in a circle and one begins by handing the player on the right a key, saying, "I give you here the key of the kingdom." The next player repeats the words said to him and passes it on to the next player, adding, "I give you the string that holds the key of the kingdom." The next player in his turn repeats what both the previous players have said, adding as he passes it on, "I give you the knife to cut the string that holds the key of the kingdom." Then the fourth will hand it on, announcing that "I give you a grindstone to sharpen the knife," etc., and so on, until all the players have supplied some article connected with the key of the kingdom or been failed in the attempt.

To-day She is Buoyant With Health and Vital Energy Given by A Medicine Suited to the Female Sex

There is no medicine for health and strength that accomplishes so much as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. For womanly troubles they have no equal.

Miss Katie E. Emerson, one of Brockton's popular young ladies, in the following letter voices the conviction of lots of her friends:

"Two months ago I was completely used up. I was weak and miserable. My strength was gone, and I had no appetite or energy left. What I needed was a blood purifier and spectacle tonic which I found in Dr. Hamilton's Pills. To-day I am brimming over with spirits and virile good health that came from using Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

The one and ever-eminent merit of Dr. Hamilton's Pills Their enormous curative power makes one marvel. You soon have richer blood, better appetite, clearer complexion, freedom from weakness and ill-health. Dr. Hamilton's Pills are sold everywhere 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1. By mail from N. C. ### Hockey Champions Get Benefit.

Last night the directors of the Peterboro Hockey Club, Limited, the owners of the Brock street rink, decided in recognition of the good work of the hockey team, to give them the use of the rink free of charge for the game last night.

The team has been put to considerable expense this season, and as the gate receipts have been disappointingly small, the finances of the team, as a consequence, are not in a satisfactory condition.

The Rink Company deserves credit for its action in so generously giving the team the rink free of charge.

Lost for Lack of Sewers.

Orillia Times says:—Lack of sewers has hurt the town this week a very important industry. A carpet factory had narrowed down its choice of locations to two towns, Orillia and Peterboro, with the preference for Orillia, Mayor Miller and Councillor Clark, while in Toronto last week, called upon Mr. Brinton, with whom negotiations had been carried on, and learned that the company had decided to go to Peterboro solely because Orillia had no sewer system. The concern promises to spend $50,000 in buildings, exclusive of machinery, and before January, 1907, to employ fifty hands, and within another year to increase the number to one hundred and twenty-five.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Harold Payne will speak at the boys' meeting at the Y.M.C.A. tomorrow at four o'clock.

—A public meeting was held in the Park street Baptist church last night, the pastor, Rev. A. H. Brace, presiding.

—The Home Circle delegates are as good looking and well acting a body of men as Peterboro has ever had within her walls.

—The Lakefield Portland Cement Company, has been awarded the contract for supplying the city of Hamilton with cement.

—The architect of the proposed South Ward school has received instructions to prepare plans for the new twelve-roomed school.

—Visitors in the city are invited to call at Times Bookstore and look over our assortment of souvenirs. We have a choice lot to choose from.

—Rev. R. A. Armstrong of Orillia, who is well known and popular in Peterboro, yesterday gave the Lenten address in St. Luke's church.

—The Trent Valley canal will this year open earlier than usual this spring, unless the elements conspire and combine by frost against it.

—See our souvenirs in fancy china articles. Hand painted views of the lift lock and places of interest on each. Prices, from 35 cents up. Times Bookstore.

—Many of the "I.O.U." Company, who played in the Grand Opera House Tuesday night, had to wander away over to the East Ward to get sleeping accommodations.

—Mr. R. M. Roy is having his yacht, Rob Roy, fitted up so as to ready for the opening of navigation in the spring. Among other improvements being made is a new hardwood roof.

—The motor for the sewing machine has been ordered on behalf of the poor English woman, reported to in the Times a few days ago. A total of $15 is still required to buy the motor.

—The Grand Opera house was crowded Tuesday evening with a well pleased audience who got their money's worth laughing over the play entitled "I.O.U." presented by a company that was most excellent.

—The Columbia Graphaphone Co.'s representative, Mr. Barrie, has had a very successful trip to Peterboro, having sold over $500 worth of his machines within the past two or three days. Watch for their advt. in these columns.

—Now the great convention is over and the fact is amply demonstrated that the hotel accommodations of this city are altogether insufficient to accommodate as large a number of visitors as Peterboro should be able to receive.

—The Mission Circle of the Park street Baptist church heard a very interesting address Tuesday night by Mrs. Morrow, on missions, who is a fluent and graceful speaker. There was a large turnout of the members, and a good meeting resulted.

LARGE AUDIENCES

Attend the Services in the Bethany Tabernacle.

The evangelistic services at Bethany Tabernacle are being well attended. A large congregation listened to the stirring address by Evangelist Stephenson last, and the preceding evenings, and several professed conversion at the close of the service. The subject for the evening was: "The Downward Movement," the text being found in Ezek. 14, 14: "Speak to the children of Israel that they may go forward."

Mr. Stephenson was closely associated with the late Dr. Alexander Mowbray of London, and assisted in aggressive methods of evangelistic work. He gave many striking illustrations of the soul-reviving results of that work. All those seeking salvation are invited to immediately yield to the outpouring of the spirit upon the people of Peterboro, and pastors and people of the various churches are cordially invited to the services.

Peterboro People For California.

Mr. J. Mann who with Mrs. Mann left here for Toronto, en route for British Columbia, on Tuesday, was we regret to say taken worse in Toronto so that it was decided that he could not take the long journey. Mrs. Mann returned to Peterboro that night, and left again yesterday morning to join her husband and accompany him on his journey. They will visit Victoria, B.C., San Francisco, and Denver.

TOUCHED FOR $95

Robert Conkey, of Hope Has His Pocket Picked in Local Hotel.

One more example of the evils attending on the train of too many glasses of the stuff that first cheers and then goes back on its taker, was in evidence Tuesday afternoon, when Mr. Robert Conkey, a threaher of Hope township, was "touched" for $95, while sleeping in the sitting room of a local hotel. The leg of his trousers near the pocket was cut open and the money extracted. It appears that Mr. Conkey was slightly accustomed at the time, for when he woke up he went into the bar and asked the bartender how much he owed him for his night's pledging. The bartender replied that he didn't owe anything, as he had not stayed there a night. The man asked for a drink but the bartender refused him, saying that he had all that was good for him. Conkey then felt for his money, and found it was gone, and his trousers' pocket cut. There was some silver in another pocket which the pick operator did not get. Conkey went to the police station, and told his tale of woe thereon. Whilst the local police are investigating the matter, nothing leading to any conclusive evidence has as yet been discovered. This is a good warning to Conkey to keep sober, as neither hotel keeper nor any other class of citizens can "keep cases" on a man who "finishes" a roll of bills and then gets drunk.

FALL CATARRH

Disease Prevalent Now, But Can be Quickly Cured with Hyomei

A great many people suffer more with catarrh during the fall months than at any other season of the year, the changes in weather seeming to have a bad effect upon the diseases.

Some of the cures made by Hyomei seem marvelous when one remembers that the patients had suffered from catarrh since childhood, and that for years they had been unable to get a good night's sleep, on account of the disagreeable tickling and dropping at the back of the throat caused by this offensive disease. A few day's treatment with Hyomei brought quick relief, and its continued use made a complete and lasting cure.

By breathing Hyomei through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, all the air passages of the lungs and throat are filled with air laden with Nature's remedies for the cure of catarrh. All disease germs are killed, and the irritated mucous membrane is healed.

The complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles 50 cents. Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

Whose Say-so is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M.D., of Bennet Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M.D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M.D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up debilitating drains, and cures many times known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of women's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidingly takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by telling every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret, and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 50 stamps.

CITY BLOCKED

Ontario Private Bills Committee are Against Proposed Sugar Co. Property.

Toronto, March 14.—The clauses of Peterboro's private bill authorising the city to purchase the Sugar Beet property for manufacturing site was defeated. There was strong opposition from the chairman, Mr. H. Carscallen of Hamilton. It was insisted that the city conform to the general law which requires a two-thirds vote of all the freehold voters.

The waterworks' clause was withdrawn as a bill dealing with the same matter is to be introduced by the Government.

The clauses in reference to the water courses which are to be diverted, were deferred for two weeks in order that particulars concerning the Park street drain might be obtained.

The clause concerning the electric power development seems likely to pass unless the Peterboro Light and Power Company consents to a fair schedule for a longer term than three years, which they now offer. Mr. R. M. Dennistoun appeared for the power company and opposed the power clauses. He also opposed the water course clauses.

Bad Fenelon Falls Fire.

The Sanford Furniture Company's factory at Fenelon Falls' leading industry, was gone up in smoke. The inflammable nature of the factory and contents caused a furious conflagration, that was soon beyond control of the local fire brigade. The citizens of the village held $15,000 of the stock as a municipal venture. The buildings, machinery, stock of hand and in process of manufacture, etc., represented a total value of between $80,000 and $90,000, and the insurance is about $40,000.

Shameful Brutality to a Little Child

Richard Pugh's Shocking Treatment of Russell O'Neill, Aged Two Years---Given 9 Months for that Offence and 18 Months for Bigamy.

Toronto, March 16.—Richard Pugh had to answer to the charge in the police court yesterday of burning Russell, the two-year-old child of Mrs. Mary O'Neil, to whom he had been married in January last.

"A great piece of brutality," the Magistrate called it at the end.

The injuries to the child were noticed by the officers of the Children's Aid Society after the children were taken there on the arrest of Mrs. O'Neil and Pugh for bigamy.

William O'Neil was the first witness.

"We were playing dominoes in the room and my little brother was beside the stove with a knife in his hand. Richard Pugh jumped up and grabbed the knife away and shoved the baby's hand in the fire. The stove was red-hot."

"Just to teach the child a lesson, I suppose," remarked the Magistrate. "I suppose he thinks a child like that should know as much as he himself."

"I think the child knew more," was Mr. Curry's opinion.

"Did the child struggle with Pugh?" asked Mr. Godfrey.

"Do you think a child of that age could struggle with that big fellow?" was Mr. Curry's sarcastic question.

A sister corroborated the brother's evidence.

Mr. Curry then took up the baby, and laid it on the table, and Chas. Durand, a brother of Mrs. O'Neil's, was sworn.

Pugh told this child to put the knife away. When it didn't do it, he jumped up and rushed at it, saying: "I'll learn you to play with a knife when I tell you not to." Then he caught hold of the wrist and put it right inside the red-hot stove. The child screamed."

Durand went on: "Then Pugh turned to Mrs. O'Neil and said: "I'll learn you to have children that play with knives."

Mrs. O'Neil, who has one down-stairs on her six months' sentence for bigamy, was recalled, but proved to be a defence witness.

"They didn't see the child burned," she declared.

"But your two children and your brother swore they did," said the Magistrate.

"There wasn't one of them seen it; they swore false."

"Did you hear the child cry?"

"Yes."

"Oh, well then, that's admitting it.

"This is a gross piece of brutality," continued the Magistrate, "and I'm going to attend to it myself. You will go to the Central for nine months.

But the court was not through with Pugh.

The charge of unlawfully going through a form of marriage with Mary O'Neil had been read. He pleaded not guilty and elected to be tried by jury. But as soon as the sentence for burning the child had been passed, Pugh pleaded guilty to bigamy, and was sentenced to the Central Prison for 18 months, this nine months' sentence running concurrently with this.

Pugh has two wives besides Mrs. O'Neil living, one married in 1893, and the other at a later date.

THE OTHER SIDE

Mr. Jas. Allen Writes Concerning His Police Court Case Yesterday.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Dear Sir,—In the evidence that will probably appear in your paper tomorrow in connection with the case tried at Thursday's police court, in which I was charged with selling liquor to Informer Cochran, alias Murphy, it will probably be noted that my bartender, Mr. Daniel Foley, was too ill to appear and give evidence. Now, after the trial was over, and judgment was reserved, I went to Mr. Foley's residence, on Simcoe street, to see how he was. Mr. Foley is prepared to swear, not only, that he sold no liquor to Murphy or Cochran, for that I had told him Saturday night, that this man Cochran was a "reporter" and, although I do not sell liquor out of legitimate hours, to watch out for him and, if possible to put other hotelmen next to this informer. It was, I think shown clearly yesterday, That this man Cochran swore to what I think he was unable to prove. If necessary, Foley will, as soon as he is well enough to leave the bed, go before any justice of the peace, and swear that what Cochran swore to was absolutely incorrect.

I am asking you in justice to myself to publish this side of the story, that the public may judge how much reliability may be placed on this man's word.

Yours truly,
JAMES ALLEN.

FINED $70 AND COSTS

Italian Named Sheer Tried for Selling Liquor on Aylmer Street.

On conclusion of the evidence yesterday afternoon in the Allen and Cavanagh licenses cases, the Italian colony of Peterboro were all present, in a case where an Italian named Sheer was charged with selling liquor, without a license at his house on Aylmer street.

Mr. D. M. Minocolo, acted as interpreter, Mr. E. H. D. Hall acted for the prosecution, and Mr. O'Connell for defending.

The first witness, B. Scardanapkim, the Italian under arrest, charged with attempting to stab, when asked by Mr. Hall, "What does Sheer do for a business," answered, "He sells beer, and I have seen it paid for." Has seen Sheer sell it for over a year, and within the dates mentioned in the indictment, in the house on Aylmer street. Sheer got his beer in kegs and sold it at five cents a glass. Has been in Sheer's house six or seven times a month. Witness drank and paid for his beer there.

Mr. O'Connell, for the prisoner, objected to the information being changed from the specific date of March 9th, to from 14th Feb to 14th March. He had early come here to defend this client on the charge of selling on a specific date. His Worship explained to Mr. O'Connell, that the information had been changed yesterday.

King Cobalt Mining Company
—LIMITED—
No Personal Liability.
CAPITAL, $300,000
PAR VALUE OF SHARES $1.00 EACH.

The Directors of this Company have decided to offer a limited number of shares for sale at par, to subscribers who make application before March 20th. This Company capitalized at only $300,000. The property which it is intended to operate and on which a considerable amount of development work is done, is situated on Cross Lake, and is known as the McChesney property. It adjoins the Watt property, on which is a paying mine, and is in close proximity to other paying properties. It is the opinion of experts that this is one of the best properties in the district. Assays of ore from the property went over $700 to the ton. The Directors reserve the right to allot a smaller amount of shares than the amount applied for. Applications for stock and all cheques should be made to the Secretary-Treasurer, Medical Council Building, Toronto.

JOHN W. COOK, President.
D. L. TARLTON, Secretary-Treasurer.

The witness next said he had seen others drinking at Sheer's house, viz., Frank Marnio, and others, whose names, baffle the ordinary English scribe's pen to get down, without straining a wrist or spoiling the pen.

To Mr. O'Connell, witness said he was then under arrest. Mr. Adams arrested him, on the charge of attempting to wound with a knife. In answer to a question put by Mr. O'Connell, "Were you or were you not drunk that night?" with an expressive shrug, replied "No, I was not drunk, just right." They had a row at Sheer's house that night, and Sheer afterwards ordered him out. Saw bear sold on the night of March 9th.

After Scardanaphan, or whatever his Italian version of his name might be, Mr. Frank Marino and other Italians gave evidence that practically corroborated the statements of the first witness.

The result of the trial was that the prisoner was found guilty, and fined $70 with $8.45 costs, to be paid forthwith. The defendant pulled out a fat roll of bills and paid the full amount.

Mr. Macklin Wins the Law Suit.

We are pleased to note that the recent case, in which Mrs. J. G. Macklin, formerly of this city, was put to much personal trouble and almost indignity, tried in Montreal, as resulted in the lady being entirely vindicated, in fact it seems that the lady was placed at all this inconvenience without proper cause. In settling the amount of damages, Mr. Mackton magnanimously stated that he was not actuated by any spirit of vindictiveness, but simply asked for his actual expenses.

Child Drank Wintergreen.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., March 15.—The three-year-old son of Clark and Julia Phippen, of Buckton, climbed up to a dresser and drank enough of the contents of a bottle of wintergreen to cause death in a few hours.

Another Usurer Up.

Hamilton, March 15.—Ivan Robinson, 21 Charles street, charged at the police court with charging a higher rate of interest than 10 per cent. per annum, is alleged to have taxed 135 per cent. interest. His case was adjourned till Monday next.

Just Begins to Shave.

Akron, Ohio, March 15.—Mr and Mrs. Rufus Shaw, of this city, aged 15 and 16 years respectively, are probably the youngest parents in the State. An eight-pound baby was born to them this morning. Mother and child are doing well. The husband and father is childish in appearance, and has just begun to shave.

"Old Probe" May Be Moved.

Ottawa, March 15.—In the House of Commons on Tuesday, Mr. A E. Kemp, member for Toronto East, inquired of the Ministry if the report was true that the Weather Bureau at Toronto would be removed from Toronto to Ottawa. Sir Wilfrid Laurier replied that the matter was under consideration at the present time.

Canadian Fisherman Guilty.

Detroit, Mich., March 15.—Gordon Gauthier, the Windsor fisherman who has been on trial in the Wayne Circuit Court for some time for violating the laws of the State in fishing in United States waters during the close season, has been found guilty. His fine will be only nominal, as Judge Mandell feels that Gauthier has been sufficiently punished by the costs of the case, which has dragged considerably.

The Gaynor-Greene Trial.

Savannah, Ga., March 15.—National Bank Examiner Johnson, acting as expert accountant, continued today his demonstration by means of charts of the alleged division of spoils secured from the Government by Greene and Gaynor and Carter. The entire session was devoted to this evidence, which was intended to make clear to the jury all the financial transactions that had already been brought out from various witnesses.

BALLOON TO BE FACTOR IN WAR

Field Marshal Sir Geo. White Declares it is Problem to be Solved

SUCCESS IS NOW ASSURED

A Factor of Great Importance in the Near Future in War.

London, March 15.—Field Marshal Sir Jeorge White presided at the Royal united service institution, when Colonel Capper, R. E., lectured on military ballooning.

Colonel Capper said that the dirigible balloon was a problem that would have to be faced in the next great war. Lebaudi's balloon in France, which had gone 40 miles in 2 1-2 hours, and for which a speed of 25 miles an hour had been claimed, had shown that such balloons could, in light winds, proceed to desired points and return.

When one could journey 500 miles and stay in the air 24 hours the dirigible balloon would undoubtedly be a factor of great importance in war. Another important phase of aerial locomotion which in the near future might probably have to be reckoned with was the propelled aeroplane, or motor driven kite. Valuable experiments have been made with these, and some, he knew, had met with so much success that in a few years they might expect to see men moving swiftly through the air on single surfaces, just as a gliding bird moved.

Such machines would move rapidly, probably never less than 20 and up to 100 miles an hour, and nothing but the heaviest storms would stop them.

These developments of ballooning proper were no longer the wild dreams of lunatic inventors, but serious problems of great and immediate interest. When they became fully developed, war would be so immediately brought to the door of the citizen—just as it was now brought to coast dwellers by the navies of the world—that it would become, among civilised nations, a calamity far more real and far more dreaded than ever at present, so that in the end it is probable that the aeronaut may prove to be the great peacemaker of the world.

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday was a red-letter day in the records of the "Listless Loafing" and "Jobless Jim" clubs, the police court not being able to accommodate all the delegates each club sent. A local statistician, interested in agriculture, estimated that one cubic yard of the police court atmosphere condensed, buried and plowed in, would amply fertilise two square acres of barren land.

The cases of Messrs. T. Cavanagh and Jas. Allen, charged with infraction of the Liquor License laws was especially interesting to the crowded audience, who wanted, what for any other class of the community, would be, many hours of valuable time, standing, without even the usual brick walls to support them.

The case against Cavanagh was first heard. It seems that two informers, or as they called themselves, "Ontario Government detectives," were the star witnesses, and they accused Mr. Cavanagh of selling liquor on Sunday last.

The first one examined was Jerry Dondino, who arrived in this city last Saturday from Lindsay. He registered at the Cavanagh House under the name of J. M. McDonald, and remained there over Sunday. On Sunday morning, in company with a patent medicine traveller, he purchased a drink at 9.30 o'clock in the Cavanagh House from the bartender.

Dondino, who seems to do his work systematically, at the time of every alleged purchase of liquor, timed the event by his watch and recorded it in a note book.

David Cochrane, an associate, and a medicine man, Mr. Cavanagh supplied them with this one. Dondino paid for it. Cochrane and he had another one at 12.30, also served by Mr. Cavanagh.

Dondino has been employed by the Ontario Government for the last three months. His associate, Mr. Cochrane, registered at the C.P.R. Hotel on Sunday.

David Cochrane, next gave evidence. He came here on Saturday morning from Lindsay, stopping at the C.P.R. Hotel, but did not register. On Sunday morning, Dondino, himself and another man, went to the Cavanagh House and had a drink. He had had a drink previous to this in the C.P.R. Hotel. Earlier in the morning he was at Cavanagh's and got a drink. He did not know the exact time when Dondino called at the C.P.R. Hotel for him.

He said that he had no difficulty in getting the drinks. All that was necessary was to ask and you would receive.

Mr. Cavanagh, proprietor of the Cavanagh House, was next called, said in part; Dondino came to my house on Saturday night last and asked for a room. He paid his bill. About 9.30, Mr. Allen, of the C.P.R. hotel phoned me that there were three suspicious characters coming over to his house. Never gave any of them a drink. Was in the house all morning. Dondino's statements are false.

Gabriel Robinson on Sunday morning about 9.45, heard Dondino ask Mr. Cavanagh for a drink, but it was refused.

Ed. Shanley, the orter, heard Dondino ask Mr. Cavanagh for a drink, but Cavanagh replied, "I don't sell on Sunday." Other witnesses gave practically the same testimony.

James Allen, of the C.P.R. hotel, was then called. He saw Dondino on Sunday in his hotel. Dondino and a couple more went across to Cavanagh's. He telephoned Mr. Cavanagh as he thought they were detectives. They asked witness for a drink but he refused.

The Court adjourned at noon until two o'clock in the afternoon, when hearing of evidence in the Cavanagh case was resumed, and the magistrate reserved judgment until Saturday.

THE ALLEN CASE.

The charge against James Allen of the C.P.R. hotel of selling liquor on Sunday was then proceeded with.

Cochrane, the "detective," first went into the box and said, he was a Provincial Govt. detective at $2 a day and expenses. He got beer once over the bar, and once in the little room at the back of the bar. The first time two, and the second time, four men drank with him. The drinks were taken at 10.15 and 11.30 a.m., on Sunday "Dan," the bartender, was behind the bar, serving people. Dondino and Morrison were with him. He slept in the C.P.R. Saturday night. He had a "Decoy Duck" with him. He went back and forward from the Allen House to the Cavanagh House.

Mr. Hatton, acting for the defendant here explained that one of his witnesses, "Dan," the bartender, was ill, and although he had sent a cab for him, the latter was too sick to appear.

The next witness, L. Vanderwater, boards at the C.P.R. Hotel. (Here Mr. Wood demanded that witness kiss the book, being told that witness omitted doing this.) Witness saw Le informer in the hotel on Sunday. Was not in the bar that day. Did not take anything with the informer in the bar. Did not see him in the little room back of the bar.

To Mr. Wood, did not have anything to drink on Sunday. Saw liquor, whiskey, drank in a bedroom of the hotel out of the bottle, as there were no glasses present, and it was not paid for.

To Mr. Hatton, the men in the bedroom were lodgers in the hotel.

Mr. Yorke, the next witness, boards at the C.P.R. Hotel, recognized the informers, who on Sunday, went under the alias "Murphy." Saw him in the back sitting room, adjoining the bar. The informer asked him to have a drink. Answered that he did not drink; then Murphy asked him to take a cigar. Murphy asked for a drink and was refused by the hotel people. The informer asked for a drink, but did not get it. The bartender gave them a cigar each.

To Mr. Wood, it was between 10 and 11 a.m., when they had the cigars. Does not know of any drinking done that day as he is not drinking himself.

Mr. Hatton here remarked, "That is the case for the defence your Worship. I do not see any necessity in wasting time going over the evidence, as no case has been made at all."

Mr. Wood remarked that Cochran swore to buying liquor from a bartender who is not here. Cochran swore to buying liquors. He then went on to defend the informers, saying that they have nothing to make out of convictions. Judgment was reserved until Saturday.

TO PLAY MARLBORO'S

Local Champions will Measure Swords With Last Year's Senior Champions, Saturday.

Now that our local hockey team has won the Intermediate O.H.A. championship, and, on Wednesday night, showed the Smith's Falls bunch a few wrinkles in hockey playing, they are going to try to do up last year's O.H.A. senior champions, the Marlboros of Toronto.

The game will take place on Saturday night, and it is probable quite a number of local admirers will accompany the boys.

The Marlboro team will not be a team picked from their own players, but will be an all-star team picked from Midland, Barrie, Argos and Marlboros. They will in all probability have on Gee, Gould, Doc. Wright, and probably Humber.

The boys are all in the best of shape and are confident of defeating any team the Marlboros may put against them. This will be the first time in years that a Peterboro hockey club has played in Toronto.

A LOCAL ORGANIZER

Mr. Jas. Tully Meeting with Success in I.O.O.F. Relief Association Work.

The Edmonton Bulletin of Thursday, March 1st, contains the following paragraph, which is of local interest; "Mr. J. A. Tully of Peterboro, Ont., is a guest at the Alberta Hotel. Mr. Tully is travelling in connection with the Oddfellows Relief Association of Canada, and is meeting with great success in Alberta. He has organized three or four new lodges of the order between here and Calgary. He is being made a welcome visitor here by the three-link members.

May Be Guests of King.

London, March 15.—The Chronicle says that Mr. and Mrs. Longworth, when they visit London in June, will make a stay at Buckingham Palace, as the guests of King Edward. They will also visit the Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, the Duke and Duchess of Roxborough, Ambassador and Mrs. Reid. They have accepted an invitation from the Society of American Women in London to a luncheon.

Cats in Mail Boxes.

Brantford, March 15.—A peculiar form of vandalism has broken out here in the destruction or mutilation of mail boxes. The boxes also have been loaded up with sand, small stones, etc., while recently some one put two cats in one of the large boxes, and a pitched battle ensued in the interior. Cigars and lighted matches were thrown into another box, with the result that the letters were burned.

The Inspection Is Insufficient

Superintendent Fitzgerald Admits that Checking of Insurance Companies is Merely a Matter of Form.

Ottawa, March 16.—Yesterday afternoon, Mr. A. N. Tilley continued the examination of Mr. W. Fitzgerald, Superintendent of Insurance. Mr. Tilley's examination is courteous and considerate, but the is not enticed away from a point and is evidently determined to find out all about the interpretation and administration of the Insurance Act.

Mr. Fitzgerald, in reply to the examining counsel, Mr. Tilley, enumerated the companies incorporated outside of Canada which deposit funds with two trustees as well as with the Government. The instrument vesting such trust is approved by the Department of Justice and the Department of Finance. Such trustees furnish a list of securities held as on December 31st of each year.

In connection with annual statements, the superintendent of insurance sends forms to Canadian companies for all their business, home and foreign, and to foreign companies for their Canadian business. Copies of these lengthy forms were filed with the secretary of the commission. Statements of the foreign business of foreign companies are furnished on the forms used by them in making returns to the Government of the country in which its head office is situate. Ten dollars a day penalty is inflicted when annual statements to the Government are not received by March 1. When these returns are received an abstract is made and the statements checked as far as possible, and then printed and distributed. Inspection at the head office of the companies follows. This consists first in examining and verifying the books and accounts, to see if the company's statement is accurate according to the company's books.

NO GOVERNMENT AUDIT.

There is no Government audit, based upon the annual statement to the Government. The only effect of the Government inspection is to verify the statement according to the books, except where the inspector makes a correction. Last year about 400 corrections in insurance statements were made. Inspection usually begins about the second week in March, and the inspecting officer spends from two days to a week with each company. The work of inspection occupies about four months. The inspection of securities by Mr. Fitzgerald usually commences towards the latter end of May. Occasionally Mr. Blackader, the actuary, inspects the securities of some companies. This part of the inspection usually lasts until well into September or October.

Forms of statements have been amended from time to time by the Minister of Finance, as experience dictated.

THE VAUATION OF REAL ESTATE

Where property is written up to any extent by the company, an independent valuation is obtained by the inspector, and the figures so obtained inserted in the statement. For instance, the National Life, in Toronto, added from $25,000 to $30,000 to price paid for their property on the corner of Toronto and Adelaide Sts. Independent valuation reduced the estimate, and the company assented to the reductions. The Home Life Building in Toronto was similarly written up, and the valuation was less than the figures given by the company. The Excelsior Life property was revalued, and the new valuation was the same as the company's figures. In connection with head office buildings if the new valuation is less than the company's figures, the Superintendent of Insurance has no authority to reduce the figure, and must accept the company's valuation.

INSPECTION IS WORTHLESS.

The whole worth of the inspection is revealed in Mr. Fitzgerald's answer to Mr. Tilley;

"If the books are falsified or bogus entries made, the inspection is futile. We make no audit of the books, and must accept them as correct."

It would appear that something might be gained by making public the plans of the commissioner and examining counsel so far as possible. As it is now no one knows how any sittings in Ottawa will continue, or where the commissioner will then sit. A counsel for one company said that no notice had been received by his clients as to when their affairs were likely to be up for investigation. No statements had been asked for, and then the companies were unable to prepare them in readiness for the commission. In the Armstrong investigation in New York notice was given of what books and exhibits would be required. As it is, counsel for the companies must attend all sessions whether or not their clients' affairs are touched upon.

Interest at the Tabernacle Growing.

Both the interest and attendance at the revival services at the Tabernacle, is still increasing. A real revival spirit now prevails, and quite a number have been converted or restored. Mr. Stephen, who was closely associated with the Torrey-Alexander meetings, is an earnest and impressive speaker. Special music is rendered at each service by the evangelists and the pastor. Another Bible reading will be given this afternoon at 3 o'clock, and an evangelistic service at 7.45. The pastors and peoples of the various denominations are invited.

CURLING.

There will be two great matches at the local curling rink this afternoon when the two Lindsay rinks that made such a great showing at the Winnipeg bonspiel will meet two local rinks. The rinks from Lindsay will be skipped by Messrs. Playelle and O'Connor.

The Peterboro rinks to meet the northerners will be as follows:

No. 1—Messrs. John Stanger, T. Brightman, Jos. Connal, C. N. Brown, skip.

No. 2—Messrs. A. F. McDonald, R. Kerr, C. Rutherford, E. Neill, skip.

The ice is in excellent condition. The games will start at 1 o'clock sharp.

HOCKEY.

"The match last night," said Mr. Waghorne, "was the fastest I have refereed this season. So fast was it that only a single lift was made throughout the game, though this resulted in a score for Smith's Falls. The public can be assured of a very fine exhibition here on Saturday night, when the Peterboros meet the Marlboros."—Toronto Star.

The line-up of the Marlboro's in their match on Saturday night against the locals, will be as follows;

Goal—Tyner.
Point—Armstrong.
Cover-point—Gee.
Rover—Gould.
Center—Birmingham.
Right Wing—Winchester.

The return game between the Minkus family, of Waterloo, and the King family, of Guelph, was pulled off at the Royal City Rink last night with a big crowd attending and amid much excitement. All the way through, the game was entirely in the hands of the representatives of the Royal City. At half time the score was 6 to 3 in the Kings' favor. The second half showed faster hockey, the Minkus boys adding 4 and the Kings 3, making the score 9 to 6.

INSIDE INFORMATION

The Times Readers Chance for Profit—Everyone Ought to Grasp this Opportunity.

To have even a simple case of indigestion is to have "inside information" of suffering that warns of serious trouble in the future, unless the digestive system is strengthened.

If you cannot eat and digest three good, square and satisfying meals each day without discomfort, your stomach needs Mi-o-na tablets. They are not a mere temporary relief, but are composed of valuable medicinal agents which strengthen the digestive organs, and cure and prevent stomach troubles.

When there are pains or distress after eating, head aches, belching of gases, a sour taste in the mouth, dizziness, heart burn, spooks before the eyes, furred tongue, sleeplessness, nervousness, or bad breath, the stomach needs the help of Mi-o-na.

Every reader of the Times should grasp the opportunity offered to try Mi-o-na. Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of this remedy before each meal for a few days, and you will soon have a strong stomach and perfect health.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

TIREDNESS MEANS DANGER

Indicates Faulty Blood and Worn Out Nerves—Build Up, or Total Collapse will Surely Follow.

When you're tired all day, bothered by trifles, exhausted with nervousness, be sure there is something wrong.

You need bracing up, need more nourishment in the blood, need a powerful medicine to vitalize the nerves and distribute force and staying power to all over-worked organs.

The most marvelous success is Ferrozone, a nourishing tonic so scientific as to be the admiration of every physician. Ferrozone performs wonders for people in poor health; acts directly on the blood, enriching it with strength and new life that is at once dispatched to all parts of the body. Ferrozone feeds the nerves and vital energies, supplies force, determination and joyous, buoyant spirits.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post-office box No. 50, Benton, Ont.: "About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn-out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched. My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help. I improved with it very quickly. It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that the numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since. (Signed) "David Brown."

SPECIAL NOTICE.—To get satisfactory results be sure you get Ferrozone only. Fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

GOOD FOOD, GOOD EDUCATION

The school children of Peterboro are, as a rule, pretty well fed if their their looks are anything to go by, but this pleasant condition of things doesn't prevail in all cities. The importance of good feeding for school children is a subject that is discussed very widely in Europe just now. The French Senator, Paul Strauss, has an article on it in the Paris Figaro. The system of "la soup aux petits," as M. Strauss calls it, was established in Paris about 1880. The canteen is used not only by the children of the poor, for whom it is gratuitous, but by those whose parents can afford and prefer to pay. The brass counters used for payment are identical in both cases, so that nobody's feelings are hurt. The hungry children thus receive sound nourishment. The London committee on physical deterioration fixed the proportion of school children wasting away on account of poor food at 16 per cent. Such pupils are practically incapable of assimilating mental food for lack of bread. France, Belgium and Germany all realize this. M. Strauss insists, however, that much still remains to be done. He calls upon the State to undertake an exhaustive inquiry into the matter as well as into the sanitary condition of the schools. It is, he writes, a mere measure of national preservation. For some time past the French papers have been filled with reports, letters, and articles, by doctors, inspectors, societies of hygiene, and professors, on the state of Paris schools. The community seems willing to recognize a responsibility in the matter, without reference to any socialistic theory.

By and by when the government in all civilized countries takes full care of the rising generation things will be as well done as they used to be in Greece.

REV. W. M'KAY PRESENTED WITH A FOUNTAIN PEN

Together With an Address—Knox Church Pastor Honored.

Knox Presbyterian church on Wednesday night was the scene of a very pleasant event, when the Rev. W. McD. Mackay was waited on and presented with a handsome fountain pen and address by the junior girls and boys in connection with the Wand Drills. The address, which was beautifully written by Mr. W. Watt in copperplate style, was read by Miss Jennie Buyers, and was as follows:

Rev. W. McD. Mackay.

Dear Friend,—On behalf of the Junior Girls and Boys in connection with the Wand Drills of Knox church, we wish to express to you our appreciation of the interest you have taken in providing and managing the various exercises and healthful pastimes in connection with this church during the winter season. Our gatherings together here has been of a most pleasant nature, and we exceedingly regret that it is your intention to leave Peterboro, but we hope you have not finally decided. You will always find a warm corner of welcome in our hearts and homes, and may God bless and guide you, and make your future prosperous and happy. We now wish you to accept a small token of our respect and esteem along with this address, which we have signed on behalf of the Junior Girls and Boys.

Lucy Watt,
Jennie Buyers,
Irene Howden.

The reading of the address being concluded, Miss Lucy Watt, in a few well chosen words, then presented Mr. Mackay with a handsome fountain pen, as the gift of the Junior Girls and Boys.

Mr. Mackay, in a brief reply, thanked the children for their tokens of kindness and appreciation. He reminded them that long before this he considered that he had been many times repaid for the little work he had been able to do for them. He was always fond of the work in Knox church, and the Wednesday afternoon classes were always a source of pleasure and satisfaction to him. He said in part: "Knox church is a young and growing church. You are young and growing children. Soon you shall be called upon to take up the Christian work begun by your fathers and mothers, and I hope that the willingness and enthusiasm which you have shown in the drills and other exercises on Wednesday afternoons will continue in whatever work you are called upon to do. I am more than pleased that so many of you have already decided for Christ, and that some have united with the church. May God's richest blessing always rest upon Knox church and her loyal boys and girls.

WALLACE LOTT CAUGHT

World Reporter who is Charged With Stealing Proofs of University Commission.

Toronto, March 15.—Wallace Lott, who is charged, in conjunction with C. Mainwaring Bishop, a World reporter, with stealing certain University Commission proofs from Warwick Bros. & Rutter, printers, was arrested in London this morning. Detective Newton will go to London tomorrow morning, and will return with Lott in the evening.

It was thought here that Lott had gone farther west. In fact, it was not supposed that he would go to London, as his home was known to be there, and he had been engaged on newspapers of that city.

The police say that Lott and Fisher, after failing to get the proofs from the printers, enticed an office boy into the house where Fisher boarded and there took possession of one copy of the proofs.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,600 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, i. e.: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tharsis mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The cap. of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

before now to save a beloved daughter's heart from breaking.

"Better die of a broken heart than live as your wife," said the general, sternly, but his face whitened under the young man's words.

The general pointed to the door.

"Leave my house," he said, passionately, "and if you are wise you will leave the neighborhood. I know that about you which would make your stay in this neighborhood disagreeably unsafe. I will give you twenty-four hours to leave it. If I find you are still here at the expiration of that time, I will telegraph on to New York and ask if Waldemar Waldron is wanted there. One broken-hearted girl would find an answer to that."

"As you will it," returned Waldemar Waldron, with defiant haughtiness. "It seems useless for me to attempt to refute the charges you insist upon bringing against me. I leave your house and the neighborhood. It has little enough attractions for me now. But, if at any time you should ever want to recall me, I leave you my address. I am going west, to Cincinnati. A line to my bankers there will reach me at any time."

He placed another card upon the table, bearing the address of a Western banking firm. His own name was written beneath it.

"I shall have no use for it," said the general, sweeping it into his waste-basket.

Waldemar Waldron lifted his hat, and with a mocking smile on his fair, handsome face, turned on his heel and quitted the house.

He glanced eagerly up at Reine's window as he passed out of the grounds, but he did not see Reine.

She was pacing restlessly up and down in her room, and had not heard the hall door open and close with a bang on the retreating form of her chagrined, vanquished lover.

He had gone some time ere she noticed that the hum of voices had ceased in the library. She listened intently for more than half an hour. All was still as death below. She could bear the suspense no longer, and, blushing and hesitating with girlish confusion and expectancy, she glided down to the corridor below and timidly entered the library.

The general sat there alone before his desk, his gray head bent heavily on his hands.

His daughter stole timidly up to him.

"Papa," she cried out, nervously, "where is my lover? What have you done with him?"

Ah, how should he answer her!

CHAPTER VI.

General Hastings raised his head slowly and looked with emotion too great for words at the beautiful young daughter who knelt at his feet. He had faced the foe on the battle-field, boldly charging forward, with shot and shell falling like hail around him, and he had felt no fear; but his heart failed him at the ordeal he must pass through now. He nerved himself for it, however.

"Where is he, papa?" repeated Reine. "My lover was here to ask you to give me to him. Tell me what answer you made him?"

Her intense, pitiful eagerness overcame the coy, girlish bashfulness that was her usual wont, as she looked up into his face.

The general's answer must be spoken sooner or later. He took the little, white, trembling hands in his own strong ones.

"I sent him away, Reine," he answered, steadily. "He will never come back again—never. You must learn to forget him, my child. Would to God that you knew that man as he is: a profligate and a villain. It was your wealth he wanted, Reine, not yourself. And I have told him that which will cause him to look elsewhere for a wealthy bride. He will cross your path nevermore. You must learn to forget him."

Reine Hastings rose slowly to her feet, facing her father with a white, awful face. He could scarcely recognize in the passionate, angry girl that stood before him his loving, tender Reine, the child of his heart, the daughter of his old age.

"You have sent him away—parted two hearts that Heaven intended for each other! I could sooner die than give him up! Oh, papa! papa! let him come back to me!"

The words ended in a wail of anguish that wrung the old man's heart to the very core.

"It can never be, my Reine," said her father, tenderly. "I know best, dear. The time will come when you will thank me for saving you from your own folly. You are infatuated with the villain. This is not love, such as will come to you when you are older and wiser."

"Is it not real love when I would die for him?—when I would welcome death rather than live through the weary days without him? It is not your wealth he wants; you misjudge him cruelly. Recall him and give me to him, and you will see that we can get along without help from you. Oh, papa! you must!"

"Would you give me up for this man if you knew that I should cast you off forevermore from my heart and home for making such a choice?" he asked, huskily.

His lovely young daughter crept up to him and knelt down at his feet.

"My mother gave up everything for you," she said.

A sudden idea came to the general.

"We will compromise matters," he said, slowly. "If your lover is really in earnest in his wooing he will come to me again to urge his suit; he will not be satisfied with 'No' for an answer, and when he comes I may reconsider my decision."

It was pitiful to see the joy that broke over Reine's face, and to see how she threw her white arms around his neck and thanked him with smiles and tears. She would send a note to Waldemar that very night, and on the morrow he would be sure to call on her father again, then all would be well. In a moment she was his own imperious, willful Reine again, smiling and blushing by turns.

"I am sorry for what occurred in the library last night," she whispered, softly; "but, oh, papa! I thought it was Waldemar whom you meant all along. I never dreamed that Mr. Cheseleigh cared for me, he is so old and grave, you know. You must tell him just how matters are."

"Heaven help poor Cheseleigh! He loves you with a true and noble love, Reine. Some day you may be better able to judge between solid gold and glittering tinsel."

She kissed him, and ran lightly up to her own room, and sitting down to her writing-desk, penned a hasty note to her lover, telling him of her interview with her father, and of the promise he had made at the close of it.

This she hurriedly sealed, and throwing a lace scarf over her golden curls, took it herself to the old oak tree, where Waldemar would be sure to come in search of a line from her, or with a heart-broken note, telling her all that had passed between the general and himself.

How the sun shone on the ivy-covered walls and on the bright-hued flowers as she sped along! No one saw her as she approached the old trysting-place.

She was about to place her letter in the usual receptacle when she observed with joy that a letter was already there for her, from Waldemar.

She drew it forth with trembling hands and hurriedly broke the seal. There were but a few brief lines, and read as follows:

"My Dear Reine.—All is over between us, it seems, as you are probably aware by this time from the old gent. I came and saw; but, instead of conquering—was vanquished. I am off in a deuce of a hurry, having barely time to scribble these few lines to you. Keep your heart warm toward me. More anon.

"Yours in the greatest of haste,
"WALDEMAR WALDRON."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even-numbered section of Dominion Land in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces except 8 and 26 not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is sole head of a family, any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section of 160 acres more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of 10 cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent. collected on the output after $10,000.

The committee afterwards went to the warerooms of the Sawyer-Massey Co. No decision as to which will be purchased, will be made until the next meeting of the Board of Works. The committee returned home at noon yesterday.

FRIGHTENED DETECTIVES

Liquor Informers Insist on Protection to the C. P. R. Depot.

Yesterday afternoon two badly, though unnecessarily so, scared men left for Toronto by the 5.15 C.P.R. train. When leaving the court room to catch their train, these two men, seemingly got it into their heads that they were in danger, and insisted on P. C. McGinty accompanying them to the depot. It is altogether likely, that outside their own imaginations, not a soul in this city thought for a moment of showing them any violence.

Their fearing on the way to the depot might have been that of a fictitious Daniel entering a lion's den. The policeman who escorted them to the train, reports that they acted as though in terror.

Whilst their business is not one that would command the highest respect from all classes, it is, if carried out conscientiously, in the interests of a good cause, and they were just as safe when in the streets of Peterboro, as though surrounded by a company body-guard.

A KEENE WEDDING

Two Daughters of Mr. John Edwards Married at Once.

About eighty invited guests were present at the interesting and pretty double wedding celebrated Wednesday evening at the residence of Mr. John Edwards, near Keene. The brides were his two daughters, Misses Henrietta and Sarah, and the grooms, Mr. Edward Wright of Peterboro and Mr. Jos Taylor of Keene, respectively. The ceremony, was performed by Rev. Mr. Wilson, Methodist minister of Keene. The couples supporting each other in turn.

On conclusion of the ceremony, supper was served and a few hours spent pleasantly in congratulatory speeches and conversation.

Many handsome presents were received. All of the young people are exceedingly popular and have the best wishes of a host of friends.

FACTS IN NATURE.

Not Only Do We Get Inspiration From Nature, But Health as Well.

For people who are run-down and nervous, who suffer from indigestion or dyspepsia, headache, biliousness, or torpid liver, coated tongue with bitter taste in the morning and poor appetite, it becomes necessary to turn to some tonic or strengthener which will assist Nature and help them to get on their feet and put the body into its proper condition. It is becoming more and more apparent that Nature's most valuable health-giving agents are to be found in forest plants and roots.

Nearly forty years ago, Dr. R. V. Pierce, now consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, at Buffalo, N. Y., discovered that by scientifically extracting and combining certain medicinal principles from native roots, taken from our American forests, he could produce a medicine which was marvelously efficient in curing cases of blood disorder and liver and stomach trouble as well as many other chronic, or lingering ailments. This concentrated extract of Nature's vitality he named "Golden Medical Discovery." It purifies the blood, invigorating the stomach and liver into healthy condition, thereby helping the digestion and assimilation of food which feeds the blood. Thereby it cures weak stomach, indigestion, torpid liver, or biliousness, and kindred derangements.

If you have coated tongue, with bitter or bad taste in the morning, frequent headaches, feel weak, easily tired, stitches or pain in side, back gives out easily and aches, belching of gas, constipation, or irregular bowels, feel flashes of heat alternating with chilly sensations or kindred symptoms, they point to derangement of your stomach, liver and kidneys, which the "Golden Medical Discovery" will correct more speedily and permanently than any other known agent. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. All its ingredients printed in plain English on wrapper.

The sole motive for substitution is to permit the dealer to make a little more profit. He gains; you lose. Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

Constipation causes and aggravates many serious diseases. It is thoroughly cured by Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One a laxative; two or three are cathartic.

T. V. C. Route Not Yet Settled.

Hon. Mr. Emmerson states that, whilst surveys have been made to determine the route of the Trent Valley Canal, the Government had not yet determined the choice of routes. An investigation had been made into the breakage in the banks and lift locks of the Trent Valley Canal, and as a result five of the officials had resigned. The reports showed that $2,000 would cover the expenditure in connection with the repairs.

GRAND TO LIVE

And the Last Laugh is Always the Best.

"Six months ago I would have laughed at the idea that there could be anything better for a table beverage than coffee," writes an Ohio woman—"now I laugh to know there is."

"Since childhood I drank coffee as freely as any other member of the family. The result was a puny, sickly girl, and as I grew into womanhood I did not gain in health, but was afflicted with heart trouble, a weak and disordered stomach, wrecked nerves and a general breaking down, till last winter at the age of 21 I seemed to be on the verge of consumption. My friends greeted me with 'How bad you look!' 'What a terrible color!' and this was not very comforting.

"The doctors and patent medicines did me absolutely no good. I was thoroughly discouraged.

"Then I gave up coffee and commenced Postum Food Coffee. At first I didn't like it, but after a few trials and following the directions exactly it was grand. It was refreshing and satisfying. In a couple of weeks I noticed a great change. I became stronger, my brain grew clearer, I was not troubled with forgetfulness as in coffee times, my power of endurance was more than doubled. The heart trouble and indigestion disappeared and my nerves became steady and strong.

"I began to take an interest in things about me. Housework and home-making became a pleasure. My friends have marveled at the change and when they enquire what brought it about, I answer 'Postum Food Coffee, and nothing else in the world.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

THE UNION LIFE

To successfully establish an industrial life insurance company in these days requires administrative ability of an exceptional order. Owing to the methods which experience has demonstrated to be necessary in order to get and hold industrial business, a large initial outlay must be made by a company entering this field. Judiciously made, however, the outlay becomes a safe investment and one which will in due time bring satisfactory returns.

The Union Life Assurance Co., H. Pellman Evans, president, has been in existence three and a half years. The success it has already achieved in its special field, industrial insurance, is a high tribute to the skill with which the affairs of the company have been managed.

The growth of the Union Life since inception will be seen by a glance at the following comparative table:

| | Total Income. | Insurance in Force. |
|---|---|---|
| *1902 | $ 84,770.00 | $1,522,320.00 |
| 1903 | 173,713.00 | 3,004,370.00 |
| 1904 | 243,187.00 | 5,057,778.00 |
| 1905 | 344,6[illegible].93 | 7,124,146.00 |

*Six months' business only.

An increase for the year of forty-two per cent. is shown in the assets, which now amount to $324,728.24. The liabilities, excluding paid-up capital, total $122,637.14, showing a surplus on policyholders' account of $113,641.10. The net surplus is $12,641.10.

The company transacts only non-participating contracts with which its agents are furnished, and which they find ready sellers.

In 1905 the company's premium income was $151,440.57, and the interest income $23,278.35, making the total income $174,718.77. Out of this there was paid to policyholders $29,782.23; for taxes and licenses, $2,151.44; for expenses, $36,174.18; total $79,157.86. This leaves a balance of income over expenditure of $95,560.86. The assets of the company amount to $588,344.75, of which $483,705.44 bear interest. The total liabilities, excluding capital stock paid up, amount to $295,269.94, showing a surplus on policyholders' account of $193,074.79. The capital stock paid up amounts to $213,850.00.

It seems to be the ambition of the company to move surely rather than swiftly, and the results achieved attest the wisdom of this course.

DESPOTIC REGIME STARTED IN HUNGARY

Functions of Municipalities in Provinces Absorbed by Royal Commissioners.

(Special Cable.)

Budapest, March 17.—The despotic regime in Hungary has begun in earnest.

Ten royal commissioners have been dispatched into the provinces with power to usurp the functions of municipal government in most of the unruly counties and to suspend municipal liberties.

While disorders may break out at any moment, the people now realise that the government is in earnest and that the troops will not hesitate to fire on the least provocation.

The feeling throughout the country is one of deep depression that the military has proved stronger than the constitutional power. It is recognized that it was the Honveds, or national militia who take the oath to the Hungarian constitution as well as to the crown who cleared the Parliament building.

As the Honveds would have to form the nucleus of a Hungarian national force an armed rising, therefore, seems improbable.

The Parliament, however, does not yet confess itself beaten, and an attempt will apparently be made to-morrow to hold the sitting as announced.

According to Hungarian parliamentary custom, the sitting must be announced publicly, and the police have been busy to-day tearing down placards declaring that the Deputies will march to the Diet to-morrow and demand admission.

The attempt to hold the sitting cannot be more than a mere demonstration, as Major General Nyiri, the royal commissioner and practically dictator of Hungary, announces, through the Official Gazette to-day, that he will prevent the holding of the sitting by armed force.

Nevertheless, the president of the Diet M. Justh, declared this afternoon, through the vice-president, that the sitting would surely be held.

POLICE PROFITS ON BETTING

London, March 17.—The Commissioner of Police, in answer to a communication from the West Ham Education Committee on the subject of the suppression of street butting, wrote that during 1905 fines amounting to $18,000 were imposed on street bookmakers in West Ham.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE FOR AUSTRIAN EMPIRE

Premier Introduces Bill Which Will Make Slav Element Paramount in Parliament.

(Special Cable.)

Vienna, March 17.—The Premier, M. Gautsch, has introduced a Universal Suffrage Bill in the Austrian Parliament.

This bill was promised last October in order to quiet the rioters at Prague and elsewhere who had been excited by the revolutionary disorders in Russia and Hungary.

According to the bill, suffrage is given to every citizen over 24, whether literate or not, and a large increase in the Socialist element in Parliament is the probable result.

But the most interesting feature is that the bill marks another great step in the transformation of the Austrian Empire from a German to a Slav State. There are 13,000,000 Slavs against 9,500,000 Germans, but in the present Parliament there are slightly more German than Slav Deputies.

In order to somewhat correct the disparity thirty new seats have been allotted the Slavs by a new bill, raising the total number of Deputies from 425 to 456, giving the Slavs for the first time in Austrian history a slight majority in Parliament over the Germans and all other races together.

This is especially significant owing to the Pan-German movement and the disaffection in Hungary.

The Emperor is forced more and more to rely on his Slav subjects for the maintenance of the monarchy.

QUEEN BUYS A HOUSE.

Alexandra and Dowager Empress of Russia Joint Proprietors.

(Special Cable.)

Copenhagen, March 17.—Queen Alexandra and the Dowager Empress of Russia have jointly purchased a country house at Hvidoere, four miles from Copenhagen.

The estate is owned by Mme. Bruna, wife of a late Councillor of Legation.

The house is splendidly situated in a commanding position above the Sound, and is considered one of the loveliest summer residences near the capital.

In purchasing this estate Queen Alexandra and the Empress Dowager have followed the example of the late Czar Alexander III and King George of Greece, who purchased Denmark country seats.

ROUGHS ATTACK AND CAPTURE HOTEL

Guests in Their Night Attire Make Gallant Resistance, But Are Overcome.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 17.—A band of "Apaches" stormed a hotel in St. Ouen, a suburb of Paris, at 2 o'clock this morning, and after fighting a pitched battle with the occupants, succeeded in capturing it. One of the guests was stabbed to death, and the son of the proprietor lie dying from a bullet wound in the lung.

Forty men, armed with knives and revolvers, made a sudden and unexpected attack and broke down the door of the hotel at the first onslaught. This aroused the occupants, who, though many of them were only in night attire, made a gallant resistance.

But the defenders were overcome after ten minutes' fighting, and the victorious "Apaches" proceeded to sack the building, smashing to atoms everything that they could not carry away.

The police, who had been summoned by a neighbor, arrived just after the "Apaches" had got away.

PUNCH'S NEW EDITOR LITERARY CELEBRITY

Owen Seaman's Reputation in World of Letters Stands High With Englishmen.

OWEN SEAMAN, PUNCH'S NEW EDITOR

(Special Cable.)

London, March 17.—Owen Seaman, the new editor of Punch, has already established a reputation in the literary world. He is a Cambridge man, from Clare College, whereas most of the London editors, of those who have had a university education, hail from Oxford. Mr. Strachey, of the Spectator, and Mr. Spender, of the Westminster, for example.

He has written many volumes of verse of real distinction—"Tliers of the Sand," "The Battle of the Bays, "In Cap and Bells," "Borrowed Plumes," and "A Harvest of Chaff," being some of them. Of these "The Battle of the Bays" is the best. In technique it is as good as Calverley, and that is saying a great deal. We all hope for an entente cordiale with Germany now as well as with France, and Punch will echo the prevailing sentiment.

HOUSEBREAKER'S OUTFIT

London, March 17.—John Davis, an expert housebreaker, was sentenced to eight years' penal servitude at Middlesex Sessions on Saturday. His outfit included a pair of gloves and a brush. The gloves were to avoid leaving finger prints on window-sills, and the brush to remove traces from his clothes after climbing up bay windows and porches.

CORPSE PASSENGER FOR WEEKS IN TRAIN

Extraordinary Discovery Made in Lavatory of Car on German Railroad.

(Special Cable.)

Berlin, March 17.

An extraordinary discovery was made in a railway coach which arrived in Berlin yesterday afternoon as part of a train from Saxony.

During the journey several people had tried in vain to open the door of a lavatory at the end of the coach, and before going off duty the guard had it forced. The body of a man almost mummified was found hanging inside from a coathook.

From papers in the man's pockets it was discovered that the body was that of a Leipsig publican. His railway ticket was dated January 8, and he had committed suicide while travelling from Berlin to Wittenberg.

For five weeks therefore the body had accompanied the coach on its journeys between Berlin and Saxony, and this fact speaks volumes for the manner in which German railway carriages are cleaned.

LONDON REST CURE FOR RUSSIAN EXILES

Even Turmoil of City is Soothing After Nerve-Killing Excitement in Fatherland.

(Special Cable.)

London, March 17.—"The Russian revolution owes a deep debt of gratitude to London," said M. Debenoff, a Moscow revolutionist, who took a conspicuous part during the late stirring events in that city, to a reporter yesterday.

"The turmoil of your great city is peace to us after the nerve-killing excitement of events in Russia," he continued. "We look on London as a heaven-sent sanitarium in which we can recuperate from the effects of the scenes through which we have passed.

"Only an active participation in these can convey any adequate idea of what mind and body endure. The tension would become unbearable had we not some such place to resort to for a brief rest before returning refreshed for further exertions.

"During the last three months I have scarcely had any rest whatever, having addressed half a dozen meetings daily, while continually haunted by the fears of police prosecution.

"I hope soon to recover my health and strength, however, and me back again with renewed vigor for the fight."

YOUNG BURGLAR LIVES JUST-LIKE A PRINCE

Breaks Into Hotel Closed for the Winter and Has Jolly Time for Month.

(Special Cable.)

Geneva, March 17.—During a round of inspection the proprietor of a hotel situated on the Grimsel Pass was astonished to see smoke issuing from one of the chimneys of the hotel, which he had carefully locked up and left for the winter months.

He unlocked a door, entered, and, attracted by the sounds of a piano, went into one of the best bed-sitting rooms.

There he found a young man, decked out in his clothes, playing and singing. The stove was lighted, and on the tables were bottles of his best champagne and delicacies. The piano and a large bookcase had also been dragged into the room.

"For the last month," said the youthful burglar, on seeing the proprietor, "I have been thoroughly enjoying myself. I never had such a good time in my life. I do not mind going to prison now, and I hope you will forgive me."

The jovial burglar put on a coat and hat, took a last glass of champagne and followed the proprietor to the police station in the valley.

Cardiff, March 17.—A collier named Turton, of Hucknall Torkard, Notts, has carved an elegant football cup out of a large lump of coal, and has agreed to present it to the winners of a local football league.

SOCIAL FUNCTIONS SHAPED BY POLITICS

Wives of Leaders of English Parties to Act as Hostesses During Session.

(Special Cable.)

London, March 17.—Political gatherings promise to be our only festivity for some time to come. Lady Wimborne is holding a reception for the supporters of the Government on the 16th, and Lady Lansdowne has arranged for her big party to take place during the same week. The latter will be short of some of its eclat now that Lord Lansdowne is only leader of the Opposition in the House of Lords, but will doubtless be a brilliant function, in keeping with the splendid traditions of Lansdowne House.

Meanwhile Mrs. Asquith is giving some cheery dinners to a select few at her house in Cavendish Square; and the Duchess of Somerset is meditating a succession of evening parties in Grosvenor Square.

NEW CLUB FOR WOMEN.

A sign of the times is the foundation of the new Imperial Club as a meeting place for women who are interested in the Conservative and Unionist cause. Its main characteristic—almost its raison d'etre—will consist of a series of social afternoons, at which politicians of the other sex will instruct the fair members in their duties to their country and the British Empire generally.

The Duchess of Somerset, the Duchess of Grafton, Lady Gwendolen Cecil and Miss Alice Balfour are among the vice-presidents of the club, which opened in Dover Street early in March. The question now seems to be whether the Liberal ladies will follow suit by founding an opposition club.

ACROSS THE CHANNEL.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen were deeply touched by the unparalleled warmth of their welcome in Ireland, and are busy renewing old associations and remembering old friends. The new Viceroy and his wife dislike unnecessary ostentation, and are only retaining for their personal use one State carriage and one pair of outriders, a great contrast to the last regime, as Lady Dudley, not unnaturally, loved the pomp and trappings of office. Invitations have been issued for a State dinner early in March, the only function to be given at the Castle until the conclusion of the mourning for the King of Denmark.

PRINCE BUELOW HUFFED.

Tenders Resignation Because He Feels Kaiser Slighted Him.

(Special Cable.)

Berlin, March 17.—It transpires that Prince Buelow, the Imperial Chancellor, tendered his resignation to the Emperor when Herr von Tschirsky was appointed Foreign Secretary, but that his Majesty declined to accept it.

Herr von Tschirsky was appointed without consulting the Chancellor, and Prince Buelow had fears that he would report directly to the Emperor, whose personal favor he enjoys. He has accompanied his Majesty on several voyages on the Hohenzollern.

Prince Buelow has already one troublesome subordinate in this way in Privy Councillor Holstein, a permanent official with the longest term of service at the German Foreign Office, who often communicates with the Emperor over Prince Buelow's head, and influences foreign policy in a way disapproved by the Chancellor.

AGED MISER LIVED IN MAZE OF MONEY

Dies When About to Wed the Youthful Belle of His Native Village.

(Special Cable.)

Geneva, March 17.—A miser, eighty-two years old, who lived in the village of Gleeseray, Canton of Berne, died this week from excitement caused by the preparations for his marriage to a twenty-year-old girl, the belle of the village.

When the police entered the miser's house they found gold, silver and notes hidden in every part of the building. There were bank notes up the chimney, gold in a nightcap, $60 in silver in a stocking, more notes in an old boot and odd coins secreted in mantel ornaments, under the carpet and even in the back of a clock.

The miser, who also had $20,000 in a local bank, lived on six cents a day and did his own cooking and washing in order to save money.

VOTED AT 103.

Dublin, March 17.—John Kelly has died at Killough, County Down, at the age of 103 years. He recorded his vote in the East Down election.

AMERICANS VICTIMS OF NOTORIETY FAD

Their Taxes in Rome Regulated by Number of Social Functions They Give.

(Special Cable.)

Rome, March 17.—The American colony in Rome has been greatly annoyed by the recent increased taxation in respect of a vexatious municipal imposition levied upon residents in the capital.

The tax in question is not assessed on any actual return of income, being based entirely on external symptoms of the wealth of each inhabitant. The tax agent files all the local society papers, and woe to those who communicate to editors accounts of their balls and dinners.

The majority of the contributors to the social section of the Roman press are Americans, hence the increase of their taxes.

The British residents have been very reasonably taxed, and are not complaining, as they make it a rule not to themselves or their guests away by press communications.

WOMAN IN BAND THAT LOOTS A BANK

Dresses in Male Attire and Joins Her Husband in Desperate Adventure.

(Special Cable).

Buenos Ayres, March 17.—A most daring bank robbery was successfully carried out at the branch of the Bank of the Nation at Villa Mercedes, in the province of San Luis, yesterday.

The bank stands in the centre of the town, and the affair happened at half-past 10 o'clock in the morning. About that time four horsemen were seen taking a drink outside a hotel opposite the bank. Having handed their empty glasses to a waiter, they dismounted, and calmly led their horses across the road.

Three of the men entered the bank while the fourth held their horses outside. The men leaped over the counter, and one of them, seizing the cashier, threatened to shoot him on the spot if he made an outcry.

The others proceeded to loot the bank, and had not completed their work when the manager appeared on the scene. As he proceeded to attack the robbers, one of them fired three shots at him and wounded him on the head.

The men then remounted their horses and galloped away.

It has been found by the police that the criminals were in reality three men and a woman. Their names are given as Harry Longbaugh and his wife, who dresses in man's attire; James Ryan, and Harry Logan, four well-known bank and mail robbers, who have a long record of these crimes against them.

CARDINAL VICTIM OF CLEVER SWINDLER

Entertains Bogus Prince, Who Also Poses as King Edward's Aide-de-Camp.

(Special Cable.)

Madrid, March 17.—A well dressed person, representing himself as a member of the Battenberg family, and speaking Spanish with an English accent, has been victimizing a large number of people in various Spanish towns.

He was received by Cardinal Sancha at Toledo with every courtesy and entertained at luncheon. He afterward represented that he had only English money with him, which he found some difficulty in getting changed, and obtained $240 from the cardinal.

At Valencia he presented letters of introduction from an officer of the Royal Sovereign, and at other places he called himself an aide-de-camp to King Edward.

He was arrested to-day, and in his pockets a large number of maps and plans were found.

SCOTTISH LORD IS OUSTED FROM CLUB

Punished Because He Supported Free Trade Candidate at General Election.

LORD BALFOUR OF BURLEIGH

(Special Cable.)

London, March 17.—The name of Lord Balfour of Burleigh was removed from the list of members and also from the list of trustees of the Constitutional Club at a meeting of the general committee yesterday, on account of his action in supporting a Liberal free trader in the recent general election.

Several other members of the club were expelled at the same meeting and for the same cause.

His action in the case of Lord Balfour of Burleigh was taken only after long correspondence between him and the committee. He was asked to explain his conduct in allowing the use of his name as a trustee of the club on a circular advising electors in Chelsea to vote for the Liberal candidate.

Lord Balfour replied to the effect that tariff reform was made the crucial issue in Chelsea; that it was not the accepted policy of the Conservative party, and that he could not patriotically support a candidate who was committed to Mr. Chamberlain's policy.

He characterized the attitude of the club as "an exaltation of the power of the party machine which is comparatively new in British politics."

The resolution of expulsion was offered by Sir W. Porter, and seconded by Lord Robert Brudenell Bruce.

NEW "KNIGHT OF JUSTICE."

London, March 17.—The London Gazette last night announced that the King had sanctioned the appointment of Lord Linlithgow as a Knight of Justice in the Order of the Hospital of St. John of Jerusalem, and as Sub-Prior.

PUBLICAN PARSON HOLDS ON TO JOBS

Will Continue to Run Saloon and Will Not Resign Chaplaincy.

(Special Cable.)

London, March 17.—The Rev. Dr. Samuel W. Thackeray, who recently acquired a public house license, has been asked by the Camberwell Board of Guardians to resign the chaplaincy of the Gordon Road Workhouse on the ground that "the occupation of a publican is incompatible with the proper performance of his duties in ministering to the spiritual requirements of the inmates."

A letter officially conveying this request was forwarded to Dr. Thackeray under date of February 15, with the further request that he submit his resignation within seven days.

Dr. Thackeray, in his reply, says: "I have only to say that I decline to resign my office of chaplain of the Gordon Road Workhouse."

There the matter rests, officially, at present, but meantime Dr. Thackeray has written a letter to the newspapers, in which he defines and defends his attitude. He speaks of his high esteem for the members of the Board of Guardians, but regards them as having no locus standi in the case.

He believes that he will accomplish more for true temperance in a few minutes than they in fifty years of a total abstinence crusade, and in a rather long parable he likens himself to a policeman who warns thoughtless persons from the edge of a precipice, while other persons at the base of the precipice, who have gathered there to comfort those who fall over, bellow at him to go away lest they have no victims to take care of.

The parable concludes thus: "They shout vociferously for my resignation. I wave my red flag vigorously at them in mockery and defiance, and tell them that so long as the head superintendent of police is satisfied that I am doing my duty I care not a jot for their opinion."

VILLAGERS SCARED BY WOLVES AND BOARS

Severe Weather Drives Them From Mountain Haunts Into the Valleys Below.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 17.—The severe weather in Central France has brought out scores of wolves and wild boars, which are terrorizing the villagers.

Near St. Etienne a man named Dimieux was chased by a pack of wolves last night into an empty shed, which he reached only just in time. The brutes rushed madly against the door, and would ultimately have burst it in had not Dimieux frightened them away by throwing among them a bundle of burning hay through a window.

Owing to an extraordinary snowfall in the east and south of Belgium, immense packs of wolves have made their appearance in the provinces of Luxembourg and Namur.

They are usually seen at sunset, when they come around the farms and kill the sheep. To-day it is reported that wolves entered a fold on Mairet, Luxembourg, and killed forty-two sheep and goats.

The peasants are combining and organising hunts.

MONUMENT AT FONTENOY.

Burgomaster Urges That It Be Erected On the Famous Battlefield.

(Special Cable.)

Dublin, March 17.—The burgomaster and secretary of Fontenoy have addressed a letter to the committee for the erection of a monument in memory of the Irishmen who fell at the battle of Fontenoy in 1745.

The letter, which has been published by the Freeman's Journal, urges that the monument should be erected on the battlefield itself, and not at Tournay. That town, they point out, is only a little nearer Fontenoy than Brussels is to Waterloo, yet no one thought of erecting Waterloo monuments at Brussels.

In conclusion, the burgomaster pays a tribute to the heroic Irishmen who turned defeat into a French victory, and says the people of Fontenoy would watch over the monument and look to see their town a place of patriotic pilgrimage for Irishmen.

Count Witte Discovers that They Instigated Jewish Massacres.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 17.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Matin says that Count Witte paid a surprise visit to the office of the secret police, and discovered that they were themselves printing the proclamation inciting the Black Gang to pillage and massacre the Jews. Count Witte immediately went to Tsarskoe Selo and had an interview with the Czar.

TOO OLD AT FORTY.

London, March 17.—Eighty-eight women, whose ages varied from 20 to 40, applied to the Middlesex County Council for a post as inspector. The committee selected an applicant from Liverpool who gave her age as 40.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle of Moncton N B, Sends an Open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow. But there is a cure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia and rheumatism. Sleep finally forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, given me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the week and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No more stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the place of this nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Bartford, Conn. U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

PROPOSAL TO SEND PASSENGERS BY MAIL.

James L. Cowles, secretary of the Postal Progress league, a civic organization devoted to purposes clearly indicated in its title, has submitted a report in which in all seriousness, indeed with good deal of polemic earnestness, he advocates such a change in the postal laws as will permit passengers to be sent by mail.

The suggestion of course conjured up ridiculous images of human beings with exaggerated postage stamps adhering to their backs in the act of sliding through enlarged slits at the postoffice, to be postmarked with the hour of receipt and classified in bunches according to destination, but Mr. Cowles does not contemplate a classification of population into mailable matter entitled to all postal facilities. It is merely that passengers shall be carried as mail matter as the rural delivery rules. Restated, it is simply that the rural carriers may permit persons to ride with them in their rigs and charge for the privilege.

He makes an unexpectedly good argument for this curious proposition and incidentally brings out some facts which are themselves of interest. It seems that there are more than 21,000 persons now employed with horses and wagons on rural delivery routes. Their total loads on their out and incoming trips average about 30 pounds a day, but they collect only about two pounds, the revenue to the government being figured at 2 cents a day. The net loss to the government on each route is figured at $2.50 a day or a total of $4,500 on all the routes, which would make the loss in the entire country $1,350,000 a year. Mr. Cowles' position is that a large part of the great load is due to the restrictions placed on the carriers. If a general carter's business could be combined with the business of carrying the mails, as seems to have been done in the days of those carriers in England who figure in so many of Dickens' stories, the result would be of advantage to the postman and the government.

In only two ways could rural carriers' vehicles be made available for passengers, but the difficulties attending to each are so great it will probably be better to go on pocketing the immense loss which the rural delivery service entails. If, as Mr. Cowles urges, the government should take charge of the business, it would have to make provision for fluctuations in the traffic, assume responsibility for accidents causing injury to passengers and suffer annoyance from a system of accounting for receipts which would give large opportunity for crookedness. If the carriers themselves should be permitted to undertake the business on their own responsibility, subject to the revenue therefor, just as the railroads now transport passengers and mail matter on the same train, then equity would demand that the privilege of carrying the mails should be accorded on competitive bids for some routes would be more desirable than others. There would many 20,000 star routes on which contracts would be awarded on bids, and a new chapter in governmental history shows the facility with which star route contracts may be made a subject of fraud.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the police court was crowded with a large audience. The first on the list was Hector Baker who was brought up on the charge of not supporting his wife and family. He was remanded until Monday morning.

The next case called was that of the Italian, Raffaele Sandagnone, charged with having attempted to wound another Italian named Lucano with a knife. The prisoner pleaded "Not guilty," electing to be tried summarily by the Magistrate.

The first witness was Michael Lucano, who said he was at John Sobear's house last Friday night. Witness said further, when we were about to get tea, Delsaro, a boarder, and Sandagnone came in the house both drunk. They started to raise a disturbance. Mrs. Sobear asked another fellow and myself to take him to his room. The prisoner followed us upstairs. He hit me with his fist, and I turned around and let him have one in the eye. Pisabe pulled a knife and came after me. He threatened to kill me. Sobear ordered him out of the house. He came upstairs after me."

The next witness was John Sobear, who practically corroborated the evidence of the first witness.

Mrs. Sobear, wife of the Italian who keeps the Dundas street boarding house, testified to the prisoner having taken a knife from his pants' pocket. Mrs. Sobear said she was the wife of Sobear. Mr. McWilliams asked, "Are you his wife?" "Yes." When were you married to him?"

The Magistrate here said, "That is immaterial to the point. I will not allow that question." She was sure Lucano only struck prisoner once.

The next witness, a boy named Peter Lawrence Grant, saw the row. Saw prisoner pull a knife from his pocket, say it shone as it was opened. Lucano was taking a drunken man upstairs to put him to bed. Saw Mike strike the prisoner, that started the row.

The next witness, John Grant, the size of a good healthy grasshopper, saw two men drunk, Delsaro and prisoner drunk. They, Lucano and another man were taking Delsaro upstairs. Prisoner hit Lucano back of the ear. Then Lucano gave prisoner one in the eye. Prisoner pulled a knife after he was hit, and held it over his head.

Frank Marino, next witness, was upstairs when they brought the drunken man up stairs. Saw prisoner with a knife and heard him say, "I will use this after a time."

The prisoner then went into the box, and he was struck three times by Lucano. He was playing cards when Lucano hit him, over some words they had had. He did not strike Lucano that day. Does not use a knife, had no knife with him that day.

To Mr. Wood, had only had a few glasses when he went to the house. Mr. and Mrs. Sobear and others were playing cards. It's him when Lucano hit him.

G. Santilla, the next witness, said: "I was at Sobear's on Friday night. The prisoner came there with Delsaro. I saw Mike hit the prisoner but the latter never drew a knife. There was no fight. The prisoner wanted to take DeFiano home.

The magistrate said that he did not doubt but that there was a knife in the prisoner's hand. He said he would send him to jail, but if he could get two good reliable persons to put up a $50 guarantee each, that he would keep the peace for a year, he would let him out. Sandagnone's friends afterwards came to his rescue and put up bonds on securing his liberty.

A MASONIC EVENT

Corinthian Lodge No. 101 Entertains Their Grand Master.

Last night was a red-letter date in local Masonic affairs. Corinthian Lodge No. 101, A.F. & A.M., was marked by the brethren, who welcomed M. Wor. Bro. Jas. L. Burritt, K.C., Peterboro, grand master of The Grand Lodge, and Rt. Wor. Bro. John Hall, Lakefield, District Dep. Grand Master, these distinguished officers paying an official visit.

On conclusion of the regular meeting, a banquet was held in the dining hall. W. Mr. Phillips, the local restaurateur, had spread a very beautiful display as well as furnishing a most toothsome repast, from fowl to sweets. All tables were prettily decorated with lilies, palms and other ornamental plants. The table appointments of each plate were arranged in a unique style, each bearing a chrysanthemum adornment.

On conclusion of the banquet, was the

This Pretty Girl Saved From Catarrh of the Lungs By Pe-ru-na.

MISS FLORENCE KENAH.

Miss Florence E. Kenah, 431 Maria street, Ottawa, Ont., writes:

"A few months ago I caught a severe cold, which settled on my lungs and remained there so persistently that I became alarmed. I took medicine without benefit, until my digestive organs became upset, and my head and back began to ache severely and frequently.

"I was advised to try Peruna, and although I had little faith I felt so sick that I was ready to try anything. It brought me blessed relief at once, and I felt that I had the right medicine at last. Within three weeks I was completely restored and have enjoyed perfect health since.

"I now have the greatest faith in Peruna."

Florence E. Kenah.

WOMEN SHOULD BEWARE OF CONTRACTING CATARRH.

The cold wind and rain, slush and mud of winter are especially conducive to catarrhal derangements. Few women escape.

Upon the first symptoms of catching cold Peruna should be taken. It fortifies the system against colds and catarrh.

Pe-ru-na for Colds and Catarrh.

The following interesting letter gives one young woman's experience with Peruna:

Miss Rose Gerbing, a popular society woman of Crown Point, Ind., writes:

"Recently I took a long drive in the country, and being too thinly clad I caught a bad cold which settled on my lungs, and which I could not seem to shake off. I had heard a great deal of Peruna for colds and catarrh and I bought a bottle to try. I am pleased that I did, for it brought speedy relief. It only took about two bottles, and I consider this money well spent.

"You have a firm friend in me, and I not only advise its use to my friends, but have purchased several bottles to give to those without the means to buy, and have noticed without exception that it has brought about a speedy cure wherever it has been used."—Rose Gerbing.

Pe-ru-na Contains no Narcotics.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results. It is permanent in its effect.

It has no bad effect upon the system, and gradually eliminates catarrh by removing the cause of catarrh. There are a multitude of homes where Peruna has been used off and on for twenty years. Such a thing could not be possible if Peruna contained any drugs of a narcotic nature.

Kelly, who has been ill for several weeks has taken a turn for the worse and is now in a very critical condition. The news will be received with deep regret by a large number of friends.

Converted Gambler's Experience.

A converted gambler is expected to be present at the special revival services at Bethany Tabernacle tomorrow morning and evening to relate the thrilling story of his recent conversion. The evangelist will conduct a service for young people this evening at the usual hour, and the boys and girls of the Bible school tomorrow afternoon at three o'clock.

Mr. McConnell of Dummer Hurt.

Norwood Register: Mr. Robert McConnell, lot 4, in the 11th concession of Dummer, met with a very serious and painful accident yesterday morning. He was engaged in cutting wood with a sawing machine when his right hand got caught in the tumbling shaft, which tore off his thumb with about six inches of the tendon. His injuries were attended to by Dr. Fort of this place.

Times' Ad's Brought Business.

Mr. Chas. M. Taylor, who for some time has been in the city in the interests of the Texas Peak Gold and Copper Mining Co., of Manister, Mich., leaves for home tonight. Mr. Taylor who made The Times office his headquarters whilst in the city, and advertised exclusively through these columns reports having done a large business, having placed a large block of stock whilst in Peterboro.

The Billiard Scrap Explained.

The billiard-marker, whom we noted a few days ago as having had a dispute with a customer in a local billiard room, called at The Times yesterday to say that the dispute did not arise through any mistake he had made about the change, but in connection with the score. The man whom we noted he had taken a knife to, had struck him on account of his (the marker's) interfering with the game. The marker further explained the presence of his knife in his hand by saying he had been cutting tobacco, and had dropped his knife before the scrap took place.

HURT BY FALL

Yesterday evening as Mr. Peter Clancy an old resident of this city, and a gentleman far advanced in years was walking along the east pavement of Water, just to the north of Hunter street, on his way to the opera house. Owing to the icy condition of the pavement, partly covered by a light coating of frost, by fallen snow, the old gentleman's feet went from under him.

Mr. Clancy fell very heavily and was unable to rise after several efforts, quickly gathered and carried Mr. Neill, complaining of the pain inflicted, into Messrs. Doris & Godfrey's harness shop on the corner of the above street next the Queens Hotel.

Messrs. Doris & Godfrey quickly extemporized a bed on their counter with robes, upon which Mr. Clancy was laid.

Dr. McGarvin was at once telephoned for and quickly arrived on the scene. A hasty examination demonstrated that Mr. Clancy's right arm was considerably below the shoulder placed to Mr. D. Bellingham, for the Dee Queens ambulance. The ambulance arrived in a few minutes and the injured man taken up his home on Hunter street, near Edinburgh country, east end.

The Local Abduction Case Had Preliminary Hearing Yesterday Afternoon--Lottie Sullivan Swears Defendant Had Outlined a Scheme to Get His Uncle's Farm.

The preliminary hearing in the now somewhat celebrated case, wherein S. Bradburn was charged by Mrs. Sullivan, with having abducted her daughter Lottie, under age, without the consent of her parents, was held; the charge being laid under the criminal code.

John Rickerby, the first witness, said on the evening of Thursday, March 5th, he saw defendant at C.P.R. Road. Had no conversation with him either about Lottie Sullivan or a deal of land, nor concerning any marriage.

Lottie Sullivan, the girl defendant is accused of abducting, then went into the witness box. She is a daughter of Dennis Sullivan. Has been employed by Mrs. Wood picking peas. Saw defendant on the evening of March 5th, who she had known for a month, on the corner of Brock and George streets. Defendant spoke first. Had been keeping company with her before. That evening, when with Gladys Forsyth, she met defendant, in front of the Commercial House, with another fellow named Jack Rickerby, the last witness. When defendant spoke to her Gladys left them, but Rickerby stayed with them. They then walked up Brock street. Defendant told her his uncle in the country that promised him a farm, when he married. Defendant had that day introduced Rickerby to his uncle as Jack Fairfax, the brother-in-law. Told his uncle he had been married two years ago in Montana. She was to go out to his uncle's place as Mr. defendant's wife, and as Jack Rickerby's sister, on Friday morning. On Thursday the three of them were to go out and on Friday the professed man and wife. She was to pretend she was a good housekeeper. If she could not bake they were to take cakes out with them, and when the uncle came in, she was to pretend to take them out of the oven, the boy, Jack Rickerby said, as it would not do for her to go out without a wedding ring, he would get one. By her doing this, the defendant, would get the deed of his uncle's farm. They were to remain at the farm until the following Tuesday. The three of them were to go to Montana. Rickerby was to come out, for her on Tuesday, and told the girl he was just taking her for a drive. When they came in on Monday they were to get all the farm was worth on the deal, she was to take the train with Jack Rickerby on Tuesday for Montana. They were to meet defendant and Rickerby's wife at Port Hope. The four of them were to go to the west. Defendant said he could get enough by this deed to keep them in comfort for years, and he could never it. Nothing was said about their actually being married. She decided to go with them on Friday morning.

Rickerby said he could not get away until ten o'clock, and defendant was to call for her at 9.30. Defendant told her to say to her parents she was going to Toronto to see her sister. She told them the night before she would go. Both men were under influence of liquor. She went alone to Ashburnham Thursday night. Told the Forsyth girl she was going to the country with defendant. Friday morning she went out with Gladys for a walk; went home and changed her clothes. Gladys, at her request wrapped up a night gown and a blouse. Next saw defendant at nine o'clock.

To Mr. O'Connell, sent Gladys out to see defendant; Gladys, who had no coat or hat on, went for a drive with defendant. Then, later on, she and Gladys both drove off with defendant, out the Chemong road. Then they drove back to the C.P.R. Hotel, where defendant got out of the rig. He told them to come back in about five minutes. Then they did, when defendant told them to come back again. About ten o'clock, defendant got in with her and Gladys. After driving about several streets, Gladys got out of the rig. She, witness then took the team, and drove out Sherbrook, as far as Fowler's Corners. Then they turned back towards Peterboro, as she claimed to have lost the road to Lakefield. At the Fowler's Corners Monmouth shop, defendant asked how far it was to Ohvan, and was told about 12 miles. The defendant said he would go to Peterboro, to which she agreed. They arrived there about one o'clock, she getting out at her own home. Defendant stood in front of the house till her mother went out to speak to him. They did not stop the horse or get out of the rig while out driving. Defendant had told her when they got out there, he would have a woman living there, the house-keeper, sent away.

She had met the night about the matter of the man's opinion concerning defendant's title of two years' standing, coming to the house-keeper's room alone. She had not deliberated the matter of marriage, the sale of the pine forest, nor of going to Port Hope or Montana with a stranger man. Went to Toronto Saturday night. Mr. O'Connell had told her she had better consult a solicitor, and the matter rested out of court.

She got the money for the Toronto trip from Mathers, by a note she sent by Gladys. There was only $1.15 coming to her from Mathers. She got $5 as requested from Mathers. She told Mathers she wanted the money and was going away. She had worked for Mathers since January on Peterboro. Stayed with Mrs. Neff in Toronto until she was brought back by the constable.

To Mr. McWilliams, who warned the girl, if this case was continued, he would have to ask embarrassing questions, considering what she had told him in Mr. office.

The Magistrate stated what bearing on the case it would have even if the girl had been induced to be foolish. The evidence showed up to now the girl was only a child, showed badly. He could not take the responsibility of advising a withdrawal. The fool of a girl is not able to take care of herself.

To Mr. McWilliams, nothing important took place between them that Friday. Defendant was drunk and she did the driving. Every corner she woke defendant up to enquire the right road to his uncle's.

Quite a discussion arose between Mr. McWilliams for the defendant and the Magistrate, as to advisability of having a settlement of the case attained, Mr. McWilliams expressing the hope that no publicity be given to certain statements she had made in the office, inasmuch that answers to the same would not only be embarrassing to the girl, but perhaps affect the whole case materially. The Magistrate, however, did not think that, even though she might have to make answer affecting her conduct, it would affect the charges against defendant, further than a possible mitigation of punishment, should any happen to be adjudged.

John Rickerby then went into the box and practically denied every leading point in the girl's story, in each points, particularly as it affected him. He claimed that a large part of the girl's story was false.

The defendant was committed for trial, bail in $800 being allowed, and put up by friends.

THE BAND'S UNIFORM

"Citizen" Advocates the Adoption of Kilts by Our Local Band.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—I see that the progressive town of Galt, has decided to adopt the Highland uniform, or "Kilts" as the permanent uniform of their most efficient local band, which now numbers forty, and which has said for their instruments. Galt had to consider the question of a new uniform for their band and decided to adopt the kilts.

It is too generally known that the 57th Regiment Band is one of the finest musical organizations in Canada to require any mention that fact. One thing, however, in my opinion, would add to their already great attractiveness, and that is by the local band adopting the ever popular, spectacular, and comfortable Highland costume.

It would cost about a thousand dollars for above uniforms, which are usually made in Scotland. The most favored tartan for the kilt is that of the Gordon Highlanders. The beautiful Highland uniform would evoke unbounded enthusiasm locally as well as to do much to popularize the band in surrounding places. To adopt the cost an approval must be made to the public in some shape or form, and would doubtless receive prompt and general response.

If the papers in this city would take up this matter and suggest the idea, it would quickly be taken up, and the Peterboro Kilt Band, would soon be known even more favorably than they are now.

Yours truly,

CITIZEN.

The White Plague in Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 16.—At the annual meeting of the Ottawa Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, statistics were presented to show that of the 1,121 deaths in Ottawa during 1903, 30 were caused by consumption and only 6 by the other infectious diseases. In 1903, with a population of 59,928, there were 125 deaths from consumption. Next year, 1903, the figures rose to 140, being an increase of 15. In the next year, 1906, the number fell to 119, being a reduction of 26. In 1904, there were 128 deaths from consumption, a decrease upon the previous year of 4, and last year, 1905, there was a still further reduction of 20, or a clear gain of 41 lives in four years.

THE COLLEEN BAWN

Grand Opera House Crowded by Delighted Audience.

St. Patrick's Eve was well recognized last night, when nearly every available spot in the Grand Opera House was occupied by those who wanted to see, and subsequently were pleased by, that delicious favorite Irish play, "The Colleen Bawn."

The play was most admirably staged and performed by the dramatic section of the local F.A.S.

During the play some excellent musical specialties were introduced by Miss Lavina Gibbs, Miss Nellie Hamilton, Messrs. Lynch, C. Donovan, and T. J. Hurley. The Grand Opera house orchestra, also contributed several overtures of Irish melodies during the evening in good style.

The cast of characters, all being local amateurs, who last night demonstrated their histrionic abilities, were as follows:

Myles Na Coppaleen ..... Mr. G. Lynch
Hily O'Connor (Colleen Bawn) .....
..... L. Halligan
Hardress Cregan ..... Mr. John McCabe
Mrs. Cregan ..... Miss N. McCabe
Danny Mann ..... Mr. T. J. Hagley
Norman Brady ..... Mr. Fanny Holmes
Kyrle Daly ..... Mr. James Derrig
Shaughn Dhuv ..... Miss Mary O'Brien
Squire Cregan ..... Mr. Jas. O'Brien
Father Tom ..... Mr. J. Gorham
Bartle O'Connor ..... Mr. O. Donovan
Kathleen Dreught ..... Miss E. McNamara
Gerald Mac O'Shea ..... Miss G. Sullivan
Servant ..... Mr. V. Donovan
Corporal Grady ..... Mr. J. Judd
Soldiers, peasants, etc.

Mr. Chapman Leaves.

Yesterday, Mr. D. W. Chapman, the gentleman who so acted in a former issue of The Times, coming here as a delegate to the Order of Canadian Home Circle convention, and who, although a former resident of Peterboro, did not mean this city for over forty-five years, left for his home in Brighton.

Local Salaried Representative. Machine Phone 82.

had a chat with Mr. Chapman over old times in Peterboro. Mr. Chapman noted that when he came here very few of the citizens had ever seen a railway locomotive. He stated that the day the first train over the Cobourg and Peterboro road arrived here, there were many thousand people from all the surrounding sparsely populated townships present to witness the great (sic) sight. When the train pulled in, the wife of one of the largest farmers of the county, looking at the "cow-catcher" on the engine, asked her husband, 'What is that thing in front of the engine?' "Why," replied her husband, in patronizing tones, "You ought to know better than that, Mary, that's the thing they steer the train by!"

Mr. Chapman said that at the time the C. & P. Railroad came here, the whole town of Peterboro, was less in size than the present East 'Yard and contained far less imposing business places.

This gentleman is a sturdy advocate of having the Trent Valley canal built from Brighton instead of either Trenton or Port Hope; he says they have the best harbor there, between Toronto and Kingston.

A PROSPEROUS COMPANY

The Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company had Another Successful Year. Great Progress and Increase in Profitable Business.

The eleventh annual report of the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company of Ottawa, which appears in this issue, is one that cannot help but prove satisfactory to shareholders and policy-holders alike. During the past year this popular company has made a splendid record in the nature of increasing its business throughout the Dominion. It is quite evident from the showing made that the Canadian Railway Accident Insurance Company, has a splendid organization throughout the entire Dominion, which is amply proven by the amount of business written. The gross amount of insurance secured during the year was $30,968,660, as against $25,900,961 for the year 1904, an increase of over $4,000,000, while the premium income in 1905 reached the sum of $238,206.55, an increase over the previous year of $40,234.29.

The Reserve Fund has been brought up to the handsome sum of $65,000, in addition of which a contingency Fund of $50,000 has been provided, making a total reserve of $85,000. Notwithstanding this generous provision a substantial balance has been carried forward to credit of profit and loss account.

During the year 1905 the company paid 2,662 claims amounting to $116,-262.89, which fully demonstrates the great value and utility of accident and health insurance to the public at large.

The security of policy-holders is $316,025.53, which fully guarantees the company's ability to carry out its engagements.

The company issue all kinds of accidents, health and employers' liability insurance. Its contracts are the most up-to-date offered to the public, and it enjoys a splendid reputation for prompt and satisfactory adjustments of claims and for some years has written the largest personal accident business of any company in Canada.

The President of the Company is Mr. Dennis Murphy of Ottawa, well connected with John Bye Mr. John Bruce, General Manager, and Mr. J. P. Dickson, Secretary-Treasurer, a very strong board of management, which has brought the company to a striking and solid success, financially and otherwise.

Mr. [illegible] is the local agent of the company.

Sleeplessness

Weak, Listless, Sleepless Men and Women Cured Every Day by Dr Hamilton's Pills.

The physical suffering and mental anguish that victims of sleeplessness endure is indeed a sad story. But in Dr. Hamilton's Pills there is swift relief from this awful condition Thousands have proved the merit of this grand medicine, among them Mrs. O. T. Lyons, one of the best known residents of Geneva, who writes: "My health ran down and I was unable to sleep. I had headache and pains in different parts of my body. In the morning I was weary and exhausted—no rest or comfort came from the snatches of sleep I got.

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills braced me at once. After the first night I got refreshing sleep, that extreme weariness left me and I recovered very fast.

"No medicine I ever used gave such telling results as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills."

Don't let sleeplessness drive you wearey: take Dr. Hamilton's Pills and get well. You will increase in flesh your appetite will be vigorous, force and energy will be instilled into your nervous system.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS.

For Additional Local News.

Additional local news will be found on the fifth page of today's issue.

Wine Clerk Wanted.

A good steady wine clerk wanted at the Snowden House. Steady job and good wages. Apply at Snowden House.

Girls Wanted.

A couple of good girls wanted at the Snowden House, to whom the highest wages will be paid.

Boy Wanted.

More Serious.

A dispatch from Bowmanville states that smallpox, which broke out in that town a few days ago in a mild form, has developed into a more virulent type. Dr. C. King, one of the physicians in Canada, and a member of the family says the Canadian Bisley team, should no one chosen this year be stricken down, each of the four victims, and the statement is made that his attack is a serious one.

Merely a Suggestion.

The good man sat in silent meditation.

After a time the spirit moved him and he began to speak.

"What," he queried, "shall I give up during Lent?"

"Well," rejoined his wife, "you might give up $25 for my new Easter headgear."

Lord Dondonald's Charger.

Mr. J. W. Courtney, Newburgh, a former resident of Peterboro, and a brother of Mr. Chas. Courtney, Mount Pleasant, a few days ago received the hide of Lord Dundonald's favorite charger to be tanned. The horse was chloroformed in Kingston, a few weeks ago, and sent to Newburgh by Kingston parties to be tanned. Mr. Courtney is one of the best known tanners in Ontario.

The new Times' Building.

As will be seen by advertisement in another column, tenders are invited for the construction of a new building for The Times newspaper. The building, with the proposed addition, will have a total length of about 130 feet by 60 in width, and will be modern in every particular. The plant will also be modernized by the addition of new presses and labor saving devices. Plans and specifications may be seen at the office of Mr. J. E. Belcher.

REAL TALE OF WOE

Remarkable Bad Luck of a Well Known Otonabee Farmer.

A well known farmer of Otonabee has had a heap of bad luck recently. It appears that he ordered and received a half gallon jug of good old whiskey and had sampled it and found it O.K. He set the jug upon a shelf in the kitchen where it would be handy in case of sickness. He did not notice another jug on the same shelf containing vinegar which had been drawn from a barrel in the cellar so that it would be handy also. On Sunday morning a neighbor came to the house to borrow a half gallon jug, and the good wife of the farmer took what she thought was the vinegar jug, emptied the contents in the barrel and gave the neighbor the empty jug. Soon the farmer, who had been feeling quite bad all morning, became sick and reached for his jug. He knew it was good, for he had tried it before, and took a big pull at it before stopping to smack his lips. The family was shocked by a succession of wild whoops, and rushed into where he was performing a genuine Indian dance and yelling that he was poisoned and to run for a stomach pump. Before the latter implement arrived the discovery was made that the wrong jug had been emptied into the vinegar barrel.

FAVORS DEEPER WATERWAY

Mr. C. A. Munson, of Cobourg, Speaks out Strongly.

Mr. C. A. Munson, Cobourg, has written a letter to the press concerning the Trent Valley Canal. He advocates the Cobourg route, and says:

"The people demand an immediate completion of this great waterway, and nothing less than an eight foot channel, as a lesser draught than eight feet would be simply throwing money away. I believe Cobourg should be the Lake Ontario end of this canal, and have good reasons for so believing. But whether Cobourg or Port Hope gets it the fact remains that the western route will save millions in construction, have a longer period of navigation, will be much shorter route, and will be able to accommodate vessels of the largest size, besides costing infinitely less for maintenance. No private interests should be considered in the selection of this route, and the fact that capitalist have acquired interests along the Trent River should be no reason why that route should be selected, and the interests of the people of the whole country sacrificed."

HAD POLICY LAPSED?

Interesting Point of Insurance Law Now Before Supreme Court at Ottawa.

Ottawa, March 16.—The case of the People's Life Insurance Company v. Tattersall, on appeal from a judgment of the Court of Appeal for Ontario, was the first case heard in the Supreme Court yesterday. The main point in the case is, the insured having died, leaving a premium unpaid, but within the thirty days allowed from the time after it fell due, has the policy lapsed? If it had, could any other person pay the premium and revive it?

Another point in the case was, as held by the Divisional Court, that the widow of the insured, who had an interest in the policy, had gone to the head office after the death of her husband and been told, or led to believe, that the policy was all right was the company, estopped from denying that it was in force? The Divisional Court and the Court of Appeal held against the company on these points.

Watson, K.C., for appellants; Crerar, K.C., for respondent.

Warm and Cold Winters.

According to the director of an American weather bureau the time may not be far distant when the United States weather service can tell us at least six months in advance whether the winter will be warm or cold, says the Macon Republican. It has already been determined, he says, that there are great world currents of air sweeping around the globe which it is thought cause the difference in our winters, and as soon as stations are established everywhere so that the progress of these may be watched the bureau will likely be able to give information by the last of September concerning the weather in January, February and March.

Moroccan Situation.

Berlin, March 15.—Spokesmen for the Government admit that the Moroccan situation has reverted to a critical point with diminishing prospect for agreement. The handing over of police control of Casablanca to a neutral power is declared to be Germany's irreducible minimum.

The foreign office conception of the position of affairs is that matters are where they were before, except that it is; "Plainer than ever that if the conference breaks up the blame will belong to France alone."

INS AND OUTS

March has not been very windy so far, but there is hope now that the city council will put into language its opinion of the Ontario legislature.

* * * * *

A lazy man should never be born from a very rich father. It is only under this consideration that the world will tolerate him.

* * * * *

A local medical man said to this great family journal yesterday that Peterboro has more doctors than ever before And incidentally this g. f. j. might remark that the cemeteries were never so crowded.

* * * * *

A woman in Toronto has been asleep 29 hors, and they can't wake her up. Somebody should get near the bedside and make a noise like a new Easter hat.

* * * * *

The owner of [illegible] is going to [illegible] with [illegible] breakers; that is why so many of us go broke.

* * * * *

Lindsay proposes to follow Peterboro's example by placing a high tax on cigarettes. Still copying. The first thing we know Lindsay will be doing away with moonlight and having gas put in the houses.

* * * * *

Fresh air is the best remedy, says a well known local physician, which is a hint to the city council, which deals exclusively in hot air.

* * * * *

Now that we have had spring all winter, let us hope that January will not linger in the lap of April.

* * * * *

Hats are to be cheaper this spring. Possibly the milliners, considering the prospective price of ice and coal, relented and determined to charge only what they could get.

* * * * *

In playing hockey these days they press down on the loud pedal when it comes to gate receipts.

* * * * *

If you think that honesty keeps the majority of the local coal barons poor you are entitled to another think.

A SPRING POEM

Contribution From a Poetic Subscriber of this Great Family Journal.

A subscriber sends this great family journal the following:

"Spring is about here and with it comes sunshine and showers, green grass and flowers, onions and tomatoes, green peas and potatoes, green beans, cucumbers, carrots and lettuce, and then cholera morbus will get us. But, he who survives until autumn arrives can have his peach pies along with the confounded, pesky flies."

Then just to go him one better, the junior reporter of this g. f. j. has worked off the following spasm:

"Original or stolen, peach buds are swollen, and bloom will soon cover the trees; then will follow cherries, and lovely blackberries and the hum of industrious bees. To offset the fruit and the red radish root, the chigger will lie at its ease, and the housekeeping flies will complete this rude rhyme, while Rover sits digging his fleas."

A SUCCESSFUL MINER

A Girl Klondiker is Over a Million Ahead.

Jewett City, Ct., March 15.—News has reached here from Los Angeles that Marie Reidsville, of this place, has just disposed of two claims at Cape Nome, Alaska, for $1,000,000. Miss Reidsville gained considerable fame when the Klondike boom started by starting for that place alone. At various times, it has been reported that she has cleared up $1,000,000 through her operations there.

It is probable that Miss Reidsville will return soon to her farm just east of here

"Lord Barrington" to Hang.

St. Louis, Mo., March 15.—After a life of crime beginning with boyhood, "Lord Barrington," society highwayman, resourceful crook, bigamist, forger and murderer, will pay the penalty of his last crime on the scaffold tomorrow. While "Barrington," otherwise F. G. Burton, could deceive softhearted clergymen and women and could forge pardons, he reached the end when he murdered James McCain, a St. Louis saloonkeeper, eighteen months ago.

"Barrington" tried suicide when he learned that the Supreme Court upheld the verdict against him, but the authorities frustrated the attempt.

Chgs to the Army.

St. Petersburg, March 15.—The Empress received today the most remarkable of all warriors sent to fight the Japanese, Helen Smolko. This young woman joined Mistchenko's Cossacks shortly after the outbreak of war. She made no attempt to conceal her sex, and gained her privileged position by the fact that she could speak Chinese fluently.

The Empress wished to adopt her as a ward of the state, but she insists on rejoining the army.

Committee on Election Laws.

Ottawa, March 15.—Little time apparently will be lost over the appointment of a committee of the House to investigate the election laws. Hon. Mr. Fitzpatrick, Minister of Justice, gives notice that he will move for the appointment of a special committee composed of Messrs. Aylesworth, Greenway, Sproule, Ingram and Fitzpatrick to enquire into the working of the Elections Act and the practice and procedure in connection with election petitions and to consider what changes are desirable therein.

Woman's Trials.

The bitter trail in a woman's life is to be childless. Who can tell how hard the struggle may have been ere she learnt to resign herself to her lonely lot? The absence of this link to bind marital life together, the absence of this one pledge to mutual affection is a common disappointment. Many unfortunate couples become estranged thereby. Even if they do not drift apart, one may read the whole extent of their disappointment in the eyes of such a childless couple when they rest on the children of others. To them the largest family does not seem too numerous.

In many cases of barrenness or childlessness the obstacle to child-bearing is easily removed by the cure of weakness on the part of the woman. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been the means of restoring health and fruitfulness to many a barren woman, to the great joy of the household. In other, but rare cases, the obstruction to the bearing of children has been found to be of a surgical character, but easily removable by painless operative treatment at the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., over which Dr. Pierce of the "Favorite Prescription" fame presides. In all cases where children are desired and are absent, an effort should be made to find out the real cause, since [illegible] generally so easily removed by proper treatment.

For the various weaknesses, displacements, prolapsus, inflammation and debility, catarrhal drains and in all cases of nervousness and debility, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the most efficient remedy that can possibly be used. It has to its credit hundreds of thousands of cures—more in fact than any other remedy put up for sale through druggists, especially for woman's use. The ingredients of which the "Favorite Prescription" is composed have received the most positive endorsement from the leading medical writers on Materia Medica of all the several schools of practice. All the ingredients are printed on plain English on the wrapper enclosing the bottle, so that any woman making use of this famous medicine may know exactly what she is taking. Dr. Pierce takes his patients into his full confidence, which he can afford to do as the formula after which the "Favorite Prescription" is made will bear the most careful examination.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the best and safest laxative for women.

PAR VALUE OF SHARES $1.00 EACH.

The Directors of this Company have decided to offer a limited number of shares for sale at par, to subscribers who make application before March 20th. This Company capitalized at only $300,000. The property which it is intended to operate and on which a considerable amount of development work is done, is situated on Cross Lake, and is known as the McChesney property. It adjoins the Watt property, on which is a paying mine, and is in close proximity to other paying properties. It is the opinion of experts that this is one of the best properties in the district. Assays of ore from the property went over $700 to the ton. The Directors reserve the right to allot a smaller amount of shares than the amount applied for. ## Knocked Senseless for Keeping the Law

Joseph Lundy Jr., Because Refused Whiskey on Saturday Night Hits Proprietor of Queen's Hotel with Three-Pound Rock.

A terrible affair took place at 9.30 Saturday night, whereby a local hotelkeeper was knocked senseless by a blow on the forehead with a rock thrown by a man to whom he refused to sell whiskey.

The story of the trouble originated in the determined efforts of Joseph Lundy jr., to procure whiskey. It seems that Lundy about 8.30 Saturday night entered the front door of the Queen's Hotel, and seeing Mr. M. C. Tooley seated reading in the sitting room, asked the latter to sell him a bottle of whiskey. Mr. Tooley, as it was long after legitimate hours returned to supply the whiskey. On being refused, Lundy, who was somewhat under the influence of liquor, became very abusive, calling Tooley be one name that no man will stand for, using other insulting and blasphemous language. Mr. Tooley then ordered him up save the hotel at once, and as Lundy would not leave, took him by the shoulders and shoved him outside the door.

When Lundy was put out, Mr. Tooley had to wait downstairs for his little boy whom he had sent up to show a newly registered guest his bedroom.

As he waited in the hall for the lad to come down, Lundy opened the front door a second time and coming in, once more called Tooley a vile name, and suddenly, throwing up his right hand which grasped a large stone, threw it at the hotelman with full force. The missile, which is an oval shaped, smooth, chunk of limestone, about three by two inches in size and weighing about three pounds, struck Mr. Tooley on the forehead just above the left eye.

As soon as Tooley was struck he staggered back and partly fell against the balustrade being completely dazed for some minutes. The blood poured over his face and clothing and the floor in torrents. Several of the boarders carried the injured man upstairs to one of the parlors and laid him on a sofa. During this time Lundy left the house.

Dr. Bradd was immediately telephoned for and arrived in a few minutes. On arrival he discovered, as far as could then be ascertained, that the skull was not fractured, but the wound, about two and a half inches long, required four stitches.

P. C. Stewart was also telephoned for, and arrived about the same time Dr. Bradd got to the hotel. He at once went in search of Lundy, not waiting for the observance of any say "warrant" formalities, fearing at that time, that the case in question, might turn out a second edition of the recent Hudson trouble. The officer found Lundy upstairs in his father's house on Aylmer street, and putting him under arrest, took him to the station.

P. C. Stewart as soon as he had his prisoner safely locked up, returned to the hotel, and procured a list of witnesses' names.

Enquiries made at a late hour last night proved that Mr. Tooley is doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances. As the swelling is still considerable, it is impossible to be absolutely sure whether the skull is fractured or not, but it is expected and hoped that such is not the case. Had this heavy rock struck Mr. Tooley fairly on the temple it would have killed him as certainly as a rifle ball.

Great indignation was expressed yesterday, when the news got abroad that a man should have his life jeopardized for keeping the law by refusing to sell during illegal hours. The case will be brought up at this morning's court, how it is altogether unlikely that Mr. Tooley will be able to appear.

SCARED BY COWS

American Tourist Discovered Peculiar Style of Heifer.

As a few local citizens were enjoying a social glass last Saturday afternoon in the Snowden House, the conversation ran along the line of hunting and fishing episodes.

One of those present who for several years has, during the summer season, acted as guide to American tourists and fishermen, told a good story about a former patron.

This particular American, who was in mortal dread of a bull, was out him on Oliver Lake one day last summer. To quote the local guide's story:

"When we were flying for bass he said he wanted to go ashore so I rowed him up and he went off into the woods. Pretty soon he come tearing down to the boat, hollering for help at the top of his voice, so you would have thought there was a big ole bear after him, and I jumped up and asked him what was the trouble. He said;

"'There's a lot of cattle coming this way.'

"I knew it was a parcel of young stock, belonging to a Dummer farmer, so I says to him;

"'You needn't be scared of them; they're nothing but a lot of heifers.'

"'And what do you suppose he said? He says to me, and this is the Lord's truth.

"'How do you know they ain't bull heifers?'"

Silver Wedding Celebration.

On Friday evening a very happy time was spent at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. G. S. McKee, 782 Water street, when a large number of their friends, in recognition of it being the 25th anniversary of their wedding. They presented Mr. and Mrs. McKee with a beautiful silver nut bowl, suitably engraved, accompanied by a silver sugar bowl and cream pitcher. Mr. McKee, not to be behind his friends, had a surprise for his bride of a quarter of a century ago, and presented her with a handsome pearl brooch. A very pleasant evening, in which sincere congratulations predominated, was spent by all present.

DROPS THE FIGHT

As is known by our readers, there has been a keen competition between the Canadian Fire Engine Co., of London and the Waterous Engine Co., of Brantford, over securing Peterboro's order for a new fire engine.

As noted in a former issue, the Waterous Co. secured the order.

Mr. G. T. Pritchard, representing the Canadian Co., came here, post haste, Friday night, to investigate the reason why his company did not get his coveted order, as he considers he and his firm have no had a square deal in the matter.

On Friday night Mr. Pritchard called upon City Clerk Arms and Mayor Beal and one or two of the aldermen, and intimated that if he did not get a square deal he would fight the thing to a finish, retaining the services of Mr. O'Connell.

On Saturday morning, Mr. Pritchard again called upon Mayor Beal and the mayor promised him that if the records would open it a fair hearing. Several members of the council also stated they were willing to reconsider the decision if there was a petition from the citizens, asking that there be a public test made of the city before a committee of experts, previous to definitely placing the order.

A petition to this effect was actually circulated among the local business men, but we understand that Mr. Pritchard has decided to withdraw from the fire engine contest. He is still of the opinion that he was not accorded fair treatment.

No Right to Bequeath Body.

Cincinnati, March 17.—A man's body, when he dies, belongs to his next of kin, and he cannot give it to another, according to a decision handed down by Judge S. W. Smith today. The case was brought by a sister of Dr. N. T. Tanski, who hurried here from Pittsburg to prevent the cremation of her brother's body. Mrs. J. K. P. Bigger claimed the body on the ground that Dr. Tanski, before his death, had instructed her to have it created.

MR KELLY GONE

One of Peterboro's Most Respected Citizens Passes Away.

By the lamented death of Alderman Thomas Kelly, on Saturday afternoon at his home, 352 Simcoe street, Peterboro loses a gentleman whose loss will be sorely felt.

It has been known for some time that the late Mr. Kelly has been in failing health, following on a severe cold contracted a few months ago, so that his death was not unexpected as he had been growing gradually weaker during the past few days. On Saturday he took a turn for the worse and never rallied.

Mr. Kelly, has several times with honor to himself, and gain to the city as a member of the council. He was a member of the C.M.B.A. and St. Peter's T.A.S., and took an active interest in the affairs of both organizations.

Mr. Kelly, who was 63 years of age, is survived by a wife, three sons, Rev. Father Kelly, Thos. and Egbert, and six daughters, May, Susan, Matilda, Hilda, Loretta and Annie.

Mr. Kelly was engaged in the dry goods business on George street for some years, and during the last few years had been engaged on the Front Valley Canal clerical staff.

Immediately prior to his death, Mr. Kelly was in charge of the office department of the Point St. Charles Lumber mills.

The funeral will be held this morning from the late residence of the deceased at nine o'clock, and will proceed to St. Peter's cathedral and thence to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

ARRESTED FOR THEFT

Edward Greer Behind the Bars Accused of Stealing $30.

On Saturday afternoon a man recently arrived amid the gaieties of city life after a prolonged sojourn in the wild woods of northern Peterboro, was hailed to the grim interior of the Hotel des Cops.

It is alleged that Edward Greer, last fall stole the sum of $30 in money and a watch from Mr. Sheehan of Peterboro's Brooklyn.

Immediately after these goods were stolen, Greer, literally speaking "Took to the woods," he has been employed all winter in a lumber camp of the Dickson Co., about 40 miles from Buckhorn. Acting Chief of Police Adams, learning that Greer had arrived in the city, went out as a scouting party of one and located his man in a local hotel. Greer will be "On the carpet" this morning.

Successful Services.

Three most successful services are reported from Bethany Tabernacle yesterday. The crowds grew until at night the church was more than filled. Mr Stephens, brother of the evangelist, spoke at each meeting, and gave the story of his recent conversion. He is a plain, forceful speaker and made a deep impression. Not less than 35 persons about half of them adults, professed conversion during the day. The interest is intense, and the evening service lasted till after ten o'clock. The evangelists leave tonight, but the meetings will be continued every night this week. Tonight there will be a service of song and testimony with a short address by the pastor on "Jesus on Trial." He desires a hundred witnesses to tell of Him.

Two Thousand for an Eye.

Hamilton, March 17.—Daniel Allen, a mechanic, who sued the Sawyer-Massey Company for $5,000 damages for the loss of his left eye, was awarded $2,000 by a jury at the Hamilton assizes yesterday afternoon.

The Last British Garrison.

Victoria, B. C., March 17.—The last British garrison in Canada will be withdrawn in May. The Canadian garrison has been directed to march in when their comrades of the British force vacate.

TO RUSSIA FROM CANADA BY RAIL

The Attitude of Czar Towards Dazzling Scheme More Favorable.

AMERICANS WILL BUILD IT

Proposed Road to Be Three Thousand Miles in Length.

St. Petersburg, March 17. — A more favorable attitude is being taken here toward the dazzling scheme for a tunnel under Bering Strait and an all-rail route from the United States to Europe. Baron Loicq de Tosal, representing the American Trans-Alaska-Siberian Company, is again pressing the project vigorously, and has made considerable progress toward securing a desired concession from Russia. A distinct party of the government, which has the sympathy of Premier Witte, earnestly favors closer commercial relations between the United States and Russia, and thus project appeals to it, not only as a method for accomplishing this end, but for developing the resources of Siberia.

The company, which believes the Siberian side is as rich in gold as the Alaskan side, offers to construct the tunnel and build a road 9,000 miles in length from East Cape to Kansk, in the government of Yenisesk, where it will join the Siberian Railroad, on condition that alternate sections of eight miles on either side of the line, together with the mining concessions covered be granted the company.

Reports concerning the engineering difficulties and the submitted responsibility of the promoters, etc., have been submitted and were generally favorably received by the minister. Emperor Nicholas has created a mixed commission before which Baron de Lobel will make a final argument, and ask for eighteen months in which to complete arrangements and ten years to finish the road. Should Russia, for strategic reasons, ask that the road, instead of following the Lena River, go directly eastward from Kansk to the point whence connection will be made with Khabarovska involving a detour of 1,200 miles, the company is willing to accept the line providing the materials be admitted free.

Generally speaking the activity of Americans in seeking to secure concessions has aroused the ire of the radical papers, which see therein an attempt on the part of the old bureaucracy to "sell Russia to foreigners on the eve of the convocation of the Duma."

Wendell Jackson's canal scheme to connect the Black and the Baltic Seas, which is an old project originally proposed for purely strategic reasons in order to enable Russia to move warships quickly to the two sea fronts, is now a purely commercial scheme. The depth of the tunnel is to be 16 feet. Supplementary surveys, Mr. Jackson has obtained the right to make, give him the preference in the matter of the contract for construction, but the government reserves the right to give the contract to Russians, in which case Mr. Jackson is to be indemnified in the sum of $100,000.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the perfumed, not of "Araby the Blest," arose shortly before 10 a.m as the usual crowd, in unusual numbers, tramped upstairs into the court room.

The first business transacted was the disposal of the liquor cases of Cavanagh and Allen, charged by "Detectives" Dandino and Cochran with respectively selling liquor last Saturday, in contravention of the Liquor License Act, and in both of which the Magistrate had reserved judgment.

The Magistrate noted that in the Allen case there was no evidence to make a conviction. "Detective" Cochran swore that two men he identified had drank with him. Against the "detective's" evidence was that of two young men, evidently respectable, and who both swore that they had neither had any drink with Cochran, as alleged by him, nor had they seen any one else drink. One point that, in the Magistrate's mind, strengthened the credibility of the young men, was that one of them was not a drinking man, in fact the young man had been in a bedroom where there was a bottle of whisky and did not take any. The case was not proven and hence dismissed.

In the Cavanagh case there was the evidence of both Dandino and Cochran that they had purchased liquor in the Cavanagh House. As Cochran's evidence in the Allen case had been impeached, he would not consider Cochran's evidence at all. Dandino had sworn to getting drinks at certain hours, of which he had taken note as to the exact time and particulars. The number of drinks sworn to by Dandino, as having been taken by him, Cochran, did not agree with what the latter said, and as both Mr. Cavanagh and his two sons had sworn exactly contrary to the testimony of the "detectives," he could do nothing but discharge this case also.

The next case called was that of a small boy named Howard Innes, who was charged with being disorderly in a public place on the 16th of March. Ernest Taylor was called, but was not present. John Hayes, another witness, was also called, but was not present.

The diminutive prisoner, who pleaded guilty, when asked by the Magistrate how the trouble arose, explained he had hit a boy who had torn some papers belonging to another boy.

The Magistrate told him to go home and learn to mind his own business, and behave himself, that the police could look after protecting the public.

ADMITTED TO BAIL.

Mr. McWilliams brought up the matter of S. Bradburn, who was committed for trial by the higher court on the charge of abduction of Lottie Sullivan.

The defendant was taken before Judge Weller, in Judges Chambers, at 11 a.m., and, through Mr. McWilliams, elected to be tried by the judge without jury under the "Speedy Trials' Act." Judge Weller then set the 28th of March as the date for trial.

The defendant was admitted to bail, Mr. R. E. Wood appeared for the Crown, while Mr. McWilliams again acted for Bradburn.

Milk in Powder Form.

Ithaca, N.Y., March 17.—After experiments in his chemical laboratory for over a year, Professor G. W. Cavanaugh, of Cornell, has discovered a process whereby he is able to extract material from the watery part of milk. His solution of the problem is of great practical value. Milk will soon be distributed to the public in powder form.

JAPAN AIMING TO CONQUER

Russian General Says Japs Consider War Unfinished and are Preparing

St. Petersburg, March 19 — General Grodekoff's order excluding Japanese from Russian Manchuria, and beginning the distribution of land among disbanded troops, whose families are helped by the Government to emigrate to Manchuria, and the fact that many officers are despatched to Vladivostok daily, indicate that the situation in the Far East is considered unsafe. One general, who recently returned from Manchuria, said:

"Despite official and diplomatic declarations at Tokio, we believe the Japanese consider the war unfinished, and that they will seize the occasion to conquer Amur region from Harbin to Lake Baikal. Their military force in Manchuria has been strengthened and officers allow no one to visit their headquarters. Even Englishmen are excluded. The disorganized state of the army on the Siberian frontier favors the plans of the Japanese."

SISTER PRAYED BROTHER SAVED

Pathetic Scene in a Winnipeg Court Room.

Winnipeg, Man., March 17.—"O God, save my brother. Thou knowest that I have come 400 miles to save him. Sister in Heaven, pray for him. I have been a faithful Christian woman. O God, hear the prayer of thy servant."

The scene was in the Assize Court yesterday afternoon, during the trial of John E. Clay, for the murder of William Cooper, both negroes, in the Zimmerman block in last December.

The voice of Clay's sister rose upon hushed air of the crowded court room, and the spectators, after a start of surprise, averted their faces. The jury had retired to consider its verdict, and the man whose life was at stake bowed his head against the rail, while Mrs. Saunders, who had come from St. Paul to be with him in his hour of sorest need, huddled close against the front of the dock in an attitude of supplication. Oblivious of her surroundings, in full camp-meeting voice, she wrestled for her brother's life.

The faithful sister prayed, so her words revealed, as she had never prayed before, and before ten minutes of awful tension were concluded she had asked the Divine benediction upon the prisoner, herself, the Crown, the prisoner's friends, Judge, the jury and all mankind. At last she triumphantly assured her brother that the Lord had granted her prayer, and was loudly exhorting him to pray for himself when Sheriff Inkster soothingly touched her on the arm and told her she must not.

Two hours afterward the jury returned a verdict of manslaughter, letting Clay off with his life.

Johann Most Dies Suddenly.

Cincinnati, March 17.—Herr Johann Most died today from erysipelas. He came to this city on Monday, on the invitation of friends, and has been the guest of Adolph Kraus of Cutler street.

He was to have delivered a lecture in Chicago on Wednesday night, but on account of an attack of erysipelas he was obliged to cancel his engagement, although the attack was not regarded as serious.

Up to a few hours before Most's death his physician expressed confidence that the patient would recover.

At least forty professional baseball leagues will start out this spring, giving employment to 5,000 ball players at a round salary for the season of $3,000,000.

BROKE HER CHAINS

She Wore Them for 30 Years But is Now a Free Woman.

A remarkable lady of Ia., says that she was a regular coffee drinker for 30 years, although convinced that the habit was the cause of her increasing nervousness, she was loath to give it up.

"I became so nervous," she says, "that when I had callers it would excite my nerves so that I would sit and cry for an hour or more after they had gone. I could not even go up town to do a little shopping with any comfort, and I would often get all ready and then take off my hat and stay at home and have a crying spell.

"I began drinking Postum Food Coffee about a year ago, giving up the old kind entirely. From the beginning my health showed improvement and soon I became hearty and strong, free from bodily discomfort with a tranquil spirit and so remain to this day. And I owe it all to the use of Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Campaign at Ottawa in Regard to Proposed Lord's Day Legislation Is Waxing Vigorous.

Ottawa, March 17.—The following only reply that needs to be made to [illegible] circular letter has been made to the senators and members of Parliament:

Toronto, March 8, 1906.

"Dear Sir,—You have probably received 'An Appeal to the Christian People of Canada,' issued by the so-called 'International Religious Liberty Association,' in opposition to our proposed Sunday law. It is well that you should know that all such literature emanates from the Seventh Day Adventists. The W. H. Thurston whose name is given as 'Dominion superintendent' at Ottawa, is Rev. W. H. Thurston, pastor of the little Seventh Day Adventist Church there. Eugene Leland, who signs himself 'secretary,' is the head of their school at Lorne Park, Ont. A. O. Burrill, Galt, Ont; William Guthrie, Williamsdale, N.S., and H. E. Rickard, Pitch Bay, Que., are also reverends in charge of several Day Adventist institutions. Any omit the 'Rev.' from their names in their religious liberty appeals to give the impression that it is a lay movement.

"Almost all the leaders of this body are Americans, who have been sent over to evangelize Canada by the American Seventh Day Adventist Church. The whole number of their communicants in the Dominion, as stated in their own year book, is under 1400.

"The Canadian Publishing Association,' Toronto Junction, is simply the Seventh Day Adventist printing press. They sometimes also take the name of the 'Ontario Tract Society,' the 'Winnipeg Tract Society,' etc., as may suit their purpose. Literature reaching you from any of these sources, as also certain petitions to Parliament headed 'Religious Liberty,' are simply Seventh Day Adventist campaign material.

"I think the above statement is the truth, and I remain, yours truly, (Signed) J. G. Shearer, T. Albert Moore."

Though the petition of the Jews and Seventh Day Adventists presented to Parliament the other day was large, those now daily joining in pressing for the proposed Lord's Day Act will outnumber it many times over. They were circulated by the Lord's Day Alliance. They contain the names only of women—men of 21 years of age or over. No women are allowed to sign. The adventist petition was signed largely by women and many children. Nearly 100,000 signatures have come in through the alliance office alone, while large numbers of petitions have been sent direct to the house at Ottawa. One of these, presented a few days ago, was signed exclusively by Roman Catholics of the Diocese of St. John, N.B., and presented by Dr. Stockton, M.P. Another was from the Anglicans of the Diocese of Ontario, headed by Bishop Mills, and presented by Hon. William Harty. Others are signed by railway employes and trades and labor men. It is claimed by the alliance that these petitions represent probably 750,000, counting members of the families of signers. It is the largest petition ever presented to the Canadian Parliament.

LOCALS DEFEAT ALL STARS

MONTREAL WANDERERS CARRY OFF THE STANLEY CUP

Two Great Games Played Saturday Night--Peterboro vs. Marlboro's at Toronto, Ottawa's vs. Wanderers of Montreal at Ottawa.

"They can't down our boys," was a common expression and heard everywhere late Saturday night, when the returns of the great game in Mutual street rink began to come in.

Quite a large number of local admirers of the Intermediate champions O.H.A. on the 5.10 C.P.R. train, accompanied the Peterboro team, and right heartily did they cheer as Peterboro again and again forced the disc into the Marlboros' net.

The Mutual street rink was simply jammed with enthusiastic patrons of hockey, and well rewarded they were, as Toronto has never seen a faster or more scientific exhibition of hockey.

It might be noted that this was in a sense an all round championship game, as the Marlboros were champions of last year's senior race.

From start to finish the Peterboro boys were too swift and played too thorough a team game for their doughty opponents.

For the asking, whilst all the boys played too good a game to require personal distinction as to relative merit, it might not be invidious to say that Whitcroft was easily the fastest man on the ice. Referee F. C. Waghorne, of Toronto, refereed the game with satisfaction to all.

At the end of the first half, the game stood 5—1 in favor of Peterboro, and the total, as the final whistle sounded, Peterboro had added one more point, and the Marlboros two, making the game result Peterboro 6, Marlboros 3.

The line-up was as follows:

| Peterboro | | Marlboros |
|---|---|---|
| | Goal. | |
| Wasson. | | Tyner |
| | Point. | |
| Glover | | Gee |
| | Cover-point. | |
| Crowley | | Armstrong |
| | Rover. | |
| Whitcroft | | Young |
| | Center. | |
| Morgan | | Birmingham |
| | Right Wing. | |
| Graham | | Bidgett |
| | Left Wing. | |
| Cavanagh | | Winchester |

Referee—F. C. Waghorne, of Toronto.

The locals and their admirers arrived home by the midnight train last night.

MONTREAL GETS THE CUP.

On Saturday night, in Day's rink, Ottawa, the long-looked for game which was to settle the winners for this season of the Stanley Cup, presented some years ago by Lord Stanley, Governor-General of Canada.

Great excitement was caused by this game, not only in Ottawa and Montreal but all over Canada. A large crowd of Montrealers accompanied their team to Ottawa, and helped to fill the crowded rink.

It will be remembered that in the former game between the Wanderers of Montreal and the Ottawa team, that Montreal won by a score of 9—1. On Saturday night whilst Ottawa won out by a score of 9—3, Montreal carried off the cup by a total of two goals on the round.

HOCKEY.

President D. L. Darroch, of the O. H.A., was handed a few eggs in passing the other night at Barrie by several "gents," observes the London Advertiser. All of which goes to show that Barrie sports are the surest bunch in the country. The difficulty is chiefly that of locality. President Darroch comes from Collingwood, and the natives of Barrie imagine that he is simply just dying to hand it out to them. Whatever may be the explanation the whole business is a sad one, and the rowdies ought to be given justice in full measure.

King Cobalt Mining Company

—LIMITED—

No Personal Liability.

CAPITAL, $300,000

PAR VALUE OF SHARES $1.00 EACH.

The Directors of this Company have decided to offer a limited number of shares for sale at par, to subscribers who make application before March 20th. This Company capitalized at only $300,000. The property which it is intended to operate and on which a considerable amount of development work is done, is situated on Cross Lake, and is known as the McChesney property. It adjoins the Watt property, on which is a paying mine, and is in close proximity to other paying properties. It is the opinion of experts that this is one of the best properties in the district. Assays of ore from the property went over $700 to the ton. The Directors reserve the right to allot a smaller amount of shares than the amount applied for. Applications for stock and all cheques should be made to the Secretary-Treasurer, Medical Council Building, Toronto.

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used-up Condition

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more flesh and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You would scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well.

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

DISQUIETING INSURANCE EVIDENCE.

The evidence given by Mr. Fitzgerald, Superintendent of Insurance, before the Insurance Investigation Commission, has already established the need for further legislation. Mr. Fitzgerald tells us that where he finds that companies have invested the policy holders' money in securities which are not authorized by the law of Canada, he has no power to order them to get rid of these improper securities. Now it is certainly of little use to the policyholders to have Mr. Fitzgerald satisfy his private curiosity as to whether or not the insurance companies are investing their funds as Parliament has thought prudent to direct, if—when he finds that they have ignored the restrictions set in the interests of the policy holders—nothing is to be done about it.

The Montreal Star thinks that if an inspection of insurance companies is to be worth the money it costs, it must be empowered not only to learn all the facts but to compel obedience to the law. Of what value is it to enact that the funds which these companies hold in trust must be invested only in a certain way, if they can defy this enactment with impunity? If Parliament does not desire to vest final authority in such a case in its superintendent, it should certainly vest it in some one who would act promptly and almost automatically on the report of the superintendent. The moment it is discovered that insurance companies are depositing their "trust" funds in unlawful securities, the machinery of the law should be set in motion at once to compel the abandonment of these securities or the closing of the doors of the company. No corporation is big enough in this country to defy the law.

Then there is the question of the salaries of officers. Either it is a piece of impertinence for the Government inspector to enquire into this delicate question at all; or he ought to be empowered to get his questions answered. Parliament is in a peculiarly undignified position in asking through its officers for such information, and then turning away satisfied when the companies flatly refuse to furnish it. If the people have no right to this information, then they should not ask it. If they have a right, then they should get it.

Insurance companies will not do themselves any good, however, by concealing the amounts which their officers draw, or by insisting upon any technical right to invest in securities which the law condemns. If ever there were a corporation which should strive to be, like Caesar's wife, above suspicion, that corporation is an insurance company which asks the people to entrust it with their money to be repaid only after a long term or after death. It is essentially a business of trust. At the worst, the man who does business with insurance people will not be here to defend his claim when it falls due; but must trust to their fair and even generous treatment of his widows and orphans. Under such circumstances, it is bad business to arouse his suspicions by dabbling in securities which Parliament has declared improper or by refusing to tell how much money their chief officers are taking out of the common chest. After the scandalous revelations in New York, it will not do to pretend that the salaries of insurance officials may not have a direct bearing upon the honesty of the company's management or be a proper subject of interest to the world of policy holders.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, viz.: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

stood, his grave, handsome face radiant with emotion

"The general has told me, my little Reine," he said, huskily, "and I can scarcely credit it. I must hear it from your own lips. This great happiness he promises me seems too bright to be real. Is it true, Reine, my little darling, that you will indeed be my wife?"

"I will be your wife if you want me, Mr. Chesleigh," she said simply.

"Want you, Reine!" he repeated. "I want you with all my heart. Words fail me in expressing how much I want you. My great happiness overpowers me. I cannot utter all that is in my heart. I will make you a true and loving husband, Reine. Your will shall be my law. I will surround you with everything love can suggest or money procure. I will devote my life to you. You shall never regret the choice you have made."

He attempted to draw her toward him, but she shrank from his embrace, and he was too true a gentleman to repeat the caress when he saw that it was distasteful to her.

She had promised to be his wife, and he must be content with that for the present. He would do his best to win her love in the golden future. He was grateful that Heaven had rewarded his great patience and devotion by giving him Reine at last.

The news of Reine's engagement to Bernard Chesleigh was received with great satisfaction by all who knew them.

The old servants at Fairlawn were delighted, and declared that affairs were now as they ought to be, and should have been from the very first. The wedding was set for Christmas evening.

Thus matters stood when the crisis of the general's disease came, and from the moment Bernard Chesleigh broke the joyful news to him there was a marked change in the general's condition, and to the surprise of the whole household—even the medical experts themselves—he seemed to take a new lease of life, and in less than a fortnight was considered out of danger, and commenced to regain health and strength rapidly.

"I shall be able to give you away on your bridal eve, my dear," he said, joyously, to Reine one day. "I do not look upon it as losing a daughter, but rather as the gaining of a son of whom I may well feel proud."

Reine's lovely face paled. Did they really mean to hold her to that engagement, made in accordance with her father's wish, and when he believed himself dying, and that she would be alone in the world?

Now that her father had recovered, could she beg of Bernard Chesleigh to give her back her plighted troth?

The general was so much wrapped up in the approaching marriage, and had set his mind so eagerly upon it, that she hadn't the heart to thwart him.

The preparations went on on a magnificent scale.

"It makes me young again to fix up for a wedding," the general declared.

And then he must make the most of that one occasioned, for he had but the one daughter to marry off.

Reine took little interest in the wonderful boxes of finery that came for her. She was marrying to please her father, not for love's sweet sake.

"La mel" whispered one of her maids, confidentially in the servants' hall one day. "You ought to see how little Miss Reine is interested in her wedding clothes. When I took out her lovely white silk dress, all e-sparkle with sowa pearls, and the beautiful veil, she looked at them for just one minute, and then said: 'No doubt they will do very nicely, Meta; put them away out of my sight until they're wanted.'"

"Mr. Chesleigh is such a fine gentleman," assented the housekeeper, "it's ten thousand pities she cares so little for him. That's always the way it is—girls who don't care about them get husbands who fairly adore them."

"It's my opinion," declared the maid, "that she cared altogether too much for that handsome sorcerab that was here last summer. Folks had better be off with the old love before they are on with the new; if they don't it will brew trouble.

And with these prophetic words she whisked out of the room.

Reine was in her own room, a pretty little pink and white affair in the western wing, with her friend, Gertie Traverse, who was in raptures over a magnificent necklace of diamonds which Bernard had just sent up to Reine.

"Oh! they're perfectly lovely!" gasped Gertie, gazing at the sparkling treasures with wistful, longing eyes. "What a lucky girl you are, Reine, to have such a liberal lover. I almost envy you—upon my word I do."

"Envy me—the most miserable creature the smiling earth holds! Oh! if Gertie only knew," she thought, repressing a tremulous sigh.

"Do you know, Reine," her friend went on, with all a young girl's thoughtlessness, "I quite fancied, last summer, that you rather liked our handsome blonde neighbor, Mr. Waldron, of Waldron Towers. By the way, I wonder what took him off so suddenly."

Reine tried to speak, but her voice died away in a gasp.

"When I missed him, I sent over to know if he were ill; and the answer the servant brought back was, that he was called away hurriedly; that he might be back the following week, or perhaps he might remain away long months—his movements were pretty uncertain. Rather uncivil of Mr. Waldron to treat us with such scant courtesy as to leave without even saying good-by," laughed Gertie.

"Did they tell you where he had gone?" inquired Reine, with painful interest.

Gertie shook her curly head, and said:

"No. The thought occurred to me, however that perhaps he went off to get married. In fact, I am very much inclined to think he was wedded long since."

The glittering diamonds, Bernard's gift, fell from her lap to the floor unheeded.

"Why should you think he is married, Gertie?" she asked, faintly. "Tell me why you think that."

"It is only a surmise of mine," smiled Gertie, pleased at her companion's apparent interest in her gossip. "Why, when one of my friends was in New York lately, who should he see entering one of the large dry goods stores but Mr. Waldemar Waldron, with a young and beautiful lady leaning on his arm. He purchased her an elegant plush dolman. Now, that certainly looks as if he was married, doesn't it?"

Reine Hastings rose to her feet with a suppressed cry. She took one step forward, then, without a word of warning, sank down in a dead faint at Gertie's feet.

CHAPTER VIII.

Gertie Traverse did not call one of the maids when Reine sank in a dead faint at her feet, but set about restoring her by laving her face freely with water which was close at hand.

At last she was rewarded by seeing Reine open wide her blue, dazed eyes.

"Are you ill, dear?" she inquired, anxiously. "Or perhaps the room is too warm for you. I did not know you were subject to swooning away like this. You frightened me."

It never once occurred to Gertie that the subject under discussion between them had anything to do with her friend's sudden indisposition.

For long hours after Reine Hastings found herself alone she sat with her hands closely locked together in her lap, gazing steadily into the glaring flames of the wood fire.

Wonders of the Eye.

Viewed as an optical instrument, the human eye may well be called perfect, for it is an apparatus contained in a globe less than an inch in diameter, in which is produced an image practically perfect in form and color and which can be accurately adjusted almost instantly for every distance from five inches to infinity, which is movable in every direction, has an area small enough for the detection of the most minute details and at the same time large enough for the appreciation of large objects, and which enables us to see all shades of color and to estimate distance, solidity, and, to some extent, the consistency of objects, and yet this wonderful instrument, perhaps the most varied in its capabilities of any part of the body, is persistently misused and neglected. Is it any wonder that some day nature resents this treatment and leaves the offenders in total and perpetual blindness?

The Name of China.

We speak of China and the Chinese, little thinking that the natives of the Flowery Kingdom never hear these terms until after leaving the place of their birth or coming in contact with some traveler. They have many names by which they designate themselves and the land which they inhabit, but Chinese and China are not among the number. The most ancient name of China is Tianhai, which signifies "beneath the sky." Since the present ruling house took control of the empire in 1650 the name of Tatsingkwoh has been applied to the kingdom as a whole and Chungkwoh to that portion known to American readers as the Middle Kingdom.

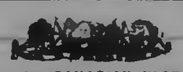
RELIABLE FISCAL AGENT WANTED



SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give SIX months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $30 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15.0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land as $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

New Factory for Cobourg.

The Cobourg Sentinel Star, says; Mr. W. Barstone, formerly of Roseneath, and now of Peterboro, was in town this week. He is putting in a new brick-making plant, the material being composed of marl and lime, the brick being pressed and burned.

"Complicated But Very Simple"

How the glib-tongued and peaceful canvasser talked who sold a catarrh curing implement did rake in the farmers' quarters on Saturday in the market square. Two or three inches of cheap thin rubber tube, with a little piece of glass pipe in each end, "Sold in any drug store gentlemen, for 50 cents," went like hot cakes at two for a quarter. "Gentlemen this splendid machine cannot possibly get out of order as it's the most 'complicated' thing now made."

WILL WE GET IT?

Cobourg Confident Military Camp will be Located There.

The good little, pretty little, sleepy little town of Cobourg, now thinks the proposed military camp for District No. 2, will be located there.

It was proposed to utilize the Rome farm, east of the Kingston Crossing, but the town was unable to rent it. Col. Gordon of Kingston, D. O. C. for this district, was in Cobourg last week and it is alleged, was prepared to close the deal with the town, so that Cobourg would secure the camp for this year. However to his not get the land as yet.

It is now said that 125 acres of good level land have been secured near the town, suitable for the camp. It is alleged that Col. Gordon will recommend Cobourg for this year's camp.

—St. Patrick's Day was celebrated by special services in St. Peter's cathedral. Whilst a great many wore the green emblems of Erin, the day was characterized by universal sobriety, not even one loyal son of the "Old Sod," being seen any the worse over libations customary all over the world on "The 17th."

—Pat Wheeler, who bears the earmarks of a "vag," (very affable gentleman) and who, by self invitation spent Saturday night in the Hotel des Ons, honored them with his custom again last night. Pat will find if this thing get chronic, he may be accommodated with a six-months' order on the Central Prison, Toronto.

PETERBORO SHAREHOLDERS

Local Citizens Owning Stock in the Sun Life Assurance Co.

In a list recently published of some of the prominent shareholders in the Sun Life Assurance Co, appear the names of two Peterboro gentlemen. The subscribed capital stock of the company amounts to $700,000, divided into 7,000 shares, or $100 each. Of this amount, however, only $15 per share has been called, making the paid-up capital $105,000.

Out of the total of 7,000 shares, the directors hold 1,189 shares.

The names above mentioned with number of shares owned by each, are Messrs. Charles McGill 137 shares, and J. D. Cotlins 105 shares. Hon. Senator Cox, formerly of this city is credited with 32 shares.

Election of Water Commissioners

In the recently amended Municipal Water Works Act, relating to election of the commissioners, sub-section (d) noting the manner in which elected members shall retire after one or two years' service, the act says, "In case of two members getting an equal number of votes the question of retirement of one or two at the end of the year is in doubt, the question shall be determined "by lot." Now whilst this displays a distinctively sporty disposal of the difficulty, why not bring science to bear? Supply the two members with a deck and a limited number of chips, and throw a little game of "freeze out," would show the advantage of ability over tail-headed luck.

WOLVES ARE PLENTIFUL

These Enemies of Our Deer are Playing Havoc Back North.

Mr. A. Stevenson, Aylmer street, has just returned from an extended business trip in the far northern townships of Galway and Cavendish.

Mr. Stevens reports that the wolves in that part of the country are more plentiful this season than the settlers have seen them for years.

A few days ago as Mr. Stevenson was crossing Round Lake on the ice, he saw innumerable tracks of these animals. Many of the converging tracks led to where he saw the partially devoured carcass of a splendid doe; the wolves had eaten all the front portion of the deer, leaving the hind quarters for a future feast, or from being gorged with other deer they had previously slain.

Two Englishmen drove to the lumber camp. Mr. Stevenson was visiting and asked what had hurt a dog as one had followed them for several miles. When the two had described the animal as a large, long grey haired "dog," it was at once well known to all at the camp, that their "dog," had been a large wolf.

In some parts the wolf tracks are as numerous as those of sheep in a sheepfold.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. A. Wilds, of Havelock, was in the city Saturday.

—Mr. H. C. Thompson, of Orillia, was in the city on business Saturday.

—Mr. Wm. Forrester of Deschenes, Que., is registered at the Snowden House.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Warde are visiting friends in Hamilton for a few days.

—The March number of the Canadian Pharmaceutical Journal says; "Mr. R. Harrison, of Peterboro, is contemplating moving to the Northwest early in the coming spring and embarking in the combined lines of optics and pharmacy."

THE CARPET FACTORY

Things Now Point Towards Peterboro Getting It.

There is every reason for allowing that Peterboro will get the much discussed carpet factory.

Messrs Whitehead, the Canadian representative of Brinton, Limited, Kidderminster, Eng., and Preen, one of the members of the firm, were in the city, for several days last week in reference to a site for the carpet factory. Since the private bill was discussed by the local legislature this week, Messrs. Brinton and Preen have been trying to make some other arrangements for a site in the city.

There is no doubt but what those directly interested in the factory are anxious to locate here.

It is understood that the local capitalists intend to purchase property and present the carpet factory people with a free site. It is also rumored that Hon. George A. Cox, is interesting himself in this matter and will work to secure the factory locating in this city.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Complimentary Reference to Former Assistant Pastor of St. Paul's Church.

In reference to a former Peterboro divine, the Hamilton Times says;

"The congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church has for some time been considering ways and means; to accommodate the increasing church attendance, that comes with these growing times, and after vain efforts to reach a solution of the difficulty by patchwork, has decided to rebuild the church in its entirety. The locality is a growing one, Rev Mr. Wilson is an active and popular pastor, and is having great success in his large field, and the congregation is one whose affairs are carried on zealously and with the utmost harmony. These important factors in a live church, and although the number of millionaires or exceedingly opulent members is limited, no doubts may be felt for its future. We congratulate the pastor and congregation on this new evidence of prosperity and confidence.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mr. G. M. Roger's Nephew Mr. Fairbairn Promoted.

We note that in the list of important changes and promotions of C.P.R. officials recently that a gentleman well known in this city, Mr. J. M. Fairbairn, has succeeded Mr. L. A. Hartzberg as divisional engineer for the Ontario division with headquarters in Toronto.

The changes made in the C.P.R. staff include quite a number of important officials.

The vacancy at the head of the C.P.R. engineer staff, caused by the retirement of Mr. W. F. Tye, engineer-in-chief has been filled by the promotion of Mr. F. P. Gutelius to the position, with present title of assistant chief engineer. Mr. Gutelius will have control of engineering and maintenance of the company's eastern lines.

The elevations of Mr. Gutelius has been followed by several promotions, announced by Mr. D. McNicoll, the efficient vice-president and general manager.

Mr. Hartzberg, who is now divisional engineer for the Ontario division, succeeds Mr. Gutelius as engineer of maintenance of way. His office, like that of Mr. Gutelius will be at the company's headquarters in Montreal.

Mr. Hartzberg will be succeeded by Mr. Fairbairn who goes from the Eastern division to Toronto, as above noted. Mr. Fairbairn's successor is Mr. J. H. Barber, who knows divisional engineer on the Atlantic division with offices in St. John.

These officials promoted whilst all comparatively young men, have earned their advancement by proven capacity, and faithful and energetic service.

CHEAP RATES

Only $3.50 Lets You Accompany the T. V. C. Deputation to Ottawa

It is altogether probable that a very large, as well as representative deputation, will leave from this city on March 28th.

The local Board of Trade has completed arrangements whereby those belonging to, or accompanying, the Trent Valley canal delegation to the Capital, will get return tickets per C.P.R., good for two days for $3.50.

Mr. W. Benton up-town C.P.R. ticket agent has been in Toronto arranging for a similar fare, via Port Hope.

The Board of Trade will probably make known this morning whether Mr. Benton has been successful in getting this priced ticket when they meet this morning.

Bad Stomach Makes Bad Blood.

You can not make sweet butter in a foul, unclean churn. The stomach serves as a churn in which to agitate, work up and disintegrate our food as it is being digested. If it be weak, sluggish and foul the result will be torpid, sluggish liver and bad, impure blood.

The ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are just such as best serve to correct and cure all such derangements. It is made up without a drop of alcohol in its composition; chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine being used instead of the commonly employed alcohol. Now this glycerine is of itself a valuable medicine, instead of a deleterious agent like alcohol, especially in the cure of weak stomach, dyspepsia and the various forms of indigestion. Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennett Medical College, Chicago, says of it:

"In dyspepsia it serves an excellent purpose. . . . It is one of the best manufactured products of the present time in its action upon enfeebled, disordered stomachs especially if there is ulceration or catarrhal gastritis (catarrhal inflammation of stomach). It is a most valuable preparation. Glycerine will relieve many cases of pyrosis (heartburn) and excessive gastric acidity. It is useful in chronic intestinal dyspepsia, especially the flatulent variety, and in certain forms of chronic constipation, stimulating the secretory and excretory functions of the intestinal canal."

When combined, in just the right proportions, with Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, or the extracts of these, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, there can be no doubt of its great efficacy in the cure of all stomach, liver and intestinal disorders and derangements. These several ingredients have the strongest endorsement in all such cases of such eminent medical leaders as Prof. E. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Robert A. Hare, M. D., of Medical Department, University of Pa.; Prof. Lawrence Johnson, M. D., Medical Department, University of New York; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., Hahnemann Medical College, Chicago; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D. and Prof. John King, M. D., Authors of the American Dispensatory, and scores of others among the leading medical men of our land.

Who can doubt the curative virtues of a medicine the ingredients of which have such a professional endorsement?

Constipation cured by Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. One or two a dose.

SIN'S CONSEQUENCES

Innocent Indulgence Often Brings Trouble—Simple Means of Escape.

The consequences of violating physical law are often as unpleasant as the breaking of a moral rule. The innocent indulgence of over-eating brings consequences that amount to real suffering. Indigestion is not natural; it is not right; it should not be. We offer a means of escape in Mi-o-na tablets that is simple and practical.

These simple tablets are composed of such valuable medicinal agents as bismuth subgallate, which is superior to all other remedies for stomach troubles, carium citrate, and tonics and correctives which promote the action of the digestive organs, strengthen the whole digestive tract, and make it possible to eat what you like and when you like.

If you suffer with head aches, indigestion, flatulency, heart burn, dizziness, sleeplessness, back ache, or debility and weakness, begin the use of Mi-o-na at once. Just one tablet out of a 50 cent box before each meal, and you will regain perfect health and strength.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company Ithaca, N. Y.

IN GREAT DREAD OF ASSINATION

Sultan of Turkey Said to Be Near to Death

HAS FEW MONTHS TO LIVE

May Mean a General War When the End Comes.

Constantinople, March 19.—The Sultan of Turkey is reported to be alarmingly ill. He has suffered a recurrence of the attack which almost caused his death a year ago, and the physicians are in constant attendance upon Abdul Hamid. The fear still hovers over the Turkish ruler that his most faithful palace attendants have conspired to kill him, and in his delirium he even accuses the court doctors of trying to bring about his end.

These trepidations of assassination, many physicians not connected with the court say, are likely to result in insanity. For years the Sultan has not dared to venture about without half a dozen bodyguards, who are heavily armed and who will not hesitate to shoot or stab an intruder. For this reason it is extremely difficult to obtain an audience with Abdul. Foreign dignitaries realize the seriousness of the situation and communicate with the Sultan by letter only.

The inquiries of foreign representatives here as to the Sultan's condition are often ignored, and reports of the ruler's condition are given to the outside world by the renegade palace attendants, who are remunerated by the newspaper correspondents at the capital for furnishing information. Latest reports are to the effect that the court physicians have concurred in the opinion that the Sultan will not live many months longer.

The death of the Sultan may be the signal for general rising throughout Turkey, and bring on a general war.

ISOLATION HOSPITAL

Discussed by Joint Meeting of Finance Committee and Board of Trade.

Mr. Eyres occupied the chair last night at a meeting of the joint session of the Board of Health and Finance Committee to consider the question of an isolation hospital for the city. There were present, Aldermen Elliott, Hall, Mason, Hicks, Adams, and Mr. W. Eyres, Dr. McNulty, Dr. Bingham, M.H.O., and Dr. Burnham, representing the Board of Health.

Mr. Eyres explained that the deputation that went to Toronto, failed to see the necessary authorities there. They were told however, that this city had broken the law regarding an isolation hospital too long. From this time forth patients with infectious diseases must be treated at home or the city would lose the Government grant.

Ald. Hicks explained that the hospitals could attend patients provided they were 150 yards away from the hospitals. Ald. Adams said that a cheap building would do, one with five or six beds, and a kitchen.

Dr. Bingham, for the Board of Health, said as the hospitals were almost the only alternative was an isolation hospital. The home treatment would cost the town nothing.

Ald. Elliott brought up the subject of infectious diseases in hotels and boarding houses.

Mr. Eyres said that a majority of the Board of Health were in favor of an isolation hospital.

Mr. Eyres said as only he and Dr. Bingham were present (at that stage of the meeting) as representing the Board of Health, that although they wanted to roll the burden on the shoulders of the Council, he would call a meeting of the Board as soon as possible.

Ald. Adams explained that the hospital would have to be 450 feet away from any other building.

The question of having the new hospital near either the Nicholls or St. Joseph's hospitals was then considered.

Ald. Hicks recommended that the Board of Health ask for the hospital and the Council could appoint a committee to investigate the style of building, etc. All the Board of Health can do, he added, is to recommend that the hospital be built and the City Council must do the rest.

Mr. Eyres thought it best to consult with Dr. Smith, Toronto, before taking action.

Ald. Mason said Guelph has an isolation hospital ready used when required. It is managed by the local Board of Health. . . patients are sent there it is immediately got in readiness.

Mr. Eyres, in reply to a remark made by Ald. Adams, said that the hospital authorities should be asked what they were prepared to do.

Dr. McNulty thought the Council would be largely guided by the technical knowledge of the Board of Health. He was against going in for anything very elaborate or expensive. Still something should be done to isolate certain classes of diseases. Unfortunately there is a certain amount of jealousy between the two local hospitals, so that a certain amount of tact must be used.

Dr. Bingham moved that a committee composed of Doctors McNulty, Chairman Eyres, and Dr. Bingham, M.H.O., be appointed to confer with the hospital authorities.

Mr. Eyres thought it a good idea of asking Dr. Smith, of Toronto, to submit a plan of a cheap isolation hospital.

Dr. Burnham moved that the secretary of the Board of Health be instructed to write Dr. Smith asking him to send plans for a cheap isolation hospital.—Carried.

The committee appointed to confer with the hospital authorities, will arrange for a meeting this morning, which will probably be held this evening.

The meeting then adjourned.

ALD. KELLY'S FUNERAL

City Councillors and Very Many Personal Friends Attend.

Yesterday morning the last mortal remains of the late Mr. Thos. Kelly, alderman of Peterboro, and one of the most generally respected residents of this city, were laid to rest in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The members of the City Council and the city officials were present in a body as were also the members of the C.M.B.A. and T.A.S., of which societies the deceased was a member. Mass was sung by Rev. Father Kelly, Rev. Dr. O'Brien was deacon, and Rev. Father O'Sullivan, of Young's Point sub-deacon. His Lordship, Bishop O'Connor, was present at the sanctuary.

Floral tributes were sent from; the City Council, a beautiful floral lyre; C.M.B.A., wreath; manager and staff of Bank of Toronto, wreath; Peter Simons and family, cross; Miss Main, spray; J. R. Stratton, anchor, and others.

The pall-bearers were;

John Kelly, H. LeBrun, Jas. Dolan, C.M.B.A.; John O'Brien, Ed. O'Brien, Jas. O'Brien, T.A.S.

Visiting priests were; Rev. Father Phalen, Young's Point; Rev. Father O'Sullivan, Lindsay.

A special meeting of the City Council was held yesterday morning, when Ald. Hicks, Adams, McWilliams, Tovey, Mason, Elliott, Johnston, Hall, Graham and McIntyre were present.

The following resolution of condolence was passed;

Moved by Ald. McWilliams, seconded by Ald. Johnston, — "That the Council has learned of the death of Aldermar Thomas Kelly, a member of the Council, with deep regret and wishes to place on record the keen sense of loss that is felt by themembers. Although Alderman Kelly was only able since his election to attend a very few meetings, he was in previous years, given long, faithful and able services in the interests of the community, and his return after an absence of some years, to a seat in the Council chamber, where he had done such good service, was highly appreciated by us, and by the people of the city. We know that in expressing our profound sorrow on account of his lamented death, we are voicing the feelings of the whole community, when it was learned that he had passed away, for he was not only valued in the public capacity, but as a man his fidelity, integrity and largeheartedness won him the esteem of the community and the affection of those who had the privilege of closer acquaintanceship with him. To Mrs. Kelly and the other members of his family, who mourn the loss of a husband and father who was tender and true, we desire to express our heartfelt sympathy and to assure them that they have in their great bereavement the sympathy of the whole community.

In the death of the late Mr. Kelly the city loses a good citizen, the Council loses a most estimable member, and the family loses a good, kind father.

HOUSE OF REFUGE

A Correspondent Gives His Views as to Proposed Location.

(To the Editor of The Times.)

Sir,—Your Lakefield correspondent seems greatly troubled because "Ratepayer" and "Douro Ratepayer" have withheld their names from the public.

Now, as your correspondent presumes to speak for the people of Lakefield, as to the site for the house of refuge, he should tell us his name. If he is the gentleman I think he is, he could not be elected for a pound-keeper in this village, but the unexpected often happens, and lo and behold, he suddenly shows great legislative ability by getting our local option village council to pass a motion concurring "Douro Ratepayer," and boosting the county councillors. It just remains for him to get this council to pass a motion condemning the British Government for introducing Chinese labor into South Africa, which he can easily do—for if our worthy reeve did not know enough to keep that the first resolution was out of order, he will let the lastgo through—and then he might aspire to be Premier of the Dominion.

The question is asked, "Where does "Ratepayer" want the house of refuge located. His answer is, on the best land that can be purchased, and as near the center of the county as possible. To my mind the Douro site fills all these conditions. Every foot of it is deep rich soil, surface level, with an elevation of about 100 feet above the village, and, if 100 acres were purchased, it would include as good barns as are in the county, and six acres of maple bush, and everlasting spring of water. Good sidewalks for the inmates to attend church, and electric light and telephone connection. This property was offered to the county at the request of the reeve and ex-reeves of Lakefield, and if they from private or personal interests, have changed their minds, is this any reason the county should suffer. Personally, I don't think the owner cares a continental whether his property is selected or not.

This question is a serious matter to the county. The Victoria county house of refuge cost $50,000, and the average annual deficit of the present houses of refuge in each county, and to be yearly provided for, is $4,000, which represents 4 per cent. on $100,000. This means placing a mortgage of $150,000 on our farms for all time to come, unless our county fathers are not careful in selecting a property that will yield receipts to balance expenditure. As a large ratepayer, Mr. Editor, I am justified in looking after the interests of the county, even if I am sneered at by your correspondent.

Yours truly,
RATEPAYER.

Lakefield, March 17, 1906.

BREATHE HEALING BALSAMS

Hyomei, the Medicated-Air Catarrh Cure, Endorsed by Physicians

No one should confound Hyomei with the patent medicines that are advertised to cure catarrh. It is as superior to them all as the diamond is more valuable than cheap glass. Their composition is secret, but Hyomei gives its formula to all reputable physicians.

Its base is the famous eucalyptus oil, well known for its antiseptic qualities. This is combined with aromatic and healing gums and balsams, making a pure liquid which, when used in the Hyomei pocket inhaler fills the air you breathe with germ killing disease destroying and healing powers that restore health to every part of the throat, nose and lungs.

Hyomei is endorsed by physicians generally. Many of them use it themselves to break up a cold and prevent pneumonia. It is the only natural and rational way of curing catarrh.

Would it be a common sense treatment to try and cure a corn by stomach dosing? Is it not just as foolish to try and cure catarrh of the head and throat by swallowing tablets or liquids? The only natural way to cure this disease and all diseases of the respiratory organs is to breathe Hyomei.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

MR. MILLER'S DEATH

Former Resident of This City, an Able Journalist Passes Away.

The many friends of Mr. John Miller, son of the late James Miller, one time warden of Otonabee, will be grieved to hear that this bright and promising journalist has passed away.

Mr. Miller, whom his old-time canoeing friends and others, will affectionately remembered as "Jack," died in Calgary of tuberculosis, after a lingering illness of years a married member of the Mail and Empire staff. He subsequently joined the News staff, and remained with that paper until failing health obliged him to give up newspaper work, about three years ago. He had been living in Calgary for the past three years.

Mr. Miller was a graduate of Queen's University, Kingston, and was highly esteemed by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. He was a great traveler, having made three pilgrimages to the Holy Land, Egypt and Monocco, besides repeat visits to Great Britain, France and Switzerland. Mr. Miller was an enthusiastic canoeist, and in his well-known craft, "Micawber," made many long trips, chief among them being one down the St. Lawrence, from Montreal to Quebec, up the Richelieu, and down the Saguenay. He was also well acquainted with the bay of Quinte, and paid several visits to the New Ontario district. Mr. Miller was a clear, forcible writer, deeply read, and a charming companion. He also interested himself in private philanthropy to a large degree. He was born at Keene, near Peterboro, and the remains will in all probability be brought east for burial.

MRS. TAYLOR'S DEATH

Respected Lady of Bridgenorth Passes Away.

Yesterday morning a well-known and universally respected resident of Bridgenorth, in the person of Mrs. Nathar Taylor, passed away. The deceased, who had only been ill a few days, was fifty-two years of age. Her death was due to pneumonia.

Mrs. Taylor had recently been attending her sister, Mrs. Powell, of this city who has been afflicted with the same disease.

Deceased's maiden name was Mary Helen Bond, and until her marriage to Mr. Taylor a few years ago had always lived in Cobourg. She is survived by two brothers, Messrs. Geo. and John Bond of Cobourg, and one sister, Mrs. Gen Powell of Peterboro.

The funeral will take place this afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from her late residence to the G.T.R. station, Peterboro. The remains will be taken to Cobourg, where the funeral will take place from the residence of Mr. Geo Bond at two o'clock, on Wednesday.

A NEW BOARD OF TRADE

The Village of Warsaw is Now Getting Full Fledged.

The village of Warsaw has recently had several fiscal and economic questions of moment to consider. Among these are the desired location of a bank there, and a proposition to have the G.T.R. extend their line from Lakefield to that place.

It was decided that a board of trade should be organized, and the following officers were elected;

Pres.—E. Hawthorne.
Vice-Pres.—A. F. Choate.
Sec.—Dr. Douglas.
Treas.—J. W. Lynn.

An executive committee was appointed. A large number paid the membership fee. The gathering dispersed to meet again on Tuesday, Mar. 20, at 7.30 p.m.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday was quite a day at the dispensary of city justice. The "Unwashed Willies" and "Morbid Minded Men" bargues completely filled the rear of the court room, with straining necks and eager eyes and ears, trying to absorb the proceedings.

Edward Greer was charged with having stolen from John Sheehan on Nov. 4th, a gold-filled watch and about $20 in cash. As Sheehan's back in the woods the prosecution had the case enlarged until next Monday.

Charles Clark was charged with having stolen from Arch. R. Kidd, some clothing, blankets, carpets. H. Haymond was charged with having stolen the same goods. His Worship suggested that they be charged conjointly as they are each charged with stealing the same goods on the same day. The men who are regular soldiers, were remanded until the 21st March, the prosecution not having their witnesses ready.

Hector Baker was charged with not properly supporting his family, although an able-bodied man able to work.

Mr. F. W. Miller, who laid the information explained that Baker's family had been supported by town charity and the St. Vincent Paul Society for years. He knew that for years the wife, Mrs. Baker, has got charity from the Charity Board. Baker is a bricklayer, who makes good wages in the summer. He is able to support his family. Baker has often been before the court before for being drunk. The family has got aid from the Charity Board this year. Knows of no reason why Baker should not support his family. Baker's name has been posted in the local hotels, to prevent his obtaining liquor.

Here his Worship asked Mr. Miller, "Are there any stocks in Peterboro, because if there were this would be a fitting case for their use!"

W. J. Devlin was called as a witness but was absent at Mrs. Kelly's funeral.

Matthew Edwards, has only known prisoner a few months, and is prisoner, had done some work for Mr. Bethill, the coe dealer. If Mrs. Baker has obtained assistance from his house he was not aware of it, as he does not watch his neighbors nor is about the house much.

Baker then went into the box and said he was where he could get earn money, "On the hills" last fall for wages per month. He left all his money last summer to buy medicine for his wife. What money he has earned since he took home to his wife, and did not spend it for whiskey.

The Magistrate said, "You should be ashamed to ask people to support your wife and children. I'll let you go this time, but if you come before me again, on a similar charge, I will send you to the Central Prison.

Joseph Lundy, jr., was charged with having, on 17th March, attempted to obtain liquor during prohibited hours. Lundy said, "Well your Worship, if I did ask for a bottle of whiskey, I do not remember it. If I did it must have been in a joke."

Mr. M. C. Tooley, proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, was the first witness.

Mr. R. E. Wood, acted for the prosecution.

Mr. Tooley said that between 9.30 and 9.45 Saturday night, Lundy came into his hotel and asked for a 25-cent flask of whiskey. He did not get it. Lundy was under the influence of liquor. Then Lundy became abusive. He had to use force to put him out. Lundy came back and hit him on the head with a stone.

Here P. C. Miller brought in the stone, whereat the audience tittered when they saw the size of the rock, the size of an infant's head.

Mr. Tooley, in reply to a question by Mr. Wood, said, "Yes, I have a hard head. I came from Tipperary." I make sure that Lundy does not drink in my house as he is abusive."

Another charge of assault was laid against Lundy. The prisoner elected to be tried by the Magistrate.

The Magistrate asked Lundy whether he wished to be tried summarily by him or by a jury. Lundy answered "Could I have this trial post-poned until I see a lawyer?" His Worship told him he would have to plead either guilty or not guilty. "Well," said Lundy, "I will plead guilty if I can get off easier." Laughter from the Weary Willies in the rear. The Magistrate told him the amount of punishment would be compatible with the crime, adding that Mr. Tooley had spoken for him, and asked that he be let off easy.

His Worship then remarked to prisoner, "You are addicted to drink. Your appetite for liquor, this time, has led you into committing a serious crime. You were trying to force Mr. Tooley to supply you with liquor and thus to break the law, sothat he, Tooley, would himself get into trouble if he had given it to you. On the charge of trying to obtain liquor I fine you $10 and costs, to be paid within ten days. On the other charge the sentence of the court is that you be confined in the county jail at hard labor for three months. We cannot make light of so serious a crime. Here the prisoner asked, "Can't you impose a fine, Mr. Dumble," but the Magistrate showed him how he might easily have killed Tooley with a rock that size, thrown at short range."

The Price Paid For Queen's Crown

Awful Oath Taken by Queen Victoria's Grand-Daughter When She Betrayed the Protestant Faith in Order to Become Queen of Spain.

The English mail just to hand discloses that the enemies of the Protestant cause in the city of Toronto, Ont., or England, fear that section of Protestantism which the strengthened with a weapon which Roman Catholic Church insisted upon will aid the downfall of the State Church. If a Princess Ena of Battenberg taking up on her entrance into the Roman Catholic Church. It reads as follows;

I, recognizing as true the Catholic and apostolic faith, do here publicly and authentically every heresy. Especially that to which hitherto I have had the misfortune to belong. I agree with the holy Roman Church, and profess with mouth and heart my belief in the apostolic see, and my adhesion to that faith which the holy Roman Church, by evangelical and apostolical authority, delivers to be held. Swearing this by the sacred Homoousian, or trinity of the same substance, and by holy gospels of Christ. I do pronounce those worthy of eternal Anathema who oppose this faith with their dogmas and their followers, and should I myself at any time presume to approve or proclaim anything contrary hereto, I will subject myself to the severity of the canon law. So help me God, and these His holy gospels.

That King Edward as the official head of the Church of England should have consented to the niece saying such a prize for the attainment of a Queen's title, seems beyond comprehension. Is there any wonder that the Protestants of the Empire are filled, and an operation was performed a short time ago, but she never fully recovered, and passed away yesterday morning at 10.30 o'clock. Dr. Gray was called, but she had died before his arrival. Her maiden name was Elma Evans, and she was a daughter of Mrs. Ernst Evans. She had six brothers and three sisters, Messrs. Walter, Harry, James, Wallace and George of this city, and Russell, of Niagara Falls, and Mrs. Geo. A. Young and Mrs. P. Alexander, and another sister, who resides in Galt. She leaves a husband and four children. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at two o'clock from the family residence to the Little Lake cemetery.

THE SUGAR COMPANY

Hon. Senator Cox Makes an Offer for Property of the Company.

On Friday next a meeting of the creditors of the Peterboro Sugar Company will be held at the Court House, when the proposition submitted to the liquidator, Ald. Adams by Senator Cox, for the purchase of the property will be considered.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Senator Cox has taken an active interest in the affairs of the English Carpet Company, which is seeking a location here.

Mr. Cox has made an offer for the property to the liquidator and this offer will be considered by the creditors at a meeting, which will be held before Judge Weller.

Mr. Cox's offer is made solely with a view of securing the property to enable the carpet factory to locate here.

DRAMA IN THE COUNTRY

Ennismore T. A. S. Dramatists Present well Rendered Play.

Last Saturday night the Ennismore T.A.S. presented in the Ennismore town hall, the ever popular Irish drama "Eileen Oge." The hall was crowded and the presentation was rendered in a manner that would have reflected credit on professionals.

The presentation was so successful that it was repeated again last night. The members of "The Colleen Bawn" Company drove out and attended the performance last night.

King Cobalt Mining Company

—LIMITED—

No Personal Liability.

CAPITAL, $300,000

PAR VALUE OF SHARES $1.00 EACH.

The Directors of this Company have decided to offer a limited number of shares for sale at par, to subscribers who make application before March 20th. This Company capitalized at only $300,000. The property which it is intended to operate and on which a considerable amount of development work is done, is situated on Cross Lake, and is known as the McChesney property. It adjoins the Watt property, on which is a paying mine, and is in close proximity to other paying properties. It is the opinion of experts that this is one of the best properties in the district. Assays of ore from the property went over $700 to the ton. The Directors reserve the right to allot a smaller amount of shares than the amount applied for. Applications for stock and all cheques should be made to the Secretary-Treasurer, Medical Council Building, Toronto.

The Coffee Debate

The published statements of a number of coffee importers and roasters indicate a "waspy" feeling towards us, for daring to say that coffee is harmful to a percentage of the people.

A frank public discussion of the subject is quite agreeable to us and can certainly do no harm; on the contrary when all the facts on both sides of any question are spread before the people they can thereupon decide and act intelligently.

Give the people plain facts and they will take care of themselves.

We demand facts in this coffee discussion and propose to see that the facts are brought clearly before the people.

A number of coffee importers and roasters have joined a movement to boom coffee and stop the use of Postum Food Coffee and in their newspaper statements undertake to deceive by false assertions.

Their first is that coffee is not harmful.

We assert that one in every three coffee users has some form of incipient or chronic disease; realize for one moment what a terrible menace to a nation of civilized people, when one kind of beverage cripples the energies and health of one-third of the people who use it.

We make the assertion advisedly and suggest that the reader secure his own proof by personal inquiry among coffee users.

Ask your coffee drinking friends if they keep free from any sort of aches and ails. You will be startled at the percentage and will very naturally seek to place the cause of disorder on something aside from coffee, whether food, inherited tendencies or something else.

Go deeper in your search for facts. If your friend admits occasional neuralgia, rheumatism, heart weakness, stomach or bowel trouble, kidney complaint, weak eyes, or approaching nervous prostration, induce him or her to make the experiment of leaving off coffee for 10 days and using Postum Food Coffee, and observe the result. It will startle you and give your friend something to think of. Of course if the person is one of the weak ones and says "I can't quit" you will have discovered one of the slaves of the coffee importer. Treat such kindly, for they seem absolutely powerless to stop the gradual but sure destruction of body and soul.

Nature has a way of destroying a part of the people to make room for the stronger. It is the old law of "the survival of the fittest" at work, and the victims are many.

We repeat the assertion that coffee does harm many people, not all, but an army large enough to appal the investigator and searcher for facts.

The next prevarication of the coffee importers and roasters is their statement that Postum Food Coffee is made of roasted peas, beans or corn, and mixed with a low grade of coffee and that it contains no nourishment.

We have previously offered to wager $100,000.00 with them that their statements are absolutely false.

They have not accepted our wager and they will not.

We will gladly make a present of $25,000.00 to any roaster or importer of old fashioned coffee who will accept that wager.

Free inspection of our factories and methods is made by thousands of people each month and the coffee importers themselves are cordially invited. Both Postum and Grape-Nuts are absolutely pure and made exactly as stated.

The formula of Postum and the analysis made by one of the foremost chemists in Boston has been printed on every package for many years and is absolutely accurate.

Now as to the food value of Postum. It contains the parts of the wheat berry which carry the elemental salts such as lime, iron, potash, silica, etc., etc., used by the life forces to rebuild the cellular tissue, and this is particularly true of the phosphate of potash, also found in Grape-Nuts, which combines in the human body with albumen, and this combination, together with water, rebuilds the worn out gray matter in the delicate nerve centres all over the body, and throughout the brain and solar plexus.

Ordinary coffee stimulates in an unnatural way, but with many people it slowly and surely destroys and does not rebuild this gray substance so vitally important to the well-being of every human being.

These are eternal facts, proven, well authenticated and known to every properly educated physician, chemist and food expert.

Please remember we never say ordinary coffee hurts everyone.

Some people can't it regularly and some strong enough to withstand its attacks, but there is misery and disease in store for the man or woman who persists in its use when nature protests by heart weakness, stomach and bowel troubles, kidney disease, weak eyes, or general nervous prostration. The remedy is obvious. The drug caffeine, contained in all ordinary coffee, must be discontinued absolutely or the disease will continue in spite of any medicine and will grow worse.

It is easy to leave off the old fashioned coffee by adopting Postum Food Coffee, for in it one finds a pleasing hot breakfast or dinner beverage that has the deep seal brown color, changing to a rich golden brown when good cream is added. When boiled long enough (15 minutes) the flavor is not that of rank Rio coffee but very like the milder, smooth and high grade Java, but entirely lacking the drug effect of ordinary coffee.

Anyone suffering from disorders set up by coffee drinking (and there is an extensive variety) can absolutely depend upon some measure of relief by quitting coffee and using Postum Food Coffee.

If the disease has not become too strongly rooted, one can with good reason expect it to disappear entirely in a reasonable time after the active cause of the trouble is removed and the cellular tissue has time to naturally rebuild with the elements furnished by Postum and good food.

It's only just plain old common sense.

Now, with the exact facts before the reader, he or she can decide the wise course, looking to health and the power to do things.

If you have any doubt as to the cause of any ache or ail you may have, remember the far reaching telegrams of a hurt nervous system travel from heel to head, and it may be well worth your while to make the experiment of leaving off coffee entirely for 10 days and using Postum in its place.

You will probably gather some good solid facts, worth more than a gold mine, for health can make gold, and sickness lose it. Besides there's all the fun, for it's like a continuous carnival frolic to be perfectly well.

There's a reason for

A NOTE OF DANGER.

Windsor people are disquieted by the report of sickness at Fort William. The Record observes that the water that leaves the Lake Superior town loaded with germs will in time find its way into the service pipes of that city and the consequence is difficult to foretell.

True the cold will prevent the germs from multiplying, but the same agency will preserve them alive. They will live comfortably for months in ice and resume their full activity when it melts. They are now pouring down into Lake St. Clair in myriads. Lodging there, they will await the environment favorable to their increase.

In summer-warm water the typhoid germ doubles itself in twenty minutes—that is, in twenty minutes every germ becomes two, two becomes four, four, eight, and so on, by geometrical progression!

Next summer Lake St. Clair will become one vast culture-bed for such of these wonderfully vital organisms liable to an epidemic of a worse kind than is now afflicting the port on Thunder Bay.

This is an appalling outlook for dwellers by the lakes and the rivers by which they are connected, says the London Free Press. But the lake and river waters are subjected every season of navigation to equally obnoxious contamination from the sewage of paying steamboats. On all the passenger steamers the drinking water is drawn directly from the lake into which the refuse of hundreds of vessels of all sorts and sizes is poured. There should be a law to compel them to fill their drinking fountains at least from a pure source, as the Pullman cars do of their own choice.

SPAIN'S PROGRESS.

Sometimes it does a boy good to get licked, and sometimes it does a country good to get licked. A prominent business man of Madrid makes the point that since the war with the United States the Spaniards have invested $40,000,000 in their own merchant marine, $45,000,000 in sugar factories and $20,000,000 in electric plants, mine developments, and other industries. This gentleman calls attention also to the fact that since Spain lost her colonies in the war with the United States she has turned her attention to the enormous natural resources of her soil, which she has neglected so long, and he firmly believes that a new era of industrial progress has been ushered in for the old nation, which perhaps few people in this country thoroughly appreciate. The arrival of King Alfonso at years of discretion, and his approaching marriage with the young Princess, who is connected by marriage with so many of the monarchs of Europe, is also regarded by those Spaniards who are far sighted as an augury of great political advantages. The young King has made an excellent impression in all the official visits which he has made to the courts of Europe and Great Britain, and it is now very well understood that the advisers of the Spanish crown had this young man make these visits in order to give public notice that a proud nation had resumed its place at the council boards of the world, and that new industrial and political conditions existed in Spain.

Good for Spain. More power and progress to her. And may she never have to go to war again.

JAPAN'S SECRET AGENTS SAID TO BE FORMENTING TROUBLE

Paris Reads Signs of Future Disturbances in Far East in Some of the Recent Occurrences.

Paris, March 27.—With the clouds of the Morocco beginning to disperse, another danger begins to loom up in the far east, which may become even more serious to the powers possessing colonies in that part of the world.

From the official cables which have been received from French consuls in China, as well as from the governor of French Indo-China, it is evident that the present disturbances in the Chinese empire are more than a spontaneous outburst of native hatred against the whites.

The impression is here that the Japanese through their secret agents, of whom they have thousands scattered in all parts of China, are nursing the ill-will of the lower classes of the natives against all foreigners.

There is said to be strong evidence showing that the Chinese servant who some two weeks ago attempted to kill the secretary of the French municipal council at Shanghai while he was asleep, had been incited to do so by a Japanese agent, who, however, succeeded in making his escape as soon as he heard of the arrest of the would-be murderer.

Of late a number of Japanese have appeared in the French colonies and are being watched very closely by the authorities as there is reason to believe that their intentions are not of the best.

Even to their ally, Great Britain, the Japanese are false, and it is said on very good authority that the government at Tokio is endeavoring to make China demand the evacuation of Wei-haiwei by the British in a very near future.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it has evidently maintained with geological force a regularity and it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, [illegible]. The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Mont[illegible], Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tin[illegible] mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

Was it true that the lover whose loss she had mourned so keenly had found consolation with another love whom he had made his bride? How the thought tortured her!

It mattered little enough then what became of her. Late was all over for her long since.

Gertie had gathered up the fallen jewels. Placing them in their casket upon the table, Reine pushed them from her with trembling hands. She would have thought more of one simple flower given her by Waldemar Waldron than of all the precious jewels the man whom she was so soon to marry could have bestowed upon her.

It mattered little enough to Reine Hastings how rapidly or slowly the weeks rolled on now. Her love and her faith had received a cruel blow.

Because Reine no longer mentioned Waldemar Waldron's name both the general and Bernard Cheseigh confidently hoped that she had learned to forget him. Neither of them was versed in the ways of woman's love or woman's pride.

At last the eventful day of Reine's life dawned amid the pealing of the Christmas bells. It was her wedding day, yet Reine opened her eyes to the morning light with a shudder and a sob of pain.

The golden sunlight blinded the eyes that were swollen with weeping, and the chiming of the joy-bells made her heart flutter with pain.

Fairlawn was thronged with guests who were to witness the ceremony on this eventful Christmas evening. Many had come from afar and were making the most of the festive occasion.

All day Reine kept her room, with Mrs. Dent, the housekeeper, for a maid and companion. Even the bridesmaids, who were just dying to catch a glimpse of her, were rigorously excluded from her boudoir; yet nothing was thought of this, as it has been the custom of many a bride from time immemorial.

"She wants to come forth at the proper time such a vision of loveliness as will startle us," laughed Gertie Traverse, twining a fresh cluster of pale rosebuds in her curly locks. "I have seen Reine's diamonds, girls," she pursued, breathlessly, "and I warn you to prepare yourselves to see something grand. Just think of it! A white necklace that encircles her neck twice, of superb solitaire diamonds, every one of 'em larger than those earrings in my ears. And her dress is perfectly lovely. You never saw such a veil. And as for slippers, why, dear me! they are outdone! Itself—white satin, embroidered in pearls. Reine will look as beautiful as a poet's dream."

All the young girls were more than longing to catch a glimpse of all this finery, and could scarcely wait in patience for the hour to arrive when Reine should make her appearance.

At that moment Mrs. Dent was putting the last touches to Reine's toilet. Was there ever a fairer little bride? If it were not too old a subject, I would describe how lovely she looked in the shimmering gleaming satin robe, and the cloud-like veil that enveloped her, with its crown of snowy orange blossoms resting on her golden hair.

There was a feverish glow on her cheeks, and a strange brightness in her eyes, and the little hands that grasped the bridal bouquet were burning hot through the dainty white gloves as Mrs. Dent touched them.

She grew strangely restless as the evening wore on. The ceremony was to be performed exactly at eight; it wanted a quarter to that time now, as Reine stood dressed and ready.

Within the hour she was to be Bernard Cheseigh's wife. How strange it seemed to her! The very thought seemed to make her grow faint and dizzy. She walked over to the long French window and threw up the sash. Although it was Christmas night, the wind that fanned her heated cheek was balmy.

Mrs. Dent called to her anxiously:

"Reine, my dear, you must not stand at an open window," she said. "You will take your death of cold; or, if you insist upon standing there, do let me throw your fur wrap about you!"

Reine shook her head, dreamily.

"Do not disturb me, Mrs. Dent," she replied; "let me have my own thoughts. Bernard will not come for me for fifteen minutes yet. I will spend ten of them in my own way."

She drew the velvet curtain about her, and Mrs. Dent walked into an inner apartment, leaving the youthful bride to her own reveries.

Reine gazed wistfully down into the ground. Ah, if she might rest for a few brief moments on the old bench beneath the fir-trees yonder, where the ceaseless murmur of voices would not reach her! Mechanically she stepped out upon the moonlit balcony, gathering up her white train and veil in one little gloved hand.

A private stairway led from the balcony down into the grounds, and Reine gained the shadows of the firs unobserved, sinking down wearily upon the bench.

The snow had been carefully brushed from the grounds and from the rustic seats, yet had it been lying deep about her, she would not have felt its chill, so feverish was the fire that burned in her veins.

What was it stealing so softly and cautiously toward her among the dense shadows of the pines and mocking fir-trees? Once she almost fancied she heard a cautious, stealthy footstep, but it must have been only fancy, or the bare rustling branches of the trees above her head, as the night-wind sighed among them.

She turned her blue eyes in the direction of Waldron Towers—standing like a sentinel on the brow of a distant hill—its ivy-covered turrets plainly discernible in the bright white moonlight.

Yet Reine could not think of the [illegible] she would only pray [illegible] thought to him—for she was to be another's bride in a few short fleeting moments.

Time seemed to fly swift-winged by her, and it flew by with equal rapidity to the inmates of the stately villa.

The bronze clock on the marble pedestal, in the alcove of the corridor, was almost on the stroke of eight as Bernard Cheseigh, followed by the general, hastened toward Reine's boudoir, surrounded by a group of merry bridemaids. How tall, handsome, and noble he looked! —a man any woman might have given her love to, and been proud of him.

Many a wistful, girlish glance followed the manly figure as he hurried down the corridor.

Gently he tapped at the boudoir door. Mrs. Dent opened it, standing back as she saw the handsome bridegroom standing flushed and expectant there, and the general following closely behind him.

"Is Reine quite ready?" he asked, pausing bashfully upon the threshold and gazing past her, eagerly, around the pretty pink and gold jewel case of a room. "It will be quite eight by the time we reach the reception room. I fear the guests are becoming impatient already," he said smilingly.

"Dear me," cried Mrs. Dent, gathering up the fragrant bouquet Reine had laid down, "how time flies! I did not dream it was so near time for the ceremony."

She disappeared quickly within the lace-draped inner apartment.

"Dear me!" she ejaculated in affright, noting the wind blowing against the hanging velvet curtain. "If that child isn't standing at the open window yet; because I happened to forget her."

"Reine! Reine!" she cried. "Here is Mr. Cheseigh waiting for you. It's time for you to go down now. The clock is chiming eight, and the musicians are striking up the wedding march."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Land in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5; renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 37 full lode claims, or about 370 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 30 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzes and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.20 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. ## Dr. Hamilton Cures Rheumatism

Rheumatism begins and ends in the blood which at no time is ever free from poison. But if the kidneys are healthy, they will filter out the waste and poisons.

In case of rheumatism, the kidneys are not doing their work. As a result poisons crystalize around the joints and cause pain almost akin to torture.

There can be no cure, no permanent relief until the kidneys are stimulated. First get them into working order. For this purpose Dr. Hamilton's Pills excel all other remedies; they heal and strengthen the kidneys as no other poisons depart from the blood and all medicine can do. Once the kidneys are renewed by Dr. Hamilton's Pills the trace of rheumatism disappears.

Mr. Cost in Tea, Chronic, so Bladder, to the Beneficial Influence of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"I spent nearly three years experimenting with rheumatic remedies," writes Geo. F. Sunbury, of Portland. "I had almost given up hope, when I tried Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they completely cured me. No remedy could be better."

—Just in at Times Bookstore 1,000 stereoscopic colored views. These are a very choice lot, as they contain some very interesting subjects. Price only five cents each.

—The Niagara, St. Catharines and Toronto Railway Company are applying at Ottawa to increase the bonding powers of the company to $30,000 per mile.

—Webster Indexed Dictionary, the new census edition, containing 1,500 illustrations and an appendix of 10,000 words, bound in morocco, for only $1.50 at Times Bookstore.

—A handsome picture of St. Luke's church and rectory, accompanied by a suitable address has been presented to Mr. H. D. Curtis by a deputation for St. Luke's Sunday school.

—The new alderman, Mr. Wilson, who succeeds the late Ald. Kelly, was present at last night's meeting of the combined meeting of the Board of Health and Finance Committee.

—The special services in George street church, which have been so successful, will be continued each night this week, with the exception of Saturday night, beginning at eight o'clock. The public is cordially invited to attend.

—Lindsay is now in the throes of an epidemic of constitutional beggars. Lindsay should remember that their police magistrate is, or should be alive. Six months in the Central is a sure cure for such vagabonds as are too lazy to work.

—The most important business conducted by the town council at its last meeting, was the passing of a resolution, authorizing the issue of debentures to the amount of $20000 for the proposed new school on George street. The resolution was opposed by Couns. Pratt and McAllister, the other members including the mayor, voting in favor of the resolution. The building and site will cost about $38,000.—Cobourg Post.

IMPORTANT SALE

Mrs. P. J. Tate, of Lakefield, will, on Thursday, March 22nd, sell at her residence by public auction, her household and other goods. This is a rare opportunity for those desiring to purchase valuable furniture, etc., at their own price.

Mr. Moore in Belleville.

Mr. Thos. W. Moore was in Belleville yesterday attending the funeral of his sister, Mrs. J. W. Miller, who died on Friday in Chicago. Deceased's maiden name was Miss Minnie Moore, and she was brought up in Belleville. Mr. Moore went to Belleville Saturday night, in response to a telegram notifying him of the sad loss of his sister.

Peterboro's New Alderman.

Mr. Thomas J. Wilson, who received the highest number of votes in the last municipal election of those who were not elected takes the place in the city council made vacant by the death of Alderman Kelly.

The law providing for this method of filling a vacancy was passed in 1901, and only applies to cities.

Miss Barlee's Engagement.

The engagement is announced of Miss Mabel Clementi Barlee, daughter of the late George Barlee, Esq., of Peterboro, to Mr. Hazen Ritchie, son of the late Chief Justice Sir William Ritchie of Ottawa. The many friends of Miss Barlee will sincerely congratulate her on this announcement although Peterboro, by the coming marriage, will lose one of our local belles pass from a girl favorite in society into the ranks of the staid matrons.

Rev. J. C. Davidson's Reception.

It is suggested that the congregation of St. John's church take steps to give their beloved rector a fitting reception on his return. It is said that his reception and work done in St. Louis and Chicago, fitting by authorize the local members of the Church of England in giving the rector a suitable welcome on his return home.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Robt. Chambers, Otonabee Goes to Her Rest.

Yesterday shortly after noon, Mrs. Robert Chambers passed away at her home on the River Road, Otonabee from heart disease. Deceased was 42 years of age, and her maiden name was Mary Isabella Wilson, a daughter of the late Mr. Thomas Wilson, of North Monaghan. She is survived by her husband.

Three sisters also survive her.—Mrs. Wm. Robson and Mrs. Adam King, of North Monaghan, and Mrs. Andrew McCarrol of Emily; also, one brother, Mr. Robt. Wilson, of fifth ward, Peterboro.

The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from her late residence to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. J. G. Potter will officiate.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—As noted in yesterday's issue, Mr. G. C. Pritchard, representing the Canadian Fire Engine Co., London, made a plucky struggle to get the order for a new fire engine for his company from this city. Mr. Pritchard has submitted to the inevitable and, throwing up the sponge, has left the city for home.

NEWS FROM THE NORTH

A Special Report From a Occasional Correspondent.

A special meeting to the Village Local Option Council was held in the Blind Pig Chamber on the 1st April, all of the members of the Council present.

The humbug of the last meeting was read and confirmed.

Moved by Coun. Duffer and seconded by Coun. Cornmeal, that this Council place on record their appreciation of the action of the Trustees of the "New York Life" in their appropriating to themselves a few millions, and that they regret that one Jerome should so maliciously attack the action of so honorable a body.

Coun. Frank raised a point of order, and expressed an opinion that the motion should be withdrawn.

Coun. Putty expressed himself in favor of the motion and said he scented whitewash, and that if there was any whitewashing to do, he was just the man to do it.

Reeve Fishy read the motion and said that he was here to keep order and that if Coun. Frank raised any point of order or disorder, he would order Constable Dad to remove him, and, for his part, he always voted with the majority, and, as there were three Councillors in favor of this motion, he would declare it carried unanimously. Applause from the correspondent of the Review.

REPORTERS FOR TRIAL

Newspaper Men Charged with Stealing Advance Copy.

A Toronto despatch received yesterday says that; Walter Percy Bretz and A. McIntosh Fisher of the Toronto World staff, who are charged with the theft of a draft bill relating to Toronto university, were yesterday morning committed for trial by Police Magistrate Denison.

Wallace Lant, who was also named in the information, was discharged.

The probable defence will be that the draft of the bill, which is alleged to have been stolen, was not a state paper, but a mere memorandum, which had no value as an official document.

A. O. H. Attend Divine Service.

The members of Division No. 1, A. O.H., observed the festival of St. Patrick by receiving Holy Communion Sunday morning at St. Peter's cathedral. Mass was celebrated by his Lordship Bishop O'Connor, and the sermon was preached from the gospels of the day by Rev. Father O'Sullivan of Lindsay.

TOOTHSOME SALADS

Promote Health and Please Palate.

A lover of good living writes from Chicago:

"The favorite salads in my family," he says, "are prepared with Grape-Nuts, according to your recipes. We regard them as irreproachable. We are also fond of Grape-Nuts with cream as a breakfast food, and use it daily.

"I was a great sufferer for years," he continues, "from stomach trouble, which gave rise to painful headaches and I was at last completely prostrated and bedridden with ulceration of the stomach and bowels. I suffered untold agonies while the doctors were trying to cure my ailment with medicines.

"I could retain nothing on my stomach but an occasional sip of cold water, or a teaspoonful of olive oil, and at last even these could not be kept down. The doctors then gave me up—said there was no hope for me.

"In this strait my good angel induced me to try Grape-Nuts food, and it may sound ludicrous to say of the initial experiment that the sensation was, simply 'heavenly' but nothing milder than that will express it.

"My recovery was rapid and in a very few weeks I was up and about, and in a few weeks was a perfectly well man again. And it was all the work of the Grape-Nuts food, for, as I have said, the doctors had ceased to give me medicine, considering my case hopeless.

"Since then Grape-Nuts has been, and always shall be a staple article of diet with us." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

DO YOU KNOW

That Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is the only medicine sold through druggists for woman's weaknesses and peculiar ailments that does not contain large quantities of alcohol? It is also the only medicine, especially prepared for the cure of the delicate diseases peculiar to women, the maker of which is not afraid to take his patients into his full confidence, by printing upon each bottle wrapper all the ingredients entering into the medicine. Ask your druggist if this is not true.

"Favorite Prescription," too, is the only medicine for women, all the ingredients of which have the unqualified endorsement of the leading medical writers of the several schools of practice, recommending them for the cure of the diseases for which the "Prescription" is advised. Write to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free booklet, and read the numerous extracts from standard medical authorities praising the several ingredients of which Dr. Pierce's medicines are made, and don't forget that no other medicines put up for sale through druggists for domestic use can show any such professional endorsement. This, of itself, is of far more weight and importance than any amount of so-called "testimonials" so conspicuously flaunted before the public, in favor of the alcoholic compounds.

The "Favorite Prescription" cures all woman's peculiar weaknesses and derangements, irregularity, prostration, headaches, backaches, bearing-down distress, tenderness and dragging-down sensations in lower abdomen, accompanied by weakening and disagreeable catarrhal, pelvic drains and kindred symptoms.

Dr. Pierce and his staff of skilled specialists may be consulted free by addressing as above. All correspondence is treated as sacredly confidential. By consulting in this way the disagreeable questionings and personal "examinations" are avoided.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser contains some very interesting and valuable chapters on the diseases peculiar to women. It contains over one thousand pages. It is sent post paid, on receipt of sufficient in one-cent stamps to pay cost of customs and mailing only, or 21 cents for a copy in flexible paper covers, or 50 cents for a cloth-bound copy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative, two or three cathartic.

NEW ENGINE HERE

The 1,000 Gallon Waterous Engine Now Ready for Future Use.

Our citizens can now rest easier at night, as well as by day, as the new 1000 gallons per minute steam fire engine, has been placed, ready for use, in the local fire hall.

Mr. Hugh Cameron, who sold the engine to the city, arrived in the city on the noon train yesterday, to look after the delivery of the new engine. He superintended the unloading and placing it in the fire hall. Mr. Cameron said the engine will be given a trial in the course of a few days. Before the trial can be made the city will have to send the coupling hose to Brantford to have the thread changed to suit the engine.

This is a remarkably prompt delivery.

Gift to Mount St. Joseph.

Rev. Dr. Teefy, of St. Michael's College, Toronto, has presented a life-sized statue of St. Joseph to the Sisters of Mount St. Joseph. It arrived here a few days ago and will be placed in a niche over the entrance to Mount St. Joseph. It is a handsome piece of workmanship. Dr. Teefy's kindness is greatly appreciated by the Sisters.

Weather's Costly Freaks in the States

Ten Days of Snow in Wyoming Devastates the Flocks, and Some Men are Missing---Tornado in Mississippi Does Much Damage.

Buffalo, N.Y., March 21. — About nine inches of snow has fallen here since yesterday, by far the heaviest fall of the season, the highest previous fall having been three inches on Christmas Day. The fall throughout this section of the State has been very heavy. At the post office the superintendent of mails reports the following delays to incoming mails; Through mail from the west, via St. Louis, Lake Shore train 18, due 7.35 a.m., two hours late; Lehigh Valley, through mail from New York and Philadelphia, two hours late; New York Central, mail from Boston and New York City, one hour and a half late.

SNOW COVERS HOUSES.

Big Piney, Wyoming, March 21.—The most terrific snowstorm in the history of this section has just come to an end here, having raged continuously since the tenth of March. The snow is piled seven feet in depth in places, and is two feet deep on the level. Stage and mail service have been interfered with. It is feared that tremendous losses of sheep have occurred in the desert east of here, and it is reported that some flocks have been entirely wiped out. There are vexed with the power to order the bridge and open an office at Niagara Falls for the purpose of disposing of stock. After the formation of the company it is to be managed by seven directors elected from the stockholders.

Though the bridge plan is a large undertaking in itself, it is but one feature in a big electric railway enterprise that has for its intention the connection of Buffalo and Toronto by a double-tracked express line, and probably also the connection of Buffalo and Rochester. It is asserted that a double track line from Buffalo to Toronto will be built. This will run from Niagara Falls to St. Catharines and Port Dalhousie over roads now built and operating. From Port Dalhousie the line will run through Hamilton and run to Toronto. The passenger service will be rendered, the freights being run in trains of three cars.

President Henry J. Pierce of the International Bridge Company confirmed all of this plan except the Rochester connection.

is no feed accessible, and flock masters are in despair. Several sheep herders are missing. Many of the ranches in this section are completely snowed in, and some of the houses are entirely covered from sight. The only possible method of travel between ranches is on snow shoes.

MAN KILLED BY SNOWSLIDE.

Creede, Colo., March 21.—A snowslide came down Miner Hill Mountain yesterday in the east Willow Mining Company's plant, killing one man, Samuel East, and demolishing the blacksmith shop in which he was working.

TORNADO DESTROYS LIFE.

New York, March 21.—A special to the Tribune from New Orleans says; A despatch received here announces that a tornado struck the town of Brooklyn, Missippi, near Meridan, last night, and wrecked it. Enormous damage was done, and the loss of life was heavy, but no exact figures have been received. The wind attained a velocity of 90 miles an hour, and everything in the path of the tornado was razed to the ground.

After smiting Brooklyn, the tornado went sweeping across the country, leaving a trail of devastation in its wake.

240,000 LOGS READY

The Dickson Co. Have Had a Good Season Despite Weather.

Mr. Cresswell, superintendent of the Dickson Co., was in town and reports a very successful season. He has on the river bank, 240,000 logs, running between fifteen or seventeen million feet. There have been six camps in operation all winter, and this week Mr. Cresswell closes three of them. The other three will remain cutting till the drive commences. Seventy horses have been busy drawing logs, and this week 30 teams will come out. Not a horse died during the heavy operation, which is unusual for many seasons. The loss of several horses is a common occurrence. The camps are all in good clean condition, and everything is being prepared for the drive as soon as the ice leaves. The Ajax has been engaged to tow the towing. Mr. Cresswell has experienced many difficulties this season, with not much snow and sickness of some of the men, but nevertheless, the season's cut will be a great deal better than previous years.

The Northern Life Assurance Co.

It is interesting, now that so much is being said in the United States and Canadian newspapers, to note that the hub-bub being raised does not affect the great insurance companies of Canada. The Northern Life Co. during its nine years of business life has rapidly and steadily increased the volume of its business and the value of its assets. In the year of this company's inception their insurance in force amounted to $879,886, whilst last year this company had the enormous sum of $4,716,284 of good safe risks. In 1905 the premium income of the Northern Life amounted to $151,440.57, with an interest income of $22,275.25. With such a showing as this it is easily to be understood that the Northern Life Co. is considered one of the safest companies in Canada. Mr. R. H. Doughty, Manager of this Company for the Counties of Peterboro and Victoria, is one of the best known insurance men in this section.

Mr. Stevenson's Picture Ready.

Yesterday a good crayon picture of Mr. James Stevenson, ex-M.P., of this city, was placed on exhibition in Mr. Macdonald's drug store, George street. This picture was ordered by the present Board of Education, and will be placed in the Board room, as a recognition of some 50 or 60 years' service on the Board by Mr. Stevenson.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Gentlemen Well Known in This City in Large Proposition.

The Buffalo News of March 19th, says;

The International Railway Company of this city and the Toronto Railway Company intend to erect a new bridge across the Niagara River below Niagara Falls. The first step will be taken in Albany today, when a bill will be introduced in the Senate and Assembly incorporating the Trans-Niagara Bridge Company, with a capital of $1,000,000, to construct a bridge for electric railway purposes. The bill names Frederic Nicholls, E. R. Wood, and D. E. Thompson, of Toronto, Grant B. Schley, of New York; Robert L. Fryer, Henry J. Pierce and Porter Norton, of Buffalo, and Frank A. Dudley, of Niagara Falls as commissioners, five of whom

THE PRESTON FARM

Finally Decided on as Site for New House of Refuge.

Yesterday morning the following members of the county council met to discuss the site of the intended house of refuge, viz; Warden J. T. Johnston, in the chair; Councillors Andrews, Buck, Carey, Menogue, Shaw, Garbutt, Stinson, Moloney, and Webster.

County Clerk E. M. Elliott read the minutes of the last meeting, which were passed.

Warden Johnston then read the report from Inspector Dr. Bruce Smith.

Mr. Moloney stated that since he gave his vote for the Preston property he had learned on good authority that the farm was not desirable. He would therefore, have to withdraw his vote. He had made enquiries and had come to the conclusion that other properties were more suitable.

Councillor Garbutt asked Mr. Moloney if he had not expressed the opinion before he voted that the Preston property was the best farm available.

Mr. Moloney denied this. A long discussion then arose as to the 25 acres condemned by the Toronto inspectors. Councillor Buck tried to pour oil on the troubled waters and after a long discussion the council adjourned at the dinner hour.

After dinner the discussion was reopened, and it was decided to adhere to the original plan of locating the house of refuge on the Preston property. Only three members of the council opposing the same.

THE NEW ROUTE

The C. P. R. Not Yet Decided Upon Their Grain Route Entrance.

As noted in a former issue last week, Messrs. R. F. McWilliams and City Solicitor Hall, interviewed, when in Toronto, Mr. Leonard's chief assistant, in the absence of his principal, regarding the road bed of the new C.P.R. grain line from Midland to Peterboro. Ald. McWilliams and Mr. Hall told the C.P.R. officials that this city did not want the road entering the city by cutting through valuable property and crossing streets. At the same time, however, the city of Peterboro, was anxious to cooperate with the C.P.R.

The chief of the construction department replied that the company's great object was to get a road with the lowest possible grade. The chief difficulty to be overcome at Peterboro, was the high hills just west of the city.

No location has yet been decided on, however, and before any plan could be determined upon, such plan would have to first come before the railway commission. In that event the city will be given a good opportunity to be heard by the commission.

Made Serious Charge.

Kingston, March 21. — Much strong feeling has been aroused here by a statement made in the Grand Opera house, by Rev. Dr. Eby, of Brock street Methodist church. The service was the closing one of a series of evangelistical services which have been held during the past two weeks. The minister made the sensational statement that of the five hundred employes of the Locomotive Works here, 65 per cent. were non-churchgoers, and had no respect for the Lord's Day. The employes of the works and the employers resent the statement very strongly.

ROCKEFELLER MAY BE UNBALANCED

Richest Man in World Reported to Have Broken Down Under Strain

ROGERS HAS DENIED STORY

Rockefeller is Carefully Guarded, Has Abandoned Recreations and Sees Nobody.

New York, N. Y. March 21. — The condition of John D. Rockefeller, mental and physical, is a matter of deepest concern today to his friends and intimate business associates. Peculiar things which Rockefeller has done in the last few months, and particularly recent incidents at Lakewood, where he is, have led to serious comment.

H. H. Rogers, the most intimate business associate of the richest man in the world, made a trip to Washington last week to see the President in reference to an effort of the State of Missouri to serve a subpoena on Rockefeller. In Washington it was reported that Rogers had begged the President to induce Missouri to excuse Rockefeller from testifying in the Standard Oil case, on the ground that he was not physically able to do so.

In his home, No. 1 East Seventy-eighth street, last night, Mr. Rogers was asked if Rockefeller's mind was affected. He replied that the question was too absurd to be answered. Pressed for a definite answer, he refused to discuss the matter. A noted specialist is said to be with Mr. Rockefeller at Lakewood. Outside of the immediate family and most trusted servants no one is permitted to see Mr. Rockefeller. He has abandoned outdoor exercise, has quit golfing on his private links, and is confined to the house.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

Yesterday the "Sons of Ease," and the "Never Work" clubs once more turned out in their scores to enjoy the rich, rare and racy atmosphere of the local police court. The piece de resistance" at this intellectual banquet was that of the Calcutt Brewing & Malting Co., charged with having on the 14th and 16th days of March, unlawfully sold liquor to John Shear, a person not entitled to sell liquor, and who sold such liquor contrary to the license act.

Mr. Hayes conducted the prosecution, whilst Mr. Haverson, counsel for the Licensed Victuallers' Protective Association, looked after the brewery's interests.

The first witness called was Mr. Jas. Drain, secretary of the Brewery Co. Mr Drain, to Mr. Hayes did his books showed that he sold lager to Shear. He knew that Shear had been convicted last week of selling liquor illegally.

The brewery's books were produced in court and showed that from Feb. 14th to March 12th, Shear had purchased in four gallon kegs, some 84 gallons of beer, or an average of three gallons a day.

"That's not very much," Mr. Haverson remarked. "Let's be fair, we don't want to do anything wrong. We consider that what his clients ordered is perfectly legitimate. If so we propose going on selling. This man Shear has a boarding house. A number of these Italians club together, and get a keg for 75 cents, and Shear simply goes after it."

The Magistrate, after reading the act said that the onus of proof of not knowing that the beer is to be sold again lies with the defendants.

Mr. Drain continuing, said the question of what Shear was going to do with the beer, had been discussed by himself and Shear. Did not know that Shear had ever been fined for selling liquor, previous to the case of last week. Witness had asked Shear if he resold the beer. Shear replied "No," if his Italian boarders wanted even a pail of beer they simply clubbed together and bought it. Shear assured him that he did not sell it by the glass. Witness was present when Shear was convicted last week. Mr. Hayes said that in Feb. 1905, Chief Ressel had warned witness that this man Shear was selling to the railroad men.

Mr. Haverson said all he wanted to show was that witness was a law-abiding man and that he has made no infraction of the liquor law.

Chief Ressel remembered speaking to Mr. Drain, shortly after the stabbing case at DeLukes. Warned Elliott and Mr. Drain if they sold liquor to the Italians, he would prosecute as they, the Italians, were reselling. He mentioned particularly a place on Aylmer street," and thinks Mr. Drain knew he was referring to DeLuke.

To Mr. Haverson, in the chief did not know of his own knowledge that Shear was selling at that time. Did not prosecute as he did not have proper evidence. He had only been told by a Roman commissioner, and the latter only knew by hearsay. Did not take any pains to find out where the commissioner got his information.

"Suppose for instance," said Mr. Haverson, "a number of Italians, say 20, instead of going to a bar room, buy a keg of beer by general subscription, and a general stabbing went on, which of course would not matter much as they are foreigners, would you not consider that the brewery was doing 'legitimate business'"

To this the chief replied, "All I want is for people to keep the law."

"Would you not sooner see these Italians drinking by themselves than among white people in the barroom?"

"Well I don't know."

Mr. Hayes contended it was shown that the defendants had reason to believe that the purchasers were reselling the beer.

Mr. Haverson contended that Mr. Drain's evidence showed that he had been assured by Shear that he was not reselling it, and that Shear had given him a reasonable story to believe regarding how the Italians chipped in to pay for it.

Mr. Haverson then produced a report of the Orcelli case, where Orcelli was charged with keeping liquor for sale in a private lodging house. This liquor was purchased by about 40 boarders by them all "chipping in."

Mr. Haverson argued that the brewery's business was being demolished by the many surrounding places having local option, and as long as the brewery had no reason for knowing that they did not know parties to whom they sold beer were re-selling it, this brewery had a right to go ahead.

His Worship said that he would dismiss the case with a warning.

The next case was that in which a local hotel employe accused a young man with assault. The case involved a lot of explanations by both plaintiff and defendant to show that each had provocation. The Magistrate remarked, "You have acted like a pair of children. It seems that after former disagreements between the two, the defendant had told plaintiff he "was crooked," i.e., in business matters, to which plaintiff retorted "You are a ——— liar." Then defendant sailed into plaintiff and put one of his eyes into mourning.

The magistrate imposed a fine of $1 without costs.

A DOCTOR'S DILEMMA

Local Disciple of Esculapius Threatened.

A local medical man tells an episode in his experience that is too good to conceal. A few days ago, a George street dentist, as is customary, employed the doctor to administer chloroform to a patient of the former's. The two man of science went to the patient's residence and very quickly made the necessary preparations for administering the anaesthetic. The patient's offending tooth was, by assistance of the chloroform, soon ripped out.

It is well known a common feature connected with the administration of chloroform is that the patient becomes sick at the stomach. The case in question was no exception to this rule. The lady who had had the drug became very ill, in fact she had a comprehensive review of her last bill of fare.

When the man of the house saw the lady casting up her accounts he became very angry, in fact picked up a chair and ordered the doctor and the dentist out, and called them names not to be found in "Lord Chesterfield's letters to his son." At the same time, he told both doctor and dentist he would not pay for their services as they had "made the lady sick."

Now the doctor has handed his account in to a George street lawyer for collection.

Boers Facing Ruin.

St. Louis, March 20.—The Boers want to come to America, according to letters received by Gen. Viljoen, who is now in St. Louis. The ravages of the British Boer war have been followed by grinding taxes, drought, disease among cattle and poverty.

Viljoen received a letter today from W. A. Sturm, a prominent Boer farmer of Middleburg. It says: "The country is in distress, and taxation is exorbitant. Chinese labor has proved complete failure. There are now some 4000 Chinese running loose, murdering and pillaging. Emigration is our only salvation.

Sen. Miller Causes a Scene in Senate

Hon. William Ross of Halifax Called a "Toothless Old Viper."

Ottawa, March 21.—Language such as has never before been heard within the scarlet environs of the "Upper Chamber," rang out in tones of intense passion yesterday, interwined with frequent protests and cries of "shame" and demands for the intervention of Mr. Speaker. The originator of it all was Senator Miller, who insisted upon referring to Hon. Wm. Ross of Halifax in terms that were far from Parliamentary. "A toothless old viper" was one of the most emphatic expressions used by the former towards the latter, and again Mr. Ross was characterised as "an old man over eighty, whose doddering limbs just bear him up those steps to the back seat he occupies." Senator Miller said his fellow Nova Scotian was expelled from the Mackenzie Government, and that when appointed Collector of Customs at Halifax, he set the business community in a turmoil.

Senator Ross made a dignified reply, and asked Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who was Minister of Customs at the time, to say whether his Senator Ross' administration of the Customs at Halifax was unjust or unfair. Sir Mackenzie promptly said that it was not, and that Mr. Ross was right in his statement. Senator Ross replied the idea that he was weak or doddering in his limbs, and challenged his opponent to sprint down as far as the gates of the Parliament grounds.

There were many interruptions while Mr. Miller was speaking, and some severe comments on his course by Messrs. Otoran, Watson, and other senators.

SENATOR ROSS EXPLAINS.

Mr. Ross, in his reply, admitted that he had forgotten about the lawsuit which Mr. Miller referred to as his vindication, and told some of the last days of the Mackenzie Government.

When the Macdonald Government was defeated Mr. Ross said he had

PETERBORO'S WOLVES

Are Killing More Deer Than all the Fall Hunters Combined.

In our issue of Monday, we reported the experience related by Mr. A. Stevenson, as regards the plentitude of wolves in the back country.

Monday Mr. Stevenson's experience was not only equalled but exceeded by another gentleman from a different section of the back country, to which the former gentleman had visited.

Mr. E. Wigg, who is well known by many of our local citizens, called at The Times office, to report the great ravages being committed this year, by the wolves in the back country, and incidentally to suggest that the attention of the Ontario Government authorities be enlisted to the terrible waste of life caused among the deer.

Mr. Wigg, who resides in the township of Burleigh and Anstruther, when in this office yesterday, said that there were never so many wolves known, in the memory of the oldest settlers, as are this year killing off the deer and other game.

The wolves this winter, to his certain knowledge, have killed nine deer on Jack's Lake. Mr. Wigg, recently placed nine strychnine pills in as many different portions of deer carcasses left by the wolves, with the result that the deers' bodies, pills and all the following days were carried off. This sufficiently testifies to the ravenous character of these ferocious and game destroying brutes.

A pack of wolves, numbering eleven by actual count, recently killed a deer in plain sight of the dump where the men of Messrs. Bathburn's camp, were skidding logs. The wolves were distinctly seen doing this deed.

Mr. S. Hawley of the same township saw a pack of seven on Little Jack's Lake, cross on the ice. As noted, Mr. Wigg is of the opinion that the Ontario Government should pay a higher price per scalp for the destruction of wolves, to save our game, as not only he, but other, people well posted on such matters, are firmly convinced that the wolves are killing more deers than all the tall hunters combined. In exterminating these pests the Government would not only be protecting the game, but also protecting the settlers' stock and lives.

EDISON'S PREDICTION

Wonderful Advancement in Electrical Matters.

New York, March 20.—Mr. Thomas A. Edison, who rounded out his 59th year on February 11, states that the world is now on the threshold of another wonderful era—a golden electrical age. That the discovery of a direct process for harnessing the energy stored in coal will be made and marketed during his lifetime he asserts with confidence. He expects to live long enough "to see the air populous with ships, to hear of many a Nautilus speeding under seas, to witness the arrival and departure of three-day ocean liners, to board trains operated at a fraction of their cost and far exceeding those of today in speed, to perhaps discover the secret of life in radium, and to see the automobile become the dray and carriage of the world."

A Formosa Earthquake.

Tokio, March 21.—A severe earthquake occurred at Tagi, Formosa, Saturday. Hundreds of buildings were destroyed and many hundreds of persons were killed.

COBOURG CLOSE

The Old Town Will Not Give Up Her Trans-Lake Transportation.

The Cobourg Sentinel Star says; On Tuesday last the officials of the Grand Trunk, who are inspecting the harbors of Port Hope and Cobourg, to secure a northern terminus for the proposed new lake ferry from Charlotte, N.Y., were in town. They passed up on an early train to Port Hope, where they met the Town Council and Harbor Board and then came down by the morning express to Cobourg. The officials were R. S. Logan, assistant to Vice President Hays, and Messrs. Pullen, Coyle, Donald, Blackbook and Reid. They were met by the Town Council, and visited the harbor and discussed the different questions involved, such as harbor tolls, dredging, and the closing up of Spring street. Of course, they wanted everything in sight, but while we would like to see the ferry established here, we do not intend to give away the interests of the town to obtain it. If the company find Cobourg the most advantageous point they will certainly come here.

GIVES ROME NO HOPE

New French Ministry is Regarded as Completing Disaster to Church.

Rome, March 20.—The Vatican has been following the French cabinet crisis with the keenest interest, but its solution is considered to complete the disaster to the Roman Catholic church in France. A prominent prelate said; "We have fallen from the frying pan into the fire."

The Vatican authorities received today a dispatch giving the names of the members of the new cabinet with the addition statement that its composition will not be officially announced until tomorrow. The reason for this, according to clerical advice, is that today, being the thirteenth day of the month, is considered to be unlucky. The pontiff smiled sadly when this information was conveyed to him, saying;

"Evidently being a free-thinker does not exclude superstition. Sad days are preparing for the dear, dear Catholics in France."

Internal policy of the government also will be treated of in detail. The ministry will take the view that the church and state separation law clearly establishes the mode of procedure concerning inventories, and will announce that measures will be taken against the organizers of resistance.

Toronto C. G. E. to Play Here.

The Canadian General Electric team, of Toronto, which tied for the championship in the Mercantile League in the Queen City, have challenged the C.G.E. team, Peterboro, to a game, which will come off at the Brock street rink on Thursday night at 8.15 o'clock.

A great contest may be expected and the match will be well worth seeing. The C.G.E. team, Peterboro, will line up as follows;—

Goal—Fitzpatrick.
Point—Ford.
Cover-point—Meagher.
Centre—Crowley.
Rover—Whitcroft.
Left Wing—Rose.
Right Wing—Patterson.

King Cobalt Mining Company
—LIMITED—
No Personal Liability.
CAPITAL, $300,000
PAR VALUE OF SHARES $1.00 EACH.

The Directors of this Company have decided to offer a limited number of shares for sale at par, to subscribers who make application before March 20th. This Company capitalized at only $300,000. The property which it is intended to operate and on which a considerable amount of development work is done, is situated on Cross Lake, and is known as the McChesney property. It adjoins the Watt property, on which is a paying mine, and is in close proximity to other paying properties. It is the opinion of experts that this is one of the best properties in the district. Assays of ore from the property went over $700 to the ton. The Directors reserve the right to allot a smaller amount of shares than the amount applied for. Applications for stock and all cheques should be made to the Secretary-Treasurer, Medical Council Building, Toronto.

WHY SO WEARY ?

Always Restless and Weak Isn't Natural—But It's Dangerous

You have to work hard. The uses up lots of nerve force and tears down the body faster than it can build up.

The result is a half-dead feeling you can't shake off. Somehow you cannot get more vitality. The water in your blood must be turned into nutriment and building material.

This is just what happens in using Ferrozone, which renews the blood and nerves, and makes each organ do the work that nature expects of it.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sickness of any kind.

Ferrozone quickly increases your weight, brings appetite and healthy color, instills a reserve of vigor into the system that defies weariness, exhaustion, debility, or sickness of any kind.

The enormous strengthening power of Ferrozone is proved in the case of Mrs. Edward Hill, of Orr Lake, Ont., who says:

"Two years ago I had a nervous breakdown. At night I tossed restlessly in bed, unable to get any rest from sleep. In the morning I suffered from over-powering weakness. My appetite was poor. I grew pale, thin and despondent. A slight backache caught also added to my burdens.

"My doctor said to try Ferrozone, and it did me good in a few days. I increased in strength, the nervous exhaustion disappeared, and with my appetite came back my color and good spirits. I have gained over ten pounds in weight, and as my age is 56, I consider Ferrozone is a marvel." (Signed) Mrs. Edward Hill.

REMEMBER THIS: Ferrozone is a true tonic—not an alcoholic stimulant. Fifty chocolate-coated tablets in a box for fifty cents, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

TO BE YOUNG AT 80.

Would you like to prolong the prime of life, to be as young at 80 as most healthy persons are at 50? Drink sour milk. This is the remedy against old age which has been discovered by Professor Metchnikoff, head of the Pasteur Institute at Paris, greatest living biologist and leader of modern scientists. Professor Metchnikoff is noted for his rugged health, cheerfulness and vigor. At 80 he is as young as he was at 35. He keeps a large bowl of "bulr," curdled sour milk, in his laboratory and drinks it daily. So do many other hard-headed bacteriologists and physicians throughout Europe.

Professor Metchnikoff does not claim to be the discoverer of the remedy. It is the joint work, or rather the result of many experiments on the part of a number of scientists, such as Strassburger, of Germany; Dr. Blanchard, of Berlin; Professor Massol, of Geneva; and Dr. Cohendy, of Paris. But Metchnikoff, together with the two last named scientists, has developed the idea and applied it in a practical way. In a fascinating article by Arthur R. McFarlane in a recent issue of McClure's, M. Metchnikoff's remarkable discovery is elucidated at length, and it reads more like a page of romantic fiction than a grave dictum of matter of fact science.

M. Metchnikoff believes that man does not now live the natural span of life, that the score of years now allotted to the state of "middle age" should, and will be in the not distant future, two, three or four score; that modern science will bring about the famous "hundred and forty years" which Buffon set down as man's natural life from the logic and evidence of comparative zoology.

Some years ago M. Metchnikoff discovered the cause of the hair turning gray, either in a single night or in the slow course of age. He proved that it was the white corpuscles of the blood—he calls them phagocytes, or "cells which devour." These phagocytes from the colorless liquids or "freely moving cells" which inhabit every part of the body, lubricating the sinews, the spinal marrow, the walls of the stomach, etc. Their office is to fight the microbes of disease which seek to find an entrance into the human system. Metchnikoff calls them the house guard which, with the red corpuscles acting as nurses, move through the body, devouring the germs of disease. If you cut your finger they fly to the spot and cluster around the edges of the wound "like so many little sandbags about a broken bastion." Later they gradually join together and solidify into the layer of new skin which appears beneath the sloughed-off scab. They not only destroy the germs of putrefaction; they are at once workmen and repairing material.

In a case of apoplexy these phagocytes gather about the blood clot and absorb it. They eat up the germs of pneumonic, typhoid fever and other diseases. But there are some microbes enemies that the phagocytes fly from, leaving the body to defend itself as best it may—most frequently to perish. Yet they can be artificially heartened to the fray—given "Dutch courage"—and that is the problem of the physician and the scientist—to get them to do it.

Whenever the poisons given out by the invading microbes get too virulent the phagocytes act like human armies often do—they join the enemy in eating up the body they were created to defend. So, the microbes of putrefaction dwell in vast numbers in the digestive tube. When the failing away in strength which comes with age leaves the body less able to resist, these microbes of putrefaction, which have been kept at bay all the years of vigorous life by the phagocytes, overcome the "municipal guard" and eat up the tissues, life juices of the cells and glands, and in some cases the bones themselves. They cause an atrophy or drying up of the parts in which they get the upper hand. The human frame becomes "woody" like an orange; only the light, stringy connective tissue remains. When this occurs the phagocytes join their enemies and become pillagers instead of defenders—they sack the castle of life.

According to M. Metchnikoff the phagocytes can be given "Dutch courage" and reinforced by feeding so that they will increase in numbers and conquer the invading microbes. So also it has long been known that the microbe which causes milk to sour is hostile to the microbe of putrefaction—the latter cannot work in its vicinity. Drink daily plenty of sour milk and these virulent enemies which cause the disease we call old age will be held at bay. The Bulgarian mountaineers are famous in Europe for their longevity, and they consume great quantities of sour milk. It is a specific for anaemia.

Death, according to the professor, cannot be avoided, but the man will be able to retain his vigor and do his work in the serene assurance that there will be plenty of time to finish it in the plenitude of wisdom and experience. Again there may come back to us the ancient and peaceful weariness of the patriarchs of the Old Testament, who, very full of years, laid themselves contentedly down with their fathers. Death will not then wait as a specter, grisly and terrible, a nightmare throwing its shadow over the still waking man. It will come as rest and sleep after so long a day of thought and labor.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Globe and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tintic mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

By this time she had reached the window and drew back the heavy crimson hangings.

But no white-robed form was there. The window still stood open, and the night wind blew into her white, startled face.

"Reine!" she cried in alarm, glancing about the room, then out into the balcony. No Reine was there.

A cold horror fell upon her as she stood quite still in the young bride's deserted boudoir—a cold, awful terror that made her heart beat wildly. She looked carefully around the pretty white chamber. Perhaps roguish Reine was up to some girlish prank to frighten her.

"Reine!" she called again, in a weak, unsteady voice, waiting breathlessly for an answer. None came.

The tapping of the ivy against the casement was the only sound that broke the awful silence.

"Merciful Heaven!" she cried. "Am I dreaming or am I mad? Where is she gone?"

There was no sign of disarray. The fur wrap, which she would not have about her, lay on the arm-chair where she had tossed it. The light from the silver lamp fell upon the jewel case and the diamond necklace which reposed upon its velvet cushion.

She walked back to the boudior where the handsome bridegroom and the young bride's father awaited her, with unsteady steps and an ashen face.

Bernard Chesleigh started back, and the eager smile faded from his face; he had expected to see her leading by the hand his bonnie, beautiful bride.

She hurried past him and went up to the general, laying her shaking hand on his arm.

"General Hastings," she whispered, hoarsely, "I am frightened. Fifteen minutes ago I left your daughter standing by yonder window, dressed and ready for the ceremony, all save the diamonds and her bouquet. Now, the room is empty. She is not there. The window is open, but she is not on the balcony."

Bernard Chesleigh stood quite still and motionless. But the general pushed past him toward his daughter's room, followed by the frightened housekeeper. There was a terrible fear in his heart that he could not—dare not—shape into words.

CHAPTER IX.

With a white face, the general gazed breathlessly around the pretty room. No, she was not there. Loving voices called her, loving eyes searched for her—all in vain. Reine was not there.

"Chesleigh," cried the old general, "she is not here. Lock the door, to keep every one out, for they must not know. You and I will search the grounds for her."

Their eyes met. Then both turned away, sick with a terrible foreboding. They sprang through the open window, and went out into the grounds together, one taking the circuitous path that encircled the ground to the right; the other took the path to the left.

Not a servant was summoned. Merriment was at its height in the grand parlors and spacious drawing-rooms. No one must know. The time for the ceremony to begin was quite due. The minister stood in waiting, yet no one thought of hurrying the bridal pair that were soon to stand beneath the floral bell.

The moments dragged slowly by. Ten minutes passed—fifteen—then another ten.

There were no signs of the bridal party, and the minister, to appease the eager, expectant guests, sent up to see if the bride and groom would be ready shortly.

The bevy of bridesmaids stood in the corridor.

The door had been locked since the general and Bernard Chesleigh had passed into Reine's boudoir, they said, and no amount of tapping on the door brought so much as a word in response; and instead of laughing voices from within, not so much as a sound could be heard. It was indeed strange. Gertie Traverse had called Reine twice; but at length it was Mrs. Dent, the housekeeper, who had answered, begging her to tell the minister and guests below not to be impatient if a little more time for preparation was being given the bride.

So the mirth went on below, while the two white-faced men searched the grounds about the villa.

Carefully they searched every inch of the spacious park, meeting at last, beneath the identical fir tree beneath which Reine had sat.

The anxious old housekeeper, with eyes swollen with weeping, had followed them.

The general and the white-faced bridegroom looked into each other's eyes for a moment, and their terrible fear found vent in words as the whole sense of their calamity rushed over them.

"She has fled from me rather than marry me, general," he said hoarsely. "I might have foreseen this. She never loved me. When the last moment came she chose to face the cold, pitiless world rather than link her life with mine. Reine!" he cried, sinking down on the self-same bench and covering his face with his trembling hands—oh, little Reine!—if you had but, told me, and spared me this!"

He was mad with wounded love, outraged honor, with sorrow and despair; yet he loved her too well to utter one word against her who had betrayed him so cruelly.

The general held up his hands with a passionate gesture.

"I will not believe that my Reine fled from you," he cried. "Something tells me we are misjudging her. Mrs. Dent tells us she was dressed and ready in her bridal robes fifteen minutes before the ceremony was to have been performed. If she had not intended to have wedded you, why need she have taken the pains of dressing? She would have fled in ordinary clothes hours before."

"She has not even taken her wraps with her, Mrs. Dent says," he went on, excitedly. "No, no, Chesleigh, as sure as you and I stand here, she intended wedding you tonight."

"Have you any suspicion of foul play?" asked Bernard Chesleigh, hoarsely—"any thought that she has been spirited away—abducted?" And as he spoke his eyes rested upon the ivy-covered walls of Waldron Towers, looming up darkly before him on a far off hill.

The greatest consternation prevailed when the announcement was made to the shocked guests that no marriage would take place; that the bride, robed in her bridal dress, had suddenly disappeared.

They did not know which to pity most, the white-haired old father or the handsome, pallid bridegroom, as the words fell from the minister's lips, and when he gravely voiced the father's grave fears, "that foul play had been done, if she had not wandered unconsciously away under temporary mental excitement."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may by application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 370 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 20 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winzs and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.40 to $14.80 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. OFTEN DUE TO
Deranged Kidneys

When the Kidneys Are Weak It is Impossible for Any Woman to be Happy or Healthy.

If the girls and women who are silently suffering with what they suppose is "female trouble," would look to their kidneys they would soon find the source of their ill-health.

The kidneys are very closely allied with the female organs and if the vitality of the kidneys is in any way impaired, great suffering is sure to occur.

No better medicine is known for the kidneys than Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Buttermilk; they stimulate and strengthen the kidneys and thereby assist the other organs to do nature's work. Instant benefit and certain cure are guaranteed in every case.

Sufferer, don't wait, begin treatment with Dr. Hamilton's Pills at once, they will cure you as they did Mrs. A. D. Osburn, a well-known resident of the town of Portland. Read her experience:

"For two years past I have been sickly and weak. My color was dull and sallow, and I felt exhausted and weary, as if all my strength were being eaten up with some hidden trouble. I heard of Dr. Hamilton's Pills and decided to use them. The change in a few days was surprising. They regulated my kidneys and bowels and cured all my suffering; to-day I am perfectly well."

Every woman can take Dr. Hamilton's Pills with safety and benefit. Their occasional use keeps the system in healthy, well regulated order. No medicine more gentle or more prompt in results. Now is the time to get Dr. Hamilton's Pills. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1, at all dealers or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A. and Kingston, Ont.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Mount Hope has declared by a majority of 61 for local option.

—Debentures sold by Bobcaygeon to raise money for an electric plant, realized a premium of $170 above par value.

—The Ladies of Firwood Circle will hold their regular meeting this evening at eight o'clock in the Foresters' hall, Simcoe street.

—Last night St. John's church choir held a practice of their coming oratorio "Crucifixion," which will be presented on Good Friday.

—Dr. Bingham, medical health officer, states that the city is free from diphtheria at present, and there are only a very few cases of scarlet fever.

—The Peterboro Cordage Co., has now over 300 people in their employ and have on hand enough orders to keep the company busy for a long time to come.

—Confirmation will be administered at St. Mark's (Anglican) Church, Otonabee, at Evensong, on Palm Sunday, April 8, by his Lordship, the Bishop of Toronto.

—Several New York magazines, including the Delineator and others, which should be near now, are several days late, owing to the printers' strike in that city.

—Mrs. D. Ross has returned to her home in Oxbow after three months visit with her sister, Mrs. T. Cunningham, of this city, and also with her brother, Mrs. T. Dunnington, of Warkworth Ont.

—At a meeting held last night of the office bearers of St. Paul's church, it was agreed to engage as an assistant, the Rev. Alfred Bright, of Montreal. The rev. gentleman will be here on April 15th.

—The Lindsay Post of Monday says: Rev. F. J. Scott, pastor of Mark street Baptist church, Peterboro, will deliver a lecture tonight in the Baptist church under the auspices of the Young People's Society. The subject is "Reading."

—Owing to the absence of Nott, one of the parties being prosecuted in the timber stealing case, as described in a former issue, that was to have been tried before Judge Edmison yesterday afternoon, it now seems as though a settlement of the case would be attained.

—Mr. W. Snowden, proprietor of the Charlotte street hotel, a day or two ago, had a birthday. It is not up to us to state his age, this however does not cut any ice. The point is this Mr. Martin McFadden presented him on his birthday with a handsome leather-seated quarter oak easy chair that attracts much attention in the office.

—The Montreal Star on Saturday published an excellent illustration of Rev. Dr. Symonds, priest vicar of Christ church cathedral, as he appears in the pulpit. It is rumored that Rev. Dr. Symonds has been invited to become rector of St. George's church, New York city, of which Rev. Dr. Rainsford is a former rector, and Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, one of the leading members.

The Private Bill Hearing Put Off.

Another adjournment of the formerly adjourned hearing of Peterboro's private bill, by the Private Bills Committee, has been had. Peterboro's bill will now be heard on April 5th or 6th instead of March 29th. This action was taken on the request of Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, solicitor for the Peterboro Light and Power Company, and who also represents the Park street residents, as he has to attend the assizes in Belleville next week.

IMPORTANT SALE

Mrs. F. J. Tate, of Lakefield, will, on Thursday, March 22nd, sell at her residence by public auction, her household and other goods. This is a rare opportunity for those desiring to purchase valuable furniture, etc., at their own price.

Guarantee of Quality.

The Hyde Carbon Portrait Company, St. James Chambers, Toronto, are the originators of the latest novelty in portraiture, the Hyde Carbon Portrait. Their representatives are in the city, and are making a special advertising proposition. They will not only meet the wishes of the public in every way possible, but will see to it that all orders entrusted to them will receive careful attention, and will guarantee their patrons artistic and high grade portraits.

PETERBORO ORANGEMEN

Visit Meeting of Grand Lodge Held in Lindsay.

This morning Mr. Geo. Barcliffe, master of the Scarlet Chapter, of Peterboro, leaves for Lindsay, to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Orange Lodge for Eastern Ontario, held in that town.

The Black Preceptory opened its session yesterday afternoon and the Grand Orange Lodge opens at two o'clock this afternoon.

The meeting was held in Ottawa last year and four years ago was held in Peterboro.

Nature's Way Is Best.

The function strengthening and tissue building plan of treating chronic, lingering and obstinate cases of disease as pursued by Dr. Pierce, is following after Nature's plan of restoring health.

He uses natural remedies, that is extracts from native medicinal roots, prepared by processes wrought out by the expenditure of much time and money, without the use of alcohol, and by skilful combination in just the right proportions.

Used as ingredients of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, Black Cherry-bark, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Bloodroot and Stone root, specially exert their influence in cases of lung, bronchial and throat troubles, and this "Discovery" is, therefore, a sovereign remedy for bronchitis, laryngitis, chronic coughs, catarrh and kindred ailments.

The above native roots also have the strongest possible endorsement from the leading medical writers, of all the several schools of practice, for the cure not only of the diseases named above but also for indigestion, torpor of liver, or biliousness, obstinate constipation, kidney and bladder troubles and catarrh, no matter where located.

You don't have to take Dr. Pierce's say-so alone as to this; what he claims for his "Discovery" is backed up by the writings of the most eminent men in the medical profession. A request by postal card or letter, addressed to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a little book that is worthy of your attention if needing a good, safe, reliable remedy of known composition for the cure of almost any old chronic, or lingering malady.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. One little "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic.

The most valuable book for both men and women is Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. A splendid 1008-page volume, with engravings and colored plates. A copy, paper-covered, will be sent to anyone sending 21 cents in one-cent stamps, to pay the cost of mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y. Cloth-bound, 50 stamps.

MRS. SCOLLIE THANKED

W. A. of St. Mark's Church Returns Thanks for Assistance.

From St. Luke's Parish Church Work we take the following:

Mrs. R. Scollie,
Grayrock,
Ont.

Dear Mrs. Scollie,—Will you please accept for yourself and convey to the members of your Otonabee branch of the Woman's Auxiliary our most sincere thanks and gratitude for the acceptable bale of clothing which reached us safely and in good order on the 19th.

Pressure of work and the many cares of a large family, prevented my writing immediately, as I wanted to do, to say how pleased we are with everything sent. The members could not possibly have sent a bale more to our liking or one better calculated to relieve present needs in the Sibley wards and Wawanosh Homes. We were glad to make distribution of the splendid socks and mitts, which, together with the well made quilts and shirts, will certainly assist us greatly.

We gratefully appreciate the evident care and pains taken in the making and preparation of the useful gifts sent, and very heartily thank all who have in any way contributed.

With many good wishes for the New Year to you and yours. Believe me to remain, Very sincerely and gratefully,

G. TEY KING,

THE NORTHERN LIFE

Steadily and surely the Northern Life Assurance Co. of Canada has been gaining business and in financial strength year by year since its inception nine years ago. The annual report and financial statement for 1905 is the best yet, and cannot fail to highly please both shareholders and policyholders.

The following tabulation will make plain the solid progress of the company during the past eight years:

| | Premium Income. | Assets. | Insurance in Force. |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1898 | $ 18,798.90 | $262,713.22 | $ 879,350 00 |
| 1899 | 97,764.85 | 274,186.90 | 1,496,500 00 |
| 1900 | 57,434.97 | 356,746.67 | 2,065,200 00 |
| 1901 | 75,328.72 | 394,271.05 | 2,760,870 00 |
| 1902 | 109,490.41 | 532,014.71 | 3,173,333 00 |
| 1903 | 119,182.85 | 607,219.23 | 3,607,344 00 |
| 1904 | 139,468.81 | 686,849.30 | 4,144,331 00 |
| 1905 | 151,440.57 | 855,944.73 | 4,710,584 00 |

This excellent showing is due to the careful manner in which the company's affairs have been administered at the head office, and also to the attractive policy contracts with which agents are furnished, and which they find ready sellers.

In 1905 the company's premium income was $151,440.57, and the interest income $28,278.25, making the total income $174,718.72. Out of this there was paid to shareholders $30,762.34; for taxes and licenses, $2,151.40; for expenses, $46,174.18; total $79,137.92. This leaves a balance of income over expenditure of $95,580.80. The assets of the company amount to $855,944.73, of which $455,705.44 bear interest. The total liabilities, excluding capital stock paid up, amount to $580,107.97, showing a surplus to policyholders' account of $191,874.79. The capital stock paid up amounts to $213,856.60.

It seems to be the ambition of the company to move surely rather than swiftly, and the results achieved attest the wisdom of this course.

NEW C. P. R. ROUTE

Surveying Party Leave the City Yesterday.

A C.P.R. survey party left the city yesterday afternoon under the supervision of Chief D. Hillman, of Ottawa, and will make a survey of part of the proposed grain route between Peterboro and Victoria Harbor, commencing in this vicinity. This party consisting of 18, will follow along the same line as the party that left the city previously this winter. The surveying instruments, tools, etc., arrived in the city yesterday from Central Ontario.

Among those in the party besides Chief Hillman, are, A. Warren, H. Starr, W. E. Stilwell, J. Clarke, Milton Wesse, J. Gordon, C. Whitaker, R. Reynolds, W. Robinson, and A. McCharles.

Board of Works In Busy Session

Boundaries of Riverside Park in Dispute Between its Owners and the City--A Norwood Surveyor to Act as Arbitrator--Contract vs. Day Labor

The City Board of Works met in committee-room hall, last night, when there were present; Chairman Ald. Hicks, and Ald. McIntyre, Graham, Johnston and Hall.

CONTRACT vs. DAY LABOR.

A deputation from the Trades and Labor Council waited upon the committee and urged that sewers as well as concrete walks be done by day labor, instead of under contract, in the best interests of the whole community.

This council were represented by C. P. Murty, president; T. J. Stanton, of the Moulders' Union; Ex-Ald. Crowe, of the Moulders' Union; and John Alexander, of the Carpenters' Union.

Ald. Hicks explained to the deputation that they might fully present the Labor Council's views, and the City Council would consider the matter at a subsequent meeting.

Ex-Ald. Crowe thought it might be better at this meeting to discuss the matter with the Board of Works, and arrive at some definite results without any further delay.

Ald. Hicks replied that a compliance with the Trades and Labor Council's request would involve a radical change, and he would prefer his Worship the Mayor, whose experience on public works is wide, to be present, and his opinion consulted, before any definite action being taken in the matter. (Mayor Hall is at present confined to his home, not having been well the last few days.)

Ald. Johnston thought it advisable to set one night apart on which to take up so large a question.

Ald. Hicks explained that the Council had experimented in a small way in building sewers by day labor in the cases of the Boswell avenue and Pearl avenue sewers, with satisfactory results. Such a policy, however, might not prove advisable and economic in all cases. The construction of sewers is altogether a different matter to building sidewalks; and in Toronto, while estimates are called for sewer work, the City Engineering Department always figures the cost of said work by day labor, and the work is done whichever way proves most economical in many cases, however, contractors' estimates prove lower than the estimate fixed by the engineering department, when the work is done under contract.

C. P. Murty offered that when the Labor Council passed the resolution in question they had taken into consideration the saving in cost of the construction of granolithic walks by day labor to this city. He felt that the same principle would apply to sewer work, and pointed out the advantages to be derived by labor through a centralization of the labor desired to carry on sewer work.

Ald. Hicks replied that he agreed with some of Mr. Murty's arguments and said that the present City Council are working along the lines of centralization of labor on all permanent improvements—probably slowly, but surely. But this could be accomplished possibly as well by letting a bigger portion of work under one contract, so that it could be proceeded steadily with throughout the entire season, thus distributing labor more evenly amongst resident mechanics and laborers. He admitted that the Board had made a mistake last year in letting so much work at once under separate contracts, and thus forcing the importation of outside labor to assure a completion of the work within the time limit, to the detriment of our own residents. An effort will be made this year to avoid a repetition of such a course the coming season.

On motion of Ald. Johnston, seconded by Ald. McIntyre, a night will be sent apart especially to discuss this matter jointly with the Trades Council's committee, with a view to reaching some definite decision.

PETITIONS FOR PRIVILEGES.

The request of Wm. Taylor & Co., for the privilege of laying a foot track across Hilliard street from their works to the G.T.R. siding, was granted; the work to be done to thumbsatisfaction of the city engineer, and track to be removed at any time deemed necessary.

The Bell Telephone Company's request for the privilege of erecting new poles on several streets was referred to the city engineer to report.

DISPUTED BOUNDARY.

Messrs J. J. Howden and J. J. Howden, members of the Riverside Park Company, waited upon the Board with a view to arriving at a decision as to be correct south and western boundary of Riverside park, concerning which there is a difference between the owners of the property and the city. The former have since purchased the property, arrived at the conclusion that block F, designating the park, takes in island No. 2, in the river, to which the city is offering decided opposition.

Ald. Hicks suggested that an independent surveyor be engaged, and his survey and research to be accepted as definite. He named Mr. Wilkins of Norwood, as a desirable man for such a duty.

Mr. Howden thought the first plan of block F, made in '71 should rule. He offered that island No. 2, is included in block F, by this plan and consequently belongs to the Riverside Park property.

The city disputes this plan and holds that island No. 2, was never included in the park property, the bounds of which is the visible boundary on the ground.

Ald. Johnston moved that Mr. F. W. Wilkins of Norwood, be employed as surveyor and arbitrator in the matter of defining the boundaries of the Riverside Park; his decision to be final, and the Park Committee to pay half the cost of his survey.

This proving satisfactory to the park people, it was accordingly carried.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Thos. Mahony applied for the position of timekeeper on sewer work, should the city decide to construct sewers by day labor.—This communication was received.

R. C. Braund's application for sewer connection. The city engineer will report on this matter. It appears that a compliance with Mr. Braund's request would interfere with the city's general sewerage system.

E. J. Hickey's request for a crossing opposite his property on Stewart street, will be acted upon, a temporary crossing to hold at present.

BEWARE OF SMITH ST. BRIDGE

The question of the safety of Smith street bridge was taken up, and the city engineer reported that while it is unsafe for heavy loads, no danger exists for light traffic. The Board of Works will, with the engineer, inspect this structure this afternoon, with a view to immediately repairing or rebuilding the same.

The Board then adjourned.

May Be Oil in This County.

It now seems that there may be something in the reports as to oil having been found on the farm of Mr. D. Forsyth, near Warsaw. Mr. Forsyth has had some of the mixture taken from the well, examined by an analyst, who says that there is petroleum there. Many visitors from Petrolia Ont., and other places have inspected the well. Recently two gentlemen from Pittsburg, Pa., called upon Mr. Forsyth. They will not commence operations, however, until they have secured an option on 2,000 acres of land in the vicinity.

Manchuria is Open to all.

Washington, March 21.—The State Department has received a cable report from one of its trusted agents in Manchuria, saying that commerce and trade there are approaching the normal; that the Chinese Government of the province is anxious to take over the civil administration as soon as possible, and that the Japanese troops will be entirely out of Manchuria in a few days, when the country will be opened to the world.

Urge Paper Handkerchiefs.

London, March 21.—Several leading London physicians now are advocating the use of handkerchiefs made of paper. This is not only with the idea of combating the spread of consumption, but a myriad of diseases. It is argued that a linen handkerchief which is carried in the pocket and becomes heated is necessarily a disseminator of undesirable germs and, with the aid of laundries, the constant circulation of deadly organisms is kept up. It is customary in many English sanatoria to provide patients with paper handkerchiefs, which after use are placed in receptacles, where they are immediately cremated. Most of the handkerchiefs used in the sanatoria are of Japanese make. The English make have not come into great favor on account of their being much harder in texture, than the Japanese.

T. V. C. DEPUTATION

400 Circulars Sent Out Inviting Attendance.

In reference to the deputation that will wait on the Dominion Government, in reference to completion of the Trent Valley canal, 400 circulars have been sent out by Ald. Mason and Mr. T. Quarterman, secretary of the Board of Trade. The circular is as follows:

An appointment has been made by Mr. R. R. Hall, M.P.P., with the Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Minister of Railways and Canals, and other Cabinet Ministers, to receive the deputation regarding the Trent Waterway on Thursday, the 29th day of March at 11 a.m.

It is urged that all municipalities interested in the completion of this important work appoint delegates on the deputation, and that all delegates attend; and that other gentlemen who may not be so appointed, but who feel an interest in the object of the deputation, join with them in urging upon the Government the necessity for the completion of the waterway without any delay. It is not necessary to say anything further to point out the great importance of this work to all municipalities between the northern and southern outlets, and a united effort should be made to impress the Minister of Railways and Canals, and the other members of the Government, with the fact that the people interested are determined that this waterway shall be completed as soon as possible. With this object in view it is hoped that the deputation will be a large one.

The delegates are asked to meet in the rotunda of the Russell House in Ottawa, at 9.30 o'clock on the morning of the 29th days of March to complete arrangements for the presentation of the case to the Minister. A memorial will be prepared and submitted to this meeting for approval.

The following rates have been secured from the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Grand Trunk Railway for the delegates.

Per C.P.R.—From points north and west to join delegation at Peterboro, to a party of 10 or more persons one fare and one-third for the return trip to Peterboro, good for three days. (See rate from Peterboro below.)

Per G.T.R.—From all points on the line north, east and west to join delegation at Peterboro, to a party of ten or more persons, one fare and one-third for the return trip to Peterboro, good for three days. (See rate from Peterboro below.)

Above rates will apply to all places on the line to Ottawa and return for three days.

Per C.P.R.—Rate from Peterboro to Ottawa, round trip, good for three days, $2.25. Special train leaves Peterboro at one p.m. on Wednesday, 28th March, 1906, for Ottawa, and returning, leaves Ottawa for Peterboro on Thursday evening at seven o'clock, arriving there at midnight, or by any regular train up to and including Friday, 30th March, 1906.

A BIG THING FOR CANADA

Electric Smelting of Iron Ores Proves a Great Success

MEANS A LOT FOR COUNTRY

Water Power Will Give Cheap Smelted Ore and Plenty Exists.

Ottawa, March 21.—Canada is on the eve of remarkable developments in the smelting of magnetic ores, the manufacture of steel and the production of nickel pig by the electric system. This is proved beyond all doubt by a telegram which Hon. Frank Oliver, Minister of the Interior, received from Dr. Eugene Haanel, Superintendent of Mines, who has been conducting experiments at Sault Ste. Marie.

Electrical furnaces of special design were constructed and electrical appliances of the finest kind obtained from the Westinghouse Company and from Sweden. It is in this furnace that pig iron, steel and nickel pig have been produced on a large scale.

It is impossible to overrate the important consequences to Canada bound to follow from these successful experiments. With the vast deposits of iron ore existing throughout Ontario and Quebec, and contiguous to them large water powers for the cheap production of electrical energy, it does not need much thinking to see that iron and steel industries free from the smoke nuisance will be speedily established. The successful production of nickel pig is also a wonderful achievement. In the Sudbury district the supply of ore is almost inexhaustible, and for the finished product there is an immense and ever-growing demand. Further particulars of the scientific triumphs at the Soo will be eagerly awaited, but enough has been learned to prove that Canada will be one of the greatest iron, steel and nickel producing countries in the world.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

The only case tried yesterday was that of Charles Clarke and H. Raymond. Mr. McWilliams, who appeared for H. Raymond, elected to take summary trial by the Magistrate, Mr. R. J. Kidd, who lives at 491 Aylmer street, said that a number of articles were taken from his woodshed. Saw the goods there March 2nd. There is a hook inside the door, holding it closed. $10 worth of goods were taken. Recognized a rubber of his at George Stevens' place. Clarke had been at his place several times. To Mr. McWilliams, witness is positive it was Friday, two weeks ago, he missed the goods. The blanket and sheets were lying on a woodpile, and were worth about $1. To Mr. Laplante, acting for Clarke, witness had Clarke's house searched, but found nothing.

W. Menzies, who lives on Rubidge street, near Mr. Kidd's house on Aylmer street. Saw the prisoners in Kerrigan's stable within two doors of Mr. Kidd's house. Saw prisoners filling a bag.

Mr. Wood here remarked, "Your Worship the case must fail, as I expected the last witness to prove he had seen prisoners in Mr. Kidd's shed.

His Worship told the prisoners that whilst men of their calling fill a useful position in one way, they can easily become a nuisance. There was not sufficient evidence to convict them in the this case. He warned them that if any men in their business are ever proven guilty he will impose a heavy penalty. The prisoners were then discharged.

After the trial was over, Mr. George Stevens told the press representatives that the man Charles Clark was a slick one. He would come to sell goods to his (Stevens') yard and they had to watch him or he would take away goods and bring them back for sale. In fact, as employee of his, who looks after the establishment, once gave Clark 25 cents a week to keep away from his place altogether.

THE NEW ALDERMAN

Mr. T. J. Wilson Takes Usual Oath of Office.

Mr. T. J. Wilson, who was the unsuccessful candidate for aldermanic honors, but who headed the list of "left," has taken his declaration of office before City Clerk S. B. Armstrong, and he is now entitled to be addressed as Ald. Wilson, and he will occupy the vacant chair, formerly occupied by the late Ald. Kelly. Ald. Wilson will be formerly accepted by the council at the next meeting.

FORT FRANCES, ONTARIO

On the Main Line of the Canadian Northern.

The most progressive town in Canada, with a great future, as it will have direct railway communication with Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago this year. The Grand Trunk Pacific branch to the north-east and main line passing through a rich mineral country, and near the richest gold mine in the world will be commenced this year. Steamboats navigate the immense area of water in Rainy Lake, Rainy River and Lake of the Woods. Forty thousand horse power being developed in the centre of the town. Lumber, minerals and the best farming land in Ontario. This great country is unknown to the eastern people, but from all the Western States are coming, daily, people investing in town lots and farm lands. Prices are doubling and trebling in a few months. There are only two towns between Port Arthur and Winnipeg, a distance of 500 miles, they are Fort Frances and Rainy River.

Ninety-eight lots in Fort Frances, surveyed August, 1905, for sale at $20 each, until April 1st, not less than five lots to one buyer. Buyer of 10 lots in one block will get a discount. Blue print on view. George Stethem.

A Wonderful Pen.

Berlin, March 21.—Messrs. Siemens & Halske, engineers of this city, have just invented a pen which is made from tantalite, a metal said to be practically indestructible. Sheets of tantalite have been submitted to the action of a diamond drill with remarkable results. The drill was kept working continuously for seventy-two hours at the rate of 5,000 revolutions per minute, and the tantalite received scarcely any perceptible indentation. A pen made with the metal is said to be harder, and yet more elastic than the steel article, and yet more pliable than the gold nib.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

BASEBALL.

Mr. Peter Kerr, president of the Guild League, has called a meeting of the league executive for Friday, March 30th, at the Y.M.C.A. The guild will probably put up a faster article of baseball this coming season than ever before, and this is saying a good deal. The Charlotte street team have already secured Outlen, of Lindsay, who is a good ball player. The St. John's Guild are hopeful that their team will do things this summer, and think their second baseman is the goods. Both the St. Andrew's and St. Paul's teams are strong and will probably give all competitors a good hard tussle.

CURLING.

Once more the doughty skips of Lindsay, have won out from the local knights of the stones. At the games held in Scugogville on Tuesday, both afternoon and evening, the locals made 146 to 157 of the adversaries.

A movement is on foot to have a contest between the Grit and Tory curlers of the local club.

HOOKEY.

Secretary T. A. Welch of the Marlboros said that they played Ridpath and Young against Peterboro because the players in question "fully intend clearing themselves before the O.H.A., which would simply become a harder proposition if the members of their own club would prejudice their case by branding them as professionals before the hockey public at large, in leaving them off their team."

The champion Kenora Thistles will not play the talked-off game with the Houghton team.

Woodstock Sentinel-Review: The Marlboros laughed in the face of the O.H.A. by playing some of the New Liskeard ringers against Peterboro. It is a wonder the Peters consented to participate in a game against the ringers.

Manager N. E. Irving, of Guelph, writes that he had had no answers to his acceptance on behalf of the King brothers, the champion family team, of the offers of the Falls of Toronto. The Kings are ready to play in Guelph Friday, Saturday or Monday, with the return in Toronto on any date suitable to the Halls. They would like to hear from the North Toronto family.

THE DOCTOR HABIT

And How She Overcame It.

When well selected food has helped the honest physician place his patient in sturdy health and free from the "doctor habit" it is a source of satisfaction to all parties. A Chicago woman says:

"We have not had a doctor in the house during all the 5 years that we have been using Grape-Nuts food. Before we began, however, we had "the doctor habit," and scarcely a week went by without a call on our physician.

"When our youngest boy arrived, 5 years ago, I was very much run down and nervous, suffering from indigestion and almost continuous headaches. I was not able to attend to my ordinary domestic duties and was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself. Under advice I took to Grape-Nuts.

"I am now, and have been ever since we began to use Grape-Nuts food, able to do all my own work. The dyspepsia, headaches, nervousness and rheumatism which used to drive me fairly wild, have entirely disappeared.

"My husband finds that in the night work in which he is engaged, Grape-Nuts food supplies him the most wholesome, strengthening and satisfying lunch he ever took with him. Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

"There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Says New Bill Will Kill Local Option

In Their View This is the Most Objectional Feature of the Proposed New Law.

Toronto, March 22.—"In some respects the proposed new license act," in the opinion of Mr. Frank S. Spence, "contains provisions in harmony with the Government's pronounced policy of improvement and enforcement of the license system. Some of its features are, however, decidedly retrogressive.

"The proposed alterations increasing the penalties imposed for law violation upon licensed liquor sellers, are, on the main good, though the proposals are unnecessarily complicated. All sale of liquor outside permitted hours, places and persons, should have been treated as being what it really is, unlicensed sale and punished as such. The new measure, however, is a decided improvement on the old law in its provisions concerning penalties for some offences of licensees.

AN IMPORTANT GAIN.

"The section that compels a municipal council to submit a local option prohibitory by-law when twenty-five per cent. of the electors petition for such submission, constitutes an important gain, abolishing the unfair conditions which permit a bare majority of the municipal council to thwart the will of the majority of the electors. Another improvement is the provision that when a local option by-law has been approved by the electors, the municipal council must give it a third reading as to bring it into operation.

"The new law further makes progress by the reenactment of what used to be Section 105 of the Ontario License Law, which was recently repealed for some unexplained reason, and which makes easier the enforcement of law by providing that technical errors in information and procedure shall not invalidate convictions. It also abolishes the mischievous tied-house system."

Raising the license fee will, he says, not help the temperance cause, although there is a measure of justice in making the liquor sellers pay a part of the expense to which they put the community. Bartenders are to be discussed. It is doubtful whether either good or evil will result from this. Much of the bill has this character.

LOCAL OPTION SPOILED.

The change in the new bill, providing that local option shall not be considered as carried unless three-fifths of the votes cast in the voting are in favor of the by-law, is probably the most objectionable feature in the proposed law.

"This is most unjust," says Mr. Spence, "practically declaring that the vote of the temperance man is not to be considered as equivalent to the vote of a man in favor of the liquor traffic. It is the proposal which the Liberal Government made at first in reference to the referendum of 1902, and which raised such a storm of opposition that the Government was compelled to withdraw it, and substitute another proposal less palpably unjust, but still so unfair that it was strongly denounced by temperance workers. Under the new proposal the votes of forty-one friends of the bar-room will defeat the votes of fifty-nine temperance electors.

HOW IT WOULD WORK.

"So far local option by-laws have been carried in 104 municipalities, with the result of closing 236 liquor selling places, every one of which was [illegible]. The provisions of the new law would have made the number of liquor-selling places closed only 110.

"During the present year we have carried local option by-laws in 58 municipalities, putting of 162 licenses. Under the proposed change we could have counted as carried only 27, and cut off licenses numbering only 64. The liquor traffic would still go on in 98 bar rooms in municipalities in which majorities had voted for prohibition.

"This proposition of minority rule to the advantage of the liquor traffic is one that has no basis of common sense or equal rights. It also takes away from the electors the home protection power which they have hitherto enjoyed. It is retrogressive legislation of the most one-sided and unjust kind.

"As the law now stands a 'local option by-law when carried must remain in force for three years. The new law provides that it may be repealed in two years. This is a very bad change. The new law also prohibits temperance electors from having a second vote on the question of local option, for two years after they have voted. This proposition does not contain the manifest injustice of those already mentioned, but it takes away rights which the electors now have."

BANWELL PLEADS GUILTY

To the Theft of $40,000--Sentence to Be Passed on Saturday--Mrs. Banwell's Trial Next Week.

Toronto, March 22.—Before Judge Winchester, in the sessions, yesterday afternoon, in the presence of a crowd of men and women that jammed the room, Mr. E. E. A. DuVernet announced that E. S. Banwell had decided to plead guilty to the charge of theft and receiving $40,350.33 from the Crown Bank.

Banwell was remanded until Saturday for sentence, before which Mr. DuVernet will make a plea for leniency.

For Mrs. Banwell, on the charge of receiving stolen money, Mr. DuVernet entered a plea of not guilty, and her trial was fixed for early next week.

The ladies in court took the case in different moods.

"It's a shame—a shame—here we spend so much money, and it goes like this!" deplored a well-dressed lady who had been sitting by the dock. She was evidently disappointed at not hearing a trial.

Another determined-looking woman haunted the corridors in an endeavor to find Judge Winchester and plead that Banwell should go let off.

Mrs. Banwell came into the court room rosy and smiling, looking to better advantage than at any other court appearance. Every woman in the court room was much interested in Mrs. Banwell. She sat by her counsel.

Banwell when he appeared, looked pale, but quite composed. He was placed in the dock, and immediately his wife took her place by his side.

He Looks To Astronomers

New York Divine Says That Powerful Microscope Will Find New Jerusalem.

Macon, Mo., March 21.—That the New Jerusalem is a real, material city and that astronomers may soon discover the center of the universe, which is the city of God, is the conviction of Rev. William Cobourn, of New York, expressed in a sermon at the First church here today. Rev. Mr. Cobourn has been conducting a series of revivals here, and today when he delivered his remarkable sermon on the New Jerusalem and the after life, the church, which has a seating capacity of 1,000 persons, would not accommodate the audience.

Taking for his text (Heb. xi. 16), "Wherefore God is not ashamed to be called their God; for He hath prepared for them a city," he said in part: "It is impossible to conceive the spirit taking up the various relations of life in the world without a body and a sphere of activity for that body. Logic that requires a body and a world here demands a body and a world beyond the grave.

LOOKS TO THE TELESCOPE.

"It was a supreme moment in the history of the race when Galileo placed his eye to the telescope with its newly-discovered powers. Up to that time the life of man has been earth centered, the sun, the moon and the stars all revolved around him on earth. Galileo found that, instead of our earth being the center of the solar unmeasured universe, it was one of the smallest bodies of the solar system, and that it, together with others much larger, revolved around the sun, which, with other systems like our own, was revolving around another and a larger and more central sun.

"This leads to the sublime question, which was presented at a meeting of noted astronomers: 'What is the great center of all?' An impressive hush fell upon the assembly of famous men. It was replied to in this language by a man who stands at the very head of astronomical thought and discovery:

THINKS HEAVEN IS PIVOT.

"'I know not what others may think, but it seems to me it must be the throne of God.'

"If you tell me, then, where this great sun is, above which all suns and stars and worlds revolve, I will tell you where God's city is, for the throne is in the midst of the city.

"The hour is at hand when astronomy will be able to locate, out in the brilliant constellations yonder, the very spot, the center of the Universe of God. There are those who are studying to that end right now, and they feel the wondrous enthusiasm which springs from the thought that they are approaching nearer and nearer the hour and the place."

BLACK KNIGHTS

Two Hundred Delegates Attend Annual Meeting in Lindsay.

The Grand Black Chapter of Eastern Ontario, Royal Black Knights of Ireland, met on March 20th, in the chamber rooms of the Royal Black Preceptory, No. 262, Lindsay. Right Worshipful Sir Knight Col. J. E. Halliwell, Grand Master, in the chair. An address of welcome was presented to the Grand Chapter and visiting Sir Knights by Sir Knight Warren, worshipful preceptor of the host preceptory, which was suitably acknowledged by the Right Worshipful the Grand Master. The afternoon was taken up with routine business. About two hundred delegates are present.

—Ernest Smith, St. Catharines; Thos. Kinnear, Toronto; J. Lightstone, Montreal; S. W. Tapp, Penetang; A. R. Taylor, Toronto; Geo. E. Bousfield, Buffalo Daily Bros., Niagara, are guests at the Kenedon House.

King Cobalt Mining Company

No Personal Liability.
CAPITAL, $300,000
PAR VALUE OF SHARES $1.00 EACH.

The Directors of this Company have decided to offer a limited number of shares for sale at par, to subscribers who make application before March 20th. This Company capitalized at only $300,000. The property which it is intended to operate and on which a considerable amount of development work is done, is situated on Cross Lake, and is known as the McChesney property. It adjoins the Watt property, on which is a paying mine, and is in close proximity to other paying properties. It is the opinion of experts that this is one of the best properties in the district. Assays of ore from the property went over $700 to the ton. The Directors reserve the right to allot a smaller amount of shares than the amount applied for. Applications for stock and all cheques should be made to the Secretary-Treasurer, Medical Council Building, Toronto.

Pale and Anxious

Your Countenance Indicates the Body's Awful Struggle for Health.

Impossible to work or think clearly when there is no reserve of vigor, no nourishment in the blood, no supply of nerve energy.

The life of the half-sick man is pitiful, in fact, almost criminal, when humdrum strength is so quickly derived from Ferrozone.

This nutritive tonic is guaranteed to strengthen all men, women and children. Weak organs get new force, vital energy is generated. Muscle and fat are added, healthy color is restored and the blood fairly tingles with new-found life.

Read the evidence of Jno. Carter, of 151 King St. East, Toronto, who says:

"After a severe attack of Grippe my health was almost shattered. I suffered constantly from nervousness and dyspepsia. At night I would waken with terrible palpitation and heart pains. Work became a great effort. At ten in the morning I was so tired and weak I could hardly work another minute.

"Then came a bad attack of rheumatism which laid me up in bed. I could scarcely lift the weight of a pound and to stoop or bend was impossible. My druggist recommended Ferrozone, and he knew what he was talking about, for it rebuilt my strength, gave me abundant appetite, better blood, and new nerve energy. The rheumatism has disappeared. I weigh more, feel refreshed and vigorous, and am able to work ten hours a day. Ferrozone did it all."

You will be steadied, toned and strengthened for all time to come with Ferrozone. Get the genuine in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., or Kingston, Ont.

TUNNEL UNDER ENGLISH CHANNEL.

With the increase of good-fellowship between France and England, talk of tunneling the English Channel, thereby forming a new bond between the two countries has been revived. During the recent sojourn of the London County Council in Paris its members inspected the model of a tunnel entirely new. The distinctive feature of the new scheme is that the tunnel is carried into the cliffs, well above the sea, on each side of the Channel. The old fear that has always arisen in one country or the other when such a scheme was broached in the past—that the tunnel would allow French troops to invade England, or vice versa—has now been laughed to scorn. The new tunnel could be cannonaded from the sea or easily blown up—or down, as the case would be—with mines, while on the French side there is a viaduct connecting the submarine with the aerial sections of the tunnel, and forming a ready target for the guns of a fleet in the Straits. The matter is certain to be revived in its new aspect before Parliament at an early day. Little opposition to the scheme, if any, is looked for from France. The Northern France Railway Company is convinced that an enormous extension of traffic would take place between the two countries if once the fear of seasickness were removed. At present the annual exchange of passengers is only 1,200,000, which is a small figure beside the Anglo-Belgian traffic of 4,000,000. The number of British visitors to France, although about a hundred times more than the flow from the French side, has doubled itself in the last decade. Assuming, say the Frenchmen, that it was 2,000,000 at the opening of the tunnel, it is hardly too much to suppose that it will jump to ten in a very short time. Fear of a French invasion having been allayed, Englishmen, it is thought, may object to the tunnel on the ground that the construction would result in a blow to British shipping interests, because commodities bound east would go direct to Marseilles instead of from Liverpool or London, and France probably be carried in French bottoms. To this objection, M. Bartiaux, the director of the Chemin de Fer du Nord, has this to say: "I guarantee that the British mercantile marine would not lose a telegram. The route under the sea is bound to be expensive for many years to come and would be almost exclusively for passenger traffic. The route under the sea is bound to be expensive for many years to come, and would be almost exclusively for passenger traffic. Of course perishable commodities would go that way, but the loss would be to our own ships and the English Channel steamers."

A PARSONS' UNION.

One of the latest and most freakish developments of trades-unionism is the formation of a union by the preachers of New Brunswick, N.J. The preachers' union is affiliated with the central federation of that city. Hereafter, it is to be presumed, no parson will be allowed to expound the word of God in New Brunswick unless he carries a union card or wears a union button. The Bibles used will, of course, be required to have the union ticket printed upon them conspicuously. The religious doctrine dispensed will be of the union brand, which declares in effect that "thou shalt kill" —if the person to be killed is a scab. Of course, it will be against the union rules for a totemitt preacher to deliver a funeral sermon over the remains of a non-unionist, or to perform the marriage ceremony unless the contracting parties bear the union label. The New Brunswick parsons will be expected, without doubt, to go out on a sympathetic strike, if a member of the cooks' union or the hodcarriers' union should be discharged. In anticipation of such a denouement members of the preachers' union will doubtless go into training at once, so as to become proficient in the gentle art of throwing brickbats and wielding clubs, in conformity to the habits of their fellow-unionists in the United States when strikes are in progress. It is further stated, on good authority, that the union parsons of New Brunswick have notified St. Peter that no one is to be admitted to heaven unless he can show a union card, and that if this rule be violated heaven will be listed as "unfair." In that case, members of the union will be obliged to go to the other place; and it is certain that they will find there a large company of their own sort. Hooray for the parsons' labor union of New Brunswick, N. J.

LICENSE FEES ARE INCREASED

Provincial Secretary Hanna Brings Down His Promised Bill.

Toronto, March 21.—The various galleries were filled both with liquor and temperance men, yesterday afternoon, when Hon. Mr. Hanna, the Provincial Secretary, brought down his license bill.

A feature is a substantial increase in the fees, and another important aspect is that the Government and municipalities will now share and share alike. Heretofore, the Government has had an advantage in the revenue.

In the case of the city, Toronto wanted the whole. Instead with others, it will get half.

The measure provides for the issue of licenses to firms and individuals and of licenses to firms and companies, as well as to individuals.

Municipalities adopting local option must provide for its enforcement.

A bylaw on local option shall and must be submitted on the petition of 25 per cent. of the ratepayers. To pass, a bylaw must have a majority of three-fifths. Once voted on, and lost, it must not be submitted again for two years.

There shall be no special census; the latest complete municipal census is to be used.

The measure, said Mr. Hanna, was to enable the Government to carry out its policy of strict enforcement of the liquor laws. It provided against fraud, and it provided against tied houses.

The clause in the old act permitting hotels to serve liquors to guests in the dining-room is omitted from the new one.

COMPROMISE IN MOROCCO CASE

France Yields on Bank Issue and Germany Made Concessions as to Police.

Berlin, March 21.—Herr Von Radowitz and Count Von Tattenbach, the German representatives at Algeciras, have been instructed by the Foreign Office here, provided France meets the German views on questions of the Moroccan Bank, to yield on the police question to the extent of giving up Cape Blanco as the headquarters of the inspector-General, but retaining a neutral inspectorship with real powers of control over the police. Previous advices from Algeciras have led the German Government to expect that such proposals would be acceptable to France. Therefore, although no despatches have been received from Algeciras today, The Foreign Office here is convinced that a settle is in imminent prospect.

PAVED THE WAY.

Paris, March 21.—The Foreign Office expects an early understanding at Algeciras, but no information to the effect that such an agreement has actually been achieved has reached Paris. The officials say that Germany's waiving of her demand for a foreign commander of the police at Cape Blanco paved the way for a settlement of the police question. Germany's proposition upon the Moroccan Bank question is now awaited.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 5,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tharsis mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increased with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

Scouting parties were made up instantly; alarms were sent out; couriers scoured the country in all directions; telegrams were sent to all the near stations detailing the case. The little Reine in peril? Who could stop to rest while her fate was clouded in such dark and terrible mystery!

Noiselessly the guests had taken their departure, and a gloom that was not destined to be lessened for many a long and weary day settled over Fairlawn Villa.

As the gray dawn broke over the hills and vales of Virginia the searching parties came in one by one without tidings. If the snow-clad earth had opened and swallowed her Reine Hastings could not have vanished more completely from their sight, leaving no trace, no clew, behind her.

The whole country about was aroused and joined in the search, headed by Bernard Cheseigh and the white-haired old general.

They could neither rest or sleep until some trace, some tidings of Reine could be found. A day passed: another night, and yet another day was born. But no trace of the missing bride could be found.

Servants went about Fairlawn Villa with noiseless footsteps and spoke in whispers. It almost seemed as if the general's lovely young daughter lay dead within those walls, the sorrowing for her was so bitter and so terrible.

What Bernard Cheseigh suffered no one will ever know. Lines of care and grief furrowed his grave, handsome face.

At the end of the third day an idea had occurred to him. He wondered greatly that he had not put it into execution long before.

He sent to Washington, asking that the cleverest and most successful detective that money could procure should be sent to him without delay.

The story had been printed in the journals of the great capital, and had aroused public sympathy and public interest.

The chief of the great detective bureau responded at once by sending on one of his most expert attaches—a man young as far as years went, but with a very old and fertile brain.

It was the chief's experience that the old detectives generally adopted the same methods for unearthing mysteries—traveling in the old, beaten rut. Young brains were quick and more ingenious.

He put the case in the hands of Donald Gray, who had never lost a case; his success was almost phenomenal. He would unearth the whereabouts of the missing young bride if any one could. He would soon track her down to the doom that had fallen upon her.

Mr. Gray was studying up the case from the printed account in the Washington paper all the way on the train, and was quite familiar with the details when the train slackened before the little depot half a mile from Fairlawn Villa.

There was nothing about the beardless young man's appearance to attract a second glance from a casual observer, and no one noticed him as he alighted from the car and stood for a moment on the platform looking about him.

At length he approached a gentleman who had just alighted from a spirited bay horse.

"Can you tell me, sir," he asked, "if the road to the right leads to the village and on to the suburbs?"

The gentleman started so suddenly forward that the cigar he held in his white fingers fell to the ground. He frowned and answered impatiently:

"It leads through the village, and as far to the right as Fairlawn Villa, then it branches westward to, and beyond Waldron Towers."

A sudden thought came to the young detective—that perhaps the gentleman before him was Bernard Cheseigh—the bridegroom from whom General Hastings' lovely young daughter had fled upon her wedding-night.

If it was, he did not blame her—for there was something in his face that he did not quite like.

He was dressed in the height of fashion; the seal overcoat he wore set off his figure to the best advantage. It was thrown open, revealing a magnificent diamond stud that gleamed like a star of fire on his immaculate shirt front.

He was faultless in appearance, yet the unerring detective did not quite like his looks, and the feeling of dislike grew upon him each moment the stranger stood before him.

He made a bold move.

"I beg your pardon, sir," he said, touching his hat, "may I inquire if you are Mr. Cheseigh?"

"Why do you ask?" retorted the young man, sharply.

"Simply from curiosity. I was wondering if you were the hero of the romance I read of which occurred hereabouts. Again I beg pardon, if my question was impertinent."

His companion laughed harshly, jeeringly, and a malignant light flashed into his slumbrous eyes.

He took a cigar from his pocket and proceeded to light it, striking the match on the sole of his polished boot before he deigned a reply.

"Mistaking me for the discarded bridegroom! That's decidedly rich!" he said, with another laugh. "No, young man, I am not Bernard Cheseigh—I am Waldemar Waldron, of Waldron Towers, which lies in the dense cypress wood about a mile from here."

CHAPTER X.

The detective made his way at once to Fairlawn Villa. He was immediately shown to the library, where Bernard Cheseigh sat with his face buried in his hands.

He placed a chair for his visitor and, although apparently he was greatly disappointed that so young a man had been sent to him to undertake such a difficult and highly important case, he would have shown no older man of more experience.

Donald Gray listened very attentively to every minute detail concerning Reine's past.

"Ah! there is an old lover in the case," he ruminated, as they told had sent away long months before, and who had never visited the villa him of the suitor whom the general

What the detective's thoughts were—if he had any—when they told him the name of the lover who had been so summarily dismissed, his face never betrayed.

In the writing-desk in Reine's boudoir Mr. Gray found a packet of letters tied with a violet ribbon These he took possession of to peruse and study out at his leisure They were Waldemar Waldron's letters to Reine.

"There shall be no lack of money in aiding you to work out the solution of this mystery, Mr. Gray," the general said to him. "I am a man of means Restore my darling daughter to me, and I will make you a rich man for life"

"I will do my best, sir," returned the young detective, earnestly

OF CALUMET, MICHIGAN,

offers a limited amount of its Treasury Stock at ONE DOLLAR per share, full paid and non-assessable. Properties consisting of four groups of lode claims and equal to claim area of 27 full lode claims, or about 370 acres, with two valuable water rights and a water reservoir—a lake of about 30 acres surface area.

Development is equal to 1700 lineal feet, at a cost of $15 per lineal foot—tunnels, drifts, cross-cuts, winze and surface cuts and trenches, and one ten gravity stamp concentrating mill. Three groups, water rights, mill and tunnel sites, etc., are fully paid; one group, held on title bond, is partly paid for. Good Grade of Profitable Milling ore blocked out, in sight, to last for a sixty ton mill for over two years time. Safe and conservative estimate for mining the ore, delivering and milling it, at a cost of about $4.00 per ton. Three separate mill runs, for testing purposes, have returned from $8.00 to $14.70 per ton of rock, principally in gold.

This is a Bonanza for Intelligent Investors

In order to make operations absolutely up-to-date, perfect, both the mining and the reduction of ores, the Board of Directors have placed a limited amount of Treasury Stock at par value $1.00 per share on the market. Six reports of mine well known mining men. Properties situated in San Juan Gold Belt, San Miguel County, Southwestern Colorado.

ECONOMY, HONESTY and CONSERVATISM

HIGH AND WORSH...

YOU ARE AILING

Find the Cause or the Weakness and Nervous Dread That Overshadows Your Life.

You can't keep up forever.

Sooner or later Nature will rebel against the strain that is imposed on your overworked system. So far, will power and nerve may have tied you over, but the end is probably near at hand.

To-day the common complaint with weak men and women is lack of kidney vitality. Here you have the cause of your ill-health.

Wouldn't it be wise to use a time-tested remedy like Dr. Hamilton's Pills—they cure that "ailing" feeling in one night. Next morning you feel like new—bright, fresh and happy. Appetite improves, dull, sallow color grows ruddy and clear, proving that great good is being done by this scientific medicine.

Thus writes Mrs. D. F. Fowler, from Yarmouth: "I used to feel drowsy and heavy, my color was sallow, and there was taste in and to in my mouth. I had vague pains all through my limbs, and an annoying headache as well.

"After one do e of Dr. Hamilton's Pills there was a sudden change. I felt better, my appetite increased, and that exhaustion and depression gradually left me. Life seemed brighter and happier after I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and I strongly recommend such a good medicine."

Mrs. Fowler's letter is a message to you and all others in poor health. You can't do better than follow her advice. Dr. Hamilton's Pills you certainly need; then why not get them now and enjoy the abundant good health they are sure to bring you? Price 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1.00. At all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE FORTUNE FAKE

Mr. Dennis Daly's Fortune Invested in Castles in Spain.

Several persons were taken in yesterday by a joke played on, but understood as such by Mr. Dennis Daly an employe of the Queen's Hotel.

It seems that Mr. Daly was, on Monday in receipt of a letter from a gentleman who used the letter head of a Hawkesbury, Que., hotel, notifying him that he had been instructed by a barrister at Dublin, Ireland, to locate the whereabouts of Dennis Daly, who the letter states, is the heir to a large fortune in Ireland. The writer states in his letter that the Dublin solicitor states that Dennis Daly, is the heir to a large fortune, possibly $100,000. The next of kin to the woman who left the money was killed while fighting with the Dublin Fusiliers in the Boer war. Mr. Lebarn further states that from information he has obtained he believes Dennis Daly is the heir to this fortune.

A Times representative yesterday was telephoned for and went to the Queen's Hotel, to get the joyous news that an old Peterboro man had become heir to a fortune.

A very casual glance at the envelope containing the notice to Mr. Daly, disclosed the fact that the whole matter was fake, simply "fake."

The stamps on the envelope containing the notification to Mr. Daly, had evidently been taken from other letters and pasted on the envelope addressed to Mr. Daly. The official cancellation made by the different post offices through which they had come, were different. One bore a cancellation made by a circular shaped die, the center stamp was partially obliterated by still another cancellation mark, and the stamp to the extreme right was cancelled by still another mark.

On the same day as Mr. Daly received his notice of the fortune left, him, Mr. Tooley, proprietor of the hotel where Daly works, was sent a letter corroborating the news. On Mr. Tooley's letter, sent by nearer, and written on the same letter head, the stamp had been carefully obliterated by a pen. "Nuff sed."

CHARTER EXTENDED

Local Street Railway Must Start One Branch in Three Years.

The Railway Committee of the Ontario Government has passed a bill empowering the Peterboro Radial Company to extend its line from Clear Lake to Stony Lake, through the townships of Douro, Dummer and Smith.

Mr. R. M. Dennistoun, of Peterboro, appeared for the company. He stated that the Quaker Oats Company, which has mills in Peterboro, are behind the project, and have been so pleased with the success of the existing line that they had plans completed for a road over an independent right of way to Young's Point.

The Peterboro Radian Railway Company's bill will not be reported to the House until the Government's bill has passed the committee.

The committee consented to allow the Peterboro Radial Railway Co., three years in which to commence the construction of their lines outside the city limits, and five years from the date of passing the bill in which to complete the same.

The charter granted in 1902, authorizes the company to construct branches to Bliss Lake, Chemong Lake and Clear Lake, although the latter branch is the only one that has as yet been surveyed. The bill passed gives the company additional authority to extend their branch to Clear Lake to Stony Lake, the route goes through the township of Smith, the terminus would naturally be Burleigh Falls, and at MacCracken's Landing if it goes through Douro and Dummer.

An Opposition Weigh Scale.

It is rumored that a local man intends placing a large platform scale near the market square to compete with the business done by the scale now in operation by the town. This gentleman has already completed arrangements for purchase of an excellent platform scale that will weigh as high as ten tons and which has, about a year ago been passed and stamped by the inland revenue officers. Thus, if this gentleman carries out his intention, will materially cut into the profits of Mr. Brown, the present purchaser of the [illegible]

HIGHER LICENSES

The City Will Gain Over $3,300 By New License Law.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, the Ontario Government has been considering changes in the license law, especially as regards the amount to be paid next year for hotel and shop licenses.

The result of their deliberations has now been made known. Under the new law this city will be a material gainer.

There are twenty-one tavern licenses, five retail shop licenses in Peterboro, the total revenue from which last year was $7,020 in license fees.

Under the provisions of the new act, which was introduced in the Ontario Legislature on Tuesday, and probably will become law on May 1st, the license fee for either a tavern or shop in a city this size, is $500, and the total revenue will be $13,000.

This means that if all the licenses are renewed the hotelmen and liquor dealers will on twenty-six licenses pay $5,980 more a year under the $500 license fee than under the $270—the present figure.

The above figures do not include the one wholesale liquor license ($250) in Peterboro.

Out of the $270 collected from each license $150 in the past has gone to the province, and $120 to the city.

Under the new act half of the $500 license will go to the province, and half to the city, this being share and share alike.

This on twenty-six licenses will mean an added revenue to the corporation of $3,380 annually.

The total income to the city from liquor licenses will thus be $6,500 in 1906, instead of $3,120 as last year—a gain of $3,380.

The new act provides, as already stated that the license fee in cities from 10,000 to 20,000, shall be $500 for either shop or tavern, so that the amount paid by local liquor dealers for 21 tavern and five shop licenses will be $13,000, while under the present act at $270, it was $7,020.

Of course it must be borne in mind that some of the city fathers have gone into the council pledged to reduce the number of local liquor licenses; should one or two be cut off, which seems improbable, the city's revenue will still be greater the coming, than last year. Again there is a chance that a few of the present license holders will not, or could not afford to, pay the extra $230 license fee demanded.

The general sentiment of the local hotelmen is not against the increased fee; such of them as were seen, donot object to the increased fee provided, it may have a tendency to "rease out those who persistently violate the law regarding selling liquor during prohibited hours.

New Fire Engine is Good.

Mr. James English one of Peterboro's veteran firemen, and one of the best posted authorities on fire engines, yesterday stated in the hearing of a Times' representative that the new engine recently purchased by the city is a good one, in fact one of the best. Mr. English, however, thinks that the day of the steam fire engine is rapidly passing. He compares the comparitively slow work of a steam fire engine in getting into business, unfavorably with that done by a hydrant connected with a proper sized hose.

FALL CATARRH

Disease Prevalent Now, But Can be Quickly Cured with Hyomei

A great many people suffer more with catarrh during the fall months than at any other season of the year, the changes in weather seeming to have a bad effect upon the disease.

Some of the cures made by Hyomei seem marvelous. When one remembers that the patients had suffered from catarrh since childhood, and that for years they had been unable to get a good night's sleep, on account of the disagreeable tickling and dropping at the back of the throat caused by this offensive disease. A few day's treatment with Hyomei brought quick relief, and its continued use made a complete and lasting cure.

By breathing Hyomei through the pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, all the air passages of the lungs and throat are filled with air laden with Nature's remedies for the cure of catarrh. All disease germs are killed, and the irritated mucous membrane is healed.

The complete outfit costs but $1.00, extra bottles 50 cents. Compare this small expense with the fees charged by specialists.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

THE NEW SCHOOL

Special Committee of Board of Education Consider Plans.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Architect W. Blackwell was, a few weeks ago, asked by the Board of Education to make plans for the new school for the south ward. Mr. Blackwell having gotten the plans ready, the special committee of the Board, met on Tuesday afternoon in the office of the secretary of the Board, Mr. G. W. Morrow. The plans as far as they have been prepared, were looked over and discussed.

It is expected that Mr. Blackwell will have the plans finished in a few days, when tenders for construction will be asked for.

A Challenge to the German Government

Negotiations Over Morocco Dispute Take a Bad Turn, Thanks to Russia.

Berlin, March 23.—Russia's instructions to Count Cassini, her chief delegate to the Moroccan conference, have affected the German Government most unfavorably, and came almost as a challenge at the moment that a settlement of the questions in dispute at Algeciras seemed certain. It is not improbable that the attitude of both the French and German delegates will be influenced thereby.

Despatches from Algeciras today indicate an unyielding disposition on either side over the question whether the French and Spanish inspectors of police shall co-operate in each harbor or consist of four exclusively French and four exclusively Spanish inspectors.

The instructions to Count Cassini read as follows: "The Government thinks it is necessary to deny the statement representing that it is supporting the creation of a special police organization at Casa Blanca and opposing the French standpoint. This is untrue. In order to avoid a false interpretation of this important question you will assure the French plenipotentiary of your willingness to assist him regarding the police question at the mentioned harbor. At the same time this instruction shall be handed over to the powers at the conference in order to dissipate any suspicion that Russia is playing a double game. Though your efforts shall be directed against France's just demands they shall be directed to a higher aim, namely, the solution of existing difficulties, considering at the same time the dignity of both parties."

VERY EMPHATIC.

Algeciras, March —Owing to the slight indisposition of the head of the German mission, Herr Von Radowitz, the meeting of the delegates which was to have been held today has been postponed until Saturday next, when the new Austrian police proposition will be presented. All the delegates have agreed that the points in dispute are slowly being settled. The Austrian delegates themselves do not know the exact details of the new proposition, and they are seeking, before presenting it, to eliminate all the differences of opinion on the subject so as to make it the basis of an acceptable agreement. The situation, however, is still intricate. The delegates do not exactly see how an accord can be reached, but they no longer doubt that an agreements will be arrived at.

NEWS FROM HASTINGS

That Village Trying to Get New Industries.

The Hastings Star says:

The attendance at the meeting to discuss the reeve's proposal of spending $4,000 on new cement walks was not largely attended. What it lacked in numbers, however, it made up in discussion. The reeve explained his proposition during and after which questions were asked and opinions expressed. Those present did not appear to be in favor of the proposition, but preferred to build small sections each year as required, the same to be paid for when built. The securing of the water power and of land to induce industries to locate here was also discussed. A motion to not consider the reeve's proposition but that the council make an effort to secure the water power and land for industries was carried.

MR. JEWITT INJURED

Employee of the Cordage Works Gets Skull Fractured.

Yesterday one of those accidents that fate seems to bind inseparably with the conduct of every large factory, and which are apparently unavoidable by any human means of carefulness, occurred in the cordage Company's Works.

Edward Jewitt, an employe of the works and a son of Mr. Thos. Jewitt, corner Water and Brock streets, while at work yesterday morning, was struck over the head by a piece of machinery which became loose, and had his skull fractured. He was taken to Nicholl's hospital in an ambulance, where it was found that the skull was fractured, the inner section being crushed in and resting on the brains. An operation was performed by Drs. Bradd, Young, and Scott, which appears to have been successful, but owing to the seriousness of his injury, Jewitt's condition is critical.

At the time of going to press the injured man was resting easily although the danger is not yet past.

FIRE HALL DISCUSSED

Fire Water and Light Committee Decide to Let Tenders at Once.

Last night the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the City Council met to discuss, among other matters the proposed new fire hall. There were present, Aldermen Adams, chairman, Graham, Ball, Mason, and Architect Blackwell.

There was not a full quorum present but Architect Blackwell, by request, read the specifications of the plans he had prepared for the new fire hall. He noted that exception had been taken to the proposed double hardware floor, it being alleged that water will get between the two floors, and rot the boards. He suggested to have a two-inch pine floor instead.

All stone in sight of the main building must be of Longford stone. All windows will have rock-faced sills. All walls must be of the best red brick to be secured. Brick work of tower to be red. All inside brick must be well burnt.

The matter of pine and iron lathing was brought up, but it was considered that wooden laths are the best for the purpose. It was decided to have pine joists and rafter made of pine instead of hemlock, as this makes very little difference a price, and the pine is much less apt to split, warp or get out of order. The second floor will be of kiln dried basswood.

Those present, very carefully considered every detail of the new building specifications, as carefully in fact, as though the building was a personal undertaking proposed by each councillor present.

It was decided to let tenders for the new fire hall which will be received up to the 9th of April.

New Creamery at Harwood.

And now the good citizens at Harwood, that pretty village nestling among the hills on the south side of Rice Lake, have organized a creamery. Mr. Robert Watson was elected president of the new company. A number of important speakers were present and some very profitable knowledge was imparted to the patrons. Mr. Mitchell, superintendent of the Kingston Dairy School, who was present, and gave a practical talk to the patrons, said it afforded him great pleasure to be present and see such a large number of the patrons out and such enthusiasm taken in the creamery. The cream gathered creameries are fast displacing the whole-milk system. The strong point in their favor is that they can serve a larger section of the country on account of cream carrying in hailing, and the milk is in good condition for feeding to stock. Mr. Mitchell continued with a very practical and intelligent lecture, giving many useful hints to the farming and creamery business. Mr. Southworth, the proprietor of the creamery, will doubtless have good results for his trouble.

SOMETHING NEW

Mr. Barry Gets a Graphaphone For Commercial Use.

As noted in a former issue of The Times, Mr. J. T. Barry, representing the Columbia Graphaphone Co., with head quarters in Toronto, has for some days been in the city in the interests of this concern.

Yesterday Mr. Barry received, for public demonstration, a commercial graphaphone. The idea of this instrument is to do the work of a shorthand writer in correspondence work. The graphaphone now here is supplied with a large number of discs. When a man, or firm in business wishes to send a certain number of letters, say from twenty to any number a day, the dictator simply talks into the machine, dictating what he wants written to his various correspondents.

Each disc is capable of receiving about eight ordinary letters. When the dictator has finished any number of letters, his clerk simply removes the disc to his desk, applies the tubes to his or her ears and proceeds to write out the correspondence.

This mode of conveying letters to a clerk has this advantage over the stenographic system, that the man dictating letters can correct or modernize his letters as he goes ahead, his instructions to his clerk being noted in the disc as he proceeds.

Mr. Barry has already sold several graphaphones, and is now in connection with several firms who intimate an intention of procuring a commercial instrument. With each commercial machine, can be procured a shaving machine which obliterates the letters dictated to the discs making them ready for future use.

MISS SAYLES MARRIED

Young Lady of This City Now a Pontypool Matron.

A pretty, though unostentatious wedding was celebrated by Rev. W. J. Jolliffe at the residence of Mrs. A. Sayles, 355 Sherbrooke street, on Wednesday afternoon, when her daughter, Miss Alberta, was united in marriage to Mr. W. W. Richardson, of Pontypool. The groomsmen were Mr. J. J. Richardson, brother of the groom, and Mr. Geo. A. Sayles, brother of the bride, while the bridesmaids were Miss Mabel Sayles, sister of the bride and Miss Katie Ross.

The bride was attired in a cream crepe de chene gown and carried white carnations and roses. Her travelling suit was blue panama cloth with hat to match. The bridesmaids wore suits of white cream lustre.

The bride received a large number of useful presents. The bridal party left on the 5.10 C.P.R. for Toronto where they will spend a few days before returning to Pontypool their future residence.

WESTERN BISHOP HERE

His Lordship, of Selkirk to Be at St. Lukes on Sunday.

Rev. E. A. Langfeldt has received a telephone message from His Lordship the Bishop of Selkirk, Right Reverend, I. O. Stringer, D.D., saying that he would be in Peterboro on Sunday and Monday. The following arrangements have been made as to services and meetings:

The Bishop will administer the Holy Communion at St. Luke's church on Sunday morning at 8 o'clock. At 11 a.m., he will preach at All Saints' church; at three o'clock he will address the Sunday school children of St. Luke's and at 7 p.m., he will preach at St. Luke's.

On Monday afternoon at three o'clock the Woman's Auxiliary of All Saints church will hold their annual meeting to which the W.A., of St. John's, St. Luke's, and Sunnyside Branch have been invited. At this meeting the Bishop will give an address. At 7.30 p.m., a public missionary meeting will be held at All Saints, at which the Bishop will give an address on missionary work in the Arctic region, illustrated by limelight views. The Bishop and Mrs. Stringer have for ten years labored among the Esquimaux of the diocese of Mackenzie River, the farthest northern point on the globe, where they were the only two white people. His address and illustrations are taken from personal experiences and those who have heard and seen them have been amazed at the thrilling and heroic work done for Christ.

BURLEIGH POWER

Work will Soon Begin in Central Ontario Power Co's Plant.

The Lindsay Post says: Mr. J. A. Culverwell, managing director of the Central Ontario Power Company, was in town yesterday. He stated that he is satisfied that work and development will be started at the company's property at Burleigh Falls before May 1. The main line will pass through Peterboro, Millbrook, Bowmanville and Oshawa, the two last places have applied for some 1,000 horse power. It is also the intention to run a branch line from a point north of Millbrook up to Omemee and Lindsay. There is ample power, as Buckhorn Falls power will be tied to Burleigh Falls circuit together giving a capacity of some 7,000 horse power in the dry season—that is according to the estimates of competing power owners at Peterboro. Mr. Culverwell referred to the strong opposition he had always been up against by Peterboro power owners and interested Toronto people — that was always the trouble of the delayed development.

Last winter he had organized the Northumberland-Durham Power Co., Limited, to develop Healey Falls, on the Upper Trent River, the greater part of which the company now controls. He had nearly fifty of he leading business men as shareholders in Cobourg, Port Hope, Colborne and Brighton, besides millionaire Americans who reside at Cobourg in summer. Twelve municipal councils had at their own expense gone to Ottawa to assist him in regard to Healey Falls, and half that number waited on the Ontario Government, all of which goes to show the energetic enthusiasm of the people on the front as to the necessity of electric power for the industrial progress of the community.

Mr. Culverwell hoped to see more Lindsay people show a disposition to help forward the entry of Burleigh and Buckhorn power to this district. Incidentally he spoke of the great deputation going to Ottawa on the 29th to press for the completion of the Trent Canal — the question of outlet to be forbidden. He hoped Lindsay was alive to the needs of water transportation and would also send a deputation.

THE BRIDGE CLOSED

No Further Traffic on Smith Street Bridge Until Repairs are Made.

Yesterday afternoon the Board of Works Committee, with the city engineer, visited the Smith street bridge, to inspect its safety. It was found upon examination that most of the timbers on the bridge were decayed, and that it was in a dangerous condition. The committee gave instructions to have it closed to traffic until after this committee's next meeting.

The committee are unwilling to run the risk of accident or take any chances of a suit for damages.

THE CUP ARRIVES

Handsome Cup Presented My O. H. A. Now Here.

Now the Intermediate champions, O.H.A., have tangible evidence of their prowess on the ice. The Intermediate Cup, presented to the local hockey team by the Ontario Hockey Association, is now on exhibition in W. A. Spotton & Co.'s window. It is a handsome trophy and is much admired.

THOUSANDS WERE KILLED.

London, March 22.—According to the Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tokio, it is now estimated that several thousand people were killed during the recent earthquake in Formose. At Kagi alone 2,000 natives and over Japanese were killed.

A PROSPEROUS COMPANY

Hamilton Provident and Loan Society Holds 34th Annual Meeting.

Among the strong financial institutions of Canada, ranking well to the front, stands the Hamilton Provident and Loan Society.

At the 34th annual meeting held recently, the directors presented their report, which was of the most encouraging character, both to shareholders and the management.

This company, last year, after paying and providing for all due and accrued interest on borrowed capital, cost of management and other charges, amounting to $39,611, to which is added $2,615 withdrawn from contingent fund, had a clear net profit of $102,227.

Two half-yearly dividends at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum were paid. A balance of $15,000 has been added to reserve fund.

The contingent fund of the Society now amounts to $10,507 and the reserve fund to $450,000. This splendid showing [illegible] the [illegible] liability of this strong institution.

Mr. Alexander Turner, President of the Society, has every reason for congratulation over the successful year the company has just closed.

COBOURG GETS IT

The Military Camp Will Go to the Old Lakeside Town.

The Toronto News says:

Cobourg has been selected for the military camp hitherto held at Kingston, Col. Gordon, of Kingston, reported to Ottawa the advantages which Cobourg possessed for the June camp, and word was received in town on Saturday that the recommended change had been made. Cobourg possesses besides dry, level camp grounds, one of the finest and most modern rifle ranges in Canada.

It is expected that at least four thousand militia will put in their annual drill there. The camp grounds are located north of the Cobourg fair grounds, and in close proximity to the Grand Trunk Railway, providing every facility for transportation.

The change of camp has occasioned no small stir in Kingston, where it was considered a permanent fixture, and where the buying of supplies meant an expenditure among local merchants of thousands of dollars. Should this year's Cobourg camp meet with entire satisfaction, the Government may purchase permanent camp grounds there for the holding of the annual drill instruction.

A Brockville Wedding.

The Brockville Times says:

A rather quiet but pretty wedding took place this morning at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R Stratton, James street, when their daughter, Miss F. Maude, was united in marriage to R. J. Willoughby of Ottawa, a C.P.R. conductor at that point, who is well and favorably known, as one of Ottawa's popular young men.

DEARER BOOZE

Local Hotelmen will Advance Prices When New Law Goes in Force.

Yesterday a Times man in view of the recent decision of the Ontario Government to about double the cost of hotel licenses, asked a few of the local dispensers of red eye and hop-juice how the proposed raise in the fees would affect the business.

The general opinion was that, with nearly fifty per cent. added to the license they would have to say, and no consequent reduction in rentals, the prices for liquors would have to be raised in accordance to make a living profit.

"Farmers' Joy" or five-cent whiskey will be one of the old-time regretted gone-byes. To ask for "six" for a quarter, an ordinary drinks will only meet with a cold-eyed stare from the barkeeper. It is likely that lager and beer will still be kept at five cents, but the glasses will either have thicker understandings or have corsets applied to reduce their waist measurement.

Cure Was Good Shot.

Quebec, March 22.—Detective Welsh has returned from Champlain, where he saw and interviewed the burglar who gave his name as Leclair and who was shot by the cure of the parish while attempting to rob the presbytery. The aim of the cure was so good that over 170 pieces of shot have been taken out of Leclair's body. The detective recognized Leclair as a character known to the Quebec police by the names of White and Leblanc. He admitted that he was the author of the robberies of several presbyteries in the district of Quebec, including Charlesbourg.

Biggest Mill in the World.

Hartford, Conn, March 21.—On the banks of the Merrimac River at South Lawrence, Mass., the American Woolen Company is building a mill which makes most other American buildings seem small in comparison. This one mill is 1,200 feet—considerably over a third of a mile—in length. It has a width of 150 feet, is six stories in height, and will cost $3,500,000.

This mill will give employment to 6,000 persons, and to save the time and strength of the thousands who will be employed on the upper floors escalators will be provided, which will lift 4,000 of them to fourth, fifth and sixth stories in five minutes. Engines of 10,000 horse power will actuate the machinery, all transmission of power being by electricity.

Smoking Car for Women.

London, March 23.—The first smoking car, reserved for women in Great Britain left a big London terminus today for Liverpool. The windows bore a label reading "Ladies' smoking." The innovation attests the spread of smoking among English women during recent years.

Will King Visit Sultan.

Berlin, March 23.—A confidential communication, just received here from Constantinople, states that preparations are being quietly pushed forward for the reception of King Edward, who is expected to visit the Sultan, coming direct by sea.

Switchman's Error Cost Two Lives

Richard Crapp and John Hughes, of London, Killed in a Collision on the Grand Trunk at Sarnia.

Sarnia, March 23.—Two London firemen were instantly killed and their bodies terribly mangled as a result of a head-on collision in the tunnel yards yesterday morning. The accident was probably due to the carelessness of a green switchman.

The Toronto passenger train, with Engineer William Newcome, was three minutes out of the depot when it was discovered that the train had passed the switch and was on the track going due east to London, instead of the track running northeast to Stratford. A flurry of snow and smoke from a yard engine obscured the fact that the switch had not been attended to until it was too late, and the train crashed into a freight, with two engines, coming in on the track from London.

COLLIDED HEADED-ON.

The trains were going at a speed of twenty miles an hour when the collision occurred.

The engineer of the forward freight engine saw the passenger headlight, but did not reverse, knowing it was bound out on the other track, and there was ample time to make the switch.

Both freight engines piled up over each other, and were completely wrecked.

Firemen Crapp and Hughes, of London were caught in the crash, and instantly killed, one being burned beyond recognition. I has been impossible, so far, to extricate the bodies. Coroner Hayes will convene a jury today to investigate and G.T.R. officials are expected this afternoon to make inquiries.

THE OFFICIAL REPORT.

Montreal, March 23. — The Grand Trunk Railway management makes the following official statement in connection with the accident at Sarnia: Early this morning east-bound passenger train No. 4 collided with an extra freight train at the eastern limits of the yard at Sarnia station. Firemen Pratt and Hughes, of London, were killed, Miss Blair, of Montreal, was slightly hurt on the head and leg. R. Doucette, of Toronto, left leg slightly hurt; and a foreigner, name unknown, en route to New York, slight scalp wound. None of the cars of the passenger train were derailed, and the track was cleared at seven o'clock, and No. 4 proceeded on her journey.

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

HOCKEY.

Tonight will see what will probably be the best hockey game witnessed in Ontario this year.

The local Intermediate Champions O.H.A., will play a picked team from the Intercollegiate and Senior O.H.A. teams. This team will be the best that has been gathered together in years.

Capt. Whitcraft has been assured that they will all be here. He said further that all the players have consented and there will be no disappointment unless some accident happens. The team is made up of the cream of Ontario hockey players. The teams will line up as follows:—

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Peterboro | | All Stars. |
| Wasse | Goal | Thomas (Barrie) |
| Glover | Point. | Hanley (Midland) |
| Crowley | Cover-point. | Hamber (Argos) |

Last night in the Brock street rink before a fair crowd a team of the local C.G.E. Co., defeated a team from the Toronto C.G.E., by a score of 7—2.

DR. YOUNG HOME

Local Commander of New Field Battery Back From Kingston.

Major (Dr.) Young, the officer commanding the 14th Field Battery, Canadian Artillery, has just returned from Kingston, where he has been pursuing a special course in gunnery at the Ecole de Tete Barracks. Major Young was absent two weeks and is now a fully qualified field officer.

Grimsby Editor Fined.

St. Catharines, March 22.—Mr. Jas. Livingstone, editor of the Grimsby Independent, was fined $5 and costs, in all $10.80, by Magistrate Comfort this morning, for officiating at an auction sale without having first procured an auctioneer's license. The sale took place on March 8, on the farm of Mr. Ephraim Hipple, Clinton township. Mr. Jacob Wismer, of Campden, a rival auctioneer, laid the complaint. The auctioneer's license is $15, and as Mr. Livingstone has been an auctioneer for four or five years he is still ahead of the game.

ITALIAN FOUGHT HARD FOR LIFE

Was Four Times Sentenced to Death and Made Two Desperate Attempts to Escape.

Newark, N.J., March 23.—Guiseppe Marzo, an Italian, was hanged here yesterday for the murder of his brother-in-law, Manzio Mazianno. The struggle which Marzo had made to save himself from the gallows since he shot and killed his brother-in-law and dangerously wounded his sister nearly two years ago, was a most remarkable one. Not only did he exhaust all the methods known to law, but on at least two occasions made sensational attempts to escape from confinement. One of these attempts was made in the court room after he had been sentenced to death for the third time. After denouncing the judge and jury which tried him, declaring that he had not been treated fairly and that many of his countrymen who had committed murder in the country had escaped the gallows, he suddenly drew an iron bar from the leg of his trousers and made a break for freedom. He was overpowered after one court of room had been severely injured. Ten minutes later, while he was being removed to the jail, he made another break and was overpowered only after another officer had been severely hurt. Since that time he has been constantly guarded and has been allowed only a matress in his cell. Even after that, however, he succeeded in getting another reprieve, but was unsuccessful in getting the verdict set aside.

He was sentenced to death for the fourth time on the third day of this month. A last, but futile effort to save the condemned man was made when his counsel applied to the United States Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus.

Railway Confiscates Coal.

Saginaw, Mich., March 22.—The Pere Marquette Railroad has issued an order confiscating for its own use all of the coal that is mined in the Saginaw Valley, between now and April 1. This is a measure made possible by its contracts with the operators, and is taken as a precautionary measure in view of the threatened coal strike. The railroad has on hand 20,000 tons of coal, and expects to increase this store by 30,000 tons.

SCHOOL PUPILS ON STRIKE.

Odessa, March 22.—As a protest against the execution March 19th of Lieut. Schmidt, leader of the naval mutiny at Sebastopol last November, the pupils of all the local high schools struck yesterday.

MURDER SUSPECTED.

Prince Albert, Sask., March 22.—A woman named Mrs. Linklater was found dead yesterday under circumstances which point to foul play. The Mounted Police and the Coroner are investigating.

THE VITAL CENTER

No Man Stronger than his Stomach—Let Mi-o-na Strengthen Your Digestive System.

The stomach is your vital center.

No man is stronger than his stomach.

The average man measures his physical vitality by his heart, his kidneys, or his lungs. Yet it is the stomach that should be first considered when you cast up the account of health.

Every organ of the body is sustained and nourished by food which is converted into nutrition in the stomach and conveyed to every part of the system in the form of blood. For this reason, when the stomach is strengthened with Mi-o-na and is able to convert the food into nourishment, all other organs soon become well. This explains many cures of heart, liver or kidney disease in the cases where Mi-o-na is used. It is the most wonderful health restorer known.

Just one little tablet out of a 50 cent box of Mi-o-na for a few days, and you will soon see a great improvement in your health.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialists which will be sent free. The E. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

How Consumption Starts

Tired When You Waken--Languid All Day—Nerves Worn Out —Soap All Gone

Your limbs feel "draggy" and excessively weak. A night's sleep seldom brings satisfying rest. Continuous headaches, exhaustion and nervous sensations destroy your health. Soon every spark of vitality is used up. Then you catch tuberculosis.

Start to-day. Build up, get new nerve force, and overcome this process of decay. Use Ferrozone, which physicians consider the most vitalizing, uplifting tonic ever made.

Ferrozone cures because it can furnish the body with sufficient nutriment and building material.

Think of the instant effect—at once the appetite increases, delightful color in the cheeks proves that rich, red blood is being circulated. Tired muscles are invigorated, flesh and weight are added. Nerve force develops, and bounding, joyous health is firmly established.

This is certain—Ferrozone restores failing strength from any cause. The experience of Mr. Thos. Dowd, of Schreiber, Ont., proves this;

"Household worries and cares had about exhausted my strength. I was weak and miserable. My cheeks lacked the color of health, and occasionally I had spells of rheumatism. Then my appetite fell off, and nothing could tempt me to eat. Worn-out feelings, chills and despondency filled my very being. I became anaemic and dwindled down to a shadow. Consumption was very near. Ferrozone put strength in my body with a rush. It built me up, strong, virile and happy, and I have been well ever since."

Ferrozone cures sickness by curing the real cause—lack of blood and nerve tone. It keeps people at their best—fit, ready and anxious for work. In bic. boxes only, six for $1.25, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

KEENE

The Sons of Rest, after a vacation of one week, met in the hall of wisdom on Tuesday evening. The attendance surpassed anything on record since the club was organized. The president was on hand, decked in a pair of top boots and sported a white vest, with a swallow-tailed coat to match his other taggery. At precisely eight o'clock he sounded the gavel and the officers took their respective places. After the meeting was opened Minney Wale rose to his feet with fire in his eyes, and informed the brethren that several false reports were circulated about him since he was elected president. I have been informed by reliable authority that Fighting Archy, my opponent, declared that I used corruption in my election. Now, brethren, it is contrary to my disposition to call any man a liar, although he is my most bitter enemy, but I declare before you tonight that in making such a statement Fighting Archy was a deliberate untruth. In the first place I am too honest to indulge in anything that is corrupt, and in the second place I don't have to ask any man for his vote, as my sweeping majority will show. Now, brethren, I stand before you tonight with an unstained character and challenge any man to prove anything to the contrary. I have been honestly elected and purpose to hold my office until me term expires, and then if Fighting Archy feels so disposed he can try his luck, but, alas, I fear he will be sadly disappointed if he dares to oppose me. As it is now nine o'clock I will take my seat and leave the meeting open for business. Fatty Drummond rose and informed the president that he wished to see the rules of this club perfectly obeyed and all members severely punished who disobey the rules. Now, says Fatty, I lay a charge against Waxy McFarlane for raising chickens, for I cannot sleep after three o'clock in the morning for the crowing of roosters in his hen-house. The president imposed a fine of one hundred dollars on Waxy, to be paid in three weeks or he would behead the crowing roosters. Fatty also laid a charge against Waxy for dictating a new schoolhouse in Keene. For that the president fined him twenty cents, to be paid at once. He paid his fine on the spot. Skunk-hunter Rennie charged Bob-tail Pus with taking two ladies into the social on Monday night. The president fined Bob-tail fifteen dollars, or one month in jail with hard labor. Bob-tail paid the fine. Ponty Mac laid a charge against Howden Doris for piling eight cords of wood in schoolhouse shed. The president fined Howden twenty dollars. Howden paid the fine and took his departure, forgetting to thank the president for his generosity. Tom Decackey, the district organiser, laid a charge against Flamer Elmhirst for speeding his pacer on our street. The president fined Flamer two hundred dollars. Flamer paid his fine like a man and bid the president good afternoon. Ponty Mac laid a charge against Toban Brown for buck-sawing wood with a horse-power. Minney Wale fined Toban twenty cents and warned him to not repeat the offence. Toban paid the fine, shouldered his buck-saw and let the horse go to grass. Tea Merchant Kenealey laid a charge against Barber Quinn for shaving. Banker Secombe with a jack-knife. The president fined the barber forty cents. Wolf Howson rose and moved that the meeting be closed. Mufraw Elmhirst seconded the motion, for, says Mufraw, I distinctly heard the city clock in Peterboro strike twelve. The president perhaps relied on Mufraw's statement, for he at once asked Tom Decackey and Poney Moore to sing the closing ode. You can better imagine than I can describe the able manner in which they delivered the ode. The meeting was then closed until next Tuesday evening at eight sharp. "God Save The King."

WAR'S WORST EVIL.

It Is the Waste of the Best Blood of the Nations.

Every one who has come to a reasonable maturity must have had opportunity to observe for himself how great is the loss to society when a first rate man dies prematurely. If he leaves a family he leaves it bereft of his care and his training and exposed to perils from which he might have shielded it. If he leaves no family there is the incalculable loss of the children he might have had. Some fatherless families turn out well in spite of their handicap, but the unbegotten families of dead fathers are a total loss. What our country, north and south, suffered from the decimation of its very best stock in the civil war cannot be computed.

On this tendency of war to waste the indispensable best blood of nations President David Starr Jordan bases a very interesting argument in favor of peace. He has hopes that the present century will see the permanent establishment of peace for mankind. The perils of peace to nations he makes nothing of as compared with the perils of war. His argument is all biological.

So called "decadent" nations are none other, he declares, than nations that the best stock has been killed out of, leaving the perpetuation of the race to inferior individuals. He maintains that neither adversity nor luxury destroys a race and that generation true to the type will follow generation unless the best individuals are killed off.

Greece, he says, died because the men who made her glory had all passed away and left none of their kin and therefore none of their kind. Rome fell because of the extinction of her best. The peaceful struggle for existence, Dr. Jordan thinks, puts a premium on the virile virtues. The best men get ahead in time of peace; the idle, weak and dissipated go to the wall. "Other things being equal," he says, "the nation which has known the least of war is the one most likely to develop 'the strong battalions' with whom victory must rest."—Harper's Weekly.

James A. Garfield's Brother.

Thomas Garfield, a brother of President Garfield, is living near Hudsonville, Mich. He is eighty-three years old and has lived in the state and on the farm he owns for forty years. Mr. Garfield has never been in Washington. "After James had been elected president," says he, "I went to Mentor to visit him for a week before he went to Washington. While there he told me that it was the worst thing that could have happened to him. He wanted to go to the senate, where he thought he could accomplish more good, but the presidency was forced upon him. When I started to come home James came to Cleveland with me and put me on the train. His last words to me were: 'Thomas, I have to say goodby to you. You are going back to a quiet Michigan home, while I am going where I shall have increased anxiety and care.' The next time I saw James he was a corpse."

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

And he did do his best. In less than a week's time he was thoroughly acquainted with every inch of the country for miles about Fairlawn Villa, and had been careful to cultivate the acquaintance of most of the people.

By his direction it was given out that he was a relative of Mrs. Dent, the housekeeper, and was paying her a short visit at Fairlawn Villa. No one would have dreamed that the beardless, boyish young fellow so bashful in appearance, was in reality one of the keenest and shrewdest detectives on the Washington force.

A week had passed since he had come to Fairlawn, and, for the first time in his life, he was completely baffled. The mystery which shrouded in deepest gloom the mysterious disappearance of beautiful Reine on her wedding night was as impenetrable as ever.

Each ingenious device for getting on the trail had turned out an ignominious failure.

One idea fixed itself firmly in the detective's mind, however. If Miss Hastings had contemplated flight or suicide—if it came to the worst—she would not have been likely to robe herself in her bridal dress and linger there until within a few short moments of the time for the ceremony to begin.

He had taken her picture from the album and carried it about in his pocket, studying the lovely, laughing face so well that he knew every feature by heart.

There was something peculiar about the saucy, smiling mouth and deep, pansy-blue eyes, and about the whole contour of the lovely, dimpled face, framed in its sheen of golden curls, that told him he would recognize the original instantly on sight if he ever beheld her.

The failure which met his every effort to trace Reine was a bitter blow to the young detective. He knew his reputation was at stake—for it was a great honor to be selected for so great a case; and last, but by no means least, he knew if success crowned his efforts he would receive as handsome an amount as the most experienced man on the force could have commanded. Ability could not be justly measured by age or experience. He spent most of the time out of doors—daily, hourly hoping, Micawber like, that something would turn up that might give him some kind of a clew.

He had haunted the groves and glens surrounding Waldron Towers, and on one of these rambles he had come face to face with its handsome, fair-haired owner.

Waldemar Waldron eyed the young stranger curiously, a brilliant idea occurring to him the while. Why not sound this youth who was stopping at Fairlawn Villa, and learn from him what the inmates were about, and what they thought and talked about concerning the disappearance of the general's daughter.

Waldemar Waldron possessed the unusual quality of making himself agreeably fascinating to men as well as to women when he chose.

He greeted the young stranger cordially enough, and as the days passed on it was no unusual thing for Donald Gray to find himself in Waldron's company. He smiled at the ingenious way in which his newfound friend plied him with questions, in roundabout ways which were certainly unique. His replies were wary enough. He always managed to rouse Waldemar's curiosity from day to day, and leave him when apparently on the point of making some disclosure.

A laugh, that was not pleasant to hear, fell from Waldron's lips when the sufferings of Bernard Cheeleigh were portrayed to him and he seemed to triumph in the other's misery.

But he spoke never a word, and his brows darkened as he listened to the manner in which the old general met the terrible blow that had fallen upon him. He had said:

"If ill has befallen my darling, let the perpetrators of it beware, for they shall be hounded down, and a vengeance worthy of the mighty sorrow of an outraged and suffering father dealt out to them, just as surely as yonder sun shines.

"But if my child has deserted me of her own free will—ah, well, I cannot curse her—my dead wife's daughter—but I shall never forgive her. She shall never again cross my threshold. I will never again look upon her fair, false face, so help me God! and not a penny of my money shall be hers. I would sooner leave it to the paupers of the almshouse."

Waldemar Waldron frowned still more darkly.

"The general's daughter is his legal and only heir," he said, slowly. "Let him fume and fret as much as he will, she will get it at last, every dollar of it—that is, if she is alive," he added quickly.

"Long and almost endless litigation, together with the fat fees of lawyers, would dwindle the old millionaire's wealth down to a very small sum, I should fancy," retorted young Gray, carelessly; "and especially if he carries out the plan in regard to Bernard Cheeleigh that he intends," he added, "his daughter would fare badly."

"What plan?" inquired Waldron eagerly. "What is it he proposes to do?"

"I haven't time to tell you about it now," replied the young detective, apologetically. "The fact is, I must leave you in order to reach Fairlawn Villa in time for tea; they don't like to keep things standing over to oblige only the housekeeper's nephew."

Waldemar Waldron stopped and studied a moment. He must know the general's plan.

"Suppose you come and take tea with me at Waldron Towers," he said, waxing hospitable, "and you shall tell me afterward, over our wine and cigars."

He saw the quick gleam of delight which lighted detective had been longing for—a visit within the walls of Waldron Towers.

CHAPTER XI.

Waldemar Waldron led his companion silently through the deep green coppice wood until they reached the high stone wall that closed in the spacious grounds of Waldron Towers.

He swung open the massive gate, and together they entered the house.

The old butler who admitted them stared in amazement at the unusual sight of a visitor accompany his young master.

"Let us have tea at once in my rooms, Mason," he said to the servant. "The accommodations here are such as do not warrant guests," laughed Waldron. "The dining-room

A young woman studying at the Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia is credited by the Philadelphia Record with the invention of a word which should fill a long felt want. In the circle in which the young woman moves the word "culture" is in her opinion overworked and misused, being dragged in on every occasion to describe persons of a certain status as to intellect and breeding. "Are they cultured people?" the young woman was asked concerning some acquaintances, and her reply was, "No, they are only culturised."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

FORTUNE'S FAVORITE

Mr. Daly in Receipt of Flattering Offers of Marriage.

In our issue of yesterday we noted that a practical joke had been played on Mr. Dennis Daly, employed at a local hotel on Wednesday. Many people who heard that Mr. Daly had been notified of his accession to a fortune of some $100,000, took the matter in good faith. As Mr. Daly's pseudo good fortune was noted in the evening papers, Mr. Daly was yesterday in receipt of several letters from ladies who were not altogether averse to matrimony, the writers taking the joke to be in dead earnest.

Among Mr. Daly's correspondence received yesterday, was the following from which we, naturally omit the writer's name.

The letter which was accompanied by a photograph, presumably that of the writer, read as follows.

My dear Mr. Dennis Daly,—I am a young lady as my photographs indicates, and I am most anxious to get married to an elderly man of means and good breeding.

You have or soon will have, the means to permit you to get married. Why not marry me? I could beg you dear old soul when I think how happy we could be together. ——— Just think how happy you could be with a good cooking potatoes, woman to anticipate your every wish and share your every trouble. Oh! Dennis, I want to be the help-mate of an honest Irishman, who would treat his wife with kindness, and help to ward off the cruel slights of the world.

Dennis, we could travel round the world, without a care but the care of our own selves, and you will shortly have the means to accomplish this.

My hair is long and silky although the photograph I enclose may not assure you of this fact. My complexion is good, my teeth are my own, and my heart is yearning for you. It is not your money only, Dennis, that makes me write this seemingly unmaidenly letter; I want a protector through life and you are the man to fill that place.

If you will only treat me kindly, and write me a note saying you would like to see me, I will call at the hotel at whatever time you mention.

When I come I will bring my poodle dog "Barney," who is a beauty and would fill a place in your affection when you see the darling snuggling at the fireside. Now, Dennis, I hope you will write and let me know how your fortune is coming on, and whether you are thinking of marrying.

Your Friend,

How frequently does a head line similar to the above greet us in the newspapers. The rush, push and strenuousness of the American people has a strong tendency to lead up to valvular and other affections of the heart, attended by irregular action, palpitation, dizziness, smothered sensations and other distressing symptoms.

Three of the prominent ingredients of which Dr. Pierre's Golden Medical Discovery is made are recommended by some of the leading writers on Materia Medica for the cure of just such cases. Golden Seal root, for instance, is said by the United States Dispensatory, a standard authority, "to impart tone and increased power to the heart's action." Numerous other leading authorities represent Golden Seal as an unsurpassed tonic for the muscular system in general, and as the heart is almost wholly composed of muscular tissue, it naturally follows that it must be greatly strengthened by this superb, general tonic. But probably the most important ingredient of "Golden Medical Discovery," so far as its marvelous cures of valvular and other affections of the heart are concerned, is Stone root, or Collinsonia Can., Prof. Wm. Paine, author of Paine's Epitomy of Medicine, says of it:

"I not long since, saw a patient who was so much oppressed with valvular disease of the heart that his friends were obliged to carry him up-stairs. He, however, gradually recovered under the influence of Collinsonia (medical principle extracted from Stone root), and is now attending to his business. Heretofore physicians knew of no remedy for the removal of so distressing and so dangerous a malady. With them it was all guess-work, and is fearfully warred the afflicted that death was near at hand. Collinsonia unquestionably affects relief in such cases, and in most instances effects a cure."

Stone root is also recommended by Drs. Hale and Ellingwood, of Chicago, for valvular and other diseases of the heart. The latter says: "It is a heart tonic of direct and permanent influence."

"Golden Medical Discovery," not only cures serious heart affections, but is a most efficient general tonic and invigorator, strengthening the stomach, invigorating the liver, regulating the bowels and curing catarrhal affections in all parts of the system.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

—Mr. John Robinson of Hamilton, is here on business.

—Mr. Gordon Hill, of London, Eng. is a guest at the National.

—Mr. Harry Loch, Guelph, was in the city yesterday on business.

—Miss Gyp Armstrong, of Lindsay, is the guest of Mrs. Dr. T. W. H. Young.

—Mr. Charles Dusty, of 762 Dalhousie street is spending a few days in Toronto.

—Mr. E. B. Stone, London, formerly a barrister practising in this city was in town yesterday.

—Mr. Horace L. Sutcliffe returned yesterday morning from a business trip to the Old Country.

—Col. Sam. Hughes, the South African Veteran was in the city yesterday a guest at the Snowden.

—O. C. Agnews, Toronto; J. E. Hampton, Hamilton; John Robinson, Hamilton; T. S. Sprouse, Markdale; A. Cameron, Toronto, are guests at the Snowden House.

—Mr. Chas. Armstrong who some years ago, managed the Mount Julien Hotel, but who is now in the same business in Havelock is spending a day or two in the city.

—Mayor Best who has for the past few days been confined to his residence by bronchitis, was sufficiently recovered yesterday to come up town. The Mayor is still evidently "under the weather."

A Test of Affection.

A day or two ago a nigger was arrested in the city of Hamilton, charged with vagrancy. The prisoner denied the soft impeachment declaring he was looking for work and was about to be married to a lady of color. To test the amount of the lady's attachment, and, at the same time carry out the dictates of justice the police magistrate imposed a fine of $10 with the alternative of two months on the stone pile. "This will show whether the lady means matrimony or not; if so she will pay the fine and get you out," remarked his Worship. The colored gentleman, up to going to press was garbed in vari-colored garments supplied by the Hamilton jail.

Death of Miss McCollum.

It is with deep regret that our readers will hear of the death of Miss Alma Frances McCollum, a lady of exceptional literary attainments, and possessed of a character most lovable. The news of her death will come as a shock to a very wide circle of friends in Peterboro, where Miss McCollum and family have lived for many years, enjoying a high degree of respect in the highest social circles of the city. The family removed to Peterboro from Chatham, living in the later years of their residence at 27 Gilmour street, until last fall the family moved to Delaware avenue, Toronto.

A TORPID THINKER

The Frequent Result of Coffee Poisoning.

A Toledo, O., business man says that for three years he had no appetite for breakfast; that about once a month he ate solid food at that meal, generally contenting himself with his cup of coffee and having no desire for anything else.

Coffee frequently plays this dog-in-the-manger trick; while it furnishes no nutriment itself, it destroys the appetite for food which is nutritious. The result was, in time, a torpid mentality, which was a distinctive handicap in his business operations.

"Last Christmas," he says, "I consulted my brother, a practicing physician in Chicago, and he advised a diet of Postum Food Coffee, instead of the old kind, and also Grape-Nuts food. Since that time I have followed his advice with most excellent results. My brain is active and clear in the morning when it naturally should be at its best; I no longer have the dizzy spells that used to make me apprehensive; I have gained materially in flesh and feel better in every way.

"The Postum seems to be no less a food than the Grape-Nuts, and the two together fill all requirements. My wife has tried several of the recipes in your little booklet and we have enjoyed the result, but to my mind Grape-Nuts food is best when served with sliced fruit and covered with cream." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

THE THIRTY-FOURTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE DIRECTORS OF

The Hamilton Provident & Loan Society

FOR THE YEAR 1905.

The Thirty-Fourth Annual Meeting of the Shareholders of the Society was held at the Society's Head Office at 11 o'clock this forenoon. Among those present were the following:

Captain J. B. Fairgrieve, D. F. Sutherland, George Hope, J. T. Glassco, Geo. Rutherford, Alex. Turner, J. J. Greene, W. J. Reid, David Kidd, F. H. Lamb, H. H. Anderson, J. M. Eastwood, J. H. Coon, W. D. Wilson, P. D. Crerar, R. R. Fairie, T. C. Haslett, Judge Snider, T. H. Crerar, John McCoy, Geo. LeRiche, Col. A. H. Moore, E. G. Payne, Chas. Judd, Hon. William Gibson, R. Butler, G. Gates, C. Ferrie, J. M. Cameron.

The President, Alexander Turner, in the chair, C. Ferrie, Treasurer, acted as Secretary.

The Secretary read the Report and Annual Statements, as follows:

The Directors have much pleasure in submitting to the Shareholders the Thirty-Fourth Annual Report of the Society's affairs, and accompanying Financial Statements, duly audited.

The Net Profits of the year, after paying and providing for all due and accrued interest on borrowed capital, paying cost of management and other charges, amount to $99,611.48, to which has been added $3,616.24, withdrawn from the Contingent Fund, making in all $103,226.72, out of which two half-yearly dividends at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum were paid, together with taxes on Capital and Income, and the balance, $35,000, has been added to the Reserve Fund.

After writing off all losses, and providing for any possible shrinkage in the value of the securities, there remains at the credit of the Contingent Fund $10,567.70.

The Reserve Fund now amounts to $450,000.00.

The Repayment on Mortgages during the year were very satisfactory, and the funds of the Society have been actively and profitably employed.

Owing to a recent enactment of the Dominion Parliament preventing Judges acting as Directors of a Corporation, the Directors have reluctantly been compelled to accept the resignation of His Honor Judge Snider, for some years a valued and active member of the Board, and the Directors have filled the vacancy thus caused by appointing Mr. Joseph J. Greene, Managing Director of the W. E. Sanford Mfg. Co., Limited to the Board.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

ALEXANDER TURNER,
President.

Hamilton, Ont., February 2, 1906.

THE MARKET TOLLS

This Morning Will Decide Next Year's Market Clerk.

This morning at eleven o'clock the market tolls for the ensuing year will be sold at public auction.

Last year the tolls were sold to Mr. James Brown for $1,250. Mr. Haggart will be the auctioneer this morning, and it is expected that there will be some lively bidding. If as is rumored, a local gentleman is going to instal a weighing machine of large capacity near the market square, the prices will be somewhat influenced thereby.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS FOR THE HERMIT CZAR

Daily Life, in Practical Exile, of Russian Autocrat a Most Unhappy One.

HE ABHORS SOCIETY

Quarrels With the Grand Dukes Frequent Features of His Dreary Routine.

(Special Cable.)

St. Petersburg, March 24.—An interesting light is thrown on the Czar's life at his Palace of Tsarskoe Selo in a private letter from an officer of the Imperial Bodyguard, who has been attached to the Czar's entourage for the past two years.

"Ever since 'Red Sunday,'" he writes, "the Czar's existence has been one unending series of anxieties, which have told very heavily upon him. Only among his family does he apparently forget the menace of the revolution, threatening news of which reaches him with the merciless regularity of the ticking of a clock. These are, indeed, his only moments of happiness and relaxation from the worries and cares of State, with perhaps the rare exception of a walk or a ride in the park, which, however, has become a very rare occurrence of late."

CONSULTS HIS CABINET.

"His Majesty invariably spends almost the entire day and night in his private cabinet, either on consultation with his councillors, whom he often summons to his presence at any hour of the night in order to ask their advice, or in work upon projected measures of reform. He writes often for hours at a stretch.

"At other times the sentries placed at his door hear him pacing restlessly up and down the room till the early hours of the morning, waiting anxiously for reports from his representatives in the provinces. At intervals he will dispatch a message, and then suddenly throwing open the windows gaze out upon the quietness of the night, through which his millions of subjects slumber while their unfortunate ruler is still at work.

ABHORS SOCIETY.

"His Majesty," the letter continues, "was never a lover of social functions, but now he appears to abhor society more than ever.

"The Czar himself seems to be the only person at Court who actually realizes the dangers of the present situation, and it is to this fact that the misunderstandings between his Majesty and the Grand Dukes owe their cause. The Czar alone recognizes that a genuine revolution is agitating Russia, and the more closely he notes the symptoms and compares them with those of the French revolution, the more his anxiety appears to increase, and the more often are his noble eyes dimmed with the mists of sorrow."

YOUNGEST GOVERNOR.

Herbert J. Haberman, of Milwaukee, just inaugurated Governor of New Mexico, was born in 1871, and is the youngest governor in the country. Being unmarried and wealthy, besides having a pleasing personality, he is looked upon with much favor by society in the territory. He has already received a number of rather mushy letters from young women.

SCENES IN NICE DURING CARNIVAL TIME

DROWNED IN BED BY RISING FLOOD

Belgians in Many Places Have to Escape From Homes in Boats.

(Special Cable.)

Brussels, March 24.—Disastrous floods continue to be reported from all parts of Belgium, and many lives have been lost.

Several railway stations have been destroyed and traffic stopped. In other places houses have been leveled to the ground.

People rendered homeless in some places are flocking to the churches for shelter. Others whose houses are a yard deep in water are trying to escape from the upper stories in boats.

It was in this way that five children were drowned at Chatelet by the overturning of a boat yesterday.

The electric system at Charleroi has been destroyed and it is expected the town will be without electric lights for weeks. An invalid was drowned in bed by the rising water at Quaninfore. At Namur and Dinant the houses are a yard deep in water and Ivoz, a village near Liege, is completely immersed.

The floods are the worst that have been experienced for thirty years.

REJANE TO START SCHOOL FOR ACTING

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 24.—Mme. Rejane says that she has not only decided to start a school of acting in Paris, but that she is developing a scheme in which London theatres will be interested, too. "I am struck," she said, "by the success of the French plays at the New Royalty Theatre in London.

Mme. Rejane would not go into details, but her idea is to start a school in London on the same lines as that in Paris, in this case English men and girls would be trained in French for one year, and would go for the second year's training to the Paris school. Young French actors and actresses would then perhaps be able to enjoy a year in London without neglecting their work.

Mme. Rejane says that every year two public performances will be given by the pupils of her French school of acting, and that the pieces chosen will be by authors hitherto unknown to playgoers.

Half the profits is to go to the playwrights, and the other half will provide prizes for the pupils of the school.

JOLLY CARNIVAL HOLDS SWAY OVER MULTITUDES THROUGHOUT THE REPUBLIC

Quaint and Picturesque Annual Event Regarded With Affection by the Residents of the Beautiful French City and by the Crowds of Tourists Who Throng Into It.

By Susan Gavan Duffy.

(Special Correspondence.)

NICE cmfwyp

Nice, March 17.—Though we live under Republican rule, her in France, and are at this particular moment celebrating with salvos of artillery the accession of a new President, he fact does not in the least interfere with the due observance of the glorious, though limited reign of his jocund majesty, King Carnival. Year after year in Nice an unbroken succession of these gorgeous and debonair potentates hold undisputed sway during the gay fortnight which precedes Lent, almost every day having some special function of its own, in which the entire population, native an dforeign, gentle and simples, take part.

King Carnival is hel in much affection, not only because he annually furnishes the light and glitter, music, color, and lively dance, fun, frolic and fantastic revelry, in which southerners delight, but because, in addition to this, he brings in his suite such a readily retinue of pleasure seekers from all parts of the world as to greatly aid to the prosperity of the city.

ENTRY OF KING CARNIVAL.

It appears to be a point of honor for each succeeding carnival to make his formal entry into Nice in some novel manner worthy of a progressive up-to-date monarch, or, at any rate, not to travel by the tiresome, overcrowded P. L. M. and descend at the railway station among a party of Cook's tourists like the rest of the world. Thus, at different times we have had him arrive on horseback, a bicycle, in an automobile, or in an airship. But King Carnival XXXIV, despising all these more or less vulgarized methods of travelling, has elected to come to his people astride a soaring eagle with luminous flexible wings. He holds in one hand a huge extinguisher, which takes in connection with some other of his accoutrements suggests that, in spite of appearances, he is really of a scientific turn.

Madame Carnival, a stately and colossal belle, elegantly attired a la mode de Paris, is only second in importance to her royal consort. She appears to have shared his areal expedition, for her chariot, which rests upon a cloud, is drawn by a flock of bright birds, which a naturalist might find it difficult to class, and is ornamented by a glittering tail of a comet, doubtless a trophy presented to her in the skies for being first in the field on the occasion of some brilliant star hunt. Like the eagle which bears the king, the wings of her birds flap with a monotonous regularity, indicative of carefull breaking in to harness.

But it would need a volume to describe all the cars in the procession, each filled with grotesque figures of enormous size, and each with scores of living dancers, who never seem to tire, but keep as steadily at work—or should it be play?—as the figures which are moved mechanically. Besides the great cars there are countless groups and single masques representing every conceivable absurdity, all taking part in the interminable procession. And then there are the dominos, men and women of all ranks and conditions mingling together in the gay confusion. No one is too wise and few too old or too sad to escape the infection of folly which reigns supreme.

The original and fundamental fun of the carnival is the throwing of confetti. In deference to the taste of sophisticated visitors this warfare is confined to one day, paper confetti being substituted for other occasions. But even on Shrove Tuesday, when the real confetti war rages, the license wild as it appears, is always within bounds. Considering that everyone is marked, that all the riffraff of Nice is free to take part in the battle, that custom not only permits any domino to address another without introduction, but does not forbid him to seize any partner he chooses for an impromptu waltz, it is quite wonderful how little rudeness or horseplay prevails.

Anyone who ventures into the seething crowd of dominos of every color of the rainbow, and many tints besides, for no rainbow, however gorgeous, could contain all the dazzling hues with which the gay dominos bedizen themselves, will be unmercifully crushed, but will not be likely to meet with any incivility beyond perhaps being caught into a forced dance.

WOMAN'S ODD MANIA.

One of the strangest cases of kleptomania ever brought to light was heard of in Paris. A certain woman had such a passion for smoking and for coloring meerschaum pipes that she had been for a long time stealing pipes of this description from shops. In flat which she occupied there were found no fewer than 2,000 pipes, not one of which, it is believed, she has paid for.

DIED TO LIVE.

London, March 24.—Mr. Harding told a meeting of Derbyshire miners at Cresswell yesterday that he knew three colliers who had just reached the age of forty, who dyed their hair and shaved their beards to prevent gray haire jeopardizing their chances of employment.

FAMOUS ENGINES' FATE.

London, March 24. — Two world-famous railway engines, the Lord of the Isles and the North Star, have just been sent to the scrap heap at the Great Western Railway works at Swindon. The company offered them in vain to Owens College and to Birmingham University. The Lord of the Isles was designed in 1842 by Sir Daniel Gooch, and went all over the world on exhibition.

MAN TURNED TO STONE FOR FIFTY YEARS

Afflicted With a Rare Disease, Body and Brain Became Gradually Petrified.

(Special Cable.)

Geneva, March 24.—There has just died at the hospital of Ueberlingen, on the borders of Lake Constance, in Switzerland, a stone man. His name was Brend. He was afflicted with the very rare disease known as "myositis ossificans."

The extraordinary feature of this disease is that ossification gradually sets in in all the muscles and tissues of the body, the disease invariably ending in death.

Brend was 66 years of age. He was the son of a well-to-do farmer of Baden-Baden. He was first afflicted with the disease at the age of 17. His feet first became hard and almost as heavy as stone. Gradually the dread disease rose and ultimately reached his chest, hardening the lungs. Up to a few years ago Brend was able to read and write, but he had to give up this occupation when his arms and legs became afflicted and he was no longer able to move them. The tissues of his throat were petrified, but he has able to speak, though his voice assumed a curious metallic sound.

Although obliged to remain riveted to a sofa chair, he always displayed the best of humor and was fond of making jokes. He was known throughout the district as the petrified man.

The petrification ended by reaching the brain, and Brend has just died, after nearly fifty years of suffering.

PRINCE KILLS HIMSELF ON WEDDING MORNING

(Special Cable.)

Naples, March 24.—A terrible wedding tragedy took place here to-day. The young Prince Vincenzo Pignatelli, only twenty years of age, was to have been married at four o'clock this afternoon to the Countess Anna Saluzzo.

In the early hours of this morning the prince rang for his servant. The latter at once made his way to his master's room, but before he could reach it heard a shot.

The prince was found lying wounded on the floor near the bed. He tried to speak, but fell back dead.

On a table by the bed lay a volume of poems, open at the lines: "Could I forever rest my weary [illegible] last delusion which I cherished."

The prince left two letters, the first addressed to his father and the second to his betrothed. To his father he summarised his objections to marriage, and ended with the words: "I return to the void whence I came."

In that addressed to his bride he besought her pardon, and said that skepticism alone compelled him to suicide. The prince and his father were the last two representatives of a noble house.

INSULAR IDEAS COPIED

Hope Prevails That New Queen Will Relax Austere Etiquette of the Court.

(Special Cable.)

Madrid, March 24.—One striking effect of the approaching royal wedding os the widespread love of everything English. Several politicians and writers have insisted, however, that British popularity is not a recent feeling in Spain, quoting in support of this statement a popular refrain of the eighteenth century, when French court influence was strongly resented: "Con todo el mundo guerra y pas con Inglaterra." ("War with all the world and peace with England.")

PLEA FOR ENGLISH CUSTOMS.

The following passage from an important periodical indicates the general feeling regarding England and the royal wedding:

"There will arrive in Spain with Princess Ena the currents of British life, by means of which Spain will be known better and esteemed more by that master of liberties, the lord and arbiter of the mercantile existence of the whole world, and whose modern influence is strongly felt in naval and governmental circles in sports, clothes, fashions, horses and carriages."

The royal stables contain some fine English and Irish horses, bearing such namas as Fly, Pretty, Big Ben, Football has now become quite popular, not only among the sons of the aristocracy, but in popular schools. The king offers a cup for the annual championship. Polo has been played for the last three years. Since the visit of Princess Ena to Biarritz golf has kept into favor, hitherto the game was unknown here.

COURT ETIQUETTE.

It is hoped that the rigid court etiquette maintained by Queen Christina will be relaxed by the English queen. Spanish ladies especially wish for more personal freedom.

The principal shops have placed large order for ribbons, neckties and handkerchiefs in English colors. "Princess Ena" fancy cakes and pastries are also being sold. For the carnival, beginning on Sunday, many fancy costumes and English tourists have been ordered.

English literature, too, is coming into fashion in this country.

MARQUIS HAS A NARROW ESCAPE FROM LION

Lady Waterford Witness of Attack on Husband by Jungle Beast.

(Special Cable.)

Cairo, March 24.—The Marquis of Waterford, who has been on a hunting expedition in British East Africa, had an extraordinary escape a few days ago from being mauled to death by a lion.

While the Marquis was trekking along in the open a lion suddenly bounded from the bush and landed on his shoulder. Beyond a severe bruising the Marquis did not suffer any injury, as before the ferocious beast could attack him again two gun-bearers came to the rescue.

The lion then turned his attention to the gun-bearers, and before they could dispatch the brute they were severely mauled. They were eventually brought back to Nairobi, and are now lying in a precarious condition. Lady Waterford witnessed the terrifying scene from a short distance away, but dared not fire for fear of hitting her husband or the gun-bearers.

Lions are proving themselves very troublesome all round Nairobi. Major Ringer, who owns a farm, having the misfortune to lose a favorite donkey last week, which fell a victim to two of these animals. The same beasts returned a few night later, and endeavored to carry off a chestnut mare, but a watch was being kept, and the lions were frightened away by natives with torches.

A baby rhinoceros has lately been caught, and is being shown at all the social functions at Nairobi. At a children's party the other day the quaint pet played till he was tired, drank the milk of three cows, and then went to sleep. He is five months old, and weighs nine stone. According to the Globe Trotter, the local newspaper, he is shortly to be sent to London.

BOY VIOLINIST WANTS TO BECOME A BRITON

Mischa Elman's Ambition, Aside From Art, is to Grow Up an Englishman.

MISCHA ELMAN

(Special Cable.)

London, March 24.—Mischa Elman, the clever boy violinist, has returned to England more enamored, if possible of this country than ever.

His greatest ambition, apart from his art, is to become a naturalised British subject.

"If the law would let me, I would take out my papers this very day," Mischa confided to an Express representative yesterday.

"I love everything English and I want to be an Englishman. I was so glad to see an English hotel and an English waiter after being on the Continent.

"What I really like is the British sailors' clothes. Of course, I now wear black trousers and a smoking jacket on the platform, but what I should like to wear, in private is a grown-up sailor's suit. I like, too, the English knickerbocker sporting suit."

His father raises no objection to the boy's wish to become a naturalised British subject. [illegible] also that his eldest [illegible]

RODE AN AVALANCHE DOWN ALPINE PEAKS

Men and Woman Have Exciting Experience and Narrow Escape From Death.

(Special Cable.)

Rome, March 24.—Nine men and a woman, natives of the Italian village if Chiavenna, had a terrifying experience yesterday, when they attempted to cross the Grand St. Bernard Pass into Switzerland in search of work.

When half way to the hospice of the St. Bernard monks, they were enveloped in a blinding snowstorm.

Suddenly an avalanche swept across their path, carrying the travellers down the mountain slope for a distance of 700 feet.

The woman, aided by her skirts and a wicker basket, which she was carrying on her back, rode the entire distance on the top of the avalanche, and was the first to extricate herself.

The men were more or less buried in the snow, two being covered up to their necks. They were bruised, but otherwise unhurt.

The travellers regarded their experience as a warning not to proceed, and they accordingly returned to Chiavenna.

FRENCH COUNTESS COPIES HUMBERT FRAUD

Piles Up Debts Amounting to $2,500,000 on Strength of Bogus Legacy.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 24.—A woman of 60 and calling herself the Countess Potocki, has been emulating Mme. Humbert by piling up debts amounting to $2,000,000 on the strength of an alleged inheritance of that sum.

She lived at the Chaville, near St. Cloud, and made a large number of acquaintances amongt the wealthy inhabitants there. Her marriage to Count Potocki, she said, had been a secret one, and she was at law with her late husband's natural heirs over his estate of $2,500,000.

Sympathetic friends lent money to her freely, and on Saturday some of the creditors discovered that her debts very nearly equalled the amount of the "inheritance."

She barricaded her house, and the police had to burst open the door. Even then she would only consent to accompany them on condition that she might first put spanish [illegible] to [illegible]

WILL LOSE A FORTUNE IF SHE WEDS AGAIN

Lady Maple's Marriage Means to Her Sacrifice of $50,000 Per Year.

LADY MAPLE

(Special Cable.)

London, March 24.—If Lady Maple carries out her intention to be married to Mr. Montagu Ballard, she will lose $50,000 a year.

Sir John Blundell Maple, her late husband, left her a lump sum of $50,000 with an annuity of $100,000. The will provides that if she marries again half of the annuity is forfeited.

The late baronet's two chief residences—Childwick Bury and Clarence House, Regent's Park, and he bequeathed to her, in addition, all his farming stock and part of his racing stock, including the valuable sires, Ceramon and Royal Hampton.

Baroness von Eckhardstein, Sir John's only daughter, under the will receives half the income of a large sum, the whole of which [illegible] reverts to her. She is, however, bound to spend two-thirds of every year in this country—the only provisions in the will that is restrictive.

WIDOW OF A KING IN ENGLISH CONVENT

Once Queen of Portugal, She is Now a Nun in Isle of Wight.

(Special Cable.)

London, March 24.—The rumor that [illegible] mother of Spain will take the veil after the marriage of King [illegible] to mind the fact that the widow of an ex-king is at the present moment in a convent in the Isle of Wight.

The royal nun was born Princess Adelaide of Lowenstein-Wertheim-Rosenberg. She married in 1851 Miguel Duke of Braganza, who occupied the throne of Portugal from 1828 to 1834. In the latter year he abdicated under [illegible] exiled in 1866.

His widow entered the Benedictine Convent at Solesmes, in France, in 1897, and when the community was banished from France she came with the rest of the sisters to Northwood in the Isle of Wight.

Within the last few weeks the community has bought the Isle of Wight College, near Ryde, where their home will be in the near future.

Since the royal nun's arrived in England she has received visits from King Edward and several other members of the royal family.

Another, but younger member of the same family of Lowenstein-Wertheim-Rosenberg is also a nun in the same Isle of Wight convent, and a third is one of the Poor Sisters of St. Francis.

MASTER OF HOUNDS AT 83.

Cardiff, March 24.—Ald. William Morgan, J.P., of Treherbert, the most picturesque personality in the Rhondda Valley, although 83 years of age, is master of the Tynewydd hounds, and rides across country for eight or ten hours at a stretch.

London, March 24.—John Feather, a member of the Pailling (Norfolk) lifeboat crew, postponed his wedding to go out with the boat and salve a stranded steamer. He worked for ten days, and yesterday, the work being done, returned home and led his bride to the altar.

SIXTEEN YEARS OLD, YET STILL A BABY.

One of the most curious freaks of nature has just been "discovered" in London. He is a boy named Edward Garrett, who, although 16 years old, is physically still a baby, and [illegible] as "The Little Stranger" at the Criterion Theatre. Oddly enough, he was discovered by Mr. Michael Morton, the author of the farce, who, seeing great possibilities in exploiting the grotesque size of the young man, especially fancied him for the part of Tom Prettyman.

FRENCH BARON'S HOUSE LIKE FEUDAL FORTRESS

Turrets of Buildings Fitted Out to Withstand an Invasion by Military.

(Special Cable.)

Paris, March 24.—The Matin states that Baron Raoul de Veux has leased part of a house on the top of Montmartre, and has fortified the turret of the building, so that it resembles the turret of a battleship.

The Baron was one of the participators in M. Paul Deroulede's conspiracy to overthrow the republic seven years ago. A few months ago he turned his house in the Bois de Boulogne into a fortress, which he undermined with [illegible] large enough to accommodate a small army.

At the Montmartre house the windows are protected with iron curtains, the doors are furnished with heavy iron bars and clamps, the staircase has been narrowed so that only one person at a time can climb it, and the whole place looks as if a siege were anticipated.

The Baron, who leased the place under an assumed name, has superintended the fortifications himself. These are so complete and the strategical position on the hilltop is so commanding that the bellicose Baron could defy the attacks of almost any force of police or even soldiers.

MERE MATTER OF HABIT.

Paris, March 24.—The Gaulois says that the French Government is to be asked to stock French rivers with cod, mackerel, soles, conger eels and other salt water fish. This, the journal says can be done now, for a well known scientist has succeeded in accustoming salt water fish to live in fresh water.

WEDDING DRESS AS DOORMAT.

London, March 24.—Burglars have not only stolen $500 worth of wedding presents from a house at Finchley, but added insult to injury by wiping their boots on the latter's wedding dress.

The Scourge of Consumption

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired Languid or Run Down Get Protection Before Too Late

No child, man or woman is safe from consumption unless their blood is pure, rich and nourishing.

Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develops.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrozone, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Masotick, Ont., tells as follows of her enormous gain in health from Ferrozone: "For two years I was not well. I was thin and anaemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tired-ness hung over me like a load of lead. Housework of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly for I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrozone I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my condition was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozone feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vim of robust health from head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozone? Price 50c. per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

T. V. C. Outlet Not Yet Decided.

Col. Ward, Durham County, was notified by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the House, on Thursday, that the Dominion Government has not at decided as to which route, as regards an outlet, will be chosen for the Trent Valley Canal. The misinformation also included the now stale news that several engineers have resigned in consequence of the breaks in the canal.

Late Theatre Attendants.

Several theatre-goers have lately complained to The Times regarding late comers, who, entering after the play has started, materially interfere with those following the play. It seems to us that people having tickets to the play might come in on time and getting their seats before the performance starts, avoid interrupting others who have equally as good a right to forsee the enjoyment of the play. Just because it may seem fashionable to come in when the first act is about half through, is poor reason for spoiling the pleasure of those who buy their tickets for the play, and not to display their knowledge that "In the old country you know," it is an regard to some style to the play.

ODE TO ANCHOR ICE

How a Peterboro Housewife Cleaned the Water Pipes.

The following lines were found on the desk of the junior reporter of this great family journal. At the risk of breaking the press we give it space in these columns:

When winter bides in Peterboro,
And makes us mortals shiver,
When anchor ice does drag along
The bottom of the river.

It stoppeth up the intake pipe
That doth supply the town,
And none may have the water till
A diver doth go down.

Now Mrs. Brown, a good housewife,
Observed one frigid morn
That all the faucets had gone dry,
And this made her forlorn.

"The pipes are frozen," she made moan,
"And we may die of thirst;
"Or else the house may all be wrecked
"If so be they should burst!"

She took a lighted candle then,
And to the cellar went;
She found the winding water pipe,
And over it she bent.

She held the candle where the flame
Might duly heat the pipe—
And ashes, cobwebs, and coal dust
Gave her both spot and stripe.

She stooped, she crawled upon her knees,
She bumped against the wall,
She scratched her hands and tore her skirt
When she essayed to crawl.

The dripping tallow burnt her wrist,
But foot by foot she went
Until she felt as one within
A dusty dungeon pent.

Meanwhile afar out in the river
A diver had gone down
And cleared the ice that dammed the pipe
That led into the town.

She came upstairs, cobwebbed and grimed,
And gave a joyous shout;
"A thoughtful wifey, now, am I!
"I've thawed the pipes all out."

O gentlefolk, her motives were
The best. Think once or twice
Ere any one shall tell her of
The pranks of anchor ice.

MR. GLIDDON HONORED

Prominent Local Musician Presented With Gold Ring.

The choir of George street Methodist church held its regular weekly practice at the Peterboro Conservatory of Music Thursday night, and presented their retiring leader, Mr. R. Gliddon, with a flattering but well deserved address, accompanied by the presentation of a solid ring with Masonic emblem. The affair was a complete surprise to Mr. Gliddon, who has been the leader for about a year expressed in suitable terms, his gratitude for their substantial token of regard, and spoke of the pleasant relations which had always existed between the members of the choir and himself. He thanked them for their active assistance and hearty co-operation, and spoke in the highest terms of their ability and earnestness. In conclusion he wished them every success and happiness, and thanked them for their kindly gift. Mr. Gliddon retires from the directorship of the choir at the end of the month. Mr. L. A. Turner made the presentation, and Mr. Jas. Browne read the following address:

Mr. Rupert Gliddon,

Peterboro, Ont.,

Dear Sir,—We the members of the choir of George street Methodist church, wish to take advantage of this occasion to express our regret at the severance of the relations of choirmaster and choir, which have existed to our great pleasure and profit for the past year, and our grateful appreciation of the interest you have taken in our instruction, and the cultured skill with which you have directed our efforts to improve the musical services of the church.

Whatever success we have accomplished in this direction we gratefully acknowledge is very largely due to your diligence and capable instruction and interest in our progress and proficiency. Our personal, as well as professional relations with you have been pleasant and profitable and we part with you with regret, choosed, however, by the reflection that you will remain near us in Peterboro, and still continue to carry on the good work of promoting the growth of musical culture, in which we wish you the greatest success and profit, both to yourself and the interests concerned.

In earnest of our good Wishes and appreciation, we ask your acceptance of the accompanying gift.

Signed on behalf of the choir.

W. H. CUNNINGHAM,
MAUDE DETCHER.

Engine Broke Down.

Hastings Star; Last Monday afternoon the express going east left the station on schedule time but after proceeding about half a mile had to return on account of meeting a freight train. The express was well filled and the time and a collision would doubtless have resulted in a large loss of life. However, there was no danger as the express had instructions to proceed to the Godolphin siding if the freight was not at Hastings when it arrived. The engine of the freight broke down a short distance east of town and the necessary flagmen was sent ahead to warn the approaching express.

C. G. E. Co. Completes Large Contract in Winnipeg, Man.

Referring to a large contract recently completed by the Canadian General Electric Co. for the Winnipeg General Power Company, and the material for the towers by the Canada Foundry Company, the Canadian Electrical News says:

In 1901 the Winnipeg General Power Company were incorporated for the development and transmission of power to the city of Winnipeg. This company was in 1905 consolidated with the Winnipeg Street Railway Company, a company operating all of the tramways as well as the lighting and general power service for the city.

The site decided upon for the power house was at Lac Du Bonnet, on the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The power is obtained from the Winnipeg river, which was dammed eight miles from the power house. The canal is 125 feet wide and 9 feet deep, having a drop of 5 feet per mile, giving a head of 40 feet for operating the water wheels.

Many difficulties were encountered in constructing the canal, on account of the large amount of granite which had to be blasted out with dynamite and the piece of rock taken out by means of hoists. The amount of rock blasted was in the neighborhood of 450,000 cubic yards.

The first survey was made in 1901 and the work on the power house was begun in 1903. The power house is steel and brick and contains four 1,000 k. w. and five 2,000 k.w. generating units; two 175 k. w. motor driven exciter sets and two 100 k.w. water driven exciter sets. The generators are water wheel driven, the turbines being of the McCormick type, manufactured by S. Morgan Smith, of York, Penn. The switchboard is of black slate and of the bench type, located on a gallery in the center of the generator room. All instrument cables are run in iron conduits to the switches, which are of the oiled type, and built in pressed brick cells.

The transformers consist of six 830 k.w., and nine 1,800 k.w., 40,000-60,000 and 60,000 volts on the primary side and 2,200, 2,300, and 2,400 volts on the secondary side. All transformers are connected in delta on both the high and low tension. The high tension fuses are protected by three inch concrete slabs and on 6,000 volt insulators. There are two transmitting lines on steel towers, protected by Boro type lightning arrestors for conveying the power to the sub-station at Winnipeg, the distance being about 65 miles.

The sub-station at Winnipeg is laid out similar to the Lac du Bonnet power house. The transformer capacity consists of nine 800 k.w. and six 1,800 k.w. transformers, 55,000-44,000 and 33,000 volts on the primary side and 2,300, 2,200 and 2,400 volts on the secondary side. The switchboard is of blue Vermont marble.

The ultimate capacity of the station for railway and direct power purposes will consist of eight 1,700 k.w., motor generator sets, of which four have already been installed.

All of the conduits at the sub-station are run in the floor and brick walls to man-holes at points of distribution.

NEW LICENSE ACT

Local Man Attends Meeting of O. L. H. P. Association.

A meeting of the Ontario License Holders' Protective Association, held in Toronto on Wednesday, March 22 nd, was attended by Mr. J. M. Brooks, vice-president, of this city.

Mr. E. Dickie, secretary of the association, took the minutes of the meeting, whilst Mr. Barnet, president of the association, occupied the chair.

In reference to the proceedings, the Toronto Mail says:

"The Executive Committee of the Licensed Victualers' Protective Association of Ontario, met yesterday afternoon and went over the new liquor law clause by clause. A number of objections were noted, and a deputation was arranged for an interview with the members of the Provincial Cabinet for the purpose of laying the same before them. The absence of any provision relating to compensation was one of the chief causes of complaint, as it was suggested that any new legislation would provide for some relief to hotelkeepers whose licenses might be cut off. The conference with the Government will take place before the second reading of the bill, and it is possible that a convention of the liquor dealers of the province will be called for the near future.

Speaking of the matter last night, one of the members of the Executive stated that if the licenses fee were to be placed at the figure stated in the bill, the public would certainly be called upon to bear at least a portion of the cost. The price of all imported liquors would be placed at 15 cents, or two for 25 cents, and all domestic liquors at 10 cents, or three for 25 cents.

There will be a meeting of the Hotelkeepers' Association of Toronto on Saturday night at the King Edward Hotel to discuss the situation.

And the Toronto World reads as follows:

The executive of the Ontario License Holders' Protective Association were in session all yesterday at their Wellington street offices discussing the Hanna license bill. Secretary Dickie said that it and were considered that some sections should be strongly opposed and that some additional clauses should be asked for, but he could give no information as to what steps would be taken.

The Hotelkeepers' Association of Toronto, are taking the new act very seriously. A committee has been appointed to look into all the provisions of the act, and they will report at a meeting of the association, which will be held Saturday night at the King Edward.

—For stealing a bottle of whiskey from the McGregor House, Norwood, Patrick Heffernan, of Asphodel, was fined $10 and costs and 21 days in the common jail. To give the offender a chance to reform and enter up, Magistrate Ellerton was lenient and ordered that the latter penalty be not inflicted until further orders.

CANADIAN SOCIETY GIRL CURED BY PE-RU-NA.

Cold Produced Catarrh of Throat—Attack Was Severe.

Miss Lottie Hollingsworth, Prescott, Ont., Can., writes:

"After suffering for weeks with a cold, it left me with catarrh of the larynx. My voice was so hoarse that I thought I would lose it entirely, my neck was swollen, and altogether my condition was very serious.

"I bought some Peruna after I had used other remedies without relief. In a few days my voice was clearer, it did not tire easily and I began to see relief in sight.

"I really was surprised to find that I was cured so soon. I took only four bottles of Peruna, and it is certainly well worthy of endorsement."

THE MARKET TOLLS

Mr. Harry Snider Buys the Job For Three.

The market tolls for the ensuing year were sold yesterday morning in the City Council chambers, by Auctioneer John Haggart.

By eleven a.m., the council chamber was crowded with citizens anxious to know who the new market clerk would be. Auctioneer John Haggart accompanied by City Clerk Armstrong, were promptly on hand. Ald. Adams, chairman of the Property Committee; City Solicitor E. H. D. Bel and Ald. McWilliams were also present.

There were only three bidders, viz., James A. Brown, last year's market clerk, T. J. Lee and Harry Snider.

At play at eleven o'clock Auctioneer Haggart read the conditions of the sale and started the bidding by stating that this year, there was a reserved bid. Mr. T. J. Lee offered $500 but by 11.15 time had been run up to $1,020, when the sale was closed;

The various bids were as follows;

T.J Lee—$500, $700 and $970.

Jas. A. Brown—$840, $950, $960 and $1020.

Harry Snider—$600, $800, $900, $1,000, $1,010 and $1,020.

The reserve bid was $1,000. This was put on because last year's market clerk said that he lost money on the deal. He had paid $1,230, which is $230 more than the price brought this year.

RINGLING'S CIRCUS COMING

This Great Show to Appear in This City in August.

The Times is in receipt of a circular letter to the effect that Ringling Brothers' circus will exhibit in Peterboro this year. This colossal aggregation is preparing to move out of winter quarters at Baraboo, Wis., and into the Chicago Coliseum as the beginning of its annual tour of the country.

The circus has 1,200 persons on its pay roll, including 300 dancing girls. As for animals, there are 650 horses and forty elephants, to say nothing of a big menagerie of wild things.

Barr Fum and a young French woman, who hasn't decided on her name for this season, will furnish thrills for the patrons of the circus, the first named by riding down an inclined plane and turning a somersault on a bicycle, and the latter by looping the loop in an automobile.

Y. W. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT

A Splendid Exhibition, Under Miss Adams' Supervision of Calisthenics

Last night the Y.W.C.A. gymnasium was comfortably filled by some two hundred and fifty of their admirers and patrons who came to see, and saw, a splendid exhibition of calisthenic and gymnastic exercises.

The entertainment was under the supervision of Miss H. E. Adams, physical directoress of the local association, who has brought her pupils to a fine degree of excellence.

The program consisted of calisthenic exercises, feats of daring and beauty on the parallel bars and other exercises tending to develope the "female form divine."

Last night's program was materially enhanced by an exhibition of club swinging given by Miss Sylvia Adams, sister of the directoress. The evening was enlivened also by a well rendered musical program, Miss Reade giving a couple of songs in her inimitable style, named "The Flight of Ages," and "For You." Miss Heath, elocutionist teacher in the Conservatory of Music, recited "Seeing Things at Night," and rendered to a hearty encore. The class held its regular drill, 30 being present.

AMERICAN LIFE

Rev. Canon Davidson Will Refer to Our Cousins to the South on Sunday.

Rev. Canon Davidson, rector of St. John's church, who has, for the past few weeks been absent in St. Louis, Mo., and Chicago, Ill., has returned home, benefitted in health and having had a good introduction to American people and customs.

Whilst away this popular rector of St. John's, has not only made a wide circle of new acquaintances, but also met many Canadians now domiciled in the United States.

In St. Louis, the rector met Rev. Mr. Scadding, a graduate of Trinity University, Toronto, and a son of one of Ontario's most prominent bankers.

Whilst in Chicago, Rev. Mr. Davidson was entertained at the Union League Club by Mr. A. H. Gross, one of Chicago's leading millionaires, who is well known to many of our citizens, and who often visits this city, being a nephew of Mrs. Jas. Stevenson. Mr. Davidson also met Mr. E. M. Taylor, a prominent member of the stock exchange, and a son of one of St. John's former rectors, who also extended courtesies to him.

On Sunday the rector will, at both morning and evening services, in his sermons, refer briefly to American conditions and ideas." This will doubtless make a most interesting subject for the usual large congregations of St. John's.

MR. MILLER'S FUNERAL

Remains of Late Journalist, Well Known Here to Arrive To-day.

The remains of the late John Miller, journalist, formerly of Otonabee, who died in Calgary, will arrive in the city on the 11.26 C.P.R. train this morning, and the funeral will take place from the station to Little Lake cemetery. Rev. D. D. McDonald, pastor of the Keene Presbyterian church, will conduct the obsequies.

Mr. Donnelstown for Beacher.

Mr. R. M. Donnelstown has been unanimously nominated by the Peterboro Law Association for the office of Member of the Ontario Law Society. The nominees will be chosen, to the number of thirty, on March 28th. Every practising solicitor in the province has the privilege of sending his ballot to the secretary of the O.L.S. If elected Mr. Donnelstown will hold office for five years. It is now up to our local legal lights to get busy and see that Mr. Donnelstown is placed at the head of the poll.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 4,500 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, viz: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Rio Tinto mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

here is a luxury of the past. There are scarcely half a dozen inhabitable rooms about the place," he added, turning to his companion.

"I wonder you can content yourself stopping here," commented Donald Gray. "I should imagine you were a young gentleman who enjoyed gayety and plenty of life."

"So I do," asserted Waldron. "This place was left to me by the death of a relative two years ago, yet I did not trouble myself to look after it until last summer. I took a run down here from Washington then, and have paid visits off and on since."

By this time they had reached the western wing, in which were situated Waldron's suite of rooms, as he called it, and were soon doing justice to a hearty supper.

"Now then," said Waldron, as they sat over their wine, "what was the plan you were speaking of in reference to Cheseleigh? You said the old general was about to put a new scheme into execution."

"I do not know that I ought to disclose affairs which were never destined for my ears to hear," objected the detective, modestly.

Waldron was about to retort, but at that instant a strange sound echoed distinctly through the high vaulted rooms—a sound which brought the swift color into Waldemar Waldron's face, and a glance of uneasiness into his eyes.

"These old shutters creaking to and fro on their hinges make unearthly noises," he said, rising instantly and closing the door.

"I did not hear them," observed young Gray, innocently.

The master of the Towers looked, as he felt, wonderfully relieved at those words.

The detective had heard the unusual sound, however, and, quick as thought, had decided upon a plan of procedure. He must investigate it, if he had to explore the old Towers from top to bottom. Nothing must stand in his way.

An experienced detective is always prepared for such an emergency, and, quick as thought, when the master of the Towers turned toward the door to close it, he succeeded in dropping a few grains of a sleeping potion in his host's untasted wine.

The effect was—as he knew it would be—while he was explaining to Waldemar Waldron that it was the intention of General Hastings to make a will, leaving every dollar he possessed to Bernard Cheseleigh, his host's eyes closed wearily; the fair Saxon head sank back among the velvet cushions of his arm-chair, and his deep breathing told Donald Gray the way was safe now from all intrusion to make the long-wished-for investigation of the Towers.

He must make the most of every moment, too, for the effects of the potion would not hold the young heir's senses in thraldom scarcely the hour out.

Snatching up a lighted taper, he hurriedly crossed the room and stepped out into the corridor.

If by chance he met one of the servants, he well knew his ready wit would stand him in good need. For half an hour or more the detective patiently investigated every nook and corner of the uncanny old ruins, finding, as a reward, little more than dust and emptiness.

"What occasioned the strange sound he had heard?" he asked himself, impatiently, as he traversed, one after the other, the subterranean passages.

Surely his senses had not been playing him false?

He was almost tempted to return to Waldron's apartments, and set this experiment down as another ignominious failure—when once again the same strange sound was repeated—this time with a startling clearness there was no mistaking, directly over his head.

He stood quite still for a moment to locate the exact place on the floor above, and as he raised his taper he saw—what had quite escaped his observation before, shrewd as he was—a narrow door, so like in color to the panels of the wall as to be hardly noticeable to those unaware of its existence there.

In an instant the young detective flung it open, and advanced carefully and cautiously up the narrow carpeted stairway which it revealed.

It was certainly evident, as he paused and looked about him, when he reached the topmost stair, that he had not been upon this floor and through this particular corridor before.

He pushed open the first door he reached, and found himself in a room tastefully furnished.

This, in all probability, was one of the inhabitable apartments the heir of the Towers had casually referred to. He pushed his search still further—drawing back the velvet hangings, which were closely drawn before the arched doorway of an inner apartment.

He stood quite still and motionless, gazing upon the scene from within which met his view.

Like the outer apartments, this room was also tastefully furnished. A silver-shaded lamp stood on a marble centre-table, casting a subdued, mellow light over the bright-hued velvet carpet—the easy lounging chairs, cottage piano, and general bric-a-brac.

A bouquet of wild flowers, pansies and mignonette, filled a vase on the dresser, and a bouquet of the same flowers adorned either side of the velvet-draped mantel.

It was evidently a room such as a lady would use—a lady of taste and refinement. And in the centre of the room, seated on a low rocker—her face half revealed by the silver lamp and half concealed by its shade of crimson crystal,—sat a young and lovely girl, running her white, shapely fingers over the strings of a guitar, accompanying the music, now and then, by a low peep of a delightfully sweet and bell-like compass.

This was the sound that had reached the young detective as he sat in Waldemar Waldron's apartments below.

The detective's heart gave a great throb of exultation and triumph.

Had success crowned his valiant efforts at last?

One rapid, eager glance, as the face was turned more fully toward him in the soft glow of the lamp,—then his hopes fell with the keenest disappointment, as it flashed over him that the young girl before him was not General Hasting's daughter.

Long and earnestly he scrutinized every feature of her face. It bore not the slightest resemblance to the smiling, dimpled face of the lovely little blonde whose photograph reposed at that moment in his breast pocket. Not one feature resembled the pictured face of the general's missing daughter.

He had stumbled upon a hidden romance; but it mattered little to him since it was not the one in which he was interested.

With a keen sense of disappointment, he turned and retraced his steps to the apartment in which Waldron still sat. He had scarcely regained his seat ere the young heir opened his eyes with a start.

"Did I fall asleep?" he asked, in the utmost astonishment. "How long have we been sitting here? I must have dozed off a minute or two since, just as you were relating your very interesting story concerning General Hastings' plans. I certainly beg your pardon for being such an inattentive listener. I was quite interested, however, I assure you."

"It is my turn, I should say, to beg pardon for encroaching so long upon your hospitality. It is time I was taking my leave."

The Incoming Stream of Diamonds.

More than $90,000,000 worth of diamonds and other precious stones have been imported into the United States during the past calendar year. This importation of diamonds and precious stones is by far the largest in the history of the United States, the high water mark in earlier years having been $28,500,000 in 1903, while 1904 showed but $27,760,000. In the ten months of 1905 ended with the month of October the total was over $81,000,000, or more than in any full year prior to 1905. The importation of these ten months, amounting to $81,339,197, gives an average of over $8,000,000 per month, so that it may reasonably be assumed that the figures for the two following months will bring the total up to $98,000,000 as against $27,760,000 in 1904 and $28,500,000 in 1903.—Harper's Weekly.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $20 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 0x1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land as $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

HUMOR

HE "FIXED" THE COLONEL.

Drummer Boy's Excuse Was Acceptable When It Was Presented.

When General Sherman came up from Charleston to visit the Army of the Potomac Sherman's army had marched from Cumberland gap, through Knoxville and Atlanta, to the sea. "Old Tecump's" soldiers were great fighters and marchers, while General Howard's soldiers were great on dress parade. So Howard thought he would astonish Sherman, and he arranged a great parade at Bailes Crossroads.

The finest eastern regiments, with the newest and smartest uniforms, were selected, among them the Thirty-ninth New York. They were the crack drillers of the corps. In the regiment's band was a handsome drummer boy, who was a great forager. He would always have turkeys and chickens, while the other boys were starving. No one knew where he carried them, but they found out afterward that he carried them in his drum.

When they beat up the parade and the handsome Thirty-ninth came dancing along General Howard looked up at one of his colonels and exclaimed:

"Colonel, that Thirty-ninth drummer boy ain't drumming. Tell your adjutant to ride over there and tell him to drum. General Sherman is here. We want to make a good show. Ask the fellow why in thunder he doesn't drum."

The adjutant cantered up to the drummer and cried out:

"You drummer boy, there! Why don't you drum? You're just making your sticks go. Why the devil don't you drum?"

"You tell the colonel," said the boy in a low voice, with his hand over his mouth, "that I've got two turkeys in my drum, and one is for him and General Sherman."

"Sick, is he?" shouted the colonel. "Why didn't he say so before? Send him to the hospital!"—Eli Perkins in Judge.

The One Thing Needed.

Little Tommy had evinced a distinct liking for the birthday cake, and there were unmistakable signs of his wishing for more as he viewed the empty plate.

"What! More cake?" asked his mother, who added an awful description of the end of all gluttons to her question.

The third serving, however, was passed up to Tommy, with the distinct understanding that it was the last, whereat Thomas burst into tears.

"Whatever is the matter with the lad?" ejaculated his father. "You've got your cake. What more do you want?"

"I want some more—more room," sobbed Tommy, "and I haven't—haven't got it."—Answers.

Terrible Threat.

The little girl came home from school in the middle of the forenoon in a high state of excitement.

"What is the matter, dear?" asked her mother.

"Jimmy Treadway scared me."

"How?"

"Why, he's been having the mumps, and he's got some of 'em left, and when I wouldn't give him a bite of my apple he said he was going to take a mump out of his pocket and throw it at me!"—Chicago Tribune.

Miss Grannis' Decision

By A. M. DAVIES OGDEN

Copyright, 1906, by F. G. Eastment

It is so fatally easy for a misunderstanding to arise.

Johnson, galloping swiftly through the long lane of overarching June green, was musing somewhat bitterly upon this fact. It was over a month now since he had seen Helen Grannis, a month which had done a great deal toward quickening a spark hitherto not entirely recognized into a vivid flame. He had tried to see her, but unsuccessfully, and now his thoughts were brooding, as on other before, over that last unfortunate meeting. Was he to blame or she? Yet how could the fault be his?

Once again he went back mentally to the beginning—that day when he had telegraphed to ask if she would ride. They had often spoken of so doing, and this had been his first opportunity. The answer had been that she would be at the club at 4 o'clock. Johnson, promptness itself, cantered over from the stable at 4 precisely. There he waited. He waited until half after 4; he waited until a quarter of 5. There was no sign of Miss Grannis. At last reluctantly he rode toward the park, wondering what could have happened. The first person he met, walking her horse slowly down the main drive in the direction of the gate, was the girl herself, and with her, talking eagerly, was Ransome Sinclair, the man of all others whom Johnson most detested.

For a moment Johnson had stared, really incredulous, unable to trust his eyes.

Then, with a formal lifting of his hat, he was past, the dark red mounting to his cheek and rage in his soul. Had she forgotten the engagement, or had she deliberately thrown him over for Sinclair—Sinclair with his millions, who could give her everything?

In the sudden blackness revealed by the flash of jealousy Johnson realised for the first time how much this slender, dainty girl, with her pretty little air of statelliness, meant to him.

He had hardly gone a mile before the impulse which had made him bow and pass on looked the height of ridiculousness. Of course there was some mistake. Why had he not stopped and asked? But, although he turned at once, it was too late; the two had vanished.

He had telephoned that night. Miss Grannis was out for dinner. He had called the next afternoon. Miss Grannis was not at home. He could not write, for there was nothing to say. One could not ask a lady why she had chosen to ride with another. The week after, when he tried calling once more, the house was closed. He found that the family had departed for their country place.

Johnson was in despair, but it was not entirely a bad thing for him; it taught him a lot.

As he turned in now at the Newlands place and dropped off his horse some one moving down by the tennis court suddenly brought his heart into his mouth. Could it be she? He knew that Miss Grannis and Ida Newlands were great friends. Was it possible she might be stopping here for a week end? With tingling pulses he went forward. It was—it was! And he might never have known! Somehow he managed to answer properly the greetings of Ida and the men grouped about, then he turned to Miss Grannis.

He was unreasonable enough to be disappointed when the girl gave him merely a conventional smile. He felt that he was the one with the right to be angry. Ida Newlands looked sharply at them both. She knew Helen Grannis well enough to divine that something had occurred.

Now, as she saw Johnson, after a moment, turn aside, her nimble wit leaped to a sudden guess at the truth. And as she caught Johnson's flush as Sinclair came across the lawn her conviction deepened. But what could be done? In this last month Sinclair had been pushing his advantage hard. She knew that Helen was wavering. Ida did not fancy Sinclair; it was her brother who had asked him today. And she did like Johnson. With a swift inspiration she jumped to her feet.

"Let's have some tennis!" she exclaimed. "Helen, I will challenge you and Mr. Johnson to try to beat Mr. Sinclair and myself. Here's your racket," pretending not to see the girl's reluctance. It was the only way she could think of to bring them together.

Johnson could put up a strong game. He was tall, with long legs and arms that seemed to cover every corner of the court. And Helen had a clean, telling stroke. Sinclair, however, was no mean adversary. They would have to play up. But Johnson was not thinking of tennis. This was his chance. He must make the most of it before she joined that chattering group. As he brought the balls to Miss Grannis for her service he looked down at her for a moment.

"Why did you not come to the club that day?" he asked abruptly. "I waited and waited"—

"Waited!" echoed the girl. "Why"—

"Ready!" interrupted Sinclair, and Helen flashed a ball over the net. Johnson, his heart beginning to beat fast, tightened the grip on his racket. There had been surprise, unmistakable surprise, in Helen's eyes.

"Did you not expect me to meet you at the club?" he demanded as they changed courts.

"You lost that point," was the impatient response. "No, of course not. I always mount at the park entrance."

"But the maid said"— persisted Johnson.

"Then the maid was mistaken. Ah, be careful," as he nearly missed a returned ball.

A strange desire not to be beaten had suddenly sprung to life in her breast. They must win this set, she and Johnson. They must not be beaten by Sinclair. She looked across the net at his red, rather heavy face. Could she marry him? Her family had hoped for it. He was a splendid match, of course—and yet—what did Harry Johnson mean by asking why she had not come to the club? She had told the maid to say that she would be at the park entrance and then to telephone the club for her horse.

"Waited there an hour," said Johnson. "And then to meet you coming out of the park—with another man! What could I think?"

"Ah!" said the girl, with a quick indrawn breath. Couldn't he have known that she was only walking her horse up and down while she waited? The meeting with Sinclair had been pure chance. She, too, had waited, growing more and more annoyed with the awkward position in which she found herself; annoyed also by Sinclair's veiled remarks upon Johnson's tardiness, his polite wonder, and then to have Johnson appear, raise his hat and pass on! The girl bit her lip again at the memory.

Then suddenly as she caught the look in his eager, earnest eyes her own softened. After all, he had a bad time too. And all through that stupid Marie's having the messages confused. With an impulsive gesture she turned.

"Do play!" she exclaimed. "We must get this set."

Sinclair, rather sulky at being forced to play on a hot afternoon, had hitherto not chosen to exert himself, letting the games go to his adversaries, but now he was beginning to be interested. If they were to win, Johnson must concentrate. And Johnson, all at once infected by something in the girl's manner, straightened himself. The other side should not win a single game. Love three, love four! Sinclair, subtly aware of an unwonted tension in the air, strove his utmost, unavailingly. Johnson, his mouth shut hard, played as though muscled with steel. Love five! Helen was breathless, her lips parted. Love six! Set!

With a great sigh, Johnson faced her. "We've won!" he whispered exultingly, just loud enough for her to hear. Helen, her eyes unfathomable, glanced for a moment across at Sinclair—Sinclair with his millions. Then, the sweetest, tenderest smile curving her mobile mouth, she lifted her face to Johnson.

"Yes," she said softly; "a love match."

Mines of Mammoth Bones.

At some time in the distant past a remarkable state of affairs existed in what are now the bleak arctic regions of Siberia. At the time of which we speak the climate must have been comparatively mild, for thousands and hundreds of thousands of huge animals, mostly of the elephant type, roamed up and down the valleys of what are now frozen polar rivers. In the midst of their innocent happiness a sudden and awful change came. Some philosophers say that the earth "fell out of balance" and tilted thousands of miles to the north. Whatever the cause, fierce winter almost instantly swept over the land of the mastodon and the mammoth and overwhelmed the great beasts in huge snowdrifts, from which they could not extricate themselves. In the course of time these huge banks of snow were transformed into great mountains of ice, and today specimens of the great hairy mammoth may be found that are as fresh as when they were frozen in, thousands of years ago. In some places along the Lena river the bluffs are perfect mines of mammoth bones.

The Change That Was Wrought.

The little man was explaining to his audience the benefits of physical culture. "Three years ago," he said, "I was a miserable wreck. Now, what do you suppose brought about this great change in me?" "What change?" said a voice from the audience. There was a succession of loud smiles, and some persons thought to see him collapse. But the little man was not to be put out. "Will the gentleman who asked 'What change?' kindly step up here?" he asked suavely. "I shall then be better able to explain. That's right!" Then, grabbing the witty gentleman by the neck: "When I first took up physical culture I could not even lift a little man. Now (suiting action to word) I can throw one about like a bundle of rags." And finally he flung the interrupter half a dozen yards along the floor. "I trust, gentlemen, that you will see the force of my argument, and that I have not hurt this gentleman's feelings by my explanation." There were no more interruptions.

Saints and Disease.

The good St. Anthony owes scarcely more of his fame, probably, to his temptations than to the association of his name in popular speech with a disease. Erysipelas, known as the "sacred fire" before the eleventh century, owes its later name of "St. Anthony's fire" to the tradition that those who invoked the saint during a terrible epidemic of that time were cured. A complete list of complaints thus linked with the names of saints would be very curious. Neuralgia in the jaw is St. Apollonia's disease, sore throat or quinsy St. Blase's, colic St. Erasmus', cancer St. Giles' and hydrophobia St. Hubert's. Epilepsy is either St. Avertin's disease or St. Matburin's or St. John's evil. Insanity is St. Dymphna's disease and drunkenness St. Martin's evil.—London Chronicle.

Signs of a Storm.

St. Petersburg, March 22.—The growing unrest and agitation among the Russian workmen is largely due to the Government's repressive measures in the provinces, and especially to the threatening situation in the Don and other regions. At Ekaterinoslav 16,000 men of the Hughes Iron Works are already reported to have struck, and at Moscow great agitation prevails in the industrial sections. Undoubtedly the whole movement is connected with the demand of the Social Democrats and revolutionists for another general political strike.

TOWN AND COUNTY NEWS

Norwood Mill Burglarized.

Mr. C. E. Pakenham's flour mill in Norwood, was visited on Thursday night last by burglars. The thieves were evidently professional as they brought explosives and tools. However the safe was not locked, and after securing what coin it contained, about $1 in coppers and a few postage stamps, they fled, leaving some explosives and tools.

Five-Year-Old Boy Swallows Pin.

On Wednesday, Stanley Hart, the 5-year-old son of Mr. J. P. Hart, 39 Elm street, swallowed an open safety pin. The child has been put to bed by its mother, when Mrs. Hart was awakened by screams arising from her little son. Fortunately the pin went down, point upwards, and it is hoped that no operation will be necessary.

Expert Swordsman in Town.

Included among the car load of English immigrants that arrived in the city yesterday, was a nephew of Mr. Charles James, the local manufacturer of ginger beer, by name Wm. James, who was formerly with the British army in India. Mr. James is an expert swordsman, and may give lessons in fencing. When he left England the flowers were in bloom and the weather balmy. He is favorably impressed with Canada as far as he has seen of his adopted country.

A Local Wedding.

On Wednesday, March 21st, a very pretty wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mrs. Thos. Armstrong, 141 London street, when her youngest daughter, Miss Clara became the bride of Mr. Alex. Murray Laing. Rev. Mr. Langfeldt, rector of St. Luke's church, officiated. The happy couple left by the evening C.P.R. train for Toronto, and other western cities. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Laing will reside at Springville.

Cats and Husbands.

Women are said to be queer, said a Times' reader to a reporter yesterday. The family cat of a certain well known business man, which was away two nights, came home with a split ear, a banged up leg and sore eye, and the women took him in, fed, coddled and anticed him so that in a couple of days he was fairly comfortable. Suppose the man of the house after staying out two nights, had returned home like the tomcat, what do you suppose would have happened to him?

Rev. Mr. Potter on the New Act.

Rev. J. G. Potter does not approve the new license bill. He does not think the greatly increased price of licenses, in which the general public joins in the profits gained by the traffic, is right. The rev. gentleman thinks that the increased licenses will result in adulteration of the liquor sold. At the same time, Rev. Mr. Potter believes that whilst the Government is sincere in its determination to restrict the traffic, the percentage now necessary to carry local option is too high.

Millbrook House Changes.

There is considerable moving around of our citizens this spring to change of residence. Mr. J. B. Fitzgerald has moved to Mr. Miver's house, Mr. G. E. Burnham into Mr. H. Nattrass' house, Union street, and H. Nattrass comes down from the corner store, which he is running at the Bateman Corner. Mr. Milton moves into the one vacated by his employer, G. E. Burnham. Mrs. Armstrong and Tom from the low mill have moved out to Hally Argue's farm.—Millbrook Reporter.

Interesting Services in Gospel Hall.

Much interest is being taken in the evangelistic meetings at the Gospel Hall. Everything indicates that a crowded house will be present on Sunday afternoon in the Grand Opera house. It is hoped that all the Sunday school scholars of the city will avail themselves of the opportunity of hearing the young evangelist, Mr. Joseph Pearson, of Massachusetts. The doors will open at a quarter to four. Singing will begin at four and speaking at 4.15. Mr. Thomas Black will arrive here tonight on the 9 o'clock train.

Norwood Masons in Peterboro.

Norwood Register says: Dr. S. P. Ford, J. G. Pearce, Rev. G. A. MacLennan, James McMullen, W. H. Harper and W. A. Johnson, of this place, attended the regular meeting of Corinthian Lodge, A.F. & A.M., at Peterboro, on Friday evening, when the Most Worshipful the Grand Master, James H. Burritt, K.C., of Pembroke, paid a visit to the lodge. It was also the occasion of the official visit of the District Deputy Grand Master of Otonabee district, No. 20, Rt. Wor. Bro. John Hunt of Lakefield. A large number of visiting brethren from other lodges in the district were also present. After the official business had been transacted a very enjoyable banquet was held. The collation served was a delicious one and ample justice was done to the good things provided.

Now is your opportunity to give a candied opinion of these young ladies' efforts, and buy.

Another Industry Might be Gotten.

It is now up to this city to secure another factory. The Firm of Revens Bapser & Co., of Port Elgin, is thinking of leaving Port Elgin because that town has no fire protection, and the place is most likely to construct a waterworks system very soon. In a recent issue the Port Elgin Times says the company is thinking of spending some $65,000 on new buildings owing to increasing demand for their output. The paper goes on to say, as part:

"Port Elgin is now open to fires with stern facts. The town is absolutely without fire protection. We are at the mercy of fire at any time. Can we run the risk of this factory, one of the best in Ontario, using taken to name other town of more enterprise than we can show?"

Now is our opportunity to show that by our recent vote to spend money on adequate fire protection, we are justified in reaping what benefit may be accrued by the expense.

CHAMPIONS WIN

Once More the Locals Win Well Deserved Laurels.

Last night the Brock street rink was filled with a large crowd of enthusiastic patrons of Canada's great winter sport, to witness the game between the local Intermediate champions and the All Star combination an aggregation of players picked from the senior O.H.A. clubs.

The game, which created the utmost excitement of all present, was certainly one of the most exciting games that has been seen in these quarters for a long time.

Whitecroft, once more displayed that he is, beyond dispute, the king pin of hockey players in the country, while your Uncle Bill Cavanagh was there with the net bulgers every time. Morgan played rings round his check, and wore the smile that won't come off, Little Willie Crowley gave this big check Hamber one of the busiest time of his life. Rollie Glover made it very interesting for the opposing team, Chris Graham played a good steady game, while Kenie Wasson looked well after all the shooting Stars.

From the start off both teams played their hardest but the All Star team had the best of it in the first half scoring 6 goals to the locals 4.

In the second half the contest was even more keen and the play was largely in the Peterboro territory, and the senior bunch had great luck scoring 5 goals to Peterboro's 2 making the score 11 to 5 in favor of the All Stars.

With only about 15 minutes to play after this, the locals seamed to wake up and carried everything before them. Whitecroft made some sensational rushes assisted by Morgan, Cavanagh and Graham who all played a very fast game scoring one after another this seemed to confuse the seniors players, and the result was that the locals added 6 more to their credit, making the final score 12 to 11 in favor of Peterboro.

Following was the line-up;

| Peterboro | | All Stars |
|---|---|---|
| Wasson | Goal | Thomas (Barrie) |
| Glover | Point | Hanley (Midland) |
| Crowley | Cover-point | Hamber (Argos) |
| Whitcroft | Rover | Young (Marlboros) |
| Morgan | Centre | Clarke (Varsity) |
| Cavanagh | Left Wing | Ridpath (Marlboro) |
| Graham | Right Wing | Toms (Argos) |

Referee—Mr. Ford, of the C.G.E.

HOCKEY.

And now the London Free Press attributes the Darroch outrage to the Barrie newspapers, says the Advance, while the Toronto Telegram insists that the Barrie Hockey Club should for the same incident, be expelled from the O.H.A. If these writers keep on, Dr. Osler will have to tighten up his age limit.

* * * *

The Barrie Examiner wants to know why the Globe and Telegram should desire to have that town excluded from the hockey map, because a few irresponsible boys shied snowballs at President Darroch," when neither paper said a word when the Barrie intermediates were mobbed by a mob in Collingwood. "The comparison of these two incidents is not made with any desire to condone the offences of those who attacked Mr. Darroch, it adds, "but it is given as an example how Barrie has been singled out for attack this season, while the misdeed of other towns are passed over without comment."

The Ottawa Free Press says:—An anxious reader wishes to know what form of oath the Ottawas took when they pledged themselves to bring back the Stanley Cup next year. It follows:—The lights were lowered, and each man bared his breast. Geo. Murphy took a hockey stick and gave a gash a yard deep over every player's wishbone. Then, dipping the butt-end of the stick in the wound each player signed his name with his own blood on Harvey Pulford's pants. Trainer Geo Brown took the trousers home, sprinkled them with balsam, and secreted them under the sink, where they will remain till the silverware once more adorns Ossington's show window.

THE BANKS NEXT

Report That They May Be Investigated By Commission.

Montreal, March 24.—There is a belief in certain circles in this city that following the insurance investigation, there will be a commission appointed to look into banking affairs. This, at least, is the view taken by some of Montreal's bankers, and it is stated that they are now shaping their financial course with this in view.

Certain of the chartered banks, which have been carrying along industrial corporations of large magnitude, are, it is said, paring down these accounts with all possible speed, while these same banks are also disposing of a certain line of securities which they have on hand, and which would not, perhaps, pass muster with an investigating committee.

Some bank managers, when interviewed, stated that they had heard nothing of any such investigation, and did not believe that it would be held. The further stated that Canadian banks were in an excellent position to open their vaults to public scrutiny, but at the same time it would be an extremely serious matter and not one they would submit to tamely.

LOCAL INCIDENTS

By The Times Man on the Street

—Additional local news on sixth page.

—We are daily expecting the spring poet and the first robin man.

—The Trent Valley Canal deputation will go to Ottawa next Wednesday.

—A good assortment of mechanics toys for only 25 cents at Times Book store.

—For twenty-five cents you can buy a lovely big doll, jointed and sleeping, at Times Bookstore.

—Sewing wanted by the day or week, by an experienced dressmaker having good references. Apply at this office for address.

—The Times will be greatly improved in fact will be turned into a modern morning newspaper—when we get settled in our new quarters.

Mr. A. Hackill, who has been attending the annual convention of the Woodmen of the World, at Guelph, returned home yesterday evening.

—The cheese factories in the Picton and Trenton districts will commence operations for the season the first week in April—one month earlier than in former years.

—A well known business man admitted to a Times' man yesterday that the best meal ever served at his house was one day when a former beau of his wife was invited to dinner.

—Lt.-Col. J. Earl Hellwell, of Stirling, Right Worshipful Master of the Grand Orange Lodge of Ontario East, which has been holding its annual meeting in Lindsay, was in the city yesterday.

—Port Hope Guide: The Town Council have purchased several dozen lanterns and have them suspended from the trees on the different streets. The candle power is not very strong but every little bit helps.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Byram, of Otonabee left on Tuesday for Manitoba where they will take up their abode. Mrs. James Miles, of Stony Lake, sister of Mrs. Byram, accompanied them and intends making her home in the province. They will settle near Sidney in the electoral district of Macdonald.

—Mr. D. J. MacLean, of the firm of Buck & MacLean, Norwood, finished and set in operation last week a new invention which he has been working on during the winter months—a machine to turn out completed chees boxes. From the outset it works with complete success, and with it, it is said one man will be able to turn out five hundred boxes a day.

TORIES BEAT GRITS

Last night in Charlotte street rink an interesting match was played between two rinks, representing the Grits and the Tories in which the Tories beat the Grits by a score of 79—65 The rinks were as follows:

| Tory | Grit. |
|---|---|
| Kingman | Kerr |
| Matthews | Morrow |
| Brunsel | Orai |
| Fitzgerald | Davidson |
| Neil | Ferguson |
| Rutherford | Mich |

Notice to Illegal Fishermen.

Mr. John Watt, local fish and game overseer, is out with a warning to all poachers and fish murderers that henceforth, when convicted, the names will be given due publicity in the local press, in addition to the being fined.

The close season is from April 1st to June 15th inclusive. That means that no fishing can be done between June 14th, and anyone caught trawling will also be dealt with severely. It will thus year be necessary for fishermen using dip nets to procure a license, which will cost $1, and not transferable.

Any information received from anglers and others interested in the preservation of fish in the rivers, lakes and streams in and around Peterboro, will be gladly received and continually treated by Mr. Watt. He can be communicated with either at his residence, 293 Bethune street or by mail.

Valuable Fox Skins.

The Lindsay Post says: "Yes a those pelts are listed all the way from $25 to $1,000," remarked Mr. Ed. Armstrong of the D. & F. store yesterday morning, as he lovingly patted and smoothed the fur of a silver grey fox brought in by a country delegate to the Grand Orange Lodge. The owner of the valuable and fashionable fur garment had been shot by the delegate's young son while out hunting a few weeks ago and being unaware of the value of the skin he removed it somewhat carelessly and thereby lowered its selling price materially. The fur was in fine condition and Mr. Armstrong as the pelt should sell well. It will secure quotations from Montreal, Toronto, and New York buyers and retain 10 per cent. of the price for his commission.

People in Glass Houses.

Yesterday morning a local scribe left word with a local merchant that there was a good opening to give a brother scribe, engaged in collecting news for the latter-on in editorial enjoyment of his paper's patrons, a friendly "dig" over, for the brother scribe's attachment to a certain young lady in this city. Now newspaper men, being only mere atoms of humanity, and keen on their scent for news, must fully weigh every item of news ere it is published. We find that the scribe of the first part, exhibit eager to give a dig to the scribe of the second part, sometimes "Banks the tiger himself."

DOG WARNED NEIGHBORS.

Montreal, March 24.—A pet dog of black and tan breed whined all Thursday night upon the doorstep at 5 Concord street, and yesterday morning as it still continued what sounded like a mournful dirge, the neighbors tried the door, and when it would not open, they knocked it down. In the kitchen they found the sole occupant, Mrs. Mary Moore, dead in her chair, heart failure is supposed to be the cause.

No Medicine Cures so Many Sick, Overstrained, Despondent, Weak People as DR. HAMILTON'S PILLS

The One True Medicine for Health and Strength

You will realise, as you read the following letters, the grand work being done by Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They have a direct action on the blood, nerves, heart, kidneys and liver. All weakness is turned into strength, new energy and nourishing blood are created, buoyant good health is established in a short time.

DISCOURAGED WOMEN FOUND NEW HOPE.

"I had pretty nearly given myself up as incurable. I was weak and sickly all the time, had headache, poor digestion and sinking feeling. On rising in the morning there was a feeling of awful weariness.

"Dr. Hamilton's Pills helped from the first. They must have strengthened my blood, for I gained in strength as soon as I took them. Steady improvement followed, and I am now completely cured."

Mrs. M. E. Benson, Woodstock.

STRENGTH AND SPIRITS IMPROVED.

"No medicine could possibly be better than Dr. Hamilton's Pills," writes Mr. Jos. Devine from Ottawa. "I had pains in the back and side, caused by kidney trouble, was bothered considerably with headache, but Dr. Hamilton's Pills cured me quickly. I can recommend them to every man."

You'll become vigorous and strong, enjoy a good appetite, your sleep will be dreamless and sound, after regulating your system with Dr. Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Prince 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1, at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A. and Kingston, Ont.

The Smallpox Outbreak

Norwood Register: Reeve Johnston, of Belmont, County Councillors Andrews and Madogue and Reeve Campbell, of Chandos, a few days ago laid before the Private Bills committee of the Legislative Assembly in Toronto a request for assistance in defraying the expenses of the recent outbreak of smallpox in that part of the County of Peterboro. The deputation was given a favorable reply.

How to Catch a Hat.

A well known local druggist has discovered a new way to catch his hat when it blows off that will very readily appeal to the hatless. This man's derby blew off the other morning and he gave speedy chase up the road. But every time he stooped over to pick it up, the wind beat him to it and off it went. Several times this happened until a thought struck him. Instead of stooping over he stepped on it. Of course he smashed the crown, but he caught his hat.

IN MEMORIUM.

In Memory of Lillian Isabella Towns, Who Died March the 14th, 1906.

Little daughter, thou hast departed,
And we miss your winsome face,
Tears we've shed, when broken hearted,
Thinking of your fond embrace.

Death deprived us of your charms,
Leaves us lonely to lament,
Took you 'way from all alarms
To the home of bright content.

Where you'll know no grief nor sorrow,
Where you'll feel no pangs of pain,
In the land where each tomorrow,
Joys and bliss shall ever reign.

Still we can't but give expression
To Nature's forcing keen demand,
Thinking of deaths quick decision;
To take you 'way from our command.

Thinking of your chat so pleasant,
Thinking of your smiles so bright,
Thinking how your bright eyes glistened,
When your parents came in sight.

Thinking how in your last illness,
Patiently you bore the pain,
Smiling as to show your willingness,
Never flinched, nor did complain.

Isabell is up in Heaven,
God has called her for His own,
Bliss with angels, He has given,
Before His bright Eternal Throne.

Let us pray, when we are called on,
That we too in bliss shall dwell,
In the land where grief's unknown,
Forever with sweet Isabell.

—Parents.

Awarded Heavy Damages.

Boston, Mass., March 21.—A verdict of sixty-five hundred dollars was awarded by a jury in the United States Circuit Court, Tuesday, to Gustave Daigneau, in his ten thousand dollar action against the Grand Trunk Railway Company for injuries received in a collision at Sherbrooke, Canada, in 1904. Daigneau was severely injured in a rear-end collision.

Prepared for an Emergency.

A laughable incident occurred at the Grand Trunk depot the other evening which amused the people who were waiting for the train. An Irishman, who had taken on a little too much of his favorite beverage, had fallen asleep, and on waking up he started to get up and a quart bottle fell out of his pocket and broke on the floor. The Irishman never said a word, but reached down in the other pocket and produced another one, and took a big pull at it. He was evidently prepared for an emergency, but there was not a sponge in the crowd.

NORTHERN LIGHTS

Special Letter from a Lakefield Correspondent.

The following letter was received last night from a special Lakefield correspondent:

Signs of spring: Charlie drove out this morn in his four wheeler to the residence of "Douro Ratepayer."

The House of Refuge comedy is now on the boards here.

(Last Act. Scene—Poundkeeper Willis's sample room).

Enter, County Councillor Gobleup and Reeve Fishy.

Poundkeeper Willie. "Welcome comrades, how went it with thee today great and mighty Gobleup?"

Gobleup:, "Well, most passingly well, thou gentle caretaker of the noble brute beast."

Reeve Fishy: "Tell me, Oh! tell me, illustrious Gobleup, how went matters with three in Council assembled? My heart and my sash factory stood still this day when adverse tidings reached mine ears."

Poundkeeper Willie: "Speak, most honored most noble Gobleup and assuage mine fears; those tidings bore in on my grasping soul; at times your promise of contract for supplies without tender, seemed as fleety as Fishy's mind."

Reeve Fishy: Poundkeeper, to punch thine head I have a mind."

Poundkeeper: "A mind—surely not your own?"

Councillor Gobleup: "Peace, peace, my worthies, lest this great body burst with news that would forth to calm your grasping souls."

Reeve Fishy. "Thy news! thy news! brave Gobleup."

Poundkeeper Willie: "Discourse thy news, sweet Gobleup!"

Councillor Gobleup: "At ten of the clock Lords Norwood, Asphodel and Douro, under the leadership of 'Douro Ratepayer,' and did further attack my forces most fiercely. My centre was led by the Earl of Chandos, the right wing by Lord Harvey, and the left by the Provost of Dummer, the Lord Warden commanded the cavalry in rear of the sandpit; our battle word, A Chandos to the rescue. Three times that day we charged the enemy valiantly. Three times we were driven behind the sandpits; when I ordered up the cavalry to charge and drive the enemy into the marsh, where malaria's poison completed the victory."

Poundkeeper: "When that great monument (House of Refuge) is erected to your (dis)honor, what about the inmates?"

Councillor Gobleup: "Inmates—I'll feed them the year round on Fishy's bass; in looking after the laws he is such an ass; and when malaria's poison sends their mortal woe, I will bury them deep in my sandpits below."

Chorus: "Hurrah, hurrah, hurrah, let graft forever soar, let us away and cage 'Ratepayers' door."

Poundkeeper: "Sweet friends, 'sample up first."

(Curtain falls).

A Council meeting was held in Blind Pig Chamber, March 21st, all the members present. Minutes of last Humbug were read. Councillor Frank moved that the motion censuring "Douro Ratepayer" be struck out. Reeve Fishy declared the minutes confirmed.

Reeve Fishy addressed the Council and said he had given Poundkeeper Willis instructions to get a petition signed with as many names as possible, to show the County Council that the village of Northernlight backed up Gobleup and Fishy's scheme, and that if he could not get villagers to sign he was to get signatures anyhow, and I am happy to report he was specially successful in getting them anyhow.

The Clerk read a communication from Messrs. Bobble and Willis, general merchants, enclosing an account of $7.00 for seven yards of carpe to hang on "Douro Ratepayer's" door, and they asked for an order on the Treasurer for the same.

Councillor Duffer moved, seconded by Councillor Futty, that an order be drawn on the Treasurer for amount.

Councillor Frank objected to incurring the expense without consent of this Council.

Reeve Fishy asked the mover to add the words "and charge the same to Electric Light Bylaw expenses." The motion was accordingly amended.

Reeve Fishy then declared the motion carried unanimously, and remarked for his part he liked things done in order and above board.

Councillor Cornmeal moved the adjournment.

Lords Harvey and Chandos and Provost of Dummer are on a visit to Councillor Gobleup.

SMOKING CAR FOR WOMEN

One Elderly Woman and Two Young Ones Occupy Reserved Smoker.

London, March 23.—On a window of one of the first-class carriages in a train that left London for Liverpool this morning a label was displayed which said "Lady and Smoking." Application for it was made last night by a gentleman, who said: "I want a smoking carriage for a party of ladies attached to your noon Liverpool train to-morrow."

"Good heavens, man," replied the railroad official, "we were never asked anything like that before."

"What's that to do with the case?" persisted the gentleman. "My friends are smokers, and wish to smoke on the journey to Liverpool. Will you give them a carriage to smoke in?"

The official looked very anxious and miserable for a time, and then said he would see what could be done. After a great deal of agitation he managed to get the consent of the chief to make the asked for reservation, and in the train book he entered this order, "March 21, 1906, To Liverpool, reserved, smoking carriage for party of ladies, first-class."

STARTED ON CIGARETS.

When the train was made up the order was executed, and promptly the party that was to occupy it appeared and entered it triumphantly. There were three in the party, an elderly woman and two young ones. They started smoking as soon as they were seated. They began with cigarettes, but what they ran into before they got to Liverpool nobody knows but the chances are that they stuck to cigarets. English women do not often get past the cigaret stage in their smoking.

Boarders Wanted.

The undersigned has room for four gentlemen boarders, at his residence, 194 Park street (close to Electric Car line). All modern conveniences.

W. M. KELLY.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription,

Is not a secret or patent medicine, against which the most intelligent people are quite naturally averse because of the uncertainty as to their harmless character, but is a medicine of KNOWN composition, a full list of all its ingredients being printed, in plain English, on every bottle wrapper. An examination of this list of ingredients will disclose the fact that it is non-alcoholic in its composition, chemically pure glycerine taking the place of the commonly used alcohol, in its make-up. The "Favorite Prescription" of Dr. Pierce is in fact the only medicine put up for the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses and ailments, sold through druggists, that does not contain alcohol and has not to be large quantities. Furthermore, it is the only medicine for woman's special diseases, the ingredients of which have the unanimous endorsement of all the leading medical writers and teachers of all the several schools of practice, and that too as remedies for the ailments for which "Favorite Prescription" is recommended.

A little book of some of these endorsements will be sent to any address, postpaid, and absolutely free if you request same by postal card or letter, of Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

Don't forget that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, for woman's weaknesses and delicate ailments, is not a patent or secret medicine, being the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated and graduated physician, engaged in the practice of his chosen specialty—that of diseases of women—that its ingredients are printed in plain English on every bottle-wrapper; that it is the only medicine especially designed for the cure of woman's diseases that contains no alcohol, and the only one that has a professional endorsement worth more than all the so-called "testimonials" ever published for other medicines. Send for these endorsements as above. They are free for the asking.

If you suffer from periodical, headache, backache, dizziness, pain or dragging down sensation low down in the abdomen, weak back, have disagreeable and weakening, catarrhal, pelvic drain, or are in distress from being long on your feet, then you may be sure of benefit from taking Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets the best laxative and regulator of the bowels. They invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. One a laxative; two or three a cathartic.

Indians Kill Seven Waited in Ambush

Startling Crime on Mexican Border Recalling the Worst of "Wild West" Days.

San Francisco, March 25.—A despatch to the Chronicle from Los Angeles says:

News has reached this city of the murder of five members of the family of Pedro Mesa, president of La Dura, in Sonora, Mexico, and brother-in-law of Frederick Hartman, president of the William Hoege Company of Los Angeles, and two others, who were massacred by Indians within a few miles of their home, and their bodies left in the roadway between Ortiz and La Dura until a sufficient number of Mexican troops could be sent to overpower the raiding outlaws and bring in their victims.

The names of those killed are: Senor Pedro Mesa, president of La Dura, a rich mining contractor, and one of the most prominent men in the district; Senora Elvira Mesa, wife of the president; Senoritas Carmen, Eloisa and Pambeuta Mesa, 18, 20 and 22 years of age, their daughters; Mrs. Wenceslao Hoff, an old friend of Mesa, Theodoro Hoff, 24 years of age, her only son.

Three members of the Mesa family survive. They are the baby sons of Pedro Mesa and two young daughters, Mercedes and Elvira. The children had been left at home in La Dura when the rest of the family drove in carriages to Guayamas. Returning from Guayamas, the party stopped at Ortiz, and it is supposed they were joined there by Mrs. Hoff and her son. Here it is said they learned of the presence of a band of Yaquis in the Los Otates Mountains, near Otates Pass, through which they would have to travel to reach La Dura and the mining camp where A. Hartman owns large interests in silver and copper properties.

The worst of the gorge was passed, and they had entered the wider valley, when, from every ledge and mountain of debris, came the crack of rifles. The men charged desperately up the slopes, calling upon their heads a rain of lead. The last desperate stand of the survivors was made in the shelter of the overturned carriage, and they fought back, dying, but fighting to the last.

The story of the massacre was brought to Ortiz by an Indian letter carrier, who shortly afterwards went through the pass on his trip with the mail, and identified the bodies of those killed.

THE SUGAR CO. DEAL

Hon. Senator Cox Offers $15,000 For Sugar Company's Property.

It is apparent to the least intelligent that Senator Geo. A. Cox has a lively faith in the future of this city, as expressed both directly by himself and inferentially by his offer of $15000 for the Sugar Co. property.

When those interested in the Sugar Company met Friday afternoon, offers running from $15,000 in cash to $22,000 in cash and stock were made for the property.

The matter, however, was left in the hands of the Master-in-Chancery, Judge Weller, and as was instructed to make an immediate sale and to accept the offer which would realize the most money for the creditors.

It will be remembered that the city, some time ago considered the purchase of the 15 acres, and partially built walls, of the Sugar Co., by the town, and that the legislature turned this proposition down.

Then Hon. Geo. A. Cox, through the Toronto Savings and Loan Company, mixed upon the idea of purchasing the property, give the carpet people ten acres of the land free, or eight acres, including the walls, for $6,000 as a site for a carpet factory and then rely on the remaining acreage to reimburse him. This offer was acceptable to the carpet factory people, and consequently the proposition was formally placed before the company's liquidator, Mr. Frank Adams. Mr. Adams referred it to the county judge.

It was to consider this matter that the meeting of Friday was called. Four offers were presented as follows:

Toronto Savings and Loan Company, $15,000 cash.

J. J. Howden and G. W. Howden, the original owners of the lands, re-the original owners of the land, $16,000 cash.

Trent Valley Sugar Company, $22,500. $16,500 cash and $6,000 in paid-up stock in the company.

Trent Valley Sugar Company, in case the creditors wished to sell eight acres and the walls to the carpet factory, $17,000, $11,000 in cash and $6,000 in paid-up stock in the new company.

After hearing the arguments brought forward, by the various bidders, it was decided to leave the matter in the Master-in-Chancery's hands with instructions to make an immediate sale to whom would give the most to the creditors.

New Type of Cars.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company are having a new type of car built for the Muskoka traffic during the summer. The new cars will be of steel framework, and are guaranteed not to collapse should a collision occur. A large number of these cars are being made by the Pullman Company, and others in Detroit, and some at the Grand Trunk's own works at Montreal.

WILL ISSUE STOCK

Quaker Oats Co., With Nearly a Million Surplus to Sell New Stock.

The Canadian Grocer is authority for saying that President Orowell, of the Quaker Oats Company, in his statement at their annual meeting, says the company was never in a stronger financial position. The income account, which includes all the subsidiary companies, shows total receipts of $1,119,572, and a surplus of $678,540 after the payment of $541,032 as dividends and interests on bonds. The surplus is $968,133.

The real estate and plants of the company together with the stock and securities in the subsidiary companies, are valued at $11,026,682. There is due $400,206 from the under companies, the inventory foots up $2,783,587, and the accounts and bills receivable total $1,691,344.

The directors have decided to call in and cancel the bonds of the American Cereal Co., amounting to $1,000,000. Notice is to be given on March 1 and the bonds are to be paid June 1, 1906. The retirement of these bonds leaves all the milling properties of the company unencumbered, subject only to claims of the preferred stock.

J. T. O'CONNEL & CO. BUSY

Important Real Estate Deals Recently Effected.

Messrs. J. T. O'Connell & Co., the Hunter street real estate workers, have recently been instrumental in completing several important local real estate deals. Among others was the sale of Mr. E. Manning's house, 788 Water street, to Mr. Jas. F. Crowley, of Otonabee. Mr. Crowley has already taken possession of same. This transaction was carried through by J. T. O'Connel & Co., who succeeded in securing position for the buyer, within three days after the sale was effected.

Another deal recently effected by the same firm is the transfer of Miss B. Crowley's residence, No. 10 Inverlea street, to Mr. John Holland, of Bad Axe, Michigan, who takes possession within a few days.

Messrs. O'Connell & Co., are certainly hustlers in their line of business, as is also shown by their advertising in The Times.

Dewey as War Prophet.

Washington, D. C., March 26.—Speaking with utmost frankness, under bond of secrecy, before the house naval committee Saturday, Admiral Dewey marked either Germany or Japan, as a likely opponent of the United States in war in the future. The Admiral's views, which leaked out, have created a profound impression throughout the official colony, and it is believed the result will be the ordering by Congress of two battleships of the Dreadnought type.

KIND WORDS

For Americans By Rev. Canon Davidson of St. John's Church.

Yesterday the services in St. John's church, were attended by crowded congregations to welcome the rector, Rev. Canon Davidson, on his return from an extended trip to St. Louis and Chicago. During the sermons delivered at each service, Canon Davidson referred to the kindly treatment accorded him by the Americans he had met in these large cities. Mr. Davidson noted that he had been most agreeably surprised not only by the almost careless expenditure of money, in evidence among the rich, but by the broad-minded attitude of the Americans.

At the morning service he noted that his name was the last in a list of English and Canadian clergy, in the document by which the Church of England bishops relinquished jurisdiction in the Yukon territory, surrendered some time since to the Episcopal church of the United States.

LAID TO REST

Remains of Late Mr. John Miller Interred Saturday.

The mortal remains of the late Mr. John Miller, a son of the late Mr. James Miller, of this county, arrived by the 11.38 C.P.R. train from Calgary, accompanied by deceased's brother-in-law, Mr. J. H. Cruickshank, of Calgary, and among those who came down from Toronto were Mr. R. G. Davis and Mr. M. B. MacDonald, who were former associates of the departed in that city, where Mr. Miller resided previous to going to the west three years ago.

The funeral proceeded direct to the Little Lake cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. J. G. Potter and Rev. J. J. Wright, Robert Miller, William Miller, Jas. M. Drummond, John Reid, Robert Nelson and Peter Drummond were the pall bearers.

Misses Emeline and Wilena Miller, and Miss Aggie Campbell, of Toronto, and Miss Jean Campbell, of Keene, nieces of the deceased were present at the last sad rites, as well as Mr. F. J. Wallace, and other friends from the city. The floral offerings were beautiful and included wreaths from friends at 33 Murray street, Toronto, the Toronto Canoe Club and the Toronto Detective Force.

CROWDED MEETING

Opera House Filled by Eager Listeners to Evangelist Pearson.

Yesterday afternoon, long before the time for the actual proceedings to commence, hundreds of people flocked to hear the well-known evangelist, Mr. Pearson.

The crowds were very well handled and seats readily found by a special staff of ushers.

Mr. Pearson's address was strong, entertaining and, evidently universally convincing. Mr. W. G. Mulligan, the local singer, rendered some pieces in his inimitable style.

NAVY NEEDS LARGER SHIPS

Admiral Dewey Wants 13,000 Ton Ships and Submarines.

Washington, March 24.—Great battleships like the 18,000-ton English battleship Dreadnought are the crying need of the United States navy, according to Admiral Dewey, who appeared before the House committee on Naval affairs yesterday to discuss the future of the United States navy. At least two 18,000-ton battleships with ten 12-inch guns each should be authorized at once, in Admiral Dewey's opinion. He would have these of American design and thinks we should be creative, rather than imitative in developing the navy.

Admiral Dewey also believes extensive experiments with submarine boats should be carried on. In case of attack by a foreign navy, an American harbor of supply would be necessary, and submarines, in his opinion, are admirably adapted to prevent a foreign foe from gaining such a supply harbor. The admiral does not favor additional cruisers and armored cruisers but believes scout ships of the monitor type should be built.

Admiral Dewey thinks battleships should not be kept constantly in commission. He would have them rest more in suitable harbors, where a small crew could keep them in condition. This would result in great saving to the machinery. Crews could be trained satisfactorily on smaller and less expensive ships, in his opinion.

WILL LOCATE HERE

It is Practically Certain the Carpet Factory Will Get the Sugar Property.

Mr. G. P. Press, who will be manager of the Peterboro Carpet Factory has been here for several days, registered at the Oriental Hotel and will remain in the city for some time. As soon as the sale of the Sugar Beet Company's property to Hon. Geo. A. Cox, was settled, Mr. Press, with his solicitor, Mr. Robinson, of Stratford, met with Mr. Cox and Mr. W. G. Morrow, and settled all details in connection with the carpet factory's site. The factory will occupy the eight acres surrounding the walls, and will use the walls for their own buildings. The price was $6,000. There was also a number of other minor details, but they were satisfactorily agreed upon.

Machinery has already been telegraphed for, and work will start on their factory as soon as the weather permits. This will probably result in Peterboro's new industry being established to supply the trade with goods for next fall's orders.

Vienna, March 24.—It was again announced here today that the grave reports published in Europe regarding the health of Emperor Francis Joseph are unfounded.

POPULATION OF PENITENTIARIES

A Slight Increase Over the Figures of Last Year

PAROLE SYSTEM A SUCCESS

Creeds and Nationalities of Those Who are Serving Long Terms of Imprisonment.

Ottawa, March 24.—The annual report of the Department of Justice dealing with the Canadian penitentiaries, has been issued. It shows that for the year ending June 30 last, the average population of the penitentiaries was 1,959, as compared with 1,814 ten years ago. This population has been exceeded during three other years, 1896, when it was 1,915; 1899, when it was 1,476, and the following year, when the figures were 1,495. The increase in population for the year, as compared with the previous year, was 5.7 per cent.

The report says that the records of escapes is unsatisfactory. In each case, three in all, the escape was due to carelessness, or lack of alertness of officers.

The parole system has worked satisfactorily. The previous experience of Mr. Archibald, as an officer of the Salvation Army, in charge of prison gate work, enabled him to take up the work of supervising paroled convicts with a degree of success that would have otherwise been possible.

The following interesting table of the creeds of the prison population is included in the report:

Barks Like a Dog.

Winnipeg, March 24.—Some time ago H. Larson, of Rothesay, N. B., went to Yorkton, Sask., to homestead, and is now suffering either from hydrophobia or a peculiar form of insanity. He barks and snaps like a dog. This mania has developed gradually.

A TROUBLE MAKER

Coffee Poison Breeds Variety of Ills.

A California woman who didn't know for twenty years what kept her ill, writes to tell how she won back health by quitting coffee:

"I am 54 years old," she says, "have used coffee all my life and for 20 years suffered from indigestion and insomnia. Life was a burden and a drag to me all the time, and about once a year my ailments got such hold upon me that I was regularly 'sick in bed' for several weeks each time.

"I was reluctant to conclude that coffee was the cause of my trouble, but I am thankful that I found out the truth.

"Then I determined to use Postum Food Coffee exclusively—for a week at first—for I doubted my ability to do without the old kind of coffee for any length of time. I made the Postum carefully, as directed, and before the week expired had my reward in a perceptible increase in strength and spirits.

"Seeing the good that my short experiment had accomplished, I resolved to continue the use of Postum Food Coffee, cutting out the old kind of coffee entirely. This I did for nine months, finding, daily, increased cause for gratification at my steadily improving health. My indigestion gradually left me, my sleep returned, I gained 20 pounds in weight, my color changed from sallow to a fresh, rosy hue and life became a blessing.

"Then I thought I would try the old kind of coffee again, and did so for a few weeks. The punishment for deserting my good friend, Postum, was a return of my old troubles.

"That taught me wisdom, and I am now and shall be all my life hereafter using Postum Food Coffee exclusively and enjoying the benefits it brings me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"THE NORTHERN LIGHTS"

Toronto Saturday Night Refers to the Intermediate Champions.

That bright paper, Toronto Saturday Night, has the following regarding the local hockey Champs:

"The hockey season in Toronto went out with a blaze of glory. Peterboro swept across our horizon like a comet or the Northern Lights, or any other celestial illuminations and left a trail of sparks as well as bruises and dislocations. The team is fully up to all the advance notices and spread-eagle advertisements that have issued from the banks of the Trent Canal since last December. Perrin has crowed even louder, but when called they did not, like Peterboro, produce the 'goods,' and raised a squeal when the found that championship matches did not observe the amenities of afternoon teas. Peterboro are made in a larger and more heroic mould. They play strenuously, not merely to win games, but because strenuousness is the very spice of their existence."

BISHOP OF SELKIRK

At Both St. Luke's and All Saint's Churches Yesterday.

The services at St. Luke's church yesterday were most interesting. At the evensong, the Lordship the Bishop of Selkirk, delivered a most interesting address.

The W.A. of St. Luke's will attend a meeting at All Saints' church this afternoon at three o'clock, in response to an invitation from All Saints' W.A., Right Rev. Dr. Stringer will give an address. In the evening a public meeting will be held at All Saints," at which the Bishop of Bishop of Selkirk will give an illustrated address on the work among the Esquimeaux in the diocese of MacKenzie River. The congregation St. Luke's is requested to attend this lecture in large numbers.

CONVENTION OF WESTERN INDIANS

Over Ten Thousand will Assemble on April 15, at Kamloops.

Victoria, March 24.—Chief George, of the Capilano tribe of Indians, is making a tour of the provinces addressing the tribes, and bidding their chiefs attend a great convention of the tribes of British Columbia to be held at Kamloops on April 15, and following days.

The Capilano chief is a man of seventy, speaking English and French fluently, as well as seven native tongues: Euclutaw, Nanaimo, Westminster, Comox, Sia-Am Seschelt and Chinook. After discussing various matters, such as readjustment of reserves, the chiefs at the Kamloops conference will prepare a memorial to King Edward, which will be presented in person by a delegate selected to make the journey to England. There will be over 10,000 Indians in attendance at the convention, according to present plans, and the gathering will be the most important of its kind in Western Canadian history.

PRINCE ARTHUR'S VISIT

Arrangements for His Trip in Eastern Canada Have Been Completed

Prince Arthur's movements after reaching Ottawa, on April 14th, are announced as follows:

April 15.—Leave Ottawa over the Grand Trunk Railway system, 11 a.m., arrive Niagara Falls 11 p.m.

April 17.—Leave Niagara Falls 2 p.m., arrive Hamilton 5.05 p.m. Party will spend two hours in Hamilton and arrive in Toronto at 6.05 p.m.

April 27.—The party will again leave Toronto over the Grand Trunk at 2.30 a.m., the Prince and party boarding the train the night before, and will arrive at St. Henri at 11.30 a.m., from where they proceed to Halifax, arriving there at 7 p.m. on April 28th.

After remaining in Halifax until May 1st, St. John will be visited, party arriving in Quebec on the evening of May 3rd. From there it is proposed to go on a fishing trip to the Gatineau district, and the Prince will arrive in Montreal on May 8th, remaining in this city four days and will sail for England on the steamship Virginia.

WAS IT SUICIDE

Death of Former Peterboro Man in Detroit.

In reference to the death of Mr. John J. Foster in Detroit recently, son of the late Mrs. Foster of this east ward, a Detroit paper publishes an account that strongly points to suicide. It will be remembered that Mr. Foster, who was once foreman for the late Mr. Hilliard, the well-known lumberman, moved about 20 years ago to Detroit.

The clipping from the Detroit paper reads as follows:

"Mystery surrounds the sudden death of John James Foster, aged 48, at his home, 230 Congress street east, about five o'clock yesterday morning. Coroner Teepel is conducting a rigid investigation of the case.

"Although there is no positive proof indications point to suicide. Coroner Teepel said last night that the man possessed all the symptoms which would lead to the belief that arsenic had been taken.

County Physicians Fortune and Stapleton performed a post-mortem examination and found that the man had suffered from a special heart trouble aggravated by rheumatism. examination of the contents of the stomach will be made by County Chemist Clark.

"Foster was employed as a teamster at the Detroit Shipbuilding Co. a position he had held for the last eighteen years. His wife is 73 years of age.

After spending the night on the couch down stairs Foster rose about 6 o'clock yesterday morning to get a drink, according to Mrs. Foster. 'Later I heard him vomiting,' she says. 'He seemed to get worse right along. I got up and found my husband in agony. I sent for a neighbor to have her call a doctor. She couldn't get one. I guess it was too early for any of them to get up.

"I looked around for something to give him and found a bottle with whiskey in it. I poured it out in a glass. There was just enough for me to wet my fingers with and moisten his lips. I couldn't have forced him to swallow any if there had been enough. I couldn't force his mouth open.

"I stayed with him until he died, and I thought that the daylight would never come. About five o'clock he looked up at me, and said, 'Goodbye; I'm going.'"

One of Mrs. Foster's neighbors, who has lived next door to her for the last ten years, says that she never knew of any trouble between the couple.

"Foster had some trouble with his employers, and there is a theory that he may have become despondent and ended his life. A box that he had been given to deliver was lost, Saturday night, according to Mrs. Foster the company informed him that he must either pay for the box or lose his position. The box was tried last night and one of the employes of the company came and told Mrs. Foster of the fact.

"Foster was a member of the A.O.U.W. and carries $2000 in insurance in that society. This amount goes to the widow."

ATHLETIC WORLD

BY OUR SPORTING EDITOR

HOCKEY.

On Saturday night between six and seven o'clock the All Saints' junior hockey team defeated the Orioles in a very fast, but not very clean game of hockey. The teams were evenly matched in weight, but the All Saints were the fastest skaters, and they kept the Orioles busy checking, both teams did some good rushing, Ray was the star for the Orioles, while for the All Saints, Danny Hillier made some great rushes which kept the opposing team's defence busy. In the first half the play was very evening, the All Saints' scoring but one goal to their adversaries' 0. In the second half the Orioles did not show up as well and the result was that the score at full time stood 3—0, in the All Saints' favor.

The line-up for the winners was:

Goal—Allen.
Point—Williams.
Cover-point—Henderson.
Rover—R. Hillier.
Center—G. Hillier.
Right Wing—Dorris.
Left Wing—Holland.
Referee—Rose.

LACROSSE.

The Cannington Gleaner favors the candidature of Harry B. Cameron of Beaverton, for the presidency of the O.L.A.

Ever though Ottawa has lost the football and hockey championships, Barrey Quinn, of the Capitals, still holds the record for long distance throwing of the lacrosse ball.

Mr. W. K. Cameron says that the idea of St. Thomas getting into the senior lacrosse class is too much hot air. But no one ever took the suggestion seriously.

Bad Slap For Andrew.

New York, March 24. — Determined to get even with "Judge" Andrew Hamilton for the blast he had given them before the Legislative committee, the trustees of the New York Life yesterday began suit against him for accounting $1,285,000 of New York Life funds.

Liabilities $210,000

Waterville, Maine, March 26. — The stockholders of the Riverview Worsted Mills petitioned the Supreme Court for a receiver yesterday. A hearing will be given in a few days. The nominal assets of the mills are estimated at about $240,000 and the liabilities at $210,000.

Must Act Now to Save Niagara Falls

Proposed Diversion of 60,900 Cubic Feet of Water Per Second Will Have Injurious Effect.

Washington, March 25.—If Niagara Falls is to be preserved as one of the wonders of the world, immediate action by the United States and Canada is required, according to the findings of the American members of the International waterways commission, which has for the past year been studying the conditions at the falls and in the tributary great lakes. This report is signed by Gen. O. H. Ernst, chairman, and the other American members of the commission.

After a brief description of the physical conditions, the report gives a detailed account of all the corporations now engaged in the development of power, with the quantities of water which they are actually using, amounts they are preparing to use, and the amounts which they are authorized under their charters to use. It includes not only corporations taking water directly from the Niagara River, but also drawing water for power purposes from the Erie Canal and the Welland Canal; also the Chicago Drainage Canal; and also furnishes a list of all franchises granted and not perfected.

WOULD DESTROY FALLS.

The report says: "The total quantity of water to be taken from the river by works now authorized is 60,000 cubic feet per second. Of that amount 25,700 cubic feet is to be taken on the American side, and the remainder 34,200 cubic feet on the Canadian side. That is 27 per cent. of the average discharge and 23 per cent. of the low water discharge of the Niagara River will cease to pass over the falls when these works are completed and in full operation. The quantity to be diverted is more than double the quantity which now passes over the American falls, which at the average stage is about 37,800 cubic feet. That this will in general have an injurious effect upon the falls seems self-evident. The volume of water to be diverted is about the equivalent of the entire discharge of Lake Superior over the Sault Ste. Marie. The amount thus far actually diverted is about 17,800 cubic feet per second, and has had an appreciable effect upon the falls.

AFFECT HORSESHOE FALLS.

To foretell with accuracy the effect in details of the full diversion authorized would require a more complete knowledge of the bed of the river than is now obtainable. The water taken on the Canadian side below the crest of the rapids will affect the Horseshoe Fall chiefly. It will the water taken on the American side should affect the American side alone it would practically leave it dry; but it seems probable that only a part of this diversion will be at the expense of the American falls. Exactly what portion it will be cannot be stated with precision, but from a study of the channels, and rocks so far as they are known a reasonable estimate is that the water will come from the two arms in about the proportion of one to six from the American Falls and five-sixths from the Horseshoe Falls. Exactly what form the changes in the two cataracts will take, whether they will be made narrower or broken up into a greater number of streams, or simply be reduced in volume, retaining in general their present form, cannot now be foretold, for the reason that there is no accurate knowledge of the forms of any depth of water on the crests.

LOSS IMPORTANT.

"If 60,900 cubic feet per second be diverted the loss will be important; but if the diversion be limited to this amount or recalled as hereafter indicated it may not prove disastrous. This cannot be definitely determined until the works now under construction have been completed and put in operation. When that happens, if it be found that the falls have not suffered serious damage as a scenic spectacle, it does not follow that additional water may be diverted with impunity. Additional diversion would be an experiment even more dangerous than that now being tried, and, in our opinion, should not be permitted.

TIREDNESS MEANS DANGER

Indicates Faulty Blood and Worn Out Nerves—Build Up, or Total Collapse will Surely Follow.

When you're tired all day, bothered by trifles, exhausted with nervousness, be sure there is something wrong.

You need bracing up, need more nourishment in the blood, need a powerful medicine to vitalize the nerves and distribute force and staying power to all over-worked organs.

The most marvelous success is Ferrozone, a nourishing tonic so scientific as to be the admiration of every physician. Ferrozone performs wonders for people in poor health; acts directly on the blood, enriching it with strength and new life that is at once dispatched to all parts of the body. Ferrozone feeds the nerves and vital energies, supplies force, determination and joyous, buoyant spirits.

A case where there was lassitude and lack of strength is told by Mr. David Brown, of post-office box No. 80, Benton, Ont.: "About a year ago my health commenced to fail. My hands and feet seemed always cold. I felt worn-out and exhausted, weak as a little child. My face twitched. My limbs and arms commenced to lose their sense of feeling and finally my left side was perfectly numb. All my color left. My appetite ran down. Ferrozone was the first to give me any help. I improved with it very quickly. It toned up the blood and started circulation, so that the numbness gradually disappeared. My condition was perfectly cured by Ferrozone, and I have been well ever since. (Signed) "David Brown."

SPECIAL NOTICE.—To get satisfactory results be sure you get Ferrozone only. Fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or E. G. Poison & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

ABOUT PROFANITY.

Mark Twain's latest bid for public notice was a lecture he recently delivered on "cussing." With his usual disrespect for time and place when he has a thought to express the great humorist took the occasion for his homily a meeting that was called to raise funds in New York for Tuskegee Institute. It is just possible that Mark thought this occasion was exactly the right place to give out this talk as a great many people who have been for years "coughing up" for the support of this institution are becoming wearied and the collectors for it in the future are likely at any time to be met with swear words instead of dollars when they call on some of the long-time and generous contributors.

Mr. Twain called his talk the "Morality of Profanity." He says that on two days in the year he damns his own soul very strongly. The first of these days is on the first Tuesday in November, when he marches up to the polls and regularly casts his ballot for one or more of the rascals. The second time is when he ambles into the tax office a few months later and, "for the sake of a handful of gold," lies to the tax collector. On these two annual occasions Mr. Twain says that after reflecting on what he has done, that he swears at himself to the queen's taste. He admits that in the latter case his ethical standards had been ruined by temptation and the bad examples of others. He says:

"In fifteen minutes I was become just a mere moral sandpile; and I lifted up my hand along with those consecrated and experienced deacons, and swore off every rag of personal property I've got in the world."

While talking on the head of general "cussing," Mr. Twain said that it always pained him greatly to hear a woman swear. He said, too, that most women do swear, although they do not use the robust terms employed by the men. In his opinion the "Oh" or "Drat it" of the female will go down in the recording angel's book against them just the same as the able-bodied damn of marvellous gender, simply because it is not so much the word used in expressing one's feelings as it is the spirit that dictates and prompts the use of the explosive. He expressed a great deal of disgust for people who try to get around "cussing" by using words that are not generally in a swearer's vocabulary and professed a great deal of respect for a good, honest damn justified by facts and told the following story to illustrate his point:

"John Fiske's wife hurried into his study one day and informed the historian that their son had mysteriously compromised his future immortality, or words to that effect, by the remark that 'Aunt Mary is a fool, but Aunt Martha is a damn fool.' The father pondered the situation for a moment, then replied: 'Lemuel is evidently less precocious than I thought him.'" that's about the distinction between them that I would have made myself,' and turned back to the preface of 'The Idea of God,' which he was just finishing."

Mr. Twain is undecided as to whether a skillful use of billingsgate is an art or a science. What would be vulgar blasphemy on the lips of one man becomes concise, pointed and vigorous, if inelegant, English on the tongue of another. It is altogether the manner in which pointed language is delivered as to the status it takes in the morality of Mr. Twain. "Cussee" handled by a master, or sometimes in artlessness becomes, in his opinion, masterful and expressive language.

The Times does not intend to combat or endorse the views of such an eminent authority as Mr. Twain on this important topic. There are times when vigorous and pointed talk comes unbidden to the lips of most men folks, but instead of justifying such use of words this newspaper proposes to refer the entire matter up to young Mr. John D. Rockefeller. He has settled the controversy as to permissable lying, and it is now up to him to tell his Bible class all about permissable "cussing."

A New High Kite Record.

Meteorologists are interested in securing observations at high altitudes by means of kites, and lately at the aeronautical observatory at Lindenberg, Prussia, a record for height was made, a kite being sent up to an altitude of 21,100 feet. This was accomplished by sending up six kites attached to each other by the use of a length of wire line approximating 65,000 feet in length. The instruments carried by the kite recorded a minimum temperature of —13 degrees F. as compared with 41 degrees F. at the earth's surface. At the maximum altitude the wind blew at a rate of fifty-six miles an hour as compared with eighteen miles an hour at the surface. This maximum altitude exceeds by nearly 1,100 feet the previous record made by M. Teisserenc de Bort in the Baltic sea flying his kite from a Danish gunboat.—Harper's Weekly.

Dreadful Burial Ceremony.

A Swiss traveler, Paul Brun, who has returned from two and a half years' travels among the savage tribes of the Kongo, describes in his recently published journal the dreadful burial ceremony of a chief of the man eating Bakete. The body is set in a chamber hollowed in the side of a deep ditch, into which young girls are thrown, their arms and legs broken with a club. In the tomb with the chief are goats and fowls, together with his weapons, and especially his gun, which is broken to save it from theft. The earth is then filled in, and his wives and slaves are slain over the grave.

Chinese Horsemen.

There is one respect in which, according to a correspondent, the Japanese can teach the Chinese nothing in a military way, and that is in regard to the cavalry. The Chinese have horses as good as any known in the world and are born horsemen, who have nothing to learn from Europe or America. The Japanese are notably deficient in horsemanship.

"Vegetarian" Footwear.

The London Vegetarian Messenger commends footwear "without animal taint." The soles are made of "balata," which is made of canvas and rubber; canvas is used for uppers and "bright American cloth" for toe caps, straps and trimmings.

STOCKS - THE MARKETS OF THE WORLD - BONDS

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in All the great copper fields of the world, viz.: The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Mont., Bisbee and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tin... mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

There was nothing more to be learned from the housekeeper's nephew, Waldemar Waldron told himself. Therefore he did not press him, any further than common courtesy required, to prolong his stay. And it was with a feeling of relief that he saw the heavy iron gate shut to with a bang after his retreating form.

"Can it possibly be true the old idiot intends willing every dollar of his property to that infernal Cheseleigh?" he cried, grinding his fair moustache between his white teeth in impotent rage. "It must not—it shall not be. I must put a stop to that, too, at all hazards."

He walked slowly back to the Towers, meditating upon a strange problem that was in his mind.

"By George, I must put it into execution to-morrow," he mused. "I am standing upon thin ice, with the plank of safety slipping beneath my feet.

"Yes," he decided, "to-morrow this part of the country will witness one of the greatest sensations that it has known for long years. Excitement will wax hot, and I shall stand quietly by and witness it all."

Meanwhile, a new and startling thought had occurred to the young detective. He had retraced his steps hurriedly back to Waldron Towers, touching the huge brass knocker with a firm, determined hand that sent a weird, resounding peal through the house.

We will leave Waldemar Waldron to mature his plans, which were to bear strange fruit on the morrow, and the young detective to carry out the startling design which had caused him to retrace his steps toward the Towers; and you shall learn, dear reader—in the following chapter—the fate that had befallen beautiful Reine the general's lovely young daughter.

CHAPTER XII.

We must now return to the general's daughter, as she stepped out into the moonlit grounds on her bridal eve, sinking down upon the rustic bench in the shadow of the fir trees.

Fifteen minutes more, and she would be Bernard Cheseleigh's wedded wife—she whose every thought was with the lover who had been banished from her side.

After to-night it would be a sin to give one thought to another.

"Waldemar, oh, my love!" sighed the girl, holding out her beautiful white arms, "I am bidding you a silent, eternal farewell forever."

The shadow among the trees advanced quickly forward, stopping suddenly before her, and, raising her startled glance, Reine beheld—Waldemar Waldron.

She did not cry out or faint. The shock of sudden joy was too much for that. A sharp gasp parted the crimson lips. The light that shone in the blue, up-lifted eyes was pitiful to see. She held out her tender hands, and he, rushing forward, clasped her to his heart.

"Reine," he cried, hoarsely, thrusting the beautiful bridal veil back from her face, "have I come too late? Have they wedded you to my rival?

She shook her head.

"Not yet, Waldemar," she whispered, shudderingly. "Not until eight to-night. It wants a quarter to that time now. Do not remind me of it. Let me have a few brief, fleeting moments of happiness. Life will be so cold and dark for me after we part."

"You do not love him, Reine, my darling," he said. "Why should you sacrifice yourself? You must not—you shall not! Why did you consent to anything like this?" he added. "I thought you would be true to me, Reine," he added, reproachfully.

"I thought you had forgotten me, and I longed to die, Waldemar," she said, faintly; and in broken sobs she related to him the story Gertie Travers had told her of the beautiful lady whom he was seen in company with, and the fear that had come over her that he had found some one else to love.

"After I heard about that, I grew desperate, Waldemar," she said. "Then I let them have their own way."

"The lady in whose company they saw me in New York was my cousin," he explained, glibly, "a true and noble young lady who has heard me speak of you a hundred times, and who takes the warmest interest in our love affair, Reine."

A triumphant smile wreathed the lips the fair moustache covered, as he saw how implicitly she trusted and believed him. He had had no intention whatever of resigning the richest prize Dame Fortune had ever placed within his reach when he went away.

He had laid his plans adroitly. To throw the old general off his guard he had gone away. His absence would have another advantage. Beautiful Reine, whose heart he had so completely won, would be brought to a realization of what his absence cost her, and what life without him would be like; and the plan he had in view could be more easily accomplished.

Ah! he had guessed rightly. The sorrow of his absence had told upon her greatly. She had hungered and thirsted so for his love! Now that he was with her again, no wonder that she forgot all the world—everything save him.

The moments flew on unheeded.

He clasped the lovely form clad in her bridal robes still closer to his heart, kissing the quivering lips, and kissing the tears from her lovely blue eyes, telling her in eloquent, passionate words that it would be death to them to part from each other—that he could not do it. He could never give her up to another and live.

She clung to him with piteous sobs. His caresses were like strong wine to her and dazed her senses, her happy heart knew such happiness, the whole world seemed changed to her.

Let the gayety go on within the walls of Fairlawn—he had quite another plan for the bride-elect.

Married she should be that night, but not to Bernard Cheseleigh. He himself should be the bridegroom, and, once married—the mischief really done—there would be no help for it but for the old general to forgive his lovely daughter and make the most of his new son-in-law.

He never for one moment believed that the fond old father would disinherit his child and refuse her pardon.

He broke his plans to her gradually; he did not startle her; he was too wary for that. Gently he painted to her in glowing, eloquent words, such as young girls love to hear, how happy their future would be if she would but consent to wed him instead of the lover who had been selected for her by others.

She must decide quickly—the moments were fleeing swift-winged by them. Was it Yes or No?

"Oh, Waldemar, think," she cried, piteously, "they are waiting for me in there! I have given my word that I would marry Mr. Cheseleigh, and how dare I break it? My heart pleads for love and you, but duty points another way."

He gave a little sigh, thinking to himself that he had all the weary way of persuasion to go over again.

Ice as a Cigar Lighter.

The skater's matches were all gone, but nevertheless he smiled.

"I'll light my cigar with a piece of ice," he said.

"A piece of ice? Rubbish!"

But, still smiling, the young man carved a fragment of ice into a rude lens and held beneath the lens his cigar. The rays of the sun concentrated on the cigar in a round bright spot of gold. Soon this spot began to smoke. Another moment and the cigar was lighted.

"An ice lens," said the skater, puffing up, "concentrates the heat of the sun almost as well as a glass lens. I have seen a giant ice lens make water boil. Ice boiling water—almost improbable, eh?"

By The Times Man on the Street

—Nothing doing at Saturday's police court.

—Yesterday in St. Peter's Cathedral the Feast of the Annunciation was duly observed.

—The monthly Strangers' Tea in connection with the Y.M.C.A., was held yesterday evening.

—A small parcel which was picked up on the market square is awaiting an owner at the police station.

—On Saturday morning a purse found on north Water street, was left in the police station. Who owns it?

—Sewing wanted by the day or week, by an experienced dressmaker having good references. Apply at this office for address.

—There is a ladies' undervest at police headquarters awaiting claimant. It was found on the street Saturday night.

—Lieut. S. T. Medd of "B" squadron, 3rd Prince of Wales Canadian Dragoons, is taking a special course in Stanley Barracks, Toronto.

—Rev. J. G. Potter preached in St. Andrew's church yesterday on "Are we Greater than our Burdens?" His subject in the evening, was "One of the uses of Sorrow."

—Por. Hope Guide: The town council have purchased several dozen lanterns and have them suspended from the trees on the different streets. The candle power is not very strong, but every little helps.

—A large gathering attended the meeting of the "Strangers' Fellowship Club," in the Y.M.C.A. yesterday afternoon. The "Runaway Slave" story was on the tapis. Mr. F. W. Miller was soloist, and the orchestra was also present.

—Mr R. J. Todd, of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, on this city, has received a fine photograph of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, which is being erected in the city of Boston, Mass., at a cost of nearly $2,000,000.

—Will the party who took from the library of St. Paul's church, the book entitled "A Maker of the Ordinal," kindly leave it, either at the store of Alex. Gibson, George street or C. N. Brown, Simcoe street, as it is required as a reference.

—Banwell the defaulting bank-teller, who skipped for Kingston, Jamaica some months ago, with $40,000 of the bank's funds, was on Saturday morning sentenced to a four years' visit at Kingston, Ontario. Mrs. Banwell was allowed to go on suspended sentence.

—A sad sight was that seen by many citizens at noon Saturday on Brock street, when a 14-year-old boy was staggering along almost too intoxicated to walk. Such matters should be trailed right down to the spot where those supplying the liquor could be severely punished.

—Peterboro hotel keepers threaten that, if they have to pay $500 licenses instead of $270, the price of drinks will be raised to ten cents. There will, they say, be no more five cent whiskey sold, which will surely be a blessing to the people who are in the habit of drinking it.—Belleville Intelligencer.

Peterboro Lady Gave Good Speech.

Mrs. A. M. Gibbs, on the east ward returned home on Saturday from Guelph, where she had been attending, as delegate from Fairwood Circle of this city, the annual meeting of the W.O.W. held in the Royal City. There were in the neighborhood of three hundred delegates in attendance at this convention.

Mrs. Gibbs had the honor of being the first lady to address a convention of the Woodmen from a public platform; her speech was very far above the average, reflecting great credit upon the elocutionary powers of this talented Peterboro lady, and was received with rounds of applause.

Lindsay Carter Takes Away Goods by Mistake.

It will be remembered that some Lindsay curlers were in the city last week having a friendly tussle with our local players. After the game was over, some of them assembled by invitation, in the room of a guest of a local hotel. When the last "shout and acquaintance, etc.," was sung the Scugogvillians, hastily packed their grips in readiness to catch their train. Their host of the evening, shortly after the curlers had left discovered that a stiff hat and a pair of boots belonging to him, had inadvertently been packed up by one of his guests. He drove out, early Saturday morning, to Lindsay, and was of course handed back the goods, taken by mistake, with due apologies for the oversight. Alas and alack, whilst he got his goods back, the curlers had set heavily upon his former beautiful obristie, making it look like an interested memory of Shrove Tuesday.

BRAUBURN DISMISSED

Prosecution in Abduction Case Withdraw the Charge.

At two o'clock, Saturday afternoon, the "cause celebre," of local interest was on the tapis before Judge Weller.

It will be remembered that Mr. Sidney Bradburn, some weeks ago took a fourteen years old, Miss Lottie Sullivan, whose parents reside in the city, for a drive to Fowler's Corners, at 10 a.m., and brought her back the same afternoon. It will further be recalled that the girl, Lottie, swore that Bradburn had offered her no indignity during the drive, he, the defendant being seriously under the influence of liquor.

The case was given a preliminary hearing by Magistrate Dumble, who committed Bradburn for trial by the county judge.

At the Saturday afternoon trial, as the prosecution withdrew the charge, the judge dismissed the case, and Bradburn was exonerated. D. O'Connell appeared for the Sullivan family, E. E. Wood for the Crown, and E. F. McWilliams for the defendant.

Acting for the prosecution, Mr. O'Connell stated that they did not wish to proceed with the case and withdrew the charge against Bradburn. The judge dismissed the case after giving Bradburn some advice regarding the company he kept. Bradburn had a number of witnesses on hand and was prepared to make a strong defence.

Four Simple Rules

Follow them and Health, Habitness and Prosperity Will Be Yours.

If one would be healthy, happy and prosperous, follow these four simple rules. (1) Keep the bowels open every day. (2) Chew your food slowly and thoroughly. (3) Avoid indigestible foods. (4) If there are any symptoms of stomach troubles, take Mi-o-na before each meal until cured.

No matter how many years you may have suffered with stomach troubles or how worried by sleeplessness, nervousness, loss of appetite, furred tongue, specks before the eyes, headaches, indigestion or other ills that are caused by a weak stomach, you can be cured by the faithful use of Mi-o-na.

Take one of the little tablets before each meal with the fixed determination to get the most benefit out of it.

Mi-o-na is not a fanciful experiment, it is not a patent medicine, it is not a cure all. It is a scientific remedy recommended but for one trouble—weakness of the digestive organs.

When Mi-o-na has been used for a few days, the digestive system will be so greatly improved that all the food eaten is converted into nutrition, so that nourishment and health are given to the whole system and there is a rapid increase in weight, strength and spirits.

If you cannot obtain Mi-o-na of your druggist, it will be sent by mail, post-paid, on receipt of price. Write us for advice on your case from a leading stomach specialist which will be sent free. The R. T. Booth Company, Ithaca, N. Y.

Habit-forming Medicines.

Whatever may be the fact as to many of the so-called patent medicines containing injurious ingredients as broadly published in some journals of more or less influence, this publicity has certainly been of great benefit in arousing needed attention to this subject. It has, in a considerable measure, resulted in the most intelligent people avoiding such foods and medicines as may be fairly suspected of containing the injurious ingredients complained of. Recognizing this fact some time ago, Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., "took time by the forelock," as it were, and published broadcast all the ingredients of which his popular medicines are composed. Thus he has completely forestalled all harping critics and all opposition that might otherwise be urged against his medicines, because they are now of KNOWN COMPOSITION. Furthermore, from the formula printed on every bottle wrapper, it will be seen that these medicines contain no alcohol or other habit-forming drugs. Neither do they contain any narcotics or injurious agents, their ingredients being purely vegetable, extracted from the roots of medicinal plants found growing in the depths of our American forests and of well recognized curative virtues.

Instead of alcohol, which even in small portions long continued, as in obstinate chronic diseases, becomes highly objectionable from its tendency to produce a craving for stimulants, Dr. Pierce employs chemically pure, triple-refined glycerine, which of itself is a valuable remedy in many cases of chronic diseases, being a superior demulcent, antiseptic, antiferment and supporting nutritive. It enhances the curative action of the Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark and Bloodroot, contained in "Golden Medical Discovery," in all bronchial, throat and lung affections attended with severe coughs. As will be seen from the writings of the eminent Drs. Grover Coe, of New York; Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, Phila.; Scudder, of Cincinnati; Ellingwood, of Chicago; Hale, of Chicago, and others, who stand as leaders in their several schools of practice, the foregoing agents are the very best ingredients that Dr. Pierce could have chosen to make up his famous "Discovery" for the cure of not only bronchial, throat and lung affections, but also of chronic catarrh in all its various forms wherever located.

Unique Decision Of Western J. P.

An Omemee Man Committed Bigamy in Toronto and Was Released from Custody in British Columbia.

Vancouver, March 27.—An exceedingly strange story involving questions in the married life of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sargent and the question of legal options of some justice of the peace in Revelstoke is laid bare in the application of Mrs. Annie Marie Sargent, of Revelstoke, for a divorce from her husband.

The peculiar points in connection with the affair are that one July, Sargent is alleged to have journeyed from Toronto to Revelstoke, where he appeared before this legal wife and calmly told her that he had in Toronto married Grace Elizabeth Pinch, and he presented the second wife to the first in proof of his assertion.

SARGENT WAS ARRESTED.

The upshot of this action on the part of the husband was that the legal wife caused his arrest. Sargent was held in jail at Revelstoke for some days, and then came from some judicial mind the strange freak which set him at liberty. Sargent had been charged with bigamy, and it is set forth in an affidavit of Provincial Constable Piper that proofs of the man's marriage to Grace Pinch had been obtained from Toronto. Constable Piper declares in his affidavit the following unheard of reason for the discharge of Sargent from custody:

"On the said charge of bigamy the said Sargent was discharged on account of the information being laid in this jurisdiction instead of the place where the alleged offence had been committed, and he therefore left Revelstoke for parts unknown."

If this were good law, any man could commit bigamy in one province, step over into another, and run a very good chance of escaping punishment.

NOW IN SOUTH DAKOTA.

At all events, Sargent left this province, and when last heard of he was resident in Aberdeen, South Dakota. Miss Pinch disappeared from Revelstoke when Sargent left.

Mrs. Sargent states in her petition that she was married to the man in Omemee, Ont., in 1892, and that two children followed the union, one of them a girl, now twelve years of age, and the other a boy, aged ten years. To the usual grounds in he petition for divorce is added the charge of bigamy. No appearance has been entered in the suit by the respondent.

WAR IN NIGERIA IS EXPECTED

It May Be Worse Than Germany's African Rebellion

NEW MAHDI HAS APPEARED

British and French Both Involved in Defeat at Sokoto.

Cape Town, March 26.—Advices from Northern Nigeria indicate the outbreak of a rebellion there, which probably will prove of greater importance than the so-called continual war now being carried on by the German Government in Africa. The stretch of country to be projected, the native tribes to be dealt with, the unhealthfulness of the country, make the proposition an extremely difficult one to deal with. According to all accounts, the whole affair results from the appearance of a new Mahdi. No sooner did the news reach Mr. Hillary, the acting resident of Sokoto, that a Mahdi had arisen, than the mounted infantry and the Maxims were dispatched to the scene of the trouble. Sir Frederick Lugard states that his advices are to the effect that not only the British, but the French were involved in the defeat.

Sir Frederick Lugard is said to believe that he has a force sufficient to put down this latest Nigerian war, but this is considered doubtful by traders and by those familiar with the Niger River country. Much depends upon the attitude of the Emirs of Sokoto and Kano, and whether they are able to hold the natives in that section in line. It is true that Sir Frederick already has several thousand troops concentrated at Kano, but he may need every man that can be hurried to the frontier. Once the situation gets away from him, the entire Western coast of Africa will be ablaze.

Though the original cutting up of the British forces in Northern Nigeria was bad enough, scarcely a day passes that murders of whites are not reported. Traders are pulling up stakes and hurrying to the fortified cities and towns.

However, if this were the only thing the situation might not be so alarming. But it has been one long battle for civilization in this part of Nigeria, where the garrison of native troops officered by Englishmen were massacred by the tribesmen of Sokoto. The trouble with the natives has been continuous. And there have been repeated military expeditions for the suppression of risings and the abolition of savagery and barbarous native customs and practices. Many white men have met their deaths in the pursuit of these objects. Some of them have been killed in fights with natives; others have been massacred during sudden risings of tribesman at distant outposts; while still more have fallen victims to the terribly trying climate.

Early in 1900 an expedition had to be sent against the Munshi tribe, a truculent set of cannibals on the Benue River, which had attacked an isolated British fort. They were for the time subdued, but only a few weeks ago they broke out again, thus adding to the present complications. In 1901 an expedition was sent to Kontagora and Bida for the purpose of suppressing trouble caused by native pagan practices, and in September of the same year the Emir of Adamawa turned obstreperous and had to be persuaded into obedience by a small force of troops.

The Province of Bornu was brought under British control in 1902 by means of a military expedition, and in the following year Colonel Morland proceeded against the Emir of Kano and took the town of Kano, together with Sokoto and Kateena. The Sulten of Sokoto fled, but was pursued by Captain Sword and finally killed after considerable severe fighting. In 1904 another expedition was rendered necessary against the Okhoto tribe, which had murdered Captain O'Reardon and Mr. Amyatt Burney, and except for the reported rising of the Munshis there has been peace and order in this section of the country ever since.

Father Gapon and His Defence

Denies Embezzlement Admits He is Married and Says he Gambled Out of Curiosity.

St. Petersburg, March 27.—Father Gapon, "During the bloody uprising at Moscow I received money for literary work, and and private life, announces that he while abroad, out of simple curiosity, had instructed his lawyer to bring I played for small stakes. A review [illegible] movement will prove that I never was an agent of the Government, and labored solely in the interests of the workmen."

When he returned to St. Petersburg Gapon admits that he communicated with Count Witte, who gave him permission to live here, considering that his work was "constructive and not destructive."

HISTORY PROVES IT.

Gapon concludes with an expression of his firm conviction that history will demonstrate that "the untrocked Pope" lived for the country to the last drop of his blood, and died a sentinel over the rights and liberties of the workmen and oppressed.

The latter made a good impression, but Gapon's sincerity is sneeringly attacked by the Russ, which calls Gayon a friend of General Fullon, former Chief of Police of St. Petersburg, and a pensioner of Count Witte.

POLICE NEWS

Daily Happenings in Court Room and Station.

When delegates from the "Arrah be Asy" and "Listless Linger" arrived at their usual spot for mental refreshment, they found the door locked; only one case to be enlarged being in the docket.

The case of Edward Greer, charged with stealing about $30 and a gold filled watch from John Sheehan, of the East Ward, last fall, was called at yesterday's Police Court. Mr. McWilliams appeared for the prisoner. Chief Rossel asked for a week's enlargement, as he had not been able to secure Sheehan, a material witness. He explained that he had been informed that Sheehan had been in the Dickson Company's camps, but had found recently that he is employed in McDonald's camps.

Mr. McWilliams took exception to his client being confined another week in jail. To this the Magistrate replied he would take bail in $300.

The prisoner said, "Well I guess I will put in another week on the hill, but I don't like my boarding house I can tell you." The bail was not forthcoming.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Mrs. Frank Brown, Formerly of Douro Passes Away in Manitoba.

The many friends of Mrs. Frank Brown, formerly of Douro will regret to learn that this lady passed away suddenly at Dauphin, Manitoba. Mr. Frank Brown, husband of deceased, is a brother of Mr. Stewart Brown, of Douro township, and a cousin of Mr. C. M. Brown, Peterboro.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Miss Nan Johns, leaves besides her husband, two daughters and one son, all residing at home. She was born in Marmora and had resided in the West about five years. The remains were interred at Dauphin.

Large Shipment of Peterboro Canoes

Yesterday the Canadian Canoe Co. of this city, shipped five crates of canoes to Manitoba and the West. A Charlotte street Canoe Co. also shipped half a dozen Klondike canoes. The latter are built very deep and broad and calculated to carry either from fourteen to sixteen passengers or from this to four tons of freight. This speaks well for the industries that give Peterboro a world wide reputation.

HO! FOR OTTAWA

300 Delegates Will Take in the T. V. C. Deputation.

Every man and his uncle that can get away are expected to join the great deputation that leaves for Ottawa per special train tomorrow morning by the C.P.R. at one o'clock.

It is expected that about 300 people will take advantage, not only of this extraordinarily cheap trip to Canada's Capital, but to snoop one of Canada's most important public works and one that must redound in advantage to this section of the Dominion.

The deputation will be composed of councillors and municipal officers from every city, town, village, and township, along the route of the canal from Georgian Bay to Lake Ontario, as well as nearly all the county councils. It will be the strongest deputation that ever went to Ottawa.

The special C.P.R. train leaving here at one o'clock, will stop at Indian River, Norwood, and Havelock, both ways. Hotel accommodation has been arranged for by the president and treasurer of the Board of Trade, and a special street car service at Ottawa will be provided for the delegates. This should be the jolliest part that ever left the city of Peterboro. All the Peterboro aldermen will take in the trip.

Mr. G. M. Dennistoun has prepared the memorial to be presented. It will be of a general nature, pointing out the strongest arguments in favor of the completion of the Trent canal. Several copies of it will be printed, and a copy of it will be left with the Government for reference. All the speakers have been selected and given the different portions of the clauses in the memorial, which they are to emphasize.

Ald. Mason, chairman of the Finance Committee, who has done a lot of very valuable work, has had charge of the deputation for this city, and he has communicated with all the municipalities. This right worthy city father arranged the speakers and in fact, the bulk of the work already done is due to his efforts.

The following is one strong point that will be presented to the Government by the deputation on Thursday:

"In the matter of the amount of freight passing through the various canals for the season, ending December, 1904, it will be observed that the amount of freight that passed through the Trent canal in that year was 45,680 tons, and the number of trips of vessels passing through the various locks was 2,287. When it is considered that the section from Peterboro to Lakefield was not open for traffic until well on in the season, it will be seen that the amount of traffic on these waters was very considerable. Again, it must be considered that this volume of traffic compares favorably with the amount of traffic on other canals which are entirely completed.

Take for instance the Rideau canal, which had a total tonnage in 1904 of 55,420 tons or only 9,431 tons more than the Trent canal. The Rideau canal is a completed work. It has both an outlet and inlet. The Trent canal at the present time has neither."

A BANK CHANGE

Mr. F. W. Broughall is Appointed Gen. Man. of Sterling Bank.

The friends and acquaintances, and especially ex-graduates of Trinity College Toronto, in this city, of Mr. Fred W. Broughall, recently manager of the Yonge and Cottingham branch of the Dominion Bank, Toronto, will be pleased to learn that he has been appointed manager of the Sterling Bank of Canada, which will commence business in Toronto about the end of April. Mr. Broughall is a son of Rev. A. J. Broughall, rector of St. Stephen's church, and has been with the Dominion Bank since 1885. For several years he was in the head office and also served in the Montreal and other branches of that bank.

OUR GALLANT 57TH

Regiment will Begin Regular Drills on April 3rd.

The season for regular drills by our renowned local regiment, the 57th Peterboro Rangers, will open this year somewhat earlier than usual, as Tuesday evening, April 3rd, has been named. New uniforms will be received shortly and other improvements tending towards adequate efficiency made.

A meeting of the officers of the regiment has been called by Col. Miller for tonight to make arrangements for the opening of the drill season, and discuss several matters having in view the betterment of the regiment during the season.

Both the recruits and the old members of the regiment will commence drill on Tuesday night. The first night will be devoted to enrolling the recruits and making other preliminary arrangements. Drills will likely be held once a week for the experienced members and two or three times a week for the recruits.

Some of the new equipment has already arrived and the rest is expected shortly. The new uniforms will not likely be worn until the trip to Brantford on July 1st, when the regiment will present a splendid appearance.

THE NEW LICENSES

27 Applications in For Local Licenses for Next Year.

Although the new license act will probably raise the license fee for both tavern or shop in this city from $270 to $500 per annum, all the present holders of licenses have put in applications to have their licenses renewed.

There are twenty-one applicants for tavern, five for shop and one wholesale. The licenses have until April 1st for the making application but they have all attended to this matter early this year.

A meeting of the Board of license commissioners will be held at Inspector Cochrane's office tonight to fix a date for the consideration of the applications.

Philomathean Society Meets.

Yesterday afternoon the monthly meeting of the Philomathean Society of the Collegiate Institute, was held in the Y.M.C.A. hall. Mr. Stanley Fife very ably filled the chair. A literary program was rendered, including papers by Miss Gladys Crane, Miss Jean Campbell, Messrs. Edward Pilgan and Bruce Ingram. Piano solos by the Misses Lily Fife, H. Sanderson, McKie Dennis, and Mr. Kenneth Pilgan. A well rendered recitation by Miss Mary Merrell and Miss May Casey. There was a good attendance.

TO-DAY'S TEST

Mr. Cameron will Have New Engine Tested To-day.

Mr. Hugh Cameron, from whom the city purchased the apparently splendid new fire engine that has recently attracted so many sight-seers to the local fire hall, had arrived in the city last night to superintendent a severe test that the Engine will be given during this afternoon.

Ald. Adams, chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee, telephoned Mr. Cameron yesterday morning, asking him to have it "put off for a week on account of the deputation to Ottawa on Wednesday, but Mr. Cameron said it would be impossible for him to come at a later date. He arrived in the city last night and the new engine will be tested this afternoon.

LOCAL LADY RECOGNIZED

Kind and Deserved Recognition of Miss Roger's Abilities.

Last week's Utica Globe contains an excellent half tone cut of Miss Alice Roger, of Peterboro, accompanied by the following kindly words.

"The unusual achievements of Miss Alice Roger, of Peterboro, Ont., are attracting much attention just now. Miss Roger studied under Harry Field, in Berlin, Germany, and also under Prof. Martin Krause, who speaks very highly of her as a musician. She obtained a teacher's certificate from the Toronto College of Music. All her teachers speak of her diligence and the intelligence which characterized her work.

Miss Roger is a member of the staff of the Peterboro Conservatory of Music and also has a large class in Toronto. She is particularly well equipped for the work of teaching for besides being a pianist of brilliant technique her interpretations are characterized by depth of feeling and poesy. She has the power of imparting to others her knowledge and has a wonderful way of interesting her pupils and bringing out their best efforts.

Music lovers are taking considerable interest in two songs composed by Miss Roger. They are sung by prominent artists in the United States as well as Canada, are well liked and have been favorably noticed by many of the leading musicians and composers of the Dominion as well as several in the large American cities.

Speaking of food a railroad man says

"My work puts me out in all kinds of weather, subject to irregular hours for meals and compelled to eat all kinds of food.

"For 7 years I was constantly troubled with indigestion, caused by eating heavy, fatty, starchy, greasy, poorly cooked food, such as are most accessible to men in my business. Generally each meal or lunch was followed by distressing pains and burning sensations in my stomach, which destroyed my sleep and almost unfitted me for work. My brain was so muddy and foggy that it was hard for me to discharge my duties properly.

"This lasted till about a year ago, when my attention was drawn to Grape-Nuts food by a newspaper ad. and I concluded to try it. Since then I have used Grape-Nuts at nearly every meal and sometimes between meals. We railroad men have little chance to prepare our food in our caboosses and I find Grape-Nuts mighty handy for it is already cooked.

"To make a long story short, Grape-Nuts has made a new man of me. I have no more burning distress in my stomach, nor any other symptom of indigestion. I can digest anything so long as I eat Grape-Nuts, and my brain works as clearly and accurately as an engineer's watch, and my old nervous troubles have disappeared entirely." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

TO PROTECT GAME

Peterboro to Have Local Branch Ontario F. & Game P. Association.

It is likely that the meeting announced now for Friday evening, April 6th, in the Council chamber, will be largely attended by local sportsmen and opponents of the indiscriminate murder of our fish and game.

At this meeting, opening at eight p.m., there will be formed a branch in Peterboro, of the Ontario Fish and Game Protective Association.

This movement, which is meeting with enthusiastic and loyal support in several towns and cities of the province should, as Peterboro is in the midst of one of the best fishing districts in the province, be generally endorsed and fostered.

If our local fishermen and sportsmen generally, do not want not only their game wiped out by illicit and murderous means, but one of Peterboro's greatest attractions, made a thing of the past, they should encourage this most commendable association by large attendance and future support.

Mr. A. Kelly Evans of Toronto, is secretary-treasurer of the association. Mr. Evans will be pleased to give any information desired, to those who communicate with him.

LOCAL SPRING ASSIZES

Will Open April 23th When the Hudson Case and Others will be Tried

The spring assizes will open in the court house, Peterboro, on Monday, April 23rd, before His Lordship, Mr. Justice Magee; Mr. E. Meredith, K.C., of London, acting in the capacity of Crown prosecutor.

Patrick McAuliffe, of Emily, charged with manslaughter, in connection with the death of Fred Hudson, the Hunter street hotelkeeper, on June 1st, last, which case was not proceeded with at the fall assizes, owing to the absence of several important crown witnesses, will come up.

Other important suits are the one entered by Robert Hill, of Dummer, against Charles Gow, of Warsaw, for the killing of his son, Tommy, and Hill's action against Dewart for slander.

It is expected the court room will be crowded, as these and other cases of great local interest will be tried.

ORDER CHOSEN FRIENDS

Pay Promptly by Cheque, $58 to Mr. Norman C. Dusty.

In memory of the recent great convention of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends held in the Court house here, it is interesting to note that this society lately issued cheque No. 9951, for $58, payable to a gentleman well known here, whose father, Mr. Chas. Dusty is on the "roll" of the Queen's throne. The beneficiary is Mr. Norman C. Dusty and paid for sick benefits.

Mr. Norman Dusty, whose claim, No. 7720, so quickly recognized and paid as promptly, for twelve weeks sickness, is a member of Peterboro Council No. 423, is at present in the United States, where the cheque was forwarded to him.

This cheque is payable at the Banks of Hamilton, Toronto, Dominion and Banque Provinciale Du Canada.

Mr. Dusty, whose claim was so promptly recognized, takes this opportunity of expressing his gratitude to and appreciation of the welcome remembrance by the Chosen Friends.

Returning Russians.

St. Petersburg, March 26.—Six trains are now running daily either way on the Siberian Railway, four being military trains carrying troops from the Far East. When the damaged engines have been repaired and others which have been ordered have arrived, fourteen trains are to run both ways, six of which will be used for military purposes. A similar service will be established on the Transbaikal line. There were 900,000 men to be brought back. Of these 600,000 had already left on January 16, and there were then still 160,000 to be repatriated. The evacuation is expected to be completed by the beginning of June.

MR. MANLY HURT

Prominent Monaghan Farmer Injured by Pitchfork.

The many friends, both in this city and in the township of South Monaghan, will regret to learn that Mr. Manly, of South Monaghan yesterday morning, sustained a severe injury whilst unloading some straw at a local livery barn.

It seems that a pitch fork used to unload the straw, dropped from its fastenings and one of the prongs pierced Mr. Manly's shoulder, causing a painful injury, that had the prong entered much further, might easily have proved fatal, by entering a lung.

Mr. D. Bellegham was at once telephoned to, and in short time the Dan Spence ambulance was on the spot, and quickly driven up Water street, conveyed the wounded man to Nicholl's hospital, where his injuries were dressed. He will be able to go out to his home this week. Mr. Manly had a narrow escape from a fatal accident.

BISON FOR CANADA

Sarnia Custom House Officers Have Trouble With Buffaloes.

The Chicago British-American says: Mr. T. Hewitt, of Chicago, was in Ottawa, Ont., last week to see the government officials on unusual business. Recently his brother, Mr. John Hewitt, head of the big Mobile Press works in this city, bought two splendid buffaloe from the Lincoln park herd, paying a big price for them, and shipped them to Canada, where he intends placing them on his summer estate near Grimsby. The buffaloe, however, were held at Sarnia over a week ago by order of the government officials, who refused to let them proceed to their destination without the usual tubercle test. Now the buffaloe, as the result of their long railway trip and close confinement, were in a very vicious mood, and so far it had been impossible to apply the test. Mr. Hewitt went to Ottawa to try and smooth over the difficulty. In the meantime the custom house officials at Sarnia were giving their troublesome customers a wide berth. It is Mr. Hewitt's intention to try and propagate the buffalo in his Grimsby park.

MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Toronto, March 26.—A week-old baby, presumably murdered by a woman, was found buried under a pile of wood in the Presbyterian church shed at Port Credit Saturday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock by Miss McKeich, the caretaker.

Though no marks of violence were discernible, suspicion points toward murder.

It is claimed that the body has been hidden there a week.

When the discovery was made known many residents made statements that a short stout woman, probably 30 years of age, who came in from the city on the 4 o'clock car on Saturday last, carried a child dressed in a white shawl.

She was seen acting strangely on the Lake Shore road. She seemed to hesitate, walk on, and finally turn back toward the village.

Afterwards she was noticed on different roads and her queer behavior was marked by many.

Some people claim they heard the child's muffled crying and the shawl was drawn tightly over its head. This was within a block of the church.

Miss McKeich, who found the body, was startled almost to collapse.

She was getting an armful of wood when her hand grasped a paper, and she was horrified as she pulled it away to see the cold little face of the naked body.

IN OLD NEW YORK.

Ottawa, March 27.—Judge McTavish, the chairman of the Insurance Investigation Commission, and Mr. George F. Gingsby, K.C., who is conducting the inquiry, on behalf of the Dominion Government, have gone to New York. It is understood that their visit is not unconnected with further prosecution of the inquiry into the conduct of Canadian companies. The commissioners will resume here on Wednesday.

HEALTH FOR WOMEN

Mrs. Emma Daigle of Moncton N B., Sends an open Letter to All Sufferers.

Most women are tired when they wake up. Housework drags along with great difficulty. Nervousness is always present, headaches seldom depart, tears are ever ready to flow.

But there is a cure, a true specific for women's ills that restored a prominent lady in Moncton, Mrs. Daigle, who tells the following experience:

"About a year ago I had a serious sickness, sort of a general breakdown. My digestion failed entirely and I was able to eat but very little. I took violent stomach pains and suffered terribly from headaches. My doctor said it was "nerve exhaustion" and I might never be well. My troubles increased, for as I grew weaker I became subject to neuralgia, and rheumatism. Sleep chiefly forsook me and I almost lost heart. Different medicines didn't help. Doctors couldn't do me any good. I was desperate when I heard of Ferrozone. The first box convinced me it was just what I needed. It toned up my stomach, gave me a splendid appetite and then my recovery seemed easier. Ferrozone increased my weight several pounds, has restored my nerves, given me a good color and strength such as I never had before. For the weak and sickly I can truthfully recommend Ferrozone." (Signed) Emma Daigle.

REMEMBER: No more stimulant or alcoholic concoction can take the loss of the nerve and blood nourishment contained in Ferrozone. This true tonic always does what is claimed for it. Sold everywhere in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50. By mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

FRANCE'S SUBMARINES

If submarines are used in the next war, and if France is in that war, she will have a chance to show what her work in the submarine line amounts to. The development of the submarine is proceeding apace in France, where the admiralty is perfecting its plans for vessels of this type of eight hundred tons each. Much larger crews will be wanted for boats of this size, and there seems to be some uncertainty as to where they are to be found. There will be no difficulty, of course, in the case of young officers, always on the lookout for any service likely to hasten promotion, but ordinary seamen will not be eager to serve on these dangerous craft without extra inducement. The eighteen French submarines which were laid down last August will require from twenty to twenty-five men, but this number will be quite inadequate for the new vessels, which are to be nearly double their size. Hitherto there has been no difficulty in manning the submarines, but the naval department confesses anxiety as to the future, and, at the suggestion of Admiral Fournier, inspector-general, has drawn up new regulations to attract efficient men by offering them special advantages. The supplementary allowance for submarine service, which was formerly thirty centimes for quartermasters and sailors and seventy centimes for officers, will be raised to seventy centimes and one franc, respectively, in France and the Mediterranean, and to one franc and one franc fifty centimes in the colonies. The facilities for promotion also will be increased, and crews in France every two years will be entitled to a two-months' holiday, and in the colonies every eighteen months. Moreover, submarine sailors will wear a distinctive badge, which in itself will be a sort of certificate of honor.

It is appropriate that the land of Jules Verne should be the leader in submarine work.

A GREAT EMPIRE'S PROBLEMS

When Hon. Joseph Chamberlain was colonial secretary, he ordered the preparation of statistics which should show the growth of the British Empire in the last forty years. These have just been published in the shape of a blue book, and it shows that since 1861 the area of the empire has increased from eight and a half million to nearly twelve million square miles, and the population from 234,000,000 to 400,000,000, of which only 54,000,000 are whites and 68,000,000 Christians. The tables convey interesting information as to birth rate, proportion of sexes, religions and social conditions in various parts of the empire. It is evident that with only 54,000,000 whites out of a population of 400,000,000 there are many serious problems of government ever present with the men who rule the British Empire. It is fortunate that the union of this immense empire sibility is fully felt by British statesmen, and grave and weighty questions are treated with the consideration they deserve, while the wisdom and knowledge gained by many years of experience in governing peoples of another race and color enable those in authority to govern with prudence, tact and justice. The flippant way in which the serious questions of foreign or colonial policy are treated in the United States is discreditable in comparison. It may be said, however, that the foreign peoples the United States has to deal with are incomparably less highly intelligent and civilized than the ancient peoples of India.

A GOOD PROPOSITION

Rare Chance for Investment in a Lucrative Mine.

As is known to most of our readers, one of the richest sections of the world, and one that has produced $160,000,000 in gold in the past thirty years, is the Black Hills of South Dakota.

This region, for which Uncle Sam's soldiers have fought and died, subduring the warlike Madoc Indians, has proved to be the richest in all his great and wealthy possessions.

The Harvest Mining Company has obtained some 140 acres in the central portion of the richest section of this district, in Pennington County. Their property is rich not only in the gold it contains, but is most admirably located, their seven claims being covered with an abundant growth of fine pine timber, suitable for mining purposes. This fact in itself renders their property especially valuable, as the enormous expense involved in many good mines for transportation of timber for mining purposes is thus saved. The timber possessed by the company has, at a conservative estimate, some million and a half feet.

A striking feature of the Harvest Mining Company's property is its accessibility to water and the fact that it is workable every day in the year, owing to the climate prevailing there.

The investing public is now aware that for steady dividends the best paying mines are those showing low grade ore, owing to modern and cheaper methods of extraction. The ore produced in this company's mine assays ten per cent. to twenty-two per cent. lead, some assays even running as high as sixty per cent.; the silver assays vary from one to four ounces per ton, with gold running from $3 to $5 per ton. Low grade ore, as treated now, which pays even $3 per ton, pays well to work, irrespective of the lead and silver contained in that of the Harvest mine.

The main vein on the property is about 22 feet in width. The low grade ore can be smelted and worked for the lead and silver it contains, leaving the gold as a net profit.

Not only does the property of this company contain large veins of the precious metals, but there is a good showing of copper, which assays as high as $18.

The Harvest Mining Company, is offering their stock at a low price for a limited time, have a proposition of unusual merit, their stock not being sold to instal expensive machinery, as owing to their fortunate location, they simply ship the ore to Rapid City for treatment. The Nio H. and N. W. Railway is within half a mile of their property.

For a limited time only the Company is offering Treasury stock, non-assessable, for 25 cents per share for development purposes.

For full particulars regarding this splendid opportunity for a lucrative investment, call on or write to W. K. Hall, Fiscal Agent, 379 Water street, Peterboro.

CONFESSES TO A MURDER

Rancourt Says He Had Himself Been Threatened with Death.

Montreal, March 25.—A wire from St. Joseph, Beauce County, says that Bernard Rancourt was put on trial on Saturday, for the murder of John Rainville. Saturday the widow Rainville said she did not believe Rancourt killed her husband, but the young woman's theories were upset by a confession from the accused to 'High Constable Dubuc of St. Mary's.

"Several times Rainville had threatened me with death," began the accused, "and the last things he said are so terrible that they are still ringing in my ears. 'If you do not obey me in everything,' he declared, 'I will kill you like a dog.'

"Meeting him alone in the road the night of Aug. 25, I was more frightened than ever before as I believed my life to be in danger. In fact I was afraid of my life whenever I would meet him. For the last few days before his death, Rainville became still more terrible in his threats, and I feared for my life."

Dewey as War Prophet.

Washington, D. C., March 26.—Speaking with utmost frankness, under bond of secrecy, before the house naval committee Saturday, Admiral Dewey marked either Germany or Japan, as a likely opponent of the United States in war in the future. The Admiral's views, which leaked out, have created a profound impression throughout the official colony, and it is believed the result will be the ordering by Congress of two battleships of the Dreadnought type.

King Won't Be There.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shows the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 20 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation [illegible] angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as [illegible] The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Globe and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tintic mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

He pretending to look broken-hearted; then spoke of bidding her farewell forever—telling her that he would go abroad, and do his best to die there, and that he was mad to ever dream that she could care for one as poor as he was, now that a wealthier suitor was at hand, that he would go quietly away where she should never see him more. He could not blame her for choosing wealth to a poor man's love.

He knew how the words would touch her tender heart. She broke down utterly, crying out that he was her love; and she would sacrifice the whole world for him.

It was a sad, pitiful story; the fair, passionate girl, so weak, yet so strong; so fond of him, yet so anxious to do right.

Little by little—long before she knew it herself—he saw that she was giving way.

She forgot the guests gathered beneath her roof; forgot her white-haired, proud old father; forgot the handsome bridegroom who would be waiting for her at the altar; forgot the terrible disgrace she would bring upon those who loved her so well; forgot everything else save that with her whole heart she loved the man who was pleading with her to turn from all else and fly with him—to love and happiness.

He showed her the marriage license he had brought with him. He had been so sure of her, and her love for him, that every preparation had been made. A coupe stood in waiting at the fork of the roads, which should bear them to a little village a few miles distant, where a minister was in readiness to make them one.

He promised her that, if she liked, they would both return to Fairlawn on the morrow, and sue for pardon from the general on their bended knees; and he would not refuse to grant it.

She would not be the first daughter, by any means, who had fled from a man she could not love, and wedded the man she did love. Brides, and even bridegrooms, had turned from a loveless marriage at the very altar.

"But what if papa should not forgive us?" breathed Reine, faintly.

"Then I can take care of you, my darling. We would be comparatively poor, but we can be happy even in poverty if we love each other. There would be no happiness for either of us—apart. Your father can keep his money, dear; we shall do very well without it," said he, who knew no other god save money.

"But Mr. Cheseleigh," sighed Reine—"ah, Waldemar, he would never forgive me for the injury you would have me do him."

He took her little ice cold hands in his.

"Ask yourself which is the greatest injury, Reine," he said, "to promise at the altar to love a man when you know you cannot, or to turn away before you have stesped your lips in a wilful and cruel perjury? It would be a sin to marry without love's sweet benediction."

He bewildered her with his love and his pleadings. What wonder is it that he convinced her of the truth of his persuasive argument?

They had been walking up and down the beech groves. He had taken off his overcoat and wrapped it about her, and adroitly he led her to the spot where his coupe stood in waiting.

He lifted her in his arms, placing her upon the cushioned seat, his strong will overpowering hers.

Half shrinking, and wholly irresolute, the general's lovely young daughter clung to him when he sprang to the seat beside her. The carriage door closed with a sharp, metallic click, and in another instant they were whirling through the solemn stillness of that Christmas night.

Weeping as though her girlish heart would break, yet smiling through her tears, Reine Hastings turned from her home and from those who would have laid down their lives to save her, and went on to her doom, trusting her young life and her future happiness to one of the most worthless of men.

She thought of the father she was leaving, and of Bernard Cheseleigh, whose patient devotion to her had all been in vain; yet, clinging with tender hands to the strong arm that held her, she put the past from her, and turned her young face bravely toward the future.

"After all, to choose love was best," she told herself. And now that she had seen Waldemar again, death would have been easier to bear than to part with him.

So the carriage rolled rapidly away, bearing the general's lovely daughter farther each moment from those whose love would have shielded her, had they but known of her deadly peril.

Many a sun would rise and set, many a season bloom and fade, ere the father who loved her so well, or the noble lover who would have laid down his very life for her, would behold her again.

She was going to the most pitiful fate that could have befallen her; yet young girls will still be dazzled by the glitter of tinsel, mistaking it for pure gold, even though they read and weep over the sad experience of Reine, the general's beautiful, impulsive daughter.

CHAPTER XIII.

The carriage stopped at length before an isolated stone church; the parsonage was close by it; and here, as expeditiously as possible, Waldemar Waldron made the general's heiress his wife.

"You are mine now, darling," he said, as he placed her again in the carriage. "Nothing on earth can ever part us."

Reine shivered and clung to him, listening with all a young girl's trembling to the glowing pictures he painted of their glorious future.

"We will go to Waldron Towers for the present," he said, "and pass the honeymoon there. Your father will come around all right in a fortnight, I'll warrant. Then, perhaps, we can make some kind of arrangement about going abroad."

The lovely, timid, golden-haired young creature, in shimmering satin robe and a bridal veil crowned with orange blossoms, clinging to their master's arm, created the greatest consternation among the old servants at Waldron Tower.

"The idea of bringing a bride there, where there wasn't a decent room in the whole house!" they said to one another. "Why, it was an unheard-of proceeding."

Waldemar Waldron strode down the long winding corridor among them, with lowering brow.

"If there is no room ready for occupancy, see that one is put in readiness at the earliest possible moment," he said, harshly. "It is past midnight already. The lady is tired out."

How gruffly her handsome Waldemar addressed the servants! And she noticed, too, how they shrank from their young master; and they certainly looked at her with something very like profoundest pity gleaming in their eyes. How lonely and cheerless the place looked on this eventful Christmas night!

Fish Farms.

Fish farming enables thriftly Frenchmen who own a pond to augment their incomes considerably. The industry was introduced into France about fifty years ago. Nowadays in the Doumlse district alone the fish ponds cover an area of 20,000 acres.

Gray's Lost Poems.

Many poems of Gray were lost after his death. They fell into the hands of careless persons who knew nothing of their value.

The Onion.

The onion, belonging to the same family as the garlic and the leek, is classed among the vegetables of value as a blood purifier. It stimulates the secretions and, like celery, is useful for nervousness. The strong taste and smell of onions are due to a volatile oil rich in sulphur.

An Unappreciated Poet.

The Abbe de Marolles, in one of his latest works, calculated that he had printed 133,124 verses, and yet the public had not sense enough to appreciate him as a poet.

An Acid Proof Stopper.

If you want a stopper for a bottle of acid or any substance that would naturally call for a glass stopper because of the danger that the cork would be eaten up by the contents of the bottle take the cork and steep it in vaseline. It will then be impervious to acids of any kind, and no action of chemicals will decay it. It will, in fact, be as good for all purposes as a glass stopper.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces (except 8 and 26, not reserved), may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING REGULATIONS.

COAL.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

QUARTZ.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7.50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 or 1500 feet. The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locater may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

AN AMERICAN DISEASE

Indigestion is Responsible for More Sickness in America Than Any Other Disease.

Some doctors go so far as to say that indigestion is the national disease of America. Repeated attacks inflame the lining of the stomach and cause the glands to secrete mucous instead of the juice of natural digestion. Consequently the blood is poisoned, nerve force is reduced, the vitality of the entire system is weakened.

There is but one national remedy for indigestion and that remedy is Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are being used by thousands with marvellous success.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills accelerate the action of the gastric glands and give tone to the digestive organs. They strengthen the kidneys and liver, cleanse and purify the blood, and thus add general tone to every organ of the body. Their most attractive feature is that restored and the patient can eat and digest any food he pleases.

Under the vitalizing effect of Dr. Hamilton's Pills your system will soon rally; once more you'll enjoy the blessings of health. Test Dr. Hamilton's Pills yourself. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1; at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Lindsay Lady Meets Accident.

Lindsay Post says; Miss Curtis, cashier in Dundas & Flavelle's Limited, met with a strange and painful accident the other day. While seated innocently on the high stool she had occasion to reach forward for a cash system carrier. Just then the stool wobbled and to save herself from falling, she clutched at the ledge close by, and her left hand descended on the pointed wire of a letter file, which pierced completely through the palm and emerged at the back. She displayed great pluck while the wound was being dressed.

Quite a number of local citizens, including Messrs. Jas. Davidson, R. Hicks, Geo. Stevenson, A. Moffatt, H. Gibbs, A. Elliott, W. Green, J. M. Brooks and others yesterday morning took the busses out to the scene of Chemong Lake Hotel's contents. Mr. Haggart, the local auctioneer, had charge of the sale of the furniture advertised by Mr. Geo. Brown, late proprietor. Those however, who went out, one after a refrigerator, one after the bar fixtures, another after bedsteads, still another after bed and table linen, and others to get various articles, were disappointed. Previous to the advertised time of the sale, Mr. Wm. Irwin, who recently acquired possession of the hotel building, bought their whole contents by private sale immediately prior to the advertised sale. Those who drove out enjoyed both a pleasant airing and a sumptuous repast, provided at the Chemong Hotel.

Good Lecture on the Esquimos.

Last night All Saints was crowded by a delighted audience who listened with keen attention to the lecture given by his Lordship Bishop Stringer of Selkirk, on the habits and conversion of the Esquimos. The right reverend gentleman spoke from the platform of many years experience among these aborigines of that far northern land. His address was made more interesting by well displayed lime light views taken right on the spot. His descriptions of these primitive people, to whom his blessings of Christianity are being unfolded, were most practical and interesting, embracing even such minutiae of their live as the very names of their dogs. His Lordship is an accomplished speaker, whose heart is evidently warmly interested in his charges pfar.

Two Presentations to Mr. Molden.

On Saturday night, Mr. T. J. E. Molden, foreman of the C.G.E. Cabinet department, was presented by his brother foremen with a very handsome gold watch, and by fellow members of the C.G.E. Angling Club with a handsome gold chain and locket. In each case the presentations were accompanied by a kindly worded address, expressive of the regret felt at Mr. Molden's leaving to become a responsible position in Toronto.

TO CATARRH SUFFERERS

Hyomei Cures by Breathing Medicated Air.

The popularity and increase in the sales of Hyomei are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing cures have been made by this remedy that its sale is steadily increasing every year.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper, and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life-time, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only one that follows Nature in her methods of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Breathe through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and your catarrh is cured. That's all.

If you cannot obtain Hyomei of your dealer, it will be forwarded by mail, postage paid, on receipt of price. Write today for consultation blank that will entitle you to services of our medical department without charge. The R. T. Booth Company, Hyomei Building, Ithaca, N. Y.

Do You Want to Know What You Swallow?

There is a growing sentiment in this country in favor of MEDICINES OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. It is but natural that one should have some interest in the composition of that which he or she is expected to swallow, whether it be food, drink or medicine.

Recognizing this growing disposition on the part of the public, and satisfied that the fullest publicity can only add to the well-earned reputation of his medicines, Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., has "taken time by the forelock," as it were, and is publishing broadcast a list of all the ingredients entering into his leading medicines, the "Golden Medical Discovery" the popular liver invigorator, stomach tonic, blood purifier and heart regulator; also of his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, over-worked, broken-down, nervous and invalid women.

This bold and out-spoken movement on the part of Dr. Pierce, has, by showing exactly what his well-known medicines are composed of, completely disarmed all carping critics who have heretofore unjustly attacked them. A little pamphlet has been compiled, from the standard medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, showing the strongest endorsements by leading medical writers of the several ingredients which enter into Dr. Pierce's medicines. A copy of this little book is mailed free to any one desiring to learn more concerning the valuable, native, medicinal plants which enter into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines. Address Dr. Pierce as above.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated, easy-to-take granules. They regulate and invigorate Stomach, Liver and Bowels. Do not boast the "pill habit," but cure constipation. One sugar-coated pellet for a laxative and two or three or four for an active cathartic. Once tried always in favor.

$50,000 GIVEN AWAY, in copies of The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book that sold to the extent of 680,000 copies a few years ago, at $1.50 per copy. Last year we gave away 50,000 worth of these invaluable books. This year we shall give away 50,000 worth of them. Will you share in this benefit? If so, send only 21 one-cent stamps to cover cost of mailing only for book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for cloth-bound. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

New Fire-Engine Proves Great Success

Tests Made From Hydrant and Still Water of Peterboro's Latest Fire Fighting Machinery Demonstrates That City Council Have Made a Good Bargain.

Yesterday, amidst a downpour of cold rain, made more distressing to spectators by a chilling raw wind, the new fire engine recently purchased from the Waterous Engine Co. of Brantford, received its baptism of fire and, incidentally, water.

As will be remembered by our readers there was keen competition in the matter of supplying this city with a new fire engine to replace the old one, which was accidentally destroyed, as regards it boiler, the latter being burnt out, between the Canadian Fire Engine Co., of London, Ont., and the Waterous Co.

The price quoted by the former company, which sent an engine here some weeks ago for demonstration purposes, and which was given a heavy series of tests at the corner of Aylmer and Murray streets, was $5,500 for a 1000-gallon per minute engine, the company agreeing to allow $1000 for the old engine of which the boiler was destroyed; the price quoted by the Waterous Engine Co., was $6000 with $1500 for our old engine, making the price quoted by each at the net figure of $4,500.

It will be remembered that, after ford concern lovingly gave finishing touches, accompanied by liberal applications of machine oil to oil cups and other parts of the machine.

Soon Mr. Nelson had the furnace filled with kindling wood cut with mathematical precision to the right size and shape.

At a given signal two local firemen seized long torches, with ends wound in rags soaked in kerosene, and at the word go, Messrs. Henderson, superintendent of the water works; Dick Martin of the same company, Mr. Cameron of the Brantford Co. and others pulled out their stop watches, when the command "Let her go" was given, both torches were placed beneath the furnace of the engine, and those holding the watches got busy.

Before the test started, Mr. Cameron explained that the usual test of how long it takes to get steam up, was not when the torches are applied, but when the smoke first comes from the smoke stack, thus making a few seconds difference.

Before the torches were applied there were two gauge of water already in the boiler. Two minutes after the smoke was seen, the time keepers announced five pounds of steam, in three minutes, 8 1-2 pounds, in four there were 10 pounds, in six 22 1-2 pounds, at 7 1-2 minutes there were 50 pounds and in eight and a half minutes, 60 pounds, when the pumps were started.

The first test was made with 100 feet of hose leading in an ordinary 1 1-2 inch nozzle.

Shortly after the first set started Mr. Charles Butcher, of the local fire brigade, whilst helping to carry the hose across a pool of water, gathered on the road, some six to eight inches deep, with ice beneath the water, was dragged off his feet and with quickness and despatch sat down involuntarily in the deep cold water. The north end of his tot-to-go-out-without-tables, getting like the clothing of the classic McGinty in his voyage of exploration to the bottom of the sea. This however, did not prevent a hardy Peterboro fireman from proceeding with his work.

Shortly after the first test began the new "Paragon" hose, about 20 feet from the engine burst, drenching all those within ten feet of the break; this accident was no fault of this particular brand of hose, but simply on account of what medical men would term "traumatic injury." This test was satisfactory to the most exacting.

The second test was made with a 1 1-2 inch nozzle at the end of three hundred feet of hose. After this test was satisfactorily demonstrated, to the 300 feet of hose was applied a "Siamese" attachment. This in short-est words means that two lines of hose, some 300 feet in length were by a Y siamese casting, conjointly diverted into one stream to increase the pressure and hence the power of elevation of the column of water thrown. A 1 3-4 nozzle was attached to this conjoint stream when a solid volume of water, perhaps 250 feet in height was thrown over on to the spur railway line and away beyond. This ended a most interesting and absolutely satisfactory demonstration of the engine's capacity and power when drawing its water from a river or creek, the intake pipe being inserted into the old millrace or canal of the former Dickson Company's property. The first tests ended about 3.30 p.m. At about 4 p.m. the engine, hose wagon and cart, obtaining fuel, was brought to the market square to try the steamer's powers when drawing water from a hydrant of the city's water works.

The engine was placed on Water street, just in front of Mr. F. W. Miller's shop.

Quickly the iron boards were dropped between the furnace and the wheels of the engine to prevent the former being scorched by the furnace's heat.

Then the firemen with poker, slicer and other tools got his fire up, the intake was attached to the hydrant supplied by an 8-inch main, 200 feet of hose ending in an inch and three-quarters nozzle were attached and the water flew across the market square towards the National Hotel.

This test showed, that, well as the engine had done when drawing her own water, the natural pressure of the water work's main augmented her strength. A stream quite thirty to forty feet higher than the highest pinnacle of the clock in Bradburn's building was quickly demonstrating the power of the Waterous engine. For the information of those not knowing it, we might say that it is 110 feet from the market square to the top edge of this clock, and the uppermost point of the tower is perhaps fifty feet further heavenward.

Again two streams through the nozzles ranging from 1 1-8 to 1 3-4 in diameter were pumped across the square.

Whilst this exhibition was in progress, one of the hose nozzles was firmly held by a wooden contrivance accompanying the engine, and which takes a lot of work on the firemen at the nozzle, and the other held, as well the old machine, by the firemen's muscle alone.

The pressure on this latter nozzle became too great for the two firemen holding it, and, by force of the water, the hose was dragged from their control. In a moment the nozzle, spouting forth 1099 gallons a minute was like a Texas steer escaped from the stock yards. The vast volume of water struck Chief Rutherford, the two men, a minute ago in charge of the nozzle, and the ubiquitous small boy, and rolled them heels over head round the muddy square. Those thus informally introduced to the power of hydrantics were thoroughly drenched, but fortunately not seriously injured.

Taken all in all the tests were most satisfactory and every one of the hundreds witnessing the exhibition were unanimous in saying that the Waterous engine is "It."

New Queen's Salary.

Madrid, March 28.—A law is published fixing the allowance of the future Queen at $80,000 annually. This amount will be reduced to $50,000 in the event of the King's death.

THE TEST.

Shortly after one o'clock a team belonging to the city drew the new engine, for which the order had been given the Waterous Engine Co., up Water street to London treet and along that street east to the bridge spanning the old Dickson Co. canal.

Here the engine was stopped, the horses and pole removed and loads of wood, with barrels of soft coal got ready. Mr. Ed. Nelson, of Brantford, fireman for the test, got busy at the furnace, whilst Mr. J. J. Quinlan, head engineer of the Brant-

A COAL STRIKE IS NOW CERTAIN.

Indianapolis, March 28.—The Joint Scale Committee of the bituminous coal operators and miners of the central competitive district, after being in session one week, decided yesterday to report a disagreement to a session of a joint conference of miners and operators, to be held at two o'clock.

This seems to make it certain that the greatest industrial struggle in the history of America, in comparison with which the coal strike of 1903 will pale into insignificance, will commence on Monday next. Yesterday the miners, through President Mitchell, presented their ultimatum to the operators in the Joint Scale Committee. It was a demand for the restoration of the 1903 scale, which is an advance of 5.55 per cent. over the present wage scale. This has now been refused, and the whole community of North America will be sufferers thereby. Millions of people will be compelled to pay more for their fuel, because all the miners will go out, both in the bituminous and anthracite fields.

NO MORE DOGS

Bill to Prevent Hunting Deer With Dogs Has First Reading.

Yesterday Mr. Thos. Rutherford, game warden, received a copy of the clauses of the new amendments to the Game Protection Act, which practically reads as follows:

"A bill amending subsection 6, section 8, of the Ontario Game Protection Act, by striking out the words "during the close season for deer," in the fourth line, and by striking out the words, "during the close season" in the seventh line, and by substituting in lieu thereof, the words, "at any time."

Clause A an subsection 1 of section 25 of the same Act the figures $"25" are substituted for that the following $100 except such person be British subject, in which case the license fee shall be $25.

The meaning of these amendments is, first that when the bill gets its third reading, no dogs shall be employed at any season of the year for deer hunting.

The second part of the amendments means that Americans or other foreigners will have to pay an annual license fee of $100, and British subjects, not residents of the Province of Ontario, shall pay $25 per annum. For those resident in this province the fee will be the same as last year, $2.00.

A Times representative yesterday interviewed several members of the various local hunt clubs. Their opinion was practically unanimous in saying that the new Act will have a tendency to protect the deer, but that it will end the outings of the local clubs such as the Gold, Eagle, Ketchesum, Sucker and other like clubs. It is thought by them that deer will be slaughtered by the settlers in the back country by fair or foul means, instead of, in limited numbers, by clubs who have money invested in lodges, who are heavy tax payers, and who not only keep the law as now in force, but who, by their yearly visits help to compel the settlers to do likewise.

LOCAL ELECTROCUTION

Mr. K. Gibbs Has Valuable Team Killed by an Electric Shock.

Once more the deadly live wire gets in its disastrous work. Last night, about nine o'clock as Mr. Jerry McCarthy, was driving one of Mr. R. Gibbs' hacks along George street, at the corner of McDonnel, the horses ran foul of a misplaced live electric wire.

The team which was a fine valuable pair of greys belonging to Mr. Gibbs, at once fell dead on the street. A considerable crowd gathered immediately after the electrocution.

LATER.

Since receiving the above intelligence a Times representative went to the scene of the accident, and ascertained that whilst Mr. Gibbs' team were killed by an electric shock, and lying dead on the street on his arrival, their death was due, not to direct contact with a live wire, but to the electric fluid being conveyed down a wet pole to the ground, and thence across the street owing to its wet condition. When Mr. McCarthy arrived at this spot he noticed the horses beginning to prance, and gave them a cut with the whip. Almost before the ash had fallen the horses dropped dead. Several dogs attempting to cross the street at this spot were severely shocked. Only such persons as had rubbers on were able to pass in safety. The insulation of the wires at this spot should be looked after immediately.

OBITUARY

Death of Mr. Martin Parnell at 40 Union Street.

Martin Roy Parnell, of 40 Union street, died yesterday at noon after a short illness from erysipelas. He was fifty-four years of age, and is survived by a wife and several of a family.

ANOTHER BANQUET

City Hockey League to Honor Charlotte Street Team.

The City Hockey League, as becomes true sports, have decided to give a banquet to the league champions, the Charlotte street team, on Monday, April 9. The banquet will be rendered in McCallum's restaurant. A committee was appointed to arrange the details, with Mr. Jos. Maher, as chairman, and Mr. Watson, of the Bankers, as secretary. The Stratton Cup will be presented on the occasion of the banquet.

Second Sister Attempts Suicide.

St. Thomas, March 28.—Lena Grayden, of Aylmer, attempted to commit suicide here by taking poison. A physician was hastily summoned, and it is expected she will recover. Miss Grayden's sister a short time ago committed suicide here by taking carbolic acid.

A CORRECTED RUMOR

Couplings of New Fire Engine Only Temporary and to be Replaced.

It was currently said that the four couplings on the new engine which attach the hose to it, have a thread which is not standard size. This occurs because this engine was made originally for Montreal, which city adheres to the old fashioned system of eight threads to the inch. The standard couplings used everywhere else in Canada, but in the city of Montreal, have a five-to-the inch thread. This engine were one this difficulty by first brushing which necessitates the use of a rubber washer, this it was said will always be, to a certain extent, objectionable. The man who runs the engine, the rumor noted, will always be compelled to carry a good sharp pocket knife to adjust washers.

A Times representative brought this matter to the attention of Mr. Cameron, the gentleman in charge of the engine tests. Mr. Cameron made no possible secret of this matter explaining that the engine, until yesterday had originally been intended for the city of Montreal.

Upon receipt of the despatch saying Peterboro wanted such a engine, it was sent here, and the couplings, which at present of the gauge and style used in Montreal, are only for temporary use, and will be changed at once to the thread adapted to our local requirements.

LABOUR UNION'S AWFUL CRIME

Union Planned to Blow up Buildings Wholesale.

New York, March 28. — That the Housesmiths' Union, which is making a final fight for its life against the open shop policy of the Building Employers' Association, had hatched a gigantic plan for the destruction of buildings in course of erection, was the disclosures contained in a detailed confession made by Charles Moran, acknowledged dynamiter, which is now in the hands of the District Attorney. The confession was made voluntarily, and for the purpose of obtaining leniency from the court. Moran's confession is said to be one of the most sensational documents of the kind ever given to the prosecuting authorities, and enough its agency it is said men prominent in certain labor circles will be brought to account for outrages which have marked the war of extermination waged by employers against the once powerful Housesmiths' Union. Names of men designated to carry out the plans, and names also of men who perfected the plans and agreed to pay specified sums to hirelings detailed to fulfil them, have been supplied by Moran to the District Attorney. The plan was to blow up the buildings by scores.

ILLEGAL "MEDICAL OFFICES"

A United States Postmaster Takes Measures to Stamp Them Out.

Washington, D. C., March 28.—Orders have been issued by Postmaster-General Cortelyou instructing the postmasters of New York and Brooklyn to refuse to admit to mails the advertisements of 52 illegal "medical offices" located in those cities, and also to refuse to deliver mail matters received addressed to the fictitious and assumed names under which parties conducting these concerns hide their identity. For some time past the department has had inspectors gathering evidence and officials today expressed the belief that practically all of the criminal concerns of this character in these cities have been covered.

This action at New York and Brooklyn is in line with efforts previously made by Postmaster-General Cortelyou in Boston and Philadelphia, where a number of concerns have been closed.

Hint to Canal Deputation.

The junior reporter of this great family journal was given an assignment yesterday. He was requested to write a verse on the deputation to Ottawa on behalf of the canal, which goes today. After several hours of brain-wrecking he produced the following, which the members of the deputation will please paste in their hats:

Other sections get canals done
For they work instead of play,
Everybody digs but our crowd,
They sit around all day.

Bank Gets Little.

Toronto, March 28.—The Crown Bank officials are very indignant because they are only allowed to take the actual cash recovered from the Banwells. According to the judge's order, wearing apparel cannot be confiscated because bought with stolen funds and it is restored to Mrs. Banwell. Banwell went to Kingston yesterday.

Druggist Sentenced.

St. Albans, Vt., March 28.—An appeal to the Supreme Court of Vermont is to be taken in behalf of Almon White, a Richford druggist, who was found guilty of the illegal sale of liquor in connection with the so-called wood alcohol poisoning cases. Almon White was sentenced to pay a fine of $2,000 and costs of prosecution, with an alternative penalty of three days' imprisonment for each dollar of the fine and costs. If the alternative should be enforced, it would mean imprisonment for nearly 17 years.

A REGRETTABLE DEATH

Mrs. A. St. A. Smith of Keene Passed Away Yesterday.

This whole community will be shocked to hear that yesterday morning there passed away a lady both well known and universally respected throughout the city and county, in the person of Mrs. A. St. A. Smith.

The deceased had been sick for some time past with pneumonia, and yesterday morning she succumbed to the disease. Her youngest son, Harold, it will be further learned with regret also suffered with the same disease.

Mrs. Smith, whose maiden name was Miss Mary Deane, was the third daughter of the late Mr. Henry Deane, and was 37 years of age. She leaves to mourn her loss, her husband, Mr. A. St. A. Smith, manager of the Keene branch of the Bank of Toronto. The family have been living in that village for about a year, and before going there resided in Millbrook. Previous to going to Millbrook they were residents of this city.

The deceased also leaves to mourn her loss, two sons, Harry and Harold, as well as her mother, eight sisters, and two brothers. The sisters are Misses Eva, May, Goetie, Emily, Hattie, Helen, Margaret, of this city, and Mrs. (W. H. Graham, of Kingston, Toland and T. H. G. Deane, of this city, are brothers of deceased.

The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, from the residence of Mrs. Henry Deane, mother of deceased, 723 George street, to Little Lake cemetery.

Local Talent For Lindsay.

In all probability the Dramatic section of St. Peter's T.A.S. will present the "Colleen Bawn" at Lindsay in the near future. There have been requests from that place for the presentation of that popular Irish drama there, and it is likely that the requests will be acceded to. The play will likely be presented in Lindsay during Easter week.

MISS CORELLI ON THE CONVERSION

Bitterly Denounces Princess Ena's Change of Religion

THE GLAMOUR OF A CROWN

Gifted Authoress Talks Straight Regarding the Sale of the English Princess.

"Does England still possess a national faith? * * The so-called 'conversion' of the grand-daughter of our late most Protestant Queen Victoria to Catholicism is discussed as lightly as though so serious a change were but the shifting out of a new 'mode.'"

Thus, under the heading "Faith versus Flunkeyism," Miss Marie Corelli begins a bitter denunciation of the Spanish royal match. The article is to be published in the next number of the "Rapid Review" (C. Arthur Pearson, Limited), of which we have received an advance copy.

Most English readers will think the attack in doubtful taste, and will regret that Miss Corelli has used her literary powers to stir up religious strife on so charming a love-story as that of King Alfonso and Princess Ena. It must not, of course, be taken that in giving extracts from the article we in any way associate ourselves with Miss Corelli's views.

THE PRINCESS CONVICTIONS.

With little ambiguity Miss Corelli practically accuses the Princess of insincerity in her conversion.

The Princess, she says, showed no leaning towards the Roman Catholic church till "Alfonso, with the Throne of Spain at his back, glittered on the horizon."

"The life-tragedies of queens of all nations and in all times sufficiently prove that they are numbered among the most miserable of women; but the glamour of a crown, and the external trappings of Sovereignty, continue, nevertheless, to dazzle the eye and enslave the imagination of those who, having had as yet no experience of what history records, believe they can laugh at fate and make a history of their own."

What, asks Miss Corelli, are the convictions of a boy and girl like the King and Princess?

"They are mutually of the opinion that it is good to be alive and young; that motor-cars are splendid inventions; that flowers and bonbons and jewels are pretty things; that the incessant smoking of cigarettes has a certain 'devil-may-care' dash and 'nerve' about it, especially when this Spanish habit is practised by a Princess of the English blood-royal; that it is amusing to be a little bit in love; that it is pleasant to be cheered by the populace, even if the populace have no special reason to cheer; and that, on the whole, life is great fun?

NETWORK OF INTRIGUE.

"Round these two unthinking and playful human creatures a wonderful, well-night invisible network of intrigue has been woven steadily, but surely, and the threads are now being tightened quickly, lest the prey should escape after all, and the weaving be in vain."

With this prelude, Miss Corelli goes on to point to the ex-Empress Eugenie, the Princess's god-mother, as one of the prime movers in the match. Then she proceeds to a criticism of Princess Ena's mother, Princess Henry of Battenberg, that will no doubt be strongly resented.

"We may," says Miss Corelli, "perhaps be permitted to wonder whether, supposing that—instead of being confirmed in the Faith of England—she (the Princess) had then expressed a wish to be re-baptized into the Church of Rome, her mother would have allowed it. It would scarcely have been 'expedient.' Because a Protestant Prince might have come along with an offer of marriage and a throne in prospect.

"In the Princess Ena's case a Catholic King has appeared on the scene; ergo, the Faith of England, in which this girl was born and educated, must go to the wall. In order to mount a throne, she must alter and shape her religious views to suit those of the somewhat excitable young man who is credited, rightly or wrongly, with having made a recent statement to the effect that he 'would stamp out every vestige of Protestantism in Spain.'

'CAST ASIDE LIKE AN OLD SHOE.'

"It should, however, be carefully noted and remembered that no 'conversion' arrangements for 'converting' the young Princess were apparently allowed to take place till her mother was quite sure that Alfonso meant business. A trip to Biarritz had to be taken before it seemed to be settled that the religious faith of England should be cast aside like an old shoe no longer fit for wearing. * * The visit to Biarritz took place; and till that was over, and things were more settled, Princess Ena had not apparently quite resolved to become 'converted.' How in the face of such facts, the Pope can dare, as a minister of Him from Whom no secrets are hid,' to express himself as 'satisfied with the sincerity of Princess Ena's conversion,' is a marvel.

"Truth to tell, the whole conduct of the scheme by which this Spanish royal marriage has been, or is being, arranged, shows very little real regard for the honor of the Church of England or that of the Church of Rome."

A CLEAR SWINDLE

Farmers Being Victimized by Use of a Peterboro Firm's Name.

Woodville Advocate: Look out for them! a couple of sharpers have been going among the farmers, soliciting subscriptions to stock for a cold storage building to be established in Peterboro. Last week they were operating in the south part of the township of Thorah. It turns out that the supposed stock subscription forms were were nothing less than promissory notes. They have been trying to negotiate their notes with private banks between here and Lindsay. It now appears that there is no such company as the Cold Storage Co., of Peterboro. The authorities are now on their track. Why will farmers be so easily gulled, notwithstanding the repeated warnings of the press to beware of such gentry?

Canada and United States.

Washington, D.C., March 28.—Trade of the United States with Canada in the fiscal year 1905, aggregated $362,989,313, against $339,439,866 in 1905, according to the bulletins issued by the Department of Commerce and Labor. It shows that in the 20 years from 1873 to 1893 trade with Canada increased $27,000,000 and from 1893 to 1905 it increased $113,000,000. The larger portion of this growth has been on the export side. Imports increased from $27,887,615 in 1873, to $63,469,632 in 1905, and exports advanced from $84,547,219 in 1873, to $140,539,681 in 1905.

Mr. W. T. Jerome Strikes High Places

District Attorney of New York, Determined to Probe the Contributions of Insurance Companies to Political Campaign Funds.

New York, March 28.—A sensation was caused yesterday by a report that District Attorney Jerome had secured warrants for the arrest of Postmaster-General George B. Cortelyou, chairman of the Republican National Committee; Cornelius N. Bliss, chairman of that committee, and George W. Perkins, formerly vice-president of the New York Life Insurance Company, on charges arising out of the payment of life insurance funds to the Republican Committee during the Presidential campaign of 1904. After he had obtained the warrants, District Attorney Jerome declined to say for whom they had been issued.

His action in asking for the warrants is believed to be an outgrowth of the sharp discussion between Judge O'Sullivan, of the Court of General Sessions, and himself last week over the question whether officers of the insurance companies could be prosecuted for making contributions which was brought out in the legislative insurance investigation. Following this the grand jury presented to Judge O'Sullivan a long series of hypothetical questions as to whether under certain circumstances the insurance officials had committed larceny in making the political contributions.

Several days later Mr. Jerome informed the jury that the officers were not guilty of larceny unless intent to defraud were shown, and expressed the opinion that it was not shown in these cases. Last week, however, Judge O'Sullivan notified the jury that it was for this jury to say whether or not intent to defraud were shown by the insurance companies, and if the jury found out that it was shown, the crime of larceny would have been committed.

EMIGRATING TO SWEAT SHOPS

Father O'Brien, of Toledo, Tells Irish to Stay in Ireland.

Dublin, March 28.—The Rev. Father O'Brien, of Toledo, one of the most popular of Irish-American pastors who is at present in Ireland, advises the people of this country to remain at home instead of emigrating to the new world. There has been considerable discussion in Ireland recently over the marked emigration from England to the colonies in general and to Canada in particular. Father O'Brien warns the poorer people of Ireland, telling them that some of the American cities are overcrowded, and that relatively and proportionately wages paid are no greater in some sections of the United States than in Ireland itself. He cites the cases of many of the sweat shops in many of the larger cities and says that it is to a life of this kind that so many of the Irish emigrants go.

A MOTHER ARRESTED

For Aiding Her Son to Escape From Mimico Industrial School.

Toronto, March 28.—Following the example of Roberts and Jenkins, who got away from the Mimico Industrial school last Sunday night, three others made the attempt yesterday. Wilbur Lucas, a negro, and James Whitney, an Indian, ran two miles, and then were brought back. The third, George Cameron, aged 10, is still at large. Cameron's escape was sensational.

His mother, who was married again, and is now Mrs. Ferguson, called at the institution about five o'clock. She had an interview with Superintendent Ferrier, and asked that her son be allowed to leave Mimico. "I want to send him to a college," she said, and Mr. Ferrier promised to go down to Crown Attorney Curry and Police Magistrate Denison in the boy's behalf. Then Mrs. Ferguson took her leave. The boys were in the playground at the time, and when the mother had reached the gate Cameron broke from his companions. He ran to Mrs. Ferguson, and she and a man who had been waiting for her with a horse and buggy bundled the lad into the rig. The three drove rapidly toward the village.

Mr. Ferrier sent men after them, and later the police did their best to locate Mrs. Ferguson and her son, but failed.

Cameron, though so young, had been convicted of breaking into a house and stealing along with other boys. Mr. Ferrier does not know, but is inclined to think that the escape was planned. When a person visits the Industrial from this city the trolley is generally used. It is not at all usual to drive out from Toronto.

A sharp lookout was kept for Mrs. Ferguson, and this morning Constable Phelan arrested her at Parkdale station, when she was about to go away for a trip. She had with her a suit case and a valise, and these were taken to her home at 62 Beaty avenue. She was taken to No. 6 police station.

NO LADIES' SMOKER HERE

Canadian Railway Managers Do Not Consider Question Live One.

Montreal, March 28.—The British railways having adopted a system of Ladies' Smoking cars on their systems, and the American roads having in contemplation such action, the officials of the Canadian roads having offices in Montreal were asked as to their probable introduction into Canada. The reply in all cases was that for the present at any rate the subject was not a live one, and until there was information that these cars would be welcome, the matter would not be taken into serious consideration.

Youth Committed Suicide.

Stratford, March 28.—Walter Baxter, son of John Baxter, took his life by hanging himself in the barn. He was hardly out of his teens, and it is difficult to account for the rash act. The only reason that can be given is overstudy, the young man having been a student at one of the local educational institutions, and very industrious.

Industrial Accidents in Canada.

Ottawa, March 28.—During February industrial accidents occurred to 199 work people in Canada, according to returns received at the Department of Labor. Of these forty were fatal and 159 resulted in serious injuries. The lumbering industry headed the list seven killed and sixteen injured; railways coming with a record of five killed and fourteen injured.

All Thin, Pale Women

Can Learn the Cause of Their Nervous, Used up Condition

With women, ill-health is usually traceable to nerve exhaustion. Feeling run-down and tired most of the time is nature's warning that more nerve-force is required.

You must build up, nourish the body, vitalize the nerves, get more fluids and blood.

It's the abundant nutriment and building material in Ferrozone that enables it to cure so many sick women. It increases the appetite, adds weight and strength, restores lost color and develops a surplus of energy and nerve force that defies sickness of any kind. There is living proof in Mrs. Daniel Ferguson, Jr., of Prescott, Ont. Read her statement:

"A year ago my health failed. I grew thin and exceedingly pale. At night it was difficult to obtain restful sleep. My appetite was variable and indigestion bothered me considerably. I became morose and suffered from heart palpitation. You could scarcely believe the benefit I derived in one week from Ferrozone. Color came back to my cheeks. My vitality and appetite increased, renewed nerve force and better spirits came also. Ferrozone did a world of good and made me well.

Remember this: No alcoholic stimulant can nourish and build up like Ferrozone. Fifty cents per box or six boxes for $2.50. At all dealers, or N. C. Polson & Co., Kingston, Ont., and Hartford, Conn., U.S.A.

LATENT SAVAGERY

The impressively discouraging aspect of the present day in our civilization is the savagery that stands out as still latent in the hearts of men. Look at Russia preparing for a new Jewish massacre on Easter next, to mark in blood and murder the anniversary of the resurrection from the dead of the Prince of Peace. Look at Pennsylvania terrorised by a black-handed band of secret assassins. And contemplate that it is not more than a score of days ago when a mob in Springfield, O., brutally beat and clubbed the helpless and innocent negroes of the town. Of course, this is in the United States. Canada is not so bad.

Doubtless we are gentler in our natures and more unselfish in our dealings with our fellow-men in this world today than were our ancestors of the Stone Age, but it is sometimes hard to believe it. With all the teachings of the blameless Man of Nazareth at our command, with centuries of education and enlightenment from the schools, with the blood of all the martyrs who died for us reddening the highways of time, we are still, to a great degree the brutes for whom the angels must weep.

The lesson that man most needs at this hour seems to be the lesson of gentleness. Perhaps we are too largely engrossed in money-making, perhaps we are too eager to dominate and to dictate to our neighbors at the point of the bayonet and with the fire of guns, or perhaps it is something else that keeps us forever in the fault. But, whatever it be, we ought to search it out from the hearts and the souls of us and cast it from us.

It is not worth while to live if we can't live right. It were better never to have been born than to have been born a brute. Therefore, whoever has the light within him let him spread it. Let us preach the gospel of gentleness. Nothing more is needed to save the world and to set it right. And it is a gospel that every man can preach and practice as he goes about his daily life doing the work of the moment and accomplishing whatever task his hands have found to do.

Remains of a Moose Found.

As workmen were busily engaged in excavating a cellar near the corner of Stewart and Wolfe streets, last Saturday, Mr. T. Turcotte, of 16 Orme street, had his attention attracted by some peculiar bone fragments thrown out as the men threw aside the products of their labor. Mr. Turcotte, on closer investigation discovered a portion of horn, among other remains of a defunct animal, seemingly those of a moose. Several ribs and other bones, somewhat decayed, but still recognizable as those of some member of the deer species were found, and, judging by shape and size most likely those of a moose. The remains were buried under about two feet of black earth, and must have lain there many years.

REFUSED TO ELOPE

Waiter Shot and Fatally Injured the Daughter of His Former Employer.

New York, March 27.—Because Louis Franchini, a pretty girl the daughter of the proprietor of the Tivoli Restaurant in West Thirty-eighth street, refused to elope with him, Victor Cantini, a former waiter in the restaurant, today shot and fatally wounded her and then killed himself. The girl has two outlet wounds in her breast, and is not expected to recover. The shooting took place in the hallway of the Tivoli, which is one of the well known cafes of the tenderloin section.

MURDER IS SUSPECTED

Toronto, March 25.—A week-old baby, presumably murdered by a woman, was found buried under a pile of wood in the Presbyterian church shed at Port Credit Saturday afternoon between 3 and 4 o'clock by Miss McKeith, the caretaker.

Though no marks of violence were discernible, suspicion points toward murder.

It is claimed that the body has been hidden there a week.

When the discovery was made known many residents made statements that a short stout woman, probably 30 years of age, who came in from the city on the 4 o'clock car on Saturday last, carried a child dressed in a white shawl.

She was seen acting strangely on the Lake Shore road. She seemed to hesitate, walk on, and finally turn back toward the village.

Afterwards she was noticed on different roads and her queer behavior was marked by many.

Some people claim they heard the child's muffled crying and the shawl was drawn tightly over its head. This was within a block of the church.

Miss McKeith, who found the body, was startled almost to collapse.

She was getting an armful of wood when her hand grasped a paper, and she was horrified as she pulled it away to see the cold little face of the naked body.

IN OLD NEW YORK.

Ottawa, March 27.—Judge McTavish, the chairman of the Insurance Investigation Commission, and Mr. George F. Shepley, K.C., who is conducting the inquiry, on behalf of the Dominion Government, have gone to New York. It is understood that their visit is not unassociated with further prosecution of the inquiry into the conduct of Canadian companies. The commission will resume here on Wednesday.

FAVORS THE LASH.

Belleville, March 27.—Judge Dereche, in the county court yesterday morning, handed out some pretty stiff sentences. Alex. Patterson, convicted of assault with intent to do bodily harm to his wife, was given six months in the Central Prison. The judge said he was sorry it was not possible to inflict the lash in such cases.

Robert Mitchell, who pleaded guilty to stealing clothing and other articles from the residence of C. Merriday, who is absent in England, was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

ATTACKED BY A RAT.

London, March 26.—While waiting for a train in the Grand Trunk station waiting room here on Saturday night a woman was attacked by a rat. The rodent sprang on her lap, and when she attempted to knock it off the animal seized her by the lower lip, and could not apparently free itself. In its struggles the rodent tore the flesh of the woman's lips to shreds. A bystander seized the rat, clubbing it until it let go. The woman's lip was badly torn.

ONE OF THE RICHEST PROSPECTS EVER DISCOVERED.

The Iron Spar Mining Co.

The Iron Spar Copper Mining Co., owning valuable property on the divide between the States of Idaho and Montana, a copper proposition of exceptional promise, a property that even a novice, by personal inspection, ought to discern merits in, so apparent are the indications which guide the prospector in the work of making great mineral discoveries. An immense copper bearing ledge traverses the ground from east to west and is so well defined and conspicuous in its surface outcrop that anyone however unfamiliar with outward appearances of mineralization, once shown the ledge, may follow it uninterruptedly for several thousand feet. The fact is that copper ores appear in the vein gangue even to the grass roots.

The vein is large, 15 to 30 feet wide, and horizontally continuous across the whole extent of the claims, a distance of 6,000 feet. Being a true fissure and cutting the country formation at a considerable angle, it is entirely consistent with geological laws to suppose that it has also great vertical dimension.

Everybody who has made any study of the profits derived from successful copper mining operations can not have failed to observe the splendid and continuous dividends paid to investors. Copper mining has been so dependable a source of revenue throughout the world that today many investors prefer it to the more fickle high grade gold propositions. Look at the enormous and steady profits paid investors in all the great copper fields of the world, as The Lake Superior mines in Michigan, Butte mines in Montana, Mines and Tombstone in Arizona, the mines of Utah, the great Tintic mines in Spain, and the Mexican mines. The demand for copper increases with the advance of civilization and the immense demand created by the growing popularization of electrical power justifies the belief that the supply will hardly keep pace with the demand for years to come. Copper mining is safe and profitable, once you have found a good property. That is just what we are trying to introduce to you, and you have this in the Iron Spar.

The sum of 400,000 shares of the fully paid capital stock was set aside as a treasury fund to be devoted to the improvement, development and equipment of the property. Nearly the entire block remains in the treasury at the present date, only so much having been drawn out as was necessary to defray the expenses of operation since the formation of the Company. The miners have all taken stock as pay instead of cash.

The undersigned has a limited number of Shares for sale at TEN CENTS per share. All interested should call or write at once.

A FORBIDDEN MARRIAGE

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY

Author of "When Lovely Maiden Stoops to Folly," "A Cruel Revenge," "The Heiress of Cameron Hall," "Ione," "Parted at the Altar," Etc.

"Bring us a warm supper," commanded Waldron; "and that, too, as soon as it can be got. A long ride on a cold night sharpens one's appetite," he said, turning with a smile to Reine.

He saw how pale and frightened she looked, and he crossed over quickly to her side, taking her little, cold, trembling hands in his.

"This is cold comfort for you, my love," he said, bending over her with his irresistible smile. "They cannot get over the startling surprise of seeing a young and lovely girl in my bachelor abode. You have quite paralyzed them."

His smile more than compensated Reine for the discomfort she was experiencing. All the gloom was forgotten as she looked into Waldemar's face.

"The supper is a long time in coming," he said, impatiently, at last, rising from his seat and starting toward the bell-cord.

Before he had time to give it the violent jerk he had intended, the door suddenly opened, and a servant, with a tray of smoking viands, entered.

"You've forgotten the principal thing," said Waldemar, glancing critically over the contents of the tray.

The old servitor started back, looking at his young master earnestly.

"I didn't know, sir, as it would be advisable to bring it on before the lady. Leastwise, I thought you mighn't like to—"

Waldemar Waldron interrupted him with a wave of his white hand.

"Bring it on at once," he commanded. "You know I never dine without it."

The servant bowed and withdrew, entering a moment later with a decanter of brandy, which he set down before his young master.

"Do you drink liquor, Waldemar?" asked the young bride, when they found themselves alone, her blue eyes opening wide in surprise and wonder.

He laughed.

"Does it seem strange to you? I should have supposed you were accustomed to seeing your father and Cheuleigh indulging in exhilarating beverages at Fairlawn."

"They both abhor it," said Reine, solemnly. "We never have anything of the kind, not even at parties. I am like papa. I don't approve of it, Waldemar."

He laughed and tossed off a brimming goblet, draining it to the dregs, with a charming little compliment to his lovely young bride, ending by the laughing rejoinder, as he still saw how serious she looked:

"If you are so averse to it, my dear, you shouldn't have chosen a husband addicted to it."

Reine was so grieved and sorry that she quite lost her appetite for the broiled partridge, the dainty muffins and poached eggs lying so temptingly before her; even the cocoa grew cold untasted—as she watched her young husband raise a second and a third tiny goblet to his fair, moustached lips and drain its contents at a single draught.

She watched him as his eyes brightened and his cheeks flushed, while the white hand that toyed with his snowy napkin grew less steady.

"I have married General Hastings' heiress. Yes, heir to a whole million, and I am only celebrating the glorious event," he told himself, as he watched Reine's anxious face with amused eyes.

Yes, he felt lordly—quite a millionaire already. It was only a matter of time when he should be enjoying the old gentleman's golden wealth, for he would not hold out against his pretty daughter and her young husband very long.

If the young bride had not been so completely blinded by love she could not have forgiven so easily the odor of the kiss that was laid upon her red lips as they rose from the luncheon table.

A week slipped by. And the truth may as well be told plainly—as it would certainly become very apparent in subsequent events—in that week Waldemar Waldron began to weary of domestic bliss.

He had been a model young husband during that time.

He was so handsome, so gay, with such devotion in every look and word, that the poor child thought herself in Paradise. All that she wanted to make her the happiest of human beings was her father's forgiveness.

The next day she had written a very long letter to the general, confessing what she had done, but now that she was married, praying him to pardon her, and not refuse to love her as of yore.

She wrote also to Bernard Cheuleigh, begging him to forgive the injury she had done him. It was hardly legible, it was so blotted with tears.

She gave them to Waldron to have them delivered.

Poor child! The hours she had passed over them was time lost.

When Waldemar Waldron found himself alone, he broke the seals without the least particle of compunction, and perused their contents at his leisure.

When he had finished them he tossed them into the glowing coals of the grate. It would never do to deliver such letters as these. She had written to her father how happy she was with the love she had chosen—that her bliss had but one drawback, which she hoped time would mend. Her dear young husband liked brandy a little, but she meant to do her best to break him of the terrible habit.

He ground his teeth with the most intense anger when his eyes fell upon that.

"The little fool!" he muttered. "If the general were to find out that—my besetting sin—it would ruin our prospects. He might not advance me a dollar."

It was then that he had formed [illegible]

He had meant to wait a little to see how the general would take Reine's flight before he divulged their marriage and her whereabouts.

"His anger must have a day or so to cool," he thought.

The next day he received a telegram, demanding his immediate presence in New York. He decided to take Reine with him.

"A week or so of anxiety wouldn't hurt the general," he concluded, "and it would make him all the more anxious to pardon and receive his lovely daughter."

When they returned to the Towers a few days later, the whole country was in such an uproarious commotion over Reine's mysterious disappearance that he grew frightened, and questioned the advisability of revealing the existing state of affairs until the great excitement waned a little. He was totally unprepared for the manner in which the general took the matter; and, to admit the truth, he rather feared that the old soldier, in a fit of rage, might shoot him down on the spot when he stood before him acknowledging that he had dared to brave the old gentleman's warning and anger by marrying his daughter.

No; at all hazards her whereabouts must not be revealed just now; yet, when he heard that the irate old millionaire was on the point of signing over every dollar of his worldly possessions to Bernard Cheuleigh, he saw something must be done at once to prevent it.

The so called "magnetic powder" of the middle ages was made from skulls and other gruesome materials. It was never applied to a wound, but to the weapon which had made the wound.

Era of the Maccabees.

The "era of the Maccabees" began B. C. 168, when Judas Maccabaeus assumed the leadership of the Jews, who had determined to throw off the yoke of Antiochus Epiphanes. The revolt was successful, and the Asmonean kings ruled Judaea until its conquest by the Romans. The Jews styled the Maccabees' era the "era of kings."

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS

ANY even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces excepting 8 and 26, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local land office for the district in which the land to be taken is situated, or if the homesteader desires, he may on application to the Minister of the Interior, Ottawa, the Commissioner of Immigration, Winnipeg, or the local agent for the district in which the land is situate, receive authority for some one to make entry for him.

HOMESTEAD DUTIES.—A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is required to perform the conditions connected therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.

(2) If the father (or mother, if the father is deceased), of any person who is eligible to make a homestead entry under the provisions of this Act, resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such person as a homestead, the requirements of this act as to residence prior to obtaining patent may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.

(3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirements of this Act as to residence may be satisfied by residence upon the said land.

APPLICATION FOR PATENT should be made at the end of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-Agent or the Homestead Inspector.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTHWEST MINING REGULATIONS.

Coal.—Coal lands may be purchased at $10 per acre for soft coal and $20 for anthracite. Not more than 320 acres can be acquired by one individual or company. Royalty at the rate of ten cents per ton of 2,000 pounds shall be collected on the gross output.

Quartz.—A free miner's certificate is granted upon payment in advance of $7 50 per annum for an individual, and from $50 to $100 per annum for a company according to capital.

A free miner, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 15 by 1500 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5.

At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 an acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2½ per cent. on the sales.

PLACER mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5 renewable yearly.

A free miner may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior.

The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental, $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 2½ per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

RHEUMATISM

Lives in the Blood

Consequently it requires an internal treatment, one that will restore the blood, and thereby relieve the cause of the pain.

After years of experiment Dr. Hamilton succeeded in producing a remedy that quickly cures rheumatism, gout and all uric acid disorders. This marvelous cure has been given to the public as Dr. Hamilton's Mandrake and Butternut Pills; in every case they cure quickly.

By toning the kidneys and liver, Dr. Hamilton's Pills ensure a clean healthy body. The blood is restored to a normal healthy condition, renewed vigor is imparted to overworked organs, and thus the general health is built up, and no room is left for rheumatism to creep in.

A Cripple's Story of Cure

"This is a glad day for me, writes Samuel E. Brewn, 14 from Midland, Ont., "because I can speak of my permanent cure of rheumatism. I have been all through the aching days and sleepless nights, have spent my money on worthless remedies, and consequently in recommending Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I feel sure of their merit. No remedy gave such relief or did me so much good as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. My rheumatism they cured, and ever since my health has been perfect."

When Dr. Hamilton's Pills are to be had in any drug store, it's foolish to live on in misery and ill-health. You ought to get this medicine today and cure yourself. Price 25c. per box, or five boxes for $1 at all dealers, or by mail from N. C. Polson & Co., Hartford, Conn., U.S.A., and Kingston, Ont.

Young People's Entertainment.

At a meeting of the committee of the Young People's Association of St. John's church, held Monday night, the matter of holding an entertainment after Easter was discussed. It was decided to hold one on Wednesday, April 5th. There will be several tableaux and an extensive musical entertainment.

The Evangelists Leave.

Evangelists Pearson, of Massachusetts, and Black of Trenton, who have been conducting special services in the Gospel hall, have said good bye. There was a large attendance at Monday night's meeting. Evangelist Gilchrist of Bancroft, left for home on Monday. Mr. W. P. Douglas, also an evangelist, will remain in the city until Easter.

The Oakville Meteorite.

The Toronto Sunday World contains a photograph of a meteorite which fell on Mr. Harry Gliddon's farm at Oakville. The mass contains iron, copper and other metals of a slate like color, every pointed rounded off as though it had been a wave washed pebble. The meteorite is 16 by 9 inches in size and weighs one hundred and thirty pounds.

700 Immigrants Pass Through.

Several coaches of English immigrants, contained in a special train passed through the city Monday. The great majority of those on board were farm hands, some of them being accompanied by their wives and children.

Another special train passed through yesterday morning with about an equal number on board. About 150 of these were Salvation Army emigrants.

A Tale of a Tail.

Shortly after the Belleville train, which came in about six o'clock on Monday evening, had passed the Brock street crossing, Mr. Thomas McIntee picked up a horse's tail, which had evidently dropped from the pilot of the engine. The tail bore evidences of having just been severed from its equine owner.

There was nothing else to indicate exactly when the accident had happened or which farmer will be applying to Dorewend for a wig to apply to the north-west end of his horse.

Cellars Flooded by Yesterday's Thaw

Yesterday's thaw has caused some local damage, although comparatively little enough is on the ground. At the corner of Smith and Downie streets, where the land is somewhat low, the property of Messrs. William Spencer and Thos. Blodgett are isolated by water, and the two houses are on islands. The water coming down the creek is many times greater than its capacity, and great damage is being done to adjoining property. Cellars are full and in some places the water is on the verge of entering the main floor of the houses. Messrs. Spencer and Blodgett's cellars are completely filled.

Very Large Lynx Shot.

The Foster correspondent of the Belleville Intelligencer writes:—

The young people of this neighborhood have been somewhat frightened recently by strange howlings in the woods; but our prized hunter in the person of Mr. B. F. McCumber, solved the mystery on Monday. While he and his dog were hunting, his dog strolled away from him, and "Mac" hearing a terrible noise, ran down to see what it meant. To his surprise he found a very large lynx in combat with his dog "Jack."

Mr. McCumber, being an expert with the gun, gave his dog freedom. The lynx measured three feet three inches in length and was three feet high. Numbers have come to see the wild animal.

TO-DAY'S DEPUTATION

Should Whilst in Ottawa Demand a Camp for Peterboro.

Today at one o'clock some three hundred citizens of Peterboro and surrounding villages will take advantage of the excursion to Ottawa to impress on the Dominion Government the absolute necessity of completing the Trent Valley canal.

A large majority of those going to the Capitol are men of means and weight in the community.

The Times is convinced that this city should get the military camp which it is now proposed to remove from its former location in Kingston elsewhere.

The gentlemen who will call upon the Government officials in regard to the Trent Valley canal's interests, and thereby those of this section, should take advantage of their presence, strength of numbers and general standing to arrange for a call upon the Minister of Militia, whilst in the Capital.

Should the members of today's deputation arrange, as could be done by the two representatives this county sends to Ottawa, for a meeting and lay, in plain but unmistakable language, the desireability of this city as a location for the military camp, the inducements that Peterboro's geographical and other position offers, and, more than all, the fact that this city wants, in fact must have, the camp, before the minister, there is no doubt but what their representatives would command attention.

Further, there is no doubt but what if the deputation's opinion, endorsed as they should and probably would be, by Peterboro's two members, were presented to the minister, he would hardly call to turn down the proposal.

The military camp for Peterboro, being a yearly occurrence, bringing some 4,000 men to the city, and meaning an annual expenditure within our walls of from $25,000 to $50,000 a year, is well worth consideration and action.

Now let the delegates to Ottawa get busy and they, assisted as they would be, by other delegates from near by villages, can do more for Peterboro, than the man persuading a factory with 50 to 150 employes to locate here.

SIGHTSEERS DEPART

When Water Gauge Burst on the Fire Engine Yesterday.

Yesterday afternoon as hundreds of people were eagerly watching the fire engine test on the market square a glass water gauge on the ponderous machine suddenly burst. In an instant the surrounding atmosphere was dense with smoke, and filled with the roar of escaping steam. To say that those near the engine, excepting the firemen and engine hands, suddenly discovered they had important engagements elsewheres demanding immediate attention, is putting things gently. A turn or two of the valves of the guage shut off the stream and broke those important engagements.

MRS. ROSS' DEATH

Wife of Member of Peterboro Presbytery Passes Away.

A very sad death occurred Monday night when Maggie Greig, at the age of 53 years, said wife of Rev. J. Ross, passed away, owing to a stroke of apoplexy only received last Friday. Mrs. Ross was the daughter of the late Mr. Alex. Greig of Ottawa, and also had many warm friends in that town. She was married in 1878 to Mr. Ross, who some 20 years ago, accepted a call to Bethesda and Ainwick on Rice Lake in the Peterboro Presbytery. Here he and Mrs. Ross labored for 20 years. Mrs. Ross always took a very active interest in the work of the church. She leaves a large circle of friends, who will deeply regret her sudden demise.

About four years ago Mr. and Mrs. Ross moved into Peterboro, and took up their residence on Bonwell avenue, from which place the funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2.30. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrance, and interment will take place at Little Lake cemetery.

Mrs. Ross is survived by her husband, one son, Mr. W. C. Ross, who is attending the medical college in Toronto, two sisters, Mrs. Stesis, who is now in Germany, and Mrs. Thos. Stewart. Dr. Craig of Toronto, is brother.

Trust to Nature.

A great many Americans, both men and women, are thin, pale and puny, with poor circulation, because they have ill-treated their stomachs by hasty eating or too much eating, by consuming alcoholic beverages, or by too close confinement to home, office or factory, and in consequence the stomach must be treated in a natural way before they can rectify their earlier mistakes. The muscles in many such people, in fact in every weary, thin and thin-blooded person, do their work with great difficulty. As a result fatigue comes early, is extreme and lasts long. The demand for nutritive aid is ahead of the supply. To insure perfect health every tissue, bone, nerve and muscle should take from the blood certain materials and return to it certain others. It is necessary to prepare the stomach for the work of taking up from the food what is necessary to make good, rich, red blood. We must go to Nature for the remedy. There were certain roots known to the Indians of this country before the advent of the whites which later came to the knowledge of the settlers and which are now growing rapidly in professional favor for the cure of obstinate stomach and liver troubles. These are found to be safe and yet certain in their cleansing and invigorating effect upon the stomach, liver and blood. These are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Bloodroot, Mandrake root. Then there is Black Cherrybark. The medicinal principles residing in these native roots when extracted with glycerine as a solvent make the most reliable and efficient stomach tonic and liver invigorator, when combined in just the right proportions, as in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Where there is bankrupt vitality—such as nervous exhaustion, bad nutrition—and thin blood, the body acquires vigor and the nerves, blood and all the tissues feel the favorable effect of this sovereign remedy.

Although some physicians have been aware of the high medicinal value of the above mentioned plants, yet few have used pure glycerine as a solvent and usually the doctors' prescriptions called for the ingredients in varying amounts, with alcohol.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is a scientific preparation compounded of the glyceric extracts of the above mentioned vegetable ingredients and contains no alcohol or harmful habit-forming drugs.

MR. J. M'WILLIAMS GONE

Death of Former Employe of C. G. E. Co. and a Street Car Conductor.

On Monday afternoon, Mr. James McWilliams of 7 Romaine street, passed away at his home. Mr. McWilliams, who was thirty years of age, had only been ill for about a week and his death was due to pneumonia. Deceased had always lived in Peterboro, and was a gentleman very highly respected. He was employed by the Canadian General Electric Company and was also engaged on the street car service, doing night night work three nights per week. He was to have been taken on the regular staff shortly. He was married about seven years ago to Miss Mary Etta Gillis, who survives him, together with three young children.

His mother and two brothers and two sisters also survive. The brothers are John and Thomas, both of Peterboro, and the sisters are Mrs. Fred Muhood of Otonabee, and Miss Eliza McWilliams of Peterboro.

Deceased was a member of Otonabee lodge, I.O.O.F., for seven years. The lodge will have charge of the funeral.

MATCH COINS AT $40,000 A THROW

How J. W. Gates Bluffed Southern Gamblers.

Birmingham, Ala., March 28.—John W. Gates, the steel millionaire, spent Sunday at the Country club, the most exclusive organization of its kind in Alabama. Reports that Gates dropped $20,000 at poker dice in Hot Springs just before he started for Birmingham aroused enthusiasm among the members of the Alabama club, with which the leading players of the city are connected.

Immediately a pool of $40,000 was formed and a committee appointed to wait on Gates and invite him to a "no limit" entertainment. When the committee told Gates about the pool he replied: "Forty thousand, well so long as there's no limit we will match coins for $40,000 a throw."

The committee was not ready to accept this proposition.

OF LOCAL INTEREST

Lakefield Cement Co. and the City of Hamilton Disagree.

The Hamilton Spectator says: The Lakefield Portland Cement Company, is showing no disposition to back up from the stand it has taken in not signing the contract for cement until the city has amended the clause relating to the time of delivery, to suit the wishes of the company. The board of works department had a telephone conversation this morning with the manager of the company, who was said to ship on a thousand barrels before the contract was signed, but Mr. Brennan refused to give permission. No American company that the city has ever dealt with ever made objection to the stipulation that shipments of cement must be made within three days of the late of ordering.

When the Lakefield people were here interviewing the aldermen with regard to closing the contract, the information was handed out that they had any amount of cement, and one of the strongest arguments advanced in favor of turning down the Northampton company was that the Canadian company would be in a better position to keep the city going. No one has yet spoke in favor of granting the company the concession asked for. The city engineer and the officials in the department will strongly recommend that the contract be sent again to the company for signature without being amended in any way.

Mr. Heddle has completed his seven-day tests of the Lakefield company's cement, and has found that it exceeds the specifications as regards tensile strength. The three day test was 602 and the seven-day was 661. The specification calls for a 450 test at seven days.

QUEBEC M. P. P. USED A PISTOL

Kept Police Back With Weapon While Talking to Council.

Montreal, March 28.—An exciting scene took place in the Langueuil council last night, when Maurice Perreault, M.L.A. for Chambly, in the Quebec House of Assembly, held the chief of police at bay with a revolver, and defied the mayor and council in his determination to discuss the tramway bill, which the council was considering.

It is claimed that the member had no right to speak in the council meeting, and the mayor asked him to desist, and when he refused the chief of police was ordered to put him out. At this stage he pulled a gun, and held the meeting in suspense, and went on talking.

A BRUTAL ASSAULT

Young Woman Knocked Down and Kicked by a Cowardly Ruffian.

St. Catharines, March 28.—A cowardly attack was made here last night upon Miss Chase, who lives with her sisters near the hospital. About 8.15 o'clock she started to go to the grocery store a few blocks from her home. While walking on Queenston street she passed a man who was standing by the sidewalk. She could not recognize him in the darkness under the trees. Immediately he started to follow her, and she ran, but he caught her before she had gone more than a few steps. The man endeavored to throw her down, and placed his hand over her mouth to prevent her screaming. She fought him off, whereupon he knocked her down with his fist. She screamed, whereupon he kicked her brutally in the face and the head. Just then a nearby door opened, and a woman appeared with a lamp, and the ruffian ran, turning down the road to Thorold. Miss Chase was carried to the hospital, where it was found she was bleeding freely from a wound on the top of her head, made by her assailant's kicks. Her face was also much bruised.

MR. PARNELL'S FUNERAL

Remains of Mr. T. L. Parnell will be Interred Today.

LEAVING FOR TORONTO

Mr. Geo. Brown Will, on Monday Open Restaurant in Toronto.

Mr. George Brown, who has so successfully managed the Chemong Park Hotel, during the past few years, and who is thoroughly "an fait" in catering to the public, has purchased the Royal Arms restaurant.

This popular restaurant situated at 338 Yonge street, Toronto, and which has, until its recent purchase by Mr. Brown, been managed by Mr. Bilbin, is a few doors north of Messrs. Eaton and company's huge emporium, and has always enjoyed a good patronage.

Mr. Brown, who has a host of friends in this city and county, will take possession of his new venture next Monday.

We understand that Mr Desautel of this city will accompany Mr. Brown, and occupy a prominent position on his staff.

The Chemong Park Hotel, as well as its contents recently acquired by Mr. Irwin will, it is said be managed this year by Mr. Porter of the G.T.R. restaurant, Cobourg.

DELEGATION GONE

Nearly 200 Citizens Off For Ottawa to Press T. V. C. Claims.

The special train composed of six first-class coaches, which was engaged to take Peterboro's citizens intent upon pressing on the Dominion the absolute necessity of completing the Trent Valley Canal at the earliest date, pulled out from the C.P.R. station yesterday at one o'clock, promptly on time.

Mr. W. McIlroy, the C.P.R. uptown ticket agent, was on hand and looked after the arrangements.

About 200 persons took in the trip including aldermen, county and township councillors, members of the Board of Trade and representative citizens from Peterboro, Lakefield and other places. The train later on stopped at Indian River, Norwood, Havelock, Central Ontario Junction and Tweed, and took on more delegates, and when the Capital was reached the deputation was augmented by some 200 more. The interview with the Government will take place this morning at 11 o'clock, and the majority of the visitors will return by the special train leaving Ottawa at 7 o'clock this evening. Hon J. R. Stratton and Mayor Best were unable, owing to illness in each case, to accompany the deputation.

REGIMENTAL MATTERS

Officers of 57th Regiment Discuss Affairs of Importance.

On Tuesday evening, at their quarters in the drill shed, a meeting of the officers of the 57th Regiment was held for the purpose of making arrangements for the opening of the drill season next Tuesday, and discussing several other matters of interest to the regiment, Col. Miller presided A discussion took place regarding railway rates for the trip to Brantford on July 1st, but nothing definite was done in this matter. All members of the Regiment are urgently requested to be present next Tuesday night, in uniform. Those intending to enlist should also be on hand that night It is also requested that all rifles, bayonets, belts, ball bags and other accountrements should be handed in at once.

The fact that the new uniforms will soon arrive and be distributed is hailed with very general satisfaction.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE

Mrs. Bonny, Inmate of Lindsay House of Refuge.

Lindsay Post;—On Saturday afternoon a regrettable and unfortunate accident took place at the house of refuge, when Mrs. Bonny, an elderly inmate, apparently attempted to do injury to herself by jumping from a third-story window to the hard ground below.

Mrs. Bonny comes from Fenelon township and has been an inmate of the house since November 20th. She evidently was a trifle deranged in her mind, as on several occasions she had threatened to jump from the window, but she was carefully watched by the caretaker Mr. Robt. Robertson. However, on Saturday last, she managed to carry out her intention, and as a result is in a somewhat critical condition her injuries including a fractured leg.

Mrs. Bonny was not seen to jump from the window, but was found lying on the ground. The house of refuge physician, Dr. Wood, is in attendance and the patient it doing as well as may be expected.

Teachers' Convention May 4th.

The Teachers' Institute of the City of Peterboro has decided to hold a convention in the Y.M.C.A. hall during Friday and Saturday, May 4th and 5th.

It is expected that several speakers from outside the city, whose names will appear in these colmns later, will address the convention.

WILL LET UNIONS TALK TO ORCHARD

Idaho Governor Bound to be Fair.

Boise, Idaho, March 28.—As a result of thousands of letters and resolutions sent to Governor Gooding of Idaho, asking for a fair and impartial trial of the accused officers of the Western Federation of Miners, Haywood, Pettibone and Moyer, Governor Gooding today issued the following proclamation to labor unions of the United States:

"I desire to say to the labor unions of the country that if they will arrange to send a delegation to this city I will be pleased to allow them to meet Harry Orchard personally and to hear him go over the story told the State's attorney and the detectives. They can remain with him in my chamber and hear him tell all over again what he has already told us. I will also present to them Steve Adams, who also made a confession.

"Further than this, I want to assure every person, whether he be a union or non-union man, that they state of Idaho will give the accused man as fair a trial as was ever held. Men, you need have no fear of a mistrial. Upon convictions, if you believe that an unfair or biased trial was given, remember that I still have the power as the governor of this State to hear your grievance and prevent a miscarriage of justice.

"The State of Idaho has a fair name to preserve, and as governor I will do all in my power to preserve it."

Palace Livery Buys Good Horses.

Messrs Bruce Lee & Co., proprietors of the Palace Livery Barns, which have entrance for both Simcoe streets, this week purchased three as fine horses as stand in any livery stable today One of these a large bright bay mare, "as gentle as a kitten," was bought from Mr. Robt. Deyell, of Benstort, and two from Mr Eastwood of Marmora. The prices paid for those three splendid horses was a stiff one, as they are excellent animals, and far above the average bought for livery purposes

Last Night's Fire Alarm.

About seven o'clock last night the fire bell rang out a strenuous summons to the fire laddies to get busy. The brigade, as usual went out in prompt order and getting the hose wagon under way, went up George street to Dublin street with their regular celerity. On arrival at the scene of the supposed fire, Mr E. Mann's new house now in process of completion, nearly opposite the planning mill it was found that some nervous individual, seeing the steam arising from the rapidly drying building heated by a furnace in the cellar, had sent in an alarm of fire. The hook and ladder wagon was fortunately stopped in time, and the fire fighters returned to the station using language more forcible than parliamentary, over their unnecessary curtailment of the postprandial pipe and cigar.

FOLLOWING SCRIPTURE

He Proved the Good Thing and Holds Fast to It.

A young preacher found the change from life on the home farm to the city and college very trying, especially the transition from the wholesome country food to the boarding-house fare. How he solved the food question is interesting.

"I soon came to face a serious problem," he says, "I began to decline in health, grew thin in flesh and weak in body and mind. The doctor diagnosed my trouble as 'indigestion,' but was unable to give me relief. I tried patent medicines with the same result. I was weak and growing weaker, and had no capacity for study. For 4 years I fought a hard battle—fought it poorly, because of my physical and mental condition.

"A Postum Cereal calendar fell into my hands. I hung it over my study table. It bore the inscription 'Brains Regained' across the face. I used to lean back and gaze at it when weary with study, till at last it occurred to me that my brains needed repairing. Why not try Grape-Nuts food and see what it would do for me? I acted on the thought, beginning a few months ago.

"Gradually I found that it was making me stronger and better. Then I decided that as Grape-Nuts was helping me I would stop coffee and take on Postum. This I did, and the two are simply working wonders! And while the improvement has been only gradual, it is permanent. I do not gain a little for a few days and then lapse back—I keep what I gain.

"From the use of the two, Grape-Nuts and Postum Coffee, I have acquired a quickened vitality, capacity for harder work, clearer and more energetic mentality and can study better. My flesh has become firm and healthy and today I weigh more than for years before. I am a new man. As pastor of the Christian Church I preach Christ from the pulpit and in my pastoral work, as a man among men, I also preach Grape-Nuts and Postum. I 'proved them etc to be good, and am holding fast to them.'" Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

A 10-days' trial is easy.

A REAL HOLD-UP

Port Hope Citizen Touched for $18 by Hold-up Men.

In the very early hours of yesterday morning, in the sleepy little town of Port Hope was the scene of a real up-to-date, genuine hold-up, worthy of the City of Chicago.

The victim in the case was Mr. Robert McMahon who was seized by two men as he was passing under the viaduct at John street. It was intensely dark, at this place, and Mr. McMahon did not see the men until they had taken hold of him. Mr. McMahon struggled fiercely to free himself, but was thrown to the ground and one of the robbers called out "cut his throat." They made a thorough search of his clothing and removed $18 in cash. Mr. McMahon hurried home as quickly as possible and informed his brothers, but the prisoners had made good their escape by this time.

Chief Bond is at work on the case at present and will use every effort to capture the robbers.

The place where the hold-up was committed, although much travelled is one of the dreariest in town and a light of some description should be placed there at once.

THE LICENSE BOARD

Will Meet on April 20th to Consider Question of Renewals.

The Board of License Commissioners for this riding met in Inspector Cochrane's office Tuesday evening.

There were present Dr Morrison, chairman, H. LeBrun and Jas. Kendry, commissioners, and Inspector Cochrane, secretary of the Board.

It was decided that Friday, April 20th, would be the date for considering the renewals of applications for licenses for the coming year. The meeting will be held at 7.30 o'clock in the evening. The question of fixing the date for considering applications for renewals was the only business on the tapis Tuesday evening.

WE MAY GET IT

Location of Military Camp Not Yet Definitely Settled.

An Ottawa despatch received yesterday says that the militia council met Tuesday to consider the location for No. 3 district camp for 1906.

Kingston is making very strong efforts to retain the camp. Peterboro and Cobourg are also striving strenuously to get it.

Toronto Globe Wins Libel Suit.

A despatch received yesterday from Cobourg says that the jury yesterday brought in a verdict in favor of defendants in the celebrated libel suit of Coyle vs. Toronto Globe. This case was tried at the Cobourg Spring Assizes before Judge Clute. Mr. E. F. B. Johnston asked whether a document issued by a Department of State and published in a newspaper is privileged. Mr. Johnston addressed the jury, saying that the plaintiff knew the condition of the apples, and should have objected to their being shipped as first grade, when a large proportion was not of that quality.

Murderer Instantly Killed.

Jefferson City, Mo., March 28.—When the convicts at the penitentiary were called yesterday for breakfast, guard J. W. Woods, of Macon, Mo., was stabbed three times by a convict and died instantly. Another guard immediately killed the convict.

WOULD INDICT EUCHRE PLAYERS

Kentucky Grand Jury Denounces the Game as Gambling.

Cynthiana, Ky., March 28.—The players of progressive euchre are common gamblers, according to the report of the grand jury in the Harrison County Circuit Court, and their indictment is demanded. The action has startled society here, for progressive euchre has been the rage this winter. In urging a thorough investigation, the grand jury report says: "Progressive euchre is made alluring by prizes, refreshments and the knowledge that the papers will print the names of the guests and the winners of prizes. All are common gamblers and deserve to be fined."
